wheat from the burned grain elevator, although the fire is still smoldering. The salvaged grain is being loaded in Santa Fe cars to be shipped. E. B. Dore of Fort Worth is the representative for the insurance company.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Tilley Grain Elevator Monday night, Dec. 27. The elevator contained 102,000 bushels of wheat, according to information released by Oscar Tilley, owner.

The wheat that does not appear to be badly damaged by the fire is being shipped and the badly scorched grain is still on the ground.

The 4,000 bushels of oats stored in a flat warehouse of the Foard County Mill next to the burned elevator were still smoldering Wednesday.

Editorial We Should All Contribute to 1955 March of Dimes

The annual March of Dimes campaign opens this week in Foard County, and around the nation, with the expectation that there will be a great response to this annual appeal on behalf of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Funds will be used for the treatment of polio cases, and for research. A polio vaccine has been developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, and extensive tests concerning the effects of the vaccine are being carried out throughout the nation.

If the vaccine proves to be effective among the nearly two million children in 14,000 schools to whom it has been given, then nine million dollars of the 1955 March of Dimes fund will be used for the manufacture of the vaccine. This is being done so that enough vaccine will be available to vaccinate 9,000,000 persons without cost in the Spring.

It is doubly important, for the sake of the treatment of persons now suffering from polio and for continued research, that our gifts to the annual March of Dimes campaign here in Foard County reach a new high. We must continue the fight against polio. It will be done if all of us support the March of Dimes campaign this month in our county.

Library to Renew Subscriptions to Magazines This Month

"January is the month for renewing magazine subscriptions at the Foard County Library," states Mrs. Beatrice Brock, librarian. Mrs. Brock added, "Also list the magazines that you like best among those we are now receiving. Finances demand that a few be discontinued, so be sure we do not drop your favorite magazine."

Any other suggestions for improving the library will be carefully considered by the committee in charge.

March of Dimes Fund Benefits from Basketball Game and Boxing Matches Held at Gymnasium Monday Night

The 1955 March of Dimes campaign in Foard County got off to a very impressive start at the Crowell High School gym at 7:00 o'clock Monday evening when the Mothers from Thalia invaded the County Seat to best the Mothers from Crowell in a hilarious, hard-fought basketball game by a score of 19 to 14. The outcome was in doubt until the last few minutes. The Thalia ladies took a commanding lead early in the game only to have the Crowellites make a strong come-back to tie the score at 12 points each at halftime. Thalia pulled ahead again in the last half to win the game.

The ladies were not quite up to mid-season form, but they real-

Terraces and Crop Residue Helped to Keep Snow on Fields

During the past week, farmers and ranchers of this area found that their terraces and crop residue are not only valuable as a control for water and wind erosion, but are very helpful in holding snow on the fields where it is badly needed.

Soil Conservation Service technicians from the Quannah Work Unit stated that where fields were covered with crop residue, or were terraced, several inches of snow was held on the field. Where there were no residue or terraces, much of the snow was swept off the fields by strong winds and deposited along fence rows, roads, and ditches. Much of the moisture from these snow banks was lost through runoff, or was absorbed by soil where it cannot be used for crop production.

This is another example of where crop residue and terraces have paid off for farmers by the conservation of valuable water when it was greatly needed.

Amateur Program to Be Presented in High School Auditorium January 13

On Thursday evening, January 13, the various clubs of Foard County will sponsor an amateur program in the high school auditorium for the benefit of the Polio Fund.

The primary departments of both Crowell and Thalia Schools as well as the Crowell Colored School will present numbers.

Other organizations taking part in the program are as follows: The Lions Club, Rotary Club, B&P.W. Club, and clubs from the Foard City, Vivian, Margaret, River and Thalia communities. Mrs. Elmo Todd's speech class will also present a one-act play for the event.

Special musical numbers will be presented by Cecil Driver, Mrs. Bernice Sanders and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Halsell. Mrs. Cecil Carpenter is bringing a string orchestra from Vernon. Other musical numbers will be given by the students of Crowell High School.

Mrs. Marvin Myers, Mrs. Moody Bursley and Mrs. Grady Halbert will also do novelty numbers.

ly made up for that with their high enthusiasm and good natured fun. The official "water toter" with her "oxygen pump" was kept busy pumping oxygen to the exhausted players and managed to keep them going until the final whistle. The ladies really put on a good show for a good cause and raised over $300.00 at the gate for the March of Dimes. It was one of the largest crowds at the local gym in several years with every seat taken.

The game was followed by five 3-round exhibition boxing bouts. The first bout was between two of the prettiest contestants ever seen in the "squared ring" in the persons of Gail Knox and Betty Bartley. The next two bouts were between high school boys: C. T. McDaniel vs. Don Smith and Robert Kincaid vs. Lowell McKinley. The show was topped off by two bouts between some very aggressive boys from the colored school: R. B. Johnson vs. Melvin Chappel and W. C. Johnson vs. J. W. Newman. There were no knock-outs all evening, but there was really a lot of leather thrown.

Mothers to Play at Thalia

The ladies will meet in a return engagement at the Thalia School Gym on Monday night, January 17, with the proceeds again going to the March of Dimes.

