Dick Todd Signs to Coach Washington Redskins Again

Dick Todd of Crowell, who took the Washington Redskins last season when they needed a coach in a hurry, signed a contract Jan. 25 for another year as head man.

A one-time Texas A&M star, Todd became Redskin coach after last year's team lost its first three games, one by 45-0. He wound up with five victories and four defeats. That's the best record any Redskin outfit has had since 1948, when the team won seven and lost five, according to reports.

In spite of his record, it was stated in Washington, that Todd had said he preferred to stay on his farm in Texas. Under the agreement, Todd will leave the administrative details in Washington to others, and will confine himself to coaching. That way he can spend about half his time at home.

Youth Council Gives Books to Colored School Library

Members of the Youth Council presented two sets of encyclopedias and a 1951 edition of "The Columbia Encyclopedia," printed by Columbia University Press, to the colored school library at a program Wednesday afternoon. The officers, V. A. Smith, president; Marcia Kincaid, vice president; and Virginia Tamplen, secretary, treasurer, made the presentation in the name of the Youth Council.

The two sets of encyclopedias were donated by Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. Beverly and V. A. Smith. As the school did not have a complete set of reference books, though several broken sets, the Council feels that this contribution will benefit their library facilities greatly. Since the books are not late editions, the Council obtained the 1951 edition through a program set up by the Book-of-the-Month Club. It is an all-inclusive reference book in one volume, which retails for $28.50. The Council feels it is an exceptional volume for any library.

Mrs. Roberts states that the property on the southeast corner of the block west of the stand pipe belongs to Charlie Gibson of Aspermont and he says the cemetery may have what it will bring since it is for sale. That would boost the fund. "Won't anybody buy it?" asks Mrs. Roberts.

Cutworms Causing Serious Damage to Some Foard County Wheat Fields

(Report released by George Davis, Extension Entomologist, and Joe Burkett, Foard County Agent.)

Several fields of wheat were found Tuesday morning to be seriously damaged by cutworms. In every case, the owner was unaware of the number of worms to be found in his fields until a good portion of the wheat had been eaten to the ground. This situation could have been prevented had these farmers taken just a little time to get out and scratch around in the dirt looking for these pests; then applying the proper control measures before much damage had been done.

Have you looked at your wheat lately? If not, you might also have a damaging infestation of cutworms. Inspections should be made by walking across the wheat field, stopping every now and then to scratch in the soil looking for cutworms and grubworms, as well as looking at the wheat plants to see if anything has been chewing on them, or green bugs, spider mites, or leaf hoppers have been

Mothers' March on Polio Will Start Tonight at 6:30

Thursday night (tonight) at 6:30 p. m. workers will assemble at the court house and the Crowell Mothers' March of Polio will get underway, according to local director, Mrs. Henry Borchardt.

Final plans were made on Sunday afternoon of this week as Mrs. Borchardt held a meeting of the committee mothers in her home. Wayne Shultz showed a film on the Mothers' March in Phoenix, Ariz., to seventeen enthusiastic mothers, and tasty refreshments were served.

"Just have your porch light on at 6:30," said Mrs. Borchardt, "and our workers will stop by to pick up your contributions. If you have no porch light use a candle, a flashlight or anything to attract the attention of the workers. The drive will last one hour. Since our local chapter ended 1951 owing Wichita Falls hospitals $1,200 we just must have a record contribution for the March of Dimes," Mrs. Borchardt concluded.

Fifteenth Annual 4-H and F. F. A. Project Show to Be Held at Self Motor Building Here Saturday, Feb. 9

Plans are being made by the Crowell Rotary Club for the 15th Annual 4-H and FFA Project Show which will be held starting Friday night, Feb. 8, at 7 p. m. and running all day Saturday, Feb. 9, in the Self Motor Company building in Crowell, according to information released Tuesday by the Rotary Club.

Due to the high cost of calves and feed; only one boy fed a calf for this year's show. This steer will be on exhibit but it will not be sold because it is to be shown in the Wichita District Show later.

