"Your action in entertaining this young officer for several days in your club and your homes has been in the true Rotarian spirit of fostering and promoting the ideal of international understanding among peoples and a generous act of the great American people which is leading the whole world nowadays.

"We feel proud to have been honored in this way by our fellow Rotarians of your wonderful city and we request you to convey to the honorable president and all the members of your club our gratitude.

"We shall not fail to invite Lieut. Misiakoulis to visit us when he returns in February and to tell us about his own experience with your fine country and with the excellent members of your club.

Work to Start Soon on Baylor County Portion of Crowell-Seymour Highway

Baylor County's section of a new road to Crowell, which will chop miles off the present road distance from Fort Worth to the Foard County seat and provide a new short-cut via Quannah to the Panhandle, may go into construction by March.

This was predicted Monday by Jarmon E. King, resident engineer of the State Highway Department in Seymour.

King said all right of way has been provided along the 18 1/2-mile stretch in Baylor County, and plans have been completed and submitted to the department in Austin for approval.

There will be about 15 miles of new construction in Foard County. Bonds have been voted for the right of way in Foard County, but plans are still under preparation.

The new road will be designated FM 1919 but will be built up to the specifications for the average state highway, with a 24-foot rather than a 20-foot pavement, King said. A major bridge will be built across the Wichita River in Baylor County, and the road will go to the Foard County line at a point about midway between the river and the intersection of the Baylor, Foard and Wilbarger County lines, northwest of Seymour.

The aircraft industry is working out a cold-calculated answer to one of jet aviation's burning problems—the effect of extreme heat on bearings and hydraulic systems. Experiments are under way with new high temperature petroleum lubricants, capable of withstanding between 1,000 and 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit, which is more than three times hotter than the effective limit of most present lubricants. In fact, some of these compounds have such high boiling points that they will "freeze" at 400 degrees. The scientists' problem is to balance these new lubricants so that they will withstand the extreme heat, and still be fluid and oily at the lower temperatures.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock is a fourth-term.

Rep. Max C. Smith of San Marcos, now in his seventh term, drew the important House appropriations committee chairmanship. Other key chairmen in the House are Frates S. Seelgison of San Antonio, revenue and taxation; W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah, state affairs.

NEW ERA — Secretaries will be heard, but not seen, this session. This and a number of other innovations are being tried out by the 55th Legislators.

Formerly the lawmakers' secretaries, usually including many University coeds, were on and off the floor all during sessions. House members' secretaries had no desks of their own.

Now the house secretaries have basement offices. Their employers have new private telephones to call their secretaries, other lawmakers' desks and outside.

But banished secretaries can console themselves with pay raises — up from $9 to $19 a day in the House, from $12 to $14 in the Senate. Both are paid seven days a week.

Even so, many observers deplored the passing of the secretarial "beauty parade."

House members also voted to permit radio and television broadcasting of their sessions.

FOUR SEEK SPEAKERSHIP — Campaigning for Speaker of the House in 1959 already has begun. Candidates are Reps. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville, Ben A. Glusing of Kingsville, Barefoot Sanders of Dallas and Will Smith of Beaumont.

Decision will not be definite until after the 1958 elections.

SPECIAL RUBBERS MAKE INDUSTRY PROBLEMS A SNAP

If a special job needs a rubber with more bounce and less break-down, it's likely the engineer will find what he's looking for in the new man-made silicone or fluorocarbon rubbers. Each of these new rubbers, in whose manufacture petroleum plays a part, has different properties. Silicone rubber remains strong and flexible thru a wide temperature range, has high bounce-back properties, and good resistance to weathering, ozone, and electrical discharges. It's used in oxygen masks, electrical equipment. The fluorocarbons, even newer than the silicones, are not yet fully evaluated, but they are outstandingly resistant to hot oils, acids, and alkalis. They are used in seals, gaskets, valves, protective clothing.

Legislature, Gov. Shivers urged an unemotional approach to segregation problems. He gave his backing to a primary in the special senatorial election.

His departure closes a spectacular public career begun 22 years ago as a state senator from an East Texas district.

