Some of the best polo players in the nation are expected to participate in the Inter-Sectional Polo Tournament being sponsored at the Zacaweista Ranch headquarters near Vernon, October 8-15. Teams from Chicago, New York, Milwaukee, San Antonio and other cities have indicated they will take part, and one team has been assured from Chile, in South America. The Crowell boys are coached by Gordon Erwin and Glen Taylor. The following boys scored for Crowell: Gerry Knox, Jimmy Harper, Gaylon Whitley, DuWayne Elliott and Gordon Graves. However, the outstanding factor that contributed to Crowell's victory was the blocking by the line composed of Jimmy Harper, Carrol Polk, Robert Love and Jimmy New, and Jackie Walker, Don Smith and R. L. Banks, tackles; Gerald Myers, Ronny Fox, C. T. McDaniel and Billy John Rader, guards; Robert Kincaid and Don Kidd, centers; Johnny Trawick substituted in the backfield. Walker stood out on defense for Crowell and Whitley looked the best in blocking assignments. Graves completed three out of four passes thrown. Elliott ran all of Crowell's extra points over.

Crowell Wildcat Football Team Wins Fourth Straight Game with a 26 to 0 Victory Over Iowa Park Friday Night

The Crowell High School football team kept its goal line uncrossed for the fourth straight game last Friday night when it defeated the Iowa Park High School team 26 to 0 in a 10-A conference game at Iowa Park. The Wildcats looked as good as they did against the Paducah Dragons here two weeks ago. In fact, their downfield blocking, led by Buster Laquey, Hack Norman, Jimmy Rasberry, Ginger Johnson and Leon Pechacek, was a little sharper than it has been this season. Crowell's entire line was opening up holes throughout the contest that sent Jon Sanders, star ball carrier for the Wildcats, across the goal twice for touchdowns, and set up the other two scores. Sanders traveled twenty yards and thirty yards, respectively, for his touchdowns. Don Gobin, Crowell quarterback, threw passes eight yards and sixteen yards, respectively, for Crowell's other two scores. Jon Sanders kicked two out of four extra points to make the final score 26 to 0 for the Wildcats. Hack Norman, Crowell fullback, did some good ball carrying in the last quarter and made one nice run across the goal line that was nullified due to a Crowell penalty.

REMEMBER! THE LIFE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

"To be able to handle 3000 pounds of automobile safety requires a great amount of skill and caution. When handled improperly they become as deadly as any weapon which man has invented. There is no room for carelessness or foolhardiness in the safe operation of a car. Your Texas Safety Association urges you to drive your car carefully at all times. The care which you take may save a life, and that life you save may be your own."

With this paragraph from the Texas Safety Association, Inc., in mind, the Drivers' Education Class of CHS with Henry Black as their teacher meets each day at the seventh period. The class is composed of freshman boys, and they are learning the correct way to drive. The American Automobile Association is giving a Chevrolet car through the Borchardt Chevrolet Company for the use of this class, and every year the class will receive a new car.

Much has been said about the reckless driving of teen-agers, and we admit there is more truth in it than we like, but in our humble opinion, some adults are as much to blame as anyone.

These boys in this class are being taught in many different ways to be careful. Of course, teaching doesn't always do the job; there are smart alecks in every phase of life, and nothing will teach them but sad experience.

Remember, the life you save may be your own!
 So drive carefully!

Everybody is backing the band and hoping it will win a trophy for CHS.

NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION WEEK TO BE OCT. 8-14

The week of October 8-14, the anniversary of the Chicago fire, is National Fire Prevention Week. There is a school fire every six minutes, and it is best to know what to do in case one should break out in CHS.

Fire rules and regulations are tacked on the bulletin board, and students are urged to study them. When three bells ring, leave the room immediately and walk, don't run, to the nearest exit. Two bells mean return to the building. Stop where you are when one bell is heard during a fire drill.

