Crowell Wildcat Football Team Shows Big Improvement in Electra Scrimmage

The Crowell High School football team showed much improvement last Thursday night when they scrimmaged the Electra High school eleven here. The Crowell boys ran six touchdowns over to the Tigers' one. However, Electra has a very weak team this year for a class AA school.

The improvement of the downfield blocking was what made the Crowell coaches happy. Crowell's line, made up of C. T. McDaniel, Edward Howard and Ray Thomson, guards; Harvey Smith at center; Lindell McBeath, Dale Rettig, Jerry Pittillo and James Doyal, tackles; Dwayne Boren, Louis Rettig and Floyd Bice, ends, showed 100 per cent improvement in both their blocking and tackling assignments over the week before at Floydada.

The ball carrying was led by fullback Ray Gibson and halfback Jimmy Thaxton. However, Princess Gidney at quarterback, and Roy Don Payne, Billy Eversen and Melvin Washburn, at halfbacks, also looked pretty good in this department.

Freshmen who made the best showing were: David Carpenter, end; Charles Todd, guard; and Gerald Bradford, Jerry Clifford and Henry Paske, backs.

To Scrimmage Seymour

The Wildcats do not have a game this week but will travel down to Seymour for another scrimmage with the 2A Panthers. The opening game will be at Memphis on Friday night of next week. Coach Thayne Amonett states that he is expecting as strong competition with the Cyclones this year as last when Crowell won the game by a one touchdown margin in the last ten seconds of the contest.

Two Games Here Monday

There will be two games here Monday night starting at 6:30 p. m. The grade school will play Munday's grade school team, and the "B" teams of these schools will scrimmage at 8 o'clock. There will be a small admission charge to help buy some new equipment for the grade school team.

81st Annual Reunion of Henry Baker Descendants Held Labor Day Week End at Wesley Park Near Margaret

An estimated crowd of over 100 gathered at the Wesley Park near Margaret Saturday, Sunday and Monday, for the 81st annual reunion of the descendants of Henry Baker, together with their relatives and friends of Foard County, in addition to others from the states of California, Alabama, New Mexico, Texas and Michigan, many of whom had never attended the reunion before.

Many improvements have been made on the equipment and grounds since last year by members of the clan who would spend the week ends working at the park.

The direct descendants of Henry Baker consists of members of the T. A. Ross and William Taylor families, pioneer residents of the Margaret community. Mrs. Ross before her marriage was Miss Lizzie Baker and Mrs. Taylor was Miss Janie Baker before her marriage.

The oldest member of the Taylor family present was Mrs. John Mahoney, 80, of Quannah. Next was her brother, Sam Taylor, 78, of El Reno, Okla.

The oldest member of the Ross family is Mrs. M. O'Connell of Crowell, who is 74. The youngest member present was Daryl Halenack, 10-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Halenack, whose grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ross.

The couple who had been married the longest time was Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Grimm of Oklahoma City, who celebrated their 55th anniversary in August, and the couple who had been married the shortest length of time was Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brooks of Dallas, who had been married less than a year.

Morning worship services were held Sunday morning with Rev. T. M. Johnston of Abilene bringing the message. At this service all of the babies were baptized.

Thomas Ross of Olton was elected president, Mrs. John Wesley of Iowa Park was elected secretary-treasurer and J. D. Mahoney of Dallas, program chairman.

Light Rain Falls Saturday Afternoon

A light shower fell in Crowell Saturday afternoon which measured .13 of an inch by the Government gauge at the Crowell State Bank. However, the rain was heavier in some parts of the county and considerable damage was done by hail in the south portion of the county and the Good Creek community. The damage was done to crops and roofs of houses.

RESCUE FOR THE RECORDS

— Evangelos Drizinakis, 22, rescued from the burning British freighter Argobeam, holds the 24 phonograph records he saved when he and 29 crewmen of the stricken freighter were rescued by the Swedish American liner Kungsholm. Drizinakis, an apprentice engineer, was the only crewman of the burning vessel to escape with his personal belongings. He took his jazz and classical records when he jumped overboard to be picked up by a lifeboat from the Kungsholm. The captain and first mate, who remained aboard, were later forced to abandon the damaged freighter. Drizinakis is of British-Greek ancestry.

ROTARY CLUB

Visitors at the Wednesday noon luncheon of the Rotary Club of Crowell were Rotarian George Mainard of Vernon, Rotarians Dow Waggoner and Vance Favors of Quannah, and student guest, Wayne Boren and Floyd Bice.

The program in charge of Joe Burkett was an interesting talk on International Service by Grady Halbert.

4,100 Children Killed in Traffic Accidents in U. S. Last Year

"A total of 4,100 children under 15 years of age were killed in the United States in traffic accidents last year," E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, Inc., said this week.

"This slaughter of our children," said Mr. McFadden, "is the tragic and needless waste of life and is ample reason for the present nationwide child safety program."

"But the number of deaths is only part of the total picture," he said. "In addition we have the vast number of children who are injured in traffic accidents each year—215,000 of them in 1954, according to National Safety Council figures."

"There are multiple factors involved in the cause of accidents, some of which we as yet know very little about. Hence there is no single easy remedy for the situation. Our only hope is to attack the problem of child traffic accidents on all fronts," he said.

