Ginger Johnson Concludes Track Career at ACC

The following article is reprinted from a sports column, "The Double Take," by Fred Sanner, which appeared in The Abilene Reporter-News on Thursday evening, July 5. The article follows:

Unsung and almost unnoticed in the fanfare that heralded the double victory of teammate Bobby Morrow in the U. S. Olympic trials, one of ACC's finest track and field men hung up his spikes last Saturday.

Paul (Ginger) Johnson, 21-year-old junior from Crowell, will enter the Baylor Dental College at Dallas this fall and does not plan to run in the future.

Fastest Mile in ACC History

But the tow-headed middle distance man leaves one mark at ACC that may not be reached again for many moons by an ACC athlete.

When Ginger ran a 3:51.4 1,500 meters at Bakersfield, Calif., two weeks ago, he was running the equivalent of the fastest mile in ACC history.

It is customary to add 17 seconds to a runner's 1,500-meter time to arrive at which he would have run at the longer distance—the mile run.

Adding those 17 seconds to Ginger's 3:51.4 would give him 4:08.4.

With the 4-minute mile a matter of history, the mile formed are likely to sneeze at a 4:08 mile, but college coaches are not turning down boys who can run the four laps in that time.

Coach Oliver Jackson had spotted Johnson as a potential great middle distance runner but it was not until his sophomore year that Johnson tried the mile.

On April 7, 1955, Johnson ran his first mile in 4:24.1.

On June 11, 1955, he ran the fastest mile by a Texan that season with a 4:15.2 in the South Texas AAU meet.

In the Gulf Coast Conference meet this year, with no one to press him and after running the half-mile most of the year, Paul ran a 4:15 flat.

Then came his 4:08.4 at Bakersfield.

Placed in 3 National Meets

Johnson did not make the Olympic team but in four weeks in California he:

1. Placed second to Billy Tidwell of Kansas State in the NAIA 800 meters in 1:49.6, believed by Coach Jackson to be the fastest 800 meters run by a Texan this year. (If anybody knows of one better, speak now or forever yield.)

2. Placed fourth behind Arnie Sowell of Pittsburgh in 1:50.5 in the NCAA 800 meters.

3. Placed fifth behind Jemore Walters of the Southern California Striders in the NAAU 1,500 meters.

4. Placed eighth in a field of 15 in the Olympic trials. The opening pace was so fast in this race that men like Sid Wing of Southern Cal, who had placed third in the NCAA behind Ron Delaney of Ireland and Jim Bailey of Australia, and Joe Villarreal, a 24-year-old Texas Freshman, dropped out before the end.

Johnson, like Morrow, achieved much of his success because of the coaching of Jackson.

Before the Bakersfield meet we inquired of Johnson what race he would enter, the 800 or 1,500 meters.

"Whichever Coach says," replied Johnson.

Of Johnson and Morrow, Jackson remarked, "I couldn't have picked two better boys to take on an extended trip."

Johnson's obedience to Jackson's coaching was helpful in his placing in three national meets and finishing as high as he did against the nation's top 15 milers.

We remember that Johnson was running a dead last as the gun lap opened in the NAAU 1,500 meters. But Jackson had told him to run at a certain pace for the first three laps.

Johnson hit all three lap times within less than a second, then kicked home in good shape, passing all but the first four on the way.

It takes confidence, both in one's self and in one's coach, to lay back a flat last and then kick home in the top five in the National AAU meet.

Ginger has gone to Crowell now to help harvest the family wheat crop that is going to help send him to dental school this fall.

ELECT JEWIST LORD MAYOR OF DUBLIN

Robert Briscoe, a deputy in Irish Lower House and a member of the Fianna Fail party, has been elected the first Jewish Lord Mayor of Dublin. He was voted into the office by his fellow councillors. Briscoe, who announced his intention of holding office for one year only, said his election was a magnificent gesture proving that there was absolute tolerance in Catholic Ireland.