Amateur Show

The Executive Committee of the Foard County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis met after the game Monday to plan the final details for the Amateur Show to be held in the high school auditorium on Thursday, January 13, with the proceeds going to the March of Dimes.

Billy Bell led in scoring for Crowell girls with 31 and 21 points respectively. Frances Kincaid scored 16 points in each contest. The other Crowell girls did an excellent job of guarding and passing the ball.

Mike Wilson scored 23 and 31 points in the boys' games. Gordon Graves made 14 and 16 points. These boys led in percentage of shots attempted. However, Crowell's passing game, led by Gerry Knox and Billy John Rader, was the best of the season in the Iowa Park contest.

RESPECT FOR LAW BEGINS AT HOME

In the latest edition of "Ladies Home Journal," Dorothy Thompson wrote an editorial on "Respect for Law Begins at Home." It was about a nine year old boy whose parents could not control him. He defied their authority by cutting up his parents' clothes, draperies and rugs with a pair of scissors. Finally, as a last resort, they carried him to a nationally known psychiatrist to find out just exactly what ailed the child. After talking to the child, the psychiatrist said, "I think I can cure him if you will do what I say, but I don't believe you will." Then he explained to them that all the boy needed was three good spankings. "And hate his father," the mother said bitterly. "Not unless you side against him, and weep over Bobby and pet and comfort him. If you stand by your husband, your son will develop a healthy respect for his old man," answered the psychiatrist.

However, some parents do not reprimand their children harshly enough to make an impression. Then, the disciplinary actions must come from some other source. Schools offer the only other means of disciplinary action after he gets away with vandalism in the home. It is better for them to learn this in the classroom at school than in the jail house or reformatory. If they are not disciplined when young, only a miracle can save them from becoming delinquent in later life.

So remember, "Respect for law begins at home," and the old quotation, "Spare the rod and save the child," is not out of date in the twentieth century.

CROWELL GIRLS STRUGGLING FOR F. H. A. HONORS

A couple of Crowell girls, Billye (McCoy) Elliott and DeAnna Ferguson, are working hard for top honors in F. H. A.

Billye at the last district FHA meeting which was held in Vernon, was chosen district sergeant-at-arms and her picture appears in the FHA paper this month.

A perfect example that "hard work receives its due" is DeAnna Ferguson. Laboring continually through her high school years (this is her second), she is slowly working her way to the top. Unlimited amounts of time and energy DeAnna has spent on FHA and homemaking work during her freshman year, but at the end of her term she had earned her Junior and Homemaking Degrees, but she did not stop there. As spring gave way to summer, the new season found this energy-packed girl beginning the huge task required to receive a State degree and office. A self-composed note book containing everything pertaining to her personal goals, contributions to homemaking and FHA work, and the state FHA program, and community work is essential because state grades are based upon this book.

Next March 5 and 6 at Stephenville, the all-important state committee will examine her sweat-stained masterpiece. Will she be victorious? We think and hope so. If she is, she will then attend the state meeting, and if we know this girl, she won't stop then.

DRAMATIC CLUB MEMBERS TO PRODUCE "A WEDDING"

To aid the March of Dimes, members of the Thespian Dramatic Club, under the direction of Mrs. Elmo Todd, will present a one-act comedy, "A Wedding," on Thursday, January 13.

The play takes place in the groom's bedroom at the country home of the bride's father. Members of the cast are: Gordon Graves as the harassed bridegroom who loses his collar button and simply cannot get married without it; Roma Jan Spikes as the bride with "soft" soaping; Franzyne Coffey as the groom's puffy footed wags; Aldon Garrett as the "obnoxious" best man; Franzyne Coffey as the groom's mother who just cannot bear to lose her "great, big, darling baby boy"; Ray Thomson as a cynical groomsman; Joe Don Brown as the father of the bride; and Betty Sue Bartley as the aunt who attempts to run the wedding.

The play was written by John Kirkpatrick and is produced by arrangement with Samuel French. This play will be part of a home-town variety program.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Everyone awoke reluctantly last Tuesday morning ready to return to the dull drudgery of another week of school; however, when we stepped into the deep blanket of snow that covered the ground the previous night, we knew our vacation was going to be prolonged.

The pigskin is put in moth balls for good now with all the bowl games over. Even our friends to the west of us are giving the gridiron a well deserved rest. Out with the football season goes the definition of an athlete—a person who doesn't care how the SMU-TCU football game comes out.

EASY TO PLEASE

Loyalty, versatility, friendliness—these are but a few of the wonderful qualities of our senior of the week—Katie Sue Polk.

Although she'd never say so, even to her best friend, Katie Sue never has a dull moment and is one of the busiest people in school.

With smiling eyes, Katie Sue sees the world through molasses colored glasses. A little mischievous at times, she likes to tell long yarns on her friends just to see their faces turn all shades of red!

She likes all kinds of books, picture shows and entertainments. She loves fried chicken or any other kind of food. She likes to pass her long afternoons by sitting and thinking of all this. The person looking for the more serious side of Katie Sue might find out where she plans to attend college. That is, if you can get that girl still longer than I can.

MISCHIEVOUS KELLY LIKES JAZZ AND HIS PLYMOUTH

Well, this year, 1955, finds him a senior at CHS. He is five feet seven inches tall, and weighs 130 pounds. He has dark brown hair, green eyes, and drives a blue Plymouth. Do you know who he is? I'll give you a hint. In his eleven years in school he has gotten into more trouble than anyone else would in a lifetime.

