A BIT OF SHOPPING IN PANAMA

Naval Reservists on a training cruise of the USS Wisconsin spend part of their liberty ashore in Colon, Republic of Panama, selecting gifts for the folks back home. They are among 600 Reservists from the Third, Fourth, and Ninth Naval Districts recalled to active duty, primarily for two weeks of training aboard the "Wiskey." The cruises give Reserve sailors a chance to learn of the latest developments in the world's mightiest warship. As a part of the Wisconsin cruises there are days of liberty in Panama for sightseeing and shopping. Many of the men bring back perfumes, lingerie, alligator skin luggage, white summer suits and other items which are obtainable at prewar prices. (Official Navy Photograph)

A winter wheat crop of a billion bushels, the largest in the nation's history, was forecast last week by C. M. Gavin, crop expert. If the crop comes up to the estimate it will be the first time that the winter wheat harvest in this country has gone above a billion. The record of 873 million bushels last year was harvested.

Greatest Rainfall Recorded in Foard County in May Since 1941; Wheat Will Be Ready to Harvest Last of Month

During the month of May 9.18 inches of rain has been recorded by the Government gauge at the Crowell State Bank. Precipitation in other parts of the county has been even greater, having amounted to fourteen inches in the neighborhood of the W. W. Kimsey farm, it has been reported.

In May, 1941, one of the wettest months ever recorded, the rainfall was 9.98 inches. The bumper wheat crop that year was greatly damaged by the extreme

Baccalaureate Services Held Sunday Evening

The baccalaureate services for the Senior Class of Crowell High School were held Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist Church with Rev. N. B. Moon, pastor of the First Baptist Church, preaching the baccalaureate sermon.

The services were held in a beautiful setting seldom equalled in a like service. The class colors of red and white prevailed in all the decorations. Arrangements of candles in attractive candelabra were used at the rear of the choir, on the chancel rail, in the windows and the reserved seats for the honored class were tied off with red and white bows and tall candles marked the space. Candle light provided the only light for the service. Red and white flowers in beautiful arrangements completed the decoration. A flood light was directed on the class members as they marched in to take their places.

Mrs. Arnold Rucker played the processional and Betty Barker, member of the Freshman class, played accompaniment for the songs, which were provided by the Intermediate Chorus under the direction of Miss Cora Carter. Three songs were sung by the chorus, "The Lord is My Shepherd" was sung as a duet by Misses Bobbie Ruth Abston and Rozella Autry.

Rev. D. D. Denison, pastor of the Methodist Church, gave the invocation and the chorus sang a response. Rev. Denison also pronounced the benediction. Rev. Moon, with a text from Jeremiah 45:5, "And seekest thou great things for thyself, seek them not," admonished the graduates to make the most of what they have and to develop in a Christian way, always having Christ for their leader. His sermon was timely and thought-provoking and appreciated by the seniors and large crowd of listeners.

Mrs. Rucker also played the recessional.

Teen Agers, Notice

Those in authority state that all Canteen members must abide by the new rule adopted, and must not go to the Canteen Hall except on Friday nights during Canteen hours. They are asked to strictly abide by this rule.

The American Legion has been very generous with the meeting place and it is appreciated and the Teen-agers are urged to go to the hall only on Friday night and no other time.

IT'S PLANTING TIME

Parsons purchased his farm through the aid of a Veterans Administration approved loan and has been attending a federally sponsored vocational agriculture class.

wet weather and high winds. Worms also did heavy damage to what appeared to be prospects for the best yield per acre in the history of the county. The county received over 25 inches of rain during the first five months of 1941.

During May, 1946, the precipitation was 3.56 inches, according to the Government gauge.

After almost two weeks of rain and stormy weather, the clouds cleared away Tuesday of this week and a norther blew up during the day. Wednesday was clear and cool and prospects for fair weather for harvest appear favorable at the present time. Wheat acreage in the county at this time promises an abundant yield.

Heavy damage to many fields was caused last week when a hail storm which originated in the Antelope Flat community in Knox County swept over many fields in the south part of the county, extending east to grain fields south of Thalia. A total loss was reported in many instances.

