REV. ASA HUNT

Youth Evangelist Preach Sunday at Baptist Church

Rev. Asa Hunt, well-known youth evangelist of Dallas, is to preach Sunday at the First Baptist church in Crowell, in the absence of the pastor, Barnard Franklin. Rev. Hunt is a graduate of Baylor University and of the North Dallas High School. He has preached in youth revivals under the direction of the State Baptist Student Department during the past two summers. He led in youth revivals in Washington, D. C., during one summer. Morning services will be at 10:50 and night services at 7:30. Everyone is cordially invited, says the pastor.

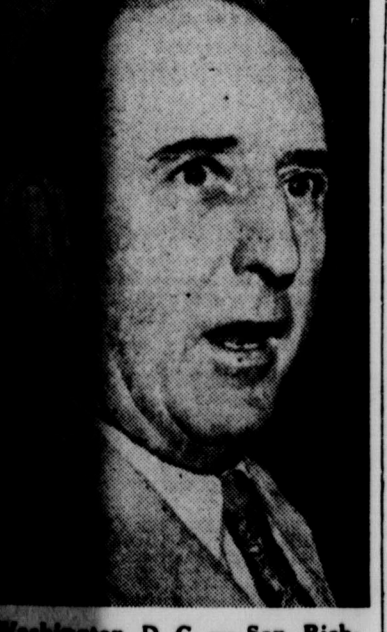

Knox Farmers Urged to Join National Scrap Iron Drive

All Knox County farmers and ranchers are urged by County Agent W. C. Palmeyer, to assist in the National Scrap Drive which is aimed towards building up the scrap pile of scrap needed for the country's defense. It has been pointed out that over half of the farms and ranches in the nation have enough scrap iron to place the place to buy a new car. The scrap drive is headed by the Knox County Mobilization Committee which is composed of agricultural workers of the county, and rather than handle scrap twice, the people of the county are asked to carry their scrap to the regular scrap buyer nearest town. The defense of the United States is part of the duty of all citizens, so all are urged by Mr. Palmeyer to clean up around the place and turn scrap iron, steel, car parts, batteries, copper and aluminum in to their nearest dealer. By doing this, he said, you will not only be paid market price for the items, but help free our place from hazards that might cause a serious accident.

All Texas Counties Are Eligible for FHA Disaster Loans

All Texas counties are now under designation as disaster areas by proclamation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The action qualifies farmers who have suffered crop losses and who are unable to obtain credit elsewhere for loans from the Farmers Home Administration to put in 1952 crops. Announcement of the designation was made at Dallas, headquarters of the Farmers Home Administration, by L. J. Cappelman, state director.

Bad weather conditions in 1951 reduced crop yields materially and tightened up credit conditions, to the extent that many farmers were unable to finance crop plantings. Disaster loans are now available in each county. Farmers who have sustained production losses on crops and livestock may apply for funds to pay for seed, fertilizer and materials for insect control where needed, gas and oil for tractors, feed for livestock, essential farm and home operating expenses, machinery repairs and other expenses incident to the production of a crop.

Credit is advanced under authority of Public Law 38 and is available to farmers who have sustained losses, and who cannot obtain from local sources the funds needed to plant a crop this year. Before a loan is made a county committee of three farmers must certify that the applicant suffered a substantial production loss. Farmers may apply for loans at the office of County Supervisor Jewel Daughtrey in Crowell, Vernon and Quanah. The County Supervisor is in the Crowell office on Monday from 10 a. m. until 12 noon and the office is located in the basement of the court house; in the Vernon office all day on Friday and the office is located on the second floor of the county court house; and in the Quanah office on Wednesday from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m. and the office is located in the Agriculture building.

Funds will be available to ranchmen whose herds have been depleted by the drought. They can borrow to restock their pastures. Farmers who qualify under the disaster loan regulations may discuss their needs with the county supervisor. Better farming practices are emphasized in the FHA loan program. These will be discussed and agreed upon by the county supervisor and the applicant when the loan application is prepared. A program of diversification is the safest course. Farmers who have carried out a balanced farming program with livestock do not need emergency aid this year even though they did sustain losses because of drought conditions last year, according to a survey of case files, the county supervisor emphasized.