By looking at him you know immediately that hot rod racing is his favorite sport and that his favorite pastime is riding around in his car listening to good jazz music and discussing his favorite author, John R. Tunis.

Besides listening to that "crazy cat music," he likes to eat oysters with all the trimmings top on his list, but watching Jane Russell in her best role runs that a close second.

If you have read this article and still don't know who it is, you just don't know Buddy Kelly, do you? How could you have missed it? After graduation, Buddy's plans are indefinite, but when he decides to do, will be a quick decision and he will find out later whether or not it is good.

WILDCATS DEFEAT MOGULS

The Crowell Wildcat basketballers brought in the new year Friday night, December 31, with a clean sweep of a three game series with Munday's Moguls. The B-team boys defeated Munday's second squad by a score of 49-45. Roy Payne and Edward Howard led in the scoring with fourteen and thirteen points, respectively. This game proved closer than the other two.

The girls team played next and easily defeated the Munday girls by a score of 52-38. Billye Bell led in scoring with thirty one points. Zonell Eddy, Sue Meason and Charlene Borchardt kept Munday from scoring consistently with their fine guarding.

The A squad game was easily won by a score of 61 to 45. The first quarter, however, wasn't easy as the boys had to come from behind. Mike Wishon and Gordon Graves tied for scoring honors in this contest with twenty-three points each.

by VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

Austin, Tex.—No one envies the job of the Texas legislators who convene here on the 11th.

They must solve the state's biggest financial problem in years. Cut out for them is the task of: (1) providing more money for increased enrollment in public schools; (2) finding additional funds for public welfare; and (3) locating construction dollars to maintain and enlarge public highways.

A heavy load of students during the next two years will add $24 million to school expenditures.

Public welfare, increased by a November constitutional amendment, will take $14 million more over the same period.

An estimated $50 million per year is needed for highway maintenance and construction.

Education, public welfare and highways already take 90 cents of each tax dollar. And there is pressure for more money from other quarters.

In the general fund is slightly more than $12 million.

What to Do?

A two cents per gallon increase in the gasoline tax is one proposal. Present tax is four cents state, and two cents federal. That would meet highway needs.

Adding $2.75 per barrel to the present $2 per barrel beer tax is another proposal. This would bring in an estimated $10 million annual revenue.

Colleges may be asked to increase the present $24 per semester tuition fee to $50. That would bring in $3.5 million more per year.

Legislators are eyeing natural gas production. A 1954 tax law allowed a levy on the market value at the well, with a one percent tax reduction each following year. They may vote to cancel the reductions. By so doing the state would keep $14 million per year of the tax money.

Veterans Land Sales

Hearings will be resumed next week by a Senate Investigating Committee looking into "block" land sales made to the state under the Veterans Land Program.

Testimony during the first two-day session showed that individual land sellers had made as much as $200,000 on a single deal. Indicated by the committee were suits to cancel some block sales to veterans, criminal prosecution in other cases, and changes in the law.

Investigations were being held at the request of the Veterans Land Board itself. All its members, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, chairman, who resigned his job last week; Governor Allan Shivers; and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, testified.

Complaints have been received in other land transactions, besides the 11 now under investigation.

These too will be investigated, say officials in the Department of Public Safety, the State Auditor's Office and the Attorney General.

Veterans to whom the land was re-sold by the state testified that they didn't know they were buying land. They thought they were getting a cash bonus, or prolonging their rights to buy land on credit, or "selling their signatures" and waiving their rights for $100 to $300 each.

Duval County

Attorney General Shepperd is turning over the investigation of Duval County affairs to District Attorney Sam Barris.

Shepperd, who forecast recovery of some $500,000 in stolen public funds, said he was in complete agreement with Barris.

The transfer brought to an end a two-year personal investigation of the county's affairs by Shepperd.

Motor Vehicle Tax

A bill to abolish the ad valorem property tax on motor vehicles will be presented to the Legislature by State Rep. Douglas E. Bergman of Dallas.

His bill also would propose a one-third increase in the registration (license tag) fee.

Another Bergman bill would allow banks to close Saturdays.

A third bill would permit judges to deny bail on second felony indictments when the accused is out on bond for a previous felony charge.

Crop Income Up

A cheerful note from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

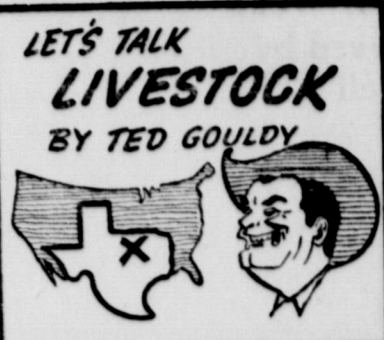

The USDA office in Austin reports that the value of Texas crops for the year reached $1,036,000,000 despite the drought. That's $67 million higher than the preceding year.

Constructing Up

Brightest spot in an already bright 1954 business year was the construction industry.

Building permits issued during the first 11 months of the year ranked 26 per cent higher than a like period in 1953, reports the U. T. Bureau of Business Research.

