YOUTH REPORTS

BY YOUTH COUNCIL

YOUTH CENTER NEEDS RECREATIONAL DIRECTOR

Surely there is someone in or around Crowell who would be interested in being the Recreational Director at the Youth Center. Plans have been made to pay that individual $4.00 a Saturday night, plus (or more) duties would be to provide recreation for the youth center. To make the Youth Center more lively yet wholesome place for our youth to go. The Senior boys will continue to send chapters in rotation with the parents, supervising every other meeting. Since the Center was organized at May, Mrs. Ray Shirley has been responsible for its activities. She has endeavored to find a placement, but has had no luck. However, it has reached a point where she is unable to continue in its capacity; so the Youth Center sends out this appeal. Anyone interested is urged to contact Mrs. Shirley. You needn't be talented—just interested in us. Youth—for we all want the center to remain open, and will appreciate anyone who will do the job of supervising.

Wayne has announced that since the Sophomores missed their time sponsor, it will be theirs this Saturday night. Members of the Garden Club have been asked to sponsor.

Coverage Under New Social Security Program Compulsory

Every self-employed person would know that coverage under the new social security program is compulsory. That taxes on self-employment income earned in 1951 will be due on or before March 15, 1952, that the amount of social security tax will range from $9 to $81, and that each self-employed person reporting net earnings will have a social security number. Erton F. Tate, manager of the Wichita Falls social security office, said this week.

Tate continued, "Many self-employed people seem to think coverage under the program is voluntary. This is not true. If a person is a sole owner or a partner in a business and has self-employment net earnings of $400 or more during 1951, the law requires that he must report his earnings and pay the social security tax on or before March 15 of this year." Only self-employment earnings up to $3,600 a year are subject to the tax. The Federal income tax form will have a special section for making this report.

"Equally important," Tate added, "is the protection now afforded the self-employed and members of their families. Retirement benefits for them, their wives, and their children under age 18 are provided, as are survivors benefits to aged widows, widows of any age with young children of the deceased in their care, children under age 18, and some cases, to dependent parents and dependent widowers. In all death cases of an insured worker a lump sum is paid."

Tate advises all self-employed persons to ask at the Wichita Falls Social Security office, 412 Post Office Building, for a copy of "Do You Work for Yourself?", a free booklet that explains their rights and obligations under social security.

A representative of the Wichita Falls office will be in Crowell at the court house basement on Feb. 26 at 2 p. m. to answer questions in connection with social security.

Resuscitator to Be Bought for Crowell and Foard County

The Crowell Volunteer Fire Department announced this week that it would sponsor a campaign to buy a portable resuscitator to be used by Crowell and Foard County free of charge. The machine will be kept at the fire department quarters in the City Hall 24 hours a day to be used by anyone in the community in the following cases: transporting polio cases, asphyxiation, heart attacks, new-born babies, electric shock, drownings, automobile accidents and in any other case where artificial respiration is needed.

Murel Moddrell, factory representative, will be here Tuesday, Feb. 26, at noon to give a public demonstration. He will also instruct or teach the firemen and hospital staff how to operate the machine in case of emergencies.

4-H Week in Texas March 1-9 Proclaimed by Governor Shivers

Governor Allan Shivers has designated March 1-9 as 4-H Club Week in Texas.

In issuing the proclamation, Governor Shivers said, "Aggressive and trustworthy citizens are vital to the future of the world today, and we take great pride in these characteristics of the 116,000 Texas 4-H Club boys and girls.

"Organized through county agricultural and home demonstration agents and assisted by volunteer leaders, 4-H club members are learning and demonstrating to others better methods of home making and farming.

"More important still, they are developing deeper appreciation for their country and the democratic way of life which it assures."

The governor concluded "With complete confidence, I look upon the 4-H club members of Texas as capable leaders for tomorrow in agricultural, home, community and world affairs."

Texas 4-H boys and girls will join with nearly two million other 4-H club members of the country in observing National 4-H Club Week, March 1-9.

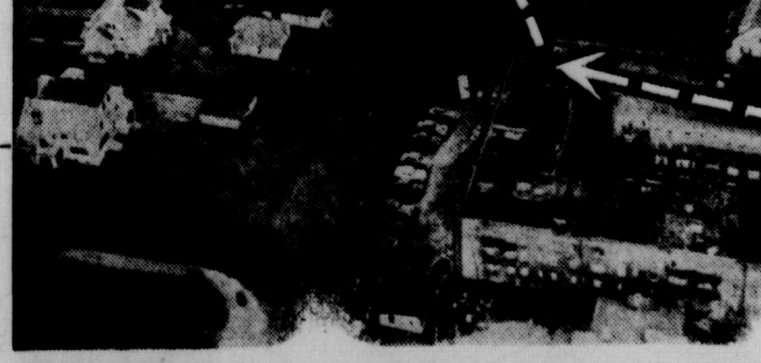

February Proclaimed As American Heart Month in Nation

Diseases affecting the heart and circulatory system caused 745,000 deaths in a single year and have disabled millions of Americans, it was stated in a proclamation by Governor Allan Shivers in designating February as American Heart Month. Mrs. Mike Brown is county chairman of the Heart Fund drive.

