Two Paducah Men Seriously Injured When Automobile Turns Over 3 Miles West of Crowell Monday Afternoon

Goodwin and Ed Roach of Paducah were critically injured Monday afternoon on the highway three miles east of Crowell when the automobile in which they were riding turned over and a tire blew out. Luther Tamplin, one of the first on the scene at the accident, notified authorities and the two men were brought to Foard County Hospital by the Womack Funeral Home ambulance where they received treatment. Mr. Goodwin was taken to a Dallas hospital Monday night and Mr. Rochelle was returned to Paducah. Two Negro boys, one the driver, were uninjured.

At the time of the accident, the 1951 Chrysler sedan, was being driven by a 14-year old Negro boy with a 9-year old Negro as his companion. The car, going at high speed, travelled 225 yards from the place where the tire blew out to the place where it hit an embankment and turned over, according to measurements made by Sheriff J. L. Gobin. The two men were thrown from the automobile, but the boys stayed in until it stopped. The car was totally demolished.

The Misses Hays, both graduate students, are the daughters of Mrs. H. E. Hays. Miss Hamilton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Atcheson, is a graduate student. Jones, a freshman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn M. Jones, Foard City.

YOKOHAMA, JAPAN—Bombed-out section of Yokohama proves a disillusioning sight to these eight Japanese, members of a group of 16 from Brazil who refused to believe Japan lost the war. Wheat Harvest in Foard County Almost Completed Harvesting of the 1951 wheat crop in Foard County is nearing completion. It was stated by elevator men Wednesday afternoon. Many wheat fields made from 12 to 14 bushels per acre, however, much of the acreage planted to wheat fell far short of that amount and many fields were not good enough to harvest.

Up until Wednesday afternoon the elevators of the county had received approximately 500,000 bushels. Some of the wheat harvested was sold for seed and was not brought to the elevators and some has been stored on the farms.

Calf Recovering from Deformed Front Feet After 6 Weeks

A two-month-old Hereford calf belonging to J. T. Rutherford of the Gilliland community is walking normally after being forced to hobble on the hairy soft front of his legs for the first six weeks of his life, according to a news item in the Tuesday issue of the Wichita Falls Record-News. When the calf was born, by some strange fate, his hooves were drawn back. The 13-year-old owner of the calf and his father, Jesse N. Rutherford, devised high-heeled shoes for him which has corrected the defect.

The program for the Wednesday noon meeting of the Crowell Rotary Club was a report of the district assembly of newly elected presidents and secretaries held in Stamford Monday by Claude Callaway, Herbert Edwards and Luke Archer, who attended from the Crowell club.

In a business session the club accepted the resignation of Pete Yates, as president-elect for the coming year. Mr. Yates, manager of Wm. Cameron & Co., is being transferred to Temple. President Glen Goodwin appointed a nominating committee which submitted Claude Callaway, vice-president, elect, for the office of president, and Clinton McLain as vice president. These men were duly elected. Marvin Myers was elected as a member of the board of directors to take the place of Clinton McLain.

Visitors at the meeting were Richard Stripling and Rotarian Vance Favor of Quanah.

Boys & Girls Week Council Makes Report

At a called meeting of the Boys & Girls Week Council, a check for $20.00 was presented by the Garden Club to apply on the purchase of a ping pong table for the Youth Center.

A financial report was given, and it was stated that there is a net balance of $312.29 from the Boys & Girls Week Activities. It was voted to pay the school $200.00 for the summer recreation program. This sum includes the $100.00 the Adelpian Club donated for that purpose.

Marvin Myers reported that the tennis courts would be repaired at the opening of school by his FFA boys as one of their Fall projects. The boys are so scattered, it would be next to impossible to get them together this summer, he stated.

