We would appreciate it very much if our rural news gatherers would do this for us. The paper must be printed Tuesday afternoon in order for all readers in this area to receive it Wednesday, either in the morning or afternoon.

As you will see elsewhere in this issue, this is being done so that dollar days can be held on Thursday and Friday and merchants be enabled to close their stores on Saturday, July Fourth.

46th District Court Reporter R. B. Adams Native of Crowell

Mr. Adams is a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Adams of Crowell and a brother of Ed Adams of Crowell and Mrs. W. O. Fish of the Vivian community.

Mr. Adams has been taking shorthand and transcribing same for 31 1/2 years and he says if you have nerves of steel, patience of Job, or can spell like an Einstein, you can qualify for a fairly lucrative job—that of court reporter.

He began plying his profession in 1921 in the 70th Judicial District, which embraced eight organized and two unorganized counties in West Texas.

The young reporter at that time had been out of a business college in Dallas for seven years after his graduation from Crowell High School in 1914.

He answered an advertisement in a Dallas newspaper for a District Court Reporter, and was hired. But only on a temporary, make-good basis. Five years later he was still on a temporary basis, but still on the job.

The 70th District was split into three districts later, and the two unorganized counties, Crane and Loving, were the last two counties in Texas to be organized.

Mr. Adams moved to Vernon in 1927, and replaced O. O. Franklin, court reporter under Judge Robert Cole, when Mr. Franklin was elected district attorney.

He has served under four of the district judges who have served in this district since its organization 72 years ago, and his 26 years represent a little more than a third of that time.

The word accuracy was invented for this man. He transcribed 940 pages of testimony in one trial, and when the lawyers read the proofs, they found one error.

Three criminal lawyers, all now dead, usually considered the best in Texas, Mr. Adams said. They were Lud Williams, Waco; Jim Cunningham, Abilene; and A. J. Fires of Childress.

Post Office Box Rent to Advance 50 Per Cent on July First
For the first time since 1907, the U. S. Post Office mail boxes will show an increase in quarterly rates come July 1. The rent on all mail boxes all over the nation will be increased 50 per cent effective next Wednesday. Postmaster Alva Spencer announced this week.

Small boxes formerly renting for 60c will jump to 90c; medium size boxes will rent for $1.10 instead of 75c; and renters of the large size boxes will pay a $1.50 tariff instead of the usual $1.00.

In the past large cities have had increases in box rentals which have been governed by the cost of post office receipts, Mr. Spencer stated, but this is the first major nationwide increase in 46 years, the postal official concluded.

P. M. A. Officials Attend District Meet

Mrs. Ted Reeder, manager of the local PMA office, and PMA committeemen Dwight L. Campbell and Ab Dunn attended a district meeting of the Production Marketing Association in Wichita Falls Friday. The topics of this meeting, which convened in the Texas Electric Auditorium, dealt mainly with possible 1954 wheat allotments and cotton acreage data reports, Mrs. Reeder stated.

The three Crowell delegates and officials representing some 21 other counties in this district were on hand to hear these lectures of vital concern to this P. M. A. district.

Dollar Days to Be Held in Crowell on Thursday and Friday, July 2 and 3; Local Stores to Close on July 4th

With July Fourth coming on Saturday this year, the Crowell Booster Club announced this week that the monthly "Dollar Days" scheduled for next week end will prevail here on Thursday and Friday, July 2 and 3, thereby allowing local merchants and shoppers to observe the national holiday. This announcement was released after president Irving Fisch called a special meeting for the purpose of deciding the date for the bargain days.

The Booster Club president, speaking in behalf of the local club, stated that all stores in Crowell will be closed Saturday, July Fourth.

The News, which will carry many of the Dollar Day specials, will be printed early next week making it possible for the residents of this trade area to secure their copy by Wednesday morning instead of the usual Thursday morning. Several hundred extra issues of the News will be rolled off the press Tuesday night to furnish almost every home in this territory a copy of the paper illustrating many worthwhile savings for next Thursday and Friday.

Since the paper will be printed a day early, it is urgently requested that the merchants turn their advertisement copy in to the News during the week end.

Lions Club Officers to Be Installed at Barbecue Tonight

Final plans and preparations have been made toward launching the annual Lions Club barbecue and installation of officers ceremony slated for tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 o'clock at the Spring Lake Country Club.

