Quanah Indians Defeat Crowell Wildcats, 24 to 0

The Quanah Indians defeated the Crowell High School football team 24 to 0 here last Friday night. The class AA team showed their superiority throughout most of the game. However, the game Wildcats came back strong after the half period to hold the Indians scoreless in the third quarter and well up into the fourth period. This was Crowell's last practice game before going into conference play with the Holliday Eagles here this Friday night. The Wildcats defeated Floydada, a class A team, 25 to 12 last week. Quanah cashed in on two Crowell fumbles early in the game to score their first two touchdowns. Crowell received the opening kickoff and was held for downs. J. L. Brock kicked down to the middle of the field. The Indians drove down to the twenty yard line where they fumbled to give the Wildcats possession of the ball. Crowell was forced to punt on the fourth down and the slippery ball was dropped by Brock and blocked before he could get a kick off. Johnson, fullback for Quanah, carried over Quanah's first touchdown after six running plays. All of Quanah's extra points were no good. On the next kickoff, Brock again fumbled to give Quanah the ball deep in Crowell's territory. Johnson scored again after several running plays behind good blocking in Quanah's line. The first half ended 12 to 0.

The second quarter gave Quanah another touchdown after Chessir, fleet halfback for the Indians, turned in a nice forty yard run to set the score up. Gilliam, quarterback for Quanah, made the touchdown on a six-yard running play. Crowell scored one of their three first downs of the game in this quarter when Kendrick Joy passed to J. L. Brock straight down the field for twelve yards.

The third quarter found the Wildcats fighting for every inch of the ground and holding the Indians scoreless. Thomas Tاملpen, Larry Wood and Don Wilkins probably received the most tackles in this quarter but the whole team looked good.

The fourth quarter produced another touchdown for Quanah when Watkins, halfback for the Indians, ran over a score from the five yard line. Chessir was the Quanah back that made several sensational runs to set this touchdown up. The final score was 24 to 0. The first downs were 12 to 3 in Quanah's favor. Crowell was playing without the service of John Frank Mitchell, fullback, who was in the Quanah hospital with a side injury received last week. He will probably be out of the lineup for a month or so. Kendrick Joy played the last half of the game Friday night with a bone fracture in the right hand. Blocking in Quanah's line and fast running on the part of their backs were the principal factors for the class AA team winning the game.

Southwest Coaches Will Add Two New Buses October 1

The Southwest Coaches will augment their bus service between Quanah and Abilene on Oct. 1 by adding two new buses to the line. This will increase the service to two buses both north and south each day.

Buses going south will reach Crowell at 8:10 o'clock in the morning and at 1:35 o'clock in the afternoon. Buses going north are scheduled to reach Crowell at 9:55 in the morning and at 5:15 in the afternoon.

Foard County Federation Will Meet Friday

On account of torrential rain over the county, the Foard County Federation meeting which was scheduled for Friday, Sept. 20, was postponed until Friday, Oct. 4, and will be held on that date at the Adelphian Club House, beginning at 10:30 in the morning.

Interesting library news will be given and a good program will be rendered and the president expresses the desire that all the women of the county who can possibly do so, attend the meeting with a covered dish. There are only four meetings of the County Federation during the year and these are excellent opportunities for the county club members to have contact.

A box car shortage so acute that it will retard reconversion and hamper shipments of food and grain is predicted by October. Due to material shortage there is no hope that anything can be done about it within the next year or two.

Long-Time Residents Here Sell Home and Move to Fort Worth

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Gorrell, residents of Crowell for almost forty years, sold their home in Crowell last week to Dr. J. T. Gilmore and left Saturday afternoon for Fort Worth where they expect to make their future home. All of Mr. and Mrs. Gorrell's children, except J. T. Gorrell, who lives at Olney, are now living in Fort Worth.

Dr. Gilmore will move his family to Crowell this week. Sugar refinery operators say that it will be at least a year before there is any appreciable increase in the amount of sugar available.

First Conference Football Game to Be Played Here Tomorrow Night with the Local Squad Playing Holliday Eagles

The Crowell Wildcats will play their first conference game of the season here tomorrow night when they take on the Holliday Eagles. Very little is known of the strength of the Holliday team as it has not played a regular game this season. However, the Eagles looked fairly good in their two practice scrimmages with the Newcastle team and the Graham "B" squad. The Wildcats broke even in their two practice games, winning from Floydada and losing to Quanah, class AA team. Holliday roundly outplayed Crowell last season when the Wildcats came out on top of a 7 to 6 score. In fact, the Eagles doubled the Crowell boys in both first downs and yardage gained. Kendrick Joy was the only Wildcat seriously hurt in the Quanah game. He received a fracture of a small bone in the right hand. However, he might be able to participate in part of the game. John Frank Mitchell, regular fullback, will definitely be out of the lineup in this game. R. L. Ballard or Dalton Biggerstaff will be used in Joy's position when he is out, and Ray Black will take Mitchell's place at the fullback post. The Crowell team should be favored to win this game, even though it is crippled up.