In case of a real fire, don't get panicky. Walk at least 50 feet from the building. There should be absolutely no talking. Above all don't lose your head and start running. Someone, maybe you, is bound to be hurt if you do.

THEY'RE OFF TO THE FAIR

The FHA girls are looking forward to Saturday and for a very good reason. The bus will leave at four o'clock Saturday morning for the Dallas Fair. Each girl is required to pay 50c for bus fare on or before Thursday; so don't forget, girls! We want a big crowd. They plan to return Saturday night. Allen Taylor and George Fox will be the drivers.

CHAPTER MOTHERS ARE ELECTED

The FHA Chapter mothers were elected this week as follows: Mrs. Tom Abston, Mrs. Merl Kincaid, Mrs. Buster Manning and Mrs. Ed McDaniel.

HOW TO TAKE OUT STAINS

You can always rely on the bulletin board in the Home Ec. department to have some interesting, helpful material just begging to be read. This week it told how to take out stains that are most likely to give teen-age girls the most trouble.

White Cottons and Linens

Chewing gum — rub with ice and scrape off gum. If stain remains, sponge with dry-cleaning fluid.

Grass — rub with lard or oil and wash in hot suds. Bleach any remaining stain with household bleach or hydrogen peroxide. Rinse well.

Grease — rub with soap. Wash in hot suds. If stain remains sponge with dry-cleaning fluid.

Ink — soak in cold water. Then apply vinegar or lemon juice. Bleach remaining stains with household bleach or hydrogen peroxide.

Lipstick or rouge — rub with oil. Wash in hot suds. Bleach any remaining stain with household bleach or hydrogen peroxide.

Perspiration — wash in hot suds. Rinse. Bleach in sun. If stain remains use household bleach or peroxide.

Chocolate or cocoa — dip fabric up and down in hot water. Wash in hot suds. Bleach remaining stains in household bleach or hydrogen peroxide.

SOPHS ELECT OFFICERS

Mischievous Sophomore President Likes Baseball and Loafing

Topping the list of Sophomore class officers is red-haired, blue-eyed, and mischievous Jimmy Stinebaugh. Although his red hair makes him easily spotted, there are two other factors that make him easily identified. These are his blue DeSoto convertible and his white Stetson hat.

Jimmy enjoys participation in baseball, and his ambition is to become a major league baseball player. If you want to have a friend for life, serve Jimmy a lunch of hamburger steak with french fries and peaches and whip cream for a dessert. This versatile boy toots a trumpet in the Wildcat Band, and his favorite pastime is loafing.

Sophomore Vice President Outstanding in Athletics

Vice president for the Sophomore class this year is that guy with a friendly word for everyone, Jim Paul Norman. As a freshman, Jim was chosen class favorite and held the office of reporter.

He excels in sports, playing left end for the Wildcats this year. Last year he was one of the top players in basketball, football and baseball, and is well on the way for a repetition.

Among his dislikes are silly girls; while chicken, Jean Hughston, popular songs and football rate high as his preferences.

Sec-Treas. of Sophomore Class is Red-Haired and Loves Music

The old proverb that there is always a temper to match the red hair certainly hasn't proved true in Jean Hughston's case. This green-eyed sophomore who is very level-headed and was elected secretary-treasurer of her class, was class favorite last year. Jean plans to study music and become a music teacher. Her "likes" include mystery books, fried chicken and a tall, proxy-haired sophomore, Jim Paul Norman. Jean puts two-faced people on her list of dislikes.

Soph Reporter Favorite Around School

Blazing the trail for the sophomore class this year is Don Gobin, reporter. On Friday nights you may see Don calling the signals for the Wildcats as quarterback. When he isn't practicing football, he is the right-hand man for the Kleppers at the Foard County News office. Although he is a real "he-man," he has a vocabulary that causes one to run for the dictionary after a conversation with him. As proof of his popularity he held the office of president in the freshman class last year. Because of his consideration of others and his ability to tell interesting yarns, quiet-mannered Don is a favorite around school.