"All of us are involved in one way or another in the cause and in the cure of our traffic ills. The purpose of our safety program is to get this message across to everyone in this community, for it is only through the concerted efforts of each and every man, woman, and child that we can solve the problem of child safety on our streets and highways."

"It is widely recognized that safety training must begin in the home in the formative years of the child's life. Yet many parents seem unaware of the importance of this phase of the child's education or their responsibility for

Home Demonstration Notes

MRS. MARY D. BROWN

As you know I attended a of work meeting in Wichita last week. The clubs chose Home Economics as their two main demonstrations next year, so I met with Miss Sadie Hatfield, specialist in Homestead Improvement and Mrs. Eula J. Newman, specialist in Home Management, at next year's programs.

I think you will enjoy the two programs very much and sure we will all learn a great deal.

Our recipe this week is:

Uncooked Tomato Relish
25 ripe tomatoes, 4 green peppers, 4 onions, 2 tablespoons 1 tablespoon celery seed, 2 cider vinegar, 1 tablespoon mustard seed, 1 teaspoon clove 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup sugar.

Chop tomatoes and let until free from juice. Chop and peppers finely. Mix all ingredients. Pour into clean sterilized jars and seal without lizing.

WELL IN FEEDLOTS
Texas cattle do well in feedlots as farmers convert their roughage into beef with the indication of the favor in Texas ranges. Texas cattle are held by the Warren Montfort feed operation near Greeley, Colo. last year shipped 108 cars of steers from the Dalhart area and later took delivery on large shipments from the Fort Worth and Wichita Falls areas. He shows a preference for the steers which are brought to feedlot shape on the good strong grasses in the area near Cresson south of Fort Worth.

New Hampshire was the first state to declare its independence from Great Britain.

No matter how hot it gets this summer, temperature inside Texas Longhorn Cavern, near Burnet, will remain at a comfortable 64 degrees. The cave is perfectly insulated by thick rock layers which keep it cool in the summer and warm in the winter.

Austin, Tex.—Many Texas public schools are holding integration plans in abeyance pending action by the State Supreme Court.
But there is no indication the high court will rush to consider the Big Spring test case ahead of its normal schedule.
District court there ruled invalid that part of Texas law which requires public schools to be segregated. Appeal is being made by the Texas Citizens Council in an effort to prevent payment of state money to non-segregated schools.
Both sides had expressed hope for an early decision before the Supreme Court's October term.
Meanwhile, towns such as Waco and Laredo, which had planned to begin desegregation this fall, backed off rather than take a "legal risk." Others, like San Antonio, decided to go ahead, but reserved the right to review the policy in the light of new state-level decisions.
Charter Request Studied
Application of the anti-integration Texas Citizens Council for a state charter bumped into a delay in the Secretary of State's office.
Sec. of State A. M. Muldrow, questioned whether the council's organization is for a "lawful purpose" in view of the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation.
Muldrow said he might ask the attorney general's department for a ruling.
White Distrusts Red Visitors
State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White took a dim view of the visiting Russian farm delegation.
Farming methods are America's greatest strength, White said, but Russia's weakest. "We might as well sell them guns," he declared.
In Washington, officials were undecided whether the Texans who sold some 65 head of Santa Gertrudis cattle to the visitors would be allowed to export them to Russia.
Touring Soviets expressed a desire to buy farm machinery seen in other parts of the country, but the Texas cattle deal was the only actual purchase. At present there is only a trickle of trade between the two countries.
State, Commerce and Foreign Agriculture officials pondered the decision, suggested that public opinion would be a strong factor.
Record Employment Expected
Harvest and reopening of schools are expected to bring Texas new employment records during September.
Public school cafeteria workers will add thousands to the payrolls, said the Texas Employment Commission. A continued rise is forecast through the fall.
A new high in the average paycheck was hit in July, according to TEC. Holiday overtime plus wage increases brought the boost.
Druggists Receive Vaccine
Texas druggists are having their first experience in dispensing Salk polio vaccine.
State Health Department officials reported 50,000 doses sent to Texas last week by Wyeth Laboratories of Pennsylvania. Of these, 42,000 go to drug stores, 8,000 to the Health Department for public agencies.
Some stores had already received vaccine; others were still awaiting their shipments.
Patients have been asked to contact their doctors who will buy through the retail outlets.
Texas free immunization program for first and second grade school children is expected to be completed by Oct. 1. Eli Lilly Company of Indiana sent 144,603 more shots to Texas for that purpose.
Health Department statistics showed polio coming to its seasonal slackening-off period. Only 80 new cases were reported last week compared to 98 the week before. Total for the year is now 1195.
Business Peak Passed
Texas business expansion has apparently passed a peak, but no severe decline is expected.
Crest of the current rise was in March, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported. In July the business index dropped two per cent from June.
Three factors, the UT economists believe, bar the possibility of a major recession. They are population growth, the rising standard of living and the high proportion of new investments being made in Texas.
Retail sales, already at record levels, are expected to soar further, making this the largest sales year.
Building boomed also, with a January-July total almost one-third greater than for 1954. A two per cent drop in construction during July was considered "seasonal."
Parr Trial Postponed
Trial site of George Parr on charges of income tax evasion awaits action by the US Supreme Court.
South Texas Political Boss Parr last week won an indefinite postponement of the case scheduled to begin Sept. 6 in federal district court in Austin.

than in Austin, Parr seeks to have the case moved to the southern federal district. He was originally indicted in Houston on charges of failing to pay some $85,000 in income taxes. This indictment was dismissed and an identical one entered in Austin.
Appealed by Parr, the change was upheld by Circuit Court in New Orleans. A continuance was granted in Austin when Parr's attorneys filed appeals in the Supreme Court.