Enlistment at Higher Rank Than Private Is New Regulation

Former men of the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard may enlist in the Army and receive a grade higher than private. It was announced this week by Sgt. James Hendrick, of the Childress Recruiting Station.

Newly revised enlisting regulations are not limited to former AUS men, but former members of the other services who were honorably discharged on or after 12 May 1945, who served a minimum of six months in one of the desired specialties, and who enlist in the Army for three years will be enlisted in grades or rates appropriate to their former training and experience.

According to Sgt. Hendrick, the Army urgently needs men who are qualified in the various specialties and every effort will be made to obtain enlistment of former members of other services in as high a grade as authorized.

Location of the Childress Recruiting Station is the third floor of the court house and is open except Saturday when it closes from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. daily at noon.

Pyorrhea Can Be Cured by Proper Treatment Early

Austin.—Contrary to the popular belief that pyorrhea is incurable, this is only true in the most advanced cases. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises those persons who even suspect the presence of pyorrhea to take time by the forelock and seek an early diagnosis from their dentist so that proper treatment can be instituted while the disease is still curable.

"Early detection and proper treatment of pyorrhea represent the formula for a successful cure. This means that the dentist must have an opportunity to discover the presence of the disease at the earliest possible moment since the symptoms are often so vague that the patient is unaware of its existence," Dr. Cox said. "Regular visits to the family dentist are therefore extremely important."

The treatment of pyorrhea is not an involved procedure. In the average early case one of the main therapeutic features is the proper hygienic care of teeth and gums as outlined by any reputable dentist. Carelessness regarding mouth hygiene is usually the basic cause for the condition.

The family dentist can usually remove the cause of the trouble, Dr. Cox said, and when this has been done, intelligent routine home-care of the mouth by the patient will effect a cure in the majority of early cases.

Concern regarding pyorrhea should not be based upon the misguided notion of its incurability, according to the State Health Officer, but rather that it be discovered by the dentist when still in a curable stage.

AGRICULTURE in County

(Joe E. Burkett, County Agent) HUBAM CLOVER

At least one Milan County farmer is sold on the idea that Hubam clover is the best cash and soil building crop that can be grown in the blackland areas of Texas. He is Carl Black of Cameron, and he's also sheriff of Milan County. In the Jones Prairie community, Black owns what is reported to be "an old, eroded farm." On a 50-acre field that had not been cultivated for two years, he seeded Hubam clover last October at the rate of 20 pounds an acre. What he really had in mind was strictly a grazing program, and during most of the year, 83 sheep and goats and 15 head of horses and mules grazed the cloverland. In addition, 20 head of cattle and 50 hogs grazed the field at frequent periods. Although most of the clover was naturally kept down by this continual grazing, in the spring about ten acres of the crop "grew so rapidly that it made seed." It did make seed—7,700 pounds of it—an average of over 700 pounds an acre, a yield that was made on the "very poorest type of eroded land—land that would not bring $20 per acre on the market."

be provided with a close fitting top, in which about 15 holes, each about 1/4 inch in diameter, are punched outward through the lid. The success of the treatment depends upon the thoroughness with which the powder is worked through the hair and into the grub holes. This is best done by a rotary motion with the finger tips, and not with a straight movement of the flat hand or a brush which tends to brush the powder away and not down through the hair. The first application should be made before the grubs begin to drop, and treatments should be repeated at intervals of 30 days. Usually three treatments are necessary. The following mixtures have been found more effective than any other dust mixtures in the treatment of grubs: One part of 5 per cent rotenone mixed with 2 parts of double-grounds creamed tripoli earth. Or one part of 5 per cent rotenone mixed with volcanic ash (micronized) also known as Friantite M3X. There are also sprays and dips that can be used to control grubs very satisfactorily. Anyone interested in knowing the formula for making these sprays and dips contact the county agent.

and do their best to keep up with their classes. They should not encourage their children to absent themselves from school sessions, unless there is real reason for such absence. It is a good idea for them to consult frequently with the teachers, and get an idea as to what the homes can do to help the children do well in school.

TREATMENT FOR CATTLE GRUBS

Treatments of cattle for the control of grubs during the last season showed that rotenone bearing powders, such as derris or cube, are more effective when mixed with finely ground tripoli, volcanic ash, or pyrophyllite than when mixed with sulphur or talc, because the former materials penetrate the hair better, and more animals can be treated with the same amount of rotenone than when sulphur or talc is used as the diluent. They are also less irritating to the respiratory system than dust containing sulphur. When the material is applied with a shaker can, at least 3 ounces of dust mixture is required to cover the back of an animal thoroughly. The can or jar should

Interest in the Schools

The people should take a deep interest in the welfare and success of their home town schools. They should back up their schools by liberal appropriations, and by personal interest. They should support whatever measures are necessary to enable the schools to send the young people out in the world with a good education. Parents should co-operate with the schools in every way possible. They should urge their children to study their lessons faithfully.

