Secretary Benson Discusses New Farm Program

by EZRA TAFT BENSON
Secretary of Agriculture

The farm program submitted to Congress by President Eisenhower requires only a minimum amount of new legislation and is designed to maintain agricultural income at high levels.

This plan, product of the most comprehensive study of the American farm problem in all history, embodies these major recommendations:

1. That the bipartisan Farm Income Act of 1948 and 1949 become effective as now scheduled with it. The 1955 crops.

2. That not to exceed $2.5 billion worth of surpluses acquired by the Government under the current program be withdrawn from the market and placed in a special reserve stockpile.

3. That Commodity Credit Corporation's borrowing authority be increased by $1.75 billion—from $4.75 billion to $6.5 billion—to permit continuation of price support operations on basic commodities at 90 per cent of parity through 1954, as existing legislation requires.

In urging that flexible price support become operative on basic commodities in 1955, the President emphasized the need for balancing production of various crops with changing demands. Price supports, ranging between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, would vary from year to year in accordance with the actions of farmers themselves in gearing production to annual requirements.

Although this program was enacted by overwhelming majorities of both parties in Congress, its effective date was postponed by continuation of mandatory price supports on basic commodities at 90 per cent of parity through 1954. In developing the new farm program, it was recognized that it would have little chance of success if it had to carry the initial handicap of a billion stockpile accumulated under prior operations. The depressing effect of these surpluses on free market prices has been evidence for two years.

The parity ratio—the yardstick which measures the relationship between prices received by the farmer and those which he pays for goods and services—had tumbled from 113 at the peak in the pre-war years in 1951 to 94 when the new administration took office in January of 1953. Today it is 94, although it has averaged about 95 during the year.

To facilitate the transition to the new program and, at the same time, strengthen agricultural commodity prices in the market place, the President has recommended that up to $2.5 billion worth of government-owned surplus farm products be placed in a special reserve to be used for war emergency relief, foreign school lunch programs, charitable undertakings, and disposal of newly developed commercial channels.

Sizeable quantities of wheat, cotton, vegetable oils and, possibly, dairy products would be "frozen" under this plan and thus reduce the annual carry-over for at least the first year to normal. These items could at no time be disposed of in such a manner as to interfere with regular domestic and foreign trade relations.

The existing authority for support and purchase programs on such commodities as oats, barley, grain sorghums, soybeans, flax, beans, poultry and eggs, dairy products and fresh fruits and vegetables would be virtually unchanged under the proposed plan. Dates would become eligible for aid on the same basis as other vegetable crops.

Price supports on five of the basic commodities—wheat, corn, cotton, peanuts, and rice—would range between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, depending on the supply from year to year. It was recommended by the President that the modernized parity formula, now scheduled to become effective January 1, 1956, be applied to four of these crops at that time. It is already effective on rice, tobacco and non-basic commodities.

This modernized parity is based upon the price relationships of the various commodities to one another over the past 10 years. It brings the old 1909-14 formula up to date.

The President further recommended that legislative action be taken to prevent a decline of more than 5 per cent in any one year, as a result of the transition from the old to the modernized parity on various commodities.

For tobacco, the present program would be continued with price supports at 90 per cent of parity when marketing quotas are in effect.

Continuation of the sugar program in its present form is recommended.

C. H. S. Cagers Remain Only Undeclared Team in District 1A-9 with Victories Over Henrietta and Archer City

The Crowell High School basketball team won two more conference games the past week to remain the only undeclared club in the district race. Crowell won over the Bearcats at Henrietta on Friday night of last week by the score of 54 to 39. The Bearcats were unable to consistently pierce Crowell's tight zone defense on Henrietta's small court. Gordon Graves had the best percentage on field goals with nine out of 15 shots. Billy Ray Moser scored 21 points for the Bearcats.

The Wildcats defeated the Archer City boys by the count of 66 to 33 here on Tuesday evening. The game was rather listless with the reserves taking over for the last quarter. Jimmy Harper hit the hoop for Crowell on six out of nine attempts. W. A. Newsom made fourteen points for Archer City.

Girls' Games
The Crowell girls divided their two games the past week. The Henrietta team is undefeated for the season and has won the district championship four years in succession. Mert Walker scored 23 points in their 54 to 33 victory over Crowell. Carolyn Smith scored 17 points for Crowell.