Approximately 80 people comprising members of the Lions Club, their wives and other distinguished guests are expected to be on hand for the evening's festivities.

Following the partaking of the barbecue, a short program has been arranged prior to the formal induction of officers for the coming term. The incoming officers will be Kenneth Halbert, president; Tom McCandless, first vice president; Alvie Smith, second vice president; Byron Ellis, secretary-treasurer; Ector Solis, tail twister; and Houston Adkins, Lion tamer.

The new directors include Jack Spikes, Mike Bird, Dwight Campbell and Henry Borchardt.

Hoping to obtain good grass land for their herds in other localities and calculating a possible rise in cattle prices, many of the larger scale stockmen feel that this is the only alternative to get back their investment. Owners of small herds, on the other hand, are electing to take a loss on the Fort Worth and Oklahoma City cattle markets rather than bear the expense and trouble to locate them on grazing pastures of other regions.

Many Cattle Being Shipped North to 'Greener Pastures'

With no signs of abatement in the weather outlook and market prices on beef steadily declining, several farmers and ranchers in this section are shipping their cattle to the abundant grazing pastures of the southwest, and the Dakotas and Wyoming, according to a statement made this week by an agriculture official representing the so-called Greenbelt area.

Citizens of This Area Offered the Opportunity to Express Views as to Government's Agricultural Program

Citizens of Colorado and Texas are being offered the opportunity to express their views as to the agricultural program this week through publication of a ballot in their weekly papers and in Texas, the editors of the home town papers are helping in the survey.

The secret ballot, which need not be signed, is being carried this week in the News. The reason for this poll is the apparent differences of opinion between some organized groups and the rank and file producers who say that statements of a few members of these organizations do not reflect the true feelings of the majority of the livestock producers and farmers.

The state livestock paper of Colorado, The Denver Record-Stockman, last week ran the ballot. A partial count of the ballots revealed that 43 per cent voted in favor of livestock and grain supports. Thirty-eight per cent favor removal of all supports. Only one and one-half per cent favor the present rigid supports of grain, while livestock remains unsupported. Let's see how Texans feel about it and what type program is favored.

The Foard County News will cooperate in this poll and Ted Gouldy of the Live Stock News Service in Fort Worth has offered to tabulate the returns from the some 350 Texas county newspapers and we will carry a complete story of the results of the Texas opinion poll when this is completed.

The ballot is secret, you need not sign it.

Self-Reliance Back in Style

In a recent book entitled "The Peoples Pottage," Garrett Garrett points out the hard fact "that when people support the government, they control government, but when the government supports the people it will control them."

For nearly 20 years the prophets of central authority have sought to obscure this truth. Now there is a growing realization that freedom can exist only when the individual is responsible for his own welfare, and that the degree of dependency upon government is an accurate measure of freedom lost.

The new awareness of this danger is well exemplified in the policy recommendations adopted by the American National Cattlemen's Association at a recent meeting in Denver. Despite price drops which have severely affected the nations meat producers, they recommend unequivocally the discontinuance of support prices on all agricultural commodities, and, in the interim, immediate amendment of the law to place supports on corn and other feed grains on a flexible basis to be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Recognizing the possible credit needs of livestock producers and feeders this summer and fall, they recommend that existing credit facilities be alerted to meet any emergency that may arise. No special federal emergency credit is wanted. With an eye to preventing awkward industry surpluses, they also recommend heavy marketing of cows this fall, thus reducing breeding herds.

All down the line the association backs Secretary Benson's efforts to put the agricultural economy of this country on a sound basis. This is the kind of self-reliance action that built the United States. It's good to see it back in style.

Signing of an armistice in Korea will make little or no difference in the draft call, says Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state director of selective service. He bases his statement on the fact that the primary purpose of the draft law is to keep this country ready to defend itself against all comers. Men are drafted as we need replacements for the men in training. Because of the increased demand for men the past few months more than one-third of those called were under 20 years of age.

This month's quota is 1,749 men. Next month it will drop to 1,268. The monthly quota will run between 1,000 and 2,000 men for the State of Texas.