We are being repeatedly promised that there will be no increase in the amount of the income tax levy. We are skeptical of this as we are of so many other such promises. We are predicting that unless the government can find a way to balance the budget in these times of big incomes it is going to find itself suddenly faced with the possibility of reduced individual incomes and a continuing need on the part of the government for larger tax receipts. When "his time comes" the budget will have to be sharply reduced or income tax rates increased. It would appear that the best time to make this adjustment is now. Why wait until we are forced to? Why not anticipate the inevitable and prepare for it now?

During 1945 motor vehicle deaths in the United States totaled 28,600. This record will no doubt sharply increase when new cars become available.

HISTORY

Yorktown Day — October 19: While little more than passing interest is taken in the event the anniversary of the surrender of Yorktown on October 19, 1781 is regarded as one of the most important and notable events in the history of our nation. The event is important, not from the number of men involved, but because of the effect it had at the time. It is credited with having been the deciding event in the Revolutionary War. For a number of years the anniversary of the event was celebrated with considerable ceremony in many of the larger centers of the country. Today it receives scarcely passing notice. So important did Congress deem the defeat of Cornwallis that ten days after the surrender it appropriated $100,000 for a monument at Yorktown. Incidentally $100,000 was a sizeable sum of money to be appropriated for that purpose in that day. Since Congress made no provision for raising the money the resolution was forgotten. The Federal government later bought 2,000 acres of land in and around Yorktown and put the land under the supervision of the National Park service. The tract is known as the Colonial National Monument. The surrender of Cornwallis came following a series of victories by the British in the South. Cornwallis had been ordered to fortify Old Point Comfort for the protection of the British fleet. He set up his fortifications at Yorktown on the peninsula between the York and James rivers and fortified both banks of the York river. Lafayette reported that owing to the choice of defense by Cornwallis that the taking of his army was but a matter of time. The attack was made on the British position October 2, and the battle proceeded until October 17, when Cornwallis asked for a suspension of hostilities. The surrender was completed October 19.

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

A domestic policy of this government of which I heartily approve is the disposition of the government to work to the limit of its ability and endurance on the matter of world peace, and at the same time to continue its efforts toward the production and development of the atomic bomb, the development of better airplanes, and the building up of a stock pile of critical materials in this country.

I do not subscribe in any degree to the theory that being well prepared and strong in the things that make for offense and defense either invites war or creates a sentiment for it. I believe that it does just the opposite. It tends toward world peace. I believe it tends toward world peace by making the hostile elements a little more amenable to reason. It is going to cause them to pay a little more attention to the things we propose and the things we stand for.

This might not be true in the case of all nations. It was not true in the case of Germany. With the United States, however, the situation is different. It is different for the reason that we have no territorial ambitions. We have no desire to become a world power by force or to make ourselves commercially independent of all other nations. We are willing to go on our way, remain on our side of the fence and to sell to other nations the things they need that we produce and to buy from them the things they produce that we need.

We are, however, interested in world peace to a greater degree than most any other major power. We have come to the conclusion in this country, I believe, that if world peace is to be maintained we are going to be the ones who will have to maintain it. We may do this by actual participation in a war that may break out or place ourselves in such a position that when we express a desire on any course of action taken by any nation that may affect world peace our voice carries with it the note and tone of authority. We cannot care to take the note and tone of authority by allowing our army and air force and navy to deteriorate and our defense backlog to dwindle away. We must keep ourselves strong in the manner in which other nations understand strength.

I think if world peace is going to be maintained there is going to have to be some sponsoring nation interested in maintaining world peace strong enough to make its desires and wishes heard and felt. The United States is the logical nation for this purpose. We are asking no concessions or territory. We fear the encroachment of no nation. We are strong enough to defend the right against any and all comers. This fact makes us even stronger. If we are strong we will rally behind us other nations whose desire is peace but who of themselves are not strong enough to impose their wishes upon a strong foe. Our policy of self sufficiency, of freedom from desire for more territory or colonial gains, is well known throughout the world. This fact places us in a strategic position to be the peace monitor of the world.

In addition to building up our stock pile of critical materials and keeping strong and up to date our army and navy and air force, I believe we should take as early steps as possible to improve our financial and balancing our budget. This is one internal defense upon which there need be no difference of opinion. It is desirable, come peace, or war.

Insurance companies are asking the question of property owners: Are you sure you are insured sufficiently? It is a good question and one that it is wise to check up upon. Building costs have risen very considerably within the last twenty years. Materials cost much more—in some instances twice as much, if it can be secured at all and labor is twice what it once was. The average house could not be replaced for twice what the owner paid for it. In many instances the insurance being carried would not pay even a partial loss.

The difficulty with Russia and the Dardanelles is that Russia is not satisfied with the agreement to permit her in the future the free use of the Dardanelles straits. She is insisting that she be permitted to fortify the straits. The moment this is done the Dardanelles are no longer free. They will be under the control of Russia and may be used by other nations when and if Russia might permit. In this point the other nations should stand firm. It is definitely not in the interest of world peace that the Dardanelles be flanked by Russian forts.