FFA and 4-H members are putting more emphasis on range breeding stock than ever before. Seventy-five or more range breeding projects and at least twenty-five range steer projects are carried by the members at this time. This has contributed to the fact that only one or two calves will be on exhibit in the show.

This year's show will probably be as large or larger than any show had in previous years due to the increased interest in swine, sheep, poultry and rabbits.

All exhibits will be brought in Friday between 4 and 6 p. m. The exhibits will be open to the public from 6 to 10 p. m. Friday night and all day Saturday.

George Self, local John Deere dealer has announced that an added attraction will be the John Deere Day Show which will be held in the John Deere building across the street from the Self Motor Company.

The feature picture will be "Galahad Jones" a Hollywood cast, starring Marjorie Lord and Richard Crane, both Hollywood actors. This picture is packed with suspense and sprinkled with plenty of laughs from beginning to end.

The feature is to be followed by several interesting educational films making the complete show last about two hours. This show is free to the public and everyone is invited to see it. It will be shown beginning at 7 p. m. Friday, Feb. 8, and again at 9:30 a. m. Saturday, Feb. 9, in the John Deere building.

C. H. S. Cagers Take Two More Games Last Week

The Crowell High School Wildcats really got wild the past week and won lopsided victories in basketball over the Holiday Eagles here on Friday night and over the Archer City Wildcats here on Tuesday night. The score in the Holiday game was 74 to 25 and the Archer City game 66 to 17. This gives Crowell a perfect record for the first half of the district race. However, a victory for the Newcastle Bobcats at Newcastle tomorrow (Friday) night when Crowell goes down there, could throw the two teams into a tie.

The Crowell boys looked pretty good in the Holiday game with the Marlow brothers scoring thirty-one points between them. However, the other three boys, Jim Paul Norman, Ginger Johnson and Roy Whitley were just as valuable in the victory.

Archer City did not offer enough opposition to make an interesting game out of it. Coach Thayne Amonett used many of his substitutes in this contest. The Archer City boys have not won a conference game in two years. However, they have a new gymnasium and a new interest has been manifested in basketball in that community.

The Crowell "B" string had it about as easy in their two victories over these same teams. The Wildcats defeated the little Holiday Eagles 57 to 26 and the Archer City Wildcats 58 to 8. Gordon Graves scored 15 points in the Holiday game and Martin Langham 24 points in the Archer City contest. The manner that the entire team members were passing the ball was the outstanding feature in these games. Don Gobin, Gaylon Whitley, James Hall, Jimmy Harper, Billy John Rader, Raymond Halenack and manager Jimmy Everson, were other Crowell reserves playing in these contests.

Prof Discovers Site of World's First Community

Chicago, Ill.—Have you ever wondered about the first time when men gathered to live a community life? Where was it? When did it happen? What were the living conditions?

Dr. Robert J. Braidwood, associate professor of old world prehistory and anthropology at the University of Chicago, can answer these questions.

He recently returned to Chicago from northeastern Iraq where he and a group of associates spent a year digging in what they believe to be the earliest settled village in the world.

"The evidence we have collected and brought back with us from the expedition indicates that this community, no bigger than a city block, is a landmark in the world's history. For it was here where the great evolution from the hunting to the agricultural state had taken place," he said.

Atomic Calendar

Braidwood and his colleagues brought back odd objects such as tools, cereal foods, a variety of wheat, a kind of pea, and various pottery pieces. They will be tested on the "atomic calendar."

The calendar measured the articles brought back from the first Braidwood expedition to the place in 1948 and showed it to be the oldest known village in the world. The age of the village, as dated by the "atomic calendar," is approximately 7,000 years, or 5,000 years before Christ.

What was life like in those days? Not bad at all, says Braidwood. The 300 residents, ancestors of the people living in the Mediterranean area, lived in roomy three or four room houses provided with ovens, and complete with chimneys. Floors were of clean mud, packed over beds of reeds. Remains of some 50 houses were dug up by the expedition.

Used Large Houses

They also found one large house consisting of six rooms, with a courtyard. Braidwood believes the house probably belonged to the chief.