Two New Teachers Elected for Crowell Schools for 1951-52

Miss Marian Hays and Miss Marilyn Hays were elected to teach in the Crowell Grade School for the 1951-52 school term at a Crowell School board meeting last Tuesday night. This completes the Crowell School faculty for the next school term. The "Hays Twins" as most Crowell people know them, are graduates of Crowell High School and McMurry College of Abilene. They have taught in both the Throckmorton and Snyder schools. They have resigned from their positions at Snyder to accept their places here. They are attending Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene this summer, doing graduate work toward a master's degree.

Due to the large attendance record that the Crowell Grammar School established last year, it is eligible for one more teacher than was on the faculty the past school term. The other vacancy was created by the resignation of Mrs. J. E. Black, English teacher in the High School. Mrs. Earl Manard will be transferred from Crowell Grade School to fill this position. Mrs. Black has taught here the past two years but is leaving Crowell to try to obtain a position nearer Wichita Falls, where her daughter is attending Midwestern University.

The four new teachers for the Crowell School system for next fall are: Walter Harris Jr., band director from Tipton, Okla.; Mrs. Jewel Solis from Denison, first grade teacher; and Misses Marian and Marilyn Hays of Crowell, fifth and sixth grade teachers.

Hunt British Diplomats

LONDON, ENGLAND—A Europe-wide search—up to the Iron Curtain—was ordered (June 8) for Guy Burgess (left) and Donald McLean (right), key diplomats of the British foreign service who disappeared on May 25, causing speculation that they may have gone over to the Communists. Farmers whose cotton crops were completely destroyed by the hail were Roy Ayers, Ed Mechell, Ed Moore, August Rummel, Robert Hudgens, Henry Blevins, Ernest Flowers, S. J. Phillips, Bruno Bergt, Ewald Schroeder, Joe Johnson, G. M. Moore and Ben Bradford.

Heavy rain also fell in these communities. 1.3 being recorded at Thalia. The path of the hail storm was three miles wide and five miles long and did the greatest damage in the section from two to five miles north of Thalia.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Gen. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

Austin, Texas—"Being a baby is a real hazard in either winter or summer but much can be done to avoid or at least lessen some of these hazards that are associated with hot summer days," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Summer is the season in which death from intestinal disorders has in the past exacted its greatest toll.

"To guard the infant against such danger, care must be taken that his food, especially milk, is pure and kept safe. If there is any uncertainty concerning the water supply, the baby should drink only water which has been boiled and cooled and kept covered. The baby and all his food must be protected against flies.

"Baby himself and all the things which he comes in contact with should be kept as clean as possible. Plenty of fresh air and sunshine are essential for the best health of the infant. The baby's body should be gradually exposed to the direct rays of the sun; begin with exposure of only part of the skin surface for three to five minutes and slowly increase the area of skin and time once or twice daily.

"Care must be taken to keep the baby free from prickly heat

Sudan Grass and Cowpeas Make Good Summer Grazing

College Station—Plant supplemental forage crops to insure against a shortage of grazing on permanent pastures during summer drought and to provide forage for winter storage, advises A. W. Crain, pasture specialist for the Texas Extension Service.

Sudan grass and cowpeas make a good grass-legume combination for supplemental summer grazing. Crain recommends planting a 50-50 mixture of sudan grass seed and cowpeas. Use a corn or cotton plate in the planter and plant about 20 pounds of the mixture to the acre in two to three foot rows.

Crain points out that Chinese reed cowpeas cost less than half as much as other varieties. If Chinese reed are not available, any other variety may be used. Sweet sudan grass is recommended over the common variety.

Farmers who now have sudan or other supplemental forage growing can benefit by topdressing with a nitrogen fertilizer, if moisture is available. Crain suggests using 150 pounds of ammonium sulphate, 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate or 50 pounds of anhydrous ammonia.

Sudan and cowpeas can be planted as late as mid-July, says the pasture specialist. He emphasizes that land planted to annual winter legumes should not be allowed to lie idle during the summer. Plant supplemental forage crops—a good grass-legume combination.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Has agriculture been profiting unduly at the expense of the consumer? A great many people think that is the case, and it is a theory which has been effectively argued by distinguished economists and others.

