The Muleshoe Jaycees are celebrating a special week from today (Sunday) through next Saturday. They will be holding the annual observance of Jaycee Week. The late Henry Giessenbier Jr. was the founder and first president of the United States Jaycees. He began the civic organization in 1920 in Kansas City, Mo.

When the group was organized he dedicated the U. S. Jaycees to the individual development of the members.

Giessenbier, who died in 1935, first conceived the idea in 1915 and transformed a dancing club into the Young Men's Progressive Civic Association. This was the first Jaycee group. The name was changed to the Junior Citizens, then to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and finally in 1965, the name became the Jaycees.

Register To Vote

By Glen Williams, County Judge

The right to vote in open and free elections is one of the most sacred and important of all our rights. And January 30 is the last day to register in any election during the year 1971.

A well-informed public -- people interested in the quality of their schools, their city, county, state, and national governments -- and other important matters -- are easier to serve.

And people who EXPRESS themselves by voting can shape public affairs to their own collective liking and best interests. This is the democratic process. For it to work at its best, we must register, study the candidates, and the issues, and then VOTE.

In order to vote, however, we must first register. So, PLEASE register at the tax office in the courthouse or one of the substations at Needmore Co-op Gin in Needmore; Claunch Gin, Bula; Enochs Co-op Gin, Enochs; State Line Butane, Maple or the Goodland Gin, Goodland.

There is no cost to register.

THESE WILL HOLD A LOT OF TRASH--Like soldiers in a row are dumpsters in varied stages of completion at Ladd Engineering on West American Blvd. The engineering firm contracted with the City of Muleshoe to construct 100 dumpsters to be placed at various locations in the city to help facilitate garbage collections. A number of the completed dumpsters have been completed and placed in alleys throughout the city.

County Farm Income Increase Expected

Cash income to farmers and ranchers in Bailey County should be more than $44,364,000 by the end of 1976, according to J.K. Adams, county agricultural agent.

This will be an increase of more than $19,188,000 from 1966-69 figures, with cotton contributing a large part of the gain, said the county agent. The projections are based on studies of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and are part of the '3,76 in '76' program, a state-wide project to increase Texas agricultural cash receipts by more than one billion dollars.

Total cash receipts from all agricultural enterprises in Bailey County are presently about $25,176,000 says Adams. The most important cash receipts are from cotton, grain sorghum and fed beef. They are expected to account for about 72 percent of the projected 1976 totals.

The county will be aided in its production efforts by the South Plains Development economic program. Extension specialists will hold a conference in the Bailey County area on April 1 to discuss improved production of cotton and feed grain.

The projections are based on estimates from the County Program Building Committee after separate predictions were made by Extension economists. The figures were published for each county, Extension district and economic area in Texas.

"Bailey County producers will have access to production information and techniques that can help spell success for the Texas goal of $3,76 billion in 1976," concluded Adams.

A program to increase Texas agricultural income by more than a billion dollars by 1976 was first announced by Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Annual goals have been determined for the various agricultural commodity groups to allow a yearly measure of the program's success.

He said that Texas presently accounts for about five percent of the total national agricultural cash receipts. But, said Dr. Hutchison, to achieve the goal of '3,76 in '76' the state must claim almost ten percent of the projected national increase in the coming years, Extension specialists

A Mule Shoe Is Sent To Cowboy Coach

Following a story which appeared in national daily newspapers last week concerning line coach Jim Myers of the Dallas Cowboys, the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce sent the coach a 'spare' mule shoe.

According to the story in the papers, Coach Myers took a mule shoe with him to Cowboy games and that each game he took the mule shoe to was won by the Cowboys. He expressed concern about losing the shoe, and losing the super bowl game today (Sunday) against the Baltimore Colts.

Jerry Hutton, manager of the local C of C wrote Myers that "We are glad to hear that a mule shoe has brought the Dallas Cowboys good luck. Everyone in Muleshoe supports the Cowboys and we would like to congratulate you on your championship team."

"To insure your win over the Baltimore Colts, we are enclosing a spare mule shoe."

Friday morning, the local chamber manager received a letter from Coach Myers and he said, "The mule shoe is happily laying beside its mate here in my room and of course I'm expecting a big victory."

"I am familiar with Muleshoe and its traditions and I wish you would pay my respects to members of the Chaspects to members of the Chamber of Commerce."