Crowell led most of the way here Tuesday night against the Archer County lasses, but it took an overtime period for the Crowell girls to ice the contest away. Billy Bell led in scoring for Crowell with 12 points, but the high point player of the game was Sue Lear of Archer City with 18 points. The following girls saw service for Crowell: Billye McCoy, Sue Meason, Frances Kincaid, Carolyn Smith, Zonell Eddy, Billye Bell, Gail Knox, Peggy Long and Charlene Borchardt.

CONSTRUCTION — OR — DESTRUCTION IN 1954?

From bucket brigades to speedy and colorfully efficient fire engines, it's a long leap for 50 years—but we made it!

A fire was a general community get-together back a half century ago. From the time the alarm was sounded by a bell calling for help in saving a neighbor's home until the last bucket of water was drawn and the last ember had died, young and old pitched in to assist in any way they could.

The people were entirely ignorant of the general precautions to be taken in fire prevention. They would have scoffed at the idea of watching for stray fire-place sparks or throwing away old newspapers. Hazard — practically an unspoken word at that time.

New pamphlets, newspapers, the radio, and television wires are filled with "don't do this" and "don't do that" about fire. Yet there are more fires in this day and age in proportion, than in grandfather's day.

Modern methods have replaced the old, making for public safety in every walk of life.

Perhaps it's downright carelessness, caused by lax habits of fire safety, that murders and destroys. Whatever the cause, we can see the tangible results of the effect-wrecked homes and virtual slaughter by demons that can be controlled.

The facts add up to the need for a national cooperative crusade, each community getting a better understanding of the other's fire prevention problems so that they may understand her own better.

Like the atom bomb, it's here. Will we master it or let it master us in 1954?

SENIORS RELIVE "STARION F-I-R-E" IN ENGLISH CLASS

Members of the seventh period English class presented "Station FIRE" last Friday, a simulated radio program on the merits and demerits of fire.

Applied organized by Shirley Webba, the skit consisted of several catchy commercials besides the featured articles.

Boyer Cox, the class "artist" displayed his original poster on "Use Ash Trays, Stop Fires" with Paul Cooper's informative questionnaire on causes and effects of fire.

A snappy news article by Buddy Caddell, and Jean Whitby's editorial lent a serious note to the need for all-out fire rules. Then Joyce Noren gave a report on the great Chicago blaze of long ago caused by Mrs. O'Leary's cow.

After a brief interlude of "Drink Aunt Rose's tomato juice for good health," Co-Vince McKee and Vance Barker presented research material on fire facts and figures with an original poem by David Jackson following.

Rebecca Calvin really turned out to have a "nose for news" in her account of an interview with members of our local fire department. Some fire slogans by Jimmy Everson eased the seriousness, giving some snappy, to the point tips.

A highly entertaining play written and directed by Fred Barker ended the program.

Other members of the class wrote themes and essays which were not presented because of lack of time.

CROWELL FIRE DEPARTMENT

Before 1922, the citizens of Crowell were not insured of safety from fire. Through some safety-minded members of the town, the Crowell Volunteer Fire Department was formed. Twenty capable men constituted the fire department with Mr. Reynolds as the fire chief. In the years that followed, men have served the community in order that we may live without fear of fire.

Many people will recall the first fire engine. It was a bright red wagon drawn by two dapple gray horses. Later on, the town came up in class with a Model T fire engine. Since then Crowell has become modern. We now have two late model engines.

I am happy to say that the men have not had many chances to prove their capability in fire fighting. This alone speaks well for them as well as the citizens of our town. Many people will remember the fire three years ago which was responsible for the destruction of an apartment unit, three business buildings, and damaged others. The fire was so large that we had to call in extra help from Quanah and Vernon. Through the efficient work of all the departments combined, what could have been a great tragedy was stopped.

We now have about twenty men under the leadership of Horace Phelps who have done a good job of protecting our town.

We should be proud of our fire department and look up to it with respect. Even though they do not perform great feats, the members are always ready to stop small grass fires which could be disastrous to our community.

THIS, THAT AND THE OTHER

Something that we seldom notice or appreciate is the numerous plants in the typing room. Mr. Black has many beautiful plants, but the Joseph's coat plant takes the spotlight. Mrs. Kenner has two pot plants in the home-making room. A few girls grow pot plants for hobbies. Nita June Carroll heads the list with the following plants: mother-in-law's tongue, ivy, begonia, spider plant and Jew.

Has everyone noticed the repairs which have been made on the tennis courts? Also a new fence has been built around the field house.

Catchy fire slogans selected from Jimmy Everson's paper are the following: 1. Lightning never strikes twice in the same place, but matches do; 2. If it's a fire you want to see, string candles on your Christmas tree; 3. To keep your home from burning down, shoot your fire works out of town; 4. If you insist on smoking in bed, the chances are you'll be found dead; 5. When you go to town to see a show, don't leave your home fire aglow.