Food came from wheat, barley and a kind of pea, as well as from recently domesticated animals. Bones of sheep, goats, pigs and a small horse were found there.

Tools used were of the stone age.

There were no defense barricades around the village and no remains of war weapons were discovered, indicating a lack of enemies, or a peaceful time, "Braidwood said.

There already was a beginning of artistic expression in this early community. Braidwood's party found figurines of animals and of "mother goddesses." The party also found portable pottery, which had come into existence in the last third of the village life.

"Although this was only a peasant economy, some trade already existed, as well as a political and formal order," Braidwood said.

Looks Are Not Most Important in Selecting Breeding Stock

Cattlemen are finding that looks alone are not always the most reliable consideration when breeding stock is bought. Many ask for a record of performance on each beef animal they buy and are finding that tested stock pays well.

According to Joe Burkett, County Agent, the progeny testing program on bulls conducted by the Agricultural Experiment Station at Balmorhea and more recently at Bluebonnet Farm and in cooperation with Texas Tech at Pantex Farms, shows the value of the program. Animals very similar in outward appearance, he says, responded differently in the tests. Rate of gain and maturity varied considerably between the different lots tested and both are very important in meat production.

Burkett emphasizes that type, quality, size, growth ability, disposition, and the milk production of the mothers of both the cows and bulls to be used in the herd for replacements should be considered when purchases are made. Large, well-developed cows tend to produce large calves, he adds, and mammary development is considered a mighty important part of a well-developed cow.

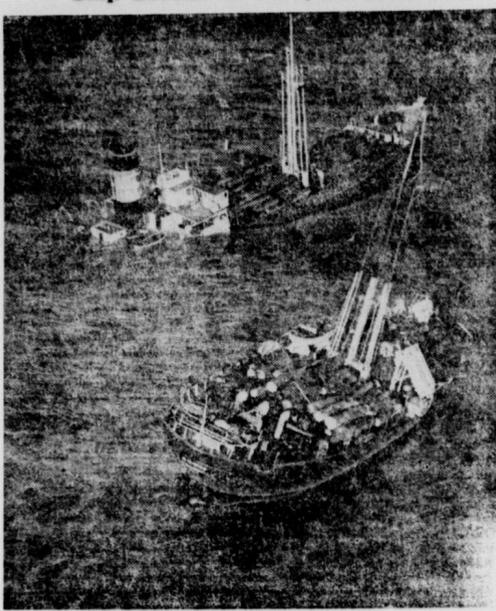

Cows should be culled from the herd that do a poor job of raising their calves. Burkett emphasizes that herd culling should be continuous and cattle that show evidences of disease should be removed from the herd as soon as they are discovered.

Cows that do not pay their way are too expensive to maintain because of the present high labor and feed costs. Finally, Burkett says, select stock that will produce fast-growing animals that yield desirable carcasses when they are marketed. Performance tests assure buyers that they are getting this kind of livestock.

Some people wake up and find themselves famous; others remain out nights and become notorious.

If the meek inherit the earth very soon, they will inherit enough debt to keep them meek for a long time.

Families Should Plan Home Garden for '52

There are a lot of reasons why most families should include a home vegetable garden in their 1952 plans for aiding national defense. According to Mrs. Mary D. Brown, acting County Home Demonstration Agent, home gardens can be the source of much low priced food; the nutritional value of the family's diet may be improved and working the garden provides recreation for the gardener.

It is just good business, continues Mrs. Brown, to produce at home a part of the family's vegetable needs. Each person needs from 600 to 700 pounds of fresh vegetables annually to maintain good health and chances are good each member of the family will get his share if the production comes from a home garden. In these tense and unsettled times, physical fitness is a must for every citizen, says the agent, and fresh vegetables are needed for balancing the daily diet.

She points out that a small garden can be just as profitable as the larger ones. It may not be possible to produce a surplus for canning or freezing but production can be high because small plots can be irrigated and given better care. Most garden soils should be prepared for spring planting in January and February, says Mrs. Brown. Low spots should be avoided as garden sites for during periods of heavy rainfall, the excess water may drown out the vegetables. Vegetables need sunlight and a shady back yard doesn't make a choice garden site.

