Wheat Penalized Mill Buyers

A lot of Panhandle wheat buyers are finding that it costs more to sacrifice quality for quantity.

Petter County Agent A. P. Sawyer reports to Extension Service headquarters a Texas A. and M. College are penalizing mill buyers of wheat from Potter and other Panhandle counties because of their poor milling quality, according to Joe Burkett, county agent.

Twenty-one per cent of the total acreage in the Panhandle wheat belt was planted last year to two wheat varieties that have poor milling reputations, says the county agent. The overall figure for quality varieties is so low, he reports, that millers throughout the country are either refusing to purchase the grain or discounting it in some manner.

Farmers plant low milling varieties because they get "good yields," says Bralley, Westar, Colman and Wichita varieties, all good millers, have produced as good if not better yields in Potter county than the poor millers, and many farmers have turned to these three varieties for planting this year.

Carlsbad Cavern Route Gaining in Popularity

The Carlsbad Cavern Route to California, which passes through Crowell, is gaining in popularity, according to word received from C. A. (Chet) Holding of Trpton, Okla., and T. E. (Tom) Manning of Redick, sponsors of the new route which is expected to attract tourists from the north and east who are making a trip to the west.

The co-operative plan these two businessmen have worked out and are presenting to business men in towns and cities along the new route to California via Carlsbad, New Mexico, should click. An extensive advertising campaign by means of attractive, reflector type signs and neatly printed brochure guides, they plan to direct a large portion of traffic traveling over-crowded highways over their new route to California by way of the National advertised Carlsbad Caverns.

These two men, both of whom are pioneer good road boosters, have contacted business men in towns along the route from Oklahoma City to Carlsbad, New Mexico, and now report they have their program virtually complete.

One of the attractive features of the new route from Oklahoma City to Los Angeles, Calif., by way of Carlsbad Caverns is the fact that it can be traveled year-around, and this is important during the winter months.

The promoters of this co-operative campaign are endeavoring to secure the co-operation of every town along the route as quickly as possible in order that the directive signs can be erected and tourist guides printed and distributed, so that benefits can be realized this winter by these participating.

It will take several weeks to erect the signs and secure the brochure guides after all towns are signed up, but according to the promoters, the work of completing this phase of the program will start in a few weeks and be completed before winter weather really sets in.

Crowell Football 'B' Team Wins Its First Game

The Crowell Football "B" team won its first game of the season on Tuesday afternoon of last week by the score of 20 to 9 from the Monday "B" team at Munday.

These same teams play here this afternoon at three o'clock. There will be no charge for the game.

The Crowell boys scored their first touchdown on a line plunger by Billy Joe Halencak from the two yard line. Billy Joe also set the touchdown up by making a thirty yard run around right end. He received some splendid downfield blocking from Buddy Rader, James Bice, Hack Norman, J. C. Autry, and F. L. Ballard on this long run. The extra point was chalked up by James Weathers. Halencak also made another touchdown on a forty yard run when Weathers handed off to Ballard and Ballard handed off to Halencak to start the play. Autry scored on the same play late in the game by going seventy yards. Weathers again ran the extra point over.

Munday scored a touchdown in the second quarter when Floyd Massey, quarterback, threw a pass to Gene Jackson, right end, that was good for forty yards and a touchdown. Massey plunged the extra point over. Crowell was caught behind their own goal line on an attempted kick that cost them the other two points to make the final score 20 to 9 in Crowell's favor.

Jimmy Rasberry, Hack Norman, Thomas White, Charles Pittillo, and Harry Yocham looked good on the defense for Crowell.

Other boys that played in this game for Crowell were Gordon Wood Bell, John Teague, Buster Laquey, Harold Ribble, Jimmy Tom Cates, John Sanders, Charles Steele, and Joe Howard Williams.

The Invisible Man Is Out, Garrison Says

Fix your lights so that you can be seen by the other fellow and your brakes so that you can stop, and you'll be all right under the new traffic law, which went into effect Sept. 5, according to Col. Homer Garrison, director of Public Safety.

You must have two burning head lamps and a burning red tail light. The only thing which every motorist has to have after Jan. 1, 1948, which he may not have now is a little white light over the rear license plate. Formerly reflectors were enough on trailers of all kinds, but after Jan. 1 a burning red tail light is required for any vehicle whatsoever on the road. Trucks and busses under 80 inches wide must have in addition to other lights a stop light and two red reflectors on the rear.

Trucks or busses over 80 inches wide or having an actual or registered gross weight in excess of 3,000 pounds must have the following lights besides the head lamps, tail light, license plate light, stop light, and two red reflectors:

Amber clearance light at front outermost top corner on each side; red clearance light at back outermost top corner on each side; red side marker near rear on each side; amber side marker near front on each side; amber side lamp near front on each side; red side lamp near back on each side.

When disabled upon the highway, all types of trucks, busses, and trailers must have three properly spaced warning devices such as pot flares, electric lanterns, etc.