The campaign is sponsored each year by the American Heart Association and its affiliates to focus public attention on the medical, social and economic aspects of this leading public health problem, and to secure the fullest cooperation of the people, science, government, health agencies and social agencies, in devising means to combat this menace.

Mrs. Brown has placed large heart receptacles around town for the purpose of receiving donations to the campaign.

News About Our Men in Service

Pvt. Carol Ekern of Mexico, Mo., who is stationed at Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, spent the week end with his brother, Bert Ekern, and family here.

The Uhlmann served with the UN Blockading and Escort Force, the Foremost Patrol and the Far East Hunter-Killer Group.

The destroyer delivered harassing fire on enemy transportation centers, storage areas and personnel concentrations. During the bombardment of Wonsan Harbor she fired some 2700 rounds (74 tons) of 5-inch shells from her main battery.

Vernon Chamber of Commerce Holds 41st Annual Meeting

The Vernon Chamber of Commerce held its 41st annual meeting Tuesday night, Feb. 19, at 8 p. m. in the new Wilbarger Memorial Auditorium in Vernon with around 2,000 attending from Vernon and surrounding towns. Crowell was well represented.

The distinguished Service Award presented by the Junior Chamber of Commerce went to Mrs. A. L. Borchart, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Borchart of Crowell.

Club Women to Join in Safety Campaign

Because Texas traffic deaths jumped 5 per cent in 1951 over 1950, clubwomen are being urged to join a campaign to make every Texan safety conscious.

"The need is as close to us as the nearest car," Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs of Wortham stressed to the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, throwing her support as president behind the campaign.

The appeal comes on the eve of a mass safety meeting scheduled for Houston Feb. 15. There at the Music Hall Friday morning a "Woman's Crusade on Safety" will fire its opening gun. The TPWC joins the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety, the Automotive Safety Foundation, and others to launch this crusade. It follows adoption of safety by Texas clubwomen as a major project.

Mrs. Jud Collier of Mumford, the TPWC's energetic safety chairman, has invited every group on the Gulf Coast to swell the crusade's ranks in war against public indifference to highway dangers.

The Crowell Rotary Club held its noon luncheon Wednesday at the regular meeting place with the DeLuxe Cafe serving the meal. Next week the club has accepted an invitation to meet with the Lions Club at the Liberty Cafe Tuesday at noon.

British were prevented from sailing up the Hudson River during the Revolution by a massive chain stretched across the river at West Point.

Wildcat Cagers Lose First Game of Play-Offs to Newcastle Here Tuesday; Play Second Game There Tonight

The Crowell High School basketball team lost the first of a three-game play-off 49 to 46 here last Tuesday night to the Newcastle Bobcats. These two teams ended the regular district schedule in a tie with a nine-one record. The second game of this series will be played at Newcastle tonight (Thursday) and in case of a third game, it will be played at Seymour Friday night. The winner will represent District 1A-9 at Denton in the regional meet next week.

Newcastle got off to a 13 to 12 lead in the first quarter Tuesday night due to several long field goal shots. The Wildcats came back strong in the second quarter and forged ahead by halftime 29 to 24. However, the third quarter found the Crowell boys playing miserable ball and allowing the Bobcats to score 19 points to Crowell's six. Crowell came close to catching up in the last quarter but failed by three points. Members of both teams were very nervous and not playing up to par. However, they used every ounce of energy they had in trying to cop this important contest. There were no outstanding stars on either squad. Roy Whitley led in scoring for Crowell with 15 points and Lee Tate scored 14 points for the winner. Crowell scored only four of the 14 free shots while Newcastle was collecting 11 of 20 gratis throws. Billy Marlow and Jim Paul Norman fouled out for Crowell late in the game.

Half Inch of Rain Received Here in Last Two Weeks

One-half inch of rain has been received here within the last two weeks and west and south of Crowell the precipitation was heavier, particularly in the north part of Knox County and west part of Foard County.

The moisture has been of great benefit to the wheat crop which is furnishing good pasture for the many head of cattle grazing on it. Wheat that is not being pastured is becoming rank for this time of year.

The extreme warm weather that has prevailed for several weeks is causing fruit trees to bloom and the fruit crop will probably be lost in the event a hard freeze visits this section later on in the spring.

Mud Turtles Make Appearance Early

A mud turtle was picked up on Talking John Creek in the Vivian community last week on Feb. 13 by Frank Blaes of the seismograph crew working in that community.

Since the mud turtle buries itself in the mud during the winter months and emerges at the opening of spring, Feb. 13 is considered by those who have observed the habits of this type of turtle to be extremely early for them to appear. They usually show up in the latter part of March or early April.

