Joan Crawford Advises Men to Use a Direct, Practical "Line"

Actress Joan Crawford said recently that, of all the romantic approaches used by men, the direct guileless line is "the most prevalent, the corniest—and the most successful of them all."

According to Miss Crawford, most men use lines which place them into one of five general categories. "Few men know how completely a girl has them spotted," she says. "A girl can tell from the first few words what the rest of the conversation is going to be."

Writing in the March issue of Cosmopolitan magazine, Joan describes what she calls "The Big Five" lines as follows:

The Superior Male, whose motto is "How can you resist me?" The Doormat, who worships at your shrine and invites you to step on him.

The Supersalesman, who doesn't see why mere mortals should disobey a law of nature.

The Naive Soul, who makes his appeal to your mother instinct.

The Practical Man, who wants to be just as transparent as possible.

After finding fault with each of the first four, Miss Crawford gives the Practical Man the edge in romantic appeal. "His line doesn't fool anybody," she says, "and he doesn't want it to. He starts off by giving unmistakable evidence that he's in pursuit, and he expects to be rewarded accordingly."

As for lines in themselves, Joan says, "Don't ever think I'm against their use. And don't think it's displeasing to women, either. What ever men want to say, there will always be women to listen to them. The only thing is, it would be refreshing if an original approach came along."

The Easter Story

Note: The following "Easter Story" as recorded in the Gospel of John... is a translation by Dr. J. Williams, noted author and Bible scholar. Special permission has been granted for the use of this material by the Moody Press, a division of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Father, to my God and your God.
Mary of Magdala went and announced to the disciples that she had seen the Lord and that He had told her this.

On saying this, He breathed upon them, and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit! If you get forgiveness for people's sins, they are forgiven them; if you let people's sins fasten upon them, they will remain fastened upon them."

DOUBTING THOMAS CONVINCED
Just a week later the disciples were in the room again and Thomas was with them. Although the doors were bolted, Jesus came in and stood among them, and said, "Peace be with you!"

Now there are many other wonders which Jesus performed in the disciples' presence which are not recorded in this book. But these have been recorded, in order that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that through believing you may have life as bearers of His name.

GREAT AMERICAN ASSETS
The strains of mobilization will force many changes in the way we live. We will have less money to spend on the things we want. Commodities will become scarce, a few may disappear altogether. But one thing is certain—the American standard of living will still be the highest on earth.

to the welfare and comfort of the people. Here is one of the greatest American assets.

STOPGAP MEASURE

The present price-wage freeze is largely a stopgap measure, as top government officials charged with the law's administration have recently said. As soon as possible, the whole control policy will be reviewed and necessary changes made. Some express the hope that many controls may be removed in the near future.

Be that as it may, those consumers who have believed that all that was needed to stop the price spiral was to issue an edict are clearly due for a disappointment. The roots of inflation go far beyond the farmer, manufacturer and the retailer and the others involved in the job of producing and distributing all the things we use. It cannot be too often repeated that high prices are a symptom of a disease—not the disease itself. The disease lies principally in government spending, government credit policies, so-called "cheap money," and all the rest of government's activities in the broad field of fiscal policy.

Business is next to helpless when it comes to doing something about prices. The manufacturer must pay rising wages and costs all along the line. The retailer, who is most often blamed by consumers for high prices, is caught in the same squeeze—when his wholesale costs go up, there's nothing he can do except pass the increase along to his customers. The his buying as much as possible—but that doesn't change conditions.

It is an unfortunate fact that the public was misled by some very high officials, who argued that price control was the answer to practically everything. We now begin to see how mistaken that view is. And we have yet to go after the real causes of inflation. —Industrial News Review.

YOUR PROBLEM

A labor union official has urged that the government immediately increase taxes to the extent necessary to produce $16,000,000,000 a year in additional revenue. He said further that this should be done by increasing the rates on business and on taxpayers in the higher income brackets—and that the lower income groups should not be hit.

