Texas Leads in Number of Livestock Auctions

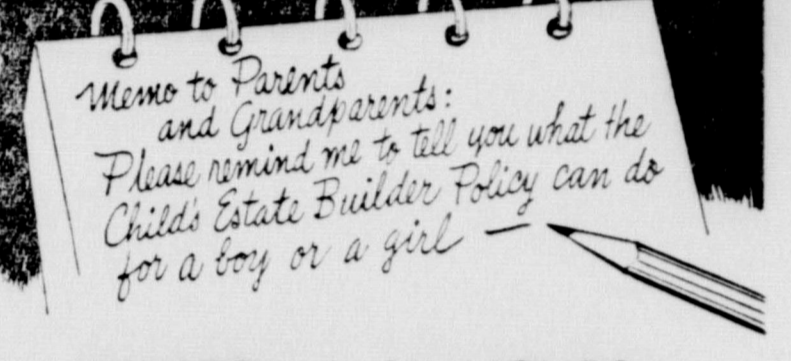

College Station — Texas is the leading state in number of livestock auctions and in the number of cattle, sheep and hogs marketed by this method, according to a new bulletin released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The greatest growth in numbers of auctions has occurred in the past 15 years.

Several reasons are given for the increased growth. Farmers and ranchmen like the ease and convenience of selling and buying through auctions. They like the social and educational aspects of the auction. It provides an opportunity to meet friends and discuss the merits of the animals sold in relation to the prices paid.

According to the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas, 168 auctions were operating in Texas on October 20, 1950. Thirty-seven of these auctions in various parts of the state were included in a study made recently by Dr. John G. McNeely, Charles B. Brotherton and Travis M. McKenzie, research agricultural economists. This study of livestock auctions is mainly descriptive. It does not attempt to point out any advantages this method of sale may have over other methods, McNeely said. It is an introductory step in what is hoped to be a continuing study of the various types of market outlets available to Texas livestock producers.

HALVE HIGHWAY COSTS

A machine which rips up deteriorated asphalt pavements and uses the old material to lay down a new pavement simultaneously has been developed by the joint efforts of an oil company and an allied firm. The mechanical monster permits roads to be rebuilt steadily and is expected to save up to 50 per cent in highway repair costs. The broken-up pavement which formerly was discarded and hauled away, is pulverized and mixed with a special asphalt softener developed by the oil company. Thus, not only are materials salvaged but inconvenience for motorists is reduced.

New Regulation Issued on Price Control by OPS

Fort Worth — The Office of Price Stabilization is attempting to maintain the status quo of price regulation pending the enactment of new legislation by the Congress, explained Ellis H. Boyd, Director of the Fort Worth District OPS office.

He pointed out that in extending the Defense Production Act of 1950 from June 30 to July 31, 1951, the Congress passed a resolution that during that period no price ceiling shall be permitted to become effective that is lower than the ceiling price in effect at the time of enactment of the resolution.

Accordingly, OPS has issued General Overriding Regulation 13 to eliminate requirements for roll-backs in prices after June 30 and to freeze ceiling price provisions then in effect on manufactured products, said the district director.

"The Director of Price Stabilization is of the opinion that continuing further clarification and study, manufacturers ceiling prices should be kept at their existing level," he said.

Retailers and wholesalers who are subject to ceiling price regulation already in effect are not concerned by the General Overriding Regulation 13, Boyd pointed out.

He said that OPS is concerned with controlling the inflationary forces that are bound to increase in coming months as more and more defense production absorbs available materials and adds to the volume of wages and employment.

The Fort Worth OPS emphasized that the livestock slaughter quotas for July will be binding on all livestock slaughterers. July slaughter period quotas for cattle were set at 90 per cent of the 1950 base as compared with 80 per cent in June, while swine quotas was set at 105 per cent of a year ago compared with 115 in the preceding month.

Both cattle and hog quotas exclude armed forces requirements. Federally inspected slaughterers can increase cattle and swine quotas by 15 per cent to meet the military orders.

 July quotas for calves, sheep and lamb were set at 85 per cent of the like 1950 base, inclusive of armed force requirements. These quotas are in no way affected by the 31-day extension of the Defense Production Act of 1950 which the Congress extended pending enactment of new legislation.