Students and faculty alike regret losing Carol Beth Pogue who is friendly and capable in every respect. Best wishes go from us to you, Carol, in your new home.

FAREWELL DINNER HONORS CAROL POGUE

A farewell dinner honoring Carol Beth Pogue, sophomore, who is moving to Weatherford, Okla., was given last Friday, Jan. 15, in the Home-making department.

Hostesses Jo Ann Fox and Jo Helen Aly prepared the meal of meat roll, potato salad, hot biscuits, lemon upside down pudding, and iced tea. Besides the hostesses and honoree, Jeanine Pendergraft and Patsy Mechell attended the dinner.

Attractive table decorations of red candies and red daffodils lent a gay note to the affair.

A farewell gift of three attractive scatter pins was presented to Carol Beth by members of the class.

PARACHUTE HAS NEW USE

Do you happen to have an old parachute lying around? In case you do, don't throw it away. Wipe up and make good use of it.

Early last fall, Mr. Graves gave an old parachute to the Home-making department. It was very dirty and bloodstained. The girls approached it with some doubt as to the outcome of any garment that might be made from it; however, up to date, eight beautiful nylon slips have been made from it, and material is left for several more.

A parachute has a down to earth use, too.

HOME-MAKING MACHINES RECEIVE WORK-OUT

The machines in the Home-making department have really been whirring since September, and maybe this will surprise you, but very little ripping has been done. The girls are learning to stay-stitch, a process that eliminates basting.

Jo Helen Aly has probably finished more garments than anyone else this fall. She has made five blouses, one suit, three skirts, a waist and a small boy's suit. These were made for different members of her family.

Jeanine Pendergraft ran a close second, having made three shirts, a corduroy dress, two skirts, a small girl's dress, and a dress for her mother.

Patsy Mechell has completed 7 garments, a skirt, two small girls' dresses, two blouses and a dress for her mother.

Kay Jones has really become proficient in making western shirts, having made two for her husband. She also made one skirt, a halkan-type blouse and an unlined jacket.

Gloria Smithwick and Carol Pogue each made four garments. As you can see, the machines have been whirring!

CHEERLEADER BECOMES MAJORETTE

With the one opening left by the resignation of Dorothy Hasehoff in the majorette ranks, Barbara Fairchild, a sophomore cheerleader this year, tried out and was chosen to fill the position. Babs won over two other contestants in a close decision.

Having two years of cheerleading experience behind her, Barbara will perhaps find that it has not been wasted because of her band camp attendance.

Congrats and luck to you, Babs.

KNOX, V. I. P. OF JUNIOR CLASS

Being a big wheel in his class, Gerry Knox, who was president of his class last year and was elected to that post again this year, was interviewed Monday for this column.

The reporter learned a lot about Gerry in that interview; some things he didn't have to tell us. For instance, we knew that he is friendly and good humored, and you'll scarcely ever see him without that big friendly grin. The usual question, "Tell us some of the things you like," brought this answer, "I like pretty girls, good steaks and hillbilly music." Your favorite sport, Gerry? He answered, "It's football because you meet a lot of new guys and learn to be a good sport."

Knox also told us his favorite subject is algebra, while his most difficult subject is English.

Gerry's future will include studying at Texas Tech to become a veterinarian. However, he has another year in CHS of which he says, "It's a pretty good school, I guess."

HENRIETTA SWAMPS CROWELL GIRLS

Mert Walker scored 24 points last Friday night to lead the Henrietta girls over the locals by a 52-33 margin. Henrietta started the contest by scoring 24 points in the first quarter while holding Crowell to 8. Carolyn Kay Smith was Crowell's high scorer with 17 points.

JR. HIGH ELIMINATED IN LOCKETT TOURNEY

The Crowell Wildkittens defeated a strong Lockett team in their first contest during the Lockett invitational tourney last Thursday night by the score of 46-25 with Roy Don Payne collecting 17 points. In the second game, the Wildkittens encountered Vernon who eliminated the locals by a 30-13 margin.

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADE GYM CLASSES

The seventh and eighth grade gym classes are working hard trying to perfect crib shots, free shots, dribbling and passing.

These girls seem to be very eager to learn. The seventh grade has the gym two days a week, and the eighth grade has it three days a week.

If these girls continue to work as they have so far, our guess is that Coach Taylor will have a winning team in the future.