"Thanks with remembering the Cowboys with your good luck omen."

The Cowboys have been in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. during the past week practicing for the final football game of the season against the Baltimore Colts. Playing with the Cowboys and favored heavily is Duane Thomas, former player at West Texas State University, Canyon. He has proven a strong contender with the Cowboys although he is only in his first year with the Dallas team.

The deadline for registering to vote is January 31.

Liquor Application Investigation Starts

Carlos Jaramillo, state liquor control director for New Mexico, arrived in Clovis Friday morning with two assistants to begin checking into 33 applicants for the two available liquor licenses for Clovis.

He said some of the applicants did not complete their application form and he would be seeing these applicants in order to have their form completed for processing as soon as possible. According to the liquor director, he did not plan to see all 33 applicants. He will also be checking the proposed site to see if the site will conform to state rules and regulations.

The only group applying from outside the Clovis area was the application filed by Jack Zarris and Charles Plett, both of Roswell, who were in one of the two groups turned down by Clovis in the last two weeks.

CITY OF MULESHOE

Dear Editor:

I want to assure you and your readers I am not going to begin a column, spread any half-truths or make a fool out of myself and community. I just want to present some basic facts!

Where-ever I have traveled, various schools, colleges, etc., and whenever I have met other people and whatever I happen to be representing (church work, school, debate team, etc.) one thing has long ago ceased to be a surprise—people, lot's of them, know about Bailey County in general and Muleshoe, Texas in particular. This small community, in size—a thriving metropolis in heart, happens to be the rallying point of many wide and varied conversations. This is because of many reasons: our popular wild-life refuge, our well represented churches and church groups, our progressive Chamber of Commerce, our youth, our National Mule Memorial, our advanced educational district but it all is our people! I was proud to say that I was from Muleshoe, Texas home of the National Mule Memorial! They say all good things must come to an end and I can no longer say the above with 100% pride and truth anymore.

Freedom of speech is one of the most blessed in the Bill of Rights. It must never be denied or abused!

Voters in Bailey County, that is those who took the effort to vote, recently elected to provide for a Hospital District. The looser, even in a democratic election, is seldom happy. These losers were no different and the matter, in what was quite a ludicrous fashion, was taken to court where the evidence was weighed and the losers again lost. Most would stop here but one didn't. With no other mud to throw he turned to misconception and half-truth to attempt slander to one of the most respected, deserving, loving and loved men—Superintendent Neal Dillman. Always placing others first and himself second, always dedicated and devoted, Mr. Neal Dillman is truly a man of men. This same man and the superior educational system he helped to build was grossly misrepresented in this column a few days ago. When the editor of the Canyon paper called from Canyon to obtain a press, did he bother to be polite, did he attempt to understand the limited but proud facilities of Muleshoe High School, did he ever show proper courtesy—the answer is a simple but glaring NO! When he received his demanded pass did he show it as required, did he sit where room was provided—again no. He told the clock and scoreboard keeper to move from the only place where he could best see the officials signals and demanded that spot for himself! He was very upset that HIS every demand was not met and as people were filing out of the stands tromped over to Mr. Dillman and started shouting and yelling! Mr. Dillman told him "Don't jump on me IN PUBLIC, THIS ISN'T THE PLACE TO DISCUSS IT."

An attempt at slander and half-truths only serve to ignore the democratic process cloud the issues.

If the shoe fits—wear it, it's a shame that some people don't know to bend over and tie the laces.

(s) Jim Mardis
Senior '70 MHS

Dear Editor:
The people of Muleshoe are appalled when any traffic accident occurs in our town or surrounding area. After one trip to town, it is a surprise to me that there are not more traffic accidents.

On my way back from the bank, one woman backed into the lane of traffic from a parking space; one man stopped in the lane of traffic to park and then changed his mind; one car pulled across a double yellow line on Highway 84 in front of two lanes of traffic; and a pedestrian jay-walked across 84 with heavy on coming traffic.

I hope we all think about our driving the next time we get in the car. It is the driver that kills and not the car.

Sincerely,
(s) Mrs. Vera Calvert

Dear Editor:
Contrary to what some of your readers might think, I am truly concerned about the future of Bailey County and also of Muleshoe. I expect to live here the rest of my life, God willing. Just to be sure that I have not been wrong in opposing the proposed hospital district, I wrote a doctor that I have known for many years. He is middle aged and has been practicing in the same town for more than 25 years. I respect his opinion and think that he knows what he speaks. I would like to share his answer with you and your readers.