CAR CRASHES IN CEMETERY
Cambridge, Md. — An automobile carrying six people hurtled off the highway and overturned in a cemetery. Two of the occupants of the car died, one of them from being thrown against a tombstone. Another occupant suffered a broken leg and bruises and three others were uninjured.
Samuel Butler wrote "The souls of women are so small, that some believe they've none at all."

Burns Calls U. S. Consumer "Unsung Hero" of Economy
The American consumer is "the best credit risk in the world," according to Arthur E. Burns, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.
The consumer, according to Dr. Burns, is "the unsung hero of our economy." Not so long ago, he said, there was widespread prejudice against the use of consumer credit to buy furniture and automobiles, but now "our most conservative financial institutions have come to recognize that lending to consumers is often sounder than lending to business."
A "small number of enterprising businessmen," Dr. Burns said, led the way in demonstrating the basic soundness of credit granted to American consumers, and later the bankers and others learned that consumer credit "could be every bit as sound as commercial credit."
Credit Aids Entire Economy
"Credit is not merely a device for redistributing over time a fixed amount of dollar spending. It also serves to increase the total amount of spending for consumer durable goods. The economic horizons of businessmen would be very much narrower if we did not have lending agencies or systematic lending procedure. . . . By and large, the growth of debt and the growth of our economy have moved hand in hand," the economist said.

Firearms Safety Program Pushed
Increased emphasis on hunting safety is counted on to reduce gun accidents during the coming fall wildlife harvest, according to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.
He said the safety program is expected to counteract the trend, which first became unusually marked last year, whereby more children and women folks are taking up hunting as a sport.
Upwards of twenty Texans died last year in assorted hunting accidents. At least seventeen died from gunshot wounds. Ten of these fatalities involved teen agers and nine youngsters were killed outright. All of the juveniles affected were fourteen years of age or under. At least a score more children were shot.
Mr. Dodgen said the tragic season prompted widespread interest in safety programs by organized groups such as sportsmen's club which stimulates hope for fewer tragedies.

He did point out, however, that one of the first two hunting fatalities reported this summer involved a twelve year old Bandera boy who accidentally shot a hunting companion of about the same age while they were hunting squirrels with a .22 rifle. The other tragedy occurred when a Jasper woman was shot by her husband whose gun was discharged as he took it from the car. They were squirrel hunting.
"The interest of youngsters in hunting is a natural one," said Mr. Dodgen. "It is a good outlet for their energy. But we must guide them in safe handling of firearms and teach them above all that a loaded gun is potentially a lethal weapon."
He said a comparatively new hazard might prevail this fall in the increased interest in high-power shotgun shells and cautioned hunters to make certain, through a skilled locksmith, that their guns are adequate to handle the bigger loads.

CARD OF THANKS
Because of its inferior milling or baking qualities, bluejacket wheat has been added by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to the previously announced list of undesirable wheat varieties. This brings to 24 the varieties designated for a 20 cents per bushel discount in 1956 wheat price support rates, says Joe Burkett, county agent. Other wheat included in these 24 varieties which are grown in Texas are Early Black-hull, Red Chief, Red Jacket, Kan-king, Chiefkan, New Chief and Yogo.

FRENCH MOROCCO RIOTS CONTINUE — French Foreign Legionnaires and native soldiers keep armed watch from a rooftop post in Casablanca, French Morocco, as Moroccan youths bury some of those killed in the Nationalist rioting. Note the open box of grenades in the foreground. The bloody outbreaks in North Africa are reported to have taken a toll of 1,200 lives. French Premier Edgar Faure told reporters that "we are making progress" after a meeting with leaders of the strongest nationalist faction of Morocco, the Independence Party.

Bluejacket Added to Undesirable Wheat Variety List

The USDA announcement said the variety was added to the list as a result of strong recommendations from state agricultural leaders. It is in the Hard Red Winter Class and is grown in Texas and 12 other states. The 20 cent per bushel discount is designed to discourage the planting of the 24 varieties, and thus lessen the possibility of U. S. wheat of inferior quality finding its way into domestic and export channels. The 24 varieties listed as undesirable accounted for an estimated 45 million bushels of 1954 production or about 5 per cent of the 1954 acreage. USDA officials said that because of the nearness of the plant-

Buddy Lewis Rader left Sunday morning for Sacramento, Calif., to enter Sacramento Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Haney are in Kansas City, Mo., visiting their daughter, Mrs. Ronald Baehr, and husband.

Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Latimer and Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Latimer Jr. visited her brother, R. C. Johnson, and family Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Priest and children of Fort Worth spent a few days last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Priest and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Johnson.

Mrs. Maye Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Welch of Vernon spent Sunday with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. King.