The national American Wholesale Grocers Association has wired the Congress an urgent plea for extension of the Defense Production Act in its present form for a year, the OPS Office has been informed. The Association largest in the wholesale field.

The developing company will increase the output of TEL and eliminate the need for equipment made of special metal alloys.

Weekly Sermon

WHAT TIME IS IT?
 from Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

A candidate for state senator in a midwestern state in billboard advertising used this thought-provoking phrase: "Elect a representative who knows what time it is." On one side of the board was a reproduction of a human hand and wrist, and on the wrist a watch, and over the watch in large letters, "It is later than you think."

There is a real sermon in this advertising.

A few years ago, both political and religious leaders were sure our civilization, at least the American brand, had reached high noon. Now some of the same leaders feel it is midnight for civilization, rather than midday. But alas, together too many leaders and followers do not know what time it is.

It is not the time for indifference or lethargy, nor for self-indulgence. The alarms which come to us from the lands across the Pacific and the Atlantic are not false alarms. The dangers we face are real. The destruction threatening is total. And time is rushing us toward the precipice.

Evidently it is the time, or at least a time, of God's judgment on the nations. Our leaders do not know this and some of them are playing at a little game called war. They do not know what time it is.

Christians are continuing to walk in their sleep; asleep to the compromise robbing them of their testimony, asleep to the need of lost neighbors, asleep to the voice of Christ and to the moans of the dying. Their votes and voices—their interests and recreations—all give evidence they do not know what time it is. We wish it were possible in some striking or startling fashion to shout into the ears of these lethargic people, "It is later than you think."

APPETITE FOR PIPE

Shipments of pipe for the petroleum industry in 1950 totaled about four million tons. This was approximately 45 per cent of the total steel pipe shipments last year, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute. The pipe was used by the industry to drill a record number of wells and to keep an abundant supply of petroleum products moving to the American people.

SAVING OIL TO LAST DROP

As it runs from the well, a thousand cubic feet of "wet" natural gas may contain as much as five gallons of natural gasoline, plus other liquids. Years ago, these liquids used to blow away along with the natural gas for which there was no use. Today, in keeping with the industry's conservation practices, several hundred plants in the nation's oil and gas fields squeeze and absorb from millions of cubic feet of natural gas more than 18 million gallons of valuable liquids daily. The natural gas then moves to domestic and commercial users, or is returned to the earth to maintain well pressure.

Federal Government Buys 68,000,000 Can Openers in Year

Abilene—While the Administration has repeatedly appealed to the nation's consumers to help combat inflation by putting off buying whenever they can, Federal government has been making such purchases as 68,000,000 can openers since the start of the Korean campaign a year ago. There are about a million and a half men in the Army. This is brought out in a recent report by the taxation and legislation department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The report points out that the President has told business men to avoid piling up inventories, to increase efficiency wherever possible, and to keep prices down; that he has asked employers to conserve manpower and urged all to work harder and longer, and to forego wage increases or more profits.

The Federal bureaucracy obviously does not want to play on the nation's anti-inflation team, the report states.

Some examples of Federal purchasing of goods:
 Army Ordnance recently purchased 6,000,000 gallons of paint in quart and gallon cans. This was a full year's requirement, but the Army sought delivery in 60 days. This huge order for paint in civilian-size cans, rather than in 5-gallon cans, was criticized by paint suppliers, and admitted as unwise by the Army.

The Army set up a requirement of 4,636,000 web belts for 1951. This is three belts per man, although only one is issued per man per year. Its 1951 requirement for combat boots was set up at 11,753,000 pairs, although the total consumption was estimated at 4,800,000 pairs.

Last January the Quartermaster Service bought 5,000,000 pounds of oleomargarine at 25 1/2 cents a pound. At the very same time the Department of Agriculture was selling 5,500,000 pounds of surplus butter to Italy at 15 cents a pound.

Reports of the Byrd committee show that the number of civilian employees on the Federal payrolls had jumped 2,184,681 on December 31, 1950, to 2,409,121 as of April 30, an increase of 224,440 in four months. This means that the Government has been filling new positions at the rate of 1,870 per day, every day in the month.

