Foard County Still Holds Oil Activity Spotlight in the Wichita Falls District

Foard County continued to hold the oil activity spotlight in the North Texas (Wichita Falls) District as Panhandle Oil Corporation officially potentiated its No. 1 Effie Bell as a conglomerate discovery three miles southeast of Crowell, it was reported by Frank O. Hall, oil editor, in the Sunday Wichita Falls Daily Times.

440 Barrels Daily
Panhandle's No. 1 Bell, in Abb Luce survey, flowed 440 barrels of 35 gravity oil during a 24-hour test. Flow was through 24-64 inch choke from pay perforated at 5410-18 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 450-1.

The pay was sandfraced. No water showed during the potential test.

Perforations in three higher sections of conglomerate at 5244-54, 5304-54 and 5335-41 feet were squeezed off after water showed at those levels.

The discovery is a re-entry project. It was originally drilled in 1944 by The Texas Company as the No. 1 T. N. Bell, and abandoned at 5900 feet. Panhandle Oil washed down the hole and set 5 1/2-inch casing at 5476 feet.

Pledges for New Swimming Pool to Be Needed Soon

Work on the new swimming pool being built across the street west from the local school grounds, is progressing rapidly now, with the walls having been poured last week. During the first few weeks after the excavation work was completed, construction was hampered by wet weather.

The new pool is being built by the liberal donations and pledges of the residents of Foard County, in addition to money furnished by the City of Crowell.

Leon Speer, general chairman of the finance committee, is asking that everyone who pledged a donation during the fund-raising drive and has not as yet given the money, please do so as soon as possible in order that all the funds necessary will be available at the completion of the pool. Cards were mailed this week to those who had not yet donated, reminding them that the pool will soon be finished, and the money needed as soon as possible.

Thaten Bros. of Childress are the contractors for the $28,000 swimming pool, which will be one of the finest in this section when completed.

Telephone Workers Return to Work Last Sunday Night

Telephone operators in the local exchange of the General Telephone Co. returned to work last Sunday at midnight. Crowell's night operator who was to go on duty at 10 o'clock reported at midnight, and the remaining operators went to work Monday morning.

Workers left their switchboards last Thursday at 8:05 a. m., and entered "continuous meetings" after their contract expired July 1 and union-company negotiators made little progress on a new one. About 40 other exchanges in the five-state telephone system were affected when operators left their jobs in what union officials called a "completely unauthorized" walkout.

The Crowell exchange was operated by Miss Alma Patton, chief operator; Mrs. Hulon Monkes and Mrs. Nita June Werley, temporary operators, and D. G. Williams, who was flown here from San Angelo immediately following the walk-out.

Contract negotiations are continuing this week. The company and union are still reported to be in disagreement on several issues. The union demanded an increase in starting pay from the present 75 cents an hour to $1.25 an hour.

Forecast: Continued Cool

Commissioner
Use of "Do-It-Yourself" Medicine

A present trend to "do it yourself" results in a lot of happy results but "do it yourself" in illness is foolish and dangerous. In 1954, the Commissioner of Health, Dr. Henry A. ...

have isolated themselves as far as medical service is concerned. In fact, they persist in this ignorant or careless complacency until they become acutely ill, when at last they call for professional medical service — which frequently is too late. It is indeed too bad that so many persons deliberately raise a barrier between themselves and the family physician. Considering the situation gets personally out of hand, there are literally thousands who through delay have made it impossible for medical science to render its best service and thus were penalized by a protracted illness, a chronic disease or the premature termination of life. It follows that many people, with great profit could surrender this "do it yourself" idea and appreciate the physician for what he really is. When his abilities are more generally given an opportunity to be applied early, when his advice on living habits is sought, and when he is considered as the only person to be relied upon to conserve health and treat illness, then, and then only, will the present remarkable service that medical science stands ready to give be afforded its maximum opportunity for good.