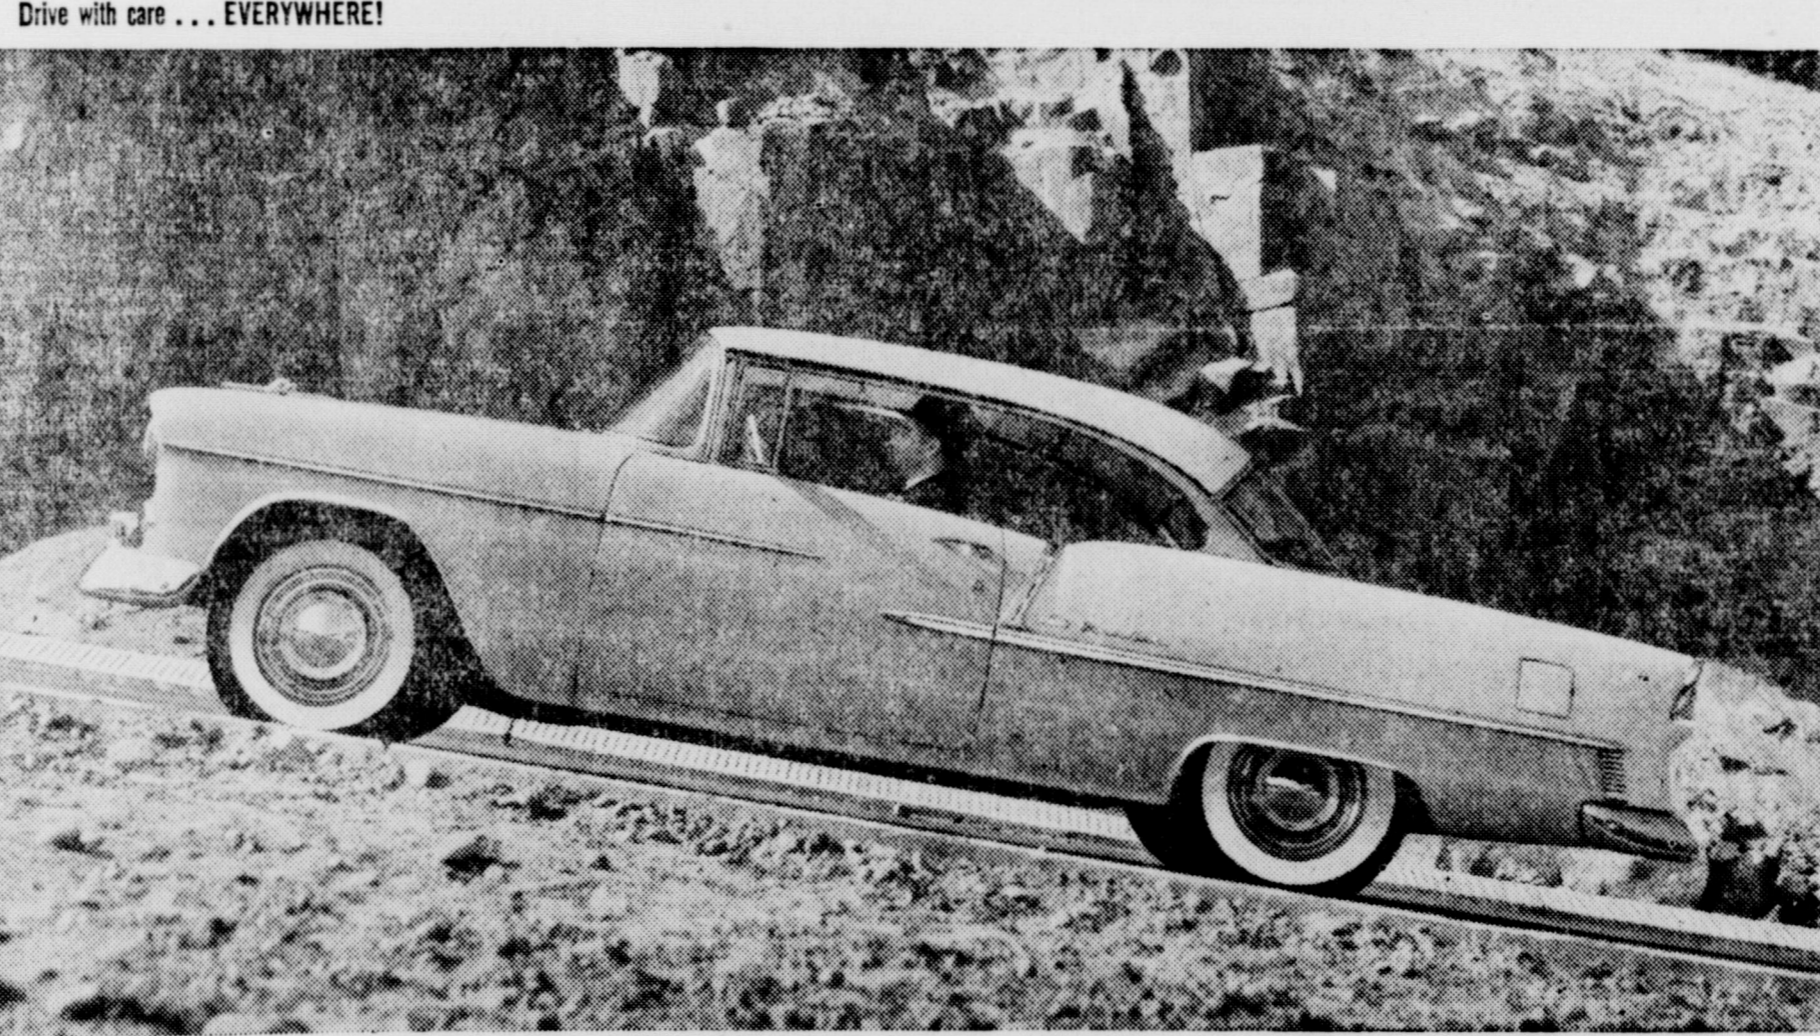

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thompson and sons, and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Voegelé, and two children of Tulsa, Okla., spent from Friday until Monday here with Mr. and Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Johnson.

