"B" Squad Loses Football Game to Vernon, 12 to 6

The Wildkittens, Crowell High School's "B" squad football team, lost to the Vernon "B" squad 12 to 6 in a game played at Vernon last Thursday night. The teams were as evenly matched as the score indicated. However, the Crowell boys were outweighed by several pounds per man. The winning touchdown was made late in the fourth quarter.

The Wildkittens scored first in the game when Dalton Biggerstaff plunged over from the one-yard line just before the first quarter was over. Neither team was able to make an extra point in the game. Crowell's touchdown was set up when Rouse Fowl took a pass over center from Biggerstaff for fifteen yards and galloped another twenty yards to place the ball on the six-yard line. Biggerstaff ran at the line three times before scoring.

Wm. Cameron & Co Erecting Four G. I. Approved Houses

Several months ago Wm. Cameron & Co. bought a half block of land in the north part of town, on Houston Street, across the street from the homes of W. E. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. O. H. Nelson and C. B. Graham, for the purpose of constructing four G. I. approved, 5-room modern houses. Two of the houses have already been completed and sold. The first one erected on the southwest corner of the tract, was sold to Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ekern. After buying the house Mr. and Mrs. Ekern added one large room and bath, a storage room and concrete porch. They moved into their new home last Thursday.

American Legion Auxiliary Holds Regular Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held in the district court room Tuesday evening, Nov. 5, at 7 o'clock, and was opened by giving the pledge to the flag and reciting the preamble to the constitution.

Mrs. Clyde Cobb gave a report of the district convention held at Electra on Oct. 25. Mrs. Joe Eddy was appointed chairman of rehabilitation. Gifts are to be made and sent to veterans hospitals. They should be turned in to Mrs. Eddy by noon next Saturday. Gifts wanted are aprons, pocket holders and lunch cloths, and all members are urged to make one gift.

Crowell Wildcats Will Meet Burkburnett Bulldogs in a 12-A Conference Game at Burkburnett Tomorrow Night

The Crowell Wildcats will be at full strength again tomorrow night when they journey to Burkburnett to play their old rivals, Burkburnett Bulldogs, in a district 12-A game. The Crowell boys received a well deserved rest last week that should help them.

The Bulldogs and Wildcats are tied in district standing with three victories and two losses each. Both teams had hard luck in losing to Seymour, the top team in the district race. Burkburnett lost to the Panthers by a 12 to 0 score, while the Crowell boys lost to that team by a 12 to 7 score in the last thirty-five seconds of play. The Burkburnett lads looked exceptionally good two weeks ago when they defeated the Archer City Wildcats, one of the top teams of the district. The Wildcats looked just as good in winning a 7 to 6 decision from the Chillicothe Eagles.

Coach Louis Purvis plans on starting the same combination in this game that looked so good against the Chillicothe team here two weeks ago: Ed Thomas and Don Wilkins, ends; J. C. Patton and Thomas Tamplen, tackles; Larry Wood and V. Bond, guards; R. C. Schlagal, center; and Kendrick Joy, Lon Laquey, J. L. Brock and John Frank Mitchell, backs. Several Crowell reserves have been looking good lately and Coach Purvis hopes to use some of them in this game.

The Wildcats will receive another rest next week before taking on the Olney Cubs here on the night of November 22. The Olney contest will be Crowell's last home game this year.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS . . .

Mountains of Long Island potatoes, nearly 4,000 bushels on the Charles McVay ranch, are being purchased by the U. S. government at approximately $1.67 a hundred pounds. While Suffolk county potatoes have enjoyed bumper crops this year, they are encountering a getting their yields to market. Many of the potatoes are spoiling in the field before freight cars were made available.

FIRE GIRLS' HONOR BEADS . . .

One Camp Fire girl explains honor beads awarded for participation in service projects to two girls, members of the organization's junior division. These members are among the thousands who are participating in annual membership drive which will end November 30.

Vernon tied the game up in the second quarter, when Charles Coffman, left tackle, for Vernon, blocked a Crowell punt that rolled back to Crowell's fifteen yard line. Paul Keeler, quarterback, passed to Buddy Hoffman, left end for Vernon, for the score. The half ended in a tie 6 to 6.

The second half also found the teams on even terms until the last three minutes of the game, when the little Lions put on a drive that went for fifty yards and a touchdown. This touchdown was made by Hoffman on a line play that netted two yards. Crowell had come close to scoring in the third quarter when they drove down to Vernon's seventeen-yard line, but an intercepted pass by Vernon halted this threat. The game ended 12 to 6 for Vernon.

The following boys played in this game for Crowell: Grover Yocham, Clifford Orr, and J. P. Bartley, ends; Mark Taylor, J. C. Autry and Ray Black, tackles; Floyd Borchardt and Walter Caddell, guards; C. D. Campbell, center; Dalton Biggerstaff, Rouse Todd, R. L. Ballard and Don Wilkins, backs.

These same teams play here Thursday night of next week, November 14, at 7:30 o'clock. There will be no charge for this game.

Nu Way Laundry Is Sold to Elmo J. Hudgins of Pampa

The Nu Way Laundry was sold by Emory Hardin this week to Elmo J. Hudgins of Pampa. Mr. Hudgins will take charge of the business Monday. He is a former resident of Crowell, having lived here from 1933 to 1936.

Mr. Hardin, who has been operating the laundry for more than a year, has not announced his future plans. He was assisted in the operation of the business by his brother, Bill Hardin.

Illinois Law Regulates Height of Hedge Fences

Different viewpoints exist with respect to the value of hedge fences. Some people like them for their shade, beauty, posts and wind protection. Others dislike them because they impair the productive capacity of adjoining land, are hard to trim and harbor weeds and insects.

Because some people do not like the injury caused their land by overhanging hedge trees the Illinois legislature passed a law back in 1874 providing as follows: " . . . the owner . . . of a hedge division fence shall, during the year after such hedge has attained the age of seven years, cut back or trim such hedge fence to a height not to exceed four feet, and shall at least once in every two years thereafter, cut back or trim such hedge fence to the height of five feet; Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any hedge fence protecting either an orchard or building or wind break, not to exceed 30 rods."

Amendments Carry in the Five Boxes Reported

Amendments to the state constitution, which were voted on Tuesday's general election, carried by a large majority, according to returns from five of the eleven voting boxes in the county.

Voting in precincts Nos. 1, 2 and 3, according to figures given the News by Judge Leslie Thomas Wednesday, is as follows:

Precinct No. 1, 148 for and 24 against; Precinct No. 2, 109 for and 69 against; Precinct No. 3, 148 for and 32 against. Owing to the bad weather, returns from the other voting boxes in the county were not brought in, however, indications are that when all the votes have been counted the amendments will have carried by a large majority. A fourth amendment to the constitution will be voted on today.