Friday, July 20, Is Date Foard County Wheat Growers will Determine How They Want to Market Their 1957 Crop

Friday, July 20, is the date when growers will determine how they want to market their 1957 wheat crop, Ray Hysinger, chairman of the Foard County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded farmers this week.

Farmers who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat as grain on a farm in 1957 are eligible to cast ballots in the wheat quota referendum. Polling places will be set up in convenient locations in the county, and wheat growers will be notified where they may vote.

A two-thirds favorable vote will mean that marketing quotas and penalties on excess wheat will be in effect for the 1957 wheat crop. Under quotas, too, price support to growers in the commercial area who comply with their wheat acreage allotments will be at the full level available—between 75 and 90 per cent of parity.

If more than one-third of the growers voting disapprove quotas, the quotas will not be in effect, and the available price support on the 1957 wheat crop to those who comply with farm wheat acreage allotments will be at a level of 50 per cent of parity.

When a marketing quota program is in effect, the excess wheat of a grower who does not comply with his farm wheat acreage allotment and who has more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain on the farm will be subject to a marketing quota penalty. This penalty will be equal to 45 per cent of the May 1, 1957, parity price for wheat.

Chairman Hysinger emphasized that the vote is on wheat marketing quotas and not wheat allotments. Whether or not the vote is favorable on the quotas, acreage allotments will be in effect for the 1957 wheat crop.

Marketing quotas have been approved by growers voting in referendums for the past three wheat crops. Last year, 77.3 per cent of the growers voting favored quotas for the 1956 crop.

Absentee Voting Began Here on Monday, July 9

Ballots have been printed for the first primary July 28, and according to the political calendar, absentee voting officially began July 8.

Persons who intend to be out of the county on the date of election should apply to the county clerk's office to vote absentee. Voting by absentee ends July 24, three days prior to the date of the first primary.

In addition to choosing candidates for the various county and state offices, voters will have a direct say at the first primary on how they feel about mixing white and Negro children in public schools; inter-marriage between Negroes and whites, and interposition.

Black Bass Jumps in Mouth of Fishermen
 Flying antics of two bass dead of night prompted Jurgens, Aquatic Biologist for the Game and Fish Commission, to suggest the black beauties may be biting better between dusk and dawn.
 He reported to the Chief Aquatic Biologist that two men fishing in Inks Lake of the Highland Lakes chain had one bass jump into their boat while another simultaneously lunged against the side of their boat.
 "This seems to be more than just another good fish story," said Jurgens who failed to find any hook or net marks on the black that landed in the boat. "Most likely these bass were madly chasing something on the surface when the incident happened."

 The bass that startled the two men (who were running a trot-line) by vaulting over the boat sides weighed four and three-quarters pounds.

Austin, Tex.—Income and expense reports of candidates show Daniel, Aikin and Wilson leading in both receipts and expenditures, in their respective fields.

U. S. Senator Price Daniel was far out in front in financial support. He listed contributions totaling $112,849.

Other gubernatorial contenders' kitties stacked up thusly: Reuben Senterfitt, $31,772; Ralph Yarborough $23,855; W. Lee O'Daniel $1,770.

Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. led in the Lt. Governor's race with $19,657 in contributions, as compared with $8,125 for Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and $6,300 for John Lee Smith.

Will Wilson was far ahead of the pack in the attorney general's race, reporting financial support totaling $21,921.

On the expenditure side of the ledger the leaders held the same positions. In the Governor's race, Daniel spent $82,474; Senterfitt $32,081; Yarborough $25,826; and O'Daniel $20,589.

Among the candidates for Lt. Governor, Aikin reported expenses of $12,244.82; Ramsey $7,003; and Smith $8,583.95.

Wilson again outdistanced his competitors in the campaign for attorney general with a total expenditure of $10,063.

SHOTS CUT POLIO — State Health Department officials believe Salk shots enabled Texans to avert a bad polio year.