Their findings were in line

Fort Worth — Livestock trade on the first marketing day of the new year was featured by above normal numbers of short-fed cattle, especially yearlings and heifers. Also, a larger than normal offering of sheep and lambs, plus some additional weaknesses in hog prices as supplies in the Corn Belt were again large.

At Fort Worth well finished mature steers, cows and bulls drew firm prices Monday, but the large percentage of the run which was yearlings and heifers showing signs of light feeding or short feeding periods sold around 50 cents or more lower.

The numerous lots of heifers in the run indicated that again this week there were likely to be larger numbers of the offered.

This bears out estimates made earlier this fall that more heifers were on feed in the Southwest than earlier estimates had indicated.

Very good demand for highly fitted slaughter cattle developed and most observers at Fort Worth feel that mature heavy steers are going to grow increasingly scarce in this region as the season progressed, and that more and more young cattle will make up the beef supply.

Stocker and feeder trade was brisk on the kinds with quality, and the plainer sorts were inclined to drift along with the lower grade slaughter kinds.

Choice fat calves were steady, and the plain and medium butcher sorts were weaker.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings bulked at $19 to $24, and the common, plain and medium butcher kinds cashed at $12 to $18.50, with some ratty kinds of yearlings around the $10 marker.

Fat cows sold mostly from $10 to $11.50, a few heiferish kinds above that figure. Canners and cutters sold mainly from $6 to $9.50, some high yielding cutters of western type, or of brahman extraction, to $10. Virtually no merchantable kinds sold under $6.

Best weighty bulls again cashed at $12 to $13, individuals above that figure. Lighter weights and commoner kinds sold mostly from $9 to $11.50, except some activity on stocker bulls of the lighter weights was noted. Some with a U. S. Department of Commerce estimate that new construction in the USA reached an all-time high in November—eight per cent above November, 1953.

Induction Drop

Texas' draft quota for February will be the smallest since June, 1952.

Selective Service Headquarters has called for 587 men during the month.

No men will receive pre-induction physical and mental exams during the month as draft boards have an ample backlog.

stocker bulls sold from $10 to $13.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $15 to $19, with best creeped heavies to $20. Common and medium slaughter kinds sold from $11 to $15, and culls cashed around the $10 marker.

Good and choice stocker steer calves cashed at $17 to $20, and were quotable at $21. Yearling stockers sold mostly from $19 down, but were quotable above that when choice, with straight loads quotable to $20 and better. Replacement cows cleared at $8 to $12.

Hog Weak to 25c Lower

The hog market again felt the impact of large runs in the middle west, and prices at Fort Worth were 25 cents lower. Top hogs scored $18.25, and the lighter and heavier kinds, as well as fat backs, unfinished kinds, etc., sold from $17 to $18.

Sows were weak to 50 cents lower at mostly $15.50 downward, a few lightweights above that range.

Texas hog prices were again well ahead of most Corn Belt averages at the start of this week, and despite the estimate that 1955's Texas pig crop will be 15 per cent above last year, observers at Fort Worth feel that hog growers will still be in a relatively advantageous position. Reason for this is that despite the increase in Texas production, it will still be some 27 per cent behind the ten-year average.

This leaves Texas' pork production still far short of Texas pork consumption. In fact, packers at Fort Worth estimate that more than 75 per cent of the pork eaten in Texas last year was shipped in from out-of-state either as live hogs or pork products.

Fat Lambs Break 50c to $1.00

The run was predominately fat lambs on the market at Fort Worth Monday, and as the trade developed it soon was apparent that some of the previous week's advances were going to be rubbed out. By the time clearance was completed the slaughter lambs were 50 cents to $1 lower, with woolled lambs topped at $19, and shorn lambs with a No. 1 pel $18 and $18.50 and below.

Shippers paid up to $18.50 down for some No. 1 pel lambs. Most good and choice slaughter lambs sold from $17 to $19, and medium and lower grades sold from $10 to $16. Feeder lambs sold mostly from $16 downward in small lots, with sizable strings to shippers as mentioned above at more money.

Most other kinds of sheep and lambs were steady, and rather poorly tested. Slaughter yearlings were quoted from $10 to $18. Old ewes drew $5 to $6.50, and old bucks sold around $4. Breeder ewes were quotable from $6 to $12.

Flood, Epidemics and Bad Polio Season Mar Texas Health Picture

A flood, two epidemics, and a bad polio season marred the public health picture in Texas during 1954, a review of health department activity shows.

In late June the Rio Grande, maddened by 10 to 20 inch rains, ran wild through five border counties. The highest flood crests in the river's history inundated vulnerable water treatment plants, increasing the danger of water-borne disease outbreaks. Public health engineers put plants into operation within nine days. This, and emergency vaccination programs, forestalled a crisis.

In August an epidemic of mosquito-borne encephalitis struck hundreds of victims in Hidalgo County. State Health Department laboratory experts identified the cause as Saint Louis virus, which had never before occurred in epidemic form in this area.

Pittacosis in isolated flocks of turkeys plagued health officials all spring and summer. The first outbreak hit 48 employees of a Corsicana packing plant in May. Other cases cropped up in scattered areas, but the disease was finally smothered by a tight program of flock sanitation.