Foard County grain is expected to be ready to harvest the latter part of May or the first of June. The elevators of the county have been repaired and are ready for business. New combines are being sold and old combines and trucks are being repaired for the harvest season. Combines and trucks are also being moved in from distant points to assist in taking care of the big crop. Harvest in the nation starts in Foard County and the immediate vicinity.

World War Service Books Yet Unsold

The Foard County News has about 75 World War II Service Books that have not been sold and anyone who wants a book is urged to look after this matter at an early date. If these books are not sold within a reasonable time, it will be necessary to return them to the publishers. So if you desire one, please get it at once.

There are several photographs remaining in this office which we would be glad for the owners to call for.

M. F. Crowell Has Moved Into New Brick Building

M. F. Crowell has moved his offices for his oil business into the new 50-foot front building next to the Crowell Service Station on the south side of the square. The Crowell Radio Service, owned and operated by Marion Crowell, has also been moved into the rear of the building where comfortable and efficient quarters have been prepared for the radio shop.

THE STRAN-STEEL "Quonset 40"

We'll tell you what this famous "Quonset 40" has to offer, and let you decide whether it "has what it takes" to increase the value, productivity and efficiency of your farm operations.

- SPACE: The "Quonset 40" is 40 feet wide and as long as you want it—40 x 40, 40 x 60, 40 x 80, 40 x 100, and so forth. Interior is clear-span, so that every inch of space is usable.
- LOW COST: The "Quonset 40" is the first high-quality steel building to be made available at low cost. This is made possible by the unmatched efficiency of the Stran-Steel framing system, with its nailing groove that permits siding and roofing to be nailed directly to the framing members.
- DURABILITY: The "Quonset 40" is framed with steel and covered with steel to give you the sturdiest, most durable building ever produced for the farm. It is fire-safe, sag-proof, rot-proof, warp-proof—strong with the uniform strength of steel.
- PROVED IN USE: Tens of thousands of "Quonsets" have been produced by Great Lakes Steel Corporation to meet the needs of the armed forces in all climates.

"Quonset 20": Here are the same features and advantages as in the "Quonset 40" in a smaller building—20' wide and as long as you want it. Framed with durable Stran-Steel.

"Quonset 24": This adaptable, 24'-wide building is available with open side—with sliding doors—or with solid side panels. It provides an ideal building for many farm uses.

Gary Cooper-Jean Arthur in DeMille's "The Plainsman"

Seasons in the Argentine are the opposite to those in the United States, winter being from June to September.

The largest public library in the world is the New York Public Library. It contains 8,730,000 volumes.

The tender love which existed between two of the hardest characters of the old West, "Wild Bill" Hickok, hard-shooting exponent of law-and-order as the newly-opened territory knew it, and "Calamity Jane," a beauty who drove a six-horse stagecoach is packed a pair of six-guns and the basis of Cecil B. DeMille's revised screen masterpiece, "The Plainsman," which begins on Sunday, May 25, at the Rialto Theatre.

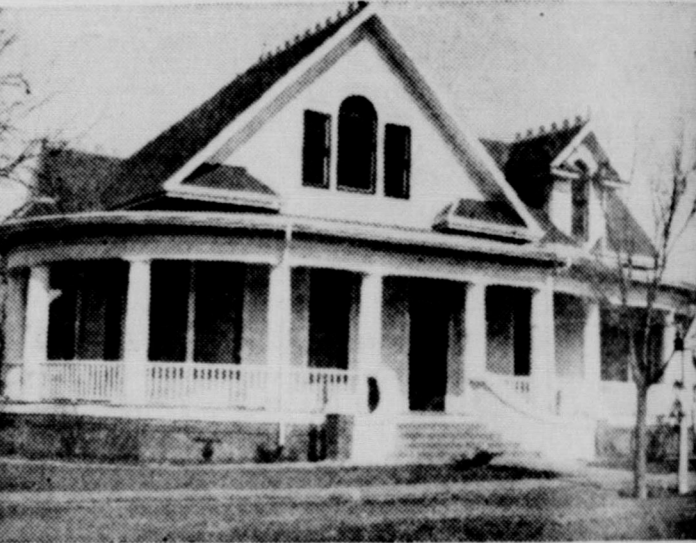

History relates how Hickok, played by Gary Cooper, was retained by the government to investigate gun-running in the West because he was the most-feared character of a region known for its hard men.