All brakes, must be capable of stopping the vehicle going 20 miles per hour within a distance of 30 feet on a smooth, level surface and must be maintained in good working order so as to be good working order on all wheels. Any applied evenly, having an actual or registered gross weight in excess of 3,000 pounds must have a separate set of brakes thereon.

Last month at the 88th annual meeting in Boston of the American Dental Association, Dr. Stephens A. Ferlita, of Atlanta, Ga., reported he had been exasperated because of decay. The doctor reported that he had pulled the decayed teeth, cleaned them, filled the root canal with an alloy of silver and gold and re-set them in the cavity in one sitting. Six weeks later after, he reported, the tooth had become firm and he would crown it. The doctor reported that last year he successfully treated eleven patients.

WIND OF FURY STRIKES SOUTH . . . Rolling in from the Atlantic ocean, the worst hurricane this country had experienced since 1935 slashed destructively across the southern third of Florida, leaving in its wake desolate scenes like this one at West Palm Beach. Veering out across the Gulf of Mexico, the swirling winds then struck savagely at New Orleans and Gulfport and Biloxi, Miss. Thousands in Florida and along the Gulf coast were left homeless. Damage to property and crops soared into millions of dollars.

Top Soil Is Most Valuable Thing on Farm or Ranch

In this wish for greater good production, it is easy to forget to protect the main source of food—the soil.

Topsoil is the most valuable thing on any farm or ranch. Topsoil is that blanket of rich time-mellowed matter, seldom more than a foot thick, which makes plants thrive. Underneath the topsoil is a raw material called subsoil, a material in which most plants do not thrive.

If the living blanket of topsoil is washed away or blown away and the subsoil is exposed, the face of the earth sickens and dies. The people who live on it grow poor, toil harder, and finally leave.

It has been said that the present erosion problem in America has largely been caused by deforestation and by steel—by too much plowing. It is true that over-plowing has caused widespread erosion—but man, not steel, is to blame. Man took the steel implements science gave him and abused the soil with them. The results are now plain on the face of the earth for all to see.

Your land may be steep, rolling or flat, in cultivation or in pasture. It makes no difference where your land is located, whether it is steep, rolling, or flat, most of it is subject to attack by erosion.

If you need assistance to help protect your land, see your District Supervisors or the local Soil Conservation Service personnel.

Crowell Wildcats and Holliday Play 7 to 7 Tie Game

The Crowell High School Football team looked good in its first conference game of the season by playing a 7 to 7 tie game with the Holliday Eagles at Holliday last Friday night. The Wildcats had lost their two practice games to Floydada and Paducah. Holliday defeated Crowell last year by two touchdowns and had nine letter-men in the lineup last Friday night.

Holliday scored early in the game when Jerry Killian, half-back for the Eagles, ran around right end for six yards. The touchdown was set up when Pat Lester, quarterback, made a short pass to Killian in mid-field and Killian ran to Crowell's six yard line. Killian also plunged the extra point over.

In the second quarter the Wildcats took the ball on their own 15, and with short, sustained gains, they drove to the Eagles' 20-yard line. Crowell's line did some splendid blocking on this drive. The pay-off came when Dalton Biggerstaff, quarterback, threw a short pass to Rouse Todd, left halfback, and he in turn picked up enough yardage to tally. Mark Hill Taylor kicked the extra point to tie the score seven all.

The Eagles came near scoring again late in the game but fumbled on Crowell's four yard line and the Cats took over and were never threatened again. This game will count one-half game won and one-half game lost for each club.

Thomas Tamplen and Ray Black continued to look like all-district prospects on their defensive playing.

The Iowa Park Hawks come to Crowell tomorrow night (Friday) for Crowell's first conference game at home.

Crowell Colored School Started Monday Morning

The Crowell Colored School began Monday morning with 33 pupils enrolled. There will be eight months of school this year instead of 6 1-2 months as in the past. Lillian Powell will be the instructor for the Crowell Colored School for the past eleven years.

The school house has been repaired this summer, the floors have been cleaned and oiled, a new porch has been built, water has been piped into the building, electric lights have been installed, and arrangements have been made to furnish the building with natural gas as soon as the Texas Natural Gas Company can obtain pipe.

New Magneto Shop Is Opened on North Side Square

Deod Trammell has opened a Magneto Shop in the building on the north side of the square with Dock Gray. He has the machinery to do all kinds of magneto repair and testing and will give his best attention to all jobs.

Community House Is Now Reality for Crowell

An opportunity to secure a Community House was presented to the City of Crowell last week, which opportunity opens a way to realize the dream of many years in a short time. The house will be 20 by 50 feet in size and will be moved to Crowell from the Altus, Okla. Air Field. The cost of moving the house will amount to approximately $550, which amount is only a start in the total expense which will be around $1500.