If the Williamson system of ranking football teams could be applied to universities as a whole, the University of Texas would be found among the first 15 or 20, according to Dr. Logan Wilson, president of the Main University.

He stated that universities are judged by criteria such as libraries and faculty salaries. UT's library, he said, contains more than a million volumes and is the largest and finest in the South. But UT's faculty salaries do not compare with those of California, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Ohio, State,

Washington, North Carolina or Virginia.

Speaking of the physical assets of the university, Dr. Wilson said the school had not overbuilt or built too lavishly, but that "our emphasis should be less on brick and more on brains."

Interest in government among the feminine sex was on the increase the past week when Bluebonnet Girls' Staters elected their First Lady.

She is tall, blond Jean Manning from Hamilton who will serve as the 1953 Governor.

Two other top state posts were filled by the girls. They chose Grace Morrow from Abilene as Lieutenant Governor and Polly Sue Dietze of Cuero as Attorney General.

Texas Supreme Court Justice Meade Griffin performed the inaugural ceremonies.

A court-appointed attorney defending persons in felony cases is entitled to $10 per day for each day the case is actually in trial. If he defends more than one case on the same day he is entitled to $10 per case, according to a ruling issued by the Attorney General's office.

The question came up when a court-appointed lawyer at Hillsboro represented four persons in court the same day and put in a claim for $40.

Under the ruling he will collect.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd is calling on five state agencies for legal help. He has asked officials of the University of Texas, the Texas Prison System, Texas Southern University, the State Department of Education and the Texas State Teachers' Association to provide him with such arguments as they can muster to support the state's suit to uphold the natural gas law.

The case comes up in Federal court next fall.

These five agencies stand to benefit most from the tax if it is upheld.

Those of you who contributed to the Waco or San Angelo disaster funds may deduct the contributions from your income tax, under a ruling issued by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

With the encouragement of the Texas Press Association, the daily and weekly newspapers of the state raised thousands of dollars for the relief of the stricken cities.

Efforts of the International Fur and Leather Workers Union to organize Texas labor have been stopped—at least temporarily.

District Judge Charles O. Betts issued an injunction, which also prohibits organizing by Emanuel Coutlakis, who allegedly has been trying to get San Antonio workers to join the union.

Coutlakis failed to register as a union organizer, as required by Texas law.

In seeking the injunction the Attorney General contended that the furrier's union is dominated by Communists and that Texas workers should be protected from such influences.

Colonel Homer Garrison Jr. denies that Texas police are not cooperating fully with Federal narcotics agents.

Garrison said that the Federal Narcotics Commissioner "indicated that there was a lack of cooperation from state and local officers in Texas in assisting his agents in enforcement of the narcotics law."

Admitting that Texas officers are handicapped by lack of manpower, materials, legislation, and money, Garrison told police convening in San Antonio that Texas officers are proud to work as a team with each other and with federal agents. The cooperation of Texas police is excellent, Garrison concluded.

Also at the policemen's convention, Inspector G. C. Conner of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said that lives can be saved on the highways through better driver education, enforcement of traffic laws, highway engineering, and public support of the safety principle.

"If we are to clear our highways of congestion, loss of life, injury to person, and destruction of property, the program must be carried out," said Conner.

The Texas Supreme Court has blocked the road to justice in loan shark cases, charges Leon Green, a University of Texas law professor.

Green cited the case of a man and his wife who brought suit charging that certain loan companies harassed and intimidated them and threatened to get the man's job.

The case finally went to the supreme court, which denied the plaintiffs a cause of action, listing half a dozen legal points to support the decision.

Referring to this decision, Green said, "Loan sharks are now given the green light to pursue their victims with all the ruthlessness and every stratagem which they can devise . . ."

Texas farmers and ranchers—as well as the State Treasury and the oil producers—stand to benefit from the 25c average increase in the well price of crude oil, says Charles E. Simons, executive vice president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

At the present rate of production the higher posted price for oil will mean an additional $37,500,000 a year paid to royalty holders, farmers, ranchers and land owners.

This, the first price advance since 1947, will add $250 million a year to Texas' oil income, Simons pointed out—and stimulate the search for more oil.

