ent Says Stripe Rust Continuing Damage Foard County Wheat Crop

Stripe rust continues to damage Foard County wheat. Just how much damage it has caused is not accurately estimated because this disease not only cuts yield, but can cause lower weight and shriveled grain. Weather and sunshine can reduce the damage while continued wet weather could make it to be much worse. This will also cause the wheat to be weakened thereby increasing the hazard of lodging, but if all this, we still have a wheat crop, Joe Burkett, county agent, said this week.

LIFE'S LESSONS AS LEARNED IN HIGH SCHOOL
 by Sandra Campbell

How swiftly time flies! From the moment I entered high school, the years have just seemed to vanish. Now I stand on the threshold of the door of life—about to graduate. I ask myself, what have I learned in these four years of high school?

tor of my education has been learning how to get along with people. As I have grown older, I have learned that I cannot expect the other person to do all the giving. I must contribute my part, too. How I get along with my friends today is like a mirror—what I do today will reflect my actions for tomorrow. It is up to me, and to me alone, to make these reflections good.

Good results do not come easy! I have learned, through experience, that nothing worthwhile is brought about without effort on my part. Whether it is a good grade in some subject, the winning of a ball game or a first division at a band contest, hard work is required to make it possible. This will be true in whatever field of work that I choose in the future. No matter what I become—a secretary, teacher, model, singer or scientist, I cannot succeed without work.

Now, as I graduate from high school, having learned valuable lessons, I feel that I am ready to meet the problems that will determine whether or not I have grown into a responsible person.

WELL, WE MADE IT!

Made what? Each weekly edition of the Wildcat News. Seriously, there have been times when we could visualize a big blank space right in the middle of the Foard County News. Why? Because we doubted we'd be able to fill up the columns allotted to us. Now, you, our readers—perhaps wonder about this statement for you surely think that it would be an easy task to get together the amount of material that appears each week in our section of the paper.

Again, may we ask you another question: Did you ever try to do anything—no matter how small—when there was no time for it? Well, that's the predicament the high school news staff is in. Because of the varied schedules of staff members, there cannot be a period set aside for planning, writing, checking the material. So, it takes place in the only possible way that it can... it "just happens!"

Each staff member has a specific type job for which he is responsible and without anyone's reminding him—he just gets his job done or it goes undone. Then the checking, typing and rechecking are certainly done "on the run" by the sponsor and editor—and sometimes a final check can't be made.

Now we're not apologizing for our publication, and if you have any suggestions whereby next year's edition might be improved under the circumstances in which we work—we'd appreciate them. But anyway, we, the editor, Shirley Fox, and the assistant editors, Elizabeth Davis and Kerry Brown, and the sponsor, Mrs. Earl Manard, would like to say "thank you" to each staff member for his weekly contributions, to the teachers and students for their assistance, and to the readers for their understanding of the situation under which the paper is published, and especially to Mr. Klepper and the Foard County News staff for permitting our "sense and nonsense."

This is the final "general" publication for this term as next week's paper will be the senior edition. That is, unless in our hurry, we fail to get time to get it in!

MRS. N. J. ROBERTS INSTRUCTS BIOLOGY CLASS

A lesson on civic pride was demonstrated to the high school biology class as they visited Mrs. Roberts' in her garden and saw her beautiful and highly prized plants.

After meeting the members of the class, Mrs. Roberts told them the way to have a yard was to spend some fifty years working in it. Her iris plants, of which she has some fifty varieties, were in bloom and caused many 'ohs' and 'ahs' from the members.

The purpose of the visit was to help build attitudes for more successful living, and this was fully accomplished. Mrs. Roberts was invited to visit the biology class room to give them the history of the early days in Foard County, and she graciously consented to do so; so on Monday, May 12, she paid the class a visit. My, who knew there was so much history right here in our own county!

Thank you, Mrs. Roberts, for the time and effort spent in bringing us this information.

FUTURE FRESHMAN GIRLS HONORED WITH TEA

The future freshmen girls were honored at a Japanese Tea held Tuesday afternoon at the home economics cottage. The 6th period homemaking girls met the freshmen at the door and presented them with flowers in the traditional Japanese style. After entering the cottage, the girls were ushered into a colorfully decorated room where beautiful (Japanese girls) dressed in kimonos served them molded salad, open faced sandwiches and tea.

Following the refreshments, mock try-outs were held for a Japanese play. Everyone enjoyed the tea very much.

F. H. A. HAS MOTHER-DAUGHTER TEA

Friday, May 9, the F. H. A. members and their mothers met in the high school auditorium to install the 1958-59 officers and to attend a Mother-Daughter Tea.

Lillie Polk awarded junior degrees to 16 homemaking girls and a chapter degree to one member. This year's officers gave the eight purposes of the FHA organization and each newly elected officer gave the duties of her office. After the members repeated the FHA creed and sang the FHA song, they adjourned to the home economics cottage for punch and cookies served by the hostesses, Janet Rabe and Elizabeth Davis.

A beautiful corsage was presented to the sponsor, Mrs. Doyle Kenner, in behalf of the members and to show their appreciation and esteem for her. Each girl also presented a corsage to her mother as a Mother's Day token.

This was the last meeting of the FHA to be held this year. The organization has been very successful because of capable officers, a wonderful sponsor, and a group of helpful members.

SPEECH CLASS PRESENTS SKIT

Friday morning, Mrs. Bursey's sixth period Speech Class presented a skit entitled "Ladies of the Mop." Sally Dixon, one of the ladies of the mop, wanted to become a great actress; Judy Borchardt wanted to bang out a tune on the piano instead of swishing a mop; Rachel Rodriguez wanted to be a famous dancer, and Lou Ann Summers took time out from her mopping to practice her voice lessons.