Here, in essence, is a restatement of the old "soak the rich" principle. The main trouble is that we haven't got enough rich. Current tax rates on big incomes are extremely high, and if they were raised to a flat 100 per cent the increase in revenue wouldn't make a dent in present and prospective budgets. Extortionate taxes on business would soon defeat their own purpose, by curbing industrial expansion and depriving enterprise of needed initiative.

The investor, with all chance of a profit eliminated, would close his purse and keep it closed. Moreover, when we tax business to the confiscation point, the worst effect is found in the smaller enterprise, which is trying to expand

Rural Road Bill Endorsed by Farm Bureau Federation

Representative Jim Sewell of Navarro County has introduced a rural road bill (H. B. No. 669) that will have the full support of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, J. Walter Hammond, president of the organization, announced this week. The bill embodies the federation's philosophy for a rural road program that will meet the needs in Texas, Hammond said. Sewell's bill has five co-authors, namely: Representatives D. B. Hardeman, Grayson and Collins counties; Bert Hall, Johnson county; Henry Lehman, Milam, Burleson and Lee counties; Douglas Crouch, Denton county; Cloyd Young, Cass county.

The Sewell bill proposes to raise approximately $30,000,000 a year by placing a "Gathering Tax" of one cent per 1000 cubic feet of natural gas. The money will be divided one-fourth to public schools, one-half to the counties for the building and improvement of rural roads, and one-fourth will be distributed among every incorporated city, town and village on the basis of population according to the most recent federal census.

Signers of the bill specified the tax levy as a "gathering tax" patterned from the one cent per thousand cubic feet "gathering tax" which Louisiana has levied in recent years. The bill, Hammond said, will accomplish three primary aims:

(1) It will allow the continuation of the direly needed farm-to-market and rural road program. One-half of the estimated $30,000,000 which provisions of the bill will provide, will be sent to the counties for the building and improvement of rural roads, starting with school buses and rural mail routes. County judges and commissioners will authorize the spending of the money, with specifications to have the approval of a licensed engineer or the Texas Highway Department.

(2) One-fourth, or about $7,500,000 will go to some 700 incorporated cities, towns, and villages that are facing serious financial difficulties. They will be allowed to use the money for the building and maintenance of streets.

(3) It will insure that the people of Texas, living both in town and on the farm, will get more benefits out of our vast resources of natural gas which are rapidly being expended.

Strong opposition to the Sewell bill may be expected from the powerful natural resources lobby, Hammond predicted. He called on county Farm Bureaus throughout the state, county judges and commissioners, and the folks in the cities to lend support to the measure.

Silver Star Added to Combat Infantryman and Medical Badges

A distinctive silver star has been added to the Combat Infantryman badge and the Medical Badge which may be worn by Army Infantrymen and Medical Corpsmen who have seen action in both World War II and the Korean fighting, the Department of the Army has announced.

The design of the badges is unchanged for a first award, won either in World War II or in Korea. A silver star is added to the basic design for the second award of the badges.

The Medical Badge is of oxidized silver consisting of a stretcher placed horizontally behind a caduceus with a cross of the Geneva Convention at the junction of the wings, and enclosed by an elliptical wreath. A silver star at the top center of the wreath immediately above the cross is authorized for a second award.