It also relates that Hickok never wounded an adversary. It was always a sure hit, and with this reputation as his letter of introduction, the handsome soldier-of-fortune went into the Far West to find out who was selling rifles to the Indians in violation of a government order.

On the way he meets the beautiful "Calamity Jane," so named by a troop of soldiers who found her as a child in the wilderness beside the bodies of her dead parents—killed by Indians. They never knew her real name and she was, indeed, a child of calamity.

During 1944 some 171,171 persons died from cancer in the United States.

My nieces and nephews know that figures tell the truth when the figures deal with the results of systematic savings through the Payroll Savings Plan. Take a look at this chart. Circle the figure you need to achieve some goal for yourself or your family. Then move over to the column which tells you how much you need to save each week in U. S. Savings Bonds to attain your objective. The whole thing is as simple as adding one to three, because Uncle Sam pays you an extra dollar for every $3 you pay in Series E Savings Bonds when you hold the Bonds to maturity 10 years hence.

For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through him might be saved.—John 3:17.

Six thousand German girls are on their way to this country to become the wives of American soldiers.

Russia, all through the peace proceedings, has acted like the disagreeable little boy who owns the bat and the ball, and who, unless he can have his way, will take his bat and ball and go home. In fact Russia reminds a good many people today of the way the Congress of the United States acted in the matter of the League of Nations. If Russia should refuse entirely to enter world peace negotiations she would be paralleling our actions after World War I.

In the old readers that our grandparents used there was a picture of Atlas holding up the world. Holding up the world was a big job in those days but nothing to what it is today. Our grandparents little dreamed as they watched old Atlas bending under the load that Uncle Sam would one day relieve him of his burden and give old tired Atlas a rest. The thought causes us to wonder what has become of old Atlas and what is he doing now.

Our dollar which now has an actual purchasing power of 65 cents when we exchange it for groceries, clothing and furniture, is scheduled to increase in purchasing power. It is predicted that by the end of the year our dollar will be worth 75 cents in purchasing power.

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

The county in which I live has a real live problem of good roads. Under the law the levy is limited. The result is that all the money that can be collected by taxes through regular channels is not enough to provide for the regular functions of general county government and leave anything like enough for the construction of roads and bridges. The only means by which additional funds can be raised under the law is by the issuance of bonds. Before such a bond issue can be floated an election must be held and a favorable vote secured.

Because that is true in the matter of good roads in my county is also true in most other counties of this country, it might be that a discussion of the matter as it pertains to my county might apply to other counties.

The amount set aside for roads in my county is the same that was set aside forty years ago. Forty years ago it provided fairly well for the type of roads that were necessary in that day. But conditions have changed a great deal in the last forty years and a different type of road is needed than was needed then. The roads needed today cost a great deal more money than did the roads and the bridges of the horse and buggy days.

If my county ever has adequate roads it is going to have to raise its sights and provide a different type of budget. It is going to have to realize that a horse and buggy budget will not build nor support modern automobile and truck roads.

If a bond issue, adequate to build the needed road system in my county were presented, it would in all likelihood be voted down for the reason that most people will tell you that taxes are already too high and that the county cannot afford to spend the money necessary.

To accept this as final is to give up and say that the community is never going to have roads because they cost too much and the people cannot pay for them.

I think that very often it is true that a community cannot afford more taxes. Just as often I think it is true that the problem is not one of spending more one does spend for a different purpose but of spending the money wisely. For example my county spends something like $135,000 a year for cigarettes. This amount would help materially in promoting a modern road program.

I do not mean by this that smokers in my county should all quit smoking and devote the money to good roads, not at all.

What I do mean to say is that while my county would turn down a bond issue that would cost $50,000 a year to retire on the basis that it could not afford it, it would turn around and spend almost three times as much for a smoke.

The point I want to make is that good roads in my county and many other counties like it are possible, if we think they are, and are willing to pay the price.

If our county is a modern community it has the resources to build for itself a modern road system if it has the will and the foresight and the vision to do it—because like other counties like it that are limping along on an obsolete antiquated road program—it has the money if it is willing to spend it for that purpose. The question is one of choosing what we are willing to spend our money for—roads—or something else.