Pre-season incidence of polio, they point out, was unusually high this year—224 cases as compared to 167 in 1955. But as the season progressed, immunization was stepped up. Since April 28 there have been only 269 cases compared to 375 in the same period last year.

"This would have been a major polio year," said one official. "Salk vaccine apparently is the answer to why we haven't."

FARM INCOME OFF 13 PER CENT — Texas farm income this year in 1956 has slid 13 per cent from last year.

Inadequate moisture was the major cause. Prices were off only three per cent. Therefore, most of the drop came from smaller marketings.

State officials took note of the farmers' worsening plight. Gov. Allan Shivers announced the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has approved extension of the emergency drought feed program for 64 counties.

A request for direct payments to enable drought-hit farmers to purchase hay on the open market was turned over to the state defense and disaster relief office. It came from the Texas Farm Bureau president who said the present federal program is inadequate.

John White, state agriculture commissioner, said the state's rural economy, in many areas, is in the final stages of collapse. Ghost towns are in the making in the heart of some of our richest agricultural lands, he said.

Last week's widely scattered rain brought only temporary relief to some Southwest Texas areas, reported the Agricultural Extension Service. In most sections, said the service, drought is spreading. Result: feed crops are being lost and livestock sold off in large numbers.

Protection of Farm Industry Pledged
 by John C. White

New legislation to provide greater protection for the Texas farm industry is being planned by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Commissioner White is conducting a series of conferences with farmers and agricultural industry men over the state, mapping out proposals for submission to the Texas Legislature next year.

"My purpose is to let the farmers set up their own future goals and outline their needs," White said. "The Department of Agriculture will inaugurate programs on a self-supporting basis, eliminating the need for additional tax money from the state."

A major part of Commissioner White's departmental expenses are self-provided by fees for services rendered.

"This is the only practical way to adequately cover the increased demand for new services to agriculture in the state," said White.

The Commissioner, who is seeking re-election to the top agricultural job in Texas, pointed out that activities of his department have been expanded 100 per cent since he first took office five years ago. Yet by putting the costs on a self-supporting plan, the burden of expense is kept from the shoulders of the taxpayers.

"My major concern is to improve our farmers' and ranchmen's economic outlook in these critical drought years," White added. "Our farm industry must have every opportunity to help itself pull out of the current slump."

Amarillo Daily News Pays Tribute to the Country Editor

On Saturday, June 23, while the Texas Press Association was in session in Amarillo, an editorial writer of the Amarillo Daily News paid tribute to the "Country Editor" in the following paragraphs:

"The Texas Press Association is made up largely of editors and publishers of weekly newspapers. We like the term 'community newspapers' better, because the frequency of publication isn't always important. While most community newspapers are issued weekly, some are published twice a week, and a few daily. It depends on whether the community is served directly by metropolitan papers; whether there is more than one paper in town, and other factors. But you can tell a community paper by reading it, no matter how often it comes out.

"It is concerned largely with home folks. It is not interested in what goes on in Afghanistan. It does not pretend to mastermind national political problems. It frequently passes up news of the latest Hollywood divorce.

"But it does report what is happening on Main Street. It does strive to publish information that will help the farmer and the small town merchant. It is interested in state and local politics as far as such politics affect the community. It tries to interpret events in terms of local interest.

"Most of all it reports who dies

Proper Storage and Motor Adjustments Cut Tractor Fuel Bill

Savings of 10 per cent or more in fuel bills can be made by most farm tractor operators if they give attention to proper fuel storage and fuel system adjustments, says Joe Burkett, County Agent.

Evaporation during the hot summer months takes a toll of fuel in storage. Partially filled tanks exposed to the sun may lose three to four per cent of their contents within a month. Shaded tanks lose one per cent or less. Over a period of three months unshaded tanks may lose up to 15 per cent but those in the shade only 6 per cent.

Painting storage tanks with aluminum or white paint will aid in cutting evaporation losses, says Burkett, and who is born; who is going places and who is visiting; who is making a crop and who is remodeling his store. It is a chronicle of the doings of a neighborhood, and as such it holds a unique place in American society.