If compost or barnyard fertilizer is used on the garden plot, it should be applied early and worked into the soil. Commercial fertilizers can be used in most sections of the state to increase yields and improve the quality of the vegetables.

Mrs. Brown suggests that families needing more information on home gardening, contact either her or Joe Burkett, County Agent, for the best varieties to grow and the latest information on soil preparation and care, as well as, how to control the insects that may cause trouble during the growing season. Bulletins and other materials are available upon request, and throughout the year, meetings and demonstrations will be given by gardeners and Extension agents that should help even the experienced gardener do a better job, concludes Mrs. Brown.

Winston Churchill

Washington—The master showman and statesman of the British empire, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, addresses Congress to ask for not money, but tools; not gold, but steel, before returning home. In jocular but serious discourse, he stirs Vice President Barkley (background) to laughter, then pauses to think of a new witticism.

Sen. George Moffett Makes Statement on Auto Inspection Law

The News has received the following statement from Senator George Moffett, concerning the auto inspection law. His statement follows.

"When the auto inspection bill came before the Senate at Austin, I recalled the old headlight inspection law which we had in this state about fifteen years ago. It proved to be unsatisfactory and was repealed. In some respects this auto inspection law follows the pattern of the old headlight law; and I am not surprised at the objections which have been made to it. It has nothing to do with speed, yet accident records indicate that speed causes about 90 per cent of the accidents.

"While I sincerely favor safety upon our highways, I do not consider that the present auto inspection law is the answer to the problem, and therefore, voted against it. A few other members of the Senate did likewise; however, the bill passed by a big majority in both branches of the legislature. My belief is that it will be modified or repealed when the Texas Legislature meets again."

MY FATHER IS AN ARTIST

from Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Walking early one morning, enjoying the morning sun beside a lake, we saw one of nature's wonders. In the corner of an iron railing was a fragile but beautiful web recently and perfectly spun by a patient spider. There it was, symmetrical, perfect, complete, dainty of design, and exact of execution.

Where did the spider get his geometrical and mechanical knowledge? Both of these were evidenced in the web; for not only was there geometrical perfection as line crossed line at perfect intervals, but there was proper attachment of the filmy lines in such a manner as to make the entire net secure for the spider.

The dew had collected on these silky threads and the early morning sun was shining through from the opposite side. No king's collection of jewels could have half equalled that display — dainty, glittering, sparkling diamonds, beautiful strung on soft translucent threads. One almost expected that a fairy might appear to lift the necklace and hang it around her neck.

My Father is an artist! How true it is that "the firmament showeth his handiwork"! Sometimes in the great crashing beauty of the storm, sometimes in the quiet dissolving colors at sunset, his skill is seen. If there is this much left of the product of His skill on this sin-cursed earth, what will it be when this groaning creation realizes its redemption!

Architect, Designer, Artist is my Father, and "eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him" (I Cor. 2:9).

FINE FISH STORY

Syracuse, N. Y. — When a motorist, arrested for speeding, was taken into court, he told the judge that his wife had become ill after eating fish and he was hurrying to take her home. The judge commented, "Some fish story." So, William Fish, of 104 Fish Ave., got hooked for a $10 fine.

Price Daniel Announces

Price Daniel, attorney general, announced this week that he would make a vigorous race for the democratic nomination for the United States senate. In a hard-hitting, militant address he advocated a house-cleaning in scandal-ridden Washington bureaus, lashed out at "blunders of the foreign policy in Korea and the Far East" and demanded an end to government waste and increasing taxes. He pledged a continuation in the senate of his fight for Texas to keep its tidelands for the public free school funds.

CROWELL B TEAM TRAMPLES HOLLIDAY 57-26

Crowell's "B" team convinced everybody last Friday night that their long winning streak was not just luck. They played heads up basketball throughout the game. The "B" boys played their best game of the season, and this was due to the fact that they passed the ball quite a bit.