Water-Short Texas Towns Aided by Federal Programs

Temple, Texas — Water-short Texas towns are waking up to the opportunity of adding to their water supplies through the Department of Agriculture watershed protection and flood prevention programs in the Trinity and Colorado River watersheds and in local projects assisted under Public Law 566.

State Conservationist H. N. Smith of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service reports growing interest on the part of municipalities eager to pay added costs to provide needed water storage behind floodwater retarding dams.

Smith explained that the dams are designed as detention structures primarily. Their purpose is to slow down floodwaters and release them automatically at a rate stream channels can hold. Each dam must first be justified on the basis of its usefulness in flood prevention. Water storage for any purpose other than flood prevention must be secondary and in keeping with state law.

Applications for SCS help under the comparatively new Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act (Public Law 566) now total 113, Smith reported. Modification of the act has made it easier for municipalities and special purpose districts to make use of the program in meeting local water needs.

In the new watershed protection program, municipalities or other authorized organizations can build water storage into a floodwater retarding structure by paying the difference in cost, Smith explained. The city of Kaufman, in the Kaufman-Van Zandt Soil Conservation District, was the first Texas city to take advantage of the water-storing opportunity.

Added capacity of 1834 acre feet was built into a floodwater retarding structure on Big Cottonwood Creek, a small watershed in the big Upper Trinity flood prevention program.

The 1834 acre feet of storage—nearly 600 million gallons—was provided at a cost to Kaufman of $18,114.

Smith said construction has started on a similar project near Coolidge, Texas, to provide 355 acre feet of storage for that city in the Pin Oak Creek watershed program.

In the new watershed protection program, the government can lend up to $5 million for periods of as long as 50 years at a rate of about 2 1/2 per cent. The loan is retired on an annual basis. There is no such loan provision in the older Upper Trinity and Middle Colorado flood prevention program.

SCS is authorized by the new law to cooperate with local subdivisions of government in building structures up to 5000 acre feet of floodwater detention capacity. Additional storage up to 25,000 acre feet in total capacity can be provided for municipal water supplies.

A city or water district must use its own engineer or employ one to determine water needs and suitability of the watershed and the proposed structure for a municipal supply. The local engineer may re-design the dam to include the additional storage, or the city or water district may use SCS engineering help and reimburse the agency.

Smith explained that the objective of the locally sponsored watershed program is to give protection to land, crops and property against flood damage. Soil conservation treatment of land in the watershed is fundamental. It insures a long period of usefulness for the floodwater retarding structures by reducing sediment carried by runoff into streams and reservoirs. It also benefits the farmer and rancher through more efficient use of land and available moisture.

Soil Testing Should Be Included in the 1957 Farm Plans

High acre yields are more important than ever. Grain and forage supplies on most Texas farms and ranches are at very low level because of the prolonged drought. Top yields are needed from next year's crops and pastures not only to replenish these supplies but also to help whip the cost-price squeeze, says M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist.

To get the best possible production from crops and pastures, Thornton points out that a lot of cooperation will be needed from "mother nature" in the form of favorable weather conditions which includes a lot of rain. But, he also says, producers can aid the cause by supplying fertilizer to make the land produce as it should.

Soil testing is the one way to find the answer to the question, how much and what kind of fertilizer is needed to get top production? Thornton suggests that soil samples be taken and submitted new to the Soils Testing Laboratory. He can promise much faster service now and the soil analysis and recommendations which he will send back to the farmer will enable him to make his fertilizer purchases early. When the spring rush hits, returns will be slower and little time will be left for getting the recommendations into use.

Pastures, to be as good as they should, will also need plant food. Soil samples taken from run-down pastures, when analyzed, will show how much fertilizer will be required to get the grazing areas back into top production.

Joe Burkett, county agent, can supply detailed information on how soil samples should be taken and mailed.

Better Selection and Planning Key to Lower Food Cost

Farm families more than doubled the amount spent for food between 1923 and 1955. At the same time they decreased home production (in dollar terms) about one-third. This has resulted in a diet higher in cost, but also an average diet of higher nutritive value.