There is still a critical need for waste fats. Besides the many other uses to which waste fats are used there is soap. Soap seems to be getting more and more difficult to obtain, hence the need for saving waste fats is more urgent. If every housewife would join in the campaign to save waste fats it would aid materially the critical soap situation.

Oil is said to smooth troubled waters, but it is the oil in the middle east, we are told, that is the cause of most of the present trouble in that area.

Entering College
Many young men who had hoped to enter colleges and universities this fall, will not be able to do so, because of the crowded conditions in the institutions they had hoped to enter, and the many discharged servicemen who are seeking the higher education.

Those who cannot now obtain this entrance which they desired, need not give up their hopes for the higher education. Perhaps in a year or two more opportunities may open. Or in many cases scholastic standing and improved scholastic standing, and improve their chances of entering such an institution.

The higher institutions of learning provide wonderful opportunities for youth, and they bring young people under the leadership of inspiring teachers. It is a grand chance for those who really love to study and are keenly interested in acquiring a good share of the world's wisdom and science.

It is quite a change for young people to leave their own home and the home town school where they studied, and go among strangers in some college more or less distant from their own home. The principles and ideas of the home and home school still follow them, and they are influenced and inspired by them.

Some young people may feel a bit homesick as they thus go away for the first time. Youth is full of courage and hope, and it meets the world with head up and confidence in its own future. Those who have been able to secure the admission to schools of college grade, are almost always excellent students, and will be able to meet the new demands that will be made on them.

So the young people who go out from the homes go with the ardent hopes of their families, and with a hearty "Good-by" from their friends and townspeople. They will do well, and gain in wisdom and power and ability to meet the world.

The Ideal Home Town

A place like Crowell can be considered an ideal community in which to live. It is large enough so that there is active community life, a progressive spirit, a willingness to co-operate for the good of the community. It is big enough so that there is plenty of interesting life and activity, and pleasant ways to pass the time. And it is not so large that the neighborhood spirit has died out, and so that people do not know their neighbors.

This sort of town is ideal for friendship. People form close ties with those who live near them, and with those with whom they are associated in community work. It is the sort of town which people are reluctant to leave.

The country spent around 300 million dollars on Yugoslavia as a gift in agricultural implements and food. It seems, according to Herbert Hoover, a pretty poor return that they shoot down our air men. If Yugoslavia was half smart she would welcome our air men flying over her country and even landing in it. Yugoslavia has nothing that we will ever want except peace and good will.

The country generally will be well satisfied with the life sentence imposed upon young Heirens, the Chicago killer, if the condition of no parole is adhered to. It would be an indefensible crime against society if Heirens should ever be paroled or even given his liberty.

SET YOUR SIGHTS

It takes planning to achieve a goal

Some young men know what they want and plan for it. Others are still looking for their niche. The new Regular Army can help both.

Perhaps you want to go to college but can't afford it. If you enlist in the Army, you'll get your chance. Honorably discharged after a three-year enlistment, you are eligible for 48 months of education at any college, trade, or business school for which you can qualify. The Government will pay your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, plus $65 a month living allowance—$90 a month if you have dependents.

If you haven't found your spot, an Army enlistment offers you training in any of 209 trades and skills. You leave the service eligible for further training at the best civilian schools.

You can assure yourself of the benefits of the G.I. Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

HIGHLIGHTS OF REGULAR ARMY ENLISTMENT

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.)
2. Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in Army, who may enlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
3. A reenlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge.
4. A furlough for men who reenlist within 20 days. Full details of other furlough privileges can be obtained from Recruiting Officers.
5. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to enlist or reenlist.
6. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
7. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater (of those still open) on 3-year enlistments.

Melvin M. Calvin, field certifying officer, and Howard C. Knight, veteran interviewing officer, will be at Room 407, Radio building, corner of 9th and Indiana Streets on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 24, 25 and 26 for the purpose of aiding veterans in obtaining the necessary certification for desired purchases of surplus war property. They will be available to veterans from 9 to 12 and 1 to 5 all three days and will have the latest information concerning the availability of "set aside" items now available for veterans purchases exclusively.

All necessary steps toward obtaining required certification can be completed upon presentation of an honorable discharge to the two WAA field representatives during their three day visit to Wichita Falls.

The sale of surplus used motor vehicles at Sheppard Field Thursday, Sept. 26, offers veterans of this area a convenient opportunity to acquire one of the 89 vehicles being offered by WAA.

Dear Editor:
 I have never written a letter to your paper before, but when I saw the loyalty and sportsmanship in the game Friday night, I could not help complimenting the team and pep squad that this paper represents.

Our boys were trying until the last whistle sounded. They were tired and had put all they had in trying to stop Quannah's hard-hitting team. They used every ounce of vim.

What impressed me was that the boys did not stop trying when the chips were down. They did their "dead level best" to stave off other touchdowns after the first one. Some they succeeded, a few they did not, but the number of touchdowns that did go through could have been doubled and even tripled if our boys had quit trying.

In addition to our boy's playing so hard, it was very gratifying to hear our pep squad doing their bit. They were trying their hardest. No one could doubt that.