Freshman Gordon Graves lead in the scoring with fifteen points. McBeath and Halenack tied for second with ten points each.

Crowell took the lead early in the first quarter and were never threatened after that. At the end of the first half, Crowell lead by a score of 32 to 6.

King of Holliday lead his team in the scoring department by dunking in eight points.

Crowell's 57 points is the most they have scored in a single game this year.

Their next game will be tomorrow night at Newcastle.

CURIOSITY SAVES LIFE

Newton, Mass. — The curiosity of Eleanor Wightman, 9, about the presence of a "turtle" in a wading pool probably saved the life of her 2-year-old brother, Joseph. Seeing "bubbles coming up," the girl ran to tell her mother that a "turtle" was in the pool. The mother investigated, dragged through the water with a rake and caught the dungarees of the youngest of her seven children. Artificial respiration revived the child.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

The Adelpian Club met for regular study on Jan. 9 at the club house. Mrs. J. H. Barnabee Jr. and Mrs. A. S. Hart were hostesses.

The subject for the afternoon, "A Day with Unknown Lands," was under the leadership of Miss Florence Black. She was assisted by Mrs. M. L. Steele, who talked most ably on the subject of "Soviet Asia." Miss Black concluded the study with an interesting discourse on "The Inextinguishable Flame." This was an outstanding program in every way.

The hostesses served a delicious refreshment plate to about 28 members.

The Adelpian Club met again on Wednesday, Jan. 23, at the club house. Mrs. Jeff Bruce and Mrs. J. C. Prosser were hostesses for the afternoon.

Prior to the scheduled program for the afternoon, Mrs. Bax Johnson, as leader, presented Mrs. Paul Shirley and Mrs. M. A. Walker, who led the club in a musical tribute dedicated to the memory of Dr. Hines Clark, one of our most respected and beloved citizens.

The program for the afternoon featured Miss Eudora Hawkins of Abilene, who was brought to the club through the courtesy of the West Texas Utilities Co. Miss Hawkins has been featured speaker for the club on numerous occasions, and never fails to bring a most enlightening and challenging talk. Her subject, "Expanding World Relations," was most interestingly presented. In addition to her talk, Miss Hawkins presented two films relative to her subject which were prepared by the United States Government. This program was certainly a highlight of the club year.

Mrs. Bruce and Mrs. Prosser served a delicious salad course to two guests and twenty-one club members.

TRUSCOTT DILETTANTE CLUB

The Truscott Dilettante Club, a newly organized group for young matrons, met in the club room at the Community House Wednesday, Jan. 23. Mrs. Newell Looney and Mrs. Jack Hickman served as co-hostesses.

Following the business session, presided over by Mrs. Jack Hickman, president, an illustrated talk on "China, Silver and Linens for Every Occasion" was presented by Mrs. Q. D. Williams. In her talk she discussed the various merits of American and European china, popular silversmith, and the latest in table coverings. Twelve separate table settings, each showing a separate type of china and silver, with appropriate crystal and linens, were used to point up the lesson. Mrs. Marion Hord was program leader for the day.

Dainty refreshments were served to ten members. Miss Mary Kathleen Chowning directed the nursery. Next meeting will be Feb. 13 with Mrs. Newt Bryant and Mrs. Marion Chowning Jr. as hostesses.

Home Demonstration Notes

MARY DEEB BROWN

On February 4, 5, 6 and 7 I will go to Vernon for an upholstery school. I hope that I can learn many new things to bring to you at the upholstery demonstrations in May.

On Friday, January 25, we held the training School on Care of Rugs and Furniture. Four clubs were represented. I know that your living room leaders will do an excellent job of giving this demonstration to you and feel that it is something we all need, so plan now to attend this meeting. Here is an inexpensive and simple dessert recipe for Prune Brown Betty that I thought you might be interested in.

Remember that measuring honey is easy if fat is measured in the cup first and then the honey measured without washing the cup.