Washington News

By Congressman Ed Gossett, 13 District of Texas.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Two notable events occurred in Washington this week which have been most pleasing to many of us. One was the President's signing the Portal to Portal bill, i. e., the bill which outlaws 98 per cent of portal to portal suits now pending; the other was the action of the Supreme Court in upholding the so-called Southern governors case for freight rate equality. The first bill introduced by me upon coming to Congress was one seeking to remove freight rate discrimination against the South and West. During each session of Congress, I have joined others in introducing such legislation. In many speeches and articles I have condemned this economic handicap imposed on the people of Texas and others outside the official zone of the Northeast. We have been ridiculed by the so-called freight rate experts and by the railroad lobby generally. Two years ago the Interstate Commerce Commission, after long and extensive hearings, handed down a decision holding that the alleged discrimination did exist, and that there was no justification for such unequal freight rates. The actions of the railroad lobbyists and their "experts" became exceedingly red. Among other things, the railroads have always contended that it costs more to move freight in the Southwest than in the Northeast. Non-partisan studies have shown the exact reverse to be true. Now that the federal courts, including the highest court of the land, have upheld our contention, we have upheld the Interstate Commerce Commission in this matter, it appears that at long last we are going to secure some equality in transportation charges.

Under the law passed by Congress last year, all persons lobbying in Washington are required to register with the Congress and file quarterly reports. The reports filed in Congress this week show that organized labor maintains the largest lobby, with 75 paid workers on the rolls. Incidentally, the next largest lobby is the so-called DP (displaced persons) lobby. Millions of dollars are now being spent by numerous organizations and individuals on propaganda to break down our immigration walls. This DP lobby wants us to bring into this country hundreds of thousands of refugees from the DP camps of Europe. This is one of the most dangerous and vicious programs ever instigated in this country. It is supported by many humanitarian organizations that do not know what they are doing. We maintain 299 DP camps in our occupied zone of Europe. Of the 800,000 persons we are feeding in these camps, only 200,000 were displaced persons when the war ended. While there are many good people in these camps, there are also vast hords of bums, and criminals, and political conspirators of all hues. Instead of lowering the immigration barriers, this is the time to raise them. The immigrants who will come from these DP camps are not the kind that built America, but are the kind who will destroy it.

One constructive thing on which this Congress is now working, is the creation of a National Scientific Foundation. It is contemplated that such a foundation would not only carry on military research but also medical research. We spent two billion dollars to develop the atomic bomb. The same money and brains that split the atom ought to be able to find cures for cancer and many other pernicious diseases that destroy life, happiness and efficiency.

HISTORY

Dolly Madison Day — May 20: Dolly Madison was born in what is now Guilford County, North Carolina, where her parents were spending a year with an uncle. Shortly after she moved with her parents to their home in Scotchtown, Virginia. The family moved to Philadelphia in 1783. On January 7, 1790, Dolly was married to John Todd Jr., a lawyer who died on October 24, 1793. On September 15, 1794, she was married to James Madison. When President Jefferson made Madison Secretary of State, Mrs. Madison was invited to act as hostess at the White House social affairs as President Jefferson was a widower. When her husband became President in 1809 she became mistress of the White House and the leader of the social life of Washington. She filled the position of hostess with tact and skill and was noted for her charm and graciousness. When Madison's term expired he retired to his home in Montpelier, his estate in Virginia. Mrs. Madison presided over the social affairs of the home until Mr. Madison's death in 1836. She returned to Washington the next year and again became a notable social figure until her death twelve years later.

There are two classes of people in this world: Those who like rhabarbar and those who don't. If you are one of the latter group there is no use trying to learn to like it. It can't be done. You either like it or you don't and that is all there is to it.

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

Texas educational institutions, particularly vocational schools concerned with veteran training, today enjoy a particularly advantageous position for securing of critically needed machine tools according to an announcement made last week by Duncan D. Myers, chief of the Public Interest division of the Grand Prairie regional office of War Assets Administration.

Machine tools, such as boring, honing, drilling, milling, riveting, screw and rivet setting machines, along with various types of grinders and lathes, are available in a two million dollar offering for purchase by educational institutions at a substantial discount from present fair market value.