The year just past was both disheartening and encouraging concerning polio. It was disheartening because 3107 cases made 1954 the second worst polio year in state history; encouraging because of the high hopes held for the success of the Salk vaccine field trials of last spring.

Some 35,000 Texas second-graders took part in the field trials, and state and county health officials since then have been quietly collecting blood samples and recording data which must be analyzed before the true significance of the vaccine will be known. Results will be announced next spring.

Good for Olympic Committee!

In these days, when so many of us are forever seeking hand-outs from the federal treasury, any organization which refuses proffered government funds deserves recognition and honor.

The U. S. Olympic committee is such an organization. More than $1,000,000 is needed to defray the cost of sending our Olympic team to the 1956 games at Melbourne, Australia. But offers made by Congressmen to introduce bills appropriating money for this purpose were turned down.

The committee's vice president said, "The money to support these athletics should come freely and spontaneously from the people."

More power to the Olympic committee! Whether in sport or in any other enterprise, government should never do for people what they can do for themselves.

Firm Partners

A news story from one of the major automobile manufacturers does a splendid job of showing the interdependence of agriculture and industry.

On the one hand, industry depends on the farmer to consume vast quantities of the goods it produces. Without the vast agricultural market for manufactured wares of endless varieties, the assembly lines would slow and factories would close.

On the other hand, industry is a first-class farm customer, as the news release vividly shows.

This single company annually absorbs the yield of 78,000 acres of cotton, along with 3,000,000 pounds of wool, in order to make the upholstery for its cars and trucks. It needs, each year, 37,000 acres of soybeans for body paint and 40,000 acres of flaxseed for linseed oil. Derivatives from about 48,000 acres of corn are used for such things as adhesive agents in gray iron casting cores.

All in all, it would take 2,500 "average" American farms to make up the hundreds of thousands of acres needed to supply the wool, leather, cotton and other agricultural products that enter in its manufacturing operations.

And this, mind you, is but one company, albeit a large one. Farm and factory are firm partners in this complex modern world.

Room Aplenty

Is "bigness" in business bad? An executive of a major oil company recently dealt with that question. His company is now completing a new refinery with a capacity of 30,000 barrels a day, which isn't large as refineries go. Yet construction costs amount to about $1,000 for each of those 30,000 barrels of capacity. Obviously, no individual and no small business has that kind of money, so such jobs are of necessity undertaken by large corporations. He went on to consider the relationship between the big business and other business. His oil company alone buys more than $100,000,000 worth of goods and services a year from some 20,000 different suppliers, many of whom are small corporations and individual enterprises. Thus, the existence of the big business creates trade and opportunity for the smaller one—with employment all along the line. He made another point, still using his company as an example. Of every sales dollar taken in, nearly 55 cents goes for materials and supplies the company buys from other businesses. Last year only two-and-a-half cents of that sales dollar went to the owners in the form of dividends—as against 17.5 cents for taxes. There is plenty of room and opportunity in the oil industry for big business and little business—just as there is plenty of room in all other fields. Molokai, the Hawaiian leper colony, is supported by the U. S. The Graf Zeppelin made the first dirigible trip around the world in 1929.

Austin, Tex.—No one envies the job of the Texas legislators who convene here on the 11th. They must solve the state's biggest financial problem in years. Cut out for them is the task of: (1) providing more money for increased enrollment in public schools; (2) finding additional funds for public welfare; and (3) locating construction dollars to maintain and enlarge public highways.

A heavy load of students during the next two years will add $24 million to school expenditures.

Public welfare, increased by a November constitutional amendment, will take $14 million more over the same period.

An estimated $50 million per year is needed for highway maintenance and construction. Education, public welfare and highways already take 90 cents of each tax dollar. And there is pressure for more money from other quarters.

In the general fund is slightly more than $12 million.

What to Do?
A two cents per gallon increase in the gasoline tax is one proposal. Present tax is four cents state, and two cents federal. That would meet highway needs.

Adding $2.75 per barrel to the present $2 per barrel beer tax is another proposal. This would bring in an estimated $10 million annual revenue.

Colleges may be asked to increase the present $24 per semester tuition fee to $50. That would bring in $3.5 million more per year.

Legislators are eyeing natural gas production. A 1954 tax law allowed a levy on the market value at the well, with a one per cent tax reduction each following year. They may vote to cancel the reductions. By so doing the state would keep $14 million per year of the tax money.

Veterans Land Sales
Hearings will be resumed next week by a Senate Investigating Committee looking into "block" land sales made to the state under the Veterans Land Program.

Testimony during the first two-day session showed that individual land sellers had made as much as $200,000 on a single deal. Indicated by the committee were suits to cancel some block sales to veterans, criminal prosecution in other cases, and changes in the law.

Investigations were being held at the request of the Veterans Land Board itself. All its members, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, chairman, who resigned his job last week; Governor Allan Shivers; and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, testified.

Complaints have been received in other land transactions, besides the 11 now under investigation. These too will be investigated, say officials in the Department of Public Safety, the State Auditor's Office and the Attorney General.

Veterans to whom the land was re-sold by the state testified that they didn't know they were buying land. They thought they were getting a cash bonus, or prolonging their rights to buy land on credit, or "selling their signatures" and waiving their rights for $100 to $300 each.