News from the

by Congressman Frank Ikard

Hearings are now being held before the House Foreign Affairs Committee on Article 7 of the "Status of Forces Treaty," which makes American troops based in NATO nations subject to criminal procedures of the courts of the country where the troops are based. We also have a similar treaty with Japan. Under this treaty, the troops stationed in foreign countries who are parties to this treaty can be tried for any crime that they might be accused of in the courts and under the laws of that foreign country. There unquestionably should be revisions made in the treaty and this provision modified. Our military personnel serving abroad certainly must not be allowed to avoid punishment of any crime they might commit, but even more important, they are entitled and must be assured the guarantees of the type of justice which this country would provide for them and which we guarantee to all our citizens. It is absolutely wrong that this nation should require its youth to go abroad for the purpose of helping maintain freedom in the world and at the same time refuse to guarantee to these American soldiers the very freedom which they seek to preserve. Immediate action needs to be taken here in the Congress to correct this intolerable situation.

It is too early, of course, to really evaluate the work done by this session of Congress; however, as the session comes to a close, it is evident that during this session we have seen less partisanship than at any other time in recent years. Generally speaking, most issues have been presented strictly on their merit and without any effort generally to bring out what are generally considered to be strictly partisan votes. The result has been that the work of the Congress has been carried

July 24-30 National Farm Safety Week

"More accidental deaths occur in farming than in any other major industry in the nation. Texas, with its widespread farming and ranching operations, is in a position to help reduce the toll taken by such accidents," said Governor Allan Shivers in his proclamation designating the week of July 24-30 as Farm Safety Week.

Earlier, President Eisenhower had proclaimed the same period as National Farm Safety Week. He requested organizations and leaders interested in farm life to join in the continuing drive to reduce needless injuries and deaths to farm people.

The week is sponsored jointly by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture and has been observed each year since 1944. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee working with the sponsors and farm organizations and leaders of the state report much progress during the past several years. The committee has called on farm organizations and rural youth groups to assist with carrying the message on safe rural living to farm and ranch families. Four-H club members not only conduct individual demonstrations involving farm safety but compete as teams for county, district and state honors in a farm and home safety demonstration contest.

It is the hope of the Texas committee that farm families in every community will participate in activities which may be planned for their protection. The theme of the 1955 week is "Your Safety Is In Your Hands... Be Careful, Avoid Accidents."

on much smoother and with fewer of the pointless personal and partisan issues consuming as much time as they have in the past. There is no question but what the country generally has profited by this attitude.

I have a very limited number of a document containing the prayers offered by the Rev. Peter Marshall at the opening of the daily sessions of the Senate from 1947-1949. If anyone would like a copy of these prayers, I would be glad for them to drop me a note and to furnish a copy as long as my supply lasts.

By-Products Are Important

Everyone has heard the old saying that the meat packers "save all of the pig but the squeal." That is just about literally true. All manner of non-edible by-products are processed and sold. The revenue they bring to the packers helps give producers a better price for their livestock and consumers a lower price for their meat.

Any change in the by-product market situation, as a result, is an important matter. That has happened in the case of hides. Over recent years their value has sharply declined — and this has had a tremendous effect on the price packers could afford to pay for steers.

A spokesman for a packing company described what has happened. In 1910 the price of steer hides amounted to about 13 1/2 per cent of the live cost of the steer. In 1954, the hide's value was down to about three per cent of the live cost. In addition, the handling costs have gone up — labor and salt has expanded without a corresponding increase in domestic demand for leather, and this too has resulted in downward pressure on prices. The only bright spot has been an increase in the sale of hides abroad.

The spokesman then urged a three-way approach to the problem. First, is research in all phases of the hide and leather industry, directed toward improving the quality of the product and finding new uses for it. Second, is increased advertising and promotion to acquaint consumers with the superior value of leather for many uses. Third, is to modernize the methods of handling hides. This, it is hoped, would materially change the picture for the better.