The Way to Stop

Washington — The way to cut spending is to cut.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States sees a glimmer of hope in the fact that the Navy seems ready to go along with the recommendation of a Senate subcommittee that the efficiency of its officers be rated on their ability to economize and prevent waste. Says the Chamber in its monthly periodical "Taxpayer's Dollar,"

"Joe Taxpayer gets sick of reading about tax scandals, mink coats, corruption, waste and inefficiency in government. You can't blame him if he begins to think that maybe everybody on Capitol Hill loves him because of his money.

"Fortunately, Joe's depression doesn't last too long. Economy forces on the Hill are stronger than most people think. Hard working clear thinking Senators and Representatives frequently turn up with sensible recommendations for economy.

"The spend-like-mad lads scoff at such suggestions, but the taxpayer welcomes them indeed. He applauds vigorously. In the last session, a Senate Preparedness Sub-Committee made the recommendations about officers' ratings. With Navy cooperation, maybe the long suffering taxpayer may get some of the breaks to which he is entitled. Especially if the Army and the Air Force follow suit!"

No Dull Moments for O. C. Raney of Spearman

(Editor's Note: The following article concerning Mr. Raney, a former Foard County resident, is reprinted from the Amarillo Globe Times of Feb. 7.)

O. C. Raney, horseman, farmer, real estate dealer, politician, champion domino player and ex-cowboy, can't remember a dull moment. He was born in Collin County on July 21, 1873, and in the same house his mother was born in. By 1888, the family had moved to Hardeman County, and Old Margaret was the county seat then.

Oliver Raney is a statistician by nature and he hands out a fact and a number every time he opens his mouth, whether talking years, horses, cows or people. For example, he remembers in 1889 when he went to work for the 999 Ranch it had 3 or 4 brands.

In 1892 Mr. Raney went to work for the J. Buckle Ranch in Greer County, Okla. The ranch was in Texas when he started the job. It was there that he learned the value of a calf. Hands were branding down close to Salt Creek Flat; it was raining and muddy and the calves were hard to hold. One got lost and took off up the side of a mountain. Mr. Raney gave chase about half the way up, then realized he would kill his horse if he kept on.

He turned and rode slowly back to the branding pen. "Did you get that calf marked?" asked Sam Reed, the boss. "No, sir, I never." "Did you kill the horse?" Sam asked.

"No, sir." "A calf is worth more than a horse. Don't ever leave another one till you have killed the horse."

In 1894 Mr. Raney was cowboying with the 3D outfit near Bowie. One day they were rounding up and a bad cloud came up; they all went to the gathered cattle, hoping to hold them. Someone missed Jimmy Crain and pretty soon they saw his horse wandering around, up on the mountain with the saddle on. They knew that meant trouble. Lightning had struck him and knocked him unconscious. Mr. Raney helped get him to a hotel in Bowie.

In 1897, Mr. Raney "went up the trail" from Knox County to Woodward, Indian Territory, with 1,786 four-year-old steers. Six weeks later he went back with a mixed herd of 2,300 animals.

He worked 38 months for the O. X. Ranch, an outfit which then branded over 5,000 calves a year. But he was tired of punching cattle. He talked it over with his bosses, and they thought he had the right idea; so they gave Mr. Raney his favorite cutting horse, Sam Jones, and a wagon and team. Of the nine men working there, only three are left—Waide O'Neal of Amarillo, Rufus Bedford of Henderson and Mr. Raney.

Mr. Raney recalls some prices of those days: Wages for cowpokes, $30 and board; shop made boots, $9; marring boots, kangaroo feet with morocco tops, $13; Stetsons, $7 to $9; California pants, best work grade, $3 to $5. Most of the cowboys wore "duckin'" overalls over their work clothes so they could peel them off, hang them on the saddle and have that "dressed-up look" at the drop of a hat.

When Mr. Raney quit working on ranches, he and Mrs. Raney moved to Greer County, Okla. The Raney family lived in Greer County 11 years and farmed near Jester, Okla. It was a great grain sorghum country, and Mr. Raney has the distinction of having the first row hinder in the county, a new, one-row, Buckeye.

Mr. Raney cast his first vote in November, 1893, when Hogg and Clark were in a hot gubernatorial race. From then on he studied politics and developed an interest in local politics and elections.

He moved to Hansford County in 1917 and was appointed election judge in 1918. He was reappointed each year until his health prevented him from active duties.

Mr. Raney said he served as judge "more times than any other man in Texas. I bound you, Back in 1948, I was judge of three city elections and four school elections," he replied.

In 1923 Mr. Raney opened a real estate office in Spearman and carried on that business until he retired.

He is an excellent domino player—a talent which came in handy when a stroke left him unable to get around. He had the legs on a bridge table spliced to a height where he could play without bending. Most every day someone comes in for a few games. But Dr. G. P. Gibner and T. H. Taylor, veterans of the game, give the stiffest competition.