Dear Richard and family,
I can understand your reluctance to see the taxpayers in your area go into a tax supported hospital-convalescent home program. So often such programs are imposed on by the deadbeats. Certainly the least expensive way for the taxpayers to take care of the indigents in their area is to pay a privately operated institution to do so on an agreed set rate basis.

Thus, if you can work out bringing a private enterprise organization into the picture to build and operate a hospital, those who can will have to pay their own way, and the indigents are cared for by various programs—Medicaid, local taxes, etc.

The matter of building a facility to attract doctors is quite a difficult business. With all the facilities involved in the hospital care of the more complicated medical problems, a fairly large hospital patient volume is required to support managing them. Thus the smaller facilities handle the less complicated problems, and with the good transportation modes as we have today, the more complicated problems are transferred to the large institutions in the general area.

A two million dollar building program, at today's building costs and cost of all equipment involved, would set up only a small (relatively) hospital. This would attract only the doctor desiring to do General Medicine for the most part. That field is, in the present day, the one drawing the fewest number of medical graduates. And of course this is the crux of the problem as it relates to providing medical care for all the population.

Since the rest of his letter concerns other matters, I won't bore you with it, but I hope that each of your readers will take what a doctor had to say to heart. The tax supported institution is NOT THE WAY TO GO.

Yours truly,
(s) Richard E. Black

Bob Price
From Congressman

With President Nixon's signature, Congressman Bob Price of Pampa has seen his proposal to boost FHA farm real estate loan limits by 40 percent become law. Price was author of the initial legislation raising FHA farm ownership loan limits from $60,000 to $100,000.

"Now young people trying to get a start in farming, Vietnam veterans and established farmers interested in expanding their operations, will be able to look to FHA for increased financial assistance. This is of vital importance to agriculture in the Texas Panhandle, the State of Texas and other farming areas of the country," Price said.

Price stated that raising FHA loan limits for farm land purchases is an absolute necessity. "Inflation is a cancer eating away at the wealth of this nation; no person or business is exempt from its effects," he said. "If farmers are to be expected to continue to produce high quality foods and fibres at a cost to the American consumer that is lower than any time in our nation's history, then farmers will need access to expand its sources of credit which they can use to make farming operations as efficient as possible," he added.

State Rep. Clayton Returns From Meet

State Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake just returned from a two-day meeting with other state legislators in Washington, D.C., on programs and problems requiring effective working relationships between state officials and the federal government.

Rep. Clayton serves with 65 other state legislators from 37 States on the National Legislative Conference's Intergovernmental Relations Committee which met on Friday and Saturday, January 8 and 9, with Congressional and Administration officials.

As Chairman of the Committee's Task Force on Natural Resources, spent considerable time working with federal and state officials on programs affecting conservation, resources management, air and water quality, and other aspects of environmental control of importance to the States. Give-and-take discussions were conducted between Task Force members and representatives of the Federal Council on Environmental Quality, and the Environmental Protection Agency.

The Intergovernmental Relations Committee is a vehicle by which state legislators actively contribute to federal decisions having a state impact. The Committee formulates legislators' views on significant federal-state issues, and then communicates them through testimony and informal contacts to congressional committees and federal agencies.

Upon returning, Rep. Clayton noted that "because of the complexity and nature of problems facing this Nation, all levels of government must take an active part in their solution." He called for a continued reshaping of the governmental process, specifically the added perspective and increased involvement by representative groups of state legislators such as the Intergovernmental Relations Committee.

Priority issues considered by the full Committee included urban affairs, government operations, human resources, public safety, natural resources, and commerce and transportation.

The speaker at a closed luncheon session was William D. Ruckelshaus who recently was appointed Administrator of the newly-created Environmental Protection Agency. He discussed his agency's efforts to enforce air and water quality control standards and related cooperation with state officials.

Policy positions developed by the Committee will be reported in August to the annual meeting of the National Legislative Conference. The National Legislative Conference is an association of all state legislators and legislative service personnel of the fifty States.