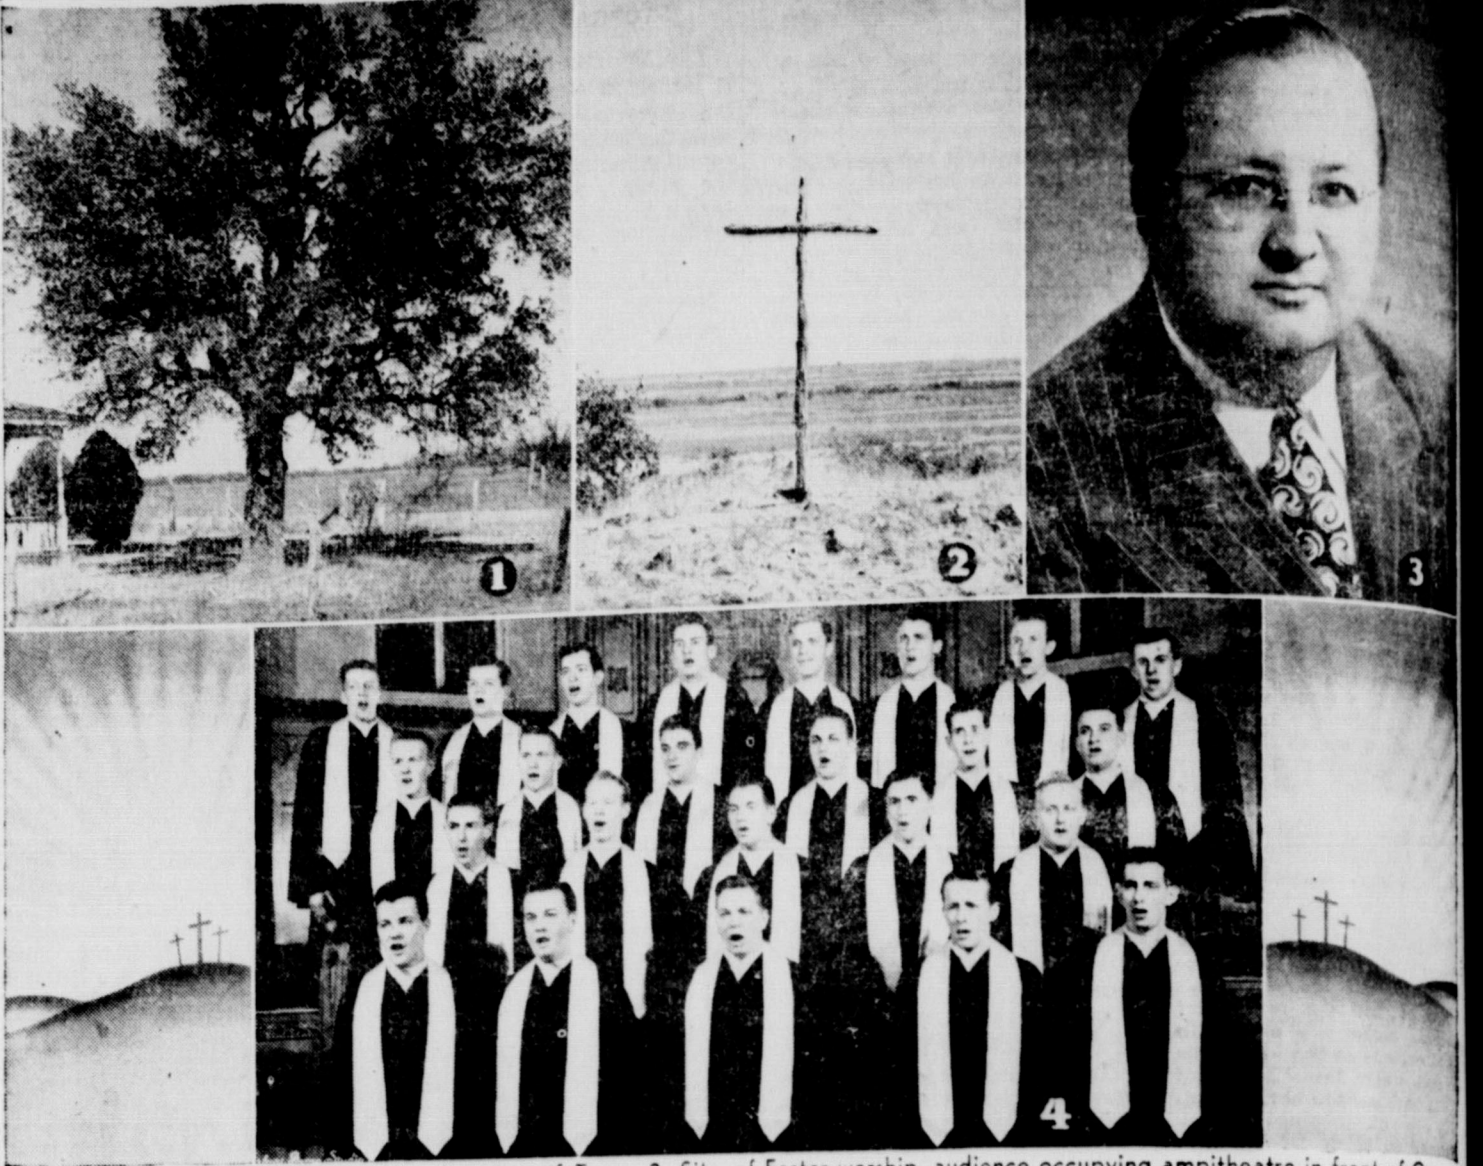

The Combat Infantryman Badge is awarded to Infantry officers and enlisted men and warrant officers for satisfactory performance of duty while assigned as a member of an Infantry regiment of Infantry battalion during any period such unit was engaged in active ground combat.

The Medical Badge is awarded to Medical Department officers, warrant officers and enlisted men for satisfactory performance of medical duties while a member of the medical detachment of an Infantry regiment or Infantry battalion engaged in active ground combat.

The badges do not represent individual feats of valor, but are awarded in recognition of exemplary performance and a high degree of proficiency in tasks characteristic of the individual's type of service. They are worn above the left breast pocket of the uniform above medals or service ribbons.

The new badges will be available for distribution in the near future.

Weekly Sermon

The Bright and Morning Star

by M. Wilson McKenzie, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

A star is always a thing of beauty and wonder. But among all the celestial bodies the morning star has peculiar beauty; it is a symbol of hope, heralding the rising of the sun after a night of darkness.

The Son of God refers to Himself as the "bright and morning star" in Revelation 22:16. Certainly at this time, as people and nations show confused thoughts, corrupt desires, and hatred, the Lord Jesus Christ is the only star of hope.

Why is He a star in a world of darkness? Because He is the only Saviour from sin, that which is blighting the hearts and lives of men. "For there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4:12). Burdens of sin and anxiety may be laid at His feet; for He says, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest" (Matt. 11:28).

Stars were used by mariners of old as guides in navigating the unknown sea. We can choose no better star to guide us through life's seas than the "Star out of Jacob," as the Lord Jesus is called in Numbers 24:17. He was sent "to give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace" (Luke 1:79).

