THINK THIS OVER

(An Open Letter to All Crowell Citizens from the Fire Dept.)

When you have a fire, whether large or small, whom do you call? The Crowell Volunteer Fire Department, of course. And who are the Volunteer Firemen? Your neighbors and mine, who work with absolutely no pay or remuneration of any kind, very little thanks, but who hear a lot of gripes and criticism. The firemen do their job strictly voluntarily for yours and my interest.

And yet, for lack of town enthusiasm and cooperation to this important civic organization, many of our members have dropped out. Our attendance at fire drills has declined to such an extent that we have received the following serious reprimand from the Fire Insurance Division, Board of Insurance Commission in Austin: Firemen's Training School, August 24-29, 1952. Fire Chief Horace Phelps, Dear Chief:

Your attention is directed to the above information regarding the school this summer which is sponsored by the Texas Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association with the cooperation of the Texas A&M College System and the State Department of Vocational Education and is under the direct and able leadership of Col. H. R. Brayton, who has been head of the school for over 20 years. For further details regarding the school, please write them direct.

At the present time, your key rate contains a charge for the absence of the proper drill work and monthly drill reports to this office. Now the extra credit for the Firemen's Training School is not in order so long as this penalty appears in your key rate, but this penalty may be removed by the regular submission of monthly drill reports to this office so as to arrive here by not later than the fifth of the following month. A supply of drill report blanks and instructions will be sent you upon your written request. When we have received these reports for over a period of several months, we shall be glad to go into this matter further. Also, a permanent record book is to be maintained by the fire department in which will be entered a detailed account of all fire department activities and subject to inspection by a representative of this office.

The publication of your present key rate is based upon, among other things, the fact that your city is maintaining a fire department organization of not less than 20 to 25 members, 17 to 19 of whom must attend each drill. The drills are to be held at least twice each month throughout the year with two hours to the drill session, exclusive of all social and business activities of the department.

We wish to take this opportunity of pointing out to you that should our engineer on inspection of your city find that the above is not true, then we shall of necessity be forced to take drastic action and possibly raise your key rate to approximately $1.00, plus a charge for your city in an unprotected area. Therefore, one of the purposes of this letter is to point out to you this very important fact so that at the time of our next inspection, if the facts show that there is no fire department organization drill in accordance with our requirements, you and your officials have already been warned as to what the possibilities may be.

We would, therefore, urge and recommend that you take immediate steps to change the present situation and that you send at least two of your firemen to the Firemen's Training School in August and have them take the basic training course which is necessary for the first attendance at the school.

We thank you to kindly give these matters your attention, and please call on us if we can serve you at any time.

Sincerely yours,
Paul H. Brown,
Fire Insurance Commissioner
by George C. Hawley,
Chief Engineer.

What does this mean? It means that unless this situation is corrected—and immediately—the key rate of insurance will be raised to approximately $1.00 (from the present 58c), and Crowell will be listed in an unprotected class. Just how does this key rate affect the insurance premiums? Let's say you have $1,000.00 on a frame house with composition roof. Your premium is $3.10 per $1,000.00. At the present time, Crowell has a 25 per cent fire credit rating for having a good fire department and a good fire record. This means that instead of paying the full $3.10 per $1,000.00, you actually only pay $2.33 per $1,000.00 on a frame house with composition roof. Should we lose this rating, we could be subject to a 15 per cent penalty. That is, 15 per cent would be charged instead of a 25 per cent credit, a total of 40 per cent, or the premium would be raised to $3.46 per $1,000.00.

Let's take, for an example, our court house. Fire insurance on the Foard County court house for $60,000.00 on a 5-year basis, with our present key rate and 25 per cent fire record credit, the premium would be $648.00. If Crowell was rated as an unprotected town, its key rate would be $1.00, making the premium on the court house $1,848.00, instead of the $648.00 premium now paid. Thalia is considered an "unprotected" town, and its key rate is 90c.

How may it be corrected? First, by maintaining a fire department organization of not less than 20 to 25 members. Secondly, by attending at least seventeen members each month throughout the year, by holding drills at least twice each month throughout the year, with two hours to the drill session, exclusive of all social and business activities of the department.

As fire chief, I urgently appeal to all present members of the Crowell Volunteer Fire Department to attend meetings regularly, and to all other able bodied men of the community to join our force in order that we may maintain our present key rate.