Three civic clubs have voted to sponsor the project: The Garden Club, the Parents' Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club. The purpose of the Community House is the housing of the civic club meetings and the Teen Canteen. The Teen Canteen means the youth project of the Parents' Club. Other civic activities may be included as the need for them develops and the House will be made adequate to meet such needs.

The Community House Committee, appointed by the mayor and presented to the City Council, is as follows: Mayor W. H. Moyer, chairman; Mrs. O. R. Boman, vice-chairman, the presidents of the sponsoring clubs, Mrs. Gordon Bell, Parents' Club; Miss Elizabeth Elliott, Business and Professional Women's Club and Mrs. H. Schindler, Garden Club.

The first donation was made by the B & P W Club, to the amount of $100. The first project was Tag Day on last Saturday which netted enough funds, together with the initial donation, for the procurement of the House. This project continued through Monday and Tuesday of this week.

The second project will be a Philippine program which is to be presented by Mrs. O. R. Boman in the High School auditorium on Tuesday evening, October 7, at 7:30. Mrs. Boman will relate the entire story of her experiences as a prisoner of the Japanese, interned at Santa Tomas, Manila.

Other projects will be decided upon at a later date. The co-operation of each and every person will be appreciated in furthering this very worthwhile step taken by the City of Crowell.

Iowa Park Hawks, a Veteran Football Team, Will Play the Wildcats Here Tomorrow Night in Conference Game

The Iowa Park Hawks will bring a veteran football team to Crowell tomorrow night to play the Crowell Wildcats in their second conference game of the season. The Hawks were idle last Friday night and should be in good shape for this game. They boast a line that averages 173 pounds per man. They played Henrietta a 7 to 6 score in their only contest thus far this season. Iowa Park was playing its first season of football since the war last year but they have practically all of that squad back for this season.

Coach Scott Whitaker started off with a very green squad this year, having only one regular back from last season's team. Two lettermen remain, Ray Black and Grover Yocham, but Yocham has been lost from the squad due to an injury. These Wildcats have developed fast since their first defeat at the hands of the veteran Floydada team and they deserve plenty of backing in their first conference game at home. The kick-off will be at 8 o'clock.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

Spoiling the Swimming Party: I remember once when I was a small boy that I received definite and positive instructions from my father not to go swimming in a neighborhood pond because of the fact that it was early spring and the water was not yet warm enough for swimming. He feared that I might take cramps and drown. I disobeyed his instructions and went swimming with a group of other boys of the neighborhood. The water was uncomfortably cold and I didn't get the thrill out of it I thought I would. When I came home I did everything I could to remove all traces of the fact that I had been in the water and even though I did a good job of it I did not feel right. I knew I had committed a wrong and I felt guilty. I was afraid I would be detected for weeks after. I have thought a

YOU NO LONGER GET A 'LIGHT' BILL

IT'S A SERVICE BILL TODAY!

The old-fashioned "light" bill, like the surrey with the fringe on top, is a thing of the past. Electricity for lighting is only one of many items represented by your electric service bill. Today, in most homes, you're likely to find two or more electric appliances in every room—many homes have a score or more. That's why your electric service bill can no more rightly be called a "light" bill than a "refrigerator" bill.

The cost of a kilowatt hour of service to residential users has decreased one-third in the last 14 years.

Atomic By-Product Used For Scientific Plant Study

Using radioactive iodine supplied by "Manhattan District," Oak Ridge, Tenn., three department of agriculture scientists report experiments with a synthetic radioactive chemical that gives new light on 2,4-D as a weed killer. These tests are explorations in working out answers to some of the many questions that puzzle science in connection with 2,4-D and other growth regulating substances. This new research tool is identified by the initials "INBA"—the first standing for the iodine.

Applied to a leaf of a young bean plant the INBA moves through the plant and concentrates in partly expanded leaves at the growing point and severely checks their growth. Applied similarly to a barley plant, INBA likewise concentrates in the young leaves but apparently does not injure the plant much. The radioactivity makes it possible to use a delicate instrument—an electrometer—to trace the INBA moving in the plant in a manner similar to that used to trace iodine and other elements in animals.

In some respects INBA acts similarly to 2,4-D, which has developed in a few years from a laboratory novelty to have enormous practical value, particularly as a weedkiller. Like 2,4-D, the INBA has a selective effect, injuring the broad leaf beans but having only slight effect on the grassy barley. In applying this by-product of atomic bomb research to plant study, the investigators are looking forward to the possible use of INBA and other closely related growth regulators in practical crop production. Fortunately INBA is fairly easy to synthesize in the laboratory, and radioactive iodine can readily be obtained. Radioactive iodine has a "half life" (loses half its radiant power) of 8 days, which is longer than many radioactive chemicals.

U. S. Resumes Shipment Of 'Golden Weed' to China

Renewed postwar shipment of ginseng, the "golden weed," from the United States to China recalls one of the earliest chapters of American foreign trade. The withered root is regarded by orientals as a panacea for many ills, although American scientists have said that it has no therapeutic value. As late as 1940, China received more than a million dollars worth from American sources.