New Building, 50-ft. Front, to Be Erected on South Side

Work started this week on the foundation for a 50x80 foot building on the south side of the square for M. F. Crowell, east of the Crowell Service Station building. According to present plans the building will be constructed of concrete blocks and stuccoed on outside.

Otto Davenport has been employed to run the foundation and lay the concrete blocks and Joe Ben Roberts will do the carpenter work.

When completed the building will be used by Mr. Crowell for a Goodyear Tire store and appliances.

Heavy Rains Fall in Foard County First Part of Week

Heavy rains fell in Crowell and Foard County the first part of the week, beginning Sunday morning. Two and eight hundredths inches was recorded by the Government gauge at the Crowell State Bank.

The rain continued until Tuesday night and the skies were clear all day Wednesday. The rain was beneficial to the wheat crop, but slowed up the gathering of the cotton crop.

The coldest weather of the season was experienced during this rainy spell, but Wednesday was warmer.

Tests Show That Nicotinic Acid Relieves Headache

Two New York physicians report that the nicotinic acid is highly effective for the relief of headaches of a persistent nature, such as migraine or severe idiopathic headaches which stem from an unknown cause. Of 100 consecutive patients with severe headaches who received injections of nicotinic acid, 75 were completely relieved.

The patients had 100 milligrams of nicotinic acid in a salt solution injected into their veins. This was the standard dosage. In the average case from 30 to 15 seconds elapsed before the patient was aware of any effects, the doctors write. Then there was a feeling of warmth or heat with an accompanying flush. "Within three or four minutes the patient, though not comfortable, became accustomed to the heat, which gradually subsided in about 15 minutes and usually disappeared in 20 minutes to a half hour.

Repair of Bank Building Making Rapid Progress

Repairing and remodeling of the old Bank of Crowell building is progressing satisfactorily. A new roof has been put on and the work on the inside is moving along at a rapid rate. New flooring has been put down in the all the rooms in the building and the floors in the rooms in the rear are being sanded. Plaster work will start soon. The carpenter work is being supervised by John Banister, local contractor, and Ed McDaniel, local plumber, is doing the plumbing work.

ROMANIAN CRADLE

Regarded by Romanians as the cradle of their race in early Christian times, Transylvania was a Hungarian possession for nine centuries prior to World War I. In June, 1920, when the Treaty of Trianon stripped defeated Hungary of its Magyar core, the region became the western third of enlarged Romania. In shape, the Indiana-size plateau land is a big piece of pie with Romania's central city of Brasov as its eastern point, and the ridges of the Carpathian mountains and Transylvania Alps as its sides, east and south. Cluj, capital and chief city, lies near the center of the wedge.

The Romanian census of 1930 showed that nearly three-fifths of Transylvania's 5,550,000 people were Romanian, about one-fourth were Hungarian, and one-tenth were German, with many nationalities composing the small remainder. That census varied only slightly from the Hungarian census of 1910.

Foundation Laid for New Building

The foundation for the new building for Glendon Hays and Jim Cates has been put down by Otto Davenport. Material for the new steel and iron building is here and it will be erected within a short time.

The building will be used by Mr. Cates and Mr. Hays for display of new automobiles with a repair department in the rear.

ROTARY CLUB

It being National Art Week, Crowell Rotarians had the privilege of listening to a program on art at the regular meeting of the club at the DeLuxe Cafe Wednesday at noon.

Mrs. M. S. Henry, art chairman for the County Federation of Women's Clubs, told of her recent visit to view the statue of the "Pioneer Woman" at Ponca City, Okla., which proved very interesting.

Mrs. R. L. Kincaid used for her subject the art of making pottery and exhibited many pieces of her pottery collection. Mrs. Kincaid predicted that America was destined to become an art center. Her talk was also enjoyed by the Rotarians.

T. B. Klepper was program chairman with George Self introducing the speakers.

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

"The Spirit of Gratitude I saw a card on the wall of an office recently which read: 'I complained of corns on my feet until I saw a man who had lost both legs.' The thought implied by the message on the card is that before we complain of our lot and grieve because the things we do not have, we should check up and be thankful for the things we do have. There is no one, regardless of his station in life, or his possessions, who has not felt at times that he could be happy if he only had a little more. Happiness, the chief goal of life is not found in wealth nor in poverty. Neither one in itself, has or ever will give it. True happiness is found in a spirit of gratitude and gratefulness and thankfulness for the things we do have. It isn't the thing itself or the possession of it that makes us happy, it is in the measure of our appreciation. We cannot always help the measure of our material prosperity but we are the complete mastery of our appreciation of the things we do have and of our spirit of thanksgiving and gratitude.

Veterans News

The Veterans Administration this week urged veterans who have National Service Life Insurance to designate beneficiaries for their insurance if they have not already done so.

Don Pray, VA's director of insurance in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, explained that the Insurance Act of 1946 completely changed the situation with respect to beneficiaries. The old provision for an automatic order of succession, in the event no beneficiary was named, is no longer in effect for insurance maturing after July 31, 1946.

Under the new law, Pray said, if the insured is not survived by a designated beneficiary, the insurance proceeds will be paid in a single sum to his estate at his death.

The veteran who does not designate beneficiaries exposes his dependents to the risk of unnecessary expense and delay, Pray pointed out.

A 200-bed general medical and surgical hospital at Marlin, Texas, was among 13 new Veterans Administration hospitals approved last week by President Truman.

This brings the total of new VA hospitals planned for the Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi area to ten. Additions to existing installations also are planned.

New hospitals previously announced will be erected at New Orleans and Shreveport, Louisiana; Big Spring, Bonham, Dallas, El Paso and Houston, Texas; and Tupelo, Mississippi. Another hospital will be built in Mississippi at a site to be selected later.

Fewer veterans were paid readjustment allowances for unemployment during the week ending October 12 than in any week since last January, Ray R. Adams, Readjustment Allowance Director of VA, reported. During that week about 1,122,000 veterans claimed unemployment allowances, a nation-wide survey revealed.

Young Town Builders

All the people of a community should be interested in the development of the town. This interest should not be limited to the leaders of the community, but general co-operation and support is needed.

What can the young people do to help build the town and advance its progress? When they study well in school they fit themselves for superior service, which helps all the activities of the home town. When they cultivate habits of neatness and order, and refrain from scattering litter through the streets, they help maintain a clean town. When they help their parents take care of the home grounds and keep their grass and garden plots in good condition, they add to the beauty of the town. These are important services along the march of progress.