This past week vocational schools of Upshur County, the first to take advantage of the offering, had set aside for their purchase, vital equipment which originally cost the government approximately $60,000, and which the schools are to acquire for $3,000. School authorities are urged to contact the Customer Service Division of WAA at Grand Prairie where in inspection of the equipment available can be made.

Texas farm and construction men will have a competitive opportunity for $50,000 worth of agricultural and road building machinery offered without priority by WAA until May 14. Among the items are a spreader, a road maintainer, four tractors, a road scraper and a road roller. The equipment is located at 10 army installations. Inspection may be arranged through contact with WAA Customer Service Center at Grand Prairie, Texas.

Summer is coming on and insect repellents for sale until May 14 by WAA are coming in handy during those months. Listed for sale at the same time are soap, vises, wrenches and other hardware items.

North Camp hood at Killeen, Texas, has declared enough tenting as surplus property to make a tented city of no mean population. Almost 7,000 shelter-halves, machine sewed and all water-proofed, are among the lot. Inquiry concerning these may be made through the Grand Prairie regional office of War Assets Administration.

The entire water and sewer disposal system, one frame warehouse, and 290 acres of land of the Hearne, Texas, Prisoner of War Camp will be transferred to the city of Hearne for $24,200. Hearne, which is adjacent to the camp, will use the water system to service 2,700 persons, or 45 per cent of the town's population, living in the northwest section of the city.

Texas Technological College at Lubbock, Texas, is in process of acquiring a long term revocable lease on 8,500 acres of grazing and farm land at the Pantex Ordnance plant near Amarillo. It is proposed that the lease run for seven years for $10,465 per year less "public benefit allowances." The College will use this land to conduct experiments on cattle grazing on green wheat in connection with a study of bovine diseases. Texas A. & M. College will co-operate with Texas Tech in the project but will not be a party to the lease, it was said.

The economic experts agree that the end of the post-war boom is in sight. The time is not far ahead when rising prices will give way to lower prices, and when unemployment will increase. The beginning of the turn is expected by mid-year. Reductions as follows are expected: Clothing 15 per cent, shoes 30 per cent, homes 25 to 30 per cent.

AGRICULTURE in County

(Joe E. Burkett, County Agent) ANOTHER PARASITE

Texas stockmen may have another cattle parasite problem on their hands.

In a report received by the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, state that they have discovered in Florida an African cattle parasite, the "tail louse." The scientists say that heavy infestations of the lice can be a serious threat to cattle production. The lice sap the vitality and can make them too weak to walk if infested heavily.

How the louse got to the United States is a question, the entomologists say. Previously, it was known to exist only in West Africa, where it was discovered in 1915. It has been most recently reported in Texas.

The lice infest the brush of the animal's tail, and Florida cattlemen have named it the "tail louse." Stockmen can recognize serious infestations by the matted appearance of the animal's tail.

The USDA entomologists say that sprays containing 1.5 per cent DDT, in a wettable powder form, have proved to be effective means of controlling the louse. They state that although the tail is the central point where the lice gather, spraying the entire animal thoroughly is advisable. One and one-half to two pints of spray per animal is usually enough to do the job.

DDT and Beef Production

A pound of DDT is worth 2,000 pounds of beef to the Texas stockman during fly season this year.

A tall statement? Entomologist Charles A. King Jr., of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, says "figure it up yourself." One pound of wettable DDT powder, fixed in 25 gallons of water, will spray about 25 head of cattle. Stockmen who have used DDT spray the past two years will testify that beef animals will put on an average of 80 pounds of flesh as a result of thoroughly spraying throughout the fly season. When 25 head gain 80 pounds, that's 2,000 pounds of beef from one pound of DDT.

King says that the fly season is getting underway now, and experienced stockmen are checking up on spraying equipment and DDT supplies. Four pounds of wettable DDT powder at a strength of .2 of one per cent, mixed in 100 gallons of water, is the spray to use. When to spray: King says "let the flies tell you." If the pests are thick, the spray is needed. A lot of factors enter into the "when to spray" picture.

Often the treatment holds flies in check for months, but a heavy rain can mean the job needs re-doing after a ten-day period.

Dairymen also have an opportunity to cash in on DDT, King says. After spraying barns and cows, dairy farmers have reported a 5 to 15 per cent boost in milk production.