The first ship that sailed directly from the United States to China—the "Empress of China," out of New York in 1784—carried more than 20 tons of ginseng. It was growing wild in the woods of New England and along the Hudson river banks.

The weed was scarce in the orient, where it was highly prized. Once ginseng was worth its weight in gold, and for a long time it remained a royal monopoly in China. It was found in Manchuria, in what were considered imperial preserves, and was collected by specially detailed soldiers of the imperial army.

Bacteria Releases Oil

The possibility of using certain types of bacteria to increase the recovery of oil from subterranean deposits is suggested in a patent issued to Dr. Claude E. Zobel, associate professor at the University of California. While testing various kinds of bacteria for their ability to modify crude oils, Dr. Zobel observed in March, 1943, that certain cultures released droplets of oil from test tubes filled with calcareous material prepared to simulate underground oil-producing formations. Further laboratory experiments showed that bacteria can release oil from oil-bearing sediments by (1) dissolving calcareous materials, (2) crowding off the oil physically, and (3) by producing surface-active substances, literally "bacteria soap."

Frozen Pastries

Frozen pastry is more tender than fresh pastry, according to Dr. Faith Fenton, who has been doing research on frozen pies for the college of home economics and school of nutrition at Cornell. If you bake your pie before you freeze it, it's better to thaw it in the oven at 350 degrees for 15 minutes rather than thawing it in the refrigerator or at room temperature. The experiments showed that unbaked pies thawed at room temperature or in the refrigerator before baking tended to have a soaked, under-done undercrust. For best results, Miss Fenton suggests placing the solidly frozen pie in a 450 degree oven for 35 minutes and then to bake it at 350 degrees for 15 minutes.

Veterans News

Approximately 20,000 veterans of World War II who suffered hearing impairments in service are eligible for a special program of medical rehabilitation that the Veterans Administration has established to help them overcome their handicap.

Eligible veterans may take advantage of this program whether they require medical attention to improve their hearing or whether they need rehabilitation to overcome the handicap of a permanent hearing impairment.

The complete rehabilitation course includes a series of hearing and speech tests, the selection and fitting of a hearing aid if indicated, auditory training, lip reading instruction and speech correction if necessary.

Opportunities for careers in forestry are described in a "Handbook of Information on Entering Positions in Forestry" which has been distributed to all Veterans Administration vocational advisors.

Published by the Society of American Foresters in Washington, D. C., the booklet contains descriptions of positions in forestry, duties, working conditions, salaries, requirements for entry and methods of applying for jobs.

The handbook also lists agencies, both private and Government, which employ foresters and persons in related occupations. Veterans desiring to train for forestry positions under the G. I. Bill were cautioned that the field is limited and possibly might become overcrowded.

Approximately 104,000 World War II veterans are learning to become skilled mechanics and repair men under the job-training provisions of the G. I. Bill. VA reported. Of some 670,000 veterans taking on-the-job training, mechanics led the list followed by salesmanship and retail management with 80,000 veteran trainees.

Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God, and not that he should return from his ways, and live? -Ezekiel 18:23.

We have often heard speakers before a Chamber of Commerce deplore the fact that the young people, after receiving their education in the community, move away and the community loses the advantage of their productive years. We were talking the other day to a young person who had done that very thing. We asked him why it was that the young people for the most part moved away and did not give the town the advantage of their skill and education. The answer is simple, he said. It is too hard to get ahead in one's home town. Too many people are barefoot school boys that you do not know anything and are not competent to handle anything important. They prove it by sending to some other town for a man to do an important job—if they have such a job. The only thing left for the local young people is to play the game the same way and look for recognition elsewhere. Now and then a home boy is taken in and given a break but it is usually with considerable misgiving and at about half the salary that is paid to an outsider who often has less real ability and community interest than the home town boy or girl. There is a good reason why the young folks leave the home town. They have to get the recognition that the home folks too often don't seem to want to give them.

Some fellows, of whom it cannot be definitely said are going to the devil, never the less seem to have a way of letting the devil know where they can be found in case he has a job he wants done.

We think Herbert Hoover has a lot of good ideas, but we don't agree with him when he says that England could have whipped Germany without our aid, or that the Japs were provoked to attack us at Pearl Harbor.

The Marshall plan for Europe includes from 20 to 30 billion dollars worth of goods and commodities sent to Europe within the next four years on credit. That is what the European government represent that they will need before they can get back on their feet. If this program, or any considerable part of it is adopted, it will mean that business will be good in this country for the next four years at least. It will also mean that prices will continue high on nearly everything. Prices will continue high for the reason that our surplus and a little more will be sent out of the country with the result that ready money will bid briskly for the balance, creating a scarcity. A scarcity always results in higher prices. Since much of the aid will consist of foodstuffs it would mean, if the plan is adopted, that the farm business is going to be very good for the next four years at least.