As was to be expected, spokesmen for the Department of the Interior are vigorously protesting against cuts made by the House in certain requested appropriations for government power plants, transmission lines, and related facilities.

Here is more compelling evidence of the fact that the goal of many men high in the government is to socialize the utility industry as rapidly as possible, and to create a vast Federal power monopoly which would dominate agriculture, business and all other segments of the economy.

We need a lot less socialism in this country now, not more. If the government went out of the power business tomorrow, private enterprise would go right ahead giving dependable, low-cost service to all who want it.

There are two basic dangers in price and other controls. One is that the people will gradually drift into the idea that these artificial restrictions on the normal functioning of the economy are a permanent necessity—just as the drug addict drifts into abject dependence on dope.

Finally, Mr. Newsom feels that inflation must be fought hard on all fronts. He advocates financing rearmament on a pay-as-we-go basis, strictly limiting all government functions which do not directly further the defense effort, and sharply restricting credit for luxuries and non-essential purposes.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Knoxville, Iowa, Express: "Some of these days most of the . . . people of this fair country are going to get good and tired of having someone sitting in a swivel chair warming the seat of his pants in Washington, thinking up schemes to make more useless paper work for them, and will dump the whole lot of them into the nearby Potomac river and start over with a clean slate."

Fort Worth, Texas, Union Banner: "Best news out of Washington in a long time to the little people who have to foot the bills for wild governmental extravagance is the action taken . . . by the House of Representatives in slashing 692 million dollars off the

In the News . . . 30 YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the issue of the Foard County News of June 24, 1921:

Mrs. J. A. Johnston spent several days in Chillicothe this week attending to business and visiting old friends in that city.

The home of L. I. Saunders in the north part of town was destroyed by fire about 7 o'clock Monday morning.

One year ago 100 lbs. of sugar cost $30, according to one of our readers who submitted the following facts without comment: Today any one of the grocery stores in Crowell will sell for a little less than $30, 100 lbs. of sugar and will include in the bill these additional items—100 lbs. flour, 25 lbs. oatmeal, 4 lbs. average coffee, 12 cans tomatoes, 12 cans corn, 1 package crackers, 12 lbs. rice, 16 lbs. beans, 12 cans peaches, 12 cans hominy and 12 cans pork and beans.

BUREAUCRATS AND WASTE

Threshing has been in progress this week as the weather would permit and wheat is testing fairly well, 58 to 60. The continued rains have done much to cut down the grade of wheat.

The State Department of Education has granted the Crowell High School 3 1/2 units of additional affiliation credits.

Miss Mabel Pittillo has returned home from the Southern Methodist University at Dallas.

Miss Lurlyne Cunningham of Big Lake is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. McGonagle.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Benedict of Knox City spent the week end here visiting her brother, J. H. Lanier, and family.

George Little, 6 miles south of town, is threshing wheat that is making 25 bushels per acre. The crop of A. Weatherall on the John Williamson place made 15 bushels per acre.

Misses Lozel and Elizabeth Kincaid are visiting their grandfather, W. H. Stephens, in Vernon.

Mrs. T. M. Beverly and son, Tom, left Monday for McKinney on a visit.

Suppose, for instance, that chambers of commerce, civic groups, business associations, labor unions and other such institutions in every part of the country came out for real economy—and said, frankly and flatly, that they wanted their states and their

DRUG HABIT COMES EASY

This is a good time to reprint some remarks concerning economic controls that were made several months ago by Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston in testimony given before a Congressional joint committee.

"I must say right now," said Mr. Johnston, "that wage and price controls will not be effective for long. It is essential that we begin to cure the reasons why we have to put wage and price controls into effect. The main objective of economic stabilization is to secure a stable dollar and by that we mean, of course, the stable purchasing power of a dollar."