Peggy Long has been coaching these girls for the past few weeks with the help of June Ford and Jolyne Wallace.

CATS TAKE TWO MORE CONFERENCE TILTS

Crowell High School cagers continued their winning ways last week when they won their second and third district battles, defeating Paducah and Henrietta 67-36 and 54-38 respectively.

DuWayne Elliott led scoring against Paducah with his 22 points, 13 of which were in the first half. Gordon Graves racked up 19 against Henrietta to lead the Cats while Henrietta's Moser sank 21.

This keeps the Cats undefeated in conference play, and after felling the pre-season favorite, Chillicothe, in their district opener, they stand a good chance of representing district 1A-9 in the regional tournament at Denton.

Texas Public School System to Observe 100th Anniversary

The need for the public school never changes, but times and conditions may change or require to be changed methods and practices of public education. This is inherent with anything that grows, for growth is the result of change. Our Texas public schools were created 100 years ago. In 1824 the first law passed establishing the public school. What about the next 100 years?

It is a healthy thing in our democratic way of life to have an intelligent understanding of the important functions of our basic institutions. This is especially true of the schools. The initiative and resourcefulness and the wisdom and leadership that our schools are inculcating in the youth of today are the answer of the problems of citizenship in the years ahead.

Yes, "bring me men to match my mountains." That is the need of our times and must come from the public schools—schools that are strong in the virtues required for building strong men and women.
We can be assured of this and do our part in understanding and helping the public schools to fulfill their great obligation to our times by being a participant in the annual Public Schools Week, March 1 through 6. Schools will hold open house; accept their hospitality, and you will enjoy the experience of going back to school—if but for a day. Remember it is Centennial Year for Texas Public Schools — "Texas Public Schools — Democracy in Action."

ELECTED TO BOARD

Chas. C. Thompson of Colorado City has been elected for a term of three years on the Houston Farm Credit Board by the national farm loan associations of the state.

Mr. Thompson has served as a member of this board for ten years, and as its chairman for the past two years.

SOCKED FOR STOLEN SOCKS

Detroit, Mich. — Morris Curran, 31, stole a pair of socks from a clothing store. The proprietor called police, who found the socks in Curran's possession—plus three uncashed pay checks and a bankbook showing deposits of $5,300. He was fined $196.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox looked at the calendar this week and saw chapping weather ahead.

"Two weather changes — dew point and barometric pressure—cause skin to chap and crack," the season-conscious Dr. Cox pointed out. "Chapping is always more frequent and severe from December through February."

That is the time of year when weather forecasts are likely to read: "low barometric pressure, moist air followed by sudden high pressure and dryness with low dew point." It adds up to real chapping conditions.

Dew point is the temperature at which moisture begins to condense into visible form. It makes a useful index of actual humidity. When it is low, chapping can be severe.

Wind hastens chapping, too, Dr. Cox commented, especially when skin is wet. Quick evaporation is the big factor here. Dryness might actually be increased by hot water, soap, or the so-called protective oils, lotions, and creams. A day's injury sometimes takes weeks to heal.

A chapped condition can run the gamut from plain dryness and itching to splits and fissures which bleed and crust.

Congress has declared war eleven times.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL by VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

Austin—A decisive turn on the question of a special session of the Legislature was due this week as a state committee considered a way out on the teacher pay problem.

J. W. Edgar, commissioner of education, had announced a week's

Industrial Payroll Conference to Be Held at Abilene January 28

Nine speakers will tell West Texas community leaders what to do about getting more industrial payrolls during a one-day industrial conference to be held in Abilene January 28.

After the first announcement of the conference program, officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring the event, have begun to revise upward initial estimates of the number expected to attend.

"We're getting reports of delegations of from five to fifteen persons per town who plan to attend," the WTCC's industrial committee chairman, E. L. Bue-low of San Angelo said.

Local chambers of commerce throughout the 132-county West Texas region have been asked to notify members of their industrial committees of the conference.

Frank Cantrell, managing director of the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce, will tell the group of techniques used in the nationally famous "Arkansas plan" for attracting industry.

Other addresses will be heard on making a community inventory, what industry expects of a community, transportation, labor, markets, industrial financing, and organizing action committees.

Opening address is to be "Industrial Development in West Texas—A Challenge," by Fred H. Husbands, executive vice president and general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

JOB INJURIES

Injury rates in factories and in most non-manufacturing industries were lower in 1952 than in any previous year, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The manufacturing rate of 14.3 injuries for each 1,000,000 man-hours worked was 8 per cent below the 1951 average of 15.5.

delay in the all-important meeting because some of the 25 members could not be present.