"Radio and television can never take its place. Because there never was a normal human being who didn't want to know what his neighbors were doing, and to see it in print.

"We salute the publisher of the community newspaper. He is more important than his community suspects, and much more important than he, himself, realizes. Without him most communities would, indeed, be dreary places in which to live."

the agent, because the light colors reflect the sunlight. Too, he adds, a small storage tank filled every two weeks will cut the storage period and the losses from evaporation which climb with long storage.

The farm tractor which is serviced regularly and kept in top operating condition is also the most economical to operate from the standpoint of fuel consumption, says Burkett. He recommends a daily check of the air cleaner, all hose and fuel line connections and carburetor. Most of this checking can be done at a glance but in case a difference is noted in the amount of fuel consumed, then he says it's time to make a more detailed inspection for locating the trouble.

It must be remembered, points out Burkett, that approximately 40 per cent of the operating costs of a farm tractor goes for fuel. If this bill can be cut by 10 per cent or more, the difference will help cut the cost of producing a crop and take a little slack out of the price-cost squeeze.

Aikin Pledges Continuance of Farm-to-Market Program

Continuance of the farm-to-market road program in Texas to keep pace with growing needs is being stressed by State Senator A. M. Aikin Jr., of Paris in his campaign for Lieutenant Governor.

"It was my privilege several years ago to be a co-author and sponsor of a bill that set aside fifteen million dollars each year to be used exclusively in the construction and maintenance of farm-to-market roads," recalls the veteran of 19 years in the Texas Senate and four years in the House.

"I sincerely feel that this has been one of the finest programs that has been adopted, and I know you will agree that it has done and is doing a lot of good for our people."

Senator Aikin's platform includes proposals for greater improvement of the state hospital system and greater discretion for the hospital board in the matter of salaries to maintain adequate staffs; a workable water conservation program, distinct from the question of water rights, under full local control; more adequate salaries for state employees in line with the salary schedules of private industry; enactment of a strict lobby registration law "with teeth in it"; additional protective measures against unscrupulous insurance companies; enactment of the proposed constitutional amendment to the Veterans Land Program, and any additional legislation necessary to protect both the state and the veterans.

Farmers Entitled to Tax Refund on Gasoline Used on Farm

Farmers are entitled to claim a refund of the Federal tax on all gasoline bought and used for farming during the 6-month period January 1 through June 30, 1956, Joe Burkett, County Agent, reminds Foard County farmers.

Any owner, tenant, or farm operator who buys gasoline for use on a farm may file a claim, says Burkett. A farmer may also request a refund of the tax on any gasoline used on his farm by a custom operator or a neighbor in connection with cultivating the soil, or raising or harvesting a crop.

Under the law enacted April 2, 1956, the amount claimable this year is 2 cents on each gallon of gasoline purchased and used on a farm for farming purposes during the first 6 months of 1956. In future years claims will be filed for a full 12-month period from July 1 through June 30.

Claims must be filed on Internal Revenue Service Form 2240. It may be obtained from county agents or District Directors of Internal Revenue. Date for filing for this year's refund is after June 30, but not later than October 1, 1956. The law does not permit payment of claims filed late.

Refund claims must not be made for gasoline used off the farm, according to the agent, or for gasoline used for other than actual farming purposes, as described in Form 2240. This applies to gasoline used on the highway, for personal use such as mowing the lawn, or for processing, packaging, freezing, or canning operations. Sufficient records should be kept to enable the Internal Revenue Service to verify the accuracy of the refund claimed.

Vacationers May Be Taking Last Vacation Trip

Warm weather brings certain reactions in the American home. The family car gets a wash and polish job. Road maps become interesting reading. We wonder what ravages winter has done to the cottage at the lake.

It's a sobering thought that for many persons busy with happy plans for summer time travel those plans will be the last they'll ever make, because they're going to be part of the statistics that chronicle the awful traffic toll exacted on our highways.