Are You "Too Busy"?

Reading in Acts 17 not long ago, we were stopped by a phrase which speaks of "the chief women not a few" who were among the believers as the apostle Paul preached in Thessalonica. Presumably they were the wives or members of the families of some of the city's most prominent residents.

Where, one wonders, were the "chief men"? There is no indication that any of them were among the believers in Thessalonica at the time of Paul's first visit. Were they too occupied with the affairs of business, government, and public life to hear Paul's message? Did they, perhaps, believe it was enough to encourage the women in their families to interest themselves with such concerns?

It is striking to note today that many men of affairs, who are intelligent, alert, and energetic in other areas, somehow fail to investigate the claims of Christ and the validity of the Bible record. Thus they are robbed of the very riches which they would choose above all else if they realized their existence.

We think of a very successful businessman, an executive of some prominence, who some years ago was shocked into a thoughtful consideration of the Bible and the work of Christ. He had made the assertion that there was no historical proof that Jesus Christ had ever lived. An associate challenged the statement, and began to point to the proof he had once believed did not exist. His search for more light on the facts inevitably led him to the Scriptures and to belief in Christ. Today he is himself a witnessing Christian.

If you have been "too busy" to learn for yourself whether these things be so, then you have been "too busy." The Lord Himself said, "Search the scriptures; for in them ye have eternal life: He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see (true) life" (John 5:39; 3:36).

The Newspaper Tops the List

Alfred G. Peterson, who is president of the National Savings and Loan League, has this to say about advertising: "I feel that advertising is a very profitable investment. But we should not buy advertising blindly. We should give careful consideration both to the appeals and the media we use."

"The medium which tops the list is the medium that reaches the greatest number of people at the lowest cost. It is my opinion the newspaper is that medium. I place the newspaper at the top of the list because it reaches the local market. All of us are really conducting local businesses. We may be bound together into a national industry, but our spheres of influence are entirely local.

"The newspaper reaches precisely the people we want to reach."

Well spoken, Mr. Peterson!

Job for the States
The Chamber of Commerce of the United States finds that "states and local communities can better provide for their school needs than the federal government can."

The reason for that is that the Federal government has a back-breaking debt and is running in the red, while most of the states are well in the black. As of a comparatively recent date, the 48 states had $15,250,000,000 in cash and security holdings against less than $8,000,000,000 of outstanding debt.

It's high time that federal hand-outs to the states for schools or any other purpose were reduced — not increased. And it's beyond argument that federal fiscal problems will never be solved until there is a resurgence of the traditional American idea that local people and local government should take care of local needs.

How It Happened

Dorothy Thompson recently listed the factors that have resulted in America's gigantic production and consumption in one king-sized sentence: "Great national resources, scientific ingenuity, managerial know-how that has concentrated on mass production at high wages and low profits per unit of production insuring a high level of mass purchasing power, an internal market of continental proportions, merchandising skills that constantly stimulate new demands and foster rapid turnover, high rewards for individuals possessing outstanding managerial capacities, and government policies aimed at keeping this dynamism operating in some sort of equilibrium between inflation and deflation."

The American factory, the American farm, and the American retail outlet have no superiors on earth.

The north pole is not fixed, but moves about within a small area.

A Great Story

An association of dry goods and variety stores recently held a convention in Chicago. Its theme was: "Plan, Promote, Sell More Than Ever Before."

In a TV appearance, Secretary of Agriculture Benson said: "Retail food prices now are lower than they were two years ago."