Before the committee was a compromise plan to give teachers a $402 salary increase and require local districts to pay a percentage rather than fixed amount of basic school costs.

Governor Allan Shivers indicated that if the committee agreed on the plan he would ask the views of legislators and then make his decision about calling a special session.

A sub-committee and most Texas school administrators previously reported their approval of the plan.

In view of the prospect for a special session, a potential candidate for governor continued his side-swipes at the Shivers administration.

Ralph W. Yarborough, Austin attorney, declared that the governor should call special elections to fill vacancies in the House of Representatives, Yarborough was defeated by the governor in the last campaign for the office.

Governor Shivers replied that "the governor's office will decide about calling special elections when and if it decides as to the special session."

Another "Loyalist" and prospective candidate for governor also took a slap at Shivers, without calling any names.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White blasted the state's cross-filing law as "a blessing for Republicans and a curse for Democrats."

"When a man cannot reconcile his personal beliefs with those of his party, then he should sever his connections with that party," White declared.

"But under no circumstances should he use his conflicting opinions as an excuse to betray his party."

"And that is the most damning charge that can be made against some of our public officials during the year 1952," he said.

White's attacks made it apparent that he would make cross-filing an issue if he and Shivers should become opponents in this year's race for governor.

He is the only state official who refused Republican cross-filing in the 1952 elections.

Governor Shivers, on the other hand, allowed his name to be placed on the GOP ballot and helped carry Texas for Eisenhower and the Republicans.

West Texas farmers and ranchers face increasing costs for drought emergency hay.

Applications for transportation aid have been halted despite $400,000 more in federal funds marked for the program.

Agriculture Commissioner White said the program in the future will cover half of the freight costs up to a maximum of $10 per ton.

On past shipments the program absorbed half the total cost and the railroads the remainder. The railroads stopped their reduced rates January 1.

Freight cost payments have averaged $12.23 per ton, according to agriculture officials. But they say that stockmen now are ordering from such states as Nevada and Idaho thereby increasing the costs to about $35 per ton.

White estimated that aid allotments already made will exhaust the state-federal fund, if the allocations are used.

In addition, stockmen who already have allotments but have not placed orders for hay will be subject to the new payment policy.

Texas faces another serious problem in the overcrowded conditions in state hospitals.

"It is evident that with the expected increase in population overcrowding will remain a problem for years to come," the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools reported to the governor.

Although the $35 million seven-year building program has been going for three years, the board pointed out, it is not keeping pace with demands for bed space in the various hospitals.

According to the board, a survey of some of the institutions showed 20,850 patients occupying space suitable for 13,200.

Recommendations to the Legislature to subsidize care of the aged in private nursing homes is planned. Also, as soon as money is available, a system of outpatient control at mental and tuberculosis hospitals will be started, the board stated.

An organization of Texas cities has started an early campaign to get the attention of legislators before the regular session.

A program to obtain additional revenue from sources other than property taxes has been laid out by the League of Texas Municipalities.

Cities are "entitled to a fair share of the revenue from any increase in gasoline taxes" or any tax levied for road purposes, the league emphasized.

League members also plan to press for abolition of the ad valorem tax on motor vehicles. They would substitute an annual registration fee, increased by one-third, with the increase being paid to the city in which the vehicle owner lives.

In view of the telephone rate problem, the league will call for creation of a state public utility "aid service" to be financed by cities asking for help in rate fixing cases.

A commission set up by the Legislature has urged all state colleges to require at least one course in American history.

Only one U. S. college in five requires study of this subject before graduation, the Texas Historical Survey Commission pointed out.

In a resolution the commission cited a survey which showed the typical college freshman as unable to specifically identify Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson or Theodore Roosevelt.

"Hundreds of those interrogated thought that Walt Whitman was either a missionary in the Far East or an orchestra leader on the Atlantic seaboard," the resolution added.

An act of the last Legislature is paying off with greater efficiency in state government.

State agencies were authorized to increase salaries if they could economize elsewhere. So far, pay raises have been given to 278 employees, and 28 jobs have been abolished.

The Texas Press Association held its sixteenth annual meeting here during the week end.

Among outstanding speakers for the session were Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Denver Post, and Dr. George S. Benson, president of Harding College at Searcy, Arkansas.

Whether a strip tease act was reason to cancel a night club's beer license was considered by the Texas Liquor Control Board. State law provides that "lewd or vulgar acts" may be a reason for such action.

Other charges of liquor law violations against the club located near Austin were also considered, by Administrator Coke R. Stevenson Jr.