The beams of the morning star are rays of hope, foretelling the rising of the sun which overcomes with light the world of darkness. Even so, when we accept Christ, the "bright and morning star," as our own Saviour and Guide, our hearts are filled with the light of God's righteousness and goodness and the darkness of sin is banished. Have you ever done this? If not, accept Him and see your darkness overcome by light.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

A very small number of services and commodities have not changed in cost since the pre-World War II era. Fire insurance is on that limited list.

The price of $1,000 worth of fire insurance on an average home in a typical location in the United States is now about the same as in 1940. In the intervening years, real estate values have almost doubled. A home which cost $5,000 in 1940 is worth around $9,950 today, and prudent policyholders have naturally increased their insurance coverage accordingly.

However, in terms of wages and commodities, the real cost of fire insurance on this home which has doubled in value is down, not up. The average factory worker, for example, needs 16 per cent less hours of work to insure his $9,950 home today than he did to protect his $5,000 home in 1940. In 1940, to take still another example, the wheat farmer had to grow and sell 13 bushels of wheat to pay for his policy. Now he can buy his protection for the value of only eight bushels.

In the long run, of course, the cost of fire insurance is determined by the amount of the nation's fire waste. If destruction by fire increases, the rates must eventually increase. And here is one more reason why every American should learn about fire hazards and how to eliminate them. It means, over the years, money in his pocket—just as it means safety for himself, his family and his property against a great destroyer and killer.

Edward Everett, famous orator, delivered an address two hours long at the Gettysburg dedication.

Treason is the only crime defined in the Constitution of the United States.

TWO GALLONS OF 1950 GASOLINE WORTH OF 1925 VINTAGE

Recent tests show that two gallons of today's anti-knock gasoline are worth as much in power as three gallons of gasoline made 25 years ago. In these trials a 1921 model car using fuel of 1925 vintage made 14.95 miles per gallon, while a modern car with an 8 to 1 compression ratio using a 1950 fuel, made 25.7 miles per gallon.

