This demonstration showed me the way to a better deal!

I'd been planning to buy a higher-priced car until I found out all Chevrolet offered—and how much I could save!

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel
Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops
An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

Shopping in Warsaw

When you walk into an American store, whether it be in one of our great cities or a small town, you take it for granted that a wide and attractive selection of dependable merchandise will be offered to you, at prices which are well within the means of most people.

The contrast with stores in communist countries, where the government owns or bosses everything and competition in our sense of the term is non-existent, is incredible.

U. S. News & World Report recently described the prices charged for representative commodities in Warsaw, where communism reigns supreme. In terms of U. S. money, shoes are priced at $231.25 a pair; a girl's sweater costs $187; bathing trunks carry an $85 price tag; an ordinary leather brief case commands $200. The cheapest brandy costs $48 a bottle, horse meat retails at $1.50 a pound and beef is $3 to $5 a pound.

Some skilled workers in Poland get good wages—a tractor driver can earn as much as $400 a month. But it would take all his wages for about two weeks to buy a pair of shoes.

Next time you hear someone extolling the virtues of big, all-powerful government at the expense of free enterprise, remember these figures.

Texas breeds the greatest number of Jersey cows.

Justices of the Peace who get a regular salary may keep fees collected for performing marriage ceremonies and for acting as ex-officio notaries public.

Fees may not be paid to a sheriff in advance for serving citations on delinquent taxpayers who are non-residents of a county.

A County Commissioners' court may make valid county tax levies even if one of the commissioners is absent from the meeting because of duties in one of the reserve branches in the armed forces.

Austin, Texas — Business has been booming in Texas the past six months, despite the farmer's plight. A report from the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas reveals that the first six months of 1953 were "the best in Texas' business history."

Heaviest activity was in the industrial growth of the state.

Scattered showers continued to fall over Texas, putting a dent in the drought situation.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported that much of the state was benefited, except for dry southern counties. More rain is needed everywhere, the USDA said, especially in the south and the southern high plains.

Texas potentially has an ample water supply. But at present about 85 per cent of the flow of Mexico's rivers goes into the Gulf of Mexico.

That circumstance was reported to the Senate by Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, who based his remarks on a study made by the Austin office of the U. S. Reclamation Bureau.

Johnson recommended that the federal government and the state work together for the conservation and use of this water so as to

Mrs. Viola Locke and children arrived Sunday from Sherman where they have been for the last six weeks.

Early in the week Foard County got some scattering rains. In some places they amounted to enough to help the crops considerably. Crops are suffering and still need a good rain to revive them.

CUSTOM-MADE OIL AIDS JET'S HEIGHT AND SPEED

A custom-made engine oil has been developed by an oil company for such super high-flying planes as the all-jet, long range, inter-continental YB-52 bomber. The new oil is the first to meet U. S. military specifications for synthetic jet lubricants and opens a new vista in the development of high-altitude, high-speed jets. It does not begin to boil until it hits 70,000 feet, and it performs well also in 65-degree below zero temperatures. Special fuels and lubricants like this are developed by oil companies to speed progress.

EMPLOYMENT

Employment throughout the United States is at peak levels, with only two persons out of every 100 employable out of work, according to a New York Times survey. Economists were reported finding it necessary to revise their traditional concepts.

provide food, clothing, and industrial opportunities to an ever-increasing population in the Southwest.

Federal-state cooperation was a principal subject as the National Governors' Conference met in Seattle, Washington.

Governor Shivers, chairman of the conference this year, opened the sessions with a keynote address.

Scheduled to appear during the conference are President Eisenhower, and some members of his cabinet, including Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Houston, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, and Attorney General Herbert Brownell.

When Shivers left Texas for Seattle, Lt. Governor Ben Ramsey took over as the state's chief executive and immediately went to work as presiding officer of the Legislative Budget Board.

The Board instructed its staff to tackle the problems of a separate appropriations item to augment the salaries of topnotch professors so that they might be attracted to the state's colleges and universities.

Being studied too were plans for subsistence allowances for state hospital workers, the financing of a long-range, land-use, drought-combat program. Much time also was devoted to budgeting plans for all buildings and capital investments so the Legislature can study the state's building needs as a whole rather than acting upon separate requests from different agencies.

Vernon A. McGehee, budget director, was re-elected for a one-year term. Members of the Texas Legislative Council, meeting in a two-day session here, have given top priority to studies on six different and unrelated subjects. Four of them were asked by the recent Legislature. They include: 1. Protection of livestock from disastrous disease and the control of such diseases; methods of financing control; means of paying livestock owners for losses incurred under control and eradication measures.

2. Comparison study of game and fish laws of other states and their conservation programs. 3. Study of proposals for reorganization of court system. 4. Inventory of public lands. Other matters set for study included general recodification of Texas laws, last done in 1925; laws relating to annexations by cities; and a study of codification of the juvenile delinquency laws.

Director John D. Mosely was given authority to move the commission's headquarters from the Capitol to 105 West 14th Street.

Testimony will be heard here, beginning August 17, in removal proceedings against District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice. District Judge D. B. Wood of Georgetown, commissioner for the state supreme court in the case, set the date.