Cooking with Sauce Pan Saves Time, Work and Fuel, Says Agent

The housewife will find that cooking with a pressure sauce pan saves time, work and fuel and insures the food value of the products prepared. Mrs. Mary Brown, acting County Home Demonstration Agent, says that such a pan should be chosen with care because it cooks with steam under pressure.

Several points should be considered when a pressure sauce pan is to be purchased. Mrs. Brown says that some pressure sauce pans have controls which automatically hold the pressure and temperature at desired points. This is done by using the pan. Others just use pressure indicators. In using the latter it is necessary to adjust the heat so as to hold the desired pressure.

Safety features are very important since the sauce pan will contain steam under pressure. Mrs. Brown states that all cookers have safety devices which release the steam should the pressure get too high. Some of these devices are a rubber diaphragm which blows out, a metal plug which melts, or a spring in the pet-cock gauge combination.

Look for protection against opening the pan too soon. Some cookers have flexible lids which snap in under the lid of the pan. These cannot be opened until the pressure is down. Flexible lids do have the disadvantage of dipping down into the pan as it is opened and closed.

Consider the handles and knobs. They should be made of material and a shape which can be handled comfortably when the pan is hot. Wood is heat resistant but it cracks and chars when overheated. Some sauce pans now have handles of heat resistant plastic.

Mrs. Brown says the seal of approval of the Underwriters Laboratories Inc., gives further assurance of the mechanical safety of the pressure sauce pan. Be sure and look for this seal before buying. She further advises homemakers to use the instructions which come with the pan regardless of the kind bought.

1952 Official State Highway Maps Now Available Free

The shortest distance between two points is established by an old axiom, but from the standpoint of motorists, the shortest distance between two points can only be established by the Official Highway Travel Map.

D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, announced this week that the Department's new 1952 Official Highway Travel Map is now available free to the general public. The Official Highway Map is revised and published annually. It is used by all state agencies as the basis for computing official car mileage. The new map is 28"x36" and is chock-full of travel guidance and information on Texas. The material is illustrated and in color for easy comprehension and appearance. Several important changes have been made in this year's map which include a topographical relief drawing along with the addition of symbols which show the locations of 854 roadside parks and turnouts. Special emphasis has been placed on indicating various recreational, scenic, and historical spots. All U. S. and State highways are shown. The more important farm and ranch to market roads which serve the cross-country motorist are also shown. The travel information reflected on the map is designed to supply motorists with guidance needed for safety, comfort, and pleasure while traveling Texas highways.

The back side of the map is jam-packed with factual and pictorial Texas history. The story of Texas is unfolded with the map. Many famous milestones and landmarks are described and portrayed pictorially. There are 26 pictures in full color of the more popular historical points of interest in the State with a full caption explaining each scene. A panorama is used to introduce some of the more popular historical characters in a "passing parade" of Texas history.

Included also for the first time is a map of Mexico, incorporated with the small U. S. map, showing the principal highways and cities, however, it is primarily for geographical purposes.

This new map can be obtained by mailing the map card distributed by the Tax Assessor-Collector's office with the sale of license plates, or by writing directly to the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, Texas. Copies are also available in any Highway District office or the Highway Travel Information Bureau.

Brother of Local Man Congratulates Crowell Citizens

In a recent letter to the News, Thomas E. Dixon of Tulsa, Okla., paid a nice tribute to Crowell and its citizens for courtesies shown his brother, Henry Dixon, when his business was destroyed by fire in December. Mr. Dixon was joined in his tribute to Crowell by his other three brothers, Carl O. Dixon of Tulsa and Melvin A. Dixon and Robert L. Dixon of Oklahoma City.

The letter follows: "I want to salute your town and community as one, to the best of my knowledge, that is unexcelled anywhere in the measure of community spirit, civic pride, and the Good Neighbor policy."

"This very enviable 'low down' on your community travelled by grapevine from salesmen, business men, etc., to as far away as Tulsa, Oklahoma."

"The facts about your fine community spirit, if properly dramatized, would equal some stories of this type that have been published nationally. I am speaking of the fire disaster in Crowell about Christmas time in which my brother, Henry C. Dixon's business was also lost."

"On hearing of his loss and not knowing any one in Crowell or anything about the town, I suggested to my brother the idea of exploring some other town, which might offer better business possibilities than Crowell could offer."

