Time to Fight Cattle Grubs

Cattle grubs annually cost U. S. livestock producers between 100 and 300 million dollars, says Joe Burkett, County Agent.

Losses to meat packers result from the carcass devaluation and trimming and hide damage, according to Burkett. Losses on the farm and ranch result from skin irritation, nervousness of the animals, below normal weight gains and lowered milk production.

Cattle grubs may be controlled by conventional spray applications or pour-on or backline treatment. All grub insecticides should be used between the time heel fly activities cease in the spring and before the grubs appear in the backs of the animals, he adds.

In Ford County, the systems may be used between May 1 and August 1. Co-ral and Ruelene may be used as sprays or as pour-on insecticides and Co-ral may also be used as a dip. Ronnel (Trolene) is a systemic and may be fed to the animals in the normal feeding operation either in the feed or in mineral. It is pointed out that these materials should be used only on beef animals or dry dairy cows.

For detailed information on the mixing and application rates of these insecticides, study the label instructions. Burkett recommends that precautions concerning their use on young and sick animals be particularly observed. Well organized area-wide cattle grub control programs give the best results, the agent says. By regular and effective treatment of all cattle in an area or county, the amount of reinestation and spring and summer annoyance from heel flies will be reduced.

Instead of Going Socialistic

"Instead of going socialistic, why not get to bed at a reasonable hour, get up early, bathe, shave, put on clean clothes, eat a leisurely breakfast, and get to the job without rushing? I try it occasionally, and it makes me feel good all day."—Electra, Texas, Star-News.

Religion of Failures

Don't think the danger of Communism is only from Russia. Men and women who are failures will always try to tear you down to their level, and communism promises them that chance. They label themselves; here's who they are: . . . politicians who promote government ownership of the means of production—the never failing opening wedge of the communist state. . . . those who urge us not to "antagonize" Russia and her friends, but to "get along with" them (which means giving in to them). . . . the greedy who say "the state" should educate and feed them, guarantee them security without obligation. The price of these double-sounding ideas is loss of liberty bit by bit.

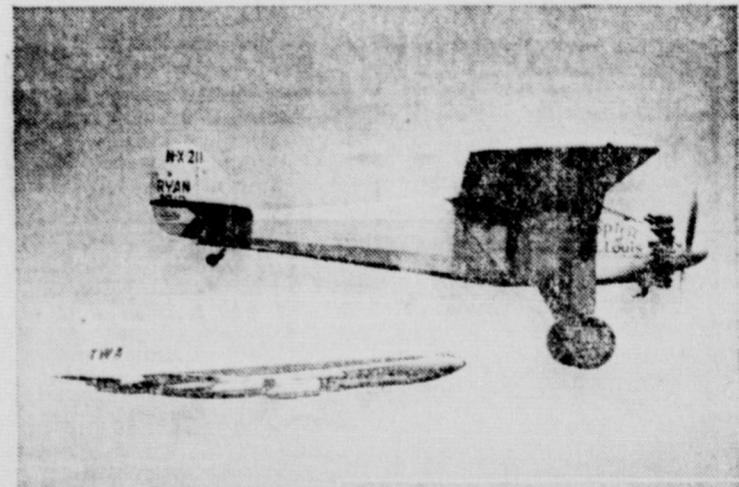

Americans are rewarded with self-respect when they work for what they receive. Communism rewards with petty power the failures who destroy. Watch for them!—The Scandal Sheet.

News items below were taken from the Friday, July 15, 1932, issue of The Foard County News:

Approximately 450,000 bushels of 1932 Foard County wheat had been purchased by elevator operators and grain men of this county up to Thursday afternoon.

Whatever may happen, the wheat farmers of this section will at least have plenty of flour for some time to come. Enough wheat has already been received at the flour mill of T. P. Duncan & Son of this city to make over two hundred thousand pounds of flour on an exchange basis, according to T. P. Duncan Jr., manager of the mill.

Foard County Mill	10	6	.625

If someone—at the start of the current season—had sat down and planned it all out on paper, he couldn't have figured a tighter race than this one. With the final week of regularly scheduled games being almost history as you read this column, it is impossible—as we go to press—to tell who will be the 1962 champ!