THE WILDCAT

The Senior Class of 1949-50. All CHS students appreciate this gift and hope the present seniors will follow in the 1949-50 seniors' footsteps.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

And it's a first down. That was Hack Norman who drove through the line for a first down.

Hack is a big 185-pound fullback with plenty of power. He is a four-year letterman for the Wildcats. He played center his freshman year, tackle his sophomore and junior years, and fullback his senior year. Hack is 18 years old and a senior.

If you see some arms and legs flying around, look for Hack because he hit the poor man.

WILDCAT WHISPERS

Found out! Bobbie Abston and Jimmy Cates were hitting the high spots Saturday night. With them were Bubba Bell and Geraldine.

Buster Laquey looked lonesome Saturday night without Betty Fern. Jon and Myra tried to keep him company.

Billy Joe seems to like the name LaVerne, whether it be Owens or Parker.

Dowal Parks and Wanza Spears are still making eyes. Kenneth Polk has his eyes on Billie Love.

Mary Alice and Jimmie Louis were seen over the week end. Harold Ribble hangs around a certain locker, No. 112. Isn't that Camille Todd's locker, Harold?

If you see Charles Wishon going down the hall talking to himself, look again and you will find that he is speaking to little Patsy Hammonds.

Scoop! Mary Bergt and Lewis Hunter had quite a time Friday night.

Notice! Eva Rae Geaslin was seen with Mark Ford Sunday afternoon.

Neva Lou is wishing Joe Harris would come home for a visit.

Jenn Hughston and Jim Norman have been seen talking in the halls between classes.

Charlcia Ketchersid's OAO is none other than Bobby Lax. Edna Curtis has a new "feller" by the name of Joe Meason.

The freshman girls surely do wish that James Pittillo could take a hint.

George Ann Davis and Leon Pechacek make a cute couple.

Jean Whitby is a cute freshman who isn't latched on to anyone at the present.

Jane, tell us more about this Richard Kimbrough.

Jean Kile had a visitor Sunday afternoon, Hack Norman.

Coy and A. L. were seen with Patsy Hammonds and Jean Gamble Saturday night.

Reward: to anyone who can teach Neva Potts geometry.

Bargain: only one cent for 10 salted peanuts. Buy at school candy store.

For sale: an English textbook. Reasonable price. See Joe Williams.

Found in a slam book, "I wonder if Gordon Wood will go to the Hallowe'en dance with me?" Signed F. M. (Could those initials stand for Frankie Mabe?)

Say, James McBeath, what was the score Friday night? Didn't you feel well?

It looks as though Eugene Kajs and Mary Werley have things in common.

That cute little freshman, Sammy Cook, seems to have baited Loretta Matus. Hang on, Sammy!

What has happened to Doyle Sparks and Virginia Railsback? Haven't seen them around much.

Seen over the week end—Martha Ohr and Bob Haynie.

Put your scandal in locker 77. See you next week.

Cat's Tail.

Fund-Raising Drive for Gonzales Warm Springs Opens Soon

Gonzales, Texas — Texans are faced with a challenge to "take care of their own" this month as the fund-raising drive for Gonzales Warm Springs for Crippled Children opens on an all-out basis. The plea for support is expected to strike in every corner of the largest state of the Union, even as the Demon Polio, creator of the need, has done in recent years. Volunteer workers in many communities are waging financial war against the crippling effects of polio on Texas youngsters.

The need is great at Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, located near Palmetto State Park, for more bed space, more work space, expanded treatment facilities. Founded in 1937, the Texas treatment center has become one of the outstanding of its kind in the United States.

For the past two years, Gonzales Warm Springs has operated at capacity of 115 patients, under round the clock care and treatment. Adept technicians, doctors and attendants coordinate their efforts in supplying physical, psychological and vocational rehabilitation while simultaneously conducting educational, social and religious programs to meet the individual needs of handicapped children.