Scientists estimate that it will require 108 million years for the eroding forces of nature, rain and wind and freezes and thaws to wear away the faces of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt carved in the granite of the Black Hills of South Dakota. It is difficult to imagine when we look at the world today to believe that there will be anyone here 108 million years hence to check up on the scientists' estimate. If the world manages to get through the next 108 million years it will in all probability find Russia still exercising the veto.

The theory has been advanced, and it sounds reasonable, that there can be no recession in this country as long as we are exporting more than our surplus and by so doing are creating a near scarcity in this country. When the exporting comes to an end or begins to ease up local warehouses will begin to fill up and prices will begin to come down. They will not be reduced as long as there isn't quite enough merchandise to go around.

Summer is edging out and fall is beginning to show itself. One of these mornings before we know it we are going to find ourselves taking back a lot of the harsh things we said about the golden, glorious, brilliant summer. With all its heat and drought it had a lot of advantages over the cold weather of winter with its bleak skies and slippery, icy walks.

Installation buying controls are scheduled to be taken off November 1. Used car dealers and others who sell on deferred payments, are preparing for a rush of business. The requirement of at least a third down and the balance within fifteen months, set up by the government, it is claimed, had the effect of slowing down installment buying.

When a man comes into the world the first thing he does is to cry. How does he catch on so quickly what he is getting into?

The rule that everything that goes up must come down also applies to the high prices.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

The town in which I live is in a heap of trouble. It so happens that it owns its own light plant and its own water plant, representing an investment of upwards of $700,000.

Naturally an investment of this size should have a lot of expert supervision, involving as it does a large quantity of highly technical, and costly equipment.

The commission form of government is in operation in my town and has been for a number of years. Each year at election time we are called upon to vote for a new commissioner and each year friends of this one and that one scurry out and get some one to agree to stand for election and then proceed to circulate the necessary petitions to get his name on the ballot.

As in many cases of this kind the first thing scouts for a candidate think of is whether or not he is a good fellow, whether he belongs to their political party, and clique. The last thing they think of is whether or not he has the judgment and the ability and the wisdom to handle his share of a $700,000 technical corporation. This obviously should be the first requisite but in the majority of instances in my town it has not been.

The result has been that the business of the town has been handled by succeeding groups of inexperienced people who attempt to handle in their spare time a job that they are not competent or fitted to fill by knowledge or experience even though they should devote their whole time to it.

As a result of this type of administration the taxpayers of the community have paid heavy taxes for years and have received less than value for their tax dollars. Each group's tenure of office is of short duration and when they are voted out a new group equally inexperienced and equally unfitted for the technical duties of the job is voted in and the same series of mistakes is made over again.

The greatest number of costly mistakes have been made in the operation of the light plant. These are so obvious and so costly that there is a growing feeling that the city should surrender its utilities and give a franchise to a private corporation.

A group of citizens despairing that the situation would ever correct itself have worked out a new plan of government for the town and are seeking to get it adopted. They would elect three commissioners who in turn would select three of the community's best business men to act as a utility commission. This group would have charge of the utilities and would employ a superintendent or engineer to handle the details and do the foot work.

The purpose of this arrangement is to remove as far as possible control from the hands of the elected commissioners. The commissioners would have control of the streets, alleys and utility base on all bills. The utility board would supervise the utilities which would be under the supervision of the superintendent.

I present the plan as a suggestion to other towns that might be suffering from the same blight of inefficiency and lack of business judgment that affects my town.

The treaty signed in Rio de Janeiro the other day constitutes, among other things, a happy relief from the petty equibbling that Russia has provided in the United Nations meetings. The treaty provides that the countries of the Western Hemisphere are united in defense against the attack of any foreign aggressor. It may well be the beginning of a new hope of world peace. The Western Hemisphere has the resources and the manpower necessary to stand against any combination the world can offer. Our inventive genius and capacity for production and the inexhaustible food resources of South America make for a formidable combination. This treaty may easily become one of the world's most historic documents.

Uncle Sam Says

One of the fine old American customs is to begin a new year with a lot of resolutions. Some we keep. Others we make with the intention of breaking them to the delight of ourselves and friends. You're being a good American to resolve to do something or other from this day on until eternity. You're being a better, wiser American to make a solemn resolution to strengthen the future security of yourself and family.

The recent election in the 8th district in Pennsylvania was one of national interest. The Democrats nominated a young soldier, a union labor official, who ran on the platform of opposition to the Taft-Hartley labor law and advocating its repeal. The Political Action Committee lined up back of the candidate and poured money into the fight. The Republicans accepted the labor law as the issue and went into the campaign upholding the law and won the election by a majority of 18,000, over 4,000 more than the Republican majority at the last election.