The saddest part about highway deaths and injuries is that they don't have to happen. Common sense can prevent that terrible waste of human life.

Summer travel brings the heaviest traffic load to the open highway. With more cars in America than ever before we can expect that this summer the load will be the greatest ever.

More cars increase the probability of traffic accidents, place even more importance on common sense driving.

An appeal to common sense is the slogan, "Slow Down and Live" which has been adopted for the nationwide summer highway safety campaign sponsored by the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators, and conducted from Memorial Day thru Labor Day.

It makes sense, because dangerous speed is the primary factor in the traffic accident toll. Dangerous speed means exceeding posted limits, driving too fast for road and weather conditions, passing without caution, pressing too close to the car ahead and failing to yield the right of way—all symptoms of reckless haste that has no place on the highway.

Roads can be engineered for safety. Traffic engineers can devise the best possible systems of moving the vehicle flow swiftly, yet safely. But the final determination of whether or not an accident is going to happen rests in the mental attitude of the driver, who can well take to heart the admonition of the Texas Safety Association "Slow Down and Live" and thereby make the summer travel a source of pleasure instead of pain for himself and others.

1,404,000 Increase in Cars Forecast in State by 1965

Dallas—Texas' population of registered passenger cars will increase by more than 1,404,000 and there will be a gain of 479,000 families in the state by 1965, according to a study by the nation's largest independent automobile finance company.

George P. Buckley of Dallas, vice president in this area for Universal C. I. T. Credit Corporation, said his company's analysis of the expected growth in the state's population and in family income—without considering other important economic trends at work—points convincingly to higher levels of prosperity in the future.

Passenger car registrations by 1965, he said, should total more than 3,934,000, a 56 per cent increase over the 2,530,000 now registered.

The finance company official also forecast population gain of about 20 per cent, or more than 1,690,000 persons, by 1965. This would bring the state's population to more than 10,355,000. As for families, he foresaw a gain of 20 per cent, raising the total to more than 2,925,000 as compared with about 2,446,000 families now.

"Credit is a major force in maintaining local prosperity, particularly in view of the excellent payment record made by families in the state," he said. "Two out of every three automobiles are sold on credit. Its continued use in the sale of cars and other valuable consumer goods will continue to make for higher living standards, more convenience and greater comfort for American families."

Other encouraging factors in the automobile outlook, he said, are the rapid growth in two-car families, accelerated by the trend to suburban living; the sound record for credit repayment established by families purchasing cars; continued high levels of employment, income and savings, and more aggressive selling by automobile manufacturers and dealers.

Modernization of highway streets, including relief of congestion and provision for parking facilities, the finance company official added, are vital considerations in view of the rapid growth in auto registrations.

LITTLE DROPS OF OIL, LITTLE GRAINS OF SAND

Every day, science offers new proof that "there is no new under the sun." One of the most spectacular of today's developments can be traced to old familiar things—like amazing new materials called composites. They are merely the earth's oldest minerals, composites and rearranged by technical know-how into an entirely new and versatile family of chemicals. The remarkable water repellent properties of silicones make them particularly adaptable to tile, masonry, glass, cosmetics, ceramics industries.

De-Inking Process Will Help Solve Newsprint Shortage

A University of Texas student and a former student have helped solve the critical newsprint shortage, according to the University of Texas News Bureau.

The method of de-inking paper was developed by De-man Haekerman, chemistry department chairman, and V. J. Krodol, now employed Los Angeles, Calif., chemical company.

The new process is both economical and efficient. The average well below the cost of new paper, the chemists say, processing would be done at mills.

The resulting product is in color, brightness and texture to original pulp, and can be used in making more newsprint or other cellulose products.

Missouri and Tennessee are bordered by eight other states.