Church Choirs

The people who sing in church choirs render a most valuable service. Their musical ability and vocal gifts make a wonderful addition to the beauty of the services of worship. The directors, the organists, the soloists and all who sing or who take any part in these programs, make a grand contribution to the church services. The truths of religion as presented in songs and anthems come close to the heart, and congregations are stirred by this appeal.

It is a fine thing when chorus choirs can be organized, and when people are willing to give their time to rehearsals of these programs. They find it a most rewarding experience, one that will improve their ability to sing, and they will be thrilled by the fine works which they will study and present.

Home Town Thoughts

The person who keeps saying "I live in the best little town," or "the best big town," according to size, performs a great service in promoting enthusiasm about people's home environment.

Most people take pride in their home town, and want it made attractive and prosperous, and they will usually welcome any practical movement aimed along those lines. When people make improve-

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

West Texas Educational Institutions shared in the awards of surplus property, most of it given without exchange of funds at the request of FHA to further the facilities to aid veterans enrolled as students. TCU obtained a quantity of tables; McMurray College, Abilene, received 1,800 mattress covers, 150 clothes lockers, chairs, and wardrobe racks; to Abilene Christian College goes chairs and wardrobe racks; Wayland College at Plainview obtains lockers and cabinets, and Baylor University gets better than 1,000 mattress covers—all for free.

At a discount of 95 per cent, large stocks of surplus were sold this week to West Texas State Teachers College, Canyon, Texas; Tech at Lubbock; Butler College, Tyler; Texas A. & M. College Station, TCU, North Texas Agricultural College, Arlington; and the University of Houston.

The small business man who runs the corner store is to come in for a more important share of surplus property disposals, starting in November, WAA in Fort Worth announced. Within the definition of "small business" are enterprises not having more than 500 employees. Both retailers and wholesalers are included in the group. The RFC has a buying priority immediately following the Federal Agencies and Veterans.

Mr. Ralph Roberts of the Dallas zone office has been appointed representative to assist small businessmen to buy surplus and maintain contact with business groups and chambers of commerce throughout the southwest.

All roads in the Panhandle will lead to Hereford November 13, as War Assets Administration opens the doors of the former war-time Prisoner of War Camp in a huge "site sale."

Lumber, plumbing and heating equipment and supplies; electrical equipment and fittings, all stockpiles by WAA to offer for sale to aid in alleviating the critical housing shortage for veterans, will be offered November 13, 14, 15, 18 and 19 to holders of HH priorities. For the opening 5 days each holder of an HH priority will be limited to buying materials not to exceed an amount sufficient to complete construction of one five-room dwelling.

It will be "first come, first served" among the HH priority holders when the doors open at 9 a. m., Wednesday, the 13th. Veterans exercising a priority to build their own homes; contractors buying material to build a home for a veteran, or contractors buying material to construct homes for resale to veterans—all will line up according to their time of arrival at the Hereford POW Camp.

A large number of former POW buildings have been dismantled and the materials carefully stockpiled for this event. Should any materials remain beyond the initial 5 day selling period, it will then be offered to established sellers of building material who certify to WAA that all such material will be publicly offered for sale to eligible priority holders. There will be no limitation on quantities purchased after the opening five days.

Hiring the Handicapped Blind Society Adopts Reynolds Pen

The week Oct. 6-12, appointed as "National Employ the Handicapped Week," has been widely observed. The United States Employment Service has about 300,000 physically handicapped job seekers listed, of whom 225,000 are war veterans.

In the past two and a half years the United States Employment Service has placed nearly 700,000 handicapped persons. It is a great thing to open up the way for these people to obtain employment. A great benefit is conferred on the nation when they are given work, and are enabled to support their families and themselves.

The self-sacrifice of the veterans during the war was so great, that the nation does well to make every effort to restore disabled men to normal activity as workers. A very important service is rendered to the country when work is found for any handicapped person, and he is enabled to go out in the world and earn a living.

Alaska has hopes of becoming the 49th state. Because of the fact that it is far removed and out of the beaten track there is little general knowledge in this country regarding this possession. It remains perhaps the last frontier of the United States. It has a wealth of natural resources and in certain sections vegetables are produced that surpass anything in size produced in this country. Some attractive opportunities are offered by the Interior Department of our government to those who are interested in homesteads there.

Many are going to look a long time at the fat fried out of bacon before they take it to their grocers and sell it for four cents a pound. Every pound of fat is going to have to do double duty. After it is fried out of bacon it is going to have to serve to fry potatoes and take the place of butter on pancakes.

The greedy and dishonest efforts of some of the so-called respectable citizens of the country to profit out of the war are a singular contrast to the sacrifices of the boys in the service. The two examples furnish the extremes in the matter of patriotism.

Armistice Day Thought

The American people can be extremely proud of the showing of national strength and loyalty which was made in the war ending Armistice day, 1918. That day did not end all wars as so many hoped, but it showed the world that the American people had a tremendous power of action, and were capable of uniting for the defense of the country and its ideals.

The more warlike nations of Europe looked at America then as too soft a nation to be feared as a military power. No demonstration of the military strength of the nation had been given since the Spanish-American war of 1898, and that was finished so soon that it did not reveal the full power which the country was capable of showing.

It was thought that Americans had very inadequate military training and preparation, and would not want or be able to get ready for war quick enough to become an important factor in the quarrels of Europe. But our enemies were given a shock of surprise when the American people, stung by the aggressions and lawless acts of Germany, finally entered the struggle and began in earnest to organize their mighty forces for conflict.

More Toys for Children

The report comes from the toy makers that there will be more toys available for children this season than there were during the war years. Shoppers looking for these Christmas gifts are advised to do their shopping early, as there may not be enough of some articles to go around.

So the girls will be able to hug their little dolls, and there will be many things imitating the tools with which adult housekeepers work. Many mechanical devices will prove fascinating to boys. There will be a great many games, blackboards on which the kids can play they are at school, and the usual great variety of fascinating things.

Children will play a long time with these things. The child busy with his toys makes no trouble for his parents, and his jolly prattling shows his happiness. Also he is acquiring that valuable ability of being able to amuse himself.

How to Write Ads

Some people say they believe in advertising, yet they consider it quite a trick to write a good sales notice, and they do not feel they have the special talent needed to do it.

This idea shows a certain misconception. It is of course, true that an original and unusual advertisement is an excellent feature, but the main thing that people want in advertising is to see the goods briefly described and the price told. Anyone who can talk to a customer about goods and sell about their features and of the reasons why merchandise would be a good bargain, is perfectly competent to write an excellent advertisement. The people will read such a notice, and many will come to look and buy.