Mrs. S. E. Tate, Ed Manard and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Manard and son, Mike, visited a sister-in-law of Mrs. Tate's and the men's aunt, Mrs. S. A. Carter, in Willow, Okla., Sunday. They were met there by another sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Spurst, of Oklahoma City and a brother-in-law, J. W. Tate, from Henryetta, Okla., for a reunion.

CARD OF THANKS
With deep appreciation we wish to express our sincere and grateful thanks to our friends who sent flowers, cards, letters, food and each visit to our home, the kind words of sympathy, the prayers and many kind deeds extended to us at this time of sorrow. We especially want to thank Dr. Kralicke, Bro. Aly and Bro. Adeock for their personal ministry at this time, which meant so much to our family and which will always linger with us.

How To Be At Home With The World

By WILLIAM PARKER McFADDEN
Prominent Interior Decorator and World Traveler

"Souvenir hunting" can be one of the most rewarding—or one of the most wasteful—features of any trip, whether it's 100 or 10,000 miles from home. The ultimate value of any souvenir you acquire depends on "selective buying"—the purchase of good items which can be worked into your everyday pattern of living. One of the chief objections to souvenirs—which can mean any object acquired as a reminder or memento—is that people store them in boxes in the backs of drawers. Consequently, they are never reminded of anything, unless it's the presence of a lot of "junk" when they start cleaning out those drawers. "Selective souvenir hunting" was the objective on a three-month trip around the world to acquire furnishings and art objects for a series of model homes being decorated by McFadden Associates at the 1955 State Fair of Texas. Articles were brought back to Dallas from Japan, India, Finland, Mexico, Denmark, Hong Kong, Siam, Burma, Spain, Morocco, Java, Bali, Lebanon, Syria and Italy. The various items as used in the State Fair rooms will illustrate how you can be "at home with the world" in Dallas, Texas. One very inexpensive thing used very effectively was a collection of coins from all of these countries. Instead of burying the coins in a closet, we have had them embedded in black plastic trays which form the top of a long coffee table. In this way the trays and coins are in constant use—thus fitting them into a daily living pattern. The same thing could be done with tiles, or with any number of items people usually buy when they are traveling. Another example is a ceremonial wash basin from Japan. Something like this makes a wonderful conversation piece when used as a salad bowl or centerpiece filled with colorful fruits. Everyone can enjoy it in use, whereas no one would enjoy it as a "museum display piece." This is just as true of items you can purchase on a trip to El Paso or Galveston as to Japan or Africa. The model rooms at the State Fair will be in connection with the new International Center, devoted to exhibits by nine foreign countries. The Center is located in the General Exhibits Building.

Essential to a Free Society

"The free financial market, combining the judgments of industry, underwriters and investors, is the only known way of allocating resources so that successes can be noted and continued, failures recognized and punished." That statement appears in a new book by Martin Mayer, called "Wall Street: Men and Money."

In a favorable review of this week, in The Freeman magazine, John Chamberlain also makes some noteworthy observations. The stock exchange, he writes, is "a place that registers the impact of decisions made elsewhere, whether in Washington, in Vienna, in the board room of a Chicago corporation, or in a professor's study in a university." He also says that if for some reason

Wall Street were abolished, "some one would have to invent it all over again the very next day if we were to continue as a free society."

Ideas such as these should go a long way toward getting rid of confusions concerning the financial community that still exist in the minds of many people. Some think that the stock exchange, for instance, in some fashion fixes the prices at which the stocks are bought and sold. That is simply not so. The exchange is a market place, basically comparable to an auction mart, and the prices are the result of the individual judgments of prospective buyers and sellers. These judgments change from day to day as circumstances change—which explains why the prices of stocks fall on occasion and rise on other occasions.

The most important fact is that the stock exchange and the allied financial institutions are an absolutely essential part of a free society. They make possible the free and voluntary investment of money in the enterprises that create employment and opportunity, and produce the goods and services we all use. The alternative would be investment and ownership by government with the private citizen contributing the necessary capital under the compulsion of taxation or confiscation—which is the basis of communism and all other tyrannical systems.

COLISEUM FOR LUBBOCK

Lubbock—A coliseum is being built by the City of Lubbock on the Texas Tech campus.

When completed, probably in February, the coliseum will seat up to 10,000 persons at Red Raider basketball games.

RED CROSS OPERATIONS

The American Red Cross conducted 318 disaster relief operations last year in 47 states and territories, and gave emergency mass care to 62,000 persons and assisted 7,100 families with individual financial aid.

4,000 Fires a Year Strike U. S. Schools

School buildings, already jammed to overflowing in many parts of the country, take an added beating every year from the 4,000 fires which annually destroy educational facilities and, in many cases, render buildings unusable. Worse still is the tragic loss of life which results from fires such as one which last year took the lives of 15 sixth-graders.

With the Fall term now only a short time away, the National Board of Fire Underwriters urges that school authorities take immediate steps to guard against school fires.