Egg-Feed Price Ratios Favor Egg Producers

The egg-feed price ratio for the first quarter of 1953 averaged 30 per cent higher than for the same period last year. In the past, says F. Z. Beanblossom, poultry marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, an increase in this ratio has been accompanied or followed closely by an increase in the number of chickens raised for laying flock replacements.

This could happen this year, however, points out Beanblossom, chicks and young chickens on farms on April 1, 1953, was one per cent below last year's figure for the same period. Eggs in incubators on April 1 were only two per cent from 1952 but chick orders on hand for delivery in May and later were seven per cent larger than a year ago. This indicates the late hatch may be large.

The increase in the late hatch, if it develops, explains the specialist, largely holds the key to egg prices in the spring of 1954. Producers should keep this fact in mind when placing orders for increasing the laying flock, says Beanblossom.

Texas poultrymen who are producing eggs in areas where price differences are being paid for quality eggs will no doubt profit from making pullet replacements in order to maintain a uniform production of eggs throughout the year. For, if the Texas egg industry is to become more stable, says Beanblossom, a high per cent of pullet replacements must be made each year in the heavy producing areas. By following this replacement practice, more eggs will be produced when prices are most favorable, says the specialist.

Beanblossom points out that one of the big problems now faced by egg producers is maintaining top quality during the summer months. Profits can be increased especially in areas where buying is done on a graded basis by taking proper care of the eggs. Gather the eggs at least three times each day and use wire egg baskets, says Beanblossom. The egg cases, flats and fillers should be cooled before the eggs are cased. Eggs should not be cased until after all animal heat is out of them.

Eggs should be held at temperatures between 50 and 55 degrees and the relative humidity in the storage room should range from 80 to 85 per cent, explains Beanblossom. If volume justifies, he adds, marketing should be on a daily basis, otherwise two to three times weekly.

Giving careful attention to all details from production through marketing, says Beanblossom, is just good management and often is the difference between success and failure in the business.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

Commenting on the unusually high incidence of dysentery in Texas at the present time, Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, described dysentery as being an infectious disease characterized by diarrhea, pain in the abdomen, and toxemia. It is caused by a specific bacteria or germ. These germs cause inflammation of the lining of the intestinal tract which produces pain throughout the abdomen and the discharge of many loose stools that frequently contain blood and mucus. Toxemia results from absorption of the poisonous substances produced by the germs.

"The germs gain entrance to the body through the mouth," Dr. Cox said, "and then make their way to the intestines in the same manner in which food does. When they reach the intestines they find conditions favorable to their growth, and there they establish themselves at the expense of the person infected and produce their harmful effects."

Dr. Cox warned that dysentery affects young children more often and more seriously than adults, frequently resulting fatally; however, he said it may occur at any age. It is usually more prevalent during the summer season, and the great number of cases now being reported are unusual for spring.

"The germ is always expelled with excreta of persons sick with dysentery and may continue to be expelled for some time after the patient recovers from the disease. These persons who still discharge the germs after they recover are called carriers, and they occur more frequently in this disease than in the majority of other infectious diseases.

"Food protection and adequate sanitary measures are more urgently needed now than ever before if we control the potential possibilities of epidemic dysentery in this State."

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

Increasing numbers of lockjaw will develop between now and fall, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox warned this week, despite known measures of prevention.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, cases jump in summertime because exposures in the form of cuts, scratches, or puncture wounds are more frequent in warm weather when people are out-of-doors.

The germs of lockjaw are commonly found in soil — especially manured soil. They enter through a skin break and emit a deadly toxin which causes jaw and neck muscles to contract so severely that jaws involuntarily close, vice-like.

Slowly, the muscle constriction spreads to other body muscles, until the victim is bent like a bow. A fatal case of the disease has been traced to a scratch from a rose thorn.

Lockjaw germs are spore-formers, which means they can live for years outside an animal body. Its life processes lie dormant in a tiny seed-like pod, sifting about on the ground until finally, perhaps through a sliver or nail scratch, it gets back into live tissue.

The wound may heal, but inside, protected as it is from the air, the spore will begin "revegetating" and emitting deadly toxin.

Farmers are especially vulnerable to lockjaw. Dr. Cox cautioned, because the primary source of lockjaw germs is the intestinal tract of farm animals. They're passed onto the ground in animal dejecta, easily available for re-entry into a human body when that body is cut or scratched or otherwise wounded.