Generous Texans have, in the past, provided more than a million dollars worth of buildings and equipment at Gonzales, for the use of Texas children who need and can derive benefit from the treatment program. The intense polio rage of recent years has struck hundreds of children in all sections of the state. Motto of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation is "Texas Takes Care of Its Own." Official and staff members believe Texans will do just that during the 1950 fund drive.

But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint.—Isaiah 40:31.

We are spending a great deal of money to keep communism down in Europe and other parts of the world. At the same time it is on the increase in this country. It will continue to increase as long as we permit the subversive foreign element to infest our borders and carry on their work unhindered. What we need is a group of Paul Reveres and Patrick Henry's to stir us into action and to wake us up from our indolent lethargy.

The other day the government experts released some figures which give a forecast of what World War III might cost. Bombers which in 1939 cost $230,000 today cost 3 million; destroyers which in 1934 cost 7 million now cost $40 million; light tanks which formerly cost $27,000 now cost $225,000. In 1939 it cost $145.5 million to equip an infantry division today the cost is $74 million. In 1939 it cost to equip an armored division $20 million, the cost today is $189 million.

We face, across the world, an unfriendly power with far greater military strength than was possessed by either Hitler or the Kaiser.—Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania.

"I think it is the height of immorality to call young men—send them off to a war from which they may never come home—and to leave others to profit and to prosper."—Bernard Baruch, World War I Mobilization director.

The first few days following the opening of school the pupils and the teacher devote their attention to sizing up the enemy.

America must be vigilant to recognize Communism for what it actually is—a malicious evil which would destroy this nation.—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI.

President Truman can say what he pleases about the opposition party and can get away with it, but if he lets a remark slip about the Marines, he gets promptly called and put in line.

I will work on my farm, I will not go back to the Democratic Party.—Henry A. Wallace, former vice president, on quitting the Progressive Party.

A lot of big, worthwhile things have been done in the world by ordinary men who had no special talent or genius except the will to go ahead and do the very best they knew how.

It is well to remember when you begin planning and saving for a rainy day, that rainy days are always longer than the bright days when the sun shines.

The more susceptible to flattery a man is, the easier he is to handle.

A sports writer believes that the criticism who aspire to swim the English channel will have to postpone the attempt until the traffic congestion caused by the many aspirants, lets up.

FIGHTING THE HOARDER

A short time ago, in the little town of Oswego, Oregon, the members of a church passed a resolution which said, in part: "Resolved: That we . . . protest in every possible manner all profiteering, scare-buying and hoarding. "That we renounce all individual gains which must be had at the expense of general security. "That we pledge ourselves neither by word or deed to contribute to fear or hatred, being aware that the present emergency challenges our moral as well as physical courage. "That we urge all like-minded citizens to join us in this resolution."

It would be a great thing for this country if, at this critical moment in history, resolutions of that character were to have national circulation and adherence. There can be no excuse for the hoarder, and he deserves only contempt. He undermines his country. He brings on scarcity for every honest and patriotic person. It is to the great credit of retail merchandising that it is resisting scare-buying, and that it is not taking advantage of conditions to unnecessarily raise prices. Both chain and independent retailers have announced that they will resist all unwarranted price rises with all their might. The highest officials have said that there is plenty of goods for all, and that rationing and kindred controls are not needed.—Industrial News Review.

NO MATTER WHOM IT HURTS

It is an unfortunate fact that no one high in Administration circles has suggested that agitation for such revolutionary and incredibly costly proposals as the Brannan farm plan, compulsory government medical insurance, all-inclusive social security, and the rest, be suspended for the duration of the present emergency. The idea seems to be that these schemes can be put into effect, and billions needed to pay for them appropriated, even as the nation mobilizes men and materials for war, and the future cost of national defense and military aid to our allies cannot be accurately forecast. All that we know is that the war expenses will add at least $10,000,000,000, and probably much more, to our national budget. Almost no one doubts the necessity for the military spending, no matter how great it must be. But a policy which would now add ever-increasing domestic spending for dubious political luxuries is irresponsible. Our politicians talk about preventing inflation — yet wasteful government, with its huge deficits, is the best friend inflation has. We talk about the national security—and nothing undermines that more than spendthrift government.