Let's keep our lower insurance rate. Let's have our city listed as a "protected city." Let's join up and attend the fire drills which are held at 8 o'clock each Tuesday evening at the Fire Hall. We want and need you.

Sincerely,
Horace Phelps, Fire Chief,
Crowell Volunteer Fire Department.

Catches Big Bob Cat on Cecil Dunn's Farm Last Week

Lawrence Hallmark, the government trapper in this county, caught a large bob cat Monday last week at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dunn in the Good Creek community. The big cat had been catching Mr. and Mrs. Dunn's chickens and Mr. Dunn had been making every effort possible to shoot or trap him, but had been unsuccessful. He notified Mr. Hallmark who set three traps on Sunday night and the next morning the bobcat was in one of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn lost 25 chickens in just a few days to the animal.

Mr. Dunn says that Mr. Hallmark has trapped many coyotes and bobcats in that community, which has been of great benefit to the farmers.

Electric Show at State Fair of Texas Oct. 4-19 to Be Enlarged

Electrical wizardry as applied to modern living in the home and in industry will go on parade at the 1952 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 4 through 19.

The fair's popular Electric Show, featuring the mystifying "House of Magic" stage show, will be doubled in size and presented in its own building. Name of the old Foods Building will be changed to Electrical Building and its impressive tower, tallest structure on the fairgrounds, will be spectacularly decorated in glowing neon.

Every type of modern electrical household appliances—ranges, radios, television sets, deep freezers, home air conditioners, refrigerators, lamps—will be on display.

The fairgoer will be able to see and compare every make of appliance in one place at the same time, an opportunity rarely offered to the average shopper.

The "House of Magic" is a science show that actually is not magical at all, but proof that scientific fact can be stranger than fiction. The show will be presented free several times daily in the new auditorium in the Electrical Building.

The show will present a stubborn shadow that refuses to follow its creator, yet shakes hands with him and then allows him to roll it up and put it in a box. A demonstrator will make an electric train obey the commands of his voice and will light an electric lamp with a match. These and other amazing feats will be performed.

Also in the amazement category will be the half-million dollar telephone company free exhibit in the General Exhibits Building. A surprising machine with an electronic brain will be guaranteed to beat any human opponent at the game of "tic-tac-toe." And there'll be a mechanical mouse with a remarkable electronic "memory" that finds its way out of a bewildering maze with almost human perception.

Other features of the exhibit will include live network television programs beamed via a miniature microwave radio relay system, operator toll dialing with a free long distance call to San Francisco at every showing, hear-your-voice and test-your-hearing devices.

Complete History of the Southern Pine Tree Is Published

The woods, the mill, the men who work with the product of the Southern forests—all of these are a part of The Southern Pine Story, a new booklet published by Southern Pine Association, New Orleans.

With vivid text and colorful illustrations, the booklet begins with the tree, explaining what Southern Pine is, where it grows and what its characteristics are.

Following this is a history of Southern Pine, a story that goes back to the time when Captain John Smith made his first report to the Virginia Company in 1608. He indicated that "the country is most overgrown with pines."

Other chapters of the booklet tell of the wide range of uses of Southern Pine lumber, describe its manufacturing methods and tell of how it is being grown as a crop.

This is the first time the complete story of the Southern Pine industry has been summed up in one publication, according to SPA officials. Free copies of the booklet may be obtained by writing Southern Pine Association, Box 1170, New Orleans, La.

Steel and Point Four

"One of the foremost projects initiated and put into operation solely by the Truman administration is the so-called Point Four program. It is strictly a Truman undertaking.

"The purpose of the Point Four program, which functions under the more sedate title of Technical Cooperation Administration, is to help the underdeveloped areas of the world help themselves.

"The theory of the program is that the U. S. government lend its know-how to the more backward nations and that, as a result, they are to be enabled to pull themselves up by their own bootstraps to living standards approaching that of this country.

"This would be followed, if the program is carried out to its announced ends, by the wide investment of American capital in these countries.

"We cannot survive as an island of prosperity in a sea of human misery," Mr. Truman recently said, in outlining the aims of the program.

"Carried to its ultimate objective, the possibilities of Point Four virtually are limitless, not only in terms of the world's economy and well-being, but in terms of peace.

"In this program as described by the President, government financing is destined to play only a relatively small part. Private capital from American investors is to provide the big push.