Exposures to lockjaw are so common that it is mere common sense for everyone to maintain a high level of protection via immunization. Dr. Cox called this method of gaining immunity "simple and convenient." He said immunizing shots should be given to children early in life, at the discretion of the family physician.

"You can't go to a doctor with every little scratch," he emphasized, "so the best way to handle it is to take an immunizing series of shots, and keep the immunity level high with periodic 'booster' shots."

Hunters Urged to Shoot Wild House Cats

Between season shooting that helps keep the hunters' eyes sharp and also helps protect game birds is described in the current issue of Texas Game and Fish Magazine.

The article by Edward D. Hyman is entitled "Don't Put That Gun Away."

Hyman tells about varmint shooting which is permitted to varying degrees in most counties and emphasizes the need for cracking down as follows:

"One of the greatest game destroying predators, the wild house cat, can be found in any part of Texas, usually in large numbers. For many reasons, the wild house cat has become a real threat to our game birds. Young quail, being much easier to catch than mice and rats, have made the call of the wild sound like sweet music to the thousands of farm cats which have deserted the barns for the meadows.

"Another reason cats have become so numerous in the field is that many city dwellers, when they find Tabby with a litter of kittens, take the unwanted new additions of the household out to the country and turn them loose in some farmer's field to fend for themselves.

"This they do very well! The farmer could tell you, in a few short and possibly unprintable words, the effect they have on quail population and frequently his young chicks."

Hyman points out that Texans pursuing varmint hunting had better check the local game wardens to determine which predators are most prevalent in different areas.

In China the first course at dinner is the dessert.

This advertisement is the third in a special series which began over a year ago, and which is designed to give you, as a prospective buyer, detailed and helpful information. We'd be happy to have your comments about this type of advertising.

This is the 1953 Chevrolet Bel Air 4-Door Sedan. It's one of 16 Chevrolet models in 3 series, which add up to the widest choice in the low-price field.

Some Chevrolet advantages worth considering when you're ready to choose a car...

Next to a new house, a car is probably your most important purchase. Here are some facts to help you make up your mind about which make to buy.

Don't you agree that it's well worthwhile to weigh all the factors carefully before you buy any new car? Let's consider the major reasons why people choose one make over another and see how the 1953 Chevrolet stands in those respects.

Styling You Can Stay Proud Of

Styling, of course, is a matter of personal taste. Because we think Chevrolet is the best-looking car in its field, doesn't necessarily mean you'll think so, too. But we can tell you that the majority of our showroom visitors prefer Chevrolet styling and compare its appearance most favorably with cars costing a great deal more.

And you might consider this: Chevrolet styling is the newest in its field. It's the kind of styling that stays new, too. For it is based, not on fads or extremes, but on the fundamentals of good, modern design.

The One Automobile Body Almost Everybody Knows

It's not really surprising that so many people prefer Chevrolet's appearance. For Chevrolet is the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. And Fisher, as you know, is the only automobile body manufacturer with a world-wide reputation for styling, craftsmanship and quality.

The Many Benefits of High-Compression Power

When you drive a new Chevrolet (and we hope you'll do that soon), you'll notice these things: faster acceleration from a standing start; greater passing ability in traffic and on the highway; the new ease with which you climb steep hills.

These are just some of the benefits of Chevrolet's new high-compression power. In gearshift models, there is an advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine with a 7.1 to 1 compression ratio. Teamed with the new Powerglide automatic transmission* is an entirely new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine with 7.5 to 1 compression ratio. It is the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field.

A Great Gain in Gasoline Economy

Along with remarkable new performance, Chevrolet's advanced engines give you far greater gasoline mileage. In fact, this year marks the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And that includes substantial savings on over-all upkeep, as well as on gasoline.

New Getaway in the New Powerglide*

The new Powerglide automatically drops into "Low" range for starting and for passing in city traffic. Then, as you glide along, it slips smoothly and almost imperceptibly into cruising range. The results are much faster and more positive acceleration, and much lower fuel consumption.