"I could not understand his logic when my brother told me that he would rebuild his store in Crowell, even if he could know that he would make more money elsewhere. But that was before the 'grapevine' started trickling the little human interest stories into Tulsa. How one man, whose name I do not know, left his own business only partly attended to dig among hot ashes for long hours trying to salvage anything of value for my brother."

"How another took salvaged machinery to his own shop, cleaned, oiled and was able to make some of it work. Another who took some to his paint shop and repainted it. How another offered the capital, without interest, that would be necessary to re-open his store, and untold words of kindness and sincere concern for his welfare."

"I do not blame him. I too would rebuild in a community like that. I hope to be able to come out to Crowell some day soon and get acquainted with some of these unselfish people."

"I can't help but be reminded what a wonderful world this would be if all communities would be like Crowell, Texas, with regard to one's fellow man, with regard to 'We salute Crowell.'"

Villages Bar Merger of Schools

Ardley, N. Y.—A proposal to consolidate the schools of Ardley and Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., was decisively defeated in a recent election.

The proposal was intended to effect economy and improve the scholastic, athletic and extra-curricular programs for the school systems of the adjoining communities.

In record turnout, 1,537 of the 1,681 registered voters in Dobbs Ferry downed the proposal by 1,150 to 387. Ardley voted down the measure by a margin of 610 to 459, with only 191 of its eligibles failing to vote.

With defeat of the merger proposal, the Ardley Board of Education met immediately to consider the only alternative to consolidation — construction of a new school. Authorization of a new building, however, would require a local referendum.

Small Town Florida Bank Just "Gives Up"

Greenwood, Fla. — The town of Greenwood — population 300 — will soon be without bank. The Bank of Greenwood, which has served the rich peanut and livestock community for 43 years, is going out of business.

"We're old, we're tired, we've got the money to pay everybody 100 per cent, so we're going to do it while we can and rest some," said R. A. Willis, president.

"We were born 30 years too soon. We can't fight the battle like it is. Conditions are too fast for me."

It was the first Florida bank to close for any reason in eight years. Deposits amounted to $400,000.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

From a literary point of view life may begin at forty, but from a health standpoint, life after forty begins to be more complicated for the average individual, than it was in his earlier years. According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes, and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than were those of preceding generations, and the present generation, when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.

Medical care in middle life has two important phases. The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete physical checkup, whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illness which may mean the difference between prompt recovery and continued good health and prolonged invalidism. It is difficult to say which of these phases is the more important.

It has been found that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow the advice arising from them tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and free from disease than those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities.

It is also a fact that many diseases of middle age respond to treatment in early stages whereas if neglected until later stages they often cause permanent invalidism and even death.

Good advice for persons over forty is that they have regular physical examinations and obtain prompt medical attention for any and all illnesses.

TV Keeps 'Em Down on Farm on Saturday

Spring Valley, Wis. — Pierce county businessmen are faced with a problem brought on by television.

At a recent meeting of the merchants' organization it was proposed that the community's stores stay open late on Friday nights, instead of Saturday as is the custom in most small towns. Farmers don't want to go to town on Saturday night any more in those areas where there is good television reception because programs are too good that night.

Many of the community's merchants also said they would prefer to stay open Friday because early closing on Saturday would give them and the farmers, a longer week end period in which to relax.

Opponents of the late Friday plan, however, said that Saturday night was traditionally the farmers' night in town. Unable to agree, the merchants put off a final decision until a later date. But a spokesman said it would come up again.

WHAT A WAR!

"Gosh, what a war!" declares Mrs. Janet Mullin of Mt. Ephraim, N. J. "Your husband gets shot on the other side of the world one day and the next he's calling from his hospital room to tell you about it."

The lady had just received a telephone message from her husband in a hospital in Pusan. He had been hit and hospitalized twice before, but she reports, "He sounded just as if he had been calling from Atlantic City to say he was about to go swimming."

The incident emphasizes not only the progress that has been made in the treatment of wounded service men, but the great progress that has been made in communications throughout the world. It is not only "what a war," as this wife exclaims, you might also say, "What a world."