Duval County
Attorney General Shepperd is turning over the investigation of Duval County affairs to District Attorney Sam Burris.

Shepperd, who forecast recovery of some $500,000 in stolen public funds, said he was in complete agreement with Burris.

The transfer brought to an end a two-year personal investigation of the county's affairs by Shepperd.

Motor Vehicle Tax
A bill to abolish the ad valorem property tax on motor vehicles will be presented to the Legislature by State Rep. Douglas E. Bergman of Dallas.

His bill also would propose a one-third increase in the registration (license tag) fee.

Another Bergman bill would allow banks to close Saturdays.

A third bill would permit judges to deny bail on second felony indictments when the accused is out on bond for a previous felony charge.

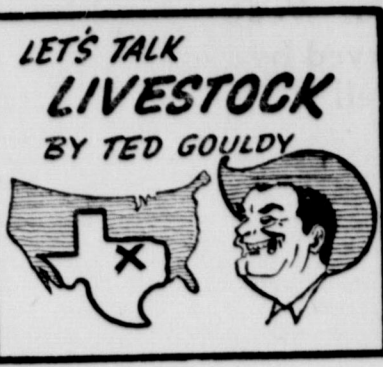

Crop Income Up
A cheerful note from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The USDA office in Austin reports that the value of Texas crops for the year reached $1,036,000,000 despite the drought. That's $67 million higher than the preceding year.

Construction Up
Brightest spot in an already bright 1954 business year was the construction industry.

Building permits issued during the first 11 months of the year ranked 26 per cent higher than a like period in 1953, reports the U. T. Bureau of Business Research.

Their findings were in line

Fort Worth — Livestock trade on the first marketing day of the new year was featured by above normal numbers of short-fed cattle, especially yearlings and heifers. Also, a larger than normal offering of sheep and lambs, plus some additional weaknesses in hog prices as supplies in the Corn Belt were again large.

At Fort Worth well finished mature steers, cows and bulls drove firm prices Monday, but the large percentage of the run which was yearlings and heifers showing signs of light feeding or short feeding periods sold around 50 cents or more lower.

The numerous lots of heifers in the run indicated that again this week there were likely to be larger numbers of the offered. This bears out estimates made earlier this fall that more heifers were on feed in the Southwest than earlier estimates had indicated.

Very good demand for highly fitted slaughter cattle developed and most observers at Fort Worth feel that mature heavy steers are going to grow increasingly scarce in this region as the season progressed, and that more and more young cattle will make up the beef supply.

Stocker and feeder trade was brisk on the kinds with quality, and the plainer sorts were inclined to drift along with the lower grade slaughter kinds.

Choice fat calves were steady, and the plain and medium butcher sorts were weaker.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings bulked at $19 to $24, and the common, plain and medium butcher kinds cashed at $12 to $18.50, with some ratty kinds of yearlings around the $10 mark.

Fat cows sold mostly from $10 to $11.50, a few heiferish kinds above that figure. Canners and cutters sold mainly from $6 to $9.50, some high yielding cutters of western type, or of brahman extraction, to $10. Virtually no merchantable kinds sold under $6.

Best weighty bulls again cashed at $12 to $13, individuals above that figure. Lighter weights and commoner kinds sold mostly from $9 to $11.50, except some activity on stocker bulls of the lighter weights was noted. Some with a U. S. Department of Commerce estimate that new construction in the USA reached an all-time high in November—eight per cent above November, 1953.

Induction Drop
Texas' draft quota for February will be the smallest since June, 1952.

Selective Service Headquarters has called for 587 men during the month.

No men will receive pre-induction physical and mental exams during the month as draft boards have an ample backlog.

stocker bulls sold from $10 to $13.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $15 to $19, with best creepfed heavies to $20. Common and medium slaughter kinds sold from $11 to $15, and culls cashed around the $10 mark.

Good and choice stocker steer calves cashed at $17 to $20, and were quotable at $21. Yearling stockers sold mostly from $19 down, but were quotable above that when choice, with straight loads quotable to $20 and better. Replacement cows cleared at $8 to $12.

Hogs Weak to 25c Lower
The hog market again felt the impact of large runs in the middle west, and prices at Fort Worth were 25 cents lower. Top hogs scored $18.25, and the lighter and heavier kinds, as well as fat backs, unfinished kinds, etc., sold from $17 to $18.

Sows were weak to 50 cents lower at mostly $15.50 downward, a few lightweights above that range.

Texas hog prices were again well ahead of most of the Corn Belt averages at the start of this week, and despite the estimate that 1955's Texas pig crop will be 15 per cent above last year, observers at Fort Worth feel that hog growers will still be in a relatively advantageous position. Reason for this is that despite the increase in Texas production, it will still be some 37 per cent behind the ten-year average.

This leaves Texas pork production still far short of Texas pork consumption. In fact, packers at Fort Worth estimate that more than 75 per cent of the pork eaten in Texas last year was shipped in from out-of-state either as live hogs or pork products.

Fat Lambs Break 50c to $1.00
The run was predominately fat lambs on the market at Fort Worth Monday, and as the trade developed it soon was apparent that some of the previous week's advances were going to be rubbed out. By the time clearance was completed the slaughter lambs were 50 cents to $1 lower, with woolled lambs topped at $19, and shorn lambs with a No. 1 pelt $18 and $18.50 and below.