Our school spirit is higher this year than in previous years. Above all our football boys' fighting spirit is worthy of high praise. Come on, students and faculty, come to the game next Friday night and support our boys. This will be their first conference game.

—A Student.

"SWEET TALK" ABOUT COURTIN'

Now your mama done told you many times about his old courtin' business. Boys and girls have been making love an active verb as well as a noun since the first —but it should be a private affair. A little fond affection just between the two of you is delightful—but when you let the whole campus in on it, somehow it is disgusting.

Any public demonstration is in poor taste, not only reflects upon the individuals but on the school. Visitors and passers by misunderstand, and carry away a harmful, ugly impression. Many students are becoming perturbed about some of the very frank sessions in the most obvious campus spots. So, for the sake of the school's reputation, if you are concerned about your own, kindly cuddle in a corner—some nice private little corner! —From The Skiff.

CROWELL POINTS WITH PRIDE

Dark Haired Senior with a flashing eye for a certain guy is Sharon Haneey.

A charming deb of CHS is Sharon Haneey who has been an inhabitant of Crowell for 14 years. She has crashed the Theosophical Club and The Junior Adolphian Club, is president of the Senior Class, co-editor of the "Wildcat" and one of our cheer leaders.

Sharon has been in the Dramatic Society since the first year of school (better known as prison). When this charming "pride and joy" fades from our midst, she plans to bring "cheer" to T. C. U. She confidentially stated to the press that she likes dill pickles and Bob (Ah-Ha) Wills. She dislikes people who "fiddle" with rear view mirrors.

Her favorite actress is Jeanne Craine, and her heart throbs after is Jack Beutel of "The Outlaw." Her favorite songs happen to be "The Gypsy," "Stardust," and "Cincinnati Lou." "Shaney," as she is known to her friends, is really an asset to CHS.

PERSONAL TO JOHNNY

"Aw get up Johnny Frank, just an injury in football practice can't keep you down."
 No joking, Johnny, we're all pulling for you, and hope that you will soon be back in your accustomed place at CHS.

HOMEMAKING NOTES

The Home Ec. II girls have really been working the last three weeks. They have been planning their ideal kitchens. These plans represent the kitchens they would like to have in the future.

No two girls have planned alike. They are all very original because they all differ in taste and ideas. Convenience has been agreed on as being the most important thing in a kitchen, and the fact that a kitchen is a workshop where the housewife spends most of her day, therefore it must be pleasing to the person working in it. Their dreams are to make their ideals a reality in the future.

Home Ec. I girls are getting along fine with their sewing. They will soon be seen in clothes they made themselves. Everyone is looking forward to the style show they will have soon.

Our third class is studying the art of getting along with the people they live with. Sounds interesting!

ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS

Have you heard about our new assembly programs? There will be six programs in all, especially prepared for high schools.

Robert T. Edgar, authority on astronomy, gave the first lecture, "The Cyclops of Palomar" in the High School auditorium, Wednesday, September 25, at 9 p. m. Born in Scotland, educated in Australia, and now an American citizen, Mr. Edgar brought first-hand information on the various equipment used in astronomy. His talk was non-technical and interesting.

Also each home room will have one assembly program during the year. Watch for future outside programs and home room assemblies.

CHS'ITES TRAVERSE TO POINTS OF INTEREST

Presley and H. A., practiced high diving from a six-wheeled truck.

Jenny Bell, the "Rodeo Queen" of CHS, took in rodeos at Quanah, Altus, Vernon, Stamford, Seymour, Levelland and Paducah. Mrs. Sloan took in Denver, Colo., on the hottest day in 20 years.

"Booty" and "Shaney" worked in a skating rink and supported the stables, bowling alleys, etc., in Ruidoso, N. M.

Janet saw ships, sailors and sharks in Corpus Christi.

C. D. went to Long Beach, Calif., and on to Boulder Dam, where he spent the day dipping water.

Billy Roy saw thrilling Texas sights and worked on the "Model T."

Carol Cato visited New Mexico and saw pretty girls.

Mary Norman visited Raton, N. M., and had a "bunch" of fun.

Mary Jo Short and Marlene Mason tried to keep an account on all surrounding territory.

Edna Lee Dunn fell in Carlsbad Cavern.

Rouse Todd, with his "buddy buddy" Booker, Red Hill, rode the plains of Kansas in a truck.

Connie Wood saw the sights of Old Mexico and from there went to New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado.

M. W. worked at Throckmorton and rested by taking a trip to Albuquerque.

Joe Whitten stayed at home in the old swimming hole.

Marvin Briscoe burned up in the Salt Lake desert and froze at Boulder Dam.

Jo Ann Meason, nothing! Braggy V. Bond spent most of his time in Quanah.

Mrs. Kenner slid down Seven Falls at Colorado Springs.

WILDCATS DEFEATED BY QUANAH, 24-0

The CHS Wildcats were defeated 24-0 Friday night in a non-conference game with the Quanah Indians.

Quanah, a 2-A team, outclassed the Wildcats in practically all departments but found that the CHS boys were no "pushover."