More than 33 per cent of World War II veterans already have applied for education or on-the-job training under Federal laws, Veterans Administration said.

What We Think
 (By Frank Dixon)

War time controls were removed on meat and a number of other items by the action of President Truman last week. Mr. Truman removed the controls not because he believed that it was for the best but because the demand for their removal had reached a point where it seemed advisable to make the change.

Once more government has yielded to the pressure group. The pressure group in this instance was not organized for the purpose but in the sum total of its clamor had the same effect as though it had been organized.

It is interesting and not a little tiresome and disgusting to hear the political clamor and harangue that has arisen over the matter of the relaxation of controls. Their choice who know better, but they choose to make political capital out of every act of the nation's leaders. This disposition is not by any means confined to the meat control problem or to the present administration. It has existed to a greater or less degree ever since the institution of our government.

I catch myself wondering what kind of government and what kind of a country we could have in these United States if differences of opinion regarding official acts were purely honest differences of opinion rather than excuses for exhibition of political demagoguery.

There is ample room for differences of opinion on the question of how price controls should be administered, but in my opinion on the question of price control, there should be no difference of opinion.

I base this conclusion or presumption on the thought back of the whole idea of price control—the prevention of runaway inflation.

The consequences of runaway inflation are so serious that they demand that every effort possible should be made to prevent it. In spite of all that can be done there is bound to be some degree of inflation, but the more it can be retarded the better it is going to be for all of us.

As to the matter of meat which forced the issue, in my opinion a few weeks will see it straighten itself out. Prices will advance to the point where many will not be able to buy meat, because they can't afford it. Another thing that is going to enter in is the peculiar trait of the genus homo that the thing he cannot get is the thing he wants most. Now that meat will be available to any one who has the price to pay for it the demand is going to level out where supplies will meet it.

The clamor now that the meat question has been settled as far as the government is concerned, may center itself on sugar, soap and nylons. The American people must have something to worry over and it might as well be soap and sugar and nylons as anything else.

The matter of price control, the wisdom of it or the lack of wisdom of it as it pertains to the matter of preventing inflation will soon be settled. We have chosen our course. It may lead us to an orderly system of supply and demand and it may not. It may open the gates of inflation.

Whatever the outcome we the people must accept and meet. Some of us have been overvalued but we along with those who clamored loudest must pay the price whatever it may be.

HISTORY

Thanksgiving Day—November 28: Thanksgiving has been observed in this country since the early days of the Pilgrims in 1620. As first conceived it centered about a service of thanksgiving for victories won and for the fruits of the harvest. While a few still observe it as a day of thanksgiving for the most part it recalled as a day of feasting and reunion of families and friends. While there may be within the hearts of many a spirit of thanksgiving it is not expressed by participation in any thanksgiving service. Thanksgiving was first observed by the early colonies in 1621 as the result of an order from Governor Bradford. On this occasion the colonists went out into the forest and shot wild turkeys, which were plentiful at that time, and prepared a feast for the occasion. Friendly Indians joined in the festivities. Twenty-three years later in 1644 the Governor of New York issued a Thanksgiving proclamation. Each year during the Revolution a day of Thanksgiving was recommended by Congress. No Thanksgiving proclamation was issued after 1784 until Washington ordered a day of Thanksgiving in 1789 for the adoption of the Constitution. This was the first Thanksgiving proclamation issued by any president of this country. President Madison issued a proclamation in 1815 and proclamations were issued by Lincoln in 1862 and 1863 in which thanks were to be offered for victories. Credit for the observance of Thanksgiving as an annual religious festival in this country belongs to Mrs. Sara J. Hale. She began her campaign for recognition of the day in 1827 as editor of the Ladies Magazine. She continued her efforts until 1863 when President Lincoln issued the first national Thanksgiving proclamation designating the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day.

Through the efforts of the medical fraternity of Foard County, a long-needed hospital has been secured, and the work of erecting the building will begin this week, most of the required stock having been subscribed.

Support of Institutions

A person can form quite a judgment of a community by noticing how well it supports its institutions. One man who was once contemplating locating in some city to carry on a certain type of business, explained the manner in which he got some impressions about places he was considering. He looked in a church year book, and noted the number of members that different churches had, the salary that was paid ministers, and such points. He concluded that churches that paid a good salary and had a large membership, would be located in prosperous communities in which high standards prevailed.

Towns that maintain churches, schools, parks, social organizations, etc., in excellent condition, indicate that they are places where there are good business opportunities, and they would be good places to live in.

The American Indian has every right to feel aggrieved against the white race. The American men stole his land. The boys and girls appropriated his idea of wearing his shirt tail outside his trousers, and the women appropriated his war paint.

Just why in the name of everything that is reasonable and sensible should China, after having endured nine years of devastating war with Japan, want to carry on a civil war between her own people?

SUNNY SQUIBLET

Many people, it is said, do not chew their food sufficiently. At least the cows are reported to be chewing their cuds quite thoroughly.

A dismissed lover or a discharged employe is sometimes said to be "given the gate." On Hal-love-in in various instances, the boys have taken the gate without its being given to them.

People are warned against falling down stairs, but there have been cases where falling in love was still more serious.

Some people say they are going to make a new start. This is all right and fine, except in cases where the new start is backward.

What progress are women making in the business world? Very great progress, of course, though we have not seen any who have learned to put their feet up on the desk, and claimed that helps them to think better.

Pop says it's all right for Ma to spend a lot of time reading about philosophy, but he has not discovered that that makes her any better able to make good corned beef hash.

Time is said to fly swiftly, but some of the old folks say it can't fly fast enough in Texas to keep up with the younger generation.

Many young people are said to be impetuous, but Pop says the boys don't take hold of the job of raking up the leaves in any particularly impetuous manner. The sentimental affairs of some young girls and boys have been called calf love. These have been calves that were skittish about going to a good pasture, and instead they would jump the fence and get tangled up in the bushes. They say the world is foundering around in the dark. If so, it would seem a good idea to reduce speed and pay more attention to stop lights and danger signs. They say money talks, but some say no great amount of that conversation comes anywhere near them.

"What is the world coming to?" many anxious people ask. "One thing it is surely coming to quite soon in Crowell is the necessity of doing Christmas shopping."

Sleepless Nights

One of the questions which doctors frequently ask, is as to whether people sleep well at night. The sleeping question is a sort of indicator of a person's nervous and physical state. If a person does not sleep well, it may indicate some condition of strain that should be corrected if possible.