Recently an official of the new Defense Transportation Administration reported that that agency is "stockpiling" stenographers "against the needs of the future."

REBEKAH LODGE

Miss Myrtle Russell of Electra, president of the Rebekah Assembly, L. O. O. F. of Texas, made her official visit of the year on Friday, July 6, with the Crowell Rebekah Lodge at the IOOF and Rebekah Hall at 8 p. m. with the Quannah Rebekah Lodge as joint hostess for the meeting. The hall was decorated with yard flowers and the altar and stations were covered with white taffeta covers.

Ernie Roberts, Noble Grand of the local lodge, presided during the meeting. The local lodge introduced Myrtle Russell and the members of her official family who were present. They included Mrs. Joe Humphries of Electra, chaplain of the Rebekah Assembly; Mayme Drake of Quannah and Mae Solomon of Crowell, lodge deputies.

Following introductions, the official message of Miss Russell was given to the members. She urged that the lodge open the gates of opportunity now to Rebekah-Odd Fellowship as there has never been a time that it was needed as badly as the present time to give the world the message of friendship, love and truth.

Gifts were presented Miss Russell from Quannah lodge and the local lodge and individual members by Mayme Drake of Quannah and Rowlene Choate of Crowell.

At the conclusion of the meeting a social hour followed and refreshments were served to thirteen visitors and 23 local members. Visitors from Electra were Miss Russell, Mrs. Joe Humphries, Mrs. J. A. Patty and Mrs. Jack Woodson, and from Quannah were Mrs. R. L. Johnson, Mrs. Johnnie Dietz, Mrs. H. E. Spears, Mrs. Janice Jolly, Mrs. Rosie Boswell, Mrs. Willie B. Stokes, Mrs. Lillie Miller, Mrs. Mayme Drake and Mrs. Bertha Barbee.

GAMBLEVILLE H. D. CLUB

The Gambleville Home Demonstration Club met Friday, July 6, in the home of Mrs. Archie Campbell for a regular meeting with Mrs. Campbell, chairman, presiding.

Mrs. Ray Brown presented Rebecca Calvin, a 4-H Club girl, who gave the demonstration for the afternoon which was the making of delicious do-nut muffins from a recipe made from the Master Mix recipe that had been given to the members at a previous meeting. The club members discussed a family picnic that is to be held in August.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Andrew Calvin and Rebecca, Mrs. Milburn Carroll, Milburn Jr. and Marcia, Mrs. Cecil Carroll, Mrs. Ed Huskey, Mrs. Milton Hunter, Mrs. Eugene Owens and children, Mrs. J. C. Prosser and Patricia, the hostess and Mrs. Ray Brown. Meetings that have not been reported have been held this summer in the following homes: May 4 with Mrs. Robert Long, May 25 with Mrs. Ed Huskey, and June 1 with Mrs. Clarence Orr.

FOARD CITY W. S. C. S.

"Into My Heart" was the opening song for the W. S. C. S. meeting at Foard City on Monday, July 9, at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Allison Denton led in prayer and the president, Mrs. Jack Welch, presided over the business session.

The devotional, based on Acts 13:9, and entitled "What's in a Name," was given by Mrs. Grady Halbert. Scripture readings, Matt. 25:34-36, was given by Mrs. J. M. Barker.

An interesting account of early work in the Philippines was told by Mrs. Welch. "Our Healing Missions in the Philippines," a playlet, was presented by Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Roy Ferguson. Tuberculosis and beri beri exact a dreadful toll among the people of the Philippines. The Mary Johnston School of Nursing, established in 1908, is doing a wonderful work and mobile health units are reaching remote areas where medical care is indeed a rare event.

A prayer dismissing the group was given by Mrs. W. L. Johnson, who then served refreshments for Mrs. McDaniel, who was hostess en absentia during the social hour.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Miss Noma Kelly was honored on her sixteenth birthday, with a party given at the Community House by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Kelly, last Friday evening.

A large group of teen-agers were on hand to celebrate this occasion and enjoy the refreshments of ice cream, cookies and Cokes, served by the hosts. Dancing was enjoyed the remainder of the evening. Noma received many nice and appropriate gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ebb Scales served the group as chaperones.