What happens when the irresistible force meets the immovable object? Something's gotta give? Nope, not in Little League. We saw this fact illustrated last Friday night when Farmers Elevator and Rotary played to a 9-9 tie. It was, I'm thinkin', just poetic justice. Each team was just too good to lose! Why didn't they play the game out to a conclusion? For two reasons: L. L. rules say no inning will start after 9:30. And pitcher rules prohibit a pitcher pitching more than 6 innings in any one week.

NOW WE KNOW DEPT.—Crowell's All-Stars will play Rule (at Munday) on Friday night week (one week from tomorrow night) at 8 p. m. They drew a bye in the first round. If they can knock off Rule they will be in the tournament finals against the winner of the Haskell, Knox City, Munday bracket, and here's the list of all-stars, chosen last Friday night in the smoothest balloting of all time:

Buddy Myers, Steve Gray, Ronny Eavenson, Daniel Santos, Rocky Wisdom, Bob Bird, Charles Nichols, Joe Ray Burkett, Davis Barrera, Lynn Rader, Joe Mike Fish, Larry Hughston, Gary Toie and Larry McBeath. You will notice that each man is twelve years old this year.

This team will be under the guidance of Hub Fish and Gordon Bell, the managers who won the local league championship 1 year ago. This looks like a truly "dream team" with eight of the fourteen being veterans of last year's tourney. We should have the largest crowd of backers going down to Munday with this team that we've ever assembled for Little League. Help the kids win this tournament, then go on into the next one!

Appreciation Dept.: My especial thanks to Bill Nichols and Bud McLain for their fine work in writing and announcing last week. Also to Jean Smith, Mrs. Robert Hammonds, Mrs. Tanner and Mrs. fice with the Cowboy Band in order to make a tour with them.

Mrs. Clint Simmons and Mrs. Grover Nichols and daughter, Lois, visited in Medicine Mounds Wednesday.

Skellneger, Gail Smith and Jean Burkett for passing the money jugs... also to Bro. Homer Stephens of Truscott and Bro. White of Thalia for leading our invocations, and a great big tip-of-the-hat to Frank Cooper who came through with free ice cream for both teams on that 9-9 tie game!

Census Bureau Is Always on the Job

Contrary to popular belief, the U. S. Census Bureau does not fold its tents and fade away between the big 10-year population and housing counts, according to Director James W. Stroud of the Bureau's permanent regional field office at Dallas. The Dallas region covers the States of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

Mr. Stroud points out that nine major censuses will be conducted between now and the next decennial census in 1970. The first of these major censuses will be the 1962 Census of Governments which is conducted every five years. Then comes the five-year Census of Business, Manufacturing and Mineral Industries. These will be taken in 1964 and 1969, covering business operations in 1963 and 1968 respectively. The Census of Agriculture will be conducted in 1964 and 1969.

In addition to these major censuses, the Bureau carried out a wide variety of current surveys on a monthly, quarterly, and annual basis. Topics covered in the current surveys include employment and unemployment, population characteristics, health, housing, retail and wholesale trade, manufacturing, and related subjects. The purpose of the current surveys is to supplement and keep up to date the detailed information collected in the major censuses.

Social Security Change to Aid Farm Landlords

A recent change in the social security law has made hundreds of farm landlords eligible for benefits although they do not materially participate in the actual operation of their farms.

Under this new provision, a farm landlord may get social security credit for his net income from a farm he owns even if his participation in the operation of the farm is through an agent or an employee.

Formerly, a farm landlord had to take a personal part in the actual operation or management of the farm in order to have his income from the farm count for social security.

The Wichita Falls social security district office will be glad to answer any question about the recent change in the law. For a copy of booklet OASD-1 which explains "material participation" in detail, The address is 411 Federal Building, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Income Taxes—U. S.

When we adopted the tax 48 years ago, a married man earning $5,000 a year paid $1,000 in taxes. The rate was 1 per cent with a first $4,000 exempt. The earning $20,000 to $50,000 was taxed at 2 per cent and the tax on $50,000 was $25,000.

Now the $5,000 married man pays $1,020 and the $50,000 man pays $404,640. How much can we get?—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Game Exchanges Benefit Texas' Wildlife Program

Texas, with an abundance of wildlife, is making it possible for other states, and even other countries, to establish certain species of game. This is revealed in a report of H. D. Dodges, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, in advising members of the Commission of records of game species shipped to other areas.

Mostly, the Texas-bred wildlife has consisted of deer, turkey, javelina, and raccoon. At the same time, Texas has received from other areas several game species, in an attempt to get them started in this state.