There are traditional ways of getting to sleep. One of them is to imagine sheep going over a fence, and to count them as they are thought to go. One way of getting good sleep is to have a quiet evening, and to take a little walk before bedtime.

Many people have activities in the evening that are stirring or exciting, or which call for thought and energy. It may be hard for some to quiet down when bedtime comes. Worry and anxiety work against sleep. If one can get the feeling that most of his worries are imaginary, and go to bed with the cheerful thought that all will be well, the chances of sleep are better.

"She Wrote the Book" Coming to Rialto

For the first time in her career, Joan Davis portrays a fictional character in "She Wrote the Book," Universal comedy which comes to the Rialto Theatre on Tuesday, Nov. 12. Jack Oakie is Joan's co-star in the gay new picture.

The comedy queen has devoted many years to creating the impression that she is an ugly duckling, unwanted by men, but in this hilarious satire, Joan blossoms out in a glamor wardrobe, and in full glamor makeup. The effect is a startling surprise, and the old Joan "who ain't got nobody" on the radio, has many men at her feet in the film.

Plot of "She Wrote the Book" deals hilariously with a case of mistaken identity. Miss Davis, who portrays a mathematics instructor in a small college, becomes involved in a mad chain of circumstances when she innocently impersonates the author of a risque novel. Stricken by amnesia after a taxicab crash, the comedienne is said to be taken through some of the most outrageously comical scenes yet devised for cinema purposes.

Mischa Auer is on hand with Miss Davis and Oakie to provide fun and the three top comedians, who have not heretofore appeared together, form a winning combination.

Recalling Names

Some people remark that they have serious difficulty in remembering the names of the persons they meet. They regret it if they keep meeting people and are unable to call those persons by name.

Politicians are apt to have a remarkable gift for remembering names and faces. It is a help to them if they can go about and call a large number of people by name. In business it is a great help if one remembers the names of the people with whom one has dealt. It makes a customer feel that his business and patronage are considered important, and that people are taking special pains to please him.

This power is so valuable, that it is worth a special effort to cultivate and develop it. The people who remember names well give an impression of being interested in those whom they meet, and this helps them to make friends.

Watch Your Bargains.—When shopping during sales consider well when you make a purchase as to whether the article is good material and therefore a bargain or whether it is shoddy. It often costs more money in the end to keep a cheap article in condition than the difference in price between it and a good one.

"FOOT FAG" FELLOWS FLOUNDER FOOLISHLY

Does "you all" know just what the term "foot fag" is? You may not know the definition, but everyone has seen examples of it. (Every one who goes down the halls of CHS, that is.)

Usually victims of "foot fag" come in pairs (mostly of opposite sex). They are seen standing by their lockers, each consoling the other with caressing looks, or walking slowly down the hall, holding hands helping each other along.

They struggle aimlessly, calmly discussing matters (possibly politics) and before they know it, the bell has rung, a pass has to be secured from the office, and the "foot faggers" tramp into class after it has already gotten under way.

Dear Editor:

Could you tell us why the students of CHS have decided to tear up the typewriters when the teacher steps out of the room? If a student would stop and think what he is doing, I don't believe he would do it. These typewriters are very valuable. They cost a large sum of money and should be kept in the best of condition. In order to do this, parts have to be bought and repairs made. The student pays $4.00 a month to take typing. This money is used for repairs; therefore, you are destroying your own money when you damage a typewriter. You should be extra careful with your typewriter and try to keep it in the best of condition. If the teacher is out of the room and you feel you just must do something wrong, please do not use a typewriter — use something less destructive or better still — use nothing.

Dear Editor:

Why is all of the pushing and shoving in the lunch line necessary? It is all child-like and silly. I believe that the one who checks the numbers and every one else would be better satisfied if the students would leave off the pushing and shoving. Although we are keeping our lunch room cleaner, we could improve upon orderliness in the lunch line. A Senior.

JIMMIE SWAN WINS ART CONTEST

Frances Ford and Lora Abston Receive Honorable Mention. On Wednesday, Oct. 30, the Adelpian Club sponsored an art exhibit composed of original drawings which were on display in the Adelpian Club House. The drawings represented grammar school and high school.

The senior exhibit contained thirty pictures, some were in pencil, some in crayolas, and some in pen and ink. Some of the students had had no training and this was most of the students' first attempt at free hand drawing. All deserve credit for trying.

Jimmie's and Frances' pictures represented short stories while Lora's picture was a cotton patch with pickers and cotton wagons.

Jimmie received $2.00 for first prize.

NEW ELECTRIC STOVE DEMONSTRATED

Did you smell it? Sorry you didn't have a taste, for everything Mrs. Hawkins cooked was delicious.

In showing us the many uses of our electric stove, Mrs. Hawkins cooked two complete meals; one of which was an oven meal. Many of us do not like certain vegetables. Mrs. Hawkins explained the reason was that they very often are not cooked correctly. Her key thought was "to cook vegetables, turn the unit to high until it steams; then turn the unit to simmer, using only enough water to cover the bottom of the pan, and do not overcook."

She stressed the idea of having pans to fit your units. Pans should have flat bottoms, straight sides, and good lids. This prevents the wasting of electricity. If electricity is correctly used, it is not too expensive.

We were served a delightful meal that made us realize how much better correctly prepared food is and made us want an electric range for our future homes.

BLONDE HAired, GREEN EYED, KATHLEEN EDDY,

Who looks more like a doll than flesh and blood, steps up as Senior Personality this week.

This little girl who calls herself "Kathy" is 17 years old and is crowding 18. Born in February, you might think she came in a Valentine box all tied with pink and blue ribbon, but she insists it was green, since that is her favorite color. She loves to swim, eat chocolate cake, listen to "Pre-tending," "You Should Know," and sing "Always" into the ear of "Danny." She goes for Jeanne Crain, and Guy Madison—(Who doesn't?), but says Van Johnson will do. Her highest ambition is to pass Civics and when asked what her biggest thrill was, she replied "I wouldn't ask you that." After high school she plans to tackle Texas Tech and from there to settle down to a steady job—being housewife for a certain boy.

WILDCAT CENTER

Senior and Wildcat Center hails from Rankin.

R. C. Schlagal, who is the excellent center on the first Wildcat eleven, is a welcome Senior at CHS.

Before he attended CHS he was making his A's, same as he is here, at Rankin, Texas. At Rankin he was an outstanding player in both basketball and football.

He is staying, at the present, with his grandfather, Harry Schlagal, and his cousin, Grover Grover tries to get him to help him milk but hardly ever succeeds.