- 1/2 cup butter
- 2 cups bread crumbs (soft)
- 1/2 lemon, juice and rind grated
- 2 cups cooked prunes (pitted and chopped)
- 1/2 cup honey
- 1/2 cup prune juice
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Melt butter and stir into bread crumbs. Add lemon juice and rind to prunes. Mix honey with prune juice. Place a layer of crumbs in a buttered baking dish and cover with a layer of prunes. Moisten with honey mixture and sprinkle with part of the seasonings. Repeat layers as top layer. Bake at 350 degrees F. until crumbs are well browned (30 to 45 minutes). Baking dish may be covered during first 15 minutes. Serve with cream.

FIDELIS CLASS

The Fidelis Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met last Thursday evening for supper and a business meeting at the home of Mrs. Marvin Myers.

After being served buffet style, those present were seated at individual tables beautifully appointed in pastel shades. Assisting in serving courtesies were Miss Mary Ann Myers, Miss Marjorie Brock and Mrs. Charles Branch.

Following supper, the president, Miss Ora Mae Fox, gave the devotional and then presided at the business session. Later in the evening, Mrs. Recie Womack led the group in several games.

Attending were Mrs. Barnard Franklin, Miss Ora Mae Fox, Mrs. R. B. Allen Jr., Miss Marjorie Brock, Mrs. Chester Graham, Mrs. T. E. Woods, Mrs. Charles Branch, Mrs. Recie Womack, Miss Edna Ruth Wallace, and the hostess, Mrs. Myers.

FOARD CITY W. S. C. S.

As an opening song, "The Nail Scarred Hand" proved a most appropriate introduction to the Jan. 28 study of the book of Acts, now being taught the Foard City WSCS by Mrs. Virgil Johnson. She called special attention to the second verse of the song for it reminded her of Paul's attitude toward his calling.

The stirring story of Paul's mastery of the situation during the storm on the Mediterranean was well told by Mrs. Johnson.

The book of Acts tells many details of the developments of the early Christian church.

Mrs. Johnson concluded the study of these chapters with the question "If the birth pangs of the early Christian Church cost the lives of the early disciples, how is it that we expect it to survive with members who choose to live in ease and comfort — free from all responsibility and persecution?"

Rubbish Is Being Removed from Burned Out Lanier Building

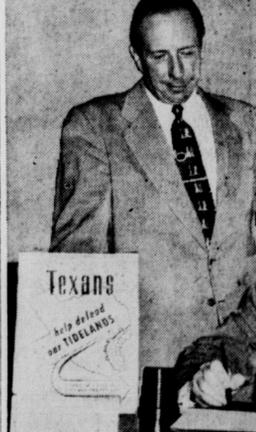

C. N. Chatfield received the contract for clearing the rubbish from the burned out Lanier building on the west side of the square. The work has been going on for more than a week and is nearing completion.

The walls are reported to be safe and plans are underway to repair the building, but nothing definite has been announced by the owner, J. H. Lanier.

DOWN TOWN BIBLE CLASS

The Down Town Bible Class was entertained with two vocal numbers during the opening exercises last Sunday morning by a trio from the First Christian Church composed of Joe Ward, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Zelma Hulise, with Mrs. J. Fred Bayless as accompanist.

The class begins at 9:30 o'clock every Sunday morning and closes promptly at 10:30. Miss Jane Bruce is accompanist for the opening songs.

TIDELANDS MONTH PROCLAIMED

Texas' Governor Allan Shivers is shown here as he signs the official proclamation setting the month of February as Tidelands Month in Texas. "Naturally," says Shivers, "Texans would pick the biggest February in years (29 days) this year to stage their fight to retain the Tidelands." The campaign which opens February 1 will be made to solicit funds from Texans to finance the people's fight to retain the land which the federal government is trying to take away from the state and the school children of Texas. The slogan "Remember the Alamo" is now "Remember the Tidelands." Witnessing Shivers' signature is M. K. Weitzel, secretary of the Statewide Tidelands Committee, which organization is leading the fight, backed by some 20 other state groups and associations.

