"B" Squad Football Team Defeats Rule, 18 to 0

The Wildkittens, Crowell High School "B" squad football team, defeated the Rule "B" squad by a score of 18 to 0 last Monday afternoon at Rule. The Crowell boys were superior in every department throughout the contest.

Crowell's first score came early in the game when Rouse Todd, left halfback, took a handoff from Dalton Biggerstaff, quarterback, on the twelve yard line and skirting right end for a touchdown. All of the extra point tries were no good. The touchdown was set up on a bad punt by the Rule boys. Biggerstaff made the second Crowell score on a forty yard punt return. He received some excellent blocking on this run. A pass from Biggerstaff to Grover Yocham, right end, and a lateral from Yocham to Don Wilkins, fullback, made the third touchdown to leave the score 18 to 0 for the Wildkittens. This last play was good for twenty yards.

These same teams play here next Monday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. The following boys played in this game for Crowell: J. P. Bartley, Clifford Orr, Walter Caddell, Haskell Norman, Floyd Borchardt, Mark Taylor, Grover Yocham, Dalton Biggerstaff, Don Wilkins, Rouse Todd, James Weathers, E. W. Kidd, Lowell Hilburn and F. L. Ballard.

Mrs. Henry asks that each club and each school in the county emphasize the importance of art in the lives of their women and children in such manner as they deem most effective. She further asks that each club and school please make a report to her of the observance given to the cause in their locality, immediately, so that she will be able to make a county report.

Students of Glassboro, N. J., high school are shown picketing after they went on strike in protest of a school board rule forbidding students 19 years old or over to play on the school football team. The rule directly affects students who enlisted when they were 17 and have now come back to finish their education. Striking students want the ruling changed so that the veterans again can play football.

Three Girl Scouts and their leader, Miss Frankie Kirkpatrick, were visitors and also furnished the program for the Wednesday noon meeting of the Crowell Rotary Club at the DeLuxe Cafe. Other visitors were Rotarian Vance Favor of Quanah and Rev. D. D. Denison, pastor of the Crowell Methodist Church.

W. F. Kirkpatrick was program chairman and the three Girl Scouts, Misses Bobbie Ruth Abston, Rondyn Self and Marcia Kincaid, gave short talks. Miss Self outlined the activities of the Girl Scout program. Miss Abston told about the summer camp at Lake Murry, Okla., this summer, and Miss Kincaid gave the Girl Scout laws.

Words of greeting were given to the children by Mrs. A. R. Sanders, superintendent of the Children's Division; to the young people by Mary Norman, president of the M. Y. The service was brought to a close with the benediction by Rev. L. B. Taylor, pastor of the Margaret-Thalia churches.

Secure Approvals Before October 31

The county committee of Foard County Agricultural Conservation Association has ruled that October 31, 1946, will be the last day for producers to secure approvals for seeding drilled crops on the contour, according to A. V. Steppard, secretary of the county committee. All producers who have not secured their approval are urged to do so immediately in order that they will be eligible for payment under the 1946 program.

In the U. S. today an estimated 2,000,000 people are drawing unemployment pay. At the same time industries are closing down because they cannot get workers.

Crowell Wildcats Will Be Hosts to Chillicothe Eagles in Conference Game Friday Night in Crowell Stadium

The Crowell High School football team will entertain the Chillicothe Eagles here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in another conference game. The Eagles are one notch ahead of the Wildcats in district standing. Chillicothe has won two games and lost one while the Crowell boys have two victories and two losses. The Eagles broke Crowell's undefeated record in conference play last year to the tune of 18 to 0. The Wildcats are out to try and even this score up.

Dwight Dodson and Gene Jones, backfield ace for Chillicothe, are two of the fastest backs in the district. They were the main factors in upsetting the Archer City Wildcats by two touchdowns two weeks ago. However, the strong Crowell line that held the Seymour Panthers to six first downs last Friday night, should be able to deal the Eagle backs plenty of trouble. The Wildcat line roundly outplayed the strong Panther line here last Friday night but the Seymour boys came out on top of a 12 to 7 score.