The Wildcats fought all the way but were only in scoring position twice during the game.

Chessir and Watkins sparked the Quanah boys victory but met plenty of opposition in trying to run through the Wildcats' line.

The following boys saw action in this game: Thomas, Patton, Wood, Schlagal, Bond, Tampfen, Wilkins, Lacquey, Ballard, Black, Brock, Joy and Campbell.

The Wildcats play the Holiday Eagles Friday night, September 30, 1946, in the Wildcat stadium. This will be the first conference game of the year for the Wildcats.

Over Million and Half Visitors to Attend State Fair

Plans for handling an expected record crowd of over a million and a half visitors to the State Fair of Texas, held at Dallas October 5-20, were announced Saturday by Police Inspector O. P. Wright, Fair Park Chief of Police.

Biggest problems will be traffic and lost children, predicted Inspector Wright. Fair Association members in the Hall of Foods and police officers will assist parents in locating lost children.

Farmers Know What a Profit Is For

AS his own boss, the farmer has long since found out that a profit is not just an extra sum. above the bare cost of doing business, which can be used as you please. It is the main source of funds necessary to pay for a new silo, buy better machinery, and improve the house and the barn.

In spite of the great rise in income, farm profits are no more than necessary to keep the farm plant producing efficiently. It's the same with the iron and steel industry which makes the materials for the farmer's tools.

In 1945 steel companies had left, after meeting all expenses but before paying dividends, only a little more than one-tenth of one cent on each pound of steel sold. The profit on each dollar invested was less than five cents. Year by year since 1941, when the war started, earnings have been declining.

Although last year's output of steel was 19 per cent greater than in 1940, the last prewar year, pay rolls were nearly double but dividends were lower.

There are many misunderstandings and misrepresentations about profits. Some people forget that reasonable profits are a necessary incentive of the American system, which results in abundant low-cost farm products and abundant low-cost steel products.

It is up to those who know what profits are for, and what they can do, to see that they are not destroyed—and with them our high standard of living.

Steel mills need all the scrap iron and steel they can get. The shortage is serious. Farmers can get extra dollars and help increase steel output by sending worn-out machinery, etc., on its way to the furnaces. AMERICAN IRON AND STEEL INSTITUTE, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y.

JESUS AND THE LAW OF LOVE

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 119:33-36; Matthew 5:43-44.

MEMORY SELECTION—Love worketh no ill to his neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.—Romans 13:10

Love fulfilled the law—in Christ. God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son (John 3:16). The law of love is therefore appropriate as the subject of our closing lesson on the general theme, "Jesus Interprets Old Testament Laws."

Love is the heavenly gift of God, who is love, to man who so much needs its grace and power for his own life and for his living with others.

Love is the heavenly gift of God, who is love, to man who so much needs its grace and power for his own life and for his living with others.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hartwell)

Need A Design for Living: A few years back there was a woman's club in my town which was on the point of disbanding because of growing lack of interest. Starting out with a good membership it moved along for a while with good interest and good attendance. In time the attendance began to drop off and interest to die out. All efforts to get out a good attendance failed and club members gave serious consideration to the matter of disbanding. One day a new comer in the community who attended a meeting of the dying club caused some consternation by the announcement that the club was dying and deserved to die for the reason that it had no program—no design for living. What you need, this courageous visitor said, is a challenging, absorbing, interest compelling program based on some community need. The advice of the discerning visitor was accepted and the club leaders proceeded to adopt a program based on one of the community needs. Interest at once picked up and the club flourished—because it had "a design for living." There are in every community individuals who need the same stimulant. Their lives are too purposeless, too colorless to inspire their own interest or challenge their efforts and resources. Their happiness and awareness of life would be actively awakened if they had but "a design for living," a goal toward which they might work.

The largest check ever drawn upon the Chase National Bank, the largest bank in the United States, $225 million, was made out by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for the purchase of U. S. Treasury bonds.

Cigarette machines in the United States dispense about 750 million packs of cigarettes a year.

Charles Darwin showed that 5,000 earthworms on an acre of ground could cover the surface with three inches of soil in fifteen years.

A nautical mile contains 6,080 feet.

Eight times in this psalm there is found the cry of verse 33 for instruction in the laws of God. Man not only must know them, but he must know how they operate. The picture here is that of a man who wants to get in step with God, marching out to spiritual warfare and being prepared to respond in prompt obedience to the commands of his divine leader.

Here we have the true mind of love. The only rightly instructed in the principles of God's rule in the world sees that love is the basic requirement, but that it expresses itself in a life that is in accord with the will of God.

The thought of this passage is well expressed by Dr. W. R. White: "The psalmist had the highest possible conception of love before the revelation in Christ. He saw it as the basic order of things. He conceived it as identical with the will of God. He viewed it as the safe, happy path for man. He considered it as the way of wisdom. He passionately desired to embrace it and order his life by it. He saw it imparting to the naive and simple the benefits of extraordinary judgment. To measure up he knew that he had to be quickened or made alive to it by the power of God."