BIG DOG POPULATION OF U. S. HAS EARLY AMERICAN HISTORY

The recent census is giving Uncle Sam a reliable figure for the number of people in the U. S. A.
But nobody yet has come up with a definite count for "man's best friend," the dog.
Some estimates of the current canine population of the U. S. go as high as 25 million or more.
Others are much lower. One "educated guess," made by an organization whose business is dogs, puts the number at about 15 million.
The variance, of course, is due to necessarily incomplete records, obtained mostly from dog licensing statistics and other registrations.
At least it is known that the Indians had many domesticated dogs when the first European settlers arrived. Just how and when the ancestors of these beasts came or were brought to America is still a mystery, however.
Anthropologists find no definite evidence that dogs were associated with the first men believed to have immigrated to America — the "red Mongoloids" from Siberia. Probably, it is suggested, the first dogs in America, also from Siberia, were later acquisitions by the transplanted savages after they had become more settled.
The bones of dogs have been uncovered by archeologists in the ancient Ohio Indian mounds, for instance, and early colonial accounts mention such animals in the domestic life of the Indians of the south and elsewhere, before the advent of the white man's poultry, horses, and cattle.

SWARM PREVENTION

Swarming, an inherited instinct of the honeybee, is means of preserving and propagating the species. This instinct is stronger in some races—even within certain strains of the same race—than in others. The tendency to swarm can be reduced to a certain extent, therefore, by a careful selection of breeding stock. Chief among the many factors which contribute to swarming are overcrowding in the brood nest, lack of storage space, presence of old queens, lack of ventilation in the hive, and confinement of the colony to the hive during a honey flow by cold or rainy days.

FORD WINS AGAIN!

V-8 TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A" 1951 MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN

Both Ford V-8 and SIX Deliver more than 25.9 miles per gallon

Again this year... it's high honors for Ford! In the most important economy trial for American stock model cars... the famous annual Mobilgas Economy Run... A Ford 100-h.p. V-8 equipped with Overdrive took first place competing against all cars in its price class, making 54.587 ton-miles per gallon* and 25.994 miles per gallon. And its companion in quality, the new Ford SIX with Overdrive, was right up there with the winner. In fact, both cars averaged better than 25.9 miles per gallon.

Grueling 840-mile test proves Ford Economy

Traditional Ford economy, for the second straight year, has been proved in open competition. Proved on the tough 840-mile grind from Los Angeles to the Grand Canyon... a course that included city traffic, below-sea-level desert heat and 7,000-foot mountain passes. Ford's Automatic Mileage Maker, standard equipment on all Ford V-8's and SIXES, contributed to this great achievement by squeezing the last mile out of every drop of gasoline.

Why not "Test Drive" the new Ford at your neighborhood Ford Dealer's? There's no better way to be convinced that "You can pay more but you can't buy better!"

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-mile per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

WHEN ROOF IS RED If your roof is reddish in color, it is usually advisable to paint the body of the house in cream, gray, white or sand color. The trim will look well if it is coated the same color as the body of the house. If it's gray, however, it will also be attractive, if it's finished in white. For shutters and doors you can use such colors as dull blue, rust, and the brown tones.

Too Late To Classify "Saga of Peta Nocona" to Have Its Premiere in Memorial Auditorium at Wichita Falls on Tuesday, April 17

Wichita Falls, Texas, March 17.—One of the saddest and most colorful chapters in Southwestern frontier history has been brought to life in music of a new symphonic work, "Saga of Peta Nocona," to have its premiere here April 17.

The composition for orchestra and chorus was written by Eitel Allen Nelson, Wichita Falls violinist-composer-conductor, and tells of the death of Peta Nocona, great chief of the Comanches, at the hands of Capt. Sul Ross in battle Dec. 18, 1860. The battlefield along the Peace River near Crowell has since become an historical landmark, and the story of Peta Nocona and his wife, Cynthia Ann Parker, has become legend.

