"Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's new statistical yearbook, shows that 61 per cent of the drivers involved in the 33,000 fatal motor vehicle accidents last year lived within 25 miles of where the accident occurred, 21 per cent lived elsewhere in the state, and 18 per cent out of the state.

Seventy-three per cent of drivers involved in all motor vehicle accidents also lived within 25 miles of where the accident occurred. Seventeen per cent lived elsewhere in the state and 10 per cent outside the state.

Home Demonstration Notes

MRS. MARY D. BROWN

Who was playing ghost the night we were at camp? Some of the pictures we took were very good and one taken after the lights were out shows someone all wrapped up in a sheet walking around. I'll bring these pictures with me for the September demonstrations so don't miss them. The schedule for the butter cake demonstration is as follows: Gambleville, Sept. 4; West Side, Sept. 8; Vivian, Sept. 10; Margaret, Sept. 11; Foard City, Sept. 15; Riverside, Sept. 22. Blackeyed peas will soon be ready to can so thought you might like to have this recipe. Use only with 2 piece metal closures and glass jars so that some of the air may escape as the peas get hot. If you plan to use another type of container and lid, call or come by my office for the recipe.

Canning Shelled Fresh Blackeyed Peas

Prepare, pack and close. Wash and shell. Pour into clean, hot glass jars. Fill pints to 1 1/2 inches from rim, and quarts to 2 inches from rim. Do not push or shake down peas. To do so would increase the amount of peas in the jar and give a poor fill. Cover the peas with fresh, boiling water and work out bubbles with a knife blade. Add more water to 1/2 inch from top of jar. Wipe the top of the jar with a clean, damp cloth. Close with two-piece closure. Place in hot pressure canner.

Process at 10 pounds pressure: pints 35 minutes, quarts 40 minutes. Remove from canner and cool.

If you prefer to freeze your blackeyed peas, shell, wash and sort them. Scald them 3 to 4 minutes. Chill and drain them. Then package and freeze them immediately.

Drivers Urged to Observe Traffic Signs

"If all drivers strictly observed 'Signs of Life,' the nation's traffic accident rate might be cut in half."

This prediction, made recently by Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, and services advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation, was based on the fact that more than half of the drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1952 were violating one or more traffic laws.

"Many of these accidents involved violations of traffic signs, signals and pavement markings, according to statistics from the National Safety Council," he said. "If these posted warnings had been observed, the accidents might never have happened."

For this reason the Texas Safety Association is cooperating with the Department of Public Safety in carrying out a traffic safety program in Texas during August, based on the "Signs of Life" theme, Col. Tilley said.

"The purpose of this program," he said, "is to bring to public attention the need for heeding traffic signs, signals and pavement markings, the 'Signs of Life' designed to protect motorists and pedestrians."

Most frequent violations of traffic signs, signals and markings as listed by Col. Tilley are:

1. Exceeding speed limit.
2. Failure to keep right of center line.
3. Improper passing.
4. Disregarding warning sign.
5. Disregarding stop sign.
6. Disregarding signal or officer.

"Proper observance of 'Signs of Life' will do much to cut the nation's traffic death toll," he said.

He also reminded drivers that speed too fast for conditions, a violation in itself, can destroy the protection offered by signs.

"If the driver is going too fast to see them, they won't help him, of course," he explained. "Also, although the speeding driver may see them, he sometimes is going so fast that he does not have time to follow their warnings."

"One of the best pieces of safety advice a motorist can get," Col. Tilley said, "is contained in the August slogan of the Texas Safety Association and the Department of Public Safety, 'Signs of Life—Know Them, Obey Them.'"

William Henry Harrison died at the end of his first month as president, serving the shortest term on record.