"But private capital does not ordinarily invest in ultrahazardous enterprises. It would not invest in the development of resources, industry or agriculture in a backward area unless it had reasonable assurance of a return. It would not invest, for instance, if it had reason to suspect that its investments eventually would be seized by foreign governments—as British investments in Iran were seized by the Mossadegh government.

"What kind of an example do we set for these governments, then, when our own government—in a desperate effort to get itself out of a box of its own making—seizes a major industry?"

"You did it, they can say, so what's wrong with it?" — New York World-Telegram.

Keene, Texas, a town founded by Seventh Day Adventists in 1890, is said to be the only community in the United States where the postoffice is open on Sunday.

Grass Roots Opinion

St. Louis, Mo., Labor Tribune:

"The bona-fide labor paper champions free institution of private enterprise based on private property ownership, and only attacks the abuses in the system which tend to weaken and corrupt it. The good labor paper considers our economic and social system the best ever devised to maintain democratic institutions and give free play to individual opportunity, initiative and talent."

Flushing, Ohio, Home News Record: "We believe the trend of our government in recent years has been definitely toward socialism and we view this with alarm... the prospect of socialism is frightening. The reason for this is quite simple—the past history of the results of socialism."

Brownsville, Pa., Telegraph: "Freedom automatically entails responsibility. One of the chief marks of the slave is that he does not need to be responsible because he has lost his authority over his own actions. And when the freeman becomes irresponsible, he soon becomes a slave. Today the people of the United States are threatened by actual tyrannies from without and potential tyrannies from within. But neither threatens our liberty so seriously as our own irresponsibility. Whenever we subordinate the general welfare to self-interest (which is the essence of social irresponsibility) we weaken another stone in the foundation of our freedom."

Franklin, Ind., Republican: "A government of law should be the friend of all men and enemy of none."

The contract for the present Capitol in Austin required thirty-two sheets of legal cap paper.

Flood Control Fraud

An Omaha newspaper recently carried a remarkable full-page advertisement. It had been bought by the president of a local glass company—but it had nothing to do with selling glass. He demanded that bureaucratic groups be stopped from "using our lives and property as pawns in their schemes to turn our rivers into power plants to further their plans to socialize all industry." He demanded further that "no flood control appropriation bill shall include any money for power development or for river navigation. If power plants or river navigation are necessary then separate appropriations should be considered on their separate ways. He went on to advocate that severe penalties be enacted to prevent flood control money being used for power development or other purposes, and said, "River controls must start at the source—and by controlling all principal tributaries."

The purchase of this advertisement was a public-spirited act by a man who has seen through the flood-control frauds urged by such agencies as the Reclamation Bureau and the Corps of Engineers. Trying to mix a flood control dam with a power dam is like trying to mix oil and water. If a dam is to contain a flood, it must be empty or nearly so when the flood comes. If, on the other hand, a dam is to produce any significant amount of power, it must be full. You can't turn the generators with air.

Flood control is being used as a camouflage by the Washington politicians to hide the fact that their big, overriding goal is socialization of the highly taxed, investor-owned electric industry. A political electric power monopoly and eventual socialization or control of all the basic resources of the nation, including agriculture, is the end sought.

Kansas Girl Wins Annual International Pancake Day Race

Liberal, Kansas — This small town, which has made a good thing out of Pancake Day, in addition to receiving nation-wide publicity about the event each year, at last has a winner of the international World Pancake Derby.

She is Danna Zimmerman, 18, who galloped the 415 yards in one minute and eight seconds. That's two and two-fifths seconds better than the world record set by an English woman in 1950.

Each year Liberal and Olney, England, stage the Pancake Derby. In the 1951 competition an Olney housewife won the event.

The international trophy — a silver frying pan—now goes to Liberal and will stay here until Olney's housewives can win it back.

The rules of the race provide that the women of Olney and Liberal run the course while carrying a pancake in a skillet. They must flip the pancake once at the start and once at the finish. Liberal challenged Olney for the first time three years ago.

Miss Zimmerman, a trim 5 foot, 3 inch, gray eyed blonde, wore the traditional gingham housedress running costume and had her high school classmates for a cheering section. Kansas Governor Edward F. Arn gave her the traditional winner's "kiss of peace."

An estimated 25,000 persons invaded this community of 4,500 to see the race. Some 6,000 spectators witnessed it in Olney.