High Plains' Jim Valliant Releases Study

In a paper to be presented to the 1971 Beltwide Cotton Production Research Conference January 12-13 in Atlanta, Ga., Jim Valliant, Director of Research, High Plains Research Foundation, points out that one of the major problems of cotton production on the High Plains is the relatively short growing season.

In his discussion, "Cotton Production as Influenced by Cultural Design in the Texas High Plains", Valliant outlines six of the cultural practices currently under study for improved cotton production at the Foundation.

Included will be production data on the interplant system, skip-row designs, solid planted cotton with every other row irrigated, solid planting and solid irrigation, solid planting with irrigation by heated water and solid planting with no summer irrigation. Valliant concludes that cultural designs had little or no effect on grade or strength of lint cotton but staple length and micronaire were influenced by the different designs. Valliant will leave Plainview Monday for the two-day conference. His paper will be presented Wednesday morning. He will return following the concluding session.

Art Association Has Program On Tie Dying

Tuesday morning at 10 the Muleshoe Art Association met in the community meeting room of the Muleshoe State Bank. Rheta White announced that due to the registration of students at West Texas State University, Dr. Caballero would be unable to come to Muleshoe. She then introduced Marilyn Green Corn, who had agreed to fill-in for Dr. Caballero. She gave a demonstration on the method of Batik and tie dying. Batik is a method of applying colored designs to fabric. The word and the method came from Java. The Egyptians took up this fast dye project and carried it into India. Later the Dutch picked up the designs and spread Batik through the world. When it was first used, only the families of nobility wore these hand designed materials.

A design is made on the fabric, and those sections which are not to be dyed are covered with a substance that will not absorb the dye. Liquid or paraffin is used for this purpose. When the fabric is dipped into the dye, the covered parts resist the dye. After the cloth is dry, the wax may be removed by ironing or boiling the cloth.

In tie dying, the material is gathered up and tied with a string in several places, then dipped into the dye. Marilyn wore some pants and a shirt that she had tie dyed the night before and all there were amazed how nice they looked. She also showed two dresses that she had batiked the material before making the dresses.

After a question and answer session, the meeting continued with Ruth Hammock reading the minutes of previous meeting and Hazel Nowell gave the financial report. It was announced that Blanch Lenderson is exhibiting 41 of her pictures in the Fine Arts Building at the Hobbs Junior College in Hobbs, New Mexico. They will hang until January 29 and the building is open until 9 p.m., each night of the week.

Hostess for this meeting were Rheta White and Marie Lenau.

Members attending were: Rheta White, Hazel Nowell, Vera Fox, Pauline Jamison, Barbara Carpenter, Mary Lena Burke, Dorothy Franklin, Bernice Amerson, Jean S. Badger, Louise Roark, Taleta Mabry, Ruth Hammock, Dana Arnold, Bertha Beene, Katherine Rogers, Jaqueta White, Lynn Campbell, Myrtle Steinbock, Rene Hutton, Eroid L. Gross, Sandra Chancey, Lillian Smith and the guest, Marilyn Corn.

Farm Bureau Group Meeting Scheduled

AUSTIN--(Sp1)--State Legislators will be tuned in on legislative goals at a Texas Farm Bureau meeting scheduled to be held at the Villa Capri Motor Hotel here Wednesday, Jan. 20.

State Senators, Representatives and elected State officials will be guests of the Texas Farm Bureau at a banquet that evening in conjunction with a statewide Legislative Conference of county Farm Bureau leaders that will be held Jan. 20 and 21. County Farm Bureau presidents from over the state and chairmen and members of their PX (policy execution) committees will attend the conference where legislative goals of the state farm organization and issues expected to confront the 62nd session of the Legislature will be discussed.

At the banquet, TFB President J.T. Woodson will discuss current agricultural problems, TFB policies in regard to those problems, and the things the organization will be trying to accomplish during this year's legislative session. The TFB has 121,158 member families in 204 organized counties.

The conference will begin at 2 p.m., Jan. 20, and will adjourn at noon the following day. Speakers will include O. R. Long, Waco, TFB executive director; Tommy Klemcke of Austin, TFB director of state affairs; Ed McKay of Waco, TFB legislative director; and several legislators. Long will speak on "let's Accept the Challenge." Klemcke will discuss key state legislative issues. McKay will speak on "PX

Power.' Topics to be discussed by legislators will include How a Bill Becomes Law, Water for Texas, Agricultural Pollution Problems, Where's the Money Coming From, and The effect of Redistricting on Rural Political Power.