I wish that every citizen of Foard County could know Price Daniel as I know him. I have been very personally acquainted with Price for the last fourteen years. I have known him as state representative, also as speaker of the house in 1943 and 1944. I will remember in World War II, when he was exempt from the draft on account of being speaker of the house, but he did not take advantage of the exemption, but went down and volunteered as a private when he could have gone in with the rank of lieutenant. I will remember what he said when asked why he did not take the lieutenant's rank. He said that no Texas boy could ever say that Price Daniel took the advantage of him.

I have known Price Daniel for the six years that he was attorney general of Texas, prosecuting the biggest trust companies of America and how he fought with the Supreme Court of the United States for the Texas Tidelands for the School Fund of Texas.

I have known Price Daniel the four years as our United States Senator. How as a Junior Senator that he gained the respect of the entire United States, how he completely startled both Houses of Congress with his sincere and brilliant presentation of the tidelands and how he convinced both Houses of Congress as well as the Supreme Court, that the tidelands rightfully belonged to the school fund of Texas, and how the tidelands since that date have paid our school funds over FIFTY-EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS to this date.

I sincerely and honestly believe that Price Daniel is the greatest Christian Statesman that I have ever known. I believe that he is qualified to make the best Governor that Texas has ever had. I sincerely believe that if elected he will make the greatest Governor in Texas history.

To elect Price Daniel will STOP all talk of crooked government in Texas. To elect Price Daniel Governor will restore complete confidence in State Government.

Price Daniel is not a politician, but a Christian Statesman. He will not tell you or promise you anything that he cannot and will not carry out.

Price Daniel is the man that said in his opening campaign talk, That I had rather be Governor of Texas than to be President of the United States of America.

Price Daniel loves Texas. He wants to rear his children in Texas. He wants them to go to Texas schools, to grow up in Texas and to marry Texans. Price Daniel is truly a Great Texan. He will make Texas a Great Governor. Let's go to the polls on July 28 and elect a great statesman Governor of Texas.

what an exquisite thing this is! Who made it? Without looking up from his book Newton answered, "Nobody."

Quickly turning to Newton the infidel said, "Evidently you did not understand my question. I asked who made this thing."

Looking up now, Newton solemnly assured him that nobody made it, but that the aggregation of matter so much admired just happened to assume the form it was in.

The astonished infidel replied with some heat, "You must think I'm a fool. Of course somebody made it, and he is a genius, and I'd like to know who he is."

Laying his book aside, Newton arose and laying a hand on his friend's shoulder he said, "This thing is but a puny imitation of a much grander system whose laws you know, and I am not able to convince you that this mere toy is without a designer and maker; yet you profess to believe that the great original from which the design is taken has come into being without either designer or maker. Now tell me, by what sort of reasoning do you reach such an incongruous conclusion."

The infidel was at once convinced and became a firm believer that "Jehovah, He is the God" (I Kings 18:29).

Re-Election of Ramsey Serves Best Interests of State of Texas

Ben Ramsey has few of the mannerisms of the typical political retiring by nature. He is gentlemanly in the old Southern tradition. Studious by nature, he is deliberative in handling the affairs of public office.

One outstanding attribute, above all others, apparently has made Ramsey a political success. That is his ability to generate loyalty among those who work with him or know him well. From these categories come his strongest supporters.

He is one of the most experienced men now in state government. He served two terms in the Texas House of Representatives. From his native district of San Augustine, then was elected to the Texas Senate. After two terms in the Senate, he was appointed secretary of state by the late Beauford Jester and continued in the office when Allan Shivers became governor.

Ramsey resigned as secretary of state in 1950 to run for lieutenant governor. He has been re-elected each two years since. This year he is seeking re-election to a fourth term.

The principal duty of the lieutenant governor is to preside over the senate. In this capacity he wields strong influence on all legislation. Ramsey has been praised by members of the Senate for his fairness in presiding.

The Chronicle believes Ramsey's re-election as lieutenant governor is in the best interests of the state.