The First Power Steering in a Low-Priced Car

This year's Chevrolet is the only car in its field to offer you the extra ease and convenience of Power Steering, optional at extra cost. With it, you can spin the wheel with the strength of one finger. You can see-saw in and out of tight parking places without the slightest strain. You get an additional cushion against road shocks and jars. Driving is easier, safer.

A Smoother and a Safer Ride

Chevrolet is the heaviest low-priced car. Model for model, a Chevrolet will weigh as much as 200 pounds more than the other makes. You often hear people say they buy high-priced cars because they're heavier, hold the road better and ride better. Well, isn't it logical, then, that Chevrolet's extra weight (which comes from extra strength of body and frame) would result in a better ride?

Chevrolet is the Lowest-Priced Line

Certainly, price is one of the most important factors of all. We're glad to be able to tell you that Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field.

Now, you might well ask, "How can Chevrolet offer me more and still cost less?" There is a simple, logical answer to that.

Remember that Chevrolet builds more cars than any other manufacturer. Chevrolet, along with General Motors, has greater facilities for research, for engineering and production. So, isn't it reasonable that these greater facilities bring manufacturing advantages and economies which Chevrolet can pass on to you in terms of higher quality at lower price?

An Endorsement Given No Other Car

Again this year, more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. Obviously that wouldn't be true unless people liked Chevrolet better. Unless Chevrolet offered more things people want—more value.

So, when you're ready to choose your new car, wouldn't you agree that Chevrolet merits your careful consideration? We welcome your visit at any time, so that you can look the car over yourself and try it out on the road.

*Combination of 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

Hunters Asked to Hold Mail Concerning Fall Wildlife Harvest

Mounting interest in the fall wildlife harvest, as indicated by letters of inquiry, caused the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission to announce that nothing will be decided until the July 17 meeting of the Commission in Houston.

He said recommendations then will be made on the waterfowl season and on possible shooting season in the Panhandle, West of the Pecos and other areas over which the Commission has regulatory authority. The Executive Secretary noted that some Panhandle residents have requested a short open season on Chinese ring-necked pheasants as well as on antelope.

The Executive Secretary asked

Texans to withhold their inquiries until after the July 17 meeting.

B. & P. W. CLUB

A picnic at the country club was enjoyed by members of the Business and Professional Women's Club and guests last Thursday evening. A very light shower sent everyone scamparing to the cars for a few minutes, but did not dampen spirits, so a gay evening was passed.

Reports of the delegates to the state convention in San Antonio were heard and during a short business session conducted by the president, Audrey Collins, it was voted to adopt the resolution passed by the convention relative to jury service for women. That resolution is that each member give $1.00 to be used to employ an expert or firm of experts to direct a voter educational program before the matter comes up for election in November, 1954.

An invitation to the Installation Banquet of the Paducah Club on Thursday, June 25, was read. Miss Mayme Lee Collins will act as installing officer.

Oil Men Are West Texas' Pioneer Conservationists

Oil men are West Texas' pioneer conservationists. With secondary recovery and pressure maintenance practices, the oil industry has brought to the surface millions of barrels that otherwise would have been lost eternally.

So declares an article in the current issue of West Texas Today, magazine of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

In West Texas Today, the article reads, conservation is of utmost importance whether it results in the saving of crude oil or of water and soil.

Results attained or expected from a few secondary recovery projects in West Texas were described.

These have or will result in production of 14,511,829 barrels that would have been lost, it was stated.

At the current average price for oil and the State production tax rate, that would result in payment of $1,667,844 into the state treasury in production taxes and $4,534,947 to owners of land, computed at one-eighth royalty, the article noted. These figures are based on an average market price of $2.50 per barrel.

West Texas Today's article stated:

"Everyone who has informed himself knows that the oil industry contributes most of the income of the State of Texas that finances the many services of government. Without the industry's contribution Texas children could not enjoy a fraction of the educational advantages they have. Education is only one of the many services State government gives the people."

"West Texans who produce crude oil from the earth's depths and the farmers and ranchers who produce food and fibre from its surface have one all-important problem in common; that is, to develop and practice methods to conserve or to replenish the basic natural resources of which they are the stewards."

The figures used in the article were based on a recent publication of the Texas Railroad Commission. It is entitled "A Survey of Secondary Recovery and Maintenance Operations in Texas to 1952."

A SECRETARY GENERAL?