There are two basic dangers in price and other controls. One is that the people will gradually drift into the idea that these artificial restrictions on the normal functioning of the economy are a permanent necessity—just as the drug addict drifts into abject dependence on dope. Many of the politicians, who always want more and more power for power's own sake, encourage that kind of thinking.

The second danger is that we will fall for the fallacy that price controls are actually a cure for the disease that is inflation—where actually, they treat only certain symptoms and don't even do that very effectively. The current uproar over the meat situation is a good example. The controllers have tried, in effect, to repeal the natural law of supply and demand—and the result is scarcity, growing black markets and the probability of falling production.

NEW CORPORATIONS

Austin, Texas—The State issued charters to 330 new corporations in April—16 more than in March but 15 per cent fewer than in April 1950, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

SOCIALISM BY INDIRECTION

Oscar Ewing, the Federal Security Administrator, has long been one of the strongest advocates of the compulsory health insurance plan which is periodically recommended by the Administration.

A short time ago, while testifying before the House Appropriations Committee, Mr. Ewing was asked this question: "How do you feel about the people's attitude toward compulsory health insurance?" Mr. Ewing replied: "I do not think a majority is for it right now."

In all probability Mr. Ewing greatly understated the situation. Literally thousands of national, regional, and local organizations of every conceivable nature have gone on record against compulsory health insurance. In that list are the largest and best known organizations representing farmers, lawyers, veterans, club women, and other groups. These people are not opposed to better medical care—to the contrary, they are all for improving it as rapidly as possible. But they are convinced that compulsory health insurance, which might very well be simply a prelude to socialized medicine on the British model, would not produce it, and would in all probability result in a general decline of medical standards.

There is small chance of the compulsory health insurance bill passing Congress now. The greatest danger is that a start in that direction may be made by evasion and by indirection. As an example, it is being urged that the national health service's activities be greatly enlarged. Some expansion may be necessary—but anyone familiar with political strategy will realize that the advocates of socialized medicine will get right on this bandwagon and whoop it along.

The point is that we must stop any movement which, no matter how innocuous it may seem on the surface, would in any way subject the doctor to the bureaucrat.

SUPPOSE THIS HAPPENED

It is commonly believed that the whole responsibility for getting rid of unnecessary government expenditures falls upon Congress and the Administration. But a third power must bear its full share of the responsibilities too—and that power is the American people who, incidentally, pay all the bills.

Suppose, for instance, that chambers of commerce, civic groups, business associations, labor unions and other such institutions in every part of the country came out for real economy—and said, frankly and flatly, that they wanted their states and their

Austin, Texas—The high cost of living cannot be laid at the farmer's door. Inflation is the cause and more production is the cure.

Price ceilings and roll-backs, when used over an extended period, actually tend to reduce production, says John C. White, Texas commissioner of agriculture. Restrictive measures, over the long haul, contribute to inflation, the commissioner declares, adding: "They are like a narcotic and should be used for a limited time and only in the most critical circumstances. What we need is more production and less witch hunting—or, to put it another way, more food, fewer conferences, and less bickering."

To prove that the farmer is not receiving the benefit of higher prices, the commissioner cited that average returns for factory labor communities to willingly accept their part of the cuts that would follow. And suppose, finally, that when the cuts were made, these organizations would praise Congress for making them instead of crying to high heaven for more Federal tax money to be spent locally. The result would be to enormously encourage those men in government who honestly want to pinch the people's pennies, and at the same time, it would bring many new converts into the fold.

For good or evil, the men who run the government keep their ears to the ground. They listen to "the folks back home." Once they become convinced that their constituents want the government to banish the luxuries and the waste, they'll do just that. They'll never do it so long as they believe that everyone wants economy to be confined to the other fellow's pasture.

in 1947 to 13 billion dollars year. During the same period hourly wages and corporate profits climbed 18 per cent. Food is a better buy today at any time during the past decades, White asserted, because the same percentage of the check will buy more food.