The Liberal race was a thriller right down to the wire. Mrs. Edwina Dick led most of the way. But, 10 yards from the finish line, Mrs. Dick dropped her pancake and the young speedster flashed by to win going away as Mrs. Dick stopped to retrieve her bobbed flapjack.

Small Alabama Town Attracts New Industry

Eufaula, Ala. — A door factory with a capacity production of 2,000 doors daily will be constructed soon on a 15 acre site in Eufaula by the Walled Lake Door company of Walled Lake, Mich.

Bearing out the trend of recent years of industry moving into the south, the factory will employ between 80 and 100 men. Construction is slated to begin in the very near future.

Three buildings 40 feet wide by 105 feet long, will house the equipment used in the manufacturing of panel doors. A total of

Crowell, Texas, July 10, 1952 THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS—3

20,000 square feet will be needed for the plant which will be the largest manufacturer of panel doors in the country.

The entire negotiations that secured for Eufaula the new industry took less than a week. Upon learning that the plant was considering building in the south, a delegation from Eufaula invited representatives of the company to visit the community.

Several other communities in the south were being considered by the Michigan firm, but in less than a week Eufaula had secured the firm.

It is the largest industry to move to the community for many years. The proposed output of the plant will make it the third largest plant in the community.

ticket on the back of a small envelope. The envelope - ticket has blanks for the date, license number, make of car and time of the offense. A note is also attached which informs the driver that he has overparked and the charge for the extra time is 25 cents, if paid within 24 hours. If not paid within this time limit the charge is $1.00. The fee can be placed in the envelope and deposited in a special box convenient to the parking meters, or the motorist may pay it at the traffic desk in the city building. For each additional hour that the offense occurs, another charge of 25 cents is made.

Since the plan was put in force only 20 tickets on locally owned cars have been outstanding although 2,000 notices have been issued.

Several other communities in the south were being considered by the Michigan firm, but in less than a week Eufaula had secured the firm.

It is the largest industry to move to the community for many years. The proposed output of the plant will make it the third largest plant in the community.

Twin Enemies

Raymond Moley recently devoted one of his Newsweek columns to the radicals and reds—of whom Alger Hiss became the most notorious—who managed by devious ways to work themselves into strategic positions within the government. Of them, he said: "These people conceived themselves to be a part of a class struggle. They believe that free enterprise had neither the ethics nor the brains to save itself and that it was doomed. They, with the aid of the leftwing labor leaders and the politicians who held the balance of power in the cities, were to be the ruling group . . . The concept of what form this rule would ultimately take varied from person to person. Some called it liberalism; others, government planning; others, democratic socialism. Hiss and some others chose Communism. But the motive, I want to emphasize, was in each case the same. The repudiation of our conservative traditions was the same. And I believe the danger to our free institutions will be the same unless we regard socialism and Communism as twin enemies."

Every American should read and remember that. Many of us, quite sincerely, have regarded socialism with tolerance. We have admired, even when we have not agreed with, such high-principled socialists as Norman Thomas. What we have forgotten is that socialism has proven, in nation after nation, to be only a way-station on the road that ends inevitably in dictatorship. Men of the Thomas stamp are always purged at a certain point and the Stalins take over all power. Free institutions cannot live long under socialism, any more than they can live under communism.

Grass Roots Opinion

Waurika, Okla., News-Democrat: "We will have taken just about the last step to socialism, when we turn the schools over to the Federal government. The first appropriations might be with few strings, but gradually the powers at Washington would take over, telling the schools what to teach, how much to pay, where to build schools."
Somerset, Pa., Daily American:

"The primary issue of the moment is: Shall this democratic Republic be turned over to Philip Murray to be ruled as Hitler ruled Germany and as Mussolini ruled Italy? The time, Congress has said, has not arrived when all the people have abdicated in favor of some of the people."

Knoxville, Iowa, Express: "Our government experts say that many foreign countries could be made into self-supporting nations. Perhaps, like charity, these things should start at home. Even in this country nothing appears able to support itself without government help . . . here we are in far away foreign places telling them how to become self-sufficient."

Italy, Texas, News-Herald: "Had Congress refused to go along with presidential requests for more power . . . had Congress held a tight rein on governmental expenditures; had Congress been more careful about approving presidential appointees, this nation would never have slipped as far along the road to socialism as it has."