Cynthia Ann was kidnapped by the Comanches from her home in Limestone County, Texas, in 1836, and later became the wife of Peta Nocona and mother of the famous Chief Quanah Parker. She lived with the Indian tribe until the battle which killed her husband.

band when U. S. troops recaptured her and returned her to civilization. She died of a broken heart 10 years later.

Climax of the "Saga of Peta Nocona" is the death song of the chief, a wild weird chant that is reproduced in Nelson's musical work.

The mammoth score will be performed by the Oklahoma State Symphony Orchestra, a 250-voice chorus and Desire Ligeti, celebrated bass-baritone of the San Francisco Opera who will sing the title role as Peta Nocona. Frederic Balazs, conductor of the Wichita Falls Symphony Orchestra, will conduct the concert.

The chorus is made of the University of Oklahoma chorus, Norman, the Midwestern University chorus and a civic chorus, both from Wichita Falls.

The performance at Memorial Auditorium will be sponsored jointly by Midwestern University and the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce.

mechanical strippers.

Picking machines will not successfully harvest stormproof cotton. During the past few years, mechanical pickers have been used in South and Central Texas to pick cotton of open-boll varieties. Approximately 300 of these machines were used in Texas in 1949 and 1950.

Production methods should be used that will make the harvesting operation more efficient and these differ for the two types harvesting machines.

General recommendations for producing cotton to be harvested with mechanical pickers and strippers are given by the research workers.

Plant in 40-inch rows.

Plant storm-resistant or storm-proof cotton for harvesting with a stripper and open boll type for harvesting with a picker.

Space plants from two to six inches per foot, depending upon soil fertility and moisture conditions. Such spacing tends to keep the stalk size down for harvesting with a stripper and helps to keep branch limbs short for harvesting with a picker.

Plants should also be spaced evenly. Hill-drop planting is not advised if harvesting is to be done with a stripper. When the picker is to be used, cotton may be hill-dropped with short spacings.

For the late cultivations, sweeps should be set so as to leave the middles lower than ridge of dirt at the base of the plants.

Apply defoliant early enough so that few, if any green bolls will be left unopened when the cotton is ready to strip. After applying the defoliant, from 7 to 15 days should elapse before harvesting. On the High Plains, allow up to 21 days. If available, airplanes should be used for applying.

POWER FOR SAFETY Maybe you have never thought of it this way but one of the most important safety devices on your car is the engine itself. That's why it should always be tuned up for action. Power is the lifesaver if you have misjudged distances or speed when overtaking cars, especially on upgrades. Race drivers use power to outwit centrifugal force when rounding a sharp curve. It is nothing for the inexperienced to try, but there may come a time when quick response from those horses under the hood will mean more than reliance on steering or braking.

H. B. 226, Farm-to-Market Road Bill Being Considered

Austin—A systematized rural roads program with a maximum of actual construction each year is the objective of H. B. 226 (farm-to-market roads), Rep. Callan Graham, the bill's sponsor, asserted in a statement this week. The bill is under consideration in the Legislature.

Calling for a revision of the methods of both construction and financing in order to establish a "sustained, self-financed rural roads program," Rep. Graham said that authority and responsibility for building such roads should be given to the State Highway Department and that they should be paid for out of the gasoline tax.

Under the present system, the highway department and the county commissioners courts each have jurisdiction over parts of the program. The roads are paid for out of both gasoline tax and general revenue funds.

"Passage of H. B. 226 will result in a guaranteed extension of farm-to-market roads in place of the present hit-or-miss system," Rep. Graham said.

The representative said that H. B. 226 would:

1. Guarantee substantial yearly increases to the farm-to-market program without materially reducing the amount of money available under the current program;
2. Continue state payments on bonds for county roads which have been incorporated into the state highway system;
3. Deposit all of the gasoline tax surplus after payment of these old bonds to the credit of the counties in a state highway department fund (the 1951 surplus will be $16,500,000 and will rise yearly);
4. Let each county decide whether the highway department shall use its credits to pay off its own old county road debts, build new rural roads or do both;
5. Let counties now paying off the road bonds from their present share of the gasoline tax surplus continue to do so, but at the same time give them a further credit for construction equal to or greater

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Bergt of Thalia are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Juanita, to Vance Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Nelson of Crowell. No date for the marriage has been announced.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

On March 7th the members of the Columbian Club went to the home of Mrs. Grady Halbert at Foard City for their regular meeting. This was a Texas Day program which had been postponed from an earlier date.