Mr. Raney has a lighting system rigged up so he can get the light just right, day or night, for a game. A high-legged table doubles for a reading table, and holds three things indicative of his character—the Bible, a book on current affairs, his dominos of over a thousand games.

"What do you think has changed most since you were a young man?" he was asked.

"Farm machinery and courting," Mr. Raney replied without batting an eye.

"Do you mean legal procedure?" "Yes, it's legal procedure, but what I really meant was courting. Now take me and my wife. The first time I remember meeting her I was about to freeze and I cut across to her father's house. They were just fixing to eat and begged me to eat, but I was too bashful. I didn't eat. I had a girl, and I had come with my overalls covering new $5 California pants. I was plagued. Overalls were like chaps are now, to protect no cowboy ever went bare. I discarded them and threw the saddle because the girl of sized up a feller by the color of California pants he wore. $3 bargainers or the $5 cut-throats.

"I never really got out there but I wanted to get on up Salt Flats and break 185 horsefast as I could so I could go home before some other chap married the girl I was leaving. It took me five months back and then it was three before I could borrow a bullock to go spend Sunday with neighbors. I'd picked and didn't live too close. Then two months before I had to go see her again. That time her to Paducah to see the Bailey Circus. I drove my horses, Jug and High School. I still had to borrow a bullock. Then the show failed to get a dime.

"I began to rush things. I went back to see her in a month and we got married. Now a fellow wastes a month or more courting, and they don't make nigh the I did."

Kentucky Comunity's Growth Is Phenomenal

Campbellsville, Ky. — The growth of Campbellsville, Ky. has been phenomenal in the last 20 years, a recent industrial survey by the state government reveals.

Twenty years ago the community had a population of 1,200 people. Today, in the same area, there are 6,000 residents.

For many years, lumber, logs, staves, crossties and other lumber products had been the greatest asset. And to a large extent the payrolls from these timber industries supported the community.

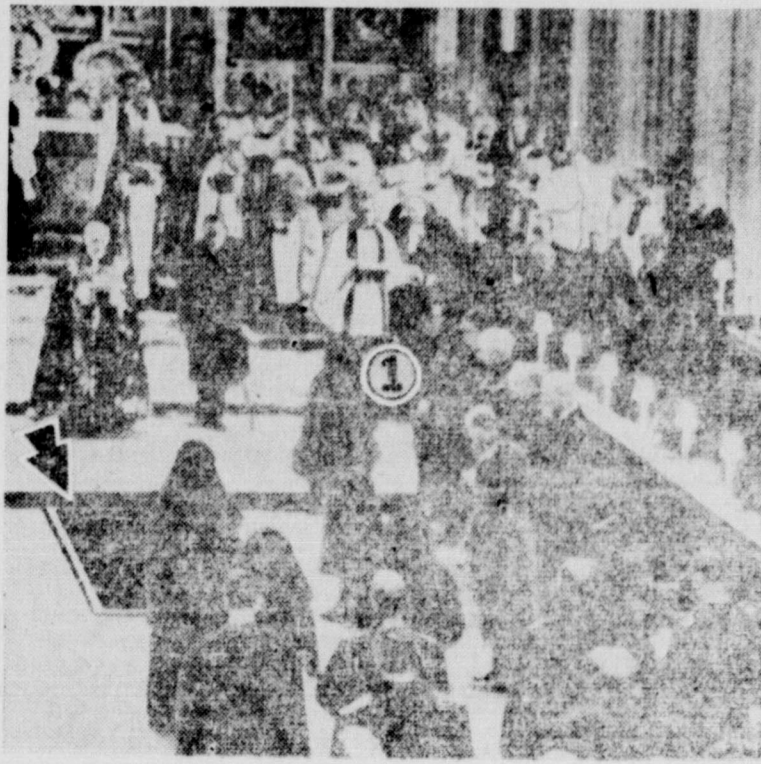

At the end of 1951, the survey showed the community had more than 20 industries employing 800 or more people with a payroll of $2,000,000 a year with plans to expand by additional payrolls of about $2,000,000 within the next twelve months.

Since the arrival of the new industries the community has prospered. New business houses have been erected on Main Street, side streets and in the suburbs. Better looking store fronts and well-lighted show windows have appeared and — more important — there are many more employees behind the counters and desks.

To keep pace with this growth the community has a new water system under construction. There is a new hospital, new buildings for the local college campus, and a new 40-acre sportsmen's lake for fishing and boating.

The community has a new hotel and several motels.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

This is a story about flies, told by a man who despises them for the disease they spread.

"Flies are one of the few species of life which does absolutely no good on this earth," State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox charges. "Other insects are annoying, but they earn their existence by pollinating plants or by feeding on less desirable forms of life. But not flies."

He says the black swarming insects have but one saving grace: their short lives. A fly reaching maturity in the spring won't live to annoy autumn picnickers. One reaching adulthood in the fall might make it through the winter, but by spring he'll be aged and feeble, too old to pester folks out to witness the wonders of the fresh new season.