Part of the increase in food costs is also due to increased use of more expensive foods, greater use of prepared and partially-prepared foods. Surveys show that the farm housewife, as well as her city sister, is looking for ways to make her job easier, say extension foods specialists. In 1952, over one-third of the food dollar was being used for such foods. This figure continues to climb.

Cutting food bills may be a must for some families in '57. It's not likely that many families will increase production or preservation. Better selection among purchased foods can help cut costs a great deal.

The homemaker who knows the requirements of a good diet, and the principles of balancing daily meals, can substitute less expensive foods for costly items. Alert shoppers, who make use of foods in season, and in plentiful supply, can give added stretch to food dollars.

SCS Gives Hints on Seeding Grasses

by Bill Grussendorf

Much of our range land has reached a point where rain fall alone will not restore it to a highly productive condition. In many cases the most desirable grasses have been killed out by the drought and overgrazing. As a result, there is no longer a seed source available. This is where re-seeding of these desirable native grasses comes in.

It is desirable to do some type of seedbed preparation before seeding native grasses, such as plowing, chiseling, contour furrows or tree dozing. These mechanical means provide a good seed bed because they leave a rough surface on the ground which increases water penetration.

Spraying, mowing or controlled grazing is sometimes needed the first year to control competitive plants such as weeds and shrubs.

Native grasses can be seeded by special grass seeders, airplanes or by hand. Since most grass seed are very small, care should be taken to prevent wastage. Any equipment used should first be inspected to see if it is in good working order. Any holes in the boxes should be plugged. The Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District owns several pieces of grass seeding equipment which is available to district cooperators for a small fee to cover up-keep. Soil Conservation Service technicians will furnish any technical assistance needed for seeding grass. They will also help a farmer locate a source from which he can buy his grass seed.

Timber Production in Texas Increased 36 Per Cent Since 1935

Anybody want to build about 865,000 average five room houses this year? Enough lumber will be cut in Texas during 1957 to do it!

If a 10-foot wide wooden belt were needed around the equator to hold the earth together, Texas still have some left over. Or laid end on end, Texas' yearly lumber production would form a continuous span to the moon.

The Piney Woods section of East Texas has made a real comeback in the past 20 years. Almost one million acres more forest land exists today than in 1935 due to once-cleared land reverting to woods.

Forests now cover 11,655,800 acres in the commercial timber belt of East Texas. Annual income exceeds 100 million dollars from cut lumber, furnishing employment to over 50,000 persons.

The volume in sawtimber trees totals 26 billion board feet. Softwood sawtimber volume, mainly southern yellow pine with some cypress and red cedar, has risen 25 per cent since 1935 in southeast Texas. This big increase in growth reflects the great progress made in protection and improved forest practice during the past 20 years.

Fire, insects, disease, and other natural disasters annually kill about 50 million cubic feet of timber in East Texas. Special attention is being given this problem for if the existing timber supply were exhausted, the economy of 36 counties would be severely hurt.

About 92 per cent of Tyler County is in forest land, and in Newton, Polk and Angelina Counties, more than 80 per cent of the total area is wooded. From these and other counties come over 1 1/2 billion board feet of lumber handled by 70 large sawmills and several hundred portable mills.

Three pulp mills in Texas are now using about half as much

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The tax folks say that thousands of us fail to send in a check for the tax we owe when we file our income tax returns. They think a lot of people read the instructions, check their records, figure their tax, check their arithmetic, get all their W-2's attached, and then fail to enclose their check. These fellows sure went to a lot of trouble to get their tax right and then forget to enclose a check. Most of us know we have to pay the tax. Let's all save Uncle Sam time and money by putting in our checks with our tax return. Don't send in your check without identifying what the check is for. The tax office has thousands of payments. They have trouble finding who to credit the payment to when you don't attach the check to your return.

Something Haywire in 1956 Agriculture Conditions in Texas

A backward glance at the 1956 crop year reveals no startling new facts to Texas farmers, but should give high-level farm policy planners some cause for sober reflection. Something went haywire somewhere.