The county Farm Bureau leaders will tour the capitol and meet with their respective Senators and Representatives on the afternoon of Jan. 20.

Woodson said taxes and redistricting are "two big items" with which this session of the Legislature will be dealing. "We are looking at the biggest tax bite in many years-- as much as $700 million," he said.

TFB policy favors use of the present selective sales tax as the method for raising the necessary funds for operation of the state government.

The TFB president said rural areas will lose representation to urban areas in the realignment of legislators' districts required following the 1970 census.

WINTER FANTASY IN ICE--This exotic and lacy, ice-covered display was noted in the front yard at the Rudolph Wiedebush home on West Avenue D. Although a sprinkler in the yard coated the grass during the night, this picture was taken early in the afternoon and the grass was still liberally coated, offering a fantasy in ice. Ice was also noted in the yard more than an inch thick where it was caught and sparking in the sun.

Attitude... OF PRAYER

"Give ear to my words, O Lord, consider my meditation. Harken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee will I pray."

Psalms 5:1-2

God hears and answers prayers, but not everyone knows how to pray. Even the Lord's disciples asked that he teach them how to pray.

Attitude of the individual is important in prayer. Prayer is the opportunity that we have to tell God of our blessings and give thanks. It is an opportunity to petition for help, but above all, our hearts should be willing that God's will be done.

Prayer should be offered individually and in groups.

ATTEND CHURCH AND PRAY WITH OTHERS

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Texas Schools Grow, Becoming Urban

AUSTIN--Texas school districts are growing bigger in size, smaller in number, and more cityfied every year.

This movement of students from rural to urban areas, plus the statistics they create and the programs they expect, keynote the Texas Education Agency's 46th Biennial Report to be released Tuesday (January 12).

For the first time, the report is dedicated to an individual--J. Warren Hitt, deputy commissioner of education for 20 years before his death early in 1970.

The 116-page roundup of facts and figures, presented every two years to the Governor and the Texas Legislature, documents changes in the state's public school system during 1968-70. Most of them reflect the growth of urban areas and city school districts.

For example, districts with more than 1,500 students in average daily attendance (ADA) increased from 250 to 265 between 1968 and 1970. School districts with fewer than 1,499 students in ADA dropped from 979 to 941.

In line with this move from the more leisurely world of the combine to the fast pace of the freeway, the Agency has begun a statewide study of urban education in Texas to be completed during the 1970-71 school year. This detailed examination of the city school scene will focus on the policies, approaches, and actions the Agency must take during the next 10 years to help city schools meet their problems.

School superintendents from Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, and Austin will serve on an advisory committee, along with representatives from the Governor's Office, regional education service centers, and teacher education institutions.

New school programs designed to blend public school education into Texas' rapidly developing urban-industrial mix got well under way during the past two years.

One of the newest, crime prevention and drug education, was made mandatory in grades 5-12 by the 61st Legislature. Guidelines and materials developed since 1969 include a tentative outline for a drug education curriculum, supplementary materials for elementary and secondary pupils, a tentative package to be made available to schools through education service centers, and parent, pupil, and teacher guides on issues in drug education and resources for attacking the problem.

Skilled workers who will make the wheels of urbanizing Texas turn with a smooth, well-greased hub are being trained in ever greater numbers in the high schools and community colleges. For it is here that both the state and federal governments have broadened the dollar sign and sharpened the focus.

Public school districts and colleges designated area vocational schools, for example, expanded from 85 in 1965 to 116 by 1970. Another 92 applications are on file pending availability of construction money. In the high schools alone, the number of vocational units offered increased by 205 percent during the past six years.

Specialized programs ranging from environmental technology to health occupations are already blue printing the future of public school education for students who will enter the labor force from high school or after two years additional training. Vocational enrollment in Texas schools, community

Half-Way Mark Now Reached In School Year

By Cathy Mardis
The students of MHS are half-way through the 1970-71 school year! Semester tests were taken Thursday and Friday during a regular class schedule. Midnight oil was burned by a majority of the students both Wednesday and Thursday.

The teachers spent Saturday in In Service Training. This will continue Monday with evaluation sessions and faculty meetings. On the brighter side Muleshoe students will enjoy a holiday Monday.