Prompted by the thought that postage stamps are often printed to commemorate persons and events, Alfred A. Dustin, LaJolla, Calif., recently wrote the post office department requesting that a commemorative stamp be issued to honor the forgotten taxpayer. As a central theme for the new stamp Dustin suggested a flock of well plucked geese.

This reckless driver and his companion were speeding crazily through a thickly populated residential area, endangering the lives of dozens of people. Fortunately their wild ride ended before they had involved anyone else. The car went out of control on a medium curve and slammed into a gasoline pump, hurling its occupants onto the pavement. The driver was killed; his passenger lived—after many months in the hospital. Speeding was reported violation in one out of every four motor vehicle fatalities last year. Strict enforcement of speed laws, and aroused public opinion are needed to prevent accidents of this type.

Campaign Started to Bring USS Texas Back to Texas

Houston, Sept. 29 (Special)—Lloyd Gregory, chairman of the Battle Texas Commission, today Pattiship Texas Commission, today called upon all former crew members of the USS Texas to assist in the drive starting September 15 to raise $225,000 to bring the gallant old battleship home to the Lone Star State.

He asks them to contact The Foard County News, explaining that they are former crew members of the Battleship Texas; and also to send their names, addresses, and facts about their duty aboard "Old Tee" (as she was familiarly called by her crew); Battleship Texas Information Bureau, 1428 Commerce Bldg., Houston 2, Texas. These names will go into a master list for historical record about the retired battleship.

Things get tough aboard the Texas, or when crew members ran into trouble, some one always shouted "Come on, Texas!" And it got results. Once more "Old Tee" must call upon its crew, and again she does it with: "Come on, Texas!"

VETERANS' QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. What are some of the advantages offered to the veteran by the GI Bill if he buys a home under its guaranteed loan provisions?

A. With a VA guaranty, the veteran has a better chance of inducing the lender to make a loan. The lender may even consider making the loan where no down payment is to be made on the home. Another advantage is the 4 per cent rate of interest which is low.

Q. Is it true that if I secure a guaranteed loan, VA will pay part of the loan without cost to me?

A. Yes, Veterans' Administration pays to the lender an amount equal to 4 per cent of the guaranteed portion of the loan. For example, if the guaranteed portion of your loan is $4,000, the lender will receive $160 from VA to credit to your debt and you will not have to repay this amount to anyone.

Q. Can the veteran get a guaranteed loan for any type of business?

A. Yes, the veteran can get a guaranteed loan on any type of legitimate business on which the lender is willing to lend money.

Q. Can I get a guaranteed loan to buy furniture for my home and a pleasure car?

A. No.

Heavy Expenditures Foreseen in County for New Farm Homes

Farm families in Foard County will spend more than $316,000 for new housing in the next three to five years, according to a forecast released by the Title Council of America.

"As a result of high incomes during the last few years, farmers in every part of the nation are prepared to invest record amounts in new home construction and in general farm improvements," said F. B. Ortman, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee. Pointing out that the comforts and conveniences of urban living are now available to farm families, Ortman said that new rural homes will incorporate such features as water pressure systems, tiled bathrooms and modern kitchen facilities.

Rapid electrification of rural areas of Texas is making possible the incorporation in new homes of many labor-saving and comfort-providing devices undreamed of a generation ago, according to Ortman. Rural Electrification Administration estimates disclose that more than 55 per cent of all farms in the state now receive central station electric service. Refrigerators, electric washing machines and deep-freezing plants, as well as plumbing systems, will go into many new homes as a consequence.

A recent survey in the state of Kansas shows that one out of every 27 in the state is now living off of the state welfare funds. This in a time when there is a job for every one who is willing to work. A feeling is developing in the state that the screening of applicants for aid is not close enough. It is a reproach upon some one that in the state's most prosperous year the taxpayers must support many who are able to work. Kansas with a population of less than two million has a total of 68,500 persons living off the state.

All states have some form of compulsory school attendance laws. Attendance required runs from 80 days to the full school year. Only two states require 80 days.

BENEFIT PROGRAM PRESENTED BY BOMAN

Tuesday night, October 17, at 7:30, Mrs. Boman, at one time a prisoner of the Japanese in the Philippines, will tell "The Story Behind the Wall," which, until the present time, she has not told. When Mrs. Boman first returned to Crowell, she gave a talk about her experiences in the Philippines and the high school auditorium was filled to its capacity.

This benefit program is to be sponsored by the Garden Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, and the Crowell Parents' Club. The purpose is to raise money to pay for a community house for the Wildcat and other civic clubs. The building will be located in the city park.

The program will include moving pictures in color, two Philippine boys and their fighting cocks, the Philippine rice plant, a tweet native music and other interesting examples of life in the Philippines. If you are interested in the teen-agers of Crowell and surrounding communities, you will want to attend this interesting program.

GENTRY WINS IN JUNIOR MAGAZINE CONTEST

"Madam, could I interest you in a magazine?" That's the way the juniors began their sales talk. Then they stuck their foot in the door and forced the poor lady to buy at least one of the Curtis Publishing Company's magazines. They sold $368 worth of magazines.