Drouth, lack of irrigation water, decline in farm prices, higher production costs — these and other factors contributed to the decline in farm income. Yet, we had bumper crops in several commodities that counterbalanced severe crop failures in others.

Total value of principal crops in Texas was placed at 1.1 billion dollars in 1956. This is 9 per cent below both last year and the 10-year average. Cotton was the most important crop and contributed more cash value than all other crops combined.

The corn crop was the shortest since 1873 with 27,465,000 bushels. Responsible factors were the smallest harvested acreage in 81 years and a low yield of 15 bushels per acre compared with the 10-year average of 17.6 bushels.

Wheat production totaled 26.4 million bushels, nearly double the 1955 short crop, but only about half the 10-year average. Although most of the acres were lost to drouth, the average yield on land that escaped its full effects was 12.5 bushels or nearly 2 bushels above average.

The fourth largest sorghum grain record was established at 12.4 million bushels. Yield per acre at 26 bushels exceeded the previous record by two bushels. Irrigation made the difference here.

About 3,610,000 bales of cotton were estimated for the state but the final figure is not yet completed. A yield of 278 pounds per acre was extremely good but the record high yields per acre in irrigated districts were contrasted with very low yields on most dryland acreage. Along the coast, crops were harvested ahead of the drouth, although excellent early season prospects were not realized in that area.

Farmer production costs rose 3 per cent in 1956 and are heading still higher in 1957. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Everything the farmer buys and pays in the way of farm expenses is up above the 1947-49 average, except those things he buys from other farmers—seed, feed and feeder livestock. Interest and taxes are up more than any other farm pro-

Buy, Scare or Kill Him -- That's The Duval Rule For Successful Bossism

By--FRANZ ROSENWALD

SAN DIEGO, TEX.—The first thing any smart dictator does is destroy the freedom of the press. Dictatorship, whether it be called Nazism or Bossism, and a free press cannot exist together.

In a later article I want to tell you how the press played an indispensable role in the collapse of the Duval Duchy.

But right now I want to talk about Manuel Marroquin, who was beaten because his little newspaper published things the boys didn't like. It's a lot like other beatings I've seen in other places, halfway around the world.

The first Nazi storm trooper I ever saw was at a Hitler birthday rally in the Berlin Sports Palace. He was a smiling, affable fellow, booted, wearing a Sam Brown belt over his neat khaki shirt. On his left arm was a swastika, emblem of good luck. At his side hung a dagger in its sheath.

Hundreds of his fellows were scattered about the huge hall, all smiling, all good natured, selling photographs of Der Fuehrer and copies of "Mein Kampf."

My storm trooper worked in a bakery not too far from my home. I knew him well. He was a bit on the rotund side, jolly, and he wouldn't hurt a fly.

This was long before Hitler came to supreme power in Germany. Hitler made his grand entrance—and a man near me laughed at the strutting little bantam rooster with the funny moustache.

My mild-mannered baker was on him in a second, beating him in the face with his fists, tearing his glasses off and flinging them in the aisle. Another storm trooper moved in, deliberately crunching the glasses under his heel, his dagger drawn and pointed at the man who was being beaten.

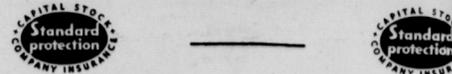

Nobody in the vicinity moved, and the ovation for Der Fuehrer roared on. The storm troopers hustled the man out. My mild-mannered baker returned in a few minutes, jovial, smiling, selling his pictures of Der Fuehrer.

The first pistolero I ever saw was just the other day in the Windmill Cafe in San Diego, Texas. He was a smiling, affable fellow, booted and wearing a neat khaki shirt. Belted to his side was a .45 in a holster.

That same day I tape recorded the story of Manuel Marroquin, publisher of a little political paper called "New Duval," a paper dedicated to the destruction of the dictatorship of George Berham Parr.

The bright hope for Texas farmers is that 1957 will bring an end to the 7-year drouth. This one factor, more than any other, would help put Texas agriculture closer in balance with the national economy.