School fire safety, the Board points out in a recently published pamphlet, requires a proper combination of building construction, fire extinguishing facilities, means for guarding against fire hazards, and regular exit drills. Above all, it requires continuing administrative attention to maintenance of all these features.

Monthly inspections of every school building should be made by the custodian and a member of the faculty, using an inspection blank such as the one issued by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, approved and adopted by the National Association of Public School Business Officials and endorsed by the International Association of Fire Chiefs. Each quarter, a member of the fire department should accompany the inspectors on their rounds. The blank, properly filled out, should be filed with the board of education or school commissioners.

Black Isn't White

The cancellation of the Dixon-Yates contract, under which private enterprise was to build a $106,000,000 plant to feed electric power into the TVA system which in turn would transmit it to an Atomic Energy Commission installation, has been hailed as a victory for the socialized power cause. The President cancelled the contract for the reason that the city of Memphis, now a TVA customer, decided to build a $100,000,000 municipal plant of its own and, as a result, TVA wouldn't need the Dixon-Yates production.

The ballyhoo, obviously, marks an attempt to make political capital of what has happened. It certainly has small basis in fact. The President's position was and is that federal power systems, such as TVA, should not be enlarged with the money of all the taxpayers when local groups can meet local needs. If Memphis wishes to go deep into debt to build a power plant, that is the business of Memphis citizens.

The Wall Street Journal expressed a view widely held in informed and reasonable circles when it said, "Memphis will build its own power plant and no longer will taxpayers from all over the nation pay to supply Memphis with cheaper electricity. And that was a defeat for those who support TVA's unwarranted expansion."

It isn't likely that many people will long be fooled by the everlasting efforts of federal power groups to make white out of black and vice versa.

TORNADO RELIEF

The American Red Cross estimates it will spend $1,000,000 on emergency aid and long-term rehabilitation assistance to the hundreds of families affected by the tornadoes which struck Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Texas in late May.

There are more than two thousand oil wells within the limits of Oklahoma City or close by.

Texan of Distinction

Bill Cunningham—prominent journalist, news commentator and author—has been selected to receive the fourth annual "Texan of Distinction" award of the State Fair of Texas. Dean of American sports columnists, Cunningham was born in Pattonville, near Paris, Texas, and now lives in Boston, Mass.

The Key Word Is "Prompt"

Railroad management and the railroad labor unions have differed radically on many occasions. But they see eye to eye in approving most of the legislative proposals made by President Eisenhower's Cabinet Committee on Transport Policy and Organization.

These proposals for changes in existing regulatory laws and policies are based on the fact that the railroads no longer have anything resembling a transportation monopoly, and that transportation has become one of the most competitive of enterprises.

A short time ago men representing the 22 standard railway labor organizations and the Association of American Railroads issued a joint statement, which said: "This nation needs and must

Safety Precautions Outlined to Control Outdoor Fires

The smell of smoke in the air is a traditional Fall aroma which many of us relish. Fire authorities, however, recognize it as the symbol of one of the season's greatest dangers: outdoor fires.

Whether they are lighted for picnickers' pleasure, hunters' needs or householders' chores—whether they are built in the forest, in an open field or in your own back yard—outdoor fires have one thing in common: the threat of spreading out of control.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters suggests these safety rules to lessen the danger:

1. Burn only in areas where fires are permitted. This means respecting posted woodland areas where fires are prohibited. It also means checking to see whether your town prohibits trash and leaf fires, or requires you to get a permit to burn from city officials.
2. Never start an outdoor fire on a windy day.
3. Clear a 3-foot strip around the place where you wish to burn.

have a strong and healthy common-carrier transportation system.

"This can be achieved only through the establishment of a public policy which will give all forms of transportation an equal opportunity to compete for available traffic.

"Under such modernized policy, not only will the various forms of transportation be able to do the job for which they are best suited, but the public also will benefit from better transportation service at lower cost.

"Consequently, the railroads and their employees will support the principal aims of the legislation and will work together to bring about a public understanding of the great need for prompt enactment of remedial measures."

The key word there is "prompt." There should be the least possible loss of time in making transportation policy conform to the conditions of the present instead of to conditions that passed away many long years ago.

Remove all grass or underbrush; get down to mineral earth.

4. If the fire is in your yard, hook up your garden hose for use in case of emergency.

5. Use a wire-mesh basket or a metal container, with a cover, to burn trash or leaves.

6. Don't start a fire near a building, a fence, or overhanging branches.

7. Keep children away from open fires unless someone supervises them.

8. Never leave your fire unattended until you are sure it is dead out. Sprinkle it with water, stir it into the earth and dampen it again. The area should be cool enough to test with your bare hands before you leave it.

Built-In Cook Service!

A publication of the American Meat Institute observes: "Price spreads—the difference between what the farmer gets and what the consumer pays for food items—have been steadily widening and for good reason."

The "good reason" in this case has various facets. Labor costs, direct and indirect, make up about 75 per cent of total marketing costs in the food business. These have risen substantially, and so over a period of years, have other such unavoidable operating costs as packaging, transportation, taxes, rents and so on. On top of that, one of the big and relatively new factors in the farm-retail price spread situation is found in consumer demand for foods in a form that will save labor and time in the home. As the Institute's publication puts it, "The housewife, buying more ready-to-serve, ready-to-cook and ready-to-mix foods, actually is getting what amounts to a "built-in cook service." Processing of character costs money—and the consumer must pay the bill.