SEW-N-SEW CLUB

The Sew-N-Sew Club of Foard City met last Thursday at the recreation room. Unknown friend gifts were exchanged. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Clarence Garrett, to Mrs. Joe Roper, Mrs. Eugene Owens, Mrs. Marlin Thompson, Mrs. R. J. Owens, Mrs. Harry Traweck, Mrs. J. C. Rader, Mrs. Glen Shook and Mrs. Kenneth Halbert.

Home Demonstration Notes

MARY DEEB BROWN

Well, I've about decided to quit giving demonstrations and just leave it up to the 4-H girls. They are doing a wonderful job with the donut muffins and have already received many compliments from the club women.

Peach time is here now and many of you have called about canning or freezing them. The best varieties for freezing are Elberta, Hiley, J. H. Hale, Leona Hale Haven and Frank (cling peach). If you want a really good product choose good peaches and follow these directions:

Allow one to one and one-half pounds of peaches, as bought or picked, for each pint container to be filled. After washing the fruit, halve and pit it, and remove the skins without using the home canner's short cut of dipping them into hot, then cold, water to make the skins slip easily. The dipping would cause the outer layer to soften in frozen fruit.

So that the cut fruit won't darken in the air, slice the peeled peaches directly into the cold syrup in a freezer jar or other container. The sirup should be made in advance, by dissolving 3 cups of sugar in each 4 cups of water. To help peaches hold color and flavor while in the freezer, add ascorbic acid (vitamin C) to the sirup, putting one half teaspoon (1,000 milligrams) in each four cups of cold sirup.

After pressing the fruit down in the container, add enough cold sirup to cover it. A piece of crumpled parchment or locker paper on top helps to hold fruit under the sirup. Space should be left at the top, since fruit will expand in freezing. In containers with straight sides and wide top, leave one-half inch of head space in pints, 1 inch in quarts. If containers have a narrow top, leave three-fourth inch head space in pints, one and one-half in quarts.

When container edges have been wiped clean and dry, screw the lids on tightly, or seal as the container type requires, and the peaches are ready for freezing and storage at zero degrees F. or colder.

If you prefer to can your peaches, wash them thoroughly. Put firm fruit in wire basket or cheese cloth and dip in boiling water 1 or 2 minutes. Then place in cold water quickly. Slip off skins. Cut into halves and remove seed. Pack tightly into containers. Pour boiling sirup to within one-half inch of the rim. The softer the fruit, the less liquid added. Have water in large kettle or pressure cooker, hot but not boiling. It should be about two inches below tops of jars. Place jars without lids in water and put lid on kettle or canner. Bring water to a boil and continue boiling fifteen minutes for quarts and ten for pints. Then remove jars, press peaches down and refill if necessary, wipe off rim; seal and return to hot container. Cover the jars with one-half inches of boiling water. Replace lid on container. Boil fifteen minutes for pints and quarts. At the end of this time remove jars and let them cool. You will have a beautiful pack on your peaches.

Most of us make the sirup used above according to our state but you might be interested in these general ideas: For a medium sirup use one cup sugar to two cups water and for a heavy sirup use one cup sugar to 1 cup water. One cup of sirup usually covers one quart of fruit when it is well packed.

If you prefer peach pickles, try this recipe: 2 gallons peaches, 1 gallon sugar, 1 quart cider vinegar, 2 sticks cinnamon bark, 1 tablespoon cloves, 1 tablespoon all spice.

White clingstone peaches are preferable. Select firm fruit. Wash well and remove skin carefully. Cook spicy sirup until thick and pour over fruit and let stand overnight. Drain off juice and boil until thick, then add fruit. Do not stir but keep under sirup until tender and pack into hot sterilized jars. Cover with sirup, seal and store in a cool dry place.

You may get all these and other recipes by calling me or coming by my office.

NEW RECOVERY PROCESS

Carbonated water, the "life" of most soda pops, is now being used for water flooding of oil wells. Information about the new development is a guarded secret, but it has been reported that "carbonated water modifies the condition of many oil sands so that oil is more readily recoverable than by present water flood procedures." The process is being tested in western New York where core tests show oil content up to 30 per cent still in the sands after conventional water flooding. Secondary recovery is one of the industry's latter day tools to conserve natural resources by recovering the maximum amount of oil from each field.