R. C.'s eyes are green, (he's no monster), his hair is blonde, and when you mention chicken, Um! He has no pastime except trying to skate at the rink in town. David Bruce is his favorite actor, and Betty Grable gets his whistle for an actress. He says he hasn't any favorite girl, but . . . He enjoys seeing David Bruce, and Betty Grable and also playing "big boss" to Grover.

Lost: The Spirit Crowell High is so famous for; sometime between the Seymour and Chilli-cothe football games. If found, please return to the Burkburnett stadium Friday night. Reward: A victory over Burkburnett.

ALL CLASSES SEE MOVIES ON SPORTS

They're not "Smoky" or any of Ten Best Pictures, but there are movies at CHS. Maybe they have not the intrigue of "Confidential Agent," and they don't have you rolling in the aisles like Abbott and Costello might, but they run you a fair second.

Some of the different sports fishing, ice skating, bob sledding, fishing, ice skating, bob sledding, swimming, aquaplaneing, and skiing. If you like outdoor sports, these movies were right down your line. Of course, in West Texas there is not enough snow to skii or go bob-sledding, and no one may own a yacht, but anyone can go swimming or fishing.

The movie on swimming showed some excellent diving, and back hand strokes.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for November 10

PAUL FOUNDS THE CHURCH AT PHILIPPI

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:11-15; Philippians 2:3-11.
MEMORY SELECTION—I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.—Philippians 4:13.

Missionary zeal keeps a Christian in action for God. After a time at the church in Antioch, he was urged to preach the gospel. Paul went out on his second missionary journey. This time his partner was Silas, because he and Barnabas had separated over taking Mark along, since he had turned back in the midst of the first missionary journey. Timothy took his place (Acts 16:1-5).

Our lesson is of unusual import because it tells us how the gospel first came to Europe, from whence it later came to America. Paul's efforts to continue his ministry in Asia were hindered by the Holy Spirit (Acts 16:6, 7). It was then that he was given a heaven-sent vision of a man in Macedonia crying for help. At once the party set out to obey the leading of the Holy Spirit (Acts 16:9, 10).

Paul's Ministry to the Philippians (Acts 16:11-15). Philippi was an important city, a Roman colony and outpost. Apparently the Jews who had come there to live had not felt any strong desire for religious fellowship, for they had built no synagogue. Certain godly women met on the Sabbath by the river-side for prayer. Here was Paul's opportunity and he took it.

The story of the conversion of Lydia has many elements of special interest. It presents the turning point in the progress of the gospel, which by the grace and leading of God brought it northward into Africa or eastward through Asia. Many of us have heard because of the way Paul was led, and one wonders if Europe and America might not otherwise have been the "dark continents" rather than Africa and India. We are what we are by the grace of God. He sent us the gospel through Paul that day at Philippi.

Then we note that the first convert was a woman. She was not the last woman to give an attentive ear and a believing heart to the gospel message. The church through all its history has been blessed by the readiness of women to bear and heed the gospel.

We like to note that Lydia set a pattern of hospitality and service which her sisters in the church have maintained (see v. 15). She "constrained" the visiting preachers to enjoy the comforts of her home, and thus put forward the work of Christ (see III John 5-8).

It is encouraging to observe how perfectly the leading of the Holy Spirit worked out in the experience of Paul and his brethren. The Lord sent his prepared messenger to the place where there was a prepared heart waiting to receive the Word.

We may confidently go on the grounds of our God, knowing that when he leads he goes before and prepares the way. That does not mean that there will be no trials and difficulties. Paul had plenty of them (see II Cor. 11:23-33). But it does mean that we may go with the assurance of blessed results, in his name, and with the grace to bear whatever comes along the way for his glory.

The second Scripture portion of our lesson is not related to the first except that it gives a portion of the letter which Paul, by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, wrote to the church which he had helped to establish at Philippi about 12 years later.

II. Paul's Message to the Philippians (Phil. 2:3-11). Although after Lydia's conversion Paul met opposition and suffered imprisonment (Acts 16:16-40), that was only the beginning of a blessed ministry there.

The church at Philippi though poor and persecuted was loyal and warmhearted. They sent a generous gift to Paul, who was in prison in Rome. He wrote to thank them, and his letter became a real hymn of joy and assurance. It discusses Christian experience, its principle, pattern, purpose and power.

Chapter 2 presents the mind of Christ as the pattern of true Christian living. Nothing is to be done for vain glory (v. 3), but in the spirit of Christ, who willingly gave up his glory with the Father or that he might become our Saviour. It has well been said that if he had not done so, we should have been amazed at his glory, but we should never have been saved.

He who might have "crasped" (v. 6, R. V.) his equality with God, laid it aside that as a man he might die for the salvation of lost mankind (v. 8).

Little wonder that God has given him such a high and exalted position (vv. 9-11). One day every tongue shall confess that he is Lord. Hasten the day!

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Kenneth S. Wuest, Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Christian Athletics

Paul uses the figure of a race to illustrate the life of Christian service. "Striveth for the mastery" (I Cor. 9:25) is for agonizomai, which refers to an athlete contending in the Greek games. "Is temperate" is from enkrateomai, "to be self-controlled, to conduct oneself temperately." Here it refers to the ten months' preparatory training, and the practice in the gymnasium immediately before the games.

The training was largely dietary. Epictetus said: "Thou must be orderly, living on spare food, abstain from confections; make a point to exercise at the appointed time, in heat and in cold; nor drink cold water or wine at a hazard." Horace said: "The youth who would win in the race bath sweat and done much, he hath borne and been cold; he hath abstained from love and from wine." Tertullian, commending the example of athletes to the persecuted Christians, says, "They are constrained, harassed, weary."

If an athlete goes through ten months of rigorous training, training, which involves rigid self-denial, and a life of separation and much hardship, in order that he might compete in a contest that may last a few minutes, to win a chaplet of oak leaves that fades the next day, should not a Christian be willing to subject himself to just as rigid discipline and life of self-denial and separation, in order that he might serve the Lord Jesus in an acceptable manner? If we Christians would exercise as much care and self-denial and rigidly hold to a life of separation as did the Greek athlete, what powerful, successful, God-glorifying lives we would live!

"Keep under" (v. 27) is from hypopuzio, "to give one a black eye." The Greek boxer wore a pair of fur-lined gloves covered with cowhide which were loaded with iron and lead. If we Christians would be as energetic against and unsparring of sin in our lives as the Greek boxer was of his opponent, and would strike with the same devastating force, sin would soon be cleared out and stay out.