 The cast consisting of Robert Brock, Marcia Kincaid, Don Gobin, Camille Todd, Billy Johnson and Maurine Youree, has been working hard every moment they can spare to make the play go all the way to the top this year. They and their directors, Mrs. Todd and Mrs. Bursley, believe that an evening spent seeing this play of the 1800's will be an evening well spent and sincerely urge one and all to attend.
 Tickets will be on sale next week at prices of 50c and 25c. Be sure to buy a ticket and support what we believe to be a winner. This play is to be presented by arrangement with Row Peterson & Co. of New York.

MUSICAL REVUE OF '52' SET MARCH-APRIL
 Under the direction of Walter B. Harris Jr., the Crowell High School Band will begin marching and practicing in earnest in preparation for various contests and concerts scheduled during the rest of March and April.
 "The band is entering its most important phase of activities aside from football performances," stated Mr. Harris, "and I'm looking forward to students as well as their parents cooperating to the fullest in making this a project we will be proud of."
 With these words Mr. Harris set a definite schedule of coming marching practices. For two weeks beginning March 18 extra marching practices will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays. They will be resumed on March 31 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays for three weeks, and for a week before the first contest, practices will be held every day. "This is to make certain that the band is in top shape for the contest at Abilene on April 26," says Mr. Harris.
 Those band students who will be contestants for solo and ensemble honors will go to San Angelo on April 19. They are the following: solos, Ann Bayless, clarinet; David Bayless, trombone; Bobby Davis, baritone; Nelda Kay Brooks, flute; Pat Davis, saxophone; Lula Scott, horn; and Patricia Mechell, horn. Ensembles are A. L. McGinnis, Cy Moore and Don Brown, cornet trio; Gail Knox, Leta Scott and Ann Bayless, clarinet trio.
 "Melodic Overture" and "Town Crier" are the two overtures that the band plans to play at the contest at Abilene on April 26.
 "I cannot stress enough the importance of each student attending every extra band rehearsal," said Mr. Harris. "I appeal to band parents to back this up, for it is a must."

V. A. BOYS IMPROVE CAMPUS
 "If ya make one false move I'll murder ya." No, this isn't a detective story or murder mystery. It's just friendly advice to students of CHS not to tromp on the hedges. V. A. boys have been very kind to put up fences between the sidewalks, so that the temptation won't be so great to scuffle and fight, tromp or run on the shrubs. This project was begun last week and was finished a day or two later. Wire and posts are the make-up of this fence and together they are very effective in serving their purpose.
 In case you visit your alma mater within the next ten years, you may see CHS with a campus to be proud of, thanks to the VA boys of 1951 and '52.

FAYE BLACK, REPRESENTING FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA, IS RATED FIRST IN STUDENT OF MONTH CONTEST
 By popular vote, Faye Black, representing the Future Homemakers of America organization, was rated first for the month of March.
 Mrs. Ruth Kenner, instructor, says that other than having above average scholastic standing, a willingness to do more than meet class room requirements greatly influences the choice.
 Some of Faye's outstanding qualities, as pointed out by the Homemaking girls, are courtesy, friendliness, cooperativeness with teachers and pupils, and helpfulness in time of trouble. During the first semester Faye worked in the library; at present she sells savings stamps on Tuesdays.

SOLLIS' GEOMETRY CLASS LAYS OFF TRACK
 Last week the CHS geometry class under the direction of J. W. Sollis ventured out to the field for the purpose of laying off the track for the track and field events this year.
 On the field trip Professor Sollis showed the members of the class the use of the tri-pod and how to set it to focus certain objects. He also demonstrated the process of determining certain angles with a given distance. Following this instruction, each student set the scope on the tri-pod for an object at a considerable distance.
 Afterwards, the geometry "whiz kids" measured off the track, and a very accurate job they did.
 It was a very interesting as well as educational trip. Just ask any plane geometry student.

 Swaying to the rhythm of many a merry tune were the CHSites at the Leap Year Dance given by the FHA girls last Friday night.
 The scene of the gala affair, Crowell's Community House, was decorated in a tasteful arrangement of red and white, the official FHA colors, by the members of the decorating committee — Jean Hughston, Carolyn Bell, Margaret Thompson and Virginia Tamplen.