There must be a tough-minded policy of rigorous economy at home no matter whom it hurts.—Industrial News Review.

On the day that Jacob Malik arose in the Security Council of the United Nations, the Emporia, Kansas, Gazette reprinted paragraphs from an issue of that paper in 1922 describing the efforts being made in Emporia to provide a carload of flour for Russian relief. A local miller had offered to grind the flour at cost. The Chamber of Commerce was raising the $2000 which would be required to cover the cost of milling. That incident, an exchange notes, happened 28 years ago. Probably, the writer says, it was expunged from the Russian records and memories. The first World War and the Bolshevik revolution had made many parts of Russia a land of ruin and famine. Emporia's efforts to send aid to the starving people were duplicated in hundreds of places in the United States. One of the things the trained Soviet memory does most easily is to forget such humanitarian activities in other countries from which the Russians benefitted.

Vice President James J. Newman of the B. F. Goodrich Co., said in a recent published interview that there will be no tire shortage this year. The natural rubber content of the tires may be reduced but there is ample synthetic stock on hand. Passenger tire output this season will exceed 75 million, up 10 million from last year.

THE KICK-OFF

CONDITIONED TO SCARCITY

A government bureau has issued a new comparison of commodity costs in the Soviet Union and the United States, based upon the working time required to earn the money needed to buy goods. It is a revealing example of the vast differences between a free, competitive economy, and a controlled economy in which practically everything is rationed and priced arbitrarily by the government.

To buy a pound of bread the Russian worker must put in 19 minutes, and the American worker six minutes. To buy a bar of soap the respective times are 41 minutes and three minutes. In the case of a pair of women's shoes, the figures are 72 hours as against 3 1/2 hours. If the Russian wants a new suit, he must work 376 hours to earn it. His American equivalent can earn the price in a trifle more than 24 hours.

In Russia, under Communism, all consumer goods industries are rigidly restricted. The standard of living is held at low levels as a matter of government policy. What is true of producing industry is also true of distribution.

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

I think this thing of being a boss is a bigger thing than most people think it is—especially in a small business where the employees come in daily contact with the owner of the business. It is unfortunate that every man who finds himself in the position of running a business and employing help has not, for some period in his life, been a worker in the same business. It is only in this way, the story books and the correspondence schools notwithstanding, that one develops that trait and that characteristic that enables him to establish the desirable and the effective contact and fellowship with his workers that is necessary if a manager is to get the best out of his workers.

During my lifetime I have worked for both types of employers—and to better portray what I mean I am going to describe each type and let the reader draw his own conclusions. Remember I am talking of a small business having fifteen or twenty or more employees with each of whom the manager comes in contact each day.

First there is the manager who has come up through the ranks and who has been able to retain his perspective and to remember the days when he was like one of those whom he is now directing. There is something about genuine, sincere understanding of, and sympathy for, the problems and conflicts of others that cannot be stimulated. Any attempt to do so would defeat itself and make the effort seem even less sincere. Likewise, there is something about the boss who understands and is sincere in his interest, and discriminating in his comprehension, that binds an employer closer to him every time he comes in contact with him.

I once worked for a man who had come up through the ranks in the business in which I was employed. He had an understanding of a worker's problems that seemed to me most penetrating. He was always sincere. I always felt that

OIL MAKES A PROMISE

The president of a major oil company recently said that the petroleum industry has provided four highly important things for this country.

First, it has provided a current oil supply ample to meet all current needs.

Second, it has provided a cushion of unused current productive capacity to meet any reasonable emergency situation.