After the testimony is received, the record will go to the supreme court for decision as to whether Judge Laughlin shall be ousted from his office.

Ouster proceedings against Judge Laughlin were brought by 11 South Texas lawyers, who charged that irregularities have occurred in the judicial district which is politically dominated by George Parr.

Federal drought relief legislation, passed by Congress, provides $30 million for economic disaster loans, $60 million for special livestock loans, $40 million to subsidize shipments of feed and seed to disaster areas, and $20 million for production and subsistence loans under the Farmers Home Administration.

Farmers and ranchers, not only in Texas but also in other parts of the Southwest, will be eligible for assistance under the program. Prior to the passage of this bill, $16 million already was available for drought relief from Agriculture Department funds.

Chancellor Gibb Gilchrist of Texas A&M said the school's board of directors will determine how the institution will participate in a hay and feed distribution program.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd had ruled that the college has full legal authority to furnish hay and feed to drought areas.

William L. McGill, state defense and disaster relief co-ordinator, announced that the college would be asked to set up a $500,000 revolving fund to administer volume purchases and distribution of hay.

Most of the relief livestock feed will have to come from other states, in the opinion of Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, who completed an inventory showing that only about 10 per cent of the needed amount is available in Texas.

McGill said the state disaster committee was awaiting word from Southwestern railroads as to whether they would grant a 50 per cent freight reduction on shipment of livestock from drought areas to pastures elsewhere.

Granted by the rails were half rates on shipment of feed into the parched areas.

Cattlemen will get help from state banks, said State Banking Commissioner J. M. Faulkner.

Faulkner reported to Governor Shivers that he had talked with most of the state bankers in the drought disaster area, and "It is their thought that where they are financing cattlemen who have a home and are not hopelessly in debt, they are willing to ride out the depression with them."

Help will be coming for the dairymen as well as farmers and ranchmen, Secretary Benson said in response to a telegram from C. O. Norton, representing North Texas Milk Producers' Association.

Benson stated: "It has been the intent of the department of Agriculture regarding delivery of dairy milk should be on the same basis as beef cattle."

Certain Varieties of Peaches Best for Home Freezing

Certain varieties of peaches are excellent for storing in the home freezer.

Mrs. Mary D. Brown, County Home Demonstration Agent, says certain kinds and varieties of peaches give a better product than others. She suggests freezing the Elberta, Dixigen, Hale Haven, and the Frank, cling peach.

Use only sound, ripe peaches for freezing—the fruit should be slightly riper than for canning, but certainly not soft or mushy. The agent says tree ripened fruit contains more vitamins and richer flavor than fruits picked green and allowed to ripen before freezing.

Prepare the peaches as you would for eating. Keep them cool from the time the peaches are gathered until they are frozen.

Wash peaches in cold water, peel, and treat to prevent them from turning dark. The agent says there are several ways to prevent discoloration: ascorbic acid (vitamin C) in tablet, crystalline or powdered form may be used. Dissolve 1,000 milligrams (or ten 100 milligram tablets) per quart of sugar syrup is used to cover the fruit. Powdered or crystalline ascorbic acid may also be added to the syrup using ½ teaspoon per quart of syrup just before pouring over the fruit.

Another method of preventing discoloration in peaches is to dissolve a fourth teaspoon of citric acid in a quart of cool water and let the fruit stand in the solution about 15 minutes before packing in sugar syrup.

There are some special commercial preparations of ascorbic acid for frozen fruits on the market. These usually contain added sugar and citric acid. When using commercial mixes, follow manufacturers' directions and be sure to use enough liquid to cover the fruit.

sugar syrup, although a dry-sugar pack may be used. Sugar or sugar syrup helps peaches hold their shape, color and flavor.

To pack peaches for freezing, after they have been washed, peeled and treated to prevent discoloration, cover with sugar syrup in freezing containers, using 3 cups sugar to 4 cups water. The syrup is made by dissolving the sugar in boiling water, and chilling thoroughly before pouring over the peaches. For a dry sugar pack add 2/3 cup sugar to each quart of prepared peaches. Allow about a half inch at top of container for expansion. Label container with kind of peach, type of pack and date. Information on freezing foods is available at the agent's office.

ARE WOMEN SAFER DRIVERS THAN MEN?

Chicago — Are women safer drivers than men? Well, you can't prove it by the National Safety Council. In the 1933 edition of "Accident Facts," its statistical yearbook, the Council is forced to beg the issue because no one knows how many miles each sex drives.

The Council knows that eight out of 100 drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1932 were women. Drivers of the fairer sex figured in 12 out of 100 motor vehicle accidents of all types.

But there are not as many women drivers as men, and they drive a lot less. And since no one knows how much less, the argument must go on, and even the authoritative National Safety Council can't settle it.

Fascism was first developed under Benito Mussolini.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health,
Austin, Texas. Geo. W. Cox, M.
D., State Health Officer.

Summer with its abundance of low-calorie fruits and vegetables is a good time to shed those few extra pounds put on during the winter months, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, states.