President Eisenhower has been reported to be working on a plan to reorganize the Executive office and put all units under the unified supervision of a sort of Secretary-General.

Harold Thomson of Abilene visited over the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thomson. His wife and baby son, who had been visiting here for a week, returned home with him.

"The door of his home is open to it; he spends money to bring it into his home; he and his family want to read it," Mr. Penney said. "That is why newspaper advertising is so likely to be read and acted upon."

J. C. Penney Says Newspaper Ads Have Advantage

Chicago — Newspaper advertising is a necessity to retail merchants, according to J. C. Penney, the founder of the nation-wide Penney chain stores told members attending the 69th annual spring meeting of the Inland Daily Press association at the Congress hotel here that his stores spent most of their advertising dollar for newspaper space.

"We spend the bulk of our advertising dollars in newspapers," he said. "It seems perfectly natural to us that retailers can no more live without newspapers than newspapers can live without retail advertising."

Mr. Penney deplored dishonesty in advertising, and called for the newsmen to correct such situations.

"I deplore the generally accepted kind of advertising that tries to make people believe no product is worthy but the product being advertised," he said. "I deplore the implication that no advertiser is honest and sincere but the one whose advertising is being read."

The Penney president gave credit to newspaper advertising as a major aid in the building of his 1,640 stores throughout the country.

"We can't do business without newspaper advertising," he said. "The newspapers are our market place, where we come to cry our wares."

Explaining his reasons for relying on newspaper advertising, Mr. Penney said newspapers provide the best means of attracting

First Fatality of 1953 Hunting Season Is Recorded

The first fatality of the 1953 game harvest prompted the Chief Clerk of the Game and Fish Commission to remind Texans of the hazards afield.

According to Game Warden M. S. Dry of Eastland, the victim was a 37-year-old Ranger woman, who was shot while squirrel hunting. His information was that she was with another woman and the latter's sons, age seven and ten.

Dry's report stated they were maneuvering to shoot at a squirrel. It kept moving around a tree. Finally, one of the women handed a .22 rifle to the ten-year-old boy. In releasing the safety, the lad accidentally discharged the gun. The bullet killed the woman instantly.

Game wardens are helping the Commission maintain a record of the hunting toll in the hope that publicity of the tragedies will help make Texans more safety conscious.

During its first two years, Ford Motor Company assembled approximately 3,500 cars in this rented building on Detroit's Mack Avenue. Ford's 19 U. S. assembly plants, 50 years later, built almost twice that number of autos each working day.

News from the Congress

by Congressman Frank Ikard

Washington, D. C., June 19, 1953—This week I discussed the severe drought situation in the Thirteenth District with Congressman Hope of Kansas, who is chairman of the Agriculture committee, and Congressman Hill of Colorado, who is chairman of the Livestock subcommittee, along with representatives of the Department of Agriculture and the Bureau of the Budget in an effort to work out some program that will be of benefit to the drought area. One thing that can be done is cottonseed meal, cake, and pellets could be made available to the ranchers in this area. At this time the government has about 700,000 tons of cottonseed meal, cake, and pellets on hand. At the present time, this will be sold in the foreign market at a price substantially below the market price in this country. After July 1st, the government will start moving a greater volume of this on a lower price. It seems to me that this feed should be made available to the farmers and ranchers in the drought area. It is also necessary, in my opinion, to take some action to assure that corn is available at a price that is reasonable to the feeders. As long as corn can be marketed on the market at a price that is more advantageous than feeding it to cattle, there will be very few cattle fed.

I have also spent a couple of hours talking to Secretary of Agriculture Benson about this problem. He told me that as a result of the earlier meeting that we had had with the chairmen of the congressional committees and representatives of the Bureau of the Budget and Department of Agriculture, that he had discussed the matter of the severe drought with the President and members of the Cabinet and that they would have some program concerning the drought area in a very short time.

The secretary will be in Lubbock on June 27. I suggested to him that if his time would permit that he personally see a great deal of the drought area and that he discuss the matter with farmers and ranchers in that area. He told me that he would be glad to see anyone who would like to talk to him at Lubbock on Saturday, June 27th.

Making feed available to the ranchers or extending any additional credit under the Farmers Home Administration or a similar agency cannot progress with any