Third, it has provided an inventory of proved, undrilled well locations which can be quickly developed to meet the requirements of an extraordinary emergency.

Fourth, it is carrying on an aggressive search for new crude oil reserves to meet the more distant requirements of the people.

Then he said, "I think we can definitely promise the American people that if we can keep our freedom, there is no possibility of an oil shortage within the foreseeable future."

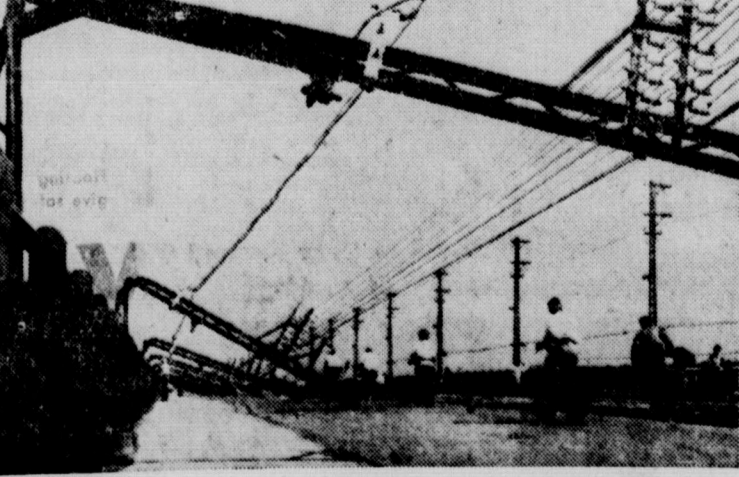

The industry's past record substantiates that to the letter. Despite the enormous postwar demand, there have been only a few cases where there has not been plenty of oil to meet every public need. Those few cases of failure resulted from government restrictions which hampered the industry's freedom of action. Oil, beyond argument, has displayed great flexibility, great powers of swift expansion—and great ability to handle the incredible demands of war and then to convert to a peace-time basis without delay or strain. That's the kind of oil industry we need—and it's the kind we have.

SUCCESS STORY

Today, the average cost of all commodities is about half again as much as in 1926. By contrast, average wholesale prices for all petroleum products are up only slightly—and gasoline prices, without the tax, are about the same as in 1926.

That is a remarkable achievement—in the light of the fact that the industry, in meeting an all-time record demand, has had to expand its facilities enormously, and has had to pay the going high prices for labor and materials.

Typhoon Hits Osaka

OSAKA, JAPAN—Pictured above are steel telephone poles twisted into fantastic shape on the Yode bridge in the wake of the worst typhoon to hit the Kobe-Osaka area in 16 years. More than 100 died and 1,000 were injured in this hub of Japan's industry.

more doctors than ever before.

Now, this wouldn't mean anything if the number of patients that each doctor must treat, on the average, were too high. But the fact is that there is only one country in the world with a lesser number of patients per doctor than the United States. That nation is little Palestine. It is bulging with Jewish doctors who fled from Europe to escape the persecution of anti-Semitic dictators.

No one states that the doctor situation is perfect here. In some regions there are fewer medical men available than there should be. But this problem is gradually being solved. The medical profession, for instance, is doing a splendid work in encouraging young doctors to make their careers in rural areas.

Finally, what logical reason can there be for believing that more men would be attracted to medicine under a system where bureaucrats and politicians called the tune? The truth is that such a system would make many men turn to other professions and enterprises. Progress flourishes only in an air of freedom.

BIG GAMBLE

"Never before in history have the railways gambled so much on the future as they are gambling now to provide the nation's shippers with good and adequate service," says Railway Age. The magazine then supports this with an illuminating set of statistics which shows that in the 1946-49 period the money spent for equipment and materials was more than twice as great in proportion to net earnings as in the preceding 16 years. Over $240 was spent in purchases for every $100 of net operating income earned.