 Soft drinks and cookies were served by Jean Whitby, George Ann Davis, CloVonne McKown, Genevieve McDaniel, Shirley Wehba and Rebecca Calvin to the large group of beautifully dressed girls and carefully tailored boys.
 The sincere thanks of everyone present went to the FHA mothers who assisted in the success of the party, Mrs. George Davis, Mrs.

 "I'm only four years and ten days old," is the statement of CHS's Leap Year Day "birthday child."
 Asked how she felt about just having one birthday every four years, Katie Sue Polk said that it had never seemed to make any difference.
 Katie Sue had an especially enjoyable birthday this year, as her mother gave her a birthday party last Friday.

SPORTS REVIEW
 by Don Gobin
 Looking over the track prospects for the coming track meet, we find plenty of boys, but few with previous track experience. Nevertheless, the speed merchants of Coach Amonett are showing up remarkably well. Eight lettermen are back from last year's sprint team. They are Glyndon Johnson, Ginger Johnson, Jim Norman, Raymond Halenack, James Denton, Wayne Borchardt and Lee Roy

Speaking of football, the Wild-cats should be stronger in almost every position next year since the local gridders lost only 4 boys off of last year's team. At the end positions will be James Pittillo, Lee Roy Bice, Billy Johnson, Jimmy Harper and L. C. Gordon. The tackles will be manned by Rat Walker, George Scott, Jackie Latimer, Joe Don Thompson and Don Smith. The guards, Jimmy Everson, Buddy Caddell, C. T. McDaniel and Billy Abston — will be able to take care of those positions. The center slot will be managed by DuWayne Elliott, Robert Kincaid and Don Kidd. The backfield will be composed of Raymond Halenack, James Denton, Jim Norman, Don Gobin, Gerry Knox, Ginger Johnson, Gordon Graves, Wayne Borchardt and Robert Graves. Probably several more boys will be up from the grade school team.

Weekly Sermon

DAVID ANOINTED KING
from Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Outward appearance, by which man judges, is almost always deceptive. God knows the heart and is able to evaluate a man correctly. In calling David, the ruddy shepherd boy, to be king, God cut across the ideas of men, but He was, as always, right.

God's great storehouses are full of blessings, material and spiritual. But He also has a great and constantly replenished reserve of men and women from which He calls and sends them forth. The thing we must guard against is the setting of hindrances in His holy way, either in our own lives or in the lives of others.

A man power shortage is very serious, for it simply cut off the stream of Production without which action becomes impossible. There should never be any shortage of man power in the Lord's work, and there would never be any if all His creation were willingly subject to Him.

God was ready to set aside Saul, and He had David ready. Samuel the prophet was still grieving over Saul's failure. In a sense that feeling for Saul was most commendable, but it could not go on. When men, even of our own families or circle of friends, persist in rebellion against the Lord, we must not let our grief hold us back, but move on with the man of God's choice.

Upon Saul there came tremendous moods of despondency. These were "from the Lord" in the sense that God permitted His disobedient and rejected servant to suffer the result of his self-will and failure. How awful it is for anyone to be out of the will of God and conscious of His disapproval.

To help Saul in those dark hours David, the sweet singer of Israel, was willing to serve with his voice and his harp. How many thousands of times David has served all the generations since with his psalms. He was a man of gifts, gladly given for the Lord and for others. Bear in mind that while David was not yet publicly crowned, he

Community Seeks Funds to Restore Old Church

Sag Harbor, L. I. — Services are again being held in the Old Whalers' Presbyterian Church in Sag Harbor after a year's drive for $28,000 to make the building safe for services. Another $60,000 is still needed, however, to restore its steeple, once a mariners' beacon.

Built in 1842 when Sag Harbor was a leading Atlantic port and whaling ships anchored, the church lost its 150-foot steeple in the 1938 hurricane. In November, 1950, a bad storm so ravaged the church that its suspended ceiling of "ogge and dot frosting" design sagged dangerously and the building was condemned.

A campaign was started for funds, and by May, 1951, more than $16,000 had been received and the trustees ordered the reconditioning started. In July the reconditioned church was reopened and rededicated at a service broadcast by the Voice of America as an example of one of the Four Freedoms.