Mrs. S. P. Ferguson was program leader. Mrs. John S. Ray read a number of poems by Texas writers. Grace Noll Crowell is the best loved of the Texas poets.

"Industries of Texas," prepared by Mrs. Pearl Carter, was of unusual interest. She stressed that our resources have no bounds, both natural and man-made and that we are the most self-sustaining of any area in the world.

Mrs. Halbert served refreshments from the dining room where Mrs. Kenneth Halbert poured tea.

Aside from the nineteen club members present, there were two guests, Mrs. Herbert Edwards and Mrs. Tom McCandless.

GAMBLEVILLE H. D. CLUB

The Gambleville Home Demonstration Club met on Friday, Mar. 16 in the home of Mrs. J. C. Prosser, with Mrs. Ray Brown, County Home Demonstration Agent, giving a most interesting and helpful demonstration on the Master Mix, which is a time-saving way of having delicious hot bread at all meals. The mix and the recipes were developed and tested in the experimental cookery laboratory in the School of Home Economics of Purdue University.

The club members will be entertained Friday night, March 23, at 7:30 o'clock with a supper and 42 party with Mrs. J. C. Prosser and Mrs. Archie Campbell as hostesses.

The club welcomed two new members into the club, Mrs. Clarence Orr and Mrs. Milton Hunter. Two visitors were present, Mrs. Henry Ross and Mrs. G. C. Morgan, and the following members: Mrs. Andrew Calvin, Mrs. Milburn Carroll, Mrs. Willie Garrett, Mrs. Archie Campbell, Mrs. Clarence Garrett, Arcina Garrett, Paul Wayne Campbell, Milburn Jr., and Marcia Carroll, Rebecca Calvin, Patricia Prosser and the hostess.

At the next meeting on April 6, Mrs. Cecil Carroll will be hostess. The time will be 2:30 instead of 2:00. The demonstration is to be lamps and lamp shade making. Also, secret pals are to be revealed.

Home Demonstration Notes

MARY DEEB BROWN

On Monday, March 19, twenty women met in the home of Mrs. Hubert Brown of Crowell to learn how to prune and make cuttings.

We pruned Mrs. Brown's pyracantha, abelia, nandina, forsythia, japonica or flowering quince, and crepe myrtle. The agent also showed the group how to make cuttings from these and other shrubs. I was pleased that so many of you could come and feel that it shows a real interest on your part as most of you did not have much advance notice of the meeting and Monday morning is usually a bad time anyway.

The Foard City Club will meet Wednesday, March 28, in the home of Mrs. E. Halbert instead of at the church and the West Side meeting will be held with Mrs. Dumagan instead of Mrs. Kinchee.

We received a new bulletin from college today on Freezing Poultry. If you are interested in having one, come by the office, call me, or drop me a card and I'll mail you one.

Foard County H. D. Council Holds Meeting on Saturday, March 17

The Foard County Home Demonstration Council met Saturday, March 17, at 2 p. m. in the agent's office for its regular meeting with twelve members representing all six clubs, three visitors and the agent brought the total present to sixteen people.

Mrs. Willie Garrett, Council Chairman, called the meeting to order and led the group in the club prayer. Mrs. C. E. Bryson, Council secretary, called the roll and the minutes were read and approved.

Mrs. Verda Bell, THDA Chairman, gave a report on the THDA meeting held here in January and urged that each club take at least one subscription to the Messenger, which is a newspaper for HD Clubwomen in Texas. Five issues a year are sent out and the subscription price for one year is only fifty cents. If you are interested, contact Mrs. Verda Bell, Route 2, Crowell.