Two Are Mulettes; Two On Mule Team

By Babs Haire
The basketball teams at MHS have begun district play. The students are particularly proud of the Varsity teams.

There are two seniors on each of the teams. The boys are Jerry Scoggins and Jerry Putman, and the girls are Vicki Julian and Ricki Richardson.

The Mule's Tale staff would like to wish all the teams the best of luck in conference competition.

JERRY PUTMAN
Jerry Putman, son of Dr. and Mrs. B.R. Putman, plays guard for the Muleshoe Mules Basketball team. He has two brothers and two sisters. Jerry attends the Mission Baptist Church.

JERRY SCOGGINS
The son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Scoggins, Jerry, plays guard for the Mules. Jerry has two brothers. He enjoys livestock management and is a member of FFA and of the National Honor Society.

VICKY JULIAN
Vicky Julian is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Julian, of Route 1, Box 9, Muleshoe. She has two brothers and two sisters. Vicky's special interests include teaching and working with people. Very active in school functions, she is the President of the Pep Squad and is the Treasurer of the Student Council. Vicky is a member of the First Baptist Church.

RICKI RICHARDSON
Vicky is the captain of the forward end for the Mulettes. When asked to comment on this year's team, Vicky said, "We haven't won too many ball games this year, but the team isn't quitting. We've had about ten games within a five point spread, and I think this is a good sign that we haven't given up. Most of the Mulettes are young and inexperienced, but we've all come a long way and expect to go a long way. All the girls have a lot of pride in their game; and when the experience is gained, the Mulettes will be hard to stop."

FHA Chapter In Full Swing With Project

By Darlene Henderson
On December 21, 1970, the FHA chapters had a mother-daughter night. Everyone enjoyed casseroles made by the girls. Tea and coffee and an assortment of desserts were served. The guest speaker was from the Unwed Mothers Home in Lubbock. There was also a film on unwed mothers.

The Rosebuds are really excited about their first Sweetheart Banquet. As in the past, this year's banquet will be formal and the girls ask the boys. The banquet will be held February 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria.

Basketball Pep Rally Opens District

Other members of the team who enabled the Mulettes to bring home the first place trophy were Roxanne Street, Donna Grimsley and Terri Bryant.

MHS Student Council Honors Vietnam Dead

By Becky Sain
Members and officers of the MHS Student Council held their regular meeting Monday, January 11. It was decided that a plaque will be placed in the school honoring those servicemen from Muleshoe who have lost their lives in Viet Nam fighting for our country.

The council discussed the annual "Student Council Slave Sale." The date is pending as January 26. So, "Get yore money together!"

Students are reminded of the essay contest. Each class has a different topic. The council encourages all students to take an interest in the contest. A plaque will be awarded to the first and second place winners of each class.

GOING GIRLS TEAM--Pictured are the students in the Muleshoe Junior High School girls' eighth grade A team. The girls have maintained a fairly good rating throughout this basketball season. Coach for the eighth grade girls at Muleshoe Junior High School is Sharyn Wittner, who is a native of the county. She graduated from Three Way High School.

EIGHTH GRADE BOYS TEAM--Coach Ronny Clifton is pictured with his eighth grade varsity team. The boys have maintained a top record this year in basketball. Coach Clifton is new to the Muleshoe Junior High School coaching system, but the personable young coach is considered an asset to the school.

Small Town

The big city chief of police learned that a fugitive was headed for a small town. He called the local constable and asked him to be on the lookout for the man.

"Sure will," said the constable. "Send me a picture and I'll see if I can spot him."

The chief immediately sent six views of the wanted man in different poses. The next day he received a call from the constable. "Chief," he said, "I got five of them fellers already locked up and I bet I pick up the sixth one before the day's over!"

Your new Chamber of Commerce Board had their first meeting Thursday morning at 6:30 with twelve of the fourteen Directors present. One of those absent was Neal Dillman, who is one of the most dedicated board members, always willing to help in community development. I'm sure he would have been present if he had not been in the hospital in traction.

With the dedication of the Board and the continued support from our members, I am sure we will have an even better year in 1971.

Mildred Howell, Pat Keesee and Mrs. Elizabeth Black are doing a tremendous job on decorations for our banquet. The Chuck Wagon Gang is famous for the good food. John McKee is a topnotch speaker. Enjoy all three. Attend the Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet Saturday, January 23rd.