Shippers paid up to $18.50 down for some No. 1 pelt lambs. Most good and choice slaughter lambs sold from $17 to $19, and medium and lower grades sold from $10 to $16. Feeder lambs sold mostly from $16 downward in small lots, with sizable strings to shippers as mentioned above at more money.

Most other kinds of sheep and lambs were steady, and rather poorly tested. Slaughter yearlings were quoted from $10 to $16. Old ewes drew $5 to $6.50, and old bucks sold around $8. Breeder ewes were quotable from $6 to $12.

Firm Partners
A news story from one of the major automobile manufacturers does a splendid job of showing the interdependence of agriculture and industry.

On the one hand, industry depends on the farmer to consume vast quantities of the goods it produces. Without the vast agricultural market for manufactured wares of endless varieties, the assembly lines would slow and factories would close.

On the other hand, industry is a first-class farm customer, as the news release vividly shows.

This single company annually absorbs the yield of 78,000 acres of cotton, along with 3,000,000 pounds of wool, in order to make the upholstery for its cars and trucks. It needs, each year, 37,000 acres of soybeans for body paint and 40,000 acres of flaxseed for lined oil. Derivatives from about 48,000 acres of corn are used for such things as adhesive agents in gray iron casting cores.

"All in all, it would take 2,500 "average" American farms to make up the hundreds of thousands of acres needed to supply the wool, leather, cotton and other agricultural products that enter into its manufacturing operations.

And this, mind you, is but one company, albeit a large one. Farm and factory are firm partners in this complex modern world.

Room Aplenty
Is "bigness" in business bad? An executive of a major oil company recently dealt with that question. His company is now completing a new refinery with a capacity of 30,000 barrels a day, which isn't large as refineries go. Yet construction costs amount to about $1,000 for each of those

Good for Olympic Committee!
In these days, when so many of us are forever seeking handouts from the federal treasury, any organization which refuses proffered government funds deserves recognition and honor.

The U. S. Olympic committee is such an organization. More than $1,000,000 is needed to defray the cost of sending our Olympic team to the 1956 games at Melbourne, Australia. But offers made by Congressmen to introduce bills appropriating money for this purpose were turned down.

The committee's vice president said, "The money to support these athletes should come freely and spontaneously from the people."

More power to the Olympic committee! Whether in sport or in any other enterprise, government should never do for people what they can do for themselves.

Of every sales dollar taken in, nearly 55 cents goes for materials and supplies the company buys from other businesses. Last year only two-and-a-half cents of that sales dollar went to the owners in the form of dividends—against 17.5 cents for taxes. There is plenty of room and opportunity in the oil industry for big business and little business—just as there is plenty of room in all other fields. Flood, Epidemics and Bad Polio Season Marr Texas Health Picture

A flood, two epidemics, and a bad polio season marred the public health picture in Texas during 1954, a review of health department activity shows.

In late June the Rio Grande, maddened by 10 to 20 inch rains, ran wild through five border counties. The highest flood crests in the river's history inundated vulnerable water treatment plants, increasing the danger of waterborne disease outbreaks.

Public health engineers put plants into operation within nine days. This, and emergency vaccination programs, forestalled a crisis.

In August an epidemic of mosquito-borne encephalitis struck hundreds of victims in Hidalgo County. State Health Department laboratory experts identified the cause as Saint Louis virus, which had never before occurred in epidemic form in this area.

Psittacosis in isolated flocks of turkeys plagued health officials all spring and summer. The first outbreak hit 48 employees of a Corsicana packing plant in May. Other cases cropped up in scattered areas, but the disease was finally smothered by a tight program of flock sanitation.

The year just past was both disheartening and encouraging because 3107 cases made 1954 the second worst polio year in state history, encouraging because of the high hopes held for the success of the Salk vaccine field trials of last spring.

Some 35,000 Texas second-graders took part in the field trials, and state and county health officials since then have been quietly collecting blood samples and recording data which must be analyzed before the true significance of the vaccine will be known. Results will be announced next spring.

Good for Olympic Committee!
In these days, when so many of us are forever seeking handouts from the federal treasury, any organization which refuses proffered government funds deserves recognition and honor.

The U. S. Olympic committee is such an organization. More than $1,000,000 is needed to defray the cost of sending our Olympic team to the 1956 games at Melbourne, Australia. But offers made by Congressmen to introduce bills appropriating money for this purpose were turned down.

The committee's vice president said, "The money to support these athletes should come freely and spontaneously from the people."

More power to the Olympic committee! Whether in sport or in any other enterprise, government should never do for people what they can do for themselves.

OIL MEN DO WHAT COULDN'T BE DONE

Pipe line crews laid 620 of 8-inch pipe in less than months to link Haines and banks, Alaska, and proved "old-timers" wrong in predictions that it couldn't be done. The pipe line is part of $29 million project to United States military installation in Alaska with all types of oil men battled frozen soil, ed and swampy "sub-soil," mosquitoes, and pipe that stay buried. The fact that conquered these and other stacles is a tribute to the tenacity and daring.