During those four years, total railway spending for equipment and materials averaged $1,861,000,000 a year. At the same time, the industry had the smallest net operating income in their history in proportion to the traffic handled. Where, then, did all the money come from? Part came from reserves accumulated in prior years, part from the sale of equipment, trusts, and part from insurance companies which buy and lease equipment to railroads on a rental basis. The point is that the industry has used every financial resource open to it to meet our demand for more and better transportation. And it is still doing exactly that.

But, as Railway Age also said, these huge expenditures cannot be long continued unless there is a substantial improvement in the railroads' net earnings. It is an established principle that the net earnings of regulated utilities should be in the neighborhood of six per cent. The railroads have not come within shooting distance of that figure for many years. An industry which is vital to the economy and security of the nation certainly deserves something better than the shabby financial treatment it has received. — Industrial News Review.

12,000 COMMUNISTS TAGGED

Appearing before a Senate committee, the FBI director, J. Edgar Hoover, said his organization has "tagged" 12,000 of the most dangerous Communists in the United States and that he wants to put a close watch on them. Half of the 12,000 Mr. Hoover mentioned were said to be American citizens. Hoover testified in support of his request for $6,000,000 funds to provide more federal agents and other workers.

USE HOLDING PEN

When hens worth more for meat than for egg production are discovered in the flock, they should be removed and marketed before they depreciate in value. F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, suggests the use of a small holding coop in each pen or near the pen for such hens.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

Austin — Venereal infections, notably syphilis and gonorrhea, will probably increase sharply in cities and towns near military centers in the near future, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox has predicted.

He urged all cities, especially those in which greater numbers of military personnel were expected, to intensify their efforts to control venereal diseases.

Experience during World War Two, the health official said, indicates that unless civilians become as concerned about the venereal disease problem as are military and public health authorities, there will "most certainly" be a great increase in venereal disease infections among men in uniform and in the civilian population as well.

"That doesn't mean all soldiers are destined for VD infection," Dr. Cox declared. "It means simply

INSURANCE DIVIDEND

The Veterans Administration plans to start paying the second dividend on Veterans' insurance on January 1, 1951. Dividends will be paid as each policy's anniversary date comes along and will cover the three-year period since 1948. The dividend total will be below the $2,800,000,000 refunded in 1950.

that vice conditions, poorly supervised recreational facilities, and an indifferent attitude on the part of the public are inevitable around military posts and all contribute to higher VD rates.

"These young men were only recently civilians," he pointed out. "They worked or went to school in communities no different than yours or mine."

He urged that they be provided with wholesome recreational facilities while "in your town. It will help make their lives in uniform a little less drab and monotonous."

The State Department of Health has been working for years in close cooperation with the military in controlling VD and other diseases affecting men in uniform.

"It's a very important part of the civil defense program," he said. "Disease can incapacitate a man quite as effectively as a bullet."

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

Each Man Shapes His Own Future: The story is told of an evil man who through mistake got onto a river steamer loaded with Sunday school girls and boys instead of on a similar liner loaded with men and women of a different type bound for a wild party up the river. Asked by one of his friends later what kind of a time he had in such unusual environments he said, "I had a terrible time. I was bored and unhappy all day." Such a situation is easy to understand. The man was out of his element. He had nothing in common with those with whom he was by chance associated. Their life, their pleasures were all wholly foreign to him. The story illustrates the point I want to make. Those who have no use for the spiritual things of God and the church during their lifetime cannot expect to enjoy the same level in the life to come that it had here on earth. If its possessor has lived a life out of harmony with the atmosphere of the future life he cannot and will not find spiritual happiness and contentment.

Sheppard is a member of the State Tax Board, Texas representative to the board of managers of the Council of State Governments, is secretary of the Texas Economy Commission. Now 34 years of age he was named "Outstanding Young Texan" by the Young Democratic Clubs of the state and was selected one of the nation's "Ten Outstanding Men of 1949" by Future magazine.