Law Nobody Wrote

The Curry County Times, published at Clovis, N. M., recently ran an editorial pointing to some of the tremendous and expensive administrative problems the price control regulations have imposed on business. At the end it said, "Somehow the threat of inflation and skyrocketing prices sort of fades in comparison with the mess artificially maintained levels have precipitated."

"Anyhow, we haven't heard anything about the law of supply and demand being repealed. Until it is, we think it's pretty unlikely anyone in Washington can dream up something better."

Nobody wrote the law of supply and demand, no legislature enacted it, no eager-beaver government people enforce it. It's just a law of nature, and it has governed economies of the world since time began. Every effort to tamper with it or replace it with man-made economic law has created only confusion—and, in some cases, national disasters.

That law makes it certain that manufacturers will produce the things people want—in the quantity and quality wanted. It also makes it certain that our retail stores, from the smallest one-man shop to the biggest national chain, will stock those articles—and sell them at a price which is held to the lowest practical figure by free competition.

No one has come up with anything even remotely as successful as the law of supply and demand in centuries. It's not probable that even our present-day deep-thinkers in government will be able to

County Agent Says to Give Poultry Plenty of Water in Summer

Chickens are not unlike humans during the hot days of summer. They like to be comfortable and a mighty important part of comfort, says Joe Burkett, Foard County Agent, is having plenty of cool, fresh water to drink. Water is usually plentiful on most farms but many flock owners fail, during the summer time, to provide their chickens this very important item. Water is generally a pretty cheap item on the farm, but when it is not provided in sufficient quantities, chickens just don't do well, says Burkett.

He urges every poultryman to take another look at the poultry house equipment. Spot the things that are wrong. Study the flock as never before and chances are the changes made will insure greater profits from the flock.

Chickens not only like their water fresh and cool but they want it handy too, says the agent. If the fountain is more than 10 feet away from the chicken, it may go thirsty rather than make the trip. Check the location of fountains as well as the total supply of water and add fountains if they are needed.

Burkett points out that it is sometimes necessary to give medicine to the flock in the drinking water but warns there's a danger in doing it. He says some drugs just don't taste good to chickens and turkeys and they quit drinking. Watch the birds carefully when medication is used in the water, and if they quit drinking, better find another way to give the medicine, says Burkett, for unless they drink lots of water, there'll be few eggs or little meat produced.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

It is believed that the majority of adults have at one time been infected by the virus of poliomyelitis, usually without manifestations, says Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. In view of the above it is expected that most of the recognized cases will be among children. Only a small proportion of infected persons are clinically recognizable. When symptoms are manifested, they usually comprise an acute illness with fever, headache, and almost always a characteristic stiffness of the neck and spine. Some degree of paralysis may or may not occur during the first few days of illness. During the poliomyelitis season the following measures are recommended:

1. Insist upon safe waste disposal so that human excreta is not exposed to disease transmitting vectors.
2. Insist on elimination of breeding sources and do not depend upon community wide plane spraying or fogging machines as a substitute for basic sanitation.
3. Food supplies, including milk, must be protected against contamination.
4. Always demand safe water for drinking or swimming pool.
5. Insist that garbage be in covered containers and disposed of by incineration or sanitary means.
6. Eliminate all insanitary conditions on your own premises.
7. Practice good personal hygiene, with particular attention to personal cleanliness.
8. Avoid excessive physical strain during poliomyelitis season.
9. Isolation in bed of all children with fever pending diagnosis by physician.

Voting in Election Is a Total Failure
Hortonia, Wis.—Election workers in this community recently set some sort of a record for futility.
In the Wisconsin supreme court primary, only 10 votes were cast in the village, seven by members of the election board. Two ballots were thrown out because electors had voted for two candidates.
When the ballots were counted, the election workers found they had canceled each other's vote. The tally showed a four way deadlock among the court candidates. Each got two votes.

MEXICO CITY SINKING
Mexico City. — According to Mexico City's irrigation chief, Mexico City is sinking more than 1 foot each year and millions of dollars needed to stop it. The city is sinking because of the spongy volcanic soil under the capital. It is believed responsible for the sinking, which amounted to about 8 inches in 1951.

Our Weekly Sermon
SOUR APPLES—OR SWEET?
from Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

As a lad I spent many happy week ends with twin boys the same age as I who lived in a rural district near my home town. Across the road from the twins' home lived an old fellow whom we greatly loved because he permitted us to play in the haymow and roam the fields to our hearts' content.