But during its lifespan, Dr. Cox says, a fly is extremely prolific. If a single pair begin their family in April, and if all their progeny live, there would be countless millions by fall.

"That's no pipe dream," the doctor said. "It's based on the most accurate entomological evidence."

In case you have wondered how far a fly can fly, Dr. Cox has the answer to that one, too. He says entomologists have found an energetic one can cover up to 15 miles in one day without the aid of wind currents. How did they find out?

They trapped one, fed him radioactive phosphorus and set him loose. Retrapped, experimenters used a Geiger counter to make the identification. He was 15 miles from the starting point.

There's only one answer to the fly problem in Texas, Dr. Cox believes. He says cleanliness, using chemical science as a tool, will keep them under control.

"And start now," he advises. "This weather is ideal for fly breeding."

He doesn't like flies at all.

Story Told of Airplane Flying Game Warden

The story of the air arm of the Texas Game and Fish Commission is told in the February issue of "Texas Game and Fish" magazine.

It relates how Game Warden Claude Keller, flying a Stinson two-seater, not only patrols the Gulf of Mexico coast line but also serves as a flying transmitter to relay messages for his ground-pounding associates on duty inland.

Keller, who has been a pilot for more than ten years, flew an artillery spotting L-5 during the war. This background as a "grass-hopper pilot," pin pointing targets for the big guns, helps him locate law violators in the Gulf as well as in nearby inland rivers.

Warden Keller watches particularly for netting in closed waters along the coast and for use of illegal equipment, and faulty oil barges that pollute the waters of the inter-coastal canal.

Inland, he locates illegally placed fishing nets by noticing the corklines on the surface of the water.

Over the Gulf, Keller sometimes has to use wartime tricks to surprise offenders, such as diving out of the sun or, on cloudy days, suddenly dropping through a hole in the overcast.

Warden Keller also spies on the waterfowl hunters. He said he "doubted" if anyone ever shot at him but he recalled the times when commercial fishermen, caught cheating, threw fish at his plane. Another time he flew so low studying a violation against closed fishing waters that a boatman threw an oar at him.

OIL SEARCH EXPENSIVE

Nearly everywhere in the United States, and especially east of the Mississippi, it is becoming more difficult and more costly to find new, undeveloped oil fields. Some 10 years ago in the East, about 19 per cent of the oil industry's income was being expended on the search for new oil. At the present time, the struggle to keep oil production in balance with consumption in this region is costing 35 per cent or more of income.

Texas Hunters Send 11,405 Quail Wings from Hunting Season

Texas hunters this year returned 11,405 quail wings to the Texas Game and Fish Commission for study by wildlife technicians as compared to 7,642 last season.

Sorting and counting of the wings was completed this week. Figures will be used to help establish data concerning hatching success, survival of young birds, the effect of seasonal weather on annual populations, and other factors of importance in the management, conservation, and restoration of quail.

Noting the increase of returns, the Director of Wildlife Restoration said, "If the response to our requests for wings continues to grow, the hunters will play an ever-increasing role in helping us to learn new ways to provide them with the quality of hunting they wish."

The 1951-52 season was the second in which the state's hunters were asked to return wings of birds killed in the field.

Compilation of data for this year is just beginning, but the Director noted that in general the figures reflect the severe drought of last summer's hatching season, which dealt quail reproduction a severe blow in most parts of the state. This in turn led to relatively poor hunting success.

Late hatches were effected most particularly in South Texas. In that area, just over 50 per cent of the young quail were hatched after Aug. 15 in 1950, while in 1951 the late hatch was only 1.2 per cent.

This year the best hunting was found in the lower plains of the Panhandle and in the Panhandle, where climatic conditions have been unusually beneficial during the quail hatching season for two consecutive years.

The poorest hunting was in South and Southwest Texas, although scattered spots in this area yielded good bags.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to say thanks to everyone in Crowell and Foard County for the many kind things that were done for me while in the Wichita Falls hospital and since coming home. For the visits, the flowers, the cards, letters and gifts, I cannot express how I appreciate them. To Bro. Bayless and Bro. Walker I also express appreciation. God will hear and answer our prayers and, after a while, we will understand. Mrs. Grover Cole.

DILETTANTE CLUB

The Dilettante Club met Wed. Feb. 13 with Mrs. Marion Chowning Jr. and Mrs. Newt Bryant as hostesses. The meeting was held in the club room at the Truscott Community House.

Following the business session, an informative program on table settings and catering was given. Mrs. Walter Carl Taylor discussed table services and settings suitable for various types of menus. Mrs. Q. D. Williams presented an illustrated talk on party foods using an array of equipment and foods to show how she prepares some of her favorites. Foods prepared included decorated canapes, parfaits, baker Alaska and enchiladas. Printed recipes for the foods were given to each member.