When these old rivals get together, anything can happen. The Chillicothe team will be slightly favored in this game, but the Wildcats are not conceding a thing to the Chillicothe team. In fact, the fans should expect as good a game as they saw here last week.

The Crowell Methodist Church held a welcome service for its new members at 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening, Oct. 16, in the church basement.

The Home Builders' Class, acting as the hospitality committee, greeted 150 old and new members of the church and several visitors. Dinner tables were arranged around the room for the old members while a special table in the center of the room was decorated with lovely seasonal flowers and held places for the 60 new members.

H. E. Ferguson returned thanks, after which the Co-Laborers' class served the delicious covered-dish dinner.

Singing of hymns was directed by Sam Mills, choir leader of the church. Rev. D. D. Denison, pastor of the church, delivered a brief welcome to the new members and stated that there had been 96 additions to the church since Dec. 1945, 54 on profession of faith and 42 on certificate. He also sent greetings to the 15 new members who are away at college. Responses to this welcome were given by three of the new members, Andrew Calvin, Ernest Weaver and E. W. Kidd.

Jon Sanders sang "Speak to My Heart" and Mrs. L. B. Taylor sang "Beautiful Garden of Prayer." Both were accompanied by Mrs. Denison.

Words of greeting were given to the children by Mrs. A. R. Sanders, superintendent of the Children's Division; to the young people by Mary Norman, president of the M. Y. President Texas Farm Bureau Will Speak Tonight 7:15

J. Walter Hammond of Tye, Texas, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, will speak over Texas State Network tonight at 7:15 in the interest of the state-wide membership enrollment campaign, it was announced Wednesday by Curtis Ribble.

It is expected that the goal of 25,000 members in the state will be reached during this campaign.

Sleeping Sickness in Horses Reported

"Sleeping sickness in horses is now with us," says Joe Burkett, County Agricultural Agent. Numerous cases have been reported throughout the state. To date there have been two cases reported in Foard County.

Even though the disease is already present all farmers and ranchers who have not vaccinated previously should do so now.

While one dose of the vaccine results in an appreciable degree of resistance, it lasts only a comparatively short time. Accordingly two doses at 7 to 10-day intervals should be given.

Experimental tests indicate that most vaccinated animals develop immunity within 10 to 14 days after second dose of vaccine and will remain immuned for a period of six months or longer, says Mr. Burkett.

Animals should be re-vaccinated each year, preferably during the early part of the month of July.

Caution: Vaccine for sleeping sickness in horses should never be injected under the skin or into the muscle, but should be injected intradermic or into the skin.

E. Hilburn's Mother Dies in Abilene

NAVY BOOSTS ELECTRONICS

Navy Day, 1946, heralds a new step forward in the United States Navy's expansion of its electronic development program, which is designed to equip it as a Guardian in Peace, just as electronic progress enabled it to emerge a Victor in War. The Bureau of Naval Personnel has announced that, beginning November 4, 1946, the basic course of Electronic Technicians' Mates and Aviation Electronic Technicians' Mates will be broadened from 20 to 42 weeks under a program aimed at filling 7,900 billets now open in these ratings. There are more than 2,700 different types of modern, complex electronic equipment aboard ships of the Fleet, in Navy planes and at shore stations. AGRICULTURE in County

(Joe E. Burkett, County Agent)

SURFACE WATER TREATMENT

Water from irrigation ditches and earth tanks can be made safe to drink.

The Texas A. & M. College Extension Service has recently been receiving many inquiries from farmers asking how surface water can be purified for household use. M. R. Bentley, Extension Agricultural engineer, says these requests have been answered by the Texas Engineering Experiment Station in its bulletin No. 89, "A Surface Water Treatment System for the Rural Home."