The state farm official asked those who urge restrictive controls to consider that the average farm income, broken down into terms of wages, is only 69 cents per hour—lower than the 75-cent hourly wage fixed by law as a minimum for most types of farm labor.

Per capita farm income was $804 last year, as compared with non-farm per capita income of $1,546, the commissioner recited.

Americans are eating more than ever before, he pointed out, and the housewife is buying more services with her dollar; better processing and preserving, better packaging and higher quality.

"The higher quality diets, the increased amount of foods, and the improved services in handling—all share in the high cost of foods," White said, and:

"In fact, consumers are paying as much for marketing and distribution as for production of food. For example, in January of this year, a typical market basket for a family of three cost at the rate of $709 per year. Marketing costs were taking $352 of this and the farmers $357."

Agriculture is doing its job of production, but it has failed in its public relations job, White contends.

He says the farmer has been cast in the villain role—the cause of inflation—"by groups and interests who wish to make scapegoats of the producers so that these groups may continue their own gouging practices."

The truth is, the commissioner said, that net farm income has gone down from 18 billion dollars

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health,
Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, State
Health Officer

Austin, Texas — "Environmental sanitation is the public health term for clean, safe housekeeping whether it applies to a private home and its surroundings or to towns and cities. Among other things, it insures safe drinking water, proper garbage and sewage disposal, the safe service of wholesome food including milk, rat and insect control, and general cleanliness of the premises. However, for environmental sanitation to be effective, it is essential that not only public health officials but the citizens living in their respective homes or operating establishments serving the public cooperate wholeheartedly, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Consider, for example, the seasonal housefly hazard. It has been determined that 120 eggs are laid by a single female at one time and that a generation is produced every ten days at summer temperature. Thus, the possibility of reproduction during the warm months of a single fly runs into many millions. While the housefly does not bite, it is dangerous because it breeds and feeds upon both filth and food.

"Again, rats are the source of several diseases of man including plague, typhus fever, infectious jaundice, and trichinosis, to mention some of the more important ones. Homes can be made comparatively ratproof by removing rubbish and garbage accumulations, and by closing avenues of access. Approved poisons and traps should be employed when a real problem presents itself.

"Removal of containers of stagnant water such as tin cans and barrels will do much to eliminate the mosquito for householders. The householder needs to devote more seasonal attention to mosquito eradication than he is to be properly controlled. In general, good and the personal and civic duty adds to the pleasure of living. It removes disease hazards, increases the appearance of surroundings."

TEXAS FARM INCOME

Austin, Texas — Texas farm income in the first third of 1951 was 53 per cent higher than the same period last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Only cotton, cottonseed, wheat, fruit and vegetables showed a downward trend in income.

Total farm cash income, January through April, was estimated at $378,316,000. More than a third of the total came from cattle sales, 63 per cent higher than during the like period in 1950.

Other impressive gains were made by milk and milk products, up 80 per cent, and hogs up 60 per cent.

Wool and mohair prices have more than doubled since April, 1950. Consequently, in spite of nearly equal marketings, income from these items has risen 71 per cent for mohair and much more than that for wool. The 95 per cent decline in income from wheat is reportedly a result of a poor crop and correspondingly reduced marketings.

Texas farm products prices continued their slow but steady climb in April. The Department of Agriculture mid-April index was up three points, nearly one per cent higher than in March.

"I just knew this would happen!"

THIS YEAR about 1 1/2 million couples are getting married and setting up homes of their own. The brides of today want modern homes, modern conveniences. They demand the best... they're insisting on cool, clean, thrifty electric cooking... on the safety and economy of electric refrigerators that make once-a-week shopping possible. Yes, these modern brides want the many electric servants that make life comfortable and convenient.

Here in West Texas, they'll have them, too! For power lines and power plants are ready in advance. Your business-managed electric service company plans things that way. There's ample electric power to make all these new homes comfortable and convenient — as well as power for industry and defense as needed.