Sorghum Hybrids Available for Planting

Seven grain sorghum hybrids, developed cooperatively by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be available to farmers for planting in 1957. These hybrids are the result of research work which began in 1921 and are the first practical hybrids to be released from these studies, says Joe Burkett, county agent.

The seven hybrids, RS 590, Texas 601, RS 610, Texas 611, Texas 620, RS 650 and Texas 660, are the best of several hundred produced and tested during the past 20 years at the Lubbock and Chillicothe stations. Tests were conducted last year throughout Texas and all have thus been grown under limited field demonstrations. The plant breeders for the Texas station say still better hybrids with improved adaptation to various growing conditions can be expected in the near future.

Farmers are advised to plant one or more of the hybrids adapted to their areas and to make comparisons with standard varieties. Further, it is suggested, that only certified hybrid seed be planted as insurance that seed planted are correctly labeled.

Planting seed of these seven hybrids are white, but the grain produced will be red. In general the higher the hybrid number the later is its maturity, but is as late as Plainsman. 20 to 40 per cent greater varieties of the same name under most conditions can be expected. The plants show seedling vigor, rapid growth, uniform height and maturity. Since the hybrids have heads and are often slighter than the varieties, occasional lodging may occur. Cultural practices the sorghum hybrids are the as recommended for sorghum varieties.

Detailed information on the seven hybrids is on L-310, Grain Sorghum Hybrids, available from the agent's office.

Texas Drivers Have Many Misconceptions About Traffic Laws
 The past eighteen years experience of the Texas Safety Association reveals that many Texas drivers and pedestrians have misconceptions about traffic laws. Here are seven such misconceptions—how is your score?
 1. The driver on the right always has the right-of-way at an intersection. Not so; Texas law states that the car entering the intersection first has the right-of-way. When two cars approach the intersection from different directions at approximately the same time the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right-of-way to the vehicle on the right.
 2. Pedestrians must yield to cars at intersections where there are no traffic lights. Wrong! The law gives pedestrians the right-of-way, with certain limitations, at all marked crosswalks.
 3. When a school bus stops to pick up or discharge children, you have to stop if you are behind it and traveling in the same direction. This is only partly correct. Texas law requires you to stop in such cases no matter in which direction you are driving.
 4. You don't have to stop on yellow when a traffic signal is changing from green to red. Wrong. The caution, or yellow light is a signal that the red or stop signal will be exhibited immediately thereafter and vehicular traffic shall not enter or be crossing the intersection when the red or stop signal is exhibited.
 5. You can make a turn any time as long as you signal. That's incorrect. To make a turn, you have to be in the proper lane and you are required to signal at least 100 feet before you turn.
 6. You may pass any time you see an opening. Wrong again. Texas law says that you have to give a car coming from the opposite direction at least 100 feet clearance after you have passed. You cannot pass at all when approaching within 100 feet of a bridge, viaduct or tunnel; or traversing an intersection or railroad crossing. The passing laws, of course, contain many other specific limitations.
 7. Drivers must watch out for pedestrians walking on the roadway. This is a good idea, but the law says a pedestrian must walk on the left side of the road or on the left shoulder. It is also illegal to walk in a roadway if a sidewalk is provided.
 The Panama Canal is 300 feet wide and 45 feet deep.
 The Suez Canal is 108 feet wide and 31 feet deep.