The water purifying system described in the Engineering Experiment Station bulletin consists of a "slow" sand filter with a means of properly storing and disinfecting the filtered water. The filter has been modified to meet rural needs and to give high efficiency with the least amount of trouble. The filter and storage tank may be made of reinforced concrete pipe or of reinforced concrete poured in place. The only other materials needed are a hand pump, galvanized iron pipe, simple pipe fittings and a small quantity of sand and gravel.

Water from the filter system, if properly constructed from the details in the bulletin, is said to be clear and sparkling, and the system furnishes a sufficient amount of water for drinking or any other household use.

Each county agricultural agent in Texas has been furnished a copy of the bulletin, and farmers can learn the details of construction at their local Extension office.

CATTLE GRUB TREATMENT

Although heel flies, the parents of the cattle grub, do most of their damage in the spring, the first treatment against grubs should be given in the early fall.

Loss of weight is the greatest damage that heel flies do to beef cattle. They lose weight by running from the pests or by refusing to feed and standing in water to protect themselves from the flies. The grubs spend seven to eight months tunneling around in an animal's body. From 10 to 15 per cent more feed is required to fatten a grubby steer than a healthy animal, and two pounds of choice meat are lost each time a grub-infested steer is slaughtered. Grubs also ruin hides which are valuable for shoe leather and other purposes.

Most farmers and ranchmen produce their own heel flies, because the flies do not fly over a half mile. Therefore, a thorough treatment should rid a farm or ranch of the parasites.

In the early fall, when the cattle grubs are mature and ready to fall to the ground, the first treatment should be given. Rotenone is the most effective insecticide against the cattle grub, and it can be applied either as a dust for small herds, or as a spray for large herds. An effective treatment consists of spraying the backs of the cattle with a mixture of seven and a half pounds of five per cent rotenone for each 100 gallons of water.

During winter and spring, cattle lice cause more injury to animals than at any other time of the year. Charles King and Paul Gregg, entomologists of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, say that cattle lice treatment should be given in the fall.

Cattle infested with lice are very unthrifty and can't keep up their own weight, the entomologists say. Another symptom is rough, coarse hair, and sometimes large bare patches appear on the neck and body where the animal has rubbed against fences and trees to relieve the irritation caused by the lice.

Both rotenone and DDT are good treatments for cattle lice. Whether you use rotenone or DDT, two treatments, 14 days apart,

Laws Protecting Game
There are so many hunters in the country, that the game would be greatly depleted were it not for the game laws and enforcement of the same. These laws and regulations are put in force so as to preserve a good supply of game, and give all hunters a fair share of the sport.

The sportsmen hope that people everywhere will observe these regulations, and do their hunting strictly in accordance with the laws. Many useful varieties of game have been nearly or quite exterminated by too constant hunting and illegal pursuit of these creatures. The game animals and birds are a valuable asset, and they make an important addition to the nation's food supply. The co-operation of all hunters is needed to preserve these species so far as possible.

must be given to control the lice successfully. You can mix a spray or dip with one pound of five per cent rotenone and 10 pounds of wettable sulphur with 100 gallons of water. If you use DDT, mix four pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT with 100 gallons of water. You'll also control lice, say the entomologists, when you treat cattle for horn-flies in the spring with 25 per cent DDT. No lice treatment is necessary the following fall unless louse-infested animals are added to the herd.

Veterans News

Aliens who served in the Armed Forces of the United States during World War II have less than three months left to qualify for quick citizenship under the Second War Powers Act of 1942, the Veterans Administration warned this week.

The act expires on December 31, 1946, and affects all aliens who enlisted or were inducted into the service before December 28, 1945. Recent reports indicate that approximately 100,000 service men and veterans have failed to take advantage of the right to obtain American citizenship as provided under the act.

Those affected are not required to file the customary declaration of intention, need not have lived in the United States for any specified time, are not required to speak the English language or meet educational tests.

Six thousand books—all brand new—are on their way to war veterans in the 11 Veterans Administration hospitals of the Southwest.