The hostesses served a lovely refreshment plate carrying out the Valentine motif. Miss Mary Chowning, nurse director, entertained the members' children with a Valentine party in the play room. Next meeting will be Feb. 27 with Mrs. Odell Williams and Mrs. Marion Hord as hostesses.

FEBRUARY IS A MONTH OF MANY GREAT BIRTHS

February! A month to be remembered. Great fighters, leaders, and musicians were born in February. It would be hard to say Washington could not compare with Handel in music; Cody as Edison as great as Longfellow in poetry. Each one has his place in the hearts of Americans as models and examples in their fields of greatness.

Love for the ideal they wanted to fulfill, hard work to achieve it, and faith in their work, characterized the famous men born in February. The thing that made Lincoln and Washington famous also made Roger Williams, Victor Herbert, Fritz Kreisler, Charles Dickens and William Harrison great public figures.

It was Washington's desire to see a new nation born. He lived by these words from his farewell address, "Observe good faith and justice toward all nations; cultivate good peace and harmony with all. Religion and morality enjoin this conduct, and can it be that good policy does not equally enjoin it? It will be worthy of a free, enlightened and at no distant period, a great nation, to give to mankind the magnanimous and too novel example of a people always guided by an exalted justice and benevolence."

rendered such a wide variety of musical selections that its appeal reached both young and old and lovers of the classics and bee-bop alike.

Mr. Bynum, showing a considerable knowledge of showmanship, presented his best soloists and trios in special numbers. A student from Chihuahua, Mexico, in the full, colorful costume typical of his native country offered a number on the merinba which was especially entertaining.

By special request of Crowell's band director, Walter B. Harris Jr., Mr. Bynum and the band played "The Thunderer" by John Phillip Sousa. Mr. Bynum explained that one of the best moments of his life was the time when Mr. Sousa himself directed the McMurry Band upon one of his visits to Abilene.

For an example of the novelty numbers for which the band is noted, was their version of "Stout Hearted Men." The boys left their seats on the stage to sing and march in time to the refrain.

Other numbers by the band were "The Barber of Seville Overture," "Night Beat" and "Simbola."

Mr. Harris directed "Simbola"; this was an act of tribute to their hosts.

As the closing number, Mr. Bynum announced that they would play "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

"Closing each of my programs with 'Battle Hymn of the Republic' has always been a custom of mine," Mr. Bynum stated, "and I suppose that as long as I am directing the Indian Band, it always will be." The band began by playing "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and ended by singing it. The audience then joined with the chorus in singing our national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner."

SENIORS' OCCUPATIONS

by Elwin Setliff

The seniors of Crowell High School had a work day of variable occupations Saturday, Feb. 16, when they worked for the business men of Crowell.

Don Brisco peddled prunes at Razor Food Store. Eva Rae Geaslin and Norma Matthews were the soda skeets of the week at Ferguson and Shirley-Youree Drugs. John Greening fixed flats at D&H Parts Co. Camille Todd played records all day at Crowell Radio Service. John Diggs is the new mechanic at Phelps Motor Co. Leonard Myers was an appliance man at Brooks Auto Supply. Jane Bruce did judging for Leslie Thomas. Maurine Youree has turned from Chrysler to Ford by working at Self Motor Co. Keep your hat on, Mary Bergt may be trying to work her way through the senior class selling insurance after working for Spence - Olmstead Insurance Agency. You may have a dirty spot on your clothes because Robert Brock worked at Magee Toggery. Watch your bank statement; Lana Short worked at the Crowell State Bank. Lights out, Barbara Thaxton hit the wrong key at the West Texas Utilities. The wheat kings of Crowell High School are Pauline Wheeler of Farmers Co-Op. Elevator Association and Elba Caddell of the Foard County Mill.

The seniors appreciate this favor, for the money will be applied on the annual senior trip in May. Again, they say to these civic minded citizens, "Thank you, good people."

THE JOB'S THE BOSS

The job? Surely you have met the job, the siren of the south parking lot. If not, here's a short description: she's a healthy brunette with perpetual gray where the roof has faded. As for her age, no one ever tells a lady's age, but she is quite well preserved.

The job is a rather strong-minded car, and we use the term loosely, belonging to Thurston Edgin, the sophisticated senior. A rather brazen girl, the job has developed the disconcerting habit of honking both horns when a classy looking dame steps by.

As for her starting ability, she just likes to be coaxed a little, and it seems she has a particular fondness for a certain street in Vernon.

It usually takes at least ten minutes of active persuasion, getting more and more active as the minutes go by, on Thurston's part to induce the job to start, and only then after a few convulsive coughs does the job give up her post.

CHS BOYS VIEW GLOBETROTTERS

Four of the Crowell High School students left Crowell en route to Dallas with Jim Hill Erwin to see the Harlem Globetrotters. They left Crowell about two o'clock Saturday afternoon and arrived in Dallas about seven o'clock the same evening. When they arrived at the Fair Park gymnasium, they were very disappointed to find all the tickets sold out. By standing near the door and asking people with tickets if they had any extras, they finally purchased enough tickets to get in.

