Government Employees Cost Taxpayers $30 Billion a Year
"The nation's 'help,' a total of eight million workers at the Federal, state and local level, are costing us in the neighborhood of $30 billion a year, says the Tax Foundation, Inc. If we add our uniformed defenders, the ticket is approximately $40 billion! "The most rapid increase has been in the state and local payroll which has multiplied four times in the past 18 years and now totals $19 billion a year. No wonder 'hired help' at home is out of the question any more!"—West Union, W. Va., Record.

Leading Candidate for Supreme Court Urges Texans to Vote Sat.

The leading candidate for Place One Supreme Court in the first primary has issued a statement urging all voters to take a personal interest in the run-off election to be held Saturday.

Robert W. Hamilton, who led the ticket by more than 160,000 votes in the first primary, said: "Each voter should decide for himself which candidate is best qualified, then be sure to take time to vote on Saturday, remembering that the Supreme Court has a greater potential effect upon our rights as individuals than any other office in our state or nation. Texas is one of the states which allows its citizens the privilege of voting upon members of its Supreme Court and each Texas voter should express his preference in this election even though in some cases this will be the only race on the ballot."

Hamilton is a veteran jurist now serving as Chief Justice 8th Court of Civil Appeals, just one step in rank below the Supreme Court post for which he is candidate. He has 31 years experience in general practice, as county and district attorney, district judge, and including five years as Chief Appeals Justice.

Justice Hamilton was selected as the preferred candidate of Texas lawyers in a secret vote conducted by the State Bar and he led the field of three candidates with a total 476,799 votes in the first primary, less than seven per cent short of a majority which would have given him a victory without a run-off.

This is the time of the year when snakes begin crawling again. Not all snakes are poisonous, but it is well to watch out for them.

Most of the snakes you'll find around the yard probably are grass or garter snakes. In your fishing trips, however, you are likely to encounter poisonous snakes.

In Texas we have four poisonous snakes. Most frequently mentioned is the rattler. There are several different brands of rattlers, and all are dangerous. They don't always warn, either, before they strike.

Rattlers will be found around brush and rock piles, under leaves and around old lumber piles. Frequently they get out into the open and especially during that period of the day when it is not too hot. Watch out for them!

If you spend a great deal of time in snake country it would be a good idea to take along a snake kit and know how to use it.

This is one item that should be in every fisherman's tackle box and in every hunter's pocket.

If you are bitten by a snake, use your kit immediately. Then get to a doctor as quickly as you can. But don't run. Don't take a drink of liquor, either. Remain as calm as possible. Don't do anything that will increase blood circulation.

Contrary to the belief of many, rattlesnake bites are not always fatal. They'll make you sick enough to wish that you could die, but actually the mortality from snake bite, properly treated, is less than 1 per cent. It is only 10 to 15 per cent without any treatment. So, don't get excited. Be calm and treat yourself with your kit . . . carefully and properly.

Now, about some of our other Texas snakes. One of these days, while you are out fishing, you are bound to encounter a water moccasin. There are several varieties of moccasins. Let me warn you here and now—all are dangerous!

A final word of caution. Don't get smart with snakes. Once in a while, some fellow thinks he knows it all and tries to impress his friends. It is bad business monkeying with snakes. Snakes are not playthings.

While we're on the subject—a word of warning about spiders and scorpions also is in line. They can make you very sick. Smash them every time you get a chance. It is well to remember that most snake bite kits may be used to counteract bee stings, spider and insect bites also.

Farming Still Highly Diversified

Farming in the United States remains highly diversified despite the continued developments in mechanization and automation, John G. McHaney, extension economist, says this is true not only in crops produced, but also in size, in labor spent in production and in investment in land and equipment.

A recent U. S. Department of Agriculture report on farm costs and returns on family-operated farms for 1957 lists 31 major types of commercial farms and 18 important farming areas in the nation, says McHaney.

The different types of farms vary considerably in acreage and intensity of use. Farms range in size from an average of 10 acres for poultry farms to 13,340 acres per sheep ranch in the Southwest. Little or no land is cropped on these two types of farms.

Farms with more intensive cropping range from an average of 29 acres harvested on high-labor intensive tobacco farms, to around 425 acres on grain-roughage livestock farms. Average labor used per acre of cropland ranges from 135 hours on tobacco farms to 8 1/2 hours on grain-roughage livestock farms.