Roy E. Eury, Special Services director for VA's Dallas branch, said both fiction and non-fiction obtained from the Army are being distributed among VA hospitals in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

These books will boost the number of volumes in patients' libraries to nearly 50,000, Eury said.

During September, patients in veterans hospitals in the tri-state area checked out 10,140 books and showed a strong preference for fiction, or "escape" reading.

One book-loving veteran at the Legion, Texas, hospital set some kind of a record, reading 1,500 books during his two-year stay at the tubercular hospital.

Approximately 8,100 children in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, whose fathers died as a result of World War II service, are receiving monthly compensation benefits, VA reported this week.

Home Town Thoughts

Independence was won for the United States in the Revolutionary war by the willingness of the patriots to make great sacrifices for their country. So today the people who sacrifice time and effort for their home town, accomplish great results for it.

People should be mighty glad to see the old home town when they get back from a vacation. They can think of it as the place that gives them the chance to earn a living and enjoy many advantages.

The travelers who go about the country in their automobiles are greatly helped by guideboards and number route signs which tell them where to go. So advertising is a sort of guideboard leading to many excellent opportunities to buy.

So he's an electric eel, so watt?

All right, then, he re-el-y isn't an eel at all, if you want to be technical. His name's Electrophorus (Gymnotus) Electricus—Jim for short. He's a South American cousin of the carp and catfish. Maybe Jim does pack a wallop of 600 volts when he's hungry or annoyed (and he has a shocking temper)—BUT—

Can he wash 3 tubs of clothes?

Or tell the correct time for 4 days?

Or light a hundred-watt bulb for 3 hours—for a penny?

You bet he can't. He's not usefully eel-ectrified. Frankly, you'd better flip a switch if you want convenient, dependable electricity—all you need—at low cost.

And speaking of low cost—did you know that the average family is getting twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago? That's no accident—like Jim and his temperamental voltage. Folks in this company have done a good job under sound business management. That's why your electric service is lower in cost—and higher in efficiency—than ever before.

HISTORY

Invention of the Phonograph—November 21; Edison announced the invention of the phonograph on November 21, 1877. The principle by which human speech could be recorded was known as early as 1855 but no practical application had been made of it previous to Mr. Edison's announcement.

We catch ourselves longing for the good old days, wishing for the time to return when we can go to our grocers and get a sack of sugar and some soap and meat without the feeling that this may be the last we will have for some time.

Remember back when there was no housing shortage, when there were a dozen desirable empty houses in town and the lumber yard was full of lumber of all kinds?

It sounds good but it is not true today. We refer to the expression, "If man builds a better mouse trap the world will make a beaten path to his door."

If the claims by the Nazi criminals that they should not be convicted because their outrages were committed under orders were valid, the underlings of gangsters might, with equal justice, claim exemption from prosecution for the reason that they murdered and robbed under orders of their chief of gangdom.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

The meat shortage has come to the front as the major problem in the thinking of many citizens of this country today.

With meat, however, it seems to be different. It is difficult for people to understand why in a country in which meat has always been plentiful there should be a shortage of it now that the war is over and the nation is returning to its peace time activities.

The first is that the country is, at the present moment, in the most prosperous condition in its history. The result is that more people than at any time in the past have the money with which to buy meat.

The second reason why there is a scarcity of meat is the fear, and the distrust, and the uncertainty, that has been caused by the efforts of the OPA to control meat prices.

The full extent of this uneasiness and distrust is not easily understood by any one except a producer of beef and pork. His situation is entirely different than that of the producer of washing machines, electric irons and similar equipment.

The feeling is that with controls off normal production of meat will ensue and with it normal marketing conditions. The very nature of the meat production business renders essential controls practically impossible.

Memory of Columbus

The American people celebrated on October 12 the memory of a very great man, Christopher Columbus, whose heroic and noble exploit in discovering America has changed the course of history, and created the foundation for American progress.