Baxter Gentry was the super salesman that won a Bulova watch by selling $52.90, but Ramona Hammonds came in for a close second by selling $52 worth. The juniors cleared $138.92 and since the number attending the banquet has been greatly reduced in number this year, they hope Hardy Sanders was a magazine salesman this summer. He got his first experience selling here at CHS. Experience in high school sometimes helps when you're on your own!

CROWELL AND HOLLIDAY BATTLE TO 7-7 TIE

The Crowell Wildcats battled the favored Holliday Eagles to a 7-7 tie last Friday night. Both teams scored in the first half and although Holliday threatened in the last half, the valiant Wildcats Holliday took the ball on he staved off the attack. Kickoff and scored five plays later. In the second quarter Crowell started their attack with Dalton Biggerstaff throwing a pass to Clifford Orr. Biggerstaff completed two more passes to move the ball deep into Holliday territory. Biggerstaff then threw a fourth consecutive pass to Rouse Todd who romped over the goal line standing up. Mark Hill Taylor kicked the extra point to tie the score.

In the last half Holliday recovered a fumbled kick deep in Crowell territory. Crowell would not give in and pushed Holliday back. Crowell got a break then when Holliday fumbled, and a Crowell player recovered.

Dalton Biggerstaff and Rouse Todd were the offensive stars of the night and also both boys got off some very good punts when the pressure was on. Thomas Tamplen, Clifford Orr, and Ray Black stood out on defense.

WILDCAT PURRS!

All the schools closed down What Would Happen If— (Oh, happy day). We told off on Betty Brock and Joline Lanier? Violet Ruppemel and Myra Don didn't have triangle trouble over Dalton? Wanza Spears was n't called "cutie" anymore? Martha Orr and Bob Haynie didn't have a case? Peggy Weaver didn't have blonde hair? Walter and Jean weren't seen on Sunday night? Pat and Alton didn't like each other? Bob Johnson and Laverne James weren't attracted to each other? We knew when Leon McBeath was Tuesday night? Kenneth Ownbey and Ham Tamplen didn't wear loud shirts to school? We didn't have such a swell pep sponsor to go teachers went on a strike? (good with us to the games? All the deal). We didn't have to worry about our lessons on Monday morning, spilling our nice thoughts of Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights? There were no dogs around the school (take it more than one way). Pauncho knew Martha was with Ray Saturday night? Mr. Black weren't considerate in typing? Kenneth

Adams and Myrtie Bartley called it a steady? Everyone didn't hurry to the lunchroom at noon? All the fountains had ice water in them? (oTo good to be true.) Eddy way always talking about Babe? (Tha "would" be the end!)

We Wonder—
 Why we don't get in more of the scandal? Why J. C. Thompson doesn't curl his hair anymore? How everyone sat so calmly on the "hammer" Saturday night? (Did Isay calmly?) Why more of the kids weren't at the carnival Saturday night? If the north and south pocket parks are always occupied? If the case between Helen and Walter is still brewing? Why Marion Bailey can't add, subtract, multiply, or divide. (We didn't mean it, Marion.)

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

One of the biggest automotive parts sales ever held in Texas will take place at the Red River Arsenal near Texarkana Tuesday through Thursday, October 7, 8 and 9.

Trend in U. S. Agriculture Is Toward Bigger Farms

Economists of the department of agriculture say that the family sized farm is larger, more mechanized, and more commercialized than ever before. The average farm is now 20 acres larger than it was five years ago and 50 acres bigger than it was 25 years ago. The big, spreading ranches of the west and the small farms of the east are, of course, figured into this average.

The west has shown the greatest jump in size of farms, with nearly 10 per cent of the farms in the west now more than 1,000 acres. These big farms account for four-fifths of the farm land of the west. Even in the midwest a fifth of the farm land is in units of over 1,000 acres. A strong demand for practically all farm products during the last half dozen years in combination with speedy progress in machine farming has caused farmers to expand their acreage. Very little new farm land has become available in the period, so large farms have become larger by taking in other farms or parts of other farms. Even with all this expansion in farm acreage, the small farm is not immediately doomed; at least, not for a while. Farms of from 10 to 100 acres still account for a large proportion of all farms in all regions. Two-thirds of the farms in the south; one-half in the east; two-fifths in the west; and a third in the midwest are still small farms.

Hardwood Flooring Gave Impetus to Use of Rugs

Up until about 1900, floors in middle class American homes were usually of soft wood, which soon became worn and unattractive. Because of this shortcoming, wall-to-wall carpeting at that time was popular as a floor covering. The use of rugs was confined largely to mansions having parquet and other attractive hardwood floors.