Growing Wildlife as a Crop Is Best Way to Better Hunting
 Growing wildlife as a crop is the best way to better hunting. This procedure is simple. Locate areas where wildlife is abundant during the winter time. Study these areas, paying special attention to food supply and cover. Then study the area on which wildlife is to be improved; compare the two. Cover and food supply are essential for wildlife. Does this area lack cover, or a food supply, or both? Many times cover and food can be improved by fencing livestock out of an area. Shelter belts or plum thickets make excellent wildlife areas when they are not heavily grazed. Legumes, small grains or grain sorghums can be planted near these areas for food. Odd areas such as field corners, fence rows or lanes can also be made into productive wildlife areas.
 Practically any farm can be improved for wildlife with little or no expense by simply improving the food and shelter. Other practices such as posting the land, killing predatory animals and artificial restocking help to propagate wildlife. However, they are more beneficial after cover and food supply are established than before. If food and cover are not available, the wildlife will migrate to a more suitable habitat.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:
 The tax folks say that a lot of taxpayers file their income tax returns and don't attach their W-2's. The W-2 is the little form that your employer gives you in January every year to send in along with your tax return. This W-2 Form shows how much tax you have already paid.
 Some taxpayers work in a lot of different places during the year and some of them have trouble trying to dig up all those little slips of paper. Internal Revenue requires all the W-2 forms. If you don't send them in with your tax return they will ask you for them. You save time by getting them before you file.

Chevrolet shows you some important differences in low-priced cars just by the look on its face!

Wouldn't you say that most of the '57 cars look good from 50 feet away, but what about from 50 inches away?
 What does a close-up of the grille tell you, for example? Is it solidly made like the new Chevrolet grille? Or, in comparison does it look less rich in design—feel less strong and solid? Compare the quality and construction of the bumpers and headlights, the fit of the chrome trim.
 The more closely you look all around the car, the more clearly you'll see that Chevrolet has the edge in the way it's put together. You'll find, for instance, that Chevrolet is the only car in its field with a lacquer finish... that only Chevrolet Bel Air models give you foam rubber cushions in front and rear seats as standard equipment. These are just a few of the advantages of Body by Fisher. And Chevrolet, you know, is the only low-priced car that has a Fisher Body.
 We'll be glad to give you a close-up, comparative look at this new Chevy any time you care to come in. This week, maybe?

heart can "learn" and be condi—tioned to respond in a certain —way to specific types of stimuli,
—according to Dr. W. Horsely
—Gantt (correct, believe it or not)
—and associates at Johns Hopkins —University.

The heart forms habits more
—quickly than any other muscle
—and has more difficulty dropping —them, Dr. Gantt believes. When —a man is angry or frightened, his —heart learns quickly to beat faster
—and send blood through the body
—at a rapid rate.

Should this become a habit, the —heart may do this when it is not —necessary, which may lead to high
—blood pressure.

The human heart has moral hab—its, too. The Bible tells us that —the heart of man is full of evil,
—unbelieving, proud, perverse, cov-—etous, stony and not prepared to —seek God (Ecclesiastes 9:3; He—brews 3:12; Psalm 101:5; Jere—miah 5:23; II Peter 2:14; Ezekial
—11:19; II Chronicles 12:14).

Jesus said, "Out of the heart
—proceed evil thoughts, murders,
—adulteries, fornications, thefts,
—false witness, blasphemies" (Mat—thew 15:19).

But God can open the heart,
—enlighten and strengthen it (Acts
—16:14; Ephesians 1:18; Psalm 27:
—14). God promises to give a re—pentant person a new heart (Eze—kial 36:26).

A believing heart is the chan—nel of salvation. "If thou shalt —confess with thy mouth the Lord
—Jesus, and shalt believe in thine
—heart that God hath raised him
—from the dead, thou shalt be sav—ed. For with the heart man be—lieveth unto righteousness" (Ro—mans 10:9, 10).

Why not start a new life with —a new heart?

THIS WEEK

—In Washington

With
Clinton Davidson

The biggest ques—tion in Washington
—this week is: What —will the new Con—gress do?

As the Senators and Repre—sentatives began to toss new bills
—into the legislative hopper this —week, it became evident that al—though membership hasn't chang—ed much from last year, the is—sues before Congress have.

The similarities between the —85th and 84th Congresses are —mostly on the surface. Democrats —continue to hold a majority in —both houses, entitling them to —name chairmen of the various —committees. That gives them a —big advantage.

The same "Balance of power"
—that existed in 1955 and 1956
—will continue this year and next.
—That is a Republican President
—with power to name cabinet mem—bers and other administrative of—ficials, but with a Congress con—trolled by Democrats.