Columbus had plenty of difficulties to encounter, and he had a long struggle to get recognition and support for his idea that a new world was to be found across the great ocean.

When his exploring expedition had crossed a good part of the ocean, the crews revolted and wished to return to Spain. Columbus calmed them by his confident attitude, and they sailed on in spite of whatever fears they had of that unknown sea.

That discovery was a great turning point in the history of the world. It opened up new opportunities for the people of Europe, who soon flocked to American shores, and took advantage of its many resources.

Persons Over Forty Should Obtain Prompt Medical Attention

Austin.—From a health standpoint, life after forty begins to be more complicated for the average individual, than it was in his earlier years. According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes and arthritis.

Medical care in middle life has two important phases. The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete physical checkup, whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illness which may mean the difference between prompt recovery and continued good health and prolonged invalidism. It is difficult to say which of these phases is the more important.

It has been found that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow the advice arising from them tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and freer from disease than those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities.

It is also a fact that many diseases of middle age respond to treatment in early stages whereas if neglected until later stages they often cause permanent invalidism and even death.

Good advice for persons over forty is that they have regular physical examinations and obtain prompt medical attention for any and all illnesses.

Gene Tierney in New Star Role

With the tumultuous acclaim for her sensational performance in "Leave Her To Heaven" still ringing in her ears, Gene Tierney has come through with what preview critics consider her greatest dramatic triumph to date in "Dragonwyck," the new 20th Century-Fox hit presented by Darryl F. Zanuck, and opening Sunday at the Rialto Theatre.

In the new film, based on the famous Anya Seton best-seller, Miss Tierney is seen in the role of Miranda, the wistful and sensitive country girl who is gripped in the power of a secret love that leads to rapture and terror. Supporting her in featured roles are Walter Huston as Gene's stern and stubborn father; Vincent Price as the imperious and egomaniacal master of Dragonwyck; and Glenn Langan as the young Dr. Jeff Turner.

FOARD CITY WSCS

It was an enthusiastic group which met with Mrs. John Rader of Crowell on Monday, October 13th, in a regular session of the Foard City Woman's Society of Christian Service, for it was the introductory lesson study of India. The opening song was "Glory to His Name" and Mrs. J. M. Barker led in a prayer.

Mrs. W. L. Johnson, president, had charge of the business meeting and plans were discussed in regard to Week of Prayer observance. Members who had made dresses for Filipino children turned them in each tagged with the name of the person who made it. As her devotional, Mrs. Luther Marlow gave a discussion of the beatitude, "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness for they shall be filled."

Introducing the study, Mrs. Grady Halbert gave a brief outline of political India, listing some of the vital statistics, the products and problems of this land of contrasts.

Standing with folded hands outstretched above their heads, the group was led in the Lord's prayer. It is in this position the Christian women of India pray. Mrs. W. L. Johnson told the members, as she began the first chapter of the text, India should be given credit on many counts, on her age as well as her youth, her contributions to medicine, to literature, art and music. Many fables have their origin in India. India should be respected for her merits and work to further the causes of Christianity and education.

Lesson for October 27

PAUL'S WIDENING FIELD OF SERVICE

LESSON TEXT—Acts 13:1-5, 13, 14, 44-46, 48, 49; 14:26, 27.

MEMORY SELECTION—But when it pleased me, to reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the heathen.—Galatians 1:15, 16.

God uses men to accomplish his high and holy purpose of preaching the gospel in all the world. They must, however, be men who have been called by the Holy Spirit, prepared and sent out by him. They must be willing to labor and to sacrifice without limit for his glory.

Paul was such a man, and as we study the widening sphere of his service and influence, we catch a vision of what missions should mean in the church.

I. A Missionary Call (Acts 13:1-4).

Much discussed among earnest Christians is the question of what constitutes a missionary call.

The need must be brought home to the individual believer's heart by the Holy Spirit, and he must give a conviction that one is to go out to meet that need.