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

Communicable diseases common to children reach their low point, as to number of cases, late in the summer. Then, when school opens, and children are closely grouped together in classrooms, germs begin to spread, and the increase runs to thousands of cases of illness causing much time lost from school, discomfort for the children, and untold hours spent in nursing them back to health, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox,

Expanding Texas Industry Requires More Water

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON
U. S. Senator

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles based on a Bureau of Reclamation survey of the Texas water program, made at the request of Senator Johnson.)

Texas' almost miraculous industrial progress during the last decade has attracted nationwide attention. Many new manufacturing establishments, big and little, have sprung up over the State. An enormous overall addition has been made to the productive capacity of the United States.

We want to continue our industrial growth. Development of large and dependable water supplies is essential to maintenance of the rate of Texas industrial growth. Water is the lifeblood of modern industry.

These needed supplies will have to come from water resources not used at present. That is a primary conclusion of an appraisal of the Texas water problem made by the Bureau of Reclamation.

Must Develop Water Resources
The Bureau reports that Texas has a potential water supply more than sufficient to take care of all foreseeable industrial and farm and municipal needs. Our present use of water represents only about 15 per cent of the water available, year after year, from Texas streams.

The water problem facing our State is two-fold. First, we must take steps to conserve as much as possible of the 85 per cent of the total supply that now runs off into the Gulf of Mexico and is lost to us. Second, we must devise and put into effect a distribution system that will get adequate supplies of water to the places where they are most needed.

Must Meet Challenge
Admittedly, this challenge is no puny one. But it is one that must be met. Only by meeting it can we take advantage of the unparalleled economic opportunity before us.

Every phase of our anticipated industrial development will require increased supplies of water. The Bureau of Reclamation predicts, for example, that eventually industries and municipalities in the Gulf Coast area will require an annual water supply four times as large as the present usage.

The Bureau report suggests new and revised programs aimed primarily at transforming Texas' potential water resources into available water supplies. It estimates economic gains that would come to Texas as a result of carrying out these programs. It discusses the character of the Federal interest in the Texas water problem. It outlines policies which respect both State and national interests.

Solution Vital to Texas
The solution of our water problem is vitally important to Texas, of course. But not to Texas alone. The entire Nation has a great stake in solving this problem. The Nation needs the additional manufactured goods and farm products that would come with greater utilization of Texas water resources.

I hope that Texas and the Federal Government will work together to solve the problem—with the rights of Texas over its own waters protected to the fullest degree.

The basis of such a cooperative program is set forth in the report by the Bureau of Reclamation.

State Health Officer.
Some children die and others suffer permanent damage to their health. The really tragic part of this situation is that it is, in a large measure, preventable. If all parents would change their indifferent, negligent attitude toward diseases such as measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever, and chickenpox, and would cooperate with school and health authorities, these common communicable disease epidemics could be reduced.

Dr. Cox says these are the important ways to protect the health of our school children: immunize every child against diphtheria and small pox, have daily inspection of school children, with isolation or separation of the suspected case of disease, sending home any child showing signs of illness, such as paleness, sore throat, skin eruption, fever or any other symptom that apparently needs the attention of a physician; keep children home who show signs of illness. Call the physician and let him interpret the symptoms. Re-admission to school should be based on permission of the family physician or health officer. Inspection should be made at the beginning of school and at mid-year for minor skin infections and head lice, with exclusion of all infected children from school. The development of good personal habits in every child is very essential to the control of all contagious diseases.

For the sake of our children—their physical health and progress in school, let's stop the inroads of needless illness, and give them a fair chance for normal development, physically and mentally.

Diamonds, sapphires, emeralds, rubies and opals are the five recognized precious stones.

Austin, Texas — Teachers are in the limelight again. This time they are petitioning Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr., to run for governor come 1954.

Aikin co-authored the Gilmer-Aikin school bill two years ago and led the fight in the recent legislature for the teacher's pay-raise bill. The bill passed both houses, then died because there was not enough state revenue income to pay the salary increases.

Teachers are miffed over Governor Shivers' stand on the pay-raise measure; and the current petition is undoubtedly the result of widespread comment relative to the governor's plans to run for re-election.