"Castaway" (v. 27) is from adokimos, referring to the disqualifying of an athlete because he broke training rules. A Christian sometimes wonders why God sets him aside in his Christian service. The answer is, "Disqualified, broke training rules."

How Success Comes

If you ask some successful person how he made his way in the world, he will not be likely to say that it came by luck or chance, or a pull with an influential person. More likely he will say it came because he worked hard, and gave his persistent attention to his work.

The idea is held by many that success comes by luck, and many people look to such chances as the only possibility for them to win any considerable success. That idea may divert some from the real effort and study which are the way by which most of the successful people obtained their advancement. Lady Luck is a capricious creature, but those who try to perfect themselves in some line of useful service stand a far better chance.

What does it take to run a baby?

Plenty—and plenty of electricity, too. A hungry young citizen needs food—lots of it—often. That food needs preparation—refrigeration—reheating.

Baby needs hot water—lots of it—often. So does his wardrobe. And because Mother worries about germs, she boils practically everything but Baby himself.

Clocks must be dependable when there's a baby in the house. Lights must go on—quick—when he cries out in his sleep. Rooms must be kept warm—the list is endless.

Today's mothers are luckier than those of 20 years ago. With electricity ready at all times—in any quantity—to help with the household chores, mothers have more time to enjoy their youngsters. Never before has electricity done so many tasks for so little cost. Actually, the average family today gets twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago. Your friends and neighbors in this company—and your own increased usage—helped make that possible.

Joe R. Spencer Weds Geraldine Greener at Lubbock

The marriage of Joe R. Spencer of Crowell and Miss Geraldine Greener of Pepp was solemnized in the Rectory at St. Elizabeth's Church in Lubbock on Friday evening, Nov. 1, at nine o'clock when Father Blakesley officiated with the double ring ceremony in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

The couple was attended by Miss Eveline Rezuska as bride's maid and Edward Roark as best man. Miss Rezuska wore a dusty pink dress of silk crepe with brown accessories and her corsage was of white carnations.

The bride was attractively attired in a powder-blue wool dress with light gray accessories and a shoulder corsage of white carnations. She followed the bridal custom of wearing something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue, and also wore a penny in her shoe for luck.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of Mrs. Walter Lupton of Shallowater with the bride's sister and husband as host and hostess. In the beautifully decorated dining room, the pretty wedding cake was served with punch and this was followed by a salad course and coffee served in the living room. Out-of-town guests at the wedding and reception included Mr. and Mrs. Alva Spencer, Mrs. L. A. Andrews, Miss Nora Banister and Miss Janet Roark of Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Diersing of Pepp, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Burt of Littlefield, Jack Carmichael of Pampa, Miss Joan Anderson of Nocona, Miss Druelle Howze of Brownfield and Miss Jean Rhinehart of Iraan.

Mrs. Spencer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Greener of Pepp, near Levelland. She is a graduate from the schools of that place. She is at present a student at Texas Technological College in Lubbock. Mr. Spencer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Spencer, is a graduate of Crowell High School and attended Texas A. & M. at College Station. He entered the service in January, 1941, and went to Iceland in December, 1941, where he remained for two years and five months. He was then sent to the ETO and was a member of the 60th Engineers of the 35th Division. He received a discharge on September 22, 1945.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer will reside in Lubbock in an apartment at the Lubbock Airfield, while both attend college.

"Take all you want, but eat all you take" was a phrase heard by members of the armed forces throughout the war. Follow that advice in your home. More often than not, the food you leave on your plate would feed someone else who is starving.

Tea Given Friday Afternoon for New Crowell Residents

Mrs. L. M. Altaras and Mrs. J. T. Gilmore were honored when Mrs. Moody Bursey and Mrs. Richard Ferguson entertained with a tea on Friday afternoon, Nov. 1, at the Adelpian Club House. One hundred invitations were extended to friends to call between the hours of 2:30 and 5 o'clock.

Guests were received by Mesdames Bursey, Ferguson, Altaras and Gilmore. Assisting in the dining room were Mesdames D. D. Denison, M. S. Henry, C. R. Ferguson, Ora Thurston, T. J. Ferguson, Gerald Knox, Karl ten Brink, Foster Davis, Merl Kincaid, Lewis Sloan and Miss Barbara White. All members of the house party and honorees were presented with white or lavender chrysanthemum corsages.

The tea table was covered with a lace cloth, which was centered with a silver bowl of pink Florida-bunda roses and pink tapers in silver holders. Silver appointments were used throughout in the service of tea and coffee, cookies, sandwiches and candy. Lavender chrysanthemums were used throughout the remainder of the house.

Former Crowell Residents Visit Here Last Week

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McCormick of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. John Cope of Lubbock, both couples former Crowell residents, were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Beverly last week. On Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Beverly entertained with a turkey dinner party for their house guests and several other friends. On Tuesday morning, they were entertained at a delightful breakfast in the home of Mrs. S. S. Bell. Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Henry were hosts at a luncheon for the party on Tuesday, and Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Haney on Thursday.

Other informal compliments were paid to the visitors while they were here. Mr. and Mrs. McCormick left Saturday for Moody where they will visit relatives before returning home. They were guests Sunday afternoon in the reception rooms of WCAP in Ft. Worth when Mrs. McCormick's sister and her husband were honored on their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Cope, following a visit with their daughter and her husband in Wichita Falls, have returned to their home in Lubbock.

Thirty guests enjoyed coffee served in the dining room. The table was laid with an Italian cut work cloth and red radiance roses in a silver bowl.

Crowning of Queen Features Hallowe'en Carnival at Benjamin

The Benjamin High School presented its annual Hallowe'en Carnival on Thursday, October 31, in the school gymnasium. It has been reported to the News.

There were many concessions of interest to the public. Some of these were bingo, seven wonders, country store, grab box and ringing the ducks. A special stand served sandwiches, doughnuts, candy and drinks. At 9 o'clock the most important event of the carnival occurred, the crowning of the Queen, Winnie Sue Turner of Truscott, by Baudeilo Escobar, freshman representative.

Her attendants were: Senior representative, Evelyn Teague, escorted by Bobby Hudson; junior representative, Wanda West, escorted by Joe Bob Parker; sophomore representative, Annette Patterson, escorted by Carrol Fred Glover, and grade school representative, Jane Nunley, escorted by Carrol Crenshaw. After the crowning of the queen, the grade school pupils presented a musical program for the queen and her attendants.

Home economists throughout the nation now recognize bread as an important source of protein food.