Note that the call came through a live, active and well-equipped church in Antioch, a city of Syria. It was a cosmopolitan church—read the names of those who served there. They were of many nationalities and of various occupations and social positions. In the midst of that group were two exceptionally able preachers, Barnabas and Paul. They all loved the Lord and served him.

To such a church the Holy Spirit can speak, be heard and obeyed. Notice that they gave of their best, at the direction of the Spirit, not withholding it for themselves (cf. II Sam. 24:24). God wants our best.

Sent forth by the Holy Spirit these men went promptly and willingly. Why should the Lord have to plead, and prod, and wait for his people to obey him?

II. A Missionary Conquest (Acts 13:4, 5, 13, 14, 44-46, 48, 49).

To trace this first missionary journey it is well to look at the map illustrating the Acts and epistles at the back of most Bibles.

It will appear at once that it was not an easy itinerary these men undertook. It involved travel by sea, through difficult country, and often among hostile and hateful peoples.

God does not call his servants to an air-conditioned arm-chair evangelism. His Word must go out where it has never been heard, and that means pioneering among the most backward of peoples, the neediest of this earth. It means working in rescue missions, in thankless and difficult pastorates; yes, anywhere the Divine Executive, the Holy Spirit, may direct.

Paul met both popularity and persecution, and that not far apart. After the experience of acceptance and rejection on the island of Cyprus (Acts 13:7, 8), Barnabas and Paul went to Antioch in Pisidia (a different city than Antioch in Syria; see map.) Here they were invited to preach in the synagogue and Paul was blessed in the presentation of a powerful gospel message. Read it in Acts 13:16-41. I met with such a response that the people besought that these words might be preached to them the next Sabbath" (v. 42). So great was the popularity of Paul's message that the whole city came the next Sabbath "to hear the Word of God." What a wonderful sight that must have been.

But wait—there is something else here beside popularity, and its name is jealousy (v. 45). It caused the Jews to blaspheme as they contradicted Paul's preaching.

Jealousy always makes a fool out of the one who yields to it. Yet this green-eyed monster is permitted to go right on hindering the work of God. The result in this case was that Paul turned from the Jews to the Gentiles with the gospel, to their great joy and delight. This is a great turning point in the history of the church.

Now the preachers turn homeward to Antioch in Syria, and there they had giving, and praying, and going in a local church like a live missionary conference, where those who have been on the field come back and tell what the Lord has done as they went out to serve him.

III. A Missionary Conference (Acts 14:26, 27).

It is good to know that what the Lord led men out to do has been fulfilled. That completes the circle of divine guidance and blessing, and strongly encourages us to go again—and others to go for the first time—to do missionary work for God.

The church which does not have such an annual missionary conference misses a blessing and an opportunity for enlarged vision and service. No pastor or church can afford to miss such an open door for the working of the Holy Spirit of God.

James Erwin and Miss Myers Wed in Monahans Saturday

In a beautiful ceremony solemnized at the Presbyterian Church in Monahans Saturday evening, October 12, at 7 o'clock, Miss Shirley Myers became the bride of James Erwin.

The church was decorated with pink and white floral arrangements and ferns. Large baskets of white and pink chrysanthemums were arranged on each side of the altar which was banked with fern and palms. Tatt white tapers in floor length holders completed the decorations.

The bride was lovely in a pink wool crepe two-piece dress with a pink feather hat. She carried a white Bible and wore a corsage of blue flowers. She was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Roy Hurd, Miss Helen Hurd, maid of honor, wore a blue crepe afternoon dress and blue feather hat and a pink corsage.

Bill Bell of Crowell, uncle of the groom, served as best man.

Rev. Homer C. Akers, of Seagraves, officiated with the impressive double ring ceremony. Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Johnnie Hutchinson sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Always." She was accompanied by Mrs. E. L. Kent, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Carl Wurtz, usher, lighted the candles before the entrance of the bridal party.

