> itself. Every time you enter it, you see some new point of interest, and almost daily hear some legend about it. For instance, few of us realize that in the War of 1812, the British occupied the city of Washington and took pos-session of the Capitol and that the British Admiral, Cockburn, stood on the rostrum in the House of Representatives and shouted, "Shall this harbor of Yankee De-mocracy be burned? All for it will say Aye." Since the House vas occupied exclusively by Britsh troops, they voted unanimous y in the affirmative. Then chairs, tables, books, and pictures were collected in the building to kindle the fire, and soon the Capitol was in flames. Many priceless historical treasures were lost in this flame even though shortly after the fire was started, a torrential rain came which extinguished the fire. Among these were full length paintings of Marie Antoinette and King Louis XVI which had been presented to Congress by the King himself shortly before his tragic end in the French Revolution.

President Jackson barely escaped assassination on the rotunda of the Capitol in 1835 when he headed a funeral procession which wound from the House chamber to the rotunda. As he was about to step on the portico, a man by the name of Lawrence aimed a pistol at him from about eight feet distance, but the pistol mis-fired. It is said that "Old Hick-ory" would have knocked his assailant down with his cane but for a young Naval lieutenant who beat him to the punch. The pistol that the would-be assailant had in his hand was tested immediately after the incident, and it fired

Also before the House for action were the appropriation bills dealing with the Post Office and Treasury. Next week the Agricultural Appropria-tion Bill is scheduled for action in the House. For the next four or five weeks there will be at least one appropriation bill a week that will be up for action.

of Canadian.

Having sold my automobile business, the Chrysler-Plymouth agency, to Charlie Lowe of Stamford, I want to take this means of extending a welcome to Mr. Lowe and his family as new citizens of Crowell and this community.

Mr. Lowe is experienced in the business and I want to recommend him to my former customers and urge that they give him their continued patronage.

The repair department of the Chrysler-Plymouth agency is equipped with the latest machinery necessary to do a good repair job and with John R. Tidwell, a factory-trained mechanic in charge, this department will give you the best service possible.

We extend a hearty welcome to both Mr. and Mrs. Lowe and son and Mr. and Mrs. Tidwell and two sons, and hope that they will never regret choosing Crowell as their new home

Even the birds around his house are so gentle that you can walk up to within a few feet of them before they flutter out of your way. He never speaks an unkind word about anyone, or never raises his voice, and hasn't in so long that no one can remember it.

As Bruce became older and less able to take care of his ranch, he sold his horses and cattle and leased his land to friends. He sold all his horses, that is, but one. He had a yellow horse named Sunshine that he kept with him. Sunshine was the best cowhorse that he ever had, and he thought the most of him. Bruce and Sunshine grew old together, and both retired from an active life at about the same time. Bruce kept Sunshine in pasture and fed him until he finally died of a snakebite at the age of 27.

UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP

We have purchased the Speer Motor Co., which includes everything with the exception of the building and are now fully in charge of the business.

We want to take this opportunity to solicit the continued patronage of former customers and to invite all the people of this community to visit us at our place of business and get acquainted.

We have been in the automobile business for the past thirteen years and expect to maintain a first class repair department in charge of John R.