Aikin says: "I'm not running for or from anything."

Should Aikin run it would be the first time that the school teachers as a group have entered the political field with a candidate and a platform of educational improvement and teacher-pay-raises.

Speaking of candidates, the Rev. T. E. Womack of Austin, a campaigner for the office of Lieutenant Governor in 1952, now has the police searching for two men who robbed him of $255.

Hijackers held up the 61-year-old negro preacher on a lonely road outside the capitol city. They helped him start his stalled car, then pulled a pistol on him.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox is calling upon the public to aid health officials in improving sanitary conditions in public eating places.

Public reaction could be one of the most forceful influences in effecting adherence to health regulations, the state health officer contends.

Cox asks that the public observe unsanitary practices and express unfavorable reaction to restaurants and cafes which do not measure up to standards.

He calls particular attention to the serving of milk in other than the original container, prevalence of flies, cleanliness of walls, floors and counters, as well as the appearance of the waiters and waitresses.

Governor Allan Shivers got quick reaction to his accusation that the FBI is violating States' rights by secret snooping in some civil liberties cases.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover commented that he was "amazed you could be so misinformed."

Such investigations are made by the FBI only when so ordered by the Department of Justice, Hoover said, and the head of the state institution concerned is always told about it. Hoover asked Shivers for more details.

In response, the governor said his remarks were in line "with the general discussion at the last three National Governors Conferences." He invited Hoover to look at the minutes.

Into the hassle came State Representative William H. Kugle of Galveston, who asserted that Shivers had shown "a complete misconception of the problems of law enforcement and the protection of civil liberties."

Somewhere, Kugle thought, should send the governor a seventh grade textbook on government.

Law enforcement is a matter of local option according to Shivers' position, Kugle declared, and because of that policy Galveston County "has provided a haven for hoodlums for many years."

Defense testimony began in a hearing to develop evidence for the State Supreme Court as to whether District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice should be ousted from his job.

Prosecutors, meanwhile, had produced witnesses who testified that strong-arm tactics and economic pressure were brought against them when they opposed George Parr, Duval County political boss who helped Laughlin in his race for judge last year.

Donato Serna, San Diego drug store operator, said Parr and others tried to drive customers away from a drug store operated by Serna's brother.

Serna testified that when he began taking pictures of the scene he was arrested and taken to jail, where Parr hit him a hard blow over the head with a flashlight.

Serna was but one of many witnesses whose testimony, in bits and pieces, will fit together to provide a picture, not only of Laughlin's administration, but of South Texas politics generally.

There was wrangling, too, about the awarding of the big state tire and tube contract.

It went by a 2 to 1 vote of the State Board of Control, to General Tire and Rubber Company.

er than his.

Pennsylvania's bid was low, but other factors came into consideration in awarding the contract.

James A. Lands, a member of the board, said State Senator Johnnie B. Rogers of Austin, sales manager for Jack Ritter Oil Company, had told him Rogers would make enough money out of the Pennsylvania contract "to pay his expenses through two years of law school."

Rogers retorted that he would have received no commission for the contract that he has been employed by Ritter for the past year, and that he is on a salary.

Showers around the state put a dent in the drought, if they did not end it.

After a long dry spell, this headline caught the reader's eye: "High Water Threatens Rio Towns."

Zapata County communities Falcon and Lupeno were evacuated when water began rising behind the new Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande.

Texas' share of the national draft for October will be 1,298 men, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state selective service director, announced.

August's quota was 1,235 and September's is 1,232.

Plowing up of cotton began on the last day of August in the Lower Rio Grande Valley on recommendation of the International Pink Bollworm Advisory Council.

Farmers know the only way to attack the bollworm is to destroy the cotton plant as soon as the crop is harvested. The plow-up will continue northward as the season advances.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White announced that according to the council no extension of the plow-up deadline will be granted or even considered.