Short Snorts: The Texas Council of Churches has passed a resolution urging Protestants to accept whatever ruling the U. S. Supreme Court makes on racial segregation. Members were asked to help "insure to every person his fullest rights and opportunities as an American and as a child of God" . . . Governor Allan Shivers proclaimed Jan. 17-23 as Printing Week . . . The worldwide observance commemorates the 15th century invention of movable type and the progress in education resulting from it . . . Civil defense officials report that Texas is 38th in defense enrollment per 1,000 population.

YOUR Senator Reports

by LYNDON B. JOHNSON

Farm Program: The President's farm message proposes a number of changes in the present program. Some of these changes, I believe, would result in less protection and less income for the farmer. I cannot support any proposals that would have such an effect.

The recent trend in the farm economy has been downward. It is the duty of Congress to take action designed to halt and reverse that trend. I do not believe a flexible price support system—even if it is called a "modernized" parity concept—is the answer.

Livestock Industry: The President stated in his farm message that no new laws are needed to deal with problems of the livestock industry. He recommended that "existing conditions with respect to meat animals be continued."

I talked to hundreds of cattlemen between sessions of Congress. I certainly did not find them satisfied with "existing conditions." It is not their feeling that problems affecting the livestock industry are being dealt with adequately.

All the President's recommendations must be studied carefully. They must be changed when changes are necessary to maintain the protections Congress already has accorded to agriculture.

Rural Telephones: Texas now has seven REA-financed rural telephone systems. Only Minnesota, with eight, has more.

More than half the States now have rural telephone facilities financed by REA. Telephone loans amounting to $49,000,000 were approved last year. That was about $6,000,000 less than the total approved in 1932.

Oil Depletion: Texas Service Stations, Associated, is a trade association of service station operators with thousands of members in some 200 Texas cities and towns. The organization's board of directors sent me a copy of a resolution they recently passed, vigorously opposing any effort to repeal or reduce the oil depletion allowance.

I had the resolution placed in the Congressional Record. I know it will help to inform the members of Congress about this important matter.

Human Assets

"Industry has a human asset and an economic stake in good health and is finding it good news to do something constructive about it," said vice president James H. Pipkin of the Company recently.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

State Health Officer George W. Cox, who recently submitted his resignation as head of the State Department of Health, said last week "his future efforts and activities" would be guided by friends whom he has asked to comment on the program he has conducted during his 17-year tenure of office.

Dr. Cox said he had "desperately" tried to provide the people of Texas with the best public health program possible under existing difficulties.

"To the extent I have been successful, and to the extent I have failed, I am requesting my friends and all concerned to write me a personal letter outlining their approval or objections, and to make such suggestions as would improve this service.

"This information will guide my future efforts and activities."

Dr. Cox submitted his resignation, effective March 1, to the State Board of Health last December, saying that he didn't care to continue in the job hampered by insufficient resources to carry on his program, one of the most ambitious in the nation.

His resignation pointed out that the federal congress had cut more than $1,000,000 in grant-in-aid funds from his department's operating budget and the State failed to replace the reduction.

The board of health was unanimous in commending him for his administration of the department's far-flung affairs.

Vital statistics show impressive gains made in the control of principal communicable diseases during Cox's period of office. Syphilis death rates have been reduced by 74 per cent; 99 per cent for malaria; 98 per cent for typhoid fever. Maternal death rates have been cut by 84 per cent; and infant mortality by 54 per cent.

Census Shows Large Increase in Duck Population on Coast

Austin—A substantial increase in the waterfowl population on the Texas coast is shown in the latest census report announced by the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

The total of all waterfowl species was placed at 3,218,000, including 2,988,700 ducks. The count made in December contrasts with the total of 1,888,000 of all species for the same period last year.

The Director of Wildlife Restoration said the census is being brought up to date under the annual aerial count made jointly by state and federal personnel. Six planes participate in the Texas inventory. This census is part of an overall job that covers the entire Central Flyway within the United States, ranging from the Canadian border southward.

The December census for coastal Texas showed the greatest increase in the number of redheads and pintails. The Director said it was noteworthy to state that 1,016,000 of the 1,146,200 redheads and 817,200 of the 1,142,000 pintails were observed at the mouth of the Arroyo Colorado and at Three Islands and Green Island in the lower Laguna Madre.

The Director quoted Wildlife Biologist J. R. Singleton as saying that reports of mediocre hunting success made in the face of the huge population was understandable since the scattered water and feed in the coastal marshes spread the flocks over a great area. He pointed out that best hunting results occur when the waterfowl are concentrated. Singleton reported that he observed geese wintering on the coast that moved as far as seventy miles inland to seek food and protection.