By all reports that they have given, you would have to see the Globetrotters play to believe what they can do with a basketball. They put on a very excellent exhibition all the evening, and the boys report that the trip was well worth it. Along with basketball they played a little football and some baseball.

They also saw two other professional teams play, Philadelphia and Toledo. These teams put on a very nice performance. They were showing how good basketball should be played.

The boys who went on this trip were Jim Paul Norman, "Ace" Whitley, Fred Barker and Jim Stinebaugh. These boys enjoyed their trip very much and would like to see the Globetrotters again.

SOPHOMORE PRESIDENT DECLARES FARMING THE BEST OCCUPATION

The outstanding personality of this week is James Pittillo, the president of the sophomore class. James — quiet, handsome and reserved—stands 5 feet 11 inches tall and is the proud possessor of two brown eyes and an abundance of wavy, red hair that makes the girls sigh.

James, who was born July 16, 1935, is very much interested in agriculture and rates VA as his favorite subject. He is vice president of the FFA Club and takes an active part in all the events pertaining to that type of work.

After graduation James wants to attend college and learn how to do his farming more scientifically. Among his favorites are fried chicken, fish, and most popular songs. Although all the girls wish they were among those favorites, James' heart belongs to other things just now. In the future we are sure that he will succeed for he is the type of person everyone likes to know.

SEWING AND COOKING HEAD BASIC ARTS OF CHSITES

Small cakes, breakfast dishes, children's garments, and house projects are all found in the sewing department at CHS. First, second and third year homemaking girls busily prepare for the future as Mrs. Ruth Kenner, homemaking instructor, nods her head approvingly and makes a few changes in their projects.

February 14, Valentine Day, the first year students baked small cakes which were decorated in the traditional heart.

Gay plaids and cool chambrays are finding their use in the second year class as the girls are making a garment for a small child.

Third year girls, who have already traveled the road of small cakes and children's garments, are studying the home.

All three classes are required to have a home project in connection with the work studies during class periods," stated Mrs. Kenner.

FLASHES FROM THE PRIMARY DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Sollis' 1st grade is beginning to learn number combinations and are spelling the words in their readers. They are looking forward to learning a song for George Washington's birthday.

Mrs. Hart's 1st grade have posted their photographs, which were taken earlier in the year, on their bulletin board. They are planning to plant a garden soon. Charles Jackey Cox, Rodger Dale Doyle, Junior Hopkins, Carroll Kennedy, Marlyn Denton, Linda McClain, Bette Sue Orr and Rebecca Savada have all had birthdays recently.

Mrs. Young's 1st and 3rd grades went to high school for Cokes for the first time as a celebration for Valentine Day. They are all doing good work in numbers.

Miss Hays' 2nd grade is making booklets on Washington and Lincoln for February. Denny Garrett, a polo victim, delighted the class by being present for their Valentine party.

Mrs. Graves' 2nd grade had a bit of excitement during their walk around the football field the other day when Thomas Hopkins cut his hand on a barbed wire fence.

Mrs. Cooper's 3rd grade is engaged in the interesting work of preparing an exhibit for their mothers. They are building 8 model villages complete with people in costume. On the day of the exhibit, the children plan to dress in the costumes of their villagers.

Mrs. Streit's 3rd grade has been making peep boxes to demonstrate the different ways in which cloth is made and used.

Mrs. Thomas' 4th grade enjoyed the movies shown them by Bro. Franklin last week. They were called This Amazing Universe and a Crocodile Hunt. Gordon Fish and Patricia Pittillo have February birthdays.

Mrs. Bounds has been absent from her 4th grade class because of illness. Her students miss her very much but enjoy Mrs. Bruce's substituting. They like their study of vowels in spelling.

DESPERADO?

A so-called dangerous desperado was on the loose in school last week. His picture appeared on the bulletin board as wanted by the teachers for skipping class.

A 1c reward was posted for his capture and we wonder who collected it?

This "character" is tall, blond, medium looking; and we say more? His occupation — crap shooter, and many others???

Beware — he is dangerous, especially when armed with a pair of dice and a deck of cards.

His aliases are many and his captures are few. Be on the look out also for a pal of his named — McBeath. And in case you wonder who this varmint is — Jimmy Woods.

CATS BLAST ARCHER 69-19; IN SERIES WITH BOBCATS

The Cats' playing aggressive and hustling basketball, trounced the Archer City Wildcats 69-19 on the latter's court Friday night. The new gymnasium was about the only consolation possessed by Archer boys this basketball season as they ended the season in the cellar.

Meanwhile, local players were disappointed at Henrietta's poor showing against Newcastle. A win for Henrietta would have given CHS the championship, but the hustling Newcastle five beat the Bearcats 46-26 to remain tied with Crowell for the championship.

Tonight the local roundballers go to Newcastle for the second and maybe the last game in this series. Should the games be tied up, then the third and final contest will be played in Seymour Friday night. Let's all boost those Cats all the way by following them to Newcastle tonight.