1957 CARS—BIG CHANGES

Get set for some real surprises in the 1957 cars. Bodies will be lower-slung and smaller wheels will give a smoother ride. More extravagant use of glass will mean thinner body posts. Car interiors will stress comfort and class and swivel seats will add luxury. Motors will be even more powerful with automatic transmissions standard equipment on even the lower-priced models. Gadgets will abound; hi-fidelity phonographs, pirt-sized radios, electric locks that secure all doors, built-in sanders for icy roads. Radical innovations, reserved for luxurious models, may include disc brakes, fuel-injection motors, and maybe air-cushion suspensions that eliminate springs.—Changing Times.

Thus the message, which Kemp picked up on Padre Island in the Gulf of Mexico while seeking marine specimens, followed roughly a westerly course. The "bottle paper" averaged 7.87 miles drift daily. It said nothing about how they were bitin'.

Tea at Truscott on Saturday Honors Former Resident

The annex of the Truscott Methodist Church was the scene of a tea in honor of Mrs. Max Derryberry on Saturday, July 9, from 3 to 5 o'clock. Mrs. Derryberry is the former Miss Carol Beth Pogue and is now a resident of Durant, Okla. Hostesses were members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Truscott Methodist Church.

Guests were received by Mrs. Lester Patton of Crowell, aunt of the honoree, and presented to Mrs. Chester Pogue, Mrs. Derryberry, and Miss Sharon Chatfield of Crowell. Miss Gena Adecock registered the guests, and Misses Margaret Bullion and Mary Ann Brown arranged and displayed the many attractive and useful gifts.

The tea table was charmingly set with silver and crystal on a cloth of white crocheted. Tall pink tapers, with streamers of pink satin ribbon, flanked the centerpiece, which was the top tier of the honoree's wedding cake, adorned with miniature bride and groom. White cake and pink punch were served. Mrs. D. S. Ellis pre-

A lovely bridal shower was given at the home of Mrs. J. S. Owens on Saturday afternoon, July 7, at the home of Mrs. Wayne Shultz honoring Mrs. Wayne Shultz of Floydada, a bride of last week. A pastel color scheme prevailed, with pink and blue predominant. The table was prettily laid with lace cloth over pink and centered with a heart-shaped container of pink roses, from which pink streamers extended bearing the words, "Betty-Wayne." Pink punch was poured by Miss Patty McGinnis and Mrs. Bledsoe and served with cookies and mints. Mrs. Dunn presided at the guest register.

Joe Ben Roberts and Mrs. Ethel Tripp Married July 7th

Mrs. Ethel D. Tripp of 3113 Sherwood Lane, Wichita Falls, and Joe Ben Roberts, also of Wichita Falls, were married Saturday, July 7, at 2 p. m. at the home of the bride with the officiating minister being Dr. Geo. B. Davis, pastor of the First Christian Church of Wichita Falls.

The ceremony was held in the den of the home with large picture windows overlooking the garden. A Roman brick fireplace served as an altar and was decorated with brass candelabra with tapers, a spray of pink carnations, pink stock and ferns.

The wedding was a quiet affair with only a few guests present, among them Mrs. Hattie Showers of Vernon, long-time friend of the Roberts family.

For her wedding the bride chose a sheath dress with scoop neck of pale blue, imported handkerchief of linen and white accessories. The maid of honor, Miss Ruby Weldon, of Wichita Falls, wore silver grey Italian silk with full skirt.

H. B. Van Emden of Wichita Falls served as best man.

The bride, a native of Rochester, N. Y., is a geologist. She holds B. S. and M. S. from Bryn Mawr and has done additional work toward a Ph.D. all in geology.

The groom, former resident of Crowell, is the son of R. J. Roberts of San Antonio, retired manager of the Cleora Smith Lumber Co. of Crowell, and his late wife. He is a graduate of the University of Texas and is employed as an architect in the office of Ray Arnold, prominent architect of Wichita Falls.

At a reception in the bride's home, which featured a silver and crystal setting, decorations of pink carnations and pink stock prevailed. Mrs. H. B. Van Emden presided at the crystal punch bowl while the two-tiered white wedding cake, decorated with pink roses, was served by Mrs. Henrietta Davidson.