Churches of Christ to Sponsor Weekly Radio Broadcast

Abilene, Tex., Feb. 1, 1952—A coast-to-coast radio program supported by members of the Church of Christ will be broadcast weekly over the national network of the American Broadcasting Company beginning Sunday, Feb. 10, officers of Abilene's Highland Street Church of Christ, announced today. The program will be called "The Herald of Truth." Church leaders declare that this will be the first time members of the church in the United States have used radio on a nation-wide scale.

Members of 125 Texas congregations have been invited to participate in a service in the Highland Church's auditorium here Sunday, Feb. 3, 3 p. m. when the first program will be transcribed for broadcast the following Sunday.

Signing of the contract with ABC for weekly 30-minute programs was the result of efforts started by James W. Nichols of Abilene, a 24-year-old evangelist.

American Red Cross Blood Program Not Available Here Yet

A letter to Mrs. A. G. Magee, chairman, blood program, Foard County Chapter, American Red Cross, from the American National Red Cross, St. Louis, Mo., stated that "the blood program is just getting underway in Texas. Though it is our hope to expand our program eventually to include the majority of chapters in Texas, this expansion will have to take place gradually. At the present time it is not possible to include chapters more than 150 miles from Fort Worth. This, of course, eliminates our chapter."

This information was in answer to a request that the Foard County Chapter be permitted to participate in the blood program of the American Red Cross.

Texas 4-H Boys to Participate in Tractor Maintenance This Year

Texas 4-H boys may participate in a new phase of the tractor maintenance program this year, according to E. H. Bush, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

While conducting a series of 4-H tractor maintenance schools, Bush is experimenting with "tractor operators contests." If these contests receive favorable reaction, they will be included in the 1952 program, and the 4-H tractor maintenance demonstration teams will be eliminated. The demonstration phase has been conducted in Texas for the past six years.

Tractor operators contests give 4-H members opportunities to demonstrate what they have learned in the tractor maintenance program, says Bush.

Each contestant takes a written examination. He inspects his tractor, starts the engine, warms it up and operates the tractor. Then he demonstrates spotting, driving and backing. And finally he belts the tractor to another piece of machinery and operates it at half-throttle for a short time. He is scored for safety also on each of these operations. The 4-H tractor maintenance program is sponsored in Texas by the Stanoil Oil and Gas Company, Tulsa, Okla. Different oil companies sponsor the program in the different regions of the nation.

At the tractor maintenance schools, Bush trains adult and junior 4-H leaders to give demonstrations on caring for tractors.

These leaders return to their local counties and teach tractor maintenance to other 4-H club members. Increasing leadership ability is one of the main objectives of this program.

The all-new 1952 Ford Customline Fordor Sedan features a completely new Ford body with curved one-piece windshield and rear window, triple-spinner grille arrangement, body highlights sweeping backward from the extended headlights along the hood and the jet-tube taillight sections. Added styling features of the Customline Fordor are the capped rear fender profiles.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Schmidt and daughter, Diane, of Columbus, Neb., are here visiting Mrs. Schmidt's mother, Mrs. Jim Minnick, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shirley and family.

More than 90 per cent of all school-age children in this country are fugitives from a dentist's chair, an official memorandum from the Governor's office points out.

In an effort to call attention to the fact that children's teeth are decaying six times faster than they are being filled, Governor Allan Shivers has designated Feb. 4 as Children's Dental Health Day in Texas. Texas' observance is part of a national program of children's dental health.

"Dental decay afflicts an estimated 90 per cent of school-age children," the Governor wrote in the memorandum. "Dental health of our children should be a major concern of our community."

This will make the fourth year that state health authorities and private dental practitioners have teamed together to combat widespread dental deterioration of children's teeth. The Texas State Department of Health and the State Dental Society are sponsoring the state observance.

One of the biggest hurdles to be overcome, program sponsors say, is the attitude that baby teeth are insignificant.

"They aren't," Dr. Geo. W. Cox said. "Our dental scientists tell us that first teeth have a vital bearing on the condition of permanent teeth."

The Governor's memorandum read: "The thought, attention and efforts of those in the dental profession are concerned with preventive measures for children that