Love operates not from necessity, but because of an inner urge which will not be denied. The psalmist prays that his heart may be so inclined toward the Lord and so quickened within that he may be eager to do the will of God.

Love has a technique, if you will, a manner of operation. It avoids certain things which would hinder or prevent its full function and seeks out those attitudes and experiences which will encourage and enlarge.

Covetousness must be avoided, for that is idolatry (Col. 3:5). We noted in our lesson of two weeks ago that covetousness makes a man stingy, envious, selfish, proud and foolish. That means that love must rule out this destructive element. Love cannot live in such an atmosphere.

Love turns away from vanity. The vain things of this world are usually presented in such attractive dress that to look at them is to be tempted. The answer is to turn your eyes away, or better still, ask God to give you special grace not only to turn away, but to stay turned away. The vain passions of this world destroy real love, even while using the word to describe their base counterfeit.

Only difference between an automobile speedometer and an electric meter is the unit of the measuring scale—miles or kilowatts.

Suppose you leave on an extended vacation this year. Naturally you put down your speedometer reading and when you return, by subtracting original reading from present, you have total distance traveled. Wouldn't be much fun to make extensive car trip and not know how far you had been.

Same way with electric speedometer—as above reading shows, Reddy has traveled 5,876 kilowatts, and if at the end of next month, meter reads 5,996, Reddy will have traveled 120 kilowatts. Simple, isn't it?

It's fun to keep record of Reddy's monthly trips, and realize that regardless of how constant and how fast he has traveled, and his great distance covered, his cost is amazingly small.

Bosses' Night is Observed by B&PW Club Thursday P. M.

The entertainment of their bosses, an annual affair of the club's social calendar, was observed by the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday evening with Mrs. A. L. Rucker and Mrs. Moody Bursey hostesses at the Club Hut.

draws, and was ready for serving at the appointed time. An informal air lent pleasure and enjoyment to the party.

Following the delicious meal, Mrs. Bursey presented the program, which was opened by Mrs. Joe Burkett, president of the club, who extended welcome to the visitors in a hearty manner. Each member introduced her "boss" with a jingle of her own composition, all of which provoked laughter.

Miss Mayme Lee Collins talked on the aims and purposes of the B&PW Club and told of the accomplishments of the local organization. The club has sponsored many worthwhile projects and has accomplished many good things during the years of its operation and is optimistically looking forward toward many more endeavors in the future. A song was led by Miss Cora Carter.

Judge Leslie Thomas, the featured speaker of the evening, entertained his hearers with a mirth-provoking address which he chose to call, "Repartee." In language which seemed to flow, he dwelt on the art of conversation, which, by some people, has been called lost, but which, he stated, has only been stolen by those who were able to converse, for there are many people who are unable to do so. The address was genuinely enjoyed by the mem-

Mrs. Richard Ferguson celebrated the sixth birthday of her daughter, Betsy, on Tuesday afternoon with a party for friends of Betsy at the Ferguson home. Games were enjoyed and refreshments served to the following guests: Betty McKown, Jana Black, Nelda Brooks, Charlie Bell, Patricia Prosser, Barbara Jane Goodwin, Betty Davis, Gary Ferguson, Mickey Chatfield, Bill Graves, Jimmy Rader, Mary Ann Myers, Sue Bursey, Judy Borchardt and Ann Walden, also the honoree, Betsy.

The dining room table was lace covered and had the decorated birthday cake for a centerpiece and the cake was flanked by tall pink tapers. The cake, ice cream and punch were served. Little airplanes and noise makers were given as favors. Betsy was given many nice birthday remembrances.

CROWELL 4-H CLUB

The Crowell 4-H Club met for the first meeting on Sept. 18. Miss Elizabeth Elliott, sponsor of the club, met with the girls.

Officers were elected for the following year. They are Betty Barker, president; Rozella Autry, vice president; Frankie Mabe, secretary; Jenny Wehba, reporter; Peggy Weaver, assistant reporter; Bobbie Abston and Mildred Tamplin, Council committee delegates.

After the election, plans were formulated for the projects for the coming year and it was decided to make cooking and sewing the main projects. It was planned to have a contest in these arts at the close of the year. Hopes for a profitable year were expressed.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

The Adelpian Club met in regular session on September 18 at the Club House with Mesdames T. N. and S. S. Bell as hostesses. The study for the afternoon, directed by Mrs. Verne Walden, was Music.

Mrs. D. D. Denison gave interesting thoughts concerning the effects of various types of music on the actions of the American individual.

The most intensive research on the influence of music in bringing joy and happiness to the human being has been made by the Musik Company composed of a group of Canadian musicians. It encourages the use of music to place a person in a receptive mood for work, reflection, entertainment etc., whether it be in the strenuous efforts in an industrial plant, in worship in a church service, in study in a school, or in enjoyment at a carnival ground.