Total investments per farm also vary considerably among the types of farms, points out the economist. Peanut-cotton farms averaged a total investment of $10,530 in 1957, while the sheep ranches of the Southwest averaged $177,770. Machinery and equipment investments ranged from $1,800 for the peanut-cotton and poultry farms to almost $17,000 on wheat-pea farms.

McHaney also points out that a wide range in total investments exists within a farming type area and among individual farms within the area. Corn Belt farms, for example, range from less than $40,000 to more than $100,000 per farm.

75-Day Season on Waterfowl Set for Texas Hunters

There will be a 75-day hunting season for ducks and geese in Texas this year for all species except Canadas and white-fronts. This is the information brought from Washington by the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. The dates approved by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service were those asked for not only by the Texas Commission, but the Central Flyways Council. This group met in Corpus Christi two weeks ago and heard technicians who had been making duck and goose counts.

The duck and goose season will open in Texas November 1, and continue through Jan. 14, both days inclusive. Shooting will be permitted from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset.

The open season on Canadas and white-fronts (specks) will be from Nov. 16 to Jan. 14, inclusive. This reduction of 15 days is the result of a decreased population of the birds, according to the biologists.

Hunters may take five ducks and/or five geese a day. The possession limit on ducks is 10, while the possession of geese is limited to one day's kill. On geese, only two Canadas or their sub-species may be taken, or one Canada and one white-front. On snows and blues five of either or in the aggregate may be taken.

Rail and gallinule season has been set for Sept. 1 through Nov.

Quail Need Ample Cover for Winter

Texas' bumper crop of quail may not lead to good hunting in some areas unless sufficient winter cover has already been provided, reports the director of Wildlife Restoration of the Game and Fish Commission.

If farmers and ranchers have not taken steps to supply the quail with some sort of permanent woody cover and food, they can expect to find fewer birds this winter than are in their areas now.

"The natural fall shifting will account for some of the movement," Al Springs, Commission wildlife biologist, said, "but the first freeze will cause quail to begin searching for new places with protection from predators and the weather."

Some brush pile cover added

now might help keep quail. Springs added, but attention should have been given to this phase of quail management earlier for a good fall hunt.

Reports over the state still indicate this will be the best quail season in several years. The season is from December 1 through January 16, except in special regulatory areas. The law provides a bag limit of 12 a day and not more than 36 a week or in possession.

"Proper wildlife land management is the only presently known method of keeping quail in an area," the director said.

Organization of Transport Workers Too Powerful

"James R. Hoffa's proposal to weld the nation's land, sea and air transport unions into a solid alliance is not going to encounter smooth sledding . . . Some indication of the difficulties ahead was contained in a statement by Guy L. Brown, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Brown told the 70 members of his union that he poses joining any such amalgamation of organized labor strikes. His fear of the consequences summed up in a sentence that its wide-spread public attention: 'I firmly believe that if this for organizing all the transport unions into one large group adopted, the organization would become so powerful that it would result in the destruction of the nation.'—Terre Haute, Ind., June Star.

Soil Conservation Service Tells Farmers How to Kill Moss in Farm Ponds
Every year many farm ponds are ruined for fishing because of moss and other submerged plants that invade ponds. Large amounts of these plants in a pond will lead to over-populated and stunted fish. A pond with weeds growing over most of the bottom not only produces a small total weight of fish, but the fish will usually be small in size.
There are several ways of controlling weeds in a pond. Probably the most satisfactory way is by the use of fertilizer. This method is highly desirable because as the weeds are killed, the fish receive the benefits of the fertilizer.
When fertilizer is applied to a pond, the microscopic green and blue-green algae in the water are encouraged to grow. As these microscopic plants grow, the water becomes darker in color. As the water darkens, sunlight is kept from the plants growing on the bottom of the pond. Since sunlight is essential to these plants, they are soon shaded out. The microscopic plants that cause the water to darken are an excellent source of food for fish. Whenever a fertilizing program is being carried out, applications of fertilizer should be made every time the water gets clear enough to see your hand 18 inches below the surface of the water.
There are other chemicals that can be used to clear weeds out of ponds. However, only persons thoroughly familiar with these chemicals should attempt to use them.
Anyone interested in eradicating weeds from a farm pond can contact Charlie Boynton, local game warden. Joe Burkett, county agent, or drop by the Soil Conservation Service office for technical assistance.