About half a century ago strong public interest developed for better small homes, and maple and oak flooring, in boards of narrow width, became popular. This trend in floors stimulated widespread use of rugs. The hardwood floors are easy to keep clean and attractive, and the rugs make spring housecleaning easier because they eliminate dust-catching corners and are easy to keep tidy. The position of rugs in a room can be turned so as to bring about even wear.

Increased use of hardwood flooring stimulated greater use of both domestic and hand-woven oriental rugs. From 1900 to 1915 there was a ten-fold increase in imports of hand-woven rugs from the orient.

During July the country over, the Treasury's E bonds salesman reported $14 million more bonds cashed than were purchased. Savings, it is reported are on the downgrade. A third of the families in the $1,000 to $3,000 income bracket are spending more than they make.

In 1945 mail order sales in this country totaled $600,000,000.

and 9, with $700,000 worth of war surplus parts up for informal bidding. A total of 500 lots will be on display at six warehouses in the arsenal, most of them small for the "little buyer" as well as the commercial dealer. Included will be such materials as engine assemblies, bearings, battery acids, maintenance equipment, oil seals and filter elements. Inspection and bidding has been set for from 8:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. next Tuesday and Wednesday, with opening of bid boxes to commence at 8:45 a. m. Thursday.

Creation of a fast-moving sales organization in each of the six War Assets Administration Zone offices to dispose of the remaining inventory of surplus war plants and other real property has been announced by WAA officials. Disposal of surplus real property is now well past the half way mark, with $4,780,420,000 disposed of or leased and $3,550,735,000 remaining at the end of August. The new plant is expected to give disposal the final push.

A veterans merchandise section to the War surplus sales facilities of the WAA's Customer Service Center has been added to the Grand Prairie office. Only very limited stocks of set-aside items for veterans are anticipated for the time being. Under the plan, veterans may buy and take with them merchandise available in this section.

The sale of 562 buildings at Gulf Port Army Airfield at Gulf Port, Mississippi, was recently postponed on account of damage wrought by the recent hurricane. War Assets Administration officials. Disposal of surplus real would be posted some time near future.

A lone military chapel at McIntosh at Laredo, Texas, be sold by WAA October 1. Like other chapels, this one likely be sold "in place" on the premises due to the interest shown by Laredo's retention there.

A quantity of construction farm machinery is being by War Assets Administration to both priority and common buyers through its Grand Customer Service Center, November 3. The sale opens October 17. Here are some of the things that will be imposed upon the people of the United States if the Marshall plan to aid Europe is put into operation. Meatless days will be back again because we will not have enough meat to maintain our usual ration and share with Europe. The gray bread of war time may return to make the wheat go farther. Grains will be restricted to distillers and restrictions placed upon the use to which steel may be put. This will create a further scarcity of things made from steel. All of this is expected to be done with a minimum of control. The food and fuel situation in Europe is very acute and for the next year or two it will require all we can spare to keep Europe from starving. Also the demand for steel and machinery in Europe is most critical. Some of the needs must be met if the country is to be made self-sustaining even though it curtails some deliveries here.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz to Visit Dallas October 14

DALLAS, Sept. 29. Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, often called the greatest Texan since Sam Houston, will come to Dallas October 14 to lead Texas veterans of all wars in a rededication to the principles of American Freedom.

The occasion will be "All Veterans' Day" at the State Fair of Texas when for the first time in the history of the state tribute will be paid to veterans of all wars in all branches of the service.

More than 200,000 veterans and their families are expected to take part in the day's activities, R. L. Thornton, president of the Fair, announced. Among the many service groups participating will be the American Legion, Spanish-American War Veterans, Reserve Officers Association, Air Force Association, Veterans of Foreign Wars and numerous others.

Admiral Nimitz, whose brilliant naval career took him from the Hill Country of Texas to become commander of the Pacific Fleet and conqueror of the Japanese navies, is now Chief of Naval Operations, one of the highest military titles which his country can bestow. He will fly from Washington to Dallas in his own plane to participate in the day's activities and to address a crowd of more than 50,000 the night of October 14, in the Cotton Bowl.

In 1945 the last year for which complete records are available, 86,186 persons were admitted to the hospitals of this country for treatment for tuberculosis.

Dear Folks . . .

Once in a while a theatre manager just has to tell his customers about something very special in entertainment he's soon going to show on his screen. M-G-M's "Cynthia", a sweetheart of a picture starring Elizabeth Taylor in her first romantic role. It's full of the excitement, the laughter, the heart-tugs, the triumphs of youth. Like "The Green Years," it's warm and down-to-earth.

In "Cynthia" you're going to meet a grand American family, get in on its hopes and struggles and dreams. You'll feel the wonder of first love . . . the excitement of a first date . . . the ecstasy of a first kiss. Everybody's saying: "I fell in love with Cynthia!" Walter Winchell said it! Louella Parsons said it! Jimmy Fidler said it! Louis Sobel said it! Dorothy Kilgallen said it! You'll say it, too!

Rialto Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 8 and 9.

Sincerely,
Jeff Hardin