Mrs. Walden discussed the best loved American folk songs. She noted the fervor aroused by some of these songs. She mentioned the "rousing to action" spirit created by the playing of Julia Ward Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the melancholy longing for the South as produced by Stephen Foster's "Old Folks at Home," the adventurous fervor resulting from the notes of the railroad song "Casey Jones," the "happy-go-lucky" air assumed when listening to strains of "Side-walks of New York," and the awe inspiring feeling produced by the melody of "America the Beautiful" written by Katherine Lee Bates after viewing the beauty and grandeur of the world from the summit of Pikes Peak.

Pictures of various scenes illustrating the songs were presented. Mrs. Denison played a number of the songs to show the difference in the feelings.

Mrs. E. C. King, federation counselor, gave an interesting report from the magazine, "The Club Woman."

The club adjourned to meet October 2nd with Mrs. Denison and Mrs. Flesher as hostesses.

The thirty-two members present were served a delicious salad plate and then the doors of the dining room were opened to display the table, centered with an attractive arrangement of fox-glove from which Mrs. L. E. Archer and Mrs. Abb Dunn poured coffee which was served with cake and mints.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

Mrs. Grady Halbert was hostess to the Columbian Club at her home in the Foard City community on Wednesday, September 18.

At a short business session, a letter of acceptance of membership in the Columbian Club was read from Mrs. Jack Welch. Mrs. Welch was present and greeted by the members.

"Nutrition—Welfare" was the subject for discussion and was introduced by the leader, Mrs. Grady Magee, with the apt quotation, "Life is not merely to live, but to be well."

Mrs. Lee Black was introduced and gave a treatise on "Rice—a World Food." Rice is the principal item of food for half the world. China, Japan, India and many islands of the Pacific with their teeming millions of people, depend on rice for sustenance. Mrs. Black gave a graphic description of rice farming, the need for an abundance of water in its culture and described the rice paddies on mountain sides, also the tremendous amount of nourishment in a handful of rice. Some of the soldiers and prisoners might have added a thought on its too frequent use on their menus while in the Pacific.

"Desert Sweetness" was the next article, handled by Mrs. Crews Cooper. "Desert Sweetness" is a food derived from the sap and sugar cane in tropical regions and furnishes a considerable portion of the daily ration. Mrs. Hines Clark discussed "America's Health Needs" in which she presented outstanding health needs as brought out in addresses by three leading American doctors before a national health conference in Washington.

The leader, Mrs. Magee, highlighted the program with thoughts on "Our Mental Hospitals." She emphasized the efforts to remove the stigma from mental diseases and said that medical authorities maintain that it is as natural for one to be mentally ill as physically ill and no more shame should be felt for one mentally ill than for one physically ill. The whole discussion led to the thought that great strides in methods of treatment and improvement in medicines are being taken by the doctors and scientists of today. An attractive salad plate and drink was served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Halbert. Mrs. E. V. Halbert was a guest. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Charlie Wishon.

FOARD CITY W. S. C. S.

On Monday, September 23rd, the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Foard City met in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Halbert. Mrs. W. L. Johnson presided and the opening prayer was given by Mrs. Laura Johnson. Exhibition of garments made for the Philippine children was the highlight of the business session. Plans to add to the number of garments were made and pictures of Filipino children wearing their gift clothes were shown.

An inspiring article, "I Believe" by Grace Noll Crowell was given by Mrs. Virgil Johnson. Mrs. Crowell says that her long illness was a test of her faith yet her pain failed to shake her profound belief and trust in God. The sorrow and pain of others has often strengthened her. "It is a comfort to me to know that God and the tides are changeless. Faith is the belief that He will divide seemingly impassable waters when we come to them." Mrs. Johnson expressed the wonderment at Mrs. Crowell's having received inspiration from so many yet never seeming to realize what an inspiration she herself has been to those who know her through her literary gems.

"Today's Children, Tomorrow's Hope" was the title of the discussion given by Mrs. Grady Halbert. "The task before the nations which have been victims of the Axis is of such magnitude that few, if any, of them can do without the help of the others. All nations know their debt to today's children. On today's children rests our hope for tomorrow." The group was dismissed by repeating the Lord's prayer and Mrs. Halbert served watermelon to fourteen members and one new member, Mrs. Hughston McLain, bringing the number on roll to twenty-three.

Lana Introduces Novel 'All-White' Wardrobe

For the first time in screen history, a star wears stark white in every scene of a motion picture, except one—when she goes to the opposite extreme and dons deep mourning!

The star is Lana Turner, co-starred with John Garfield in "The Postman Always Rings Twice," filmization of the powerful James M. Cain novel, which will be shown at the Rialto, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 29 and 30.

Since the action of the story of two people whose frustrated love murder, intrigue and passion, takes place on the California Coast, Miss Turner's wardrobe was given an authentic flavor by Irene, executive designer for M-G-M. It comprises white play clothes and spectator sports dresses, of costume for which California has become famous. Designer Irene suggested white clothes on the screen or for an "undressed" wardrobe, and also emphasized the deep tan Miss Turner had to acquire the role of Cora Smith.

Authorities estimate that out of ten victims of the disease, only one is cured if prompt action is taken.