Even so, our food dollar does a good job. Despite the rise in character costs money—and the consumer must pay the bill.

Meat is a good example, being consumed daily in one form or another. According to Department of Agriculture figures, for many years, in good times and bad, the public has spent roughly the same proportion of take-home pay on meat—five to seven per cent, only exceptions are war periods when government controls other abnormal factors make comparisons impossible. We eat better than ever, and at a reasonable cost.

HOME-MADE T. V. ANTENNA

West Gray, Me.—Art Wakefield installed his own antenna and reports "perfect reception." It consists of a metal rod hanging out of a ground floor window with three wire hangers and a wire mesh big basket suspended from it.

Sir Humphrey Davy invented the miner's safety lamp in 1815.

Our Weekly Sermon
Guidance—from Above

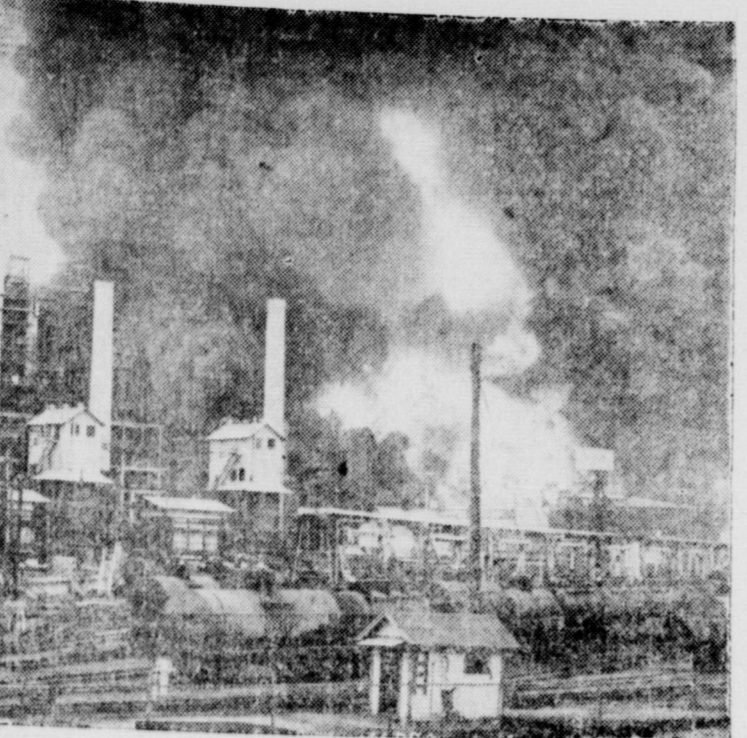

God's people sometimes wonder why things do not go as smoothly as they think they should. How often we forget that all our plans, so carefully laid and thought through, are nevertheless subject to change by Him who reigns from above!

The course of God's servants has often been changed. David Livingstone wanted to make his way to China, but God said it must be Africa. And Africa it was, where he became missionary, general, statesman and explorer. William Carey wanted to go to Polynesia, but God guided him to India to lay the cornerstone for giving a vernacular Bible to one-sixth of the people of the world. Adoniram Judson did go to India as he planned, but from there he was driven to Burma, where he built up an apostolic church for all time.

When Barnabas Shaw was forbidden to preach in Capetown, he bought a yoke of oxen and he and his wife started for the interior not knowing where they were going. They traveled this way for 300 miles. On the 27th day, encamping for the night, they discovered a company of Hottentots stopping near them, and were utterly astonished to learn from their way to Capetown to find a missionary. Had either party started half a day earlier or later they would not have met!

It is true, however, that only the life completely yielded to an all-wise God is actually conscious of divine guidance. Many times the motive for guidance is not so much a question of God's being honored as of self being uplifted. Too often it is our own concern and not God's glory that concerns us.

Divine guidance is no problem to the Christian who is willing to put himself entirely in God's hand, to be led His way, whether it is his own choice or not. God's promise to the yielded Christian is found in Psalm 32:8: "I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go; I will guide thee with mine eye."

BLAST ROCKS CITY—Flames and smoke pour from the burning tanks at the Standard Oil refinery in Whiting, Indiana, following an early morning explosion which spread destruction throughout nearby areas and caused property damage in excess of $10,000,000. The fires continued to burn for days. At least two persons are known to be dead and many more injured as a result of the blast.

Decrease in Home Fires Sign of Hope

For the second year in succession the National Board of Fire Underwriters reports fewer home fires in urban United States.

In communities of 2,500 and over, residential fires decreased 2 per cent in 1953 and again in 1954.

However, since 90 per cent of all fires are caused by carelessness, neglect and lack of understanding, this is only a small percentage of what can be done in cutting down the toll. Here is what you can do to help prevent a fire in your home:

The combination matches-smoking and misuse of electricity account for 40 per cent of all fires of known origin; therefore, home fire prevention should start at these danger spots. The following precautions will reduce the hazards of matches and smoking:

1. Keep plenty of ash trays handy—and use them!
2. Never toss a lighted match away. Blow it out, hold it a second, then put it in an ash tray.
3. Before emptying an ash tray, be sure every match and butt is dead.
4. Never use a match to light your way into a dark closet or similar space where clothing or other combustibles are kept.
5. Before going to bed, especially after entertaining, see that no butts are smoldering on tables or upholstery.
6. Keep matches and cigarette lighters where children cannot reach them.
7. Never smoke in bed!