Money for the reconditioning came from all over the country. Christopher Columbus is buried in the cathedral of Seville, Spain, was already anointed to be king. Yet he was ready to serve the one whose place he was to take even in his hours of dejection and hateful ill-will.

CINDERELLA TOWN

$1.5 Million Gift Brings Strife to Town

Perryopolis, Pa. — The people of Perryopolis, population 1,500, would give the money away—every dollar of the $1,500,000—if they could again have the small town friendliness that once prevailed in the community.

The money was bequeathed to the little town by Mary Fuller Frazier. Her will said: "The public, charitable, literary or educational purposes for which my residuary estate shall be used shall be selected by my executors, or the survivors of them, in their exercise of their sole discretion, after consultation with the town officials of the town of Perryopolis."

Thrilled by Gift
At first the community was thrilled over the gift. As described by Ernest Farrah, proprietor of a clothing store, "There were crowds of people on the streets all day long. Everyone was talking at once and telling what they'd do with the money. Some thought it ought to be divided so everyone would have a few thousand apiece. Some thought we ought to up the best high school in the state, or hang so many lights on the streets it'd look like Broadway. It was real crazy the ideas that were going around. By the end of the day you'd think there'd be wine flowing through the streets."

After that the fight really began. A planning association was organized by the community and financed by the gift. Its report was 48 pages of the town's assets and shortcomings, with detailed recommendations of how the money should be spent.

Town Divided
But a technicality developed. The will said "town officials," but the community actually elected no officials of its own besides three supervisors chosen every two years in rotation for six year terms. The question developed "were they legally the town officials?" This question blasted the community into two camps—those who sided with the supervisors and those who favored separating the town from the township and becoming a borough.

And while the community fights six men and women have brought suit as alleged first cousins of Mary Fuller Frazier. All this has spelled nothing but trouble for Perryopolis, turning friend against friend, and splitting the town into bitter factions.

Perryopolis has two main streets—Liberty and Independent—which cross at the center of town to form Washington circle. Smaller streets radiate from this circle like the spokes of a wheel. Clustered around the circle are the town's principal stores. These are the main source of employment for the town's population, but they absorb little more than the families of their owners.

The only industry today is two small factories and a sawmill. Most workers have to travel 10, 15 or 20 miles to find employment at the neighboring mines and mills.

Home Demonstration Notes

MARY DEEB BROWN

Can you direct a game or lead a song? Well, this week all Home Demonstration Club Recreation Leaders and the 4-H Club Recreation Leaders learned how to do these things. Mrs. Jack Welch, Mrs. Glenn Shook, Mrs. S. E. Tate, Mrs. Donald Norris, Mrs. Raymond A. Bell, Mrs. Verda Bell, Mrs. Willie Garrett, Mrs. G. M. Moore and Mrs. Monroe Karcher, recreation chairmen of the Foard County Home Demonstration Council, all attended.

The 4-H Club leaders were Gail Knox, Barbara Luckie, Roma Jan Spikes, Gwynne Johnson, Jackie Walker, Gaylon Whitman, J. C. McCoy, Bobby Weiss and Jimmie Thaxton.

Miss Lucille Moore, Recreation Specialist from the Extension Service, conducted this joint Wilbarger County and Foard County Recreation Training School. I'm sure that all of us who attended feel that she did a wonderful job in helping us, and I know that each of the clubs will benefit from sending their recreation leaders.

This week we will finish the last of the Council committee meetings and all committee chairmen will make their report or recommendations to Council this Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in my office.

On a whole we had a very good representation at each committee meeting. As you know these committees are the backbone of each club, and I'm wondering, did all of your committee chairmen attend a meeting or did some of them fall down on the job? Remember a club is no more active than its committees.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

mitted in the Youth Conservation Contest. Hostesses for the afternoon, Mrs. Tom McCandless and Miss Frankie Kirkpatrick, served a delicious salad plate to 24 members.

GASOLINE AND AUTOMOBILES KEEP AMERICANS MOVING

The typical U. S. car on a winter day makes 3.9 trips, averaging 8.2 miles per trip, a total of 32 miles per day for 1.8 persons. Of all the cars on the road, 48 per cent are for the purpose of driving to work. With efficient cars produced by the nation's auto industry, the plentiful motor fuel supplied by the oil industry, the daily habits of Americans working locally different and far from home are well described.