The shipment of game from Texas is a part of an exchange program adopted several years ago by the Game Commission. Under this program, it is possible for Texas to exchange species which are in adequate supply with other states, for species in short supply or nonexistent in Texas. Expenses of the exchange are always borne by the state or country receiving the game from Texas. By the same token, this state assumes expense of any species brought into the state.

Since 1946 there have been 1940 Texas white-tailed deer shipped to seven states, the Virgin Islands, the Dominican Republic, Cuba, Mexico, and Guam. Since 1949, there have been 1669 turkeys shipped to 15 states, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, and Mexico. Since 1957, 122 javelinas have been sent to three states, and to Mexico. Between 1947 and 1950, three states received 703 raccoons.

Since 1949, the Texas Commission has received from other states 45 muskrats, 32 moths, 77 prairie chickens, 17 sage grouse, 419 Gambel's quail, 44 woodcock, 98 beaver, 741 skunk, 56 wild turkey, and an indefinite number of Coturnia quail, and red-legged and grey francolin partridges.

An additional number of protected game birds and animals has been taken by permit for zoological gardens in various sections of the United States. Museums continue to request dead specimens, study skins, and skeletons for taxonomic purposes.

Most of the deer trapped and sent to other areas were taken on the Aransas Wildlife Refuge, which is federally owned and on which the Game Commission is licensed to operate. A number of the deer and turkey also were taken from the King Ranch.

Indifference to Cause Federal Licensing of Drivers, Says Paper

"Indifference of state officials to the slaughter of 38,000 a year on our highways is paving the way to the licensing of drivers by Washington—and traffic enforcement by federal police—Arizona's Paul Fansin has told a conference of Western governors. But Commerce Secretary Hodges hinted at it "way last winter. If we want a Federal police force with national jurisdiction, all we have to do is—nothing. If we don't, we'd better crank up our state traffic control machinery and start weeding out unfit drivers. This can only be done by hard-boiled examination and periodic re-examination, both physical and mental. And time is running out." Jeffersonian.

It's All Our Fault

"Russian Premier Khrushchev, in announcing the recent kind-meet hikes in the cost of butter, meat and other staple food products, told the Russian people that the whole thing was America's fault. The fact is that the food shortages in the countries behind the iron curtain have become so alarming that even Communist double talk cannot hide the seriousness of the situation. This has forced Mr. K to talk loud and fast and the only safe place for him to put the blame is on the United States. So why the increased cost of butter and meat? It's all our fault!"—Alma, Mich., Record.

Game Exchanges Benefit Texas' Wildlife Program

Texas, with an abundance of wildlife, is making it possible for other states, and even other countries, to establish certain species of game. This is revealed in a report of H. D. Dodges, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, in advising members of the Commission of records of game species shipped to other areas.

Mostly, the Texas-bred wildlife has consisted of deer, turkey, javelina, and raccoon. At the same time, Texas has received from other areas several game species, in an attempt to get them started in this state.

The shipment of game from Texas is a part of an exchange program adopted several years ago by the Game Commission. Under this program, it is possible for Texas to exchange species which are in adequate supply with other states, for species in short supply or nonexistent in Texas. Expenses of the exchange are always borne by the state or country receiving the game from Texas. By the same token, this state assumes expense of any species brought into the state.

Since 1946 there have been 1940 Texas white-tailed deer shipped to seven states, the Virgin Islands, the Dominican Republic, Cuba, Mexico, and Guam. Since 1949, there have been 1669 turkeys shipped to 15 states, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, and Mexico. Since 1957, 122 javelinas have been sent to three states, and to Mexico. Between 1947 and 1950, three states received 703 raccoons.

Since 1949, the Texas Commission has received from other states 45 muskrats, 32 moths, 77 prairie chickens, 17 sage grouse, 419 Gambel's quail, 44 woodcock, 98 beaver, 741 skunk, 56 wild turkey, and an indefinite number of Coturnia quail, and red-legged and grey francolin partridges.

An additional number of protected game birds and animals has been taken by permit for zoological gardens in various sections of the United States. Museums continue to request dead specimens, study skins, and skeletons for taxonomic purposes.

Most of the deer trapped and sent to other areas were taken on the Aransas Wildlife Refuge, which is federally owned and on which the Game Commission is licensed to operate. A number of the deer and turkey also were taken from the King Ranch.