President Eisenhower demon—strated during the past two years
—that he can work well with a —Democratic-controlled Congress.
—His overwhelming popular vote
—in November should make it even —easier to get along with the new —Congress. And, unlike 1956, no
—general election is scheduled for —1957.

There will, of course, be no
—moratorium on politics. Both par—ties, naturally, will jockey for

—Henry in Vernon.

Joe Johnson has resigned as —manager of the Co-Op. Station
—effective Jan. 15. He left Jan.

—Phil will follow him at a later —date. The executive board of the —station honored them with a din—ner in the home of Mr. and Mrs.
—R. H. Cooper last Friday night.

They were presented a lovely elec—trical appliance as a farewell —gift. The community regrets the political advantages. They will —keep in mind that there will be —another congressional election in —1958 and a Presidential election

—again in 1960.

Chances are there will be few
—pitched battles between the White —House and Congress. Most differ—ences will be over details rather —than on board policy. On the big —issue, that of strengthening the —Free World, they should be in —accord.

The President wants, and Con—gress will grant, something like
—$5 billion in appropriations to —help our allies and friends abroad.
—The big problem will be how to —keep peace in the world, and —neither Congress nor the Presi—dent will quibble over the cost
—in dollars.

National prosperity is at an —all-time high, and both Congress
—and the President will be anxious —to keep incomes up, but to avoid —any rapid rise in inflation. Two —trouble spots that will get special —attention are small business and —farmers.

New legislation will be aimed —at strengthening curbs on big —business mergers that would add —to the problems of small business —men. Credit curbs may be eased
—where necessary to help small —businesses in serious trouble.

There will be scores of farm

—of them will be intended to amend
—and strengthen existing legisla—tion. The knock-down battle be—tween 90 per cent of parity and —75 to 90 per cent flexible sup—ports isn't likely to be repeated

Other issues on which Congress

—for agricultural research, and ex—pansion of soil and water conser-

Miss Clo Vonne McKown to Marry in Fort Worth Feb. 14

Announcement has been made of the forthcoming marriage of Miss Clo Vonne McKown of Fort Worth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McKown of Crowell, and Warren B. McMichael, also of Fort Worth.

Miss McKown and fiance will be married at 8 p. m. Feb. 14 in Weatherford Street Methodist Church in Fort Worth. She was reared in Crowell and is a graduate of Crowell High School, but has lived in Fort Worth since her graduation.

LUNCHEON HONORS GUESTS

Mrs. A. Y. Beverly was hostess at a delightful luncheon at her home on Friday, January 11, with members of the program committee of the Children's district of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist Church as guests. Plans were made for programs for the coming year for both sub-district and district meetings.

Present for the luncheon were

Mesdames Mac G. Tarver of Memphis, A. F. Vernon, E. E. White and John Cates of Childress, Virgil Johnson of Foard City, Grady Adcock and Grover Cole of Crowell. Mrs. Johnson is district president and Mrs. Beverly is sub-district leader.

The luncheon table was attractive with a centerpiece of an arrangement of flowers in a pink styrofoam base. A delicious two-course luncheon was served. The business was carried on following the luncheon.

GARDEN CLUB

The Crowell Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. N. J. Roberts on Friday, Jan. 11, with Mrs. Roberts as hostess. After a short business session during which plans were made for a luncheon and guest-day on Friday, Feb. 8, two new members, Mrs. John Cogdell and Mrs. Walter Cates, were elected to membership in the club.

Mrs. Karl ten Brink, Mrs. L. A. Andrews and Mrs. E. J. Thomas were responsible for securing landscaping slides which were used to teach the proper placing of shrubbery and the proper massing of colors in landscaping. Some of these slides were made in Foard County. Others were made in famous Southern gardens in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Florida. Of particular interest in this group were the slides made in Bellegrath Gardens near Mobile, Ala. Another interesting series of slides were those of the famous Vanderbilt summer home and formal gardens near Asheville, N. C.

Slides were also shown of the gardens in Indonesia. These were very interesting in that many of the flowers were not familiar, and often the natives in their colorful native dress, were included in the pictures. The lovely grass in the pictures was hand clipped, but appeared to have been cut with a mower.