The bride's traveling costume was a brown and white cotton tweed suit. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will go to the skyline route through the South to the East Coast, to the bride's original home, Rochester, N. Y. They will return to Wichita Falls where they plan to reside at 3113 Sherwood Lane.

Turkey Hen Drubs Texas Rattlesnake

A query about wildlife conflict prompted the Assistant Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission to describe a fight he once saw between a wild turkey hen and a rattlesnake. The fowl won.

Jennings, who formerly majored in white wing dove research in the Rio Grande Valley, said four years ago in April he was patrolling a country road southwest of Falgout in Brooks County about 6 p. m. when his attention was attracted to the edge of a dry lagoon.

At a distance of about sixty yards Jennings noticed the hen turkey was striking the ground rapidly with her left wing and dancing cautiously around at the same time. Then, he observed that the hen was fighting a three-foot rattler.

"The snake was not dead," wrote Jennings. "However, it was completely cowed and showed no tendency to fight when I walked up close. There is no doubt in my mind but that the hen would have killed the rattlesnake within a few minutes, by pecking at its head."

TEXAS OIL PIONEERS

G. CLINT WOOD
By Moody C. Boatright

(Editor's Note: Sketch compiled from records of Oral History of Texas Oil Pioneers, University of Texas. Persons who can contribute additional information, documents, or photographs of early oil fields should write to the Archives Collection, Box 7767, University Station, Austin, Texas.)

When G. Clint Wood died in 1952, he was said to have been the oldest oil man in Texas.

In 1891, he left Weatherford, where he was born, and went to Beaumont to work for the Beaumont Lumber Co., a firm engaged in cutting and sawing longleaf pine in Southeast Texas. His first job was stacking lumber at 10 cents an hour. He soon became shipping clerk, superintendent of the planing mill, and by 1900, superintendent of the mills. He later remarked that if a young man would do twice as much work as was expected of him, he would go up.

Wood witnessed all the early attempts to find oil around Spindletop, and knew all the people involved. Discovery would have come much sooner, he said, if there had been any drilling equipment adequate for the job. The early rotary rigs had been designed for water drilling. They had been used successfully for oil in the shallow Corsicana field, but at Spindletop the Hammill brothers

North Dakota and South Dakota were admitted to the Union on the same date, November 2, 1889.

STUMP STUMPS

San Pedro, Calif. — Deciding to get rid of an old tree stump on his front lawn, Robert Shuman buried a stick of dynamite down among its roots and touched it off. The blast knocked down a neighbor's TV aerial, punched a 6-inch hole in a neighbor's roof and dented a parked car. The stump? It's still there it was, little worse for wear.

North Dakota and South Dakota were admitted to the Union on the same date, November 2, 1889.

had to work out new techniques as they went.

This was in the days of steam power, and Wood sold slabs and sawdust from the lumber mill to fire the boilers of the drilling rigs. After the Lucas Gusher came in in January, 1901, the lumber business, like all other businesses, boomed. All mills ran at capacity but still could not satisfy the demand. Besides lumber for houses and derricks, Wood sold great quantities of three-by-eight deck lug used to line the underground storage tanks being built by the oil companies. Since there were no adequate pipeline facilities, only companies with storage could operate at a profit. At one time the Sun Oil Company bought over three million barrels of oil at 3 cents a barrel.

Although Wood was making what in those days was regarded as a big salary, he soon left the lumber company and went into the oil business, first as a drilling contractor in partnership with Walter Fondren at Sour Lake and Batson. He acquired considerable production, which he later sold to Ross Sterling, one of the organizers and first president of the Humble Company.

Wood later operated in various fields, including North and East Texas. He always remembered the first boom as the greatest and wildest. He recalled the great stacks of bags of money in the lobby of the First National Bank at Beaumont in 1901. Shipments for deposit began arriving soon after the well came in, and the clerical force got so far behind that the bank had to refuse their deposits until they were up.