Moral Responsibility for American Troops in Lebanon
From the Portland Oregonian:
"... The people of the United States—any free people—would not tolerate intervention merely for the protection of the commercial interests of oil companies. That is not the reason U. S. Marines are in Lebanon. They are there because behind the oil and behind the power politics are a national purpose and responsibility the heart of which is... eminently moral..."
Fighting Poor Battle for Minds of the Populace
"Churches, the homes and the schools appear to be fighting not much better than a holding action for the minds of the populace. In many a city or hamlet, no matter its size, there is an underworld organized and effective in striving to take over. The larger the locality, the richer the material rewards, and against these elements the conscientious citizen must always do battle, at the ballot box and in the public forum."—Virginia, Minn., Mesabi Daily News.
Biggest Mass Gathering of Criminals in World History
"That now famous secret meeting of top national gangsters last Fall in Apalachin, New York, must have been the biggest mass gathering of criminal leaders in world history..."
"Apalachin guest list probably doesn't have much of a future in crookdom. He'd better look around for another game. He might even try going straight."—Olympian, Washington, Daily Olympian.
Bob Barker has returned from Albuquerque, N. M., where he visited Billy Joe Taylor, and family.

COLD WAR
The time for victory in the cold war is running out under pressure of Soviet success in weapon technology, says Industrial David Sarnoff. He believes that it is only a matter of time—"within five years and possibly sooner"—that both Russia and the United States will have mass production of the transoceanic missiles, and then will come "dreadful parity."

SPOKEN WORDS HAVE A WAY OF BECOMING DISTORTED

If you've ever tried to track down a rumor, or unscramble a piece of gossip, you know how elusive is the spoken word! Or maybe you've noticed that you can't quite recall that funny quip by your favorite radio or TV comedian, yet you have no trouble quoting a joke you've read. It's a natural thing with all of us. STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—Everyone wants harmony at the State Democratic Convention Sept. 9 in San Antonio. Gov. Price Daniel, U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, National Committeeman Byron Skelton, and Speaker Sam Rayburn—all say they want harmony.

Even National Committeewoman Mrs. E. D. Randolph, who has tirelessly needed Governor Daniel and the state committee for two years, more or less joined in by predicting "a spirit of good will" among delegates.

Despite all the expressions of good intent, harmony among Texas Democrats is hard to come by. Like a huge household of relatives and in-laws, the party always has many clashing personalities and viewpoints under one roof. In the past, there've been rump conventions and separate rival delegations in the national convention.

It is the hope of avoiding this in 1960 that lies behind the cementing efforts. Many leaders contend that a unified Texas delegation could have a key role in naming the next presidential nominee.

All the above-mentioned leaders are presently agreed on one issue—support of the party nominees. Point on which they part is whether the governor should have a veto over the state committee members selected by vote of district delegations.

Governor Daniel, following the practice of past governors, bumped some of the district-selected committee members in 1956 and submitted people more in line with his program.

Mrs. Randolph and Senator Yarborough, now joined by Rayburn, insist the governor has no right to do this.

But Governor Daniel has not promised he wouldn't. He said he felt no district should propose a committee member who is "dedicated to the sabotage of . . . duly elected officers of the party." This almost certainly refers to members of the Democrats of Texas (DOT), an ultra-liberal group that has heckled and hindered the governor and other official party leaders at every turn for the past two years.

Delegates from each of the 31 senatorial districts are allowed two state committee members—a man and a woman. It is estimated that perhaps six of these districts may be controlled by anti-Daniel forces. Therein lies the possibility for discord. If any of these districts proposes at DOTer for the state committee, the governor is not likely to "harmonize."

HIGH HOPES—Mr. Wilson went to Washington, his saddlebags full of multi-million-dollar hopes for Texas school children.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson personally delivered the Texas brief in the upcoming U. S. Supreme Court case on Texas tidelands. At issue is whether the state or federal government owns submerged lands between the points 3 miles out and 10.5 miles out.

Wilson carried the arguments for Texas ownership in 40-year-old saddlebags that belonged to a heroic Texas Ranger. He declares optimistically that the case is "mixed in Texas' favor—because the brief is dated Aug. 13, trial is set for Oct. 13, oral arguments will last 13 hours and 13 people worked on the research. More seriously, he noted that Texas had spent "a big sum of money" marshalling its facts, that a bevy of top-notch legal minds from over the state, nation and 2 foreign countries had spent some 2,000 hours on the 400-page brief. "We feel like we have an overwhelming case," he said. "We feel like we will win it." Exploration indicates that the 7.5-mile band of disputed land is exceptionally rich in oil and gas. If Texas is successful in holding its claim, revenue from these resources would go into the Permanent School Fund.