Austin, Texas, July 9—R. H. (Doc) Porter of Austin has sent me a couple of items that I'd like to pass along.

The first is a copy of a sermon by the Rev. R. W. Jablonowski Jr., pastor of the St. Stephen Presbyterian Church of Fort Worth.

Ordinarily, says the minister, he talks about religion and not politics, "but the Church cannot afford to remain silent forever."

Then, referring to the federal government, he charges that the administration "has proved itself to be incompetent, impotent, inept, and insensible to the high demands of the offices entrusted to them by the people."

To support his statement, the pastor mentions: "mink coats for White House secretaries, deep freeze units for presidential aides, five per centation loans to bankrupt corporations on the urging of presidential secretaries; the disgraceful episode of the Australian immigrant and Harry Vaughn who, I am ashamed to say, is an ordained Presbyterian elder; domination of politics across the land by gambling interests gnawing at the vitals of the nation in Miami, in New Orleans, in Los Angeles, in Chicago, in Cleveland, in New York—yes, and in Fort Worth; vile, vitriolic letters on White House stationery and in presidential handwriting directed to people who have exercised constitutional rights in expressing an opinion; epithets worthy of a rookier hurled in all directions against critics."

Who is to blame for all this? Let's listen to a few more words of the sermon:

"All our disgust and revulsion in these days can be traced back to ourselves, simply because we have been indifferent, we have been careless, we have cherished tradition at the expense of right, we have been content to ignore a lack of public morality so long as we were not immediately concerned, we have talked one way and voted another, we have failed to insist upon the maintenance of standards which brought us to our present powerful position in the affairs of men."

If we want to remedy the situation, says the minister, we must pray, we must take positive action, and we must return to the ways of God.

One means of action is suggested by the second item handed me by Doc Porter. It is a clipping from the Memphis Commercial-Appeal—a report of a speech made in Palm Beach, Florida, by Governor Wright of Mississippi, who led the Southern Democrats' rebellion in 1948.

The governor charges that both major parties have betrayed their trust. But members of the parties go along with them because they have no other place to go, Wright declared.

He said the old traditional Republican Party is too reactionary to inspire confidence and the present party in power has lost the confidence of the people and "I am convinced (it) will not be returned to office."

Wright suggests as a solution the formation of a coalition party which would select a suitable candidate and platform, and "then it would be possible for the people of the North, South, East and West to vote an outstanding candidate running on a platform which would steer our country onto the safe, high ground of true Americanism." Wright continued:

"Democrats of the South are not interested in joining the Republican Party as such, but if the Republican Party conformed to a platform founded on our basic philosophies of constitutional government and nominated a candidate who stood behind these philosophies, such a coalition might work effectively for the good of the nation."

If that doesn't work out, said Wright, then a third party will again nominate its own presidential and vice presidential candidates.

STORK SHOWER

A stork's shower was given Tuesday, July 3, at the home of Mrs. J. B. Harlan, honoring Edell Pennington. Hostess of the shower were Mrs. Harlan, Ray Duckworth and Mrs. C. Branch.

The refreshment table was the center of interest. A decorative scheme, was with a lovely lace cloth laid with pastel yellow and centered bouquets of daisies and straws of baby ribbon of pastel. The crystal punch service decorated with daisies and flanked by crystal canisters holding lime green tapers.

The guests were greeted by Harlan and presented to Mrs. Pennington and to Mrs. M. J. Jones, her mother, Miss Virginia, sister of the honoree, served and daintily-decorated cookies. Mrs. Duckworth presided over the display of gifts. Mrs. L. McClendon, another sister of Mrs. Pennington, presided over the gift register.

Out-of-town guests present were Mrs. M. J. Jones, Mrs. F. E. Clendon, Mrs. E. L. Ray, Charlie Jones and Miss V. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dick of Abilene spent the week visiting relatives in Crowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen Burk Burnett spent the week with their cousin, Mrs. S. E. and Ed Masard.