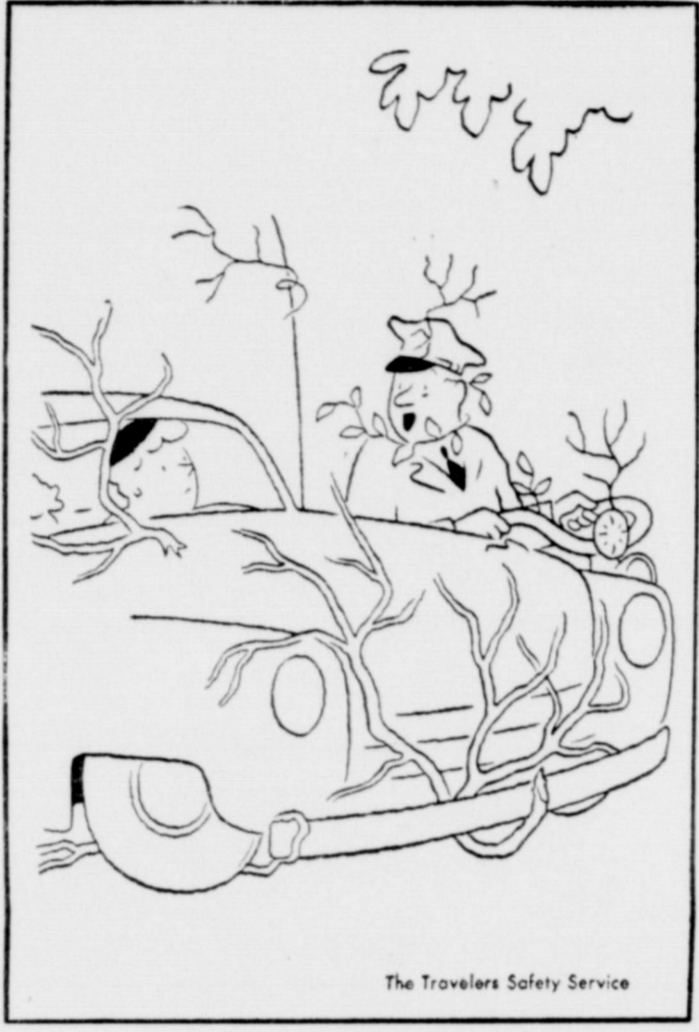

Speaking before an advertising federation, the head of a leading food manufacturing concern said: "We would be terribly remiss if we did not record the amazing jobs being performed these days by food distributors and retailers to an over-all average of even 1 1/2 per cent. They are masters of the art of fast turnover, which permits attractive prices to consumers."

These items all add up to one thing. Retailing today is about as competitive an operation as anyone can imagine. Every kind of store, from the national chains to family enterprises, is out for business. That means it is trying to offer lower prices, better service, more attractive advertising, or some other inducement to the public. And that, in turn, means that the average worker's take-home pay is buying more of just about everything — clothes, appliances, food, and so on.

American retailing has a great story to tell—and it's a story everyone can listen to to his advantage.

Spot Oiling of Johnsongrass Gives 99 Per Cent Kill

Farmers can now get rid of Johnsongrass completely without swinging a hoe, according to Joe Burkett, county agent. Spot application of diesel and naphtha-type oil sprays is proving a practical answer to row crop control of Johnsongrass. At College Station four treatments of such oils killed 99 per cent of all Johnsongrass in cotton stands in one season. Four trips over a similar field with hand hoses eliminated only 44 per cent of the grass.

Opelousas Catfish Spawn in Captivity for 3rd Time in History

The comparatively rare occurrence of a flathead or yellow catfish spawning in captivity was reported by the Chief Aquatic Biologist of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. He said the case is significant because flatheads, also known as Opelousas cats, are desirable for stocking the countless Texas farm ponds and tanks to reduce excessive populations of sunfish. Also, he added, flatheads become very large, even as much as one hundred pounds in weight, and are known for their food quality.

One day Williams noticed the male on the "nest." Later, he saw the female enter the jar and when she reappeared, the superintendent inspected the nest and found that the pair had spawned.

The little flatheads hatched and immediately distinguished themselves by their vigorous activity and by their hearty appetites. Williams said they were eating the standard menu of fine meat scraps while they had their small poke sacks visible on the outside of their bodies. All of which bodes possible good for fishing round the state.