TWOS-BY-FOURS . . . Students and professors at Boston university are literally going around in circles trying to identify these four sets of Massachusetts' twins. Left to right: Harold and Bernard Polit, Dorchester; Ann and Alma Baker, Framingham; Grenith and Patricia Good, Hyannis, and Alan and Philip Turner, Attleboro. The four boys are veterans. They are all enrolled at the Back Bay school and, to complicate matters, all dress alike.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

The Adelpian Club met on October 30 at the Club House with Mrs. M. S. Henry and Mrs. W. A. Dunn as co-hostesses.

Preceding the study, Marcia Kincaid rendered two delightful piano numbers, "The Spinning Song" and "Serenade."

The subject "Art" was treated in a very interesting and instructive manner under the leadership of Miss Florence Black. She introduced the study by discussing "Why They Paint as They Do." The meaning of art and the purposes of artists were made vivid by quotations of famous painters, such as: John Sloan—"Art springs from an interest in life but it isn't art if it ends there." Charles Burchfield—"Art is greatest when it most reflects the character of the people." Stuart Davis—"It is the reflection in art of that attitude of mind manifested in scientific materialism by which the world lives today." Max Miller—"Science probes to the mind and art reveals the heart."

Mrs. Richard Ferguson gave instructive thoughts entitled "American Art Today and Tomorrow." True American Art did not come into its own until World War I. Grant Wood, perhaps the greatest artist, died in 1942, leaving John Curry and Thomas Benton as outstanding leaders in their field. To George Biddie, who headed the Federal Arts Project, is given credit for developing artists who otherwise would never have gained fame. Of note is Peter Hurd of New Mexico, who went to the battlefield with his "Life Commission" and made pictures of the fighting men of World War II. Many Texans delight in the stark realism of Texas scenes painted by Alexander Hogue.

Of outstanding ability are four women painters: Georgia O'Keefe whose lack of detail balances the great use of detail by Doris Lee, Burt Rosenthal who paints primitive Mexican scenes and Logan Ford who uses religious subjects.

Art today is brought into the reach of every American for great corporations use outstanding paintings in their magazine advertisements.

The Adelpian Club has recently sponsored an art contest in the public schools under the direction of Mrs. Richard Ferguson. She brought before the club a number of the best paintings, all of which were originals. Some were done in crayolas, some were ink sketches, some were pencil drawings but each presented its own individual imaginative characteristics. A two-dollar prize was awarded to each of the winners. The primary winner was Kerry Brown; Intermediate, Betty Barker, and High School, Jimmie Swan.

Mrs. J. T. Gilmore and Mrs. Garland Rasberry were welcomed as new members. An out-of-state visitor was Mrs. W. B. McCormick of Los Angeles, Calif. She was a charter member of the club, organized in 1911. Mrs. M. S. Henry and Mrs. C. P. Sandifer, also charter members, were present. Other guests were Mrs. John Cope of Lubbock, also a former Adelpian. Mrs. T. M. Beverly and Mrs. W. D. Howell of McKinney, Mrs. J. R. Beverly and Misses Sharon Haney and Marcia Kincaid.

The hostesses invited the guests to the dining room for a lovely refreshment plate. The lace-draped table was centered with a beautiful autumn arrangement and green candles burned in a silver candelabra. Mrs. Merl Kincaid poured coffee and Marcia Kincaid played soft music.

The club will meet on November 13, at the Club House with the husbands as guests for Gentlemen's evening.

B. & P. W. CLUB

On Hallowe'en evening the Business and Professional Women's Club assembled at the home of Mrs. Belle McKown for a dinner meeting. Ila Borchardt, Jean Reeder and Sally Archer were hostesses for the evening. While the guests enjoyed the delicious chicken dinner, Mrs. Borchardt conducted the telling of fortunes. Later the members were divided into three groups and sent on a Treasure Hunt, which provided much merriment. When the articles had all been collected, they were taken to the Alva Spencer home and the party continued from there.

At the close of the evening, Marjorie Ownbey was complimented with a shower of personal gifts.

Twelve members of the club enjoyed this meeting.

FOARD CITY W. S. C. S.

Week of Prayer and Self Denial was observed by the Foard City Woman's Society of Christian Service on Monday, Oct. 28, in an all-day meeting which was held at the church. Mrs. Howard Ferguson was leader for the day and Mrs. J. W. Hawkins acted as pianist.

A group prayer was read and Mrs. Jay Barker brought the opening meditation, giving the aims of the service and the spirit necessary for full participation. Mrs. Grady Halbert then led the second meditation "God's Love to Man." She brought out the fact that in the first writings, God's love was distinguished from other loves by a word, "Agape," used solely to describe that divine love. According to the Jews, God loved only those who loved him; but when Jesus came and supped with sinners, he proved that God loved sinners. He practiced his lesson, "I came not to call the righteous, but sinners."

"Christian Love from Man to God" was the subject delivered by Mrs. Kenneth Halbert, who gave the Greek word "eros" as being used in this connection. Eros is essentially a love which is self-seeking, based upon man's awareness of his own lack and need. Mrs. Marlow discussed "Christian Love from Man to Man," showing that love for one's neighbor ceases to be Christian love if it is divorced from its Christian foundation. "Self-love" was the topic given by Mrs. Blake McDaniel. "The love of thyself more hurteth thee than any other thing in this world." She sought to prove that love which is truly Christian can never be self-seeking. Following the lunch hour Mrs. McDaniel brought a brief devotional based on John 14:1-8, "So live that you feel Jesus is preparing a room for you," she said.

Mrs. W. L. Johnson discussed transition in India and the opportunity the church has today in the development of India. She stated, "At a time of turmoil and confusion, the church and the Christian people can not keep aloof. It is our rare privilege to help set things right." Mrs. Virgil Johnson brought out the need of education for both children and adults, as well as the imperative need for teacher-training institutes. The need of action on the part of the church to accept the increased responsibilities devolving upon it was urged by Mrs. Glen Shook.

One of the highlights of the day's session was the talk made by Mrs. D. D. Denison concerning youth work as well as W. S. C. S. duties. She discussed the question of year-books and advocated a checking of church rolls for possible new members. "Talk about your W. S. C. S. if you would interest others," she stressed.

Thanks to the Garden

The garden season of the year is practically over. A tray of useful vegetables is gathered in. The gardeners are happy to think of the credit they have made to the food supply. They deserve credit for their effort, for laborers they have earned hot suns, and for battles with weeds and insects.

Thanks are also due to the raisers, who have raised and beautified their gardens with their brilliant blossoms and colorful splashes of color. The sight of the radiant blooms has a note of cheer to town and neighborhood life.

The town well adorned flowers charms people with fascinating pictures, and feel that the homes are attractive and delightful.