Attorneys for Benny Binion, Las Vegas, Nevada, gambler, are scheduled to appear in federal court here September 4.

They will argue a motion for continuance of the case against Binion, who is charged with evasion of $674,394 in incomes taxes during the years 1945 through 1948.

September 14 is the date set for beginning the trial. Binion claims he has not had time to prepare his defense.

U. S. District Attorney Charles Herring says he will oppose Binion's motion for a continuance.

Before moving to Las Vegas in 1946, Binion lived in Dallas, where a gambling charge is still pending against him.

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

I figure this demonstration saved me many hundreds of dollars!

I expected to pay that much more for a new car until I discovered I was better off in every way with this new Chevrolet!

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gear-shift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Miss Lareta Lyons, bride-elect of Kenneth Ownbey, was named as honoree at a beautiful miscellaneous bridal shower given at the Adolphian Club House Saturday afternoon, August 29, with Misses Jean Hughton and Nell Johnson and Mesdames Lewis Hunter, Jeff Bell, A. G. Bell, Herman Kincheo, Henry Johnson, John Borchardt and Chester Hord as hostesses.

The guests were received by Mrs. Jeff Bell. The receiving line was composed of Mrs. Hunter, Miss Lyons; Mrs. Goodloe Meason, aunt of the honoree; Mrs. Lester Ownbey, mother of the groom-elect.

The entertaining rooms were enhanced with arrangements of garden flowers. Misses Sue Meason and Frances Kincaid played appropriate piano music throughout the afternoon.

Miss Hughton presided at the bride's book where approximately fifty guests registered.

In the dining room, the lace-covered table was adorned by the punch bowl which was surrounded by tiny flowers and fernery. Colors of blue and white, the bride's chosen colors, predominated blue tapers in crystal holders, flanking the punch bowl. The punch, with cookies and nuts, was served by Miss Johnson and Mrs. Hord.

Mrs. A. G. Bell, Mrs. Kincheo, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Borchardt displayed the many pretty gifts. Mrs. Howard Williams was also a member of the house party.

The table, covered with a red and white checked gingham cloth in keeping with a western motif which was used throughout the house, was centered with a styro-foam base, covered with sand. On the base were pottery boots and an arrangement of chrysanthemums in a planter of pottery. Miss Sue Meason and Mrs. Darwin Bell entertained in the gift room where the many beautiful and useful gifts were displayed.

Fall Class at Printing School to Begin on October Fifth

Texas veterans of Korean service and of World War II still have time to complete enrollment for the fall classes in the Southwest School of Printing, it has been announced by Pat Taggart, School president.

The Southwest School of Printing, explained Taggart, who is business manager of the Waco News-Tribune, is a non-profit institution supported by the publishing and printing industries of the Southwest to provide thorough training for qualified young men desiring careers in the industry.

"Few occupations offer the advantages that printing does to high school graduates who have completed their military service," Taggart declared. "In Texas, the rate of pay is the second highest paid by any manufacturing industry, the hours are comparable to those in any field and there are plenty of job opportunities."

Robert Gleason, general manager of the Southwest School of Printing, emphasized the number of job opportunities available in the state's printing industry by pointing out that "the School regularly receives far more requests for men than we have graduates."

Gleason and Taggart pointed out that the demand for trained printers in the Southwest has increased rapidly in recent years and will continue to be great during the industrial and commercial expansion of the area. Taggart explained that "new industrial plants and new commercial businesses opening in Texas almost daily have created a terrific demand for printing. The printing industry needs more trained men to meet those demands."

Gleason announced that registration and start of on-the-job instruction in the fall class of the School's 16-months course will be October 5. He urged Korean and World War II veterans to send their applications for enrollment in the class to the School later than September 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton and two daughters of Waco spent the week end here with relatives.

Mrs. A. Y. Beverly left Tuesday morning for Austin where she will visit in the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joe W. Beverly, and her relatives.