New Game and Fish Laws to Affect Huge Area in Texas

Final tabulation shows that sixty-nine new laws affecting wildlife were passed by the recent Texas Legislature, reports Howard D. Dodgen, Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said perhaps most important were the statutes, sponsored by the areas affected, to give the Commission regulatory authority over game and fish in seventeen additional Texas counties. This raises the total of such counties to sixty-seven.

The new laws will not be effective until September but in most of the counties involved, studies already have begun toward expanding or shrinking game and fish harvest regulations by fall, depending on conditions.

der sixteen years of age to hunt and fish without a license. An Attorney General's opinion has been asked to clarify a section of this law which might permit such persons to hunt deer without an exempt license and thus excuse them from the two-tag provision affixed several years ago to clinch the two-buck per season individual limit.

One state-wide law, now affecting only areas seeking benefits of Commission regulatory authority to fix seasons and bag limits according to seasonal conditions, permits the Commission to harvest surplus wildlife on the game management areas.

Another state-wide law is designed to "put some teeth" into statutes protecting game fish against a comparatively new threat from violators. It sets a penalty for "telephoning" or using any other electricity-producing apparatus for shocking fish at a fine of $25 to $200 and provides that possession of such equipment in a boat or along a bank or shore of a river, creek, lake or bay of this state to be prima facie evidence of violation.

By PRICE DANIEL
U. S. Senator

The biggest news in Washington last week was tragic for Texas and the nation. It was the heart attack suffered by Senator Lyndon B. Johnson. I had seen Senator Johnson only the day before, when I left on a trip to Texas, and he appeared to be in good health and good spirits. The only trouble was that he was working too hard in his capacity not only as senior Senator from Texas but as majority leader of the Senate. It was a shock, although not too much of a surprise, to learn of his serious illness. Although his condition is still quite serious, we are encouraged by the possibility that his recovery may be complete enough for him to resume his Senate leadership in January.

In a recent column I mentioned the outstanding accomplishments of Senator Johnson as majority leader and the commendations which he has received from all over the nation. There is no doubt that his present condition is the result of the tremendous amount of work he has been doing both for our State and the Nation. The position of majority leader is one which involves constant efforts in resolving conflicts and seeking to reach accords among a majority of the 96 Senators whose thoughts are sometimes quite diverse. In order to properly carry forward a legislative program, it is necessary for the majority leader to be constantly alert and to bring to-

Soil Conservation News of District

Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, Lower Pease River District Board: W. C. Howard, Grady Halbert, O. T. Holmes, O. H. Brandon, H. L. Ayers.

Terracing, to reduce erosion and conserve moisture is one of the outstanding conservation practices now being carried out on many farms in the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District.

Last week Roy Sansom completed 1 1/2 miles of large ridge type terraces on his farm south of Quannah. Mrs. J. H. Williams completed approximately 2 miles of terraces on the farm she operates 7 miles southeast of Quannah. Mrs. Williams plans to do more terracing this summer. Terraces are also being constructed on the H. C. Hancock farm 10 miles south of Quannah.

This week, Soil Conservation Service technicians laid out a system of terraces on the Woods farm 1 mile south of Quannah. Woods' terraces will be constructed during the next ten days.

Terracing, contour farming, cover crops and stubble mulch are conservation practices that can be applied to much of the cropland in order to obtain more land use. More than ever, farmers are aware of the need for terraces and other soil conservation practices after the big rain of June 19.

Survey funds are provided for Lake Liberty, Port Mansfield, the San Bernard River, Buffalo Bayou, a flood control project at Ozona, Trinity Bay Soil Conservation District, Richland, Chambers and Cedar Creek, Waco Reservoir, Navarro Mills Reservoir, Guadalupe Channel to Victoria, and San Antonio River channel improvements.