IL HELPS BUILD 'HELIPORT'

The first "heliport" ever constructed in the United States will be paved entirely with asphalt, a petroleum product. The circular heliport, built exclusively for helicopters at Fort Eustis, Virginia, has asphalt landing strips in the form of an "X" surrounded by a circle. Helicopters capable of carrying 16 to 20 passengers or cargo loads of nearly 9,000 pounds may now be based at the new airport, where petroleum not only will help them land safely, but furnish fuel to power them into the air.

INSECTICIDE KILLS HOUSE FLIES IN FIVE SECONDS

Tests made during the summer indicate that a new insecticide, developed by an oil company, was successful in battling infestations of army worms that it may be made available for use against household insects. The chemical said to have killed houseflies in five seconds after contact with them. Research laboratories of the oil industry never stop their tests and studies to discover more useful products for Americans.

WHO CHANGES HAIR STYLES THE MOST IN C. H. S.?

You may think that women change their hair styles frequently, but Lowell Page, chuckles of CHS, has any of them beat. He used to be a proud possessor of "dish water" blonde hair; now he is a temperamental redhead. In fact, Lowell has had so many changes that he really doesn't remember the original color. We wonder what he will think of next. Anyway, who is the vain sex—men or women?

Our Weekly Sermon

Let's Face It

The preacher expounded on the evils of gambling, and the old lady in the front row nodded her agreement and intoned, "Amen." Passing on, he launched into a tirade against drinking and smoking and stealing, as all the while she nodded and repeated, "Amen, brother, preach it!"

Then he switched to gossiping. Her face reddened, her eyes blazed with anger as she turned to her neighbor and whispered hoarsely, "Now he's stopped preaching and gone to meddling!"

Something like this happens every Sunday in many churches. The loyal pastor who declares the whole counsel of God is certain to cut directly across the lines of some lives.

What shall we do? Let us determine first of all if this is really the Word of God the pastor is proclaiming. If it is, then we should quickly alter our lives in agreement with it. It's not healthy to disobey God, but is very pleasant to live in harmony with His truth.

If the minister across the way is preaching from the Scriptures, we cannot be angry with him. He is dedicated to this very thing; the message is not his, really, but he represents God before his congregation.

Thank God, America still has freedom of worship. Let us, then, be sure to attend our church, to enjoy it to the fullest, and gain the most from it. To have churches and fail to attend them is a vote to close them.

When we enter the doors of the church, let us listen attentively to the message and the messenger, gather in the truth as though we were the only person present, and the sermon was prepared only for us. When the Word of God bites deeply, let it do its full work. Heed it, profit by it, then go out to live by it.

"Thy Word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path" (Psalm 119:105).

What's in it for you?

Every Texan profits in a large way from every barrel of crude oil and every cubic foot of natural gas produced in the State.

Directly. Taxes paid by the petroleum industry to support all agencies of the State Government, including schools, old age assistance, and welfare institutions, totaled $170 million in 1954, more than a third of all the taxes collected by the State. And, in addition, the industry pays millions in other taxes to counties, school districts, and municipalities.

Indirect profits are even greater. Industry employees receive and spend about $850 million a year; royalty and lease payments to landowners add up to $500 million. Most of this money passes promptly into trade channels.

As a result, you'll find oil dollars on every balance sheet in Texas and in every bank account, including your own.

...But you can't figure profits in money alone.

The chief profit from the production of oil and natural gas rests in what these fuels do: In the miles you cover with your car... in heat for your home... in the usefulness of articles made from petroleum hydrocarbons... in the power that moves long trains across the continent and turns the wheels of the large industrial plants.

This profit Texans share with all Americans. It is reflected in the American standard of living, which is the world's highest; and it provides a dividend of national security, because a well developed, efficiently operated petroleum industry is one of the major resources in the U. S. arsenal

Home Demonstration Notes

MRS. MARY D. BROWN

If you are a club president and have not yet sent in the list of your committee chairmen, please do so immediately. We need to have these names before we can have our committee training meetings.

Now that the holidays are behind us, let's stop a minute to make plans for the year coming up. What would you like to see your club accomplish this year? Are you willing to do your share towards accomplishing this? Or do you think your club president can do it by herself? So many of our club members refuse to be an officer because "it's just too much work." If each club member would do her share, then it would not all fall on the officers' shoulders. So this year, let's each resolve to do our share and not leave it all to the president.

As you know, our demonstration this month is on "A Broiler Meal" and the schedule I have is as follows:

- Jan. 5 — Foard City.
- Jan. 18 — Riverside.
- Jan. 20 — Thalia.
- Jan. 21 — Gambelville.
- Jan. 25 — West Side.
- Jan. 27 — Vivian.
- Jan. 28 — Margaret.

If you received a poinsettia plant for Christmas which is beginning to drop its leaves, do not throw it away. This plant usually drops all its leaves and rests for two months or more immediately after blooming. While resting, poinsettias should be kept where they will not freeze. They should be watered barely enough to keep them alive until spring. Some growers believe they rest better in the dark and a cover of heavy dark paper may be used until March or April. Then the plants are cut back, watered and placed in the sun. Pot plants may be set in the open ground when danger of frost is over.

I have in my office a new bulletin on poinsettias which gives detailed instructions on their care and growth. If you received poinsettias for Christmas which you would like to keep and have for Christmas next year, please call or come by my office for one of these bulletins.