PLACE IN THE SUN—Texas Republicans have served notice they will demand an even break at getting their candidates in the favored position on the general election ballot.

Desired place is the first column on the left. GOP leaders say people automatically begin reading in this column, and some never go any further.

Republicans hope to work things out on the local level with some sort of coin-tossing arrangement. But they say they'll go to court, if necessary.

CITIES WIN OUT—Cities and utility companies won the first round of a court battle to determine who pays the cost of relocating utilities for new interstate highways.

An Austin district court ruled that the cost can be paid from federal-state highway funds, as provided in a law passed by the last legislature. State Highway Department is challenging the constitutionality of this law.

Ultimate decision will, of course, be made by the Supreme Court. Some estimate the re-location costs could run as high as Adult parole staff was authorized by the last Legislature to allow for release of prisoners who show promise of "going straight." About 3,000 persons are now on parole in Texas, and more are expected to be released as the new supervisors go to work.

Men Under 25 Rated as Country's Worst Drivers

"Does your son drive, or is he about to start? Perhaps there are questions in your mind about young men at the wheel. The insurance industry and state traffic officials have studied this problem for years and following are some answers which might be of interest.

"Young men under 25 as a group rate as the country's worst drivers. Make your son understand that a mature attitude in driving is the most important part of safety. And teach him that responsibility on the highway 'separates the men from the boys'."—Hartem, Montana, News.

Your social security account is the key to your family's and your own financial security.

Make sure that this record is accurate by checking your account at least once every three years. You can do this by completing a wage statement request card, available at your local social security office. In making your request, give your social security number, date of birth, mailing address, and sign your name.

Chances are that the record of your account will agree with your own record of your wages or self-employment earnings, but in the event you find it does not, your local social security office will help you to correct any error in your account.

There is no charge for this service.

Before hauling for hire, truck owners must have the proper authority from the Texas Railroad Commission.

Railroads Are Essential

"The fact is that no matter how many trucks we put on highways, how many new we build, our country could function a week without the thin lines of steel crisscrossing America and the hundreds of thousands of cars carrying people and freight to every corner of the continent. More than 70 per cent of all the railroad mileage in the world is in the United States. Canada. Railroads are more responsible for our way of life than any one part of our economy."—Johns, Arizona, Independent News.

There were only four days in 1957 in which a motorcycle did not occur in Texas.

During 1957, 2,539 persons were killed in 2,077 traffic accidents reports Texas DPS.

Treatment of PK Lake Now Paying Off in Better Fishing

Recent treatment of Possum Kingdom Lake to kill gizzard shad is proving successful with reports of improved fishing, according to the Director of Inland Fisheries of the Game and Fish Commission.

The 16,500-acre lake was treated August 6 by spraying a synergized rotenone solution from airplanes. This is the first attempt ever made to spray more than 99 per cent of a lake by air application, and the largest volume of water ever treated for a fish kill.

Shoreline counts were made after the spraying operation to determine the number of fish affected. On the basis of preliminary counts, hurried calculations indicate that approximately 40 million gizzard and threadfin shad were killed in the treatment. This figure does not take into account the shad eaten by game fish or by small animals along the shore.

Other species of fish were found, but spot checks seem to hold their numbers to the original estimate of one-half of one per cent of the total.

Random shoreline samples were taken at different parts of the lake. Along measured 100-foot sections, Commission biologists found as few as 4 and as many as 84,900 shad. In some sections no fish were found, but this occurred mainly where sheer rock cliffs extended into the water.

By riding the lake of this many shad the game fish food supply has been reduced, making for better fishing over the whole lake, the director said. Proof of this began showing up as early as Friday morning after the Wednesday spraying when fishermen brought in full strings of large crappie and bass.

ONE-THIRD OF RUSSIANS WORK ON FARMS

More than one-third of the Russian population of working age was employed in agriculture in a recent year, compared with less than one-tenth of the comparable population in America, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. The USSR can find more workers for its industries and services only by withdrawing manpower from the farms and military service.

Patrolmen in four services of the Texas Department of Public Safety are among the best trained lawmen in the state.

EMPLOYERS BELONGED TO UNION AND DIDN'T EVEN KNOW IT!

"Of all the strange quirks in union-management relations being revealed by the Senate inquiry, one of the strangest is the way unionism was forced on Chicago restaurants that paid initiation fees and dues for their employees, without the knowledge of the enrolled workers, who got no benefits from the enforced membership. That is what happens when goons and racketeers take over unions for their own profit." — Norwalk, Conn., Hour.