Electrical fires are less apt to occur if you follow these rules:

1. 15 ampere fuses are the safe size for most household circuits. Never tamper with them; never use oversize fuses.
2. Don't plug too many appliances into one outlet; all will overload the circuit. If fuses blow often, call an electrician. He will inspect the wiring and put in more outlets and circuits if he thinks you need them.
3. Look for the UL label on all electric cords and appliances you buy. It means they have passed Underwriters' Laboratories tests for fire and shock safety.
4. Don't let a "home handyman" tinker with electric cords, wiring or appliances. Such work should be done only by an electrician.
5. Don't string wires over hooks or around nails, or run them under rugs where they may be walked on. Insulation will break or wear out, and a short circuit may result.

Many Types of Heart Disease Now Curable

There is hope on the horizon for the thousands of Texans who are suffering from heart disease, says Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health. Such tremendous advances have been made by medical science that some forms of heart disease, once incurable, can now be effectively remedied. Eventually, a way will be found to prevent some forms of heart disease.

Heart disease is the leading cause of death in Texas. Last year 20,211 Texans died of diseases of the heart, 31 per cent of all deaths. There are 21 known types of heart trouble, but the three major types are rheumatic heart disease, high blood pressure and coronary heart disease.

Rheumatic heart disease is the damage done to the heart valves by rheumatic fever. Rheumatic fever is a disease of children and young adults, and often follows a "strep throat" or some other streptococcal infection. Medical science has given us new and better ways of treating these infections. As a result fewer hearts are being damaged and fewer persons are dying from rheumatic fever. With modern medicine, doctors can, if given a chance, prevent rheumatic fever by curing strep infections in the early stages.

Doctors do not know all the causes of high blood pressure, or hypertension as it is sometimes called. Sometimes it is caused by kidney disease, and sometimes by hardening of the arteries, nervousness, or overactive thyroid gland, or excessive weight. If a person with high blood pressure follows his doctor's advice, he may live happily and busily to old age. To hold down his blood pressure he must watch his weight, not work too hard or play too hard, and follow closely any special instructions of his physician, as to diet and other matters.

Many people think, mistakenly, that nothing can be done for coronary heart disease, the greatest heart killer from middle age onward. It is a disease of the arteries which supply blood to the heart muscle itself. These arteries may become hard and thick, allowing less blood to get to the heart muscle to nourish it. A much more serious condition, coronary thrombosis, develops when a clot forms in a thickened artery cutting off the blood flow. With proper treatment and rest, however, a person may recover completely.

According to Dr. Holle, work in the prevention of heart disease is moving ahead on many fronts. So far, medical science has been unable to prevent high blood pressure and coronary heart trouble, but has found ways of treating their after-effects. But such treatment is allowing many persons to enjoy many years of added life.

Mrs. Johnson Feted with Snack Party

Mrs. Glyndon Johnson, a recent bride, was complimented Thursday morning with a snack party at the home of Miss Carolyn Bell. Refreshments were served from a table laid with an embroidered linen and lace cloth on which was an arrangement of pink flowers. Silver appointments adorned the table.

Those present were the honoree, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Duane Cates, Mrs. Jim Paul Norman, Misses Nell Johnson, Jean Whitty and Rebecca Calvin.

The honoree was presented with a gift of china.

W. S. C. S.

Mrs. Clint White, Mrs. W. R. Ferguson and Mrs. Percy Ferguson were joint hostesses to the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. White.

The program, with Mrs. Hines Clark as leader, was opened with a piano solo, followed by group singing. Mrs. Clark gave a verbal introduction to the national W. S. C. S. president, Mrs. F. G. Brooks. She also gave a resume of the theme and emphases of the Quinquennial. The subject for the afternoon, "Paying the Price of Christian Discipleship" dealt with displaced Koreans and Mrs. Clark told of two examples. Mrs. R. J. Thomas gave the scripture reading.

Mrs. E. R. Roland gave an inspiring devotional, basing her thoughts on II Cor. 2:8-18.

Mrs. T. B. Klepper told the story of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Beck, medical missionaries to South America.

The hostesses served a refreshing ice course to 14 members.

Newspaper Week Speakers Bureau Announced by TPA

Austin, Tex. — Plans for an "all out" observance of National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-8, have been announced by the Texas Press Association, according to TPA President Russell W. Bryant, publisher of the Italy News-Herald.

A speakers bureau of more than 50 publishers from all sections of the state has been named by the association. Speakers will be available for appearances before all types of civic and social organizations during the week. Slogan for the 1955 observance of National Newspaper Week is "Your Right to Know." TPA hopes to impress upon newspaper readers the fact that newspapers need to obtain information in order to keep the Texas public an informed public.

"Recent instances of misleading by public officials never would have been possible if the newspapermen and women of Texas had had free access to public records," Bryant said. "It has been proven again and again that the public will take action if it is armed with the information which to act."

Organizations desiring to take part in the National Newspaper Week observance may make arrangements for speakers through their local newspaper publisher or by writing direct to the Texas Press Association, 1716 San Antonio Street, Austin.

Mrs. V. W. Browning of Lubbock visited in Crowell Wednesday morning and spent Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith in Truscott.

Mrs. Bob O'Quinn and son, Melvin and Chuck, of Marlin visited Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Eason and Mrs. R. S. Haskins Tuesday and Wednesday night.