A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hurd followed the wedding. The linen covered table was centered with a crystal punch service surrounded with a wreath of white and pink flowers. Miss Beatrice Edwards served the pretty three-tiered wedding cake and Miss Hurd served punch.

Approximately sixty persons were in attendance at the wedding and the reception. The couple left immediately for a short wedding trip after which they will make their home on West Elm St. in Monahans.

Several pre-nuptial parties complimented the bride and groom, one of which was a bridge party given on Thursday evening prior to the wedding by Mr. and Mrs. Rollins T. Harris, uncle and aunt of the groom.

Miss NeSmith and Fred Collins Wed Thursday Evening

The marriage of Miss Audrey NeSmith and Fred Collins was solemnized at the parsonage home of Rev. and Mrs. D. D. Denison on Thursday evening, Oct. 17, with Rev. Denison performing the double ring ceremony.

Before an improvised altar of fern and cut flowers, the couple stood for the ceremony. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ike Wilson. Mrs. Denison also was present.

The bride was attired in a gray dress with which she wore brown accessories and a shoulder corsage of a white orchid. Mrs. Wilson wore a blue suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Collins left for a short wedding trip. They returned Wednesday.

Mrs. Collins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. NeSmith of Zephyr. She attended the schools here for seven months and has been employed as receptionist in the office of Mrs. Gilmore and Altaras for about three months.

He served in North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France and Germany, returning and receiving his discharge in October, 1945. The couple will make their home in Crowell and reside in an apartment at the home of Mrs. Hazel Thomas.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

Mesdames S. J. Ferguson and C. R. Ferguson were joint hostesses to the Columbian Club at the home of Mrs. C. R. Ferguson on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 16.

At a short business session, the corresponding secretary reported that a copy of the Foard County Service Book had been secured to be placed in the County Federation Library for a public reference book.

The Pan-American program was introduced by Mrs. N. J. Roberts, the leader, with an apt quotation, "Enrichment of life through understanding of human relations," and followed with an interesting article on South American Ways.

Mrs. Crews Cooper gave a graphic account of the Dominican Republic. She spoke of its government, its physical features and its people.

Mrs. M. N. Kenner discussed Argentina, dealing with the people, their customs, their government and their relations to the United States.

"Gardens and Homes of Mexico" was the subject of a delightful talk by Mrs. B. W. Self. The charm of life among the picturesque homes and gardens in the almost tropical climate of Mexico was vividly described by Mrs. Self from data taken from Mrs. Ben G. Oneal's charming book on Mexico and her own personal visit to Mexico.

The highlight of the afternoon's program was the introduction of Mrs. Joe Cabellas, who told of life and conditions in Cuba and Venezuela. Mrs. Cabellas is a native of Cuba and for three years has been living in Venezuela with her husband. She attended school in the United States and was connected with government affairs in Cuba and for three years she with her husband has been in the oil fields of Venezuela, with headquarters in Caracas, the capital of Venezuela. Her parallels of conditions, life, opportunities in the two tropical countries, Cuba and Venezuela, and the United States were vivid and very interesting. She says they acknowledge better ways of life in the northern republics but that it is too much trouble and requires too much energy for the easy-going Spanish-American to put it into

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Whitaker Honored at Truscott

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Whitaker were complimented on Thursday evening, Oct. 17, by Mr. and Mrs. Van W. Browning, hosts at a dinner at the Truscott Hotel in their honor.

Following the dinner, the honorees were completely surprised when they were greeted by a large number of friends who had gathered in the lobby of the hotel which had been beautifully decorated with seasonal flowers and ferns. The friends were from Truscott and surrounding community and from the Humble Pump Station where Mr. Whitaker is an employee. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Whitaker of Crowell were among the guests.

A contest between the men and the ladies was indulged in, each writing a day's menu for the bride's future reference. The men proved to be more efficient and won the prize which was presented to the bride. After much struggling with wrappings, she found a tiny box of black pepper and a bar of soap. Then followed a whistling contest in which the honorees were the winners, they were presented with many useful and beautiful gifts.