Austin, Tex.—Every outward sign of courtroom confidence is being exhibited by Bascom Giles. His trial on charges of taking $6,000 from the state, in connection with a Kinney County deal, got underway July 5. Almost the entire first week was spent in selecting jurors.

More than 50 witnesses were subpoenaed by the state before the trial began, but Giles' attorneys refused to show their hands by issuing early subpoenas.

Testimony is expected to consume the greater part of two weeks.

Giles, who originated the $100,000,000 veterans' land program, and administered it until Jan. 1 of this year, appears to be as cool and confident as any man in the room.

Among those representing him is his son, Rogan. Others are former state senator Clint Small Sr., Clint Small Jr. and Polk Shelton. All are Austin attorneys.

Representing the state is Les Procter, district attorney of Travis County, and his two assistants, John Allen and Bob Smith.

Procter sought, but did not receive, funds from the legislature to hire extra staff members for the veterans' land program cases.

Representatives from the Attorney General's Office sat as spectators as the trial got underway. Procter ducked questions as to why they were not participating.

Brady land dealer B. R. Sheffield, indicted jointly with Giles, in the Kinney County deal, awaits trial after Giles. Trials are yet to come, too, in scores of other cases stemming from the sweeping inquiries into the land program, which began last November.

Parr Trial Starts Monday
A judge's attack of asthma gave South Texas political boss George Parr a breathing spell last week. But Parr faces additional difficulties in a federal income tax evasion case set for July 18 in Austin.

Parr's trial on a conspiracy charge in District Judge John R. Fuchs' court in New Braunfels was indefinitely postponed when the 69-year-old jurist was severely stricken with asthma.

Parr, along with 11 others, is under indictment for misappropriation of Benavides Independent School District funds in Duval County.

Desegregation Policy Set
It's "hands off" for the State Board of Education, in racial integration of local school districts. School districts will get their state aid money whether they are segregated or not.

Although offering the assistance of its staff in solving desegregation problems, the board made it clear that no suggestion or direction will be given as to what each school district should do to comply with the U. S. Supreme Court ruling which ended public school segregation.

UT to Open Doors
University of Texas regents took three momentous steps at their July meeting.

1. They voted immediate admission of all qualified students to all divisions of the graduate school.

2. They voted to admit Negro undergraduate students, beginning with the September, 1956, term, in the main university; and at the Texas Western College branch in El Paso this September. Admission to all other branches will be in September of 1956.

3. They also voted to set up restrictions on all admissions, based on examinations and scholastic requirements, effective in 1956.

UT regents also refused to reconsider their earlier rule which banned from the campus automobiles owned by freshmen and sophomore students.

Interscholastic League Reappraises
Texas public schools which admit Negroes will not be barred from Interscholastic League activities next year.

This ruling, made last week by the league's executive committee, resulted from a petition from the El Paso system regarding its status. El Paso plans to desegregate next fall.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Searing summer sun that scorched pastures and threatened some promising crops over much of the Southwest started the cattle and calves rolling to market this week in normal heavy seasonal numbers.

Prices on grassy cattle and calves weakened all down the line with 50 cent declines general and some sales fully $1 per hundred off.

Despite the weaker fed cattle market across the Corn Belt, the small numbers of fed steers and yearlings that arrived at Fort Worth sold steady to strong, and some supplementally fed grass steers were a bit higher. A shipment of Montague County fed grassers sold at $21.25, and several loads of their mates sold earlier had brought only $21.

Comparative prices at Fort Worth Monday: good and choice fed steers and yearlings $19-22.50; medium and plainer kinds $11-18; fat cows $10-13; canners and cutters $6-10; bulls $10-14; slaughter calves $10-19; stocker steer calves $21.50 down; steer yearlings $19.50 down; stocker cows $8-12.

Butcher hogs topped at $18.50 to $18.75 at Fort Worth Monday, a gain of 25 cents over last week's