Green Pastures For Poultry

Yes, says Ted Martin, poultry husbandman of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. While chickens and turkeys are not ordinarily put in a class with grazing animals, explains Martin, tests have shown that when they get the chance, poultry will get as much as 20 per cent of their feed requirement from green feed. Since feed can generally be produced most economically in the form of pasture than in any other way, cutting down feed costs is reason enough to provide pasture for poultry.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION

Insure your Wheat Crop against HAIL now and make it safe.

See Leo Spencer or Nelson Oliphant Phone 56 Office North Side of Square

But Martin says there are other advantages to be had from growing green poultry feed.

All poultrymen agree that there is no question about the value of Vitamin A in the feed of all classes of poultry, Martin says, and fresh green feed is probably the most dependable and economical source of Vitamin A. Barley, oats, sudan grass, and similar crops can be grown for year-around grazing in nearly all parts of Texas. These pastures will need mowing often, however, to keep the plants from becoming hard and woody.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 4

Proposing an amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by the addition of two new sections to be known as Sections 17 and 18 providing a special fund for the payment of Confederate pensions and providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at state institutions of higher learning; providing for a five-cent reduction in the maximum allowable state tax on property; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Sections 17 and 18 which shall read as follows:

"Section 17. In lieu of the state ad valorem tax on property of Seven (7c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 51 of Article 3, as amended, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas as a state ad valorem tax on property of Two (2c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations, and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate hereinabove levied.

"Also, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the constitution of Texas, a state ad valorem tax on property of Five (5c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping buildings, or other permanent improvements at the designated institutions of higher learning; and the governing board of each of such institutions of higher learning is fully authorized by the constitution of this institution as hereinafter provided, to secure bonds or notes issued for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping such buildings or other permanent improvements at said respective institutions. Such bonds or notes shall be issued in such amounts as may be determined by the governing boards of said respective institutions, shall bear interest not to exceed three (3%) per cent per annum and shall mature serially or otherwise not to exceed ten (10) years from the first (1st) day of January of each year in which such funds are allocated or re-allocated to said respective institutions; provided, the power to issue bonds or notes hereunder is expressly limited to a period of thirty (30) years from the date of the adoption of this amendment; and provided further, that the Five (5c) Cent tax hereby levied shall expire finally upon payment of all bonds hereunder authorized; provided further, that the state tax on property as heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 9 of Article VIII, as amended, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed Thirty (30c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation. All bonds shall be examined and approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, and when so approved shall be incontestable; and all approved bonds shall be registered in the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. Said bonds shall be sold only through competitive bids and shall never be sold for less than their par value and accrued interest.

Veterans News

Texas and Louisiana are among the 2 states with which the Veterans Administration now has contracts providing for state approval and supervision of establishments that provide on-the-job training for veterans.

The responsibility for approving and supervising job-training in industrial and other establishments rests with state approval agencies under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill).

Recently, Congress authorized VA to reimburse the states for their services and VA thus far has obligated approximately $5,500,000 for the current fiscal year ending next June 30 for this purpose.

Under the contracts, the states approve applications of establishments for on-the-job training after determining that the establishment meets certain basic training requirements.

These include: (1) The training must be adequate to qualify the veteran for the job he is training for; (2) there must be reasonable certainty that the job for which the veteran is training will be available to him at end of the training period; (3) progression in the job must be based upon skills learned rather than factors such as length of service and normal turnover; (4) adequate records of progress by the veteran must be kept.

World War II veterans with 90 days of active service and a discharge other than dishonorable are eligible to apply for education and training under the GI Bill. Those with less than 90 days of service are eligible if they were discharged for a service-connected disability.

Applications from disabled World War II veterans in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi for rehabilitation are coming into the Veterans Administration at the rate of more than 3,000 a month, VA reported this week.

Many of these cases are severe. Disabled men who are just now being discharged from military hospitals, VA said, indicating that the real job of restoring war injured to employability is only beginning.

VA is already supervising the education or training of more than 21,000 disabled veterans in the three states. More than 200,000 non-disabled veterans are training or going to school in the Dallas Branch Area.