One day we visited the orchard where our friend was working. The apples were ripening, and there was one particular tree which took my eye. Our old friend evidently detected that hungry look which boys display so frequently, for he said, "If you would like an apple, help yourself. They are ripe, and you may have all you want." I didn't need a second invitation, and soon had three or four in my pockets and my teeth sunk into another. But I did not get beyond that first bite. It was the sourest, bitterest mouthful I had ever tasted. I looked up and asked, "Mr. Owens, are these apples really ripe?" He grinned and replied, "Yes, they are ripe, but they are crab apples, and mighty sour ones. But you'll see a change in that tree next year."

The following summer I did see a change. All the branches of the tree were gone, and nothing left but a single bare stem. Lumps of clay were stuck on it, and short twigs protruded from the clay.

LEGAL NOTICE

TO Any Sheriff or Any Constable Within the State of Texas—GREETING:
You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for four consecutive weeks, the first publication to be at least twenty-eight days before the return day thereof, in a newspaper printed in Foard County, Texas, the accompanying citation, of which the herein below following is a true copy.

Citation by Publication
THE STATE OF TEXAS;
GREETING:
TO: Jerome Meacham, Defendant.
YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable District Court of Foard County at the Court-house thereof, in Crowell, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 25th day of June A. D. 1952, to Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court, on the 2nd day of August A. D. 1951, in this cause, numbered 3045 on the docket of said court and styled Inella Meacham, Plaintiff, vs. Jerome Meacham, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: Being an action and prayer for judgment in favor of plaintiff and against defendant for decree of divorce dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between said parties; plaintiff alleges abandonment for a period of more than three years; plaintiff further alleges that no children were born to said marriage and that there is no community property; plaintiff further prays for relief generally and special all of which is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved. The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said court at Crowell, Texas, this 5th day of June A. D. 1952.
Attest: FERN MCKOWN, Clerk, District Court, Foard County, Texas.

(SEAL) 50-4tc

When I saw Mr. Owens he told me something of the operation of grafting. I learned how all the wild growth had been cut away, how tiny shoots from a sweet apple tree were inserted into the stem, and then covered with clay. Later, the tiny shoots grew and actually became a part of the tree. In a sense it was a new tree, for it bore apples that were no longer bitter and sour, but sweet and juicy. In later years I enjoyed delicious apples from that very tree.

This incident was brought to my mind by a statement I read recently: "Ill-tempered people are crabby because they are like crab apples. They are sour, and need to have sweet tempers grafted in." That is true of all things that are sweet and beautiful in our lives; they must be grafted in.

"The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance" (Gal. 5:22, 23).

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

Speaking of the susceptibility of children to tuberculosis, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said this week that few people realize that babies and young children are very likely to become infected with tuberculosis if they are kept in rooms with persons who have the disease, use the same dishes, sleep in the same beds, or are handled and kissed by persons who have tuberculosis.

"Babies and young children pick up the germs of tuberculosis just as readily as they pick up the germs of measles or whooping cough, or of any other of the so-called children's diseases," Dr. Cox said. "But tuberculosis unlike most diseases, has more than one form. Babies who get tuberculosis may not show the symptoms we associate with the disease in older persons. But the disease in most cases develops rapidly and is likely to end fatally. Tuberculosis in babies and young children is a very serious matter, although recent studies have shown that if young children are removed promptly from contact with the disease and given the necessary care, many lives can be saved."

Dr. Cox said that if the presence of tuberculosis is recognized in its early stages and if medical attention is secured promptly, a great deal can be accomplished whenever the disease develops, whether in young or old.

"Tuberculosis doesn't just simply happen. Nobody is born with the disease. Everybody who develops tuberculosis gets it from some other source, and children and young people who have been in contact with persons having tuberculosis are especially likely to contract it."

Texas produces about 80 per cent of the sulphur of the nation.

Ministers and Laymen Fight Gambling

Linecoltown, Ga. — The ministers and many laymen are taking an active part in a campaign against gambling in the village of Linecoltown.

As a group they have been attending the regular meetings of the town council, and at a recent one, succeeded in getting stricter laws enacted against gambling and vice. Besides stiff fines, the law provides that convicted parties are subject to 10 to 35 days in jail for the second offense, and a straight 12 months for the third. It is one of the strictest laws on the books of any small community in the country.

Real authentic Texas Longhorn cattle still roam in Fort Griffin State Park on U. S. Highway 283, fifteen miles north of Albany.