LET'S GO TO CHURCH

"Thou shalt remember that if thou be not a devoted atheist, thou canst not be a faithful Communist nor even a firm Soviet citizen on whom our state can rely."

"Thou shalt remember that the clergy, regardless of faith, is the foremost enemy of our Communist state."

These are only two of the "Ten Commandments" rewritten from the ancient Biblical laws by the Russians to fit their modern atheistic world. These, along with eight other "laws" in the same vein, have been printed in large quantities and distributed to thousands in the U. S. S. R.—especially to children and young people.

These "Ten Commandments" strikingly illustrate the kind of darkness which affects the minds as well as the souls of those who cut themselves loose from faith in God and His Word to men. This darkness has come to Russia. Could it also come to the United States?

One of the most successful antidotes to counteract this is regular church attendance. But what do the records show? According to a recent survey, nearly 59 per cent of the national population is affiliated with some church or another, but only about one-third of the total has attended church in the past year. . . . and that figure includes those who attended only once or twice.

There are, of course, some individuals who have legitimate reasons for irregular church attendance—those who are engaged in the medical profession, for example. But for every one of these there are hundreds who stay away for lesser reasons. . . . to sleep, to wash the car, to picnic. . . . or just because they are afraid it might rain.

Only one-third of the entire population attended church at least one time last year! What a record for a nation looked upon by the world as "Christian." Surely this is not pleasing to God who over and over again admonished His people, "Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary" (Lev. 19:30; 23:3; 26:2, etc.).

BRaille BIBLES

Bibles in Braille editions of the Scriptures, are now available in Korean, Turkish and Armenian and soon to be published is a book of favorite Scripture passages in Arabic Braille, according to the American Bible Society. A complete Bible in Braille—a system of raised dots read by "feel"—requires eighteen or twenty volumes, depending on whether it is published in advanced or elementary Braille. The average cost of such a Bible is $60, but the society sells each volume at 25 cents, and are often given free to blind persons who cannot afford the nominal fee.

Ogden, Utah—Two drivers whose cars collided forgot their own slight injuries after one of their spinning cars came to a stop. The auto swirled past a standing truck, but didn't touch it. Luckily, too, for the truck was loaded with dynamite.

Another Minnesota paper, the Le Sueur News-Herald, answered that question in these simple and accurate words: "It isn't hard to figure out who pays the bulk of the taxes—it's you and I and the rest of the little people. . . ."

The beaver is the largest North American rodent.

Hoover was the only U. S. president of Swiss descent.

Who Pays?

A good many people still seem to believe that the cost of government isn't too important a matter, for all we have to do is soak the corporations and the well-to-do individuals and let them do most of the paying.

It's an attractive theory—and it's also as full of holes as a colander. The facts refute it 100 per cent. For instance, the Weseco, Minnesota, Journal, recently said, "Confiscate, if you will, all of the profits of the corporations after taxes, and you could run the U. S. government just 71 days."

Various authoritative surveys have shown that if the incomes of all wealthy people were confiscated, the money gained would run the government for a similarly brief period of time.

Who, then, does support our unbelievable costly government?

GAMBLEVILLE H. D. CLUB

"An interfacing helps the garment to keep its shape, helps to prevent sagging and stretching in loosely woven material, and gives crispness to the places where it is needed," Mrs. Mary D. Brown, County Home Demonstration Agent, stated to members of the Gambleville H. D. Club in the J. C. Prosser home on Jan. 15.

Mrs. Brown gave detailed information on making interfacing and showed how bound button holes could be made in two different ways. If a member's dress for this year's dress revue has button holes, they must be bound.
Mrs. Horace Phelps, president, conducted the business session. Each member told of the 1953 demonstration that helped them most as the roll was called. The hostess gift was drawn by Mrs. Phelps.

Due to a conflict with County Federation, the group decided to have their next meeting in the home of Mrs. Buster Cates on Feb. 4.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Charlie Powell, Henry Ross and Mary Brown, visitors; and Mesdames Clarence Garrett, A. B. Calvin, Milton Hunter, Nick Chattfield, Buster Cates, Archie Campbell, Horace Phelps, Frank Cates and Cecil Carroll.