CROWELL AND NEWCASTLE IN PLAYOFF FOR DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP

Crowell High School's basketball team will be battling for the district championship this week when they take on Newcastle tonight at Newcastle. If a third game is necessary, it will be played tomorrow night (Friday) at Seymour.

The winner of this district will go to Denton next Friday and Saturday. They will be representing district 1A9 in the tournament that is to be held there.

Crowell trimmed Archer City 63-19 while Newcastle walked over Henrietta last Friday night 46-26. Each team has a won-lost record of 9-1. Crowell lost their only game to the Bobcats in a three-minute overtime period by three points.

All fans should see a very good game tonight. Be sure to back the Wildcats.

NORMA'S NONSENSE

Hi, Gang! Did you know that there are only twelve more weeks until school is out? Sixty more days? Probably about fifty more days until the senior trip, when!

Well, I guess after all Jean and CloVonne aren't going to be old maids. They are sporting Dancy Taylor's and David Haney's football jackets.

On the Sick List McBeath is in the hospital. We all wish you a speedy recovery, Even Mrs. Sloan.

Grin, Ace, Chick and Fred enjoyed seeing the Globe Trotters play Saturday night. What's this about selling tickets? Ha!

Alan Taylor, George Fox, and Professor Graves stayed too long at the burlesque show to get tickets for the Globe Trotters.

Marcia and Ginger had a good time at Abilene over the week end. Marcia, are you going to ACC after you get out of school? What Goes on in Grammar School

It's tough not being able to eat, isn't it, Jackie and Don? Valentine candy is rather expensive. Coy's ring is still on Charlene's left hand, or did you notice?

Joann Fox is a good catch. Don't you think so, boys? Seems that C. T. has interests in the seventh grade.

Betty Jane, seems as if you like Tennessee. Wonder if it's the scenery? Lavata surely likes Kansas. We guess it's the sunflowers?

Beat Newcastle

Everybody had a wonderful time at the junior party! Seniors all had time working Saturday! Smile when you say that.

Jane Cooper had a few boy visitors from Vernon. Think one was here to see Dorothy.

Jackie has been making the rounds. Thursday night it was Kenneth Fox and Saturday night Don Brown.

Jean was lonesome since Jim was at Dallas Saturday night. R. C. and Loretta are getting along fine these days.

Barbara was seen with Moose of Sweetwater over the week end. Who was Mary Werley riding around with Sunday afternoon.

See you around next week. Beat Newcastle . . .

Painters working 175 feet above the keel of the new superliner United States looked dwarfed by one of the two giant stacks which are 60 feet long and 55 feet high. The "sampan" top which serves to deflect exhaust up and away from the sun and sports decks is a distinctive feature of both the United States and the America, present flagship of the United States Lines. The stacks are made entirely of aluminum and sections are held together by 65,000 aluminum rivets. The 990 foot liner, the largest ever built in America and the most modern passenger ship in the world, will compete in speed with the fastest foreign flagships now in service. Home Demonstration Notes

MARY DEEB BROWN

On Monday, Feb. 25, I plan to prune some of the shrubs around the court house. Among these shrubs will be pyracantha, nandina, wax leaf legustrum, bush honeysuckle, abelia, flowering jasmine and others. If you are interested in seeing this so that you will know how to prune your shrubs, we will be glad to have you.

Last year we pruned shrubs at Mrs. Hubert Brown's house and all of them have come out nicely. However, many of you did not hear about that meeting in time to come, so we will welcome anyone who is interested, Monday, Feb. 25.

We will start about 9 a. m. and continue for the rest of the morning. Sometime between 10:30 and 11 that morning we will stop for a demonstration on making and planting cuttings. We had originally planned to spend all day pruning, but due to 4-H meetings that afternoon we will quit at noon.

I hope all of you who are interested will try to be here.

This is the last month to put out the rest of your shrubs and trees and to finish your pruning. Remember though, that we do not prune forsythia, japonica or other early blooming shrubs until after they have bloomed. Do you need some help on choosing your shrubs? I have a bulletin on "Shrubs for Year Round Color" which gives names, explanations, date of bloom, size and instructions for growth and use. If you would like to have one of these bulletins, call or come by my office.

Here is a recipe of Orange Tuna with Noodles which you might be interested in as it is a nutritious and economical main protein dish.

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
Grated rind of 1/2 lemon.
Grated rind of 1/2 orange.
Salt
3/4 cup milk.
One 7-oz. can grated tuna.
One 8-oz. package noodles.

Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan and stir in the flour smoothly. Remove from heat, add grated orange and lemon rind, salt and milk. Return to range and cook slowly, stirring constantly, for about 5 minutes. Add the tuna and cook gently for another 5 minutes. Service over cooked, hot noodles or macaroni. Serves 4. A little more grated orange rind sprinkled over the top looks pretty and tastes fine.