People do not need as many starchy foods which produce energy in warm weather as they do in the winter, he said, because in the summer the warmth which starchy foods give to the body is not needed.

"Green leafy and yellow vegetables and all types of fruit which are plentiful during the summer months provide an excellent, low-cost diet for the person who is overweight," Dr. Cox said. "Many of these foods can be eaten raw and are very nutritious this way provided the food is carefully washed to remove all dirt and in-secticides which may be present."
Dr. Cox stressed the importance

You'll Never Be Sorry YOU SAVED

Argue as you will about high prices, inflation, etc.—this we know—YOU'LL NEVER BE SORRY
YOU SAVED!

You'll forget the sacrifices you made—it won't matter whether good times stay or not—you'll have money in the bank, and that's always something to be thankful for.

of properly storing food during the summer. He explained that certain foods such as cold cuts, cream desserts, potato salad, and sandwich spreads have a tendency to spoil quickly during hot weather.
Foods of this type should be kept in the refrigerator until just before they are served.

"By using good common sense in choosing and serving the prop-able summer," Dr. Cox concluded.

MONEY IN CIRCULATION

Washington (American Peoples Encyclopedia News Service) — Money in circulation in the United States passed the 30 billion mark for the first time in November of last year. This indicates that many households use currency when they might well be expected to keep bank accounts. In the halcyon days of 1929, the Encyclopedia editors say, hand-to-hand or pocket money with which all business was conducted was less than 5 billion dollars.

News from the Congress

by Congressman Frank Icard

Washington, D. C., July 31, 1953—The closing days of any session of Congress are always the most hectic ones. As everyone knows, the House and Senate do not always pass the bills in the same form. The result is that these bills have to go to conference committees, composed of members from both the House and Senate, where the differences of both houses of Congress are reconciled. After this is done, the representatives of the respective bodies report back on the compromise bills and then the compromise bills are either approved or rejected. This practice means that actually final action on most legislation is taken during the last week or ten days of the session, which leads to the necessity of working from early morning until late into the night. After these long hours, men's patience tire, tempers sometimes flare, and often ill-advised action is taken. Some means should be devised to take the pressure off in the closing days of the session. Nearly every year a number of the older members of the Congress die because of exhaustion and heart attacks brought on by these hectic days.

The passing of Senator Robert A. Taft means that a truly great American has left the American political scene. Even though you might not have agreed with Taft's philosophies, no one can question the fact that he possessed a great mind and a firm, dedicated conviction to the principles for which he stood. He was a man of great moral strength and patriotic zeal. Those who differed with him most on political questions had the highest respect and admiration for him as a man of great integrity and high principle. He was the real Congressional leader for the present Administration. It has been said that he was its balance wheel and held it together. Republicans and Democrats alike will miss Senator Taft on Capitol Hill, and his place will be almost impossible to fill.

It seems ironical in a way that in the last day or two of this session, the Congress should be asked to consider raising the national debt limit to 290 billion dollars, and on the same day be asked to approve legislation which will make available 14 billion dollars, plus, for the foreign aid program. The national debt now stands roughly at 272 billion dollars, which is greater than the national debts of all the other countries in the world combined. Proportioning this national debt in the same proportion as Texas paid internal revenue into the Federal Treasury last year, Texas' share of this national debt is nine billion seventy-five million dollars. From the information given us by the Treasury Department and Senator Harry Byrd who knows as much as anyone in Congress about our fiscal affairs, we could have operated the Government the rest of this year and not exceeded the present limit of the debt and could have maintained a cushion of about three billion 200 million dollars. Therefore, I felt that the limit should not be raised because of these facts that show we could safely operate the government without the raise and, secondly, if raised, it would certainly be an invitation for additional borrowing which would further jeopardize our credit and dilute the value of our money.

Above everything else, we must maintain the good health of the economy of this country. This is probably the most important question facing all of us today, for if our economy fails, then every other problem that we discuss becomes relatively unimportant.

I expect to be in the district just as soon as possible, and between now and the first of next year I expect to be in every town, community and county in the district. My office is in Room 209 of the Post Office building in Wichita Falls and will be open every week-day except Saturday.

I will discontinue these columns until Congress convenes in January. I hope they have a source of some information benefit to its readers.

HENRY CIRCLE

The Henry Circle met Monday August 3, in the home of Virgil Smith with Mrs. John Foster as co-hostess. Mrs. Foster Davis was in charge of the program and gave an address on Social Evangelistic Center Methodism, and she also presented favorite Bible passages of famous people. Mrs. M. S. H. told about the Chimayo Inn and their life.

Refreshments were served members.

PAINTS TELL TEMPERATURE

Tell-tale paints, made of chemicals derived from oil, have been made to change color when they reach certain temperatures. They can be sprayed or painted on the inaccessible spots in aircraft engines or industrial exchangers where it is impossible to know the maximum temperatures but difficult to use measuring instruments. Chemicals from petroleum are used in special purpose paints for industry use, but in paints for homes of America.

IMMIGRATION RESTRICTIONS

This country's immigration restrictions are causing resentment among the allies of the United States and weaken neighborhood should be strong, according to Dean Acheson, former Secretary of State.