Mrs. Bell also told what other counties were doing to help those in the mental hospital in Wichita Falls and suggested we also help next year.

She asked that each club fix a game sheet and turn it in to her.

The group all received copies of the Standing Rules of Council and voted to change the meeting time to 2:30 instead of 2:00 on the third Saturday of each month.

Mrs. Ray Shirley gave a summary of the plans being made for Boys and Girls Week and asked the Home Demonstration Clubs to be in charge of the food sale to be held the last Saturday of that week. Council voted to take it back to the clubs for discussion.

Plans for the 4-H dress review were discussed and Mrs. Brown reminded the clubs that Federation dues were coming up soon and should be paid promptly if the clubs decided to stay members of the County Federation.

Mrs. Brown told the group of her trip to the Landscape Workshop in Denton with Mrs. Hubert Brown and plans were made to hold a pruning and cutting demonstration at 9:30 a. m., Monday, March 19, at the home of Mrs. Hubert Brown. Mrs. Brown showed a poster on council work by clubs.

The meeting adjourned early and Mrs. Verda Bell, THDA chairman, called a THDA meeting to elect three delegates to the District THDA meeting to be held in Wellington on April 12. The nominees from each club were as follows: Mrs. S. E. Tate from West Side, Mrs. Clyde Bowley of Vivian, Mrs. Ed Huskey of Gambleville, Mrs. Verda Bell of Margaret, and Mrs. Ewald Schroeder of Riverside.

Ballots were written and Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Tate and Mrs. Bowley were elected with Mrs. Schroeder and Mrs. Huskey as alternates.

Letter carriers' uniforms are a 50-50 blend of the Union Blue and Confederate Gray.

Annual Meeting of Farm Ownership Borrowers Held Here

Farm ownership borrowers working with the Farmers Home Administration in Foard County met in the basement of the Methodist Church in Crowell on Tuesday, March 13, 1951, for their annual meeting. It has been the custom each year for families who purchased family-size farms through the Farmers Home Administration to meet each year to review progress made and to discuss common problems.

The explanation of income received and how the income was spent was reviewed by Jewel Daughtrey, county supervisor; progress in soil conservation work was reviewed by J. B. Harlan of the Soil Conservation Service; the control of cotton insects was discussed by Joe Burkett, County Agent; the importance of each family producing food on the farm was discussed by Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman, home management specialist.

Wallace W. White, state field representative, summarized the meeting and gave a general outlook on the agriculture situation for 1951; Ray Christian, assistant supervisor, and Mrs. Philo Bowen, clerk, assisted in the arrangement and carrying on the meeting.

Families who have obtained Farm Ownership Loans in Foard County have carried on a good diversified farming program and are making satisfactory progress in paying for their farms.

DOUGLAS FIR REGION

Of all the softwood lumber produced in the Douglas fir region of the Cascade range in the states of Oregon and Washington, 86 per cent is Douglas fir, eight per cent west coast hemlock, two per cent western red cedar, one per cent Sitka spruce and three per cent all other species.

Mustang Oats, Winter-Hardy, Have Been Developed

A new bulletin released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station reports the development and characteristics of Mustang, a new winter-hardy oat variety which is now available to Texas farmers.

Winter-killing is a hazard in the production of fall-sown oats in Texas, often causing the loss of several thousand acres and this new oat variety was developed in an effort to overcome this hazard, according to Joe Burkett, County Agent.

Mustang is approximately 25 per cent more winter-hardy than the present commercial varieties. Planting this new oat should aid in reducing the loss from winter-killing.

Mustang is also resistant to crown (leaf) rust, and it is suitable for grain production in Northwest Texas.

Farmers may obtain a copy of bulletin 728 on Mustang Oats, by writing to the Publications Office, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

Icebergs are always formed of fresh water.

DR. STUART A. MACCORKLE
The Texas Economy Commission's newly appointed executive director, Dr. Stuart MacCorkle, will have a year's leave of absence from the University of Texas at Austin, where he is head of the Institute of Public Affairs. He will continue research and recommendations for efficient and economical government.