Fort Worth — Among observers at the livestock market at Fort Worth this week the consensus of opinion has been that recent weeks have seen the most stabilized conditions on cattle and calves that have been had in over two years.
The prices of most cattle and calves have swung up and down in response to the pressure of supply and demand on the various classes, but there have been few times when the rise or fall of prices has tilted more than $1 per hundred. Of even more significance has been the trend in prices to remain lost ground, or to trim down the advances, within a few days after the upset takes place.

The trade is generally inclined toward a little more optimistic view of the future, although most seasoned observers temper their hopes with various qualifications, "ifs" and "buts."

The narrowed spread between stocker and feeder prices and the prices paid for fed cattle and fed lambs in recent weeks is cause for some fears that speculative buying may run prices up and over the prices buyers are willing to pay for replacements at later dates. This situation could result in another period of sharp downward readjustments later if the speculative urge forces the stocker prices into unrealistic levels.

On the favorable side is the continued broad consumer demand for meat. The expected crop of over 40 million calves next year promises to keep America on a beef eating spree for another year, but unless there is a drastic change the public appears ready and willing to pay going prices or maybe a little more for the privilege.

Financial men here express the view that the efficient operator in livestock is a good risk now and in the future. However, they all agree that the marginal operator, or the stockman who cannot operate with a minimum of expense, is going to suffer additional setbacks.

A spokesman for one of the largest lending institutions in the agricultural field here put it this way: "The four pillars of profitable livestock operations are, 1. Management; 2. Marketing; 3. Feeding; and 4. Breeding. Weakness or carelessness in either of these can spell the difference on profit or loss, because the earning potential per animal unit has been lowered."

On the Fort Worth livestock market Monday fed steers and yearlings were slow and weak. Cows steady to 25c higher. Bulls were fully steady. Fat calves drew strong prices. Stocker and feeder cattle and calves were strong to 50 cents higher. A. B. Edsall, Elbert (Throckmorton County) marketed a load of fancy steer calves that averaged 529 pounds, and topped at $21, best price for stock calves in some time. Stocker yearlings ranged freely from $17 to $19.50, and some older steers drew $18.50 down. Stocker cows had good demand at $9 to $13.50.

J. B. Foster, Pecos County, put a new top for current swing on woolled lambs at $20.50. Clipped fat lambs $18.75 down. Feeder lambs $16 to $18.50. Yearlings and two's $11 to $15. Old wethers $8 to $10. Slaughter ewes $6.50 to $8. Choice fat lambs were around $1 higher, other kinds were steady to easier, some clippers 25 cents lower.

Historical Background of Free Public Schools in State of Texas

The Constitution of the Republic of Texas, adopted March 2, 1836, declared, "It shall be the duty of Congress, as soon as circumstances will permit, to provide by law, a general system of education."

In 1845 the School Law provided for the first State Public School System of Texas. The State Constitution declares, "A general diffusion of knowledge being essential to the preservation of the liberties and rights of the people, it shall be the duty of the Legislature of the State to establish and make suitable provision for the support and maintenance of an efficient system of public free schools."

From this grew the public school system of Texas. Historians say:

"Education of the masses through these schools which are public schools has been the bulwark of the liberties of the people and the national freedom of the country."

"We must protect and nurture the public school system, without which Democracy will wither and die, for it cannot live without learning the knowledge by its citizens."

Nearly $500 Apiece

During the last fiscal year, the states collected $10,500,000,000 from their citizens—which works out to $68 for every man, woman and child in the country.

In the same year, the federal government collected $65,200,000,000 in taxes—or $410 for each and every American.

This comes to a total of $478.04 per capita, or close to $2,000 a year for a family of four—and it doesn't include local taxes, for which figures are not available.

The point is that taxes, direct and indirect, are the biggest single expense borne by a great many of our families—just as they are for a great many of our businesses. There is an endless amount of grumbling over the high cost of living. There should be an equal amount over the high cost of government.

Washington, D. C., is located below the Mason-Dixon line.

Moving the U. S. Government from Philadelphia to Washington cost $15,293.

Conservation of Natural Resources to Be Studied

Austin—Plans designed to expand the conservation education movement nationally and to intensify instruction efforts locally are being discussed at a conference in Chicago attended by the Director of Conservation Education and Publications for the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Conservation Education Association which comprises leaders of all levels both in state, federal and private agencies.

The Director said one of the key objectives of the Association is to find ways and means of interesting all the schools in teaching basic facts about conserving natural resources.

He said one of the major topics of the Chicago conference is the progress in specific areas such as Texas where the number of schools teaching conservation education has been multiplied several times within the last few years.

"Our primary purpose," said, "is to provide direction and leadership in how to give vital movement the high priority it deserves."