In fact, the West Texas Utilities Company has increased by 63% its generating capacity since 1946. Actually added more than 70,000 horsepower capacity during the last five years... and has scheduled for the near future installation of additional power units.

Dallas Manufacturers of Women's and Children's Apparel Do Multi-Million Dollar Business in Texas and the Nation

Texas takes a $150,000,000 bite annually out of national retail sales through Dallas-made women's and children's apparel alone, R. A. Johnston Jr., president of the Dallas Fashion Center, told members of the Texas Press Association Friday. This multi-million dollar business is done in more than 5,000 stores in Texas plus approximately three times that many retail outlets in the rest of the nation.

The Dallas Fashion Center, comprised of 42 manufacturers, entertained members of the Texas Press Association at a luncheon fashion show, "Forecasts for Fall," Friday at the Baker Hotel in Dallas, during the T. P. A.'s annual convention.

Mr. Johnston welcomed members of the press and introduced Fred Massengill Jr., president of the Texas Press Association and publisher of the Terrell Tribune, who spoke briefly. In his welcoming talk, Mr. Johnston gave a brief history of the Dallas apparel market, emphasizing the part the Fashion Center has played in its growth in both volume and prestige. Following Mr. Johnston's talk, Tom W. Perkins Jr. of the McKinney Courier-Gazette and a T. P. A. board member, announced a new editorial mat service to be inaugurated this month. "Texas Trends from Dallas Fashion Center."

Timed for seasonal demands, "Texas Trends" will be mailed to all Texas newspapers, with each paper receiving exclusive releases within its town or city.

The casual air for which Dallas-made clothes are famous will be emphasized in the editorial service, as it was in the fashion show at the luncheon. Fashions at the luncheon foretold in color, fabric and silhouette what smart women and well-dressed children of Texas and the nation will be wearing in the fall of 1951.

Burnished golds, flame and a wide range of tobacco shades, light and dark greys, purple and black are among the colors featured in fall clothes for all hours of the day and evening. Dark cottons, worsted wools and rayons in worsted weaves, tweeds, a new sueded cloth, both wide wale and pin wale corduroy, soft-piled velveteens and novelty weaves are the autumn-right fabrics chosen by the Dallas manufacturers.

The fall silhouette is varied but always feminine. Softy fuller skirts add to the graceful lines achieved by gently sloping shoulders and arched hips. Extraneous trims are at a minimum. Flared pockets, flip little full jackets of the bolero type, deep cuffs and wide collars give silhouette interest while serving as integral parts of dress and suit designs.

Members of the Dallas Fashion Center are:

Aaron Bros., Asbury Millinery Co., Brooks Uniform Co., Brogan & Jennings of Dallas, Choiken Mfg. Co., Chalet, Inc., Clockwise Fashions, Ike Clark Sportswear Inc., Cohn Garment Co., Donovan Mfg. Co., R. Fair Co., Gordon Edwards Inc., Gall Novelty Co., Gay's Originals Inc., Graham Brown Shoe Co., Green Bros. Mfg. Co., Higginbotham-Bailey Co., Johnston, Inc., Kohlen-Ligon-Folz Inc., L & L Mfg. Smith Sportswear, Solor Sportswear Mfg. Co., Srader Sportswear, Stockton Mfg. Co., Sue Ann Mfg. Co., Vogue Coat & Suit Co., Westway Sportswear.

Materials were collected to be sent to the State hospital.

Those present were visitors, Mrs. A. L. Walling, Mrs. R. L. Walling and Danny, Miss Bernita Fish, Miss Judy Borchardt, and the following members, Mrs. Darvin Bell and Carol, Mrs. I. D. Gilbert Jr. and Della, Mrs. I. D. Gilbert Jr. and Ronnie, Mrs. W. O. Fish, Mrs. Leslie McAdams, Mrs. E. T. Evans, Mrs. Arthur Sandlin, Mrs. Clyde Bowley and Misses Myrtle and Neoma Fish.