Officers to be installed for the new year are Mrs. L. A. Andrews, president; Mrs. R. J. Thomas, vice president; and Mrs. Clarence Garrett, secretary.

Refreshments were served to the members and one visitor, Mrs. J. B. Raspberry.

HENRY CIRCLE

The Henry Circle met in the home of Mrs. Dwight Campbell Monday afternoon with Mrs. Foster Davis as leader.

Mrs. Mark Henry gave the devotional taken from the 68th Psalm. She stressed the various thoughts that one should not get too busy to show her gratitude for the many blessings that she possesses in her own personal way. "Islands in our own community" was the main thought of the afternoon and was under the leadership of Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Moody Bursay presented as a special feature the life of a young, leading evangelist. Appetizing refreshments were served at the close of the program.

VIVIAN H. D. CLUB

Plans for the new year were made at the Vivian Home Demonstration Club meeting which was held in the home of Mrs. W. O. Fish on Thursday, Jan. 10.

Mrs. Warren Haynie, club president, appointed the following club committee chairmen: finance and marketing, Neoma Fish; yearbook, Mrs. Clyde Bowley; recreation, Myrtle Fish and Mrs. Allen Fish; education, exhibit and expansion, Mrs. W. O. Fish. Demonstrators are to be the same as last year. Yearbooks were filled out for the coming year and the constitution and by-laws were adopted.

Club goals decided upon are the cleaning of the Vivian cemetery, contributing money to the Crowell Cemetery, and to have monthly parties for the club members and their families.

Refreshments were served to eight members and one visitor, Mrs. John E. Fish. Club will meet Jan. 24 with Mrs. Allen Fish at 2:30 p. m.

WEST SIDE H. D. CLUB

A donation of ten dollars to the Crowell Cemetery was one of the goals made by the West Side Home Demonstration Club which met in the home of Mrs. J. T. King Thursday, Jan. 11, at 2 p. m.

"A New Year Is Beginning" which was read by Mrs. E. A. Dunagan, opened the meeting. Business was discussed. President and vice president duties were read by Mrs. S. H. Ross. The next meeting on Jan. 8, at 2 p. m., will be held at Mrs. Bert Matthews' home. New members will be very welcome.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames S. E. Tate, E. A. Dunagan, S. H. Ross, Walter Thomson, Oscar Gentry, J. T. King, J. B. Weathered and one visitor.

FOARD CITY H. D. CLUB

"An early start should be a good start," Mrs. Glen Jones, the club president, told the Foard City Home Demonstration Club members when they met for the first meeting of the new year at the church Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 1.

Mrs. Jones discussed her plans for the year after she gave the opening exercise. The constitution and by-laws were read and adopted.

Club goals chosen for the year are 1. sponsor a sewing class for the 4-H girls, 2. clean the church grounds and local cemetery; and 3. pack and send boxes of supplies to the state mental and tuberculosis hospital patients.

Mrs. E. V. Halbert drew the hostess gift and Mrs. Jones served dainty refreshments to six members.

At the next meeting at 2 p. m., Jan. 16 at the recreation room, Mrs. Mary D. Brown will be in charge of the program, "Use of Credit."

with Mrs. V. A. Johnson presiding. Following a period of silent prayer, a monologue by Paul and one by Stephen, explaining some of their lives and duties, were read by Mrs. Grady Halbert and Mrs. Bob Ely.

Beginning the new study on the missionary work of Paul, Mrs. Johnson reviewed briefly the situation, political and religious, immediately preceding the miraculous conversion of Paul. The worship center, the table with an open Bible and a tiny church building lighted by an equally tiny lamp, added to Mrs. Johnson's remarks about the very earliest church.

"The Mission of the Church" and "The Message of the Church" will be the lessons for Monday, January 21, and everyone is invited to attend these study sessions.

A prayer by Mrs. Blake McDaniel concluded the meeting of the members and Mrs. J. C. Rader and Bert and Mrs. Glen Jones, guests.