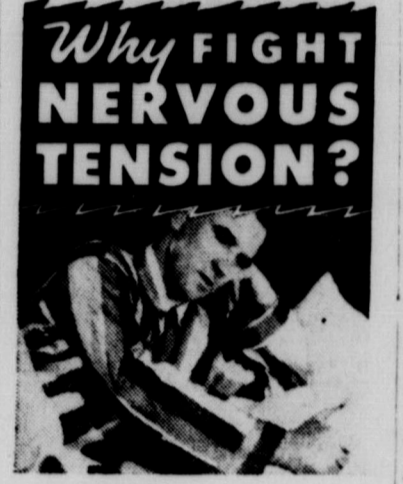

Congress has directed that VA rehabilitation program for disabled veterans within four years of training but allows extension of this time in exceptional cases. A further indication that the rehabilitation program for disabled World War II veterans is in its infancy is the fact that only 53 of the more than 14,000 disabled veterans training in Texas have progressed to the point where VA considers them completely rehabilitated.

President of U. S. Inspires a Title

For the first time in Hollywood history, the title of a motion picture has been suggested by the President of the United States.

The picture is "The Beginning or the End," M-G-M's stirring story of the atom bomb, which will be shown at the Rialto Theatre. It is based on President Truman's speech in which he declared that the releasing of atomic energy can mean "the beginning or the end" of the human race.

It was some time later, however, that the President repeated himself and unwittingly supplied the film's title.

As soon as the picture was proposed, Producer Samuel Marx flew to Washington, D. C., where he conferred with all military and scientific leaders of the bomb project, and finally discussed the matter for an hour with President Truman himself.

As Marx was taking his leave, the President bade him to make a real motion picture, one that will show the people of the world the beautiful or the tragic future that can be theirs.

Said the President: "It is their choice to make - it is to be the beginning or the end?"

B. & P. W. CLUB

The home of Mrs. M. O'Connell was the scene of a delightful covered dish dinner given by the members of the Business and Professional Women last Thursday evening with Mrs. Mae Solomon, Mrs. Inez Spencer and Mrs. Ura Orr as hostesses.

Games of forty-two and bridge provided diversion following the dinner. Eleven members and one guest, Mrs. Wilma Jo Russell, of Woodland, Calif., were present.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

A regular meeting of the Adelpian Club was held on May 14 at the Club House with Mrs. Grady Graves and Mrs. Doyle Kerner as hostesses.

The American Home program featured a demonstration by Wm. Cameron Lumber Co. Mrs. L. A. Andrews presented the local manager, Virgil Smith, and his wife, who gave interesting ideas on the modern trend in home building.

Mrs. Smith spoke of the things to be considered in the selection of a suitable location for the new home. As Mr. Smith showed picture slides of many exterior and interior views of homes, Mrs. Smith pointed out the attractive and convenient features which made each a typical modern home. New types of wall paper now available were displayed and helpful hints on the selection of the proper paper were given. A number of useful gifts were given away at the demonstration.

After adjournment, a delicious refreshment plate was served to twenty-seven members.

Whatever the weatherman may say, indisputable proof that spring is truly here and summer is on the way comes from the ever-faithful circus, most reliable harbinger of fair weather to come. Sprung up between showings, the circus maintains its luster for young and old, and one way it does it shown here. Prompt Diagnosis of Communicable Diseases Advisable

Austin.—If every case of suspected communicable disease could be promptly visited either by the family physician or the local health officer, thousands of susceptible persons would be protected from disabling illnesses, according to the State Health Officer.

To quote Dr. Geo. W. Cox, "The old-fashioned theory that it is a good thing for children to have a number of the catching diseases and get them over with, has long since been known to be a serious and sometimes fatal error. The longer a child can keep from having these diseases, the better it is for him. Every child should be completely protected by vaccination or inoculation against any such diseases where an immunity can be produced."

Prompt diagnosis, isolation, good medical and nursing care give the patient the best chance for a satisfactory recovery without the serious complications that sometimes accompany even the mild forms of communicable diseases. Dr. Cox emphasized that obeying the public health laws regarding isolation and quarantine of communicable diseases protects not only the patient, but helps prevent others from contracting the illness.

"The State Health Department," Dr. Cox said, "is doing everything in its power to protect the health of the people of Texas. The co-operation of every individual in protecting his own health, and that of his community, will do more than anything else to help check the spread of communicable diseases."