This was a very hilarious skit, and the whole student body enjoyed it. Doesn't Mrs. Bursey do a wonderful job with her speech students?

SENIOR SPOTLIGHTS

James Grady McDaniel, known as Grady McGoo, is 5' 8" tall, has brown hair and brown eyes. Grady's favorite food is chicken fried steak with gravy, French fries,iced tea, and a dessert of homemade apple pie.

Roxie Adkins is Grady's favorite sport, and he also enjoys playing the game of tennis. His hobby is hunting in the winter and fishing in the "good ole summertime."

Anything pertaining to math is Grady's favorite subject, and "you know what" is the hardest which he is taking. Yes, it's English. His favorite type of music is western, and all movie stars, except a very few, are his favorite ones.

After he graduates, Grady plans to go to business college in Wichita Falls. (This isn't all he's going to do either). We wish you and yours the best of everything, Grady!

Shirley Hough has brown hair, green eyes and is 5' 3" tall. Her favorite subjects are math and typing; English IV is her most difficult. Fried chicken is Shirley's favorite food.

Shirley has no favorite movie actor nor does she prefer any special type of music. After she graduates, Shirley plans to go to college and major in business. We wish you luck, Shirley.

Roy Don Payne is an average American boy. In describing Roy, we had quite a bit of trouble. He refused to cooperate. At first he said he was 5 feet tall, blue eyed, read headed, and preferred Lassie as a movie star. We finally wheedled the truth from him. He stands 5' 9 1/2" tall, has green eyes and likes Sugarfoot as an actor. His face is quite familiar around the high school. He has lettered four years in football and played basketball and competed in track at intervals.

Roy says that classes don't bother him too much; English is his favorite class, and Texas History is his hardest. Roy has odd likes and dislikes. His pet peeves are cats and dogs; his favorite sport is swimming (he said he couldn't swim). He also likes Italian foods, spaghetti and meatballs, and Italian actresses, Gina Lollobrigida.

Roy plans to become a beauty operator (barber) after graduation. We wish Roy the best of luck in his future life. (May he find a beautiful girl in the beauty parlor).

Wanda Akers Ray is 5' 3" tall, has green eyes and beautiful long dark hair. Wanda's main interest right now is her 10 month old son. Wanda's favorite meal consists of enchiladas and the trimmings. Rock Hudson and Elizabeth Taylor are her favorite movie stars. When Wanda was asked her favorite subject, we got a surprise—it is plane geometry. Her hardest subject is (as usual) English IV.

Last year Wanda won the Betty Crocker homemaker award. She is a member of the FHA and enjoys taking part in their activities. Her pet peeve is conceited people. After graduation, Wanda hopes to become a registered nurse. Whether she accomplishes her goal will depend largely upon her son. Good luck to you, Wanda.

Ray Thomson is 5' 11" tall, has brown hair and darling? blue eyes. Ray's favorite subject is anything that pertains to chemistry. His hardest subject to understand is girls. Ray's favorite food is enchiladas and a glass of tequila. His favorite movie stars are Burt Lancaster and Rin Tin Tin.

Ray is president of the CHS Student Council. He was also captain of the CHS football team his junior and senior years. He served as class president for 3 years.

Ray's favorite sport is swimming; football ranks high on his list of sports. Like most of us, his pet peeve is working. (Ain't it the truth?)

After he graduates, Ray plans to major in electrical engineering at Texas Tech. Good luck to you, Ray.

LESS INCOME FOR RAILROADS

In 1929, the railroads had a net income of $897 million. The 1956 figure was close to that—$876 million. But, due to inflation, the 1956 income had a buying power of only $476 million when measured in terms of 1929 dollars.

 News About Your Social Security
 Businessmen, including self-employed farmers, who are retiring can speed up social security payments by having the necessary documents at hand.
 When filing a claim for social security, certain proofs are required. A self-employed individual should have an extra copy of Income Tax Form 1040, and Schedule C or F, depending upon his business activity. Where partnership Form 1065 was filed, a copy of that form also will be required. These forms will be kept with his file in the Social Security Administration. Usually forms for only one year are needed—the last one before the year you file a claim for old-age benefits. Also be prepared to show your cancelled check, money order receipt, or other evidence showing payment of social security taxes for that year.
 A representative of the social security office in Wichita Falls will be in Crowell at the court house on May 13. Anyone desiring information or assistance in social security matters is invited to meet with the representative.
 Afghanistan is approximately the same size as the state of Texas.

FOR RAILROAD
 railroads had $897 million. That is close to that of the federal government, which had a budget of $47.6 billion in terms of 1957.

Crowell, Texas, May 15, 1958 THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS—3

THIS WEEK -In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

All of the evidence in Washington this week adds up to the conclusion that the big farm battle between Congress and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson is for all practical purposes, over for this year.

Washington rates the battle as a draw. Both sides have shown themselves to be strong on defense and weak on offense. It is unlikely that there will be another major clash before Congress adjourns.

Obviously, neither Benson nor Congress is satisfied with the outcome of efforts to enact new farm legislation. Each, quite naturally, blames the other for the failure. There are bitter men in Congress, and Benson is unhappy.

Both the Farm Bloc and Benson began the battle with a sort of gentlemen's agreement on one thing: Unless substantial changes in present farm laws were made the 5-year farm depression would continue and deepen.

Then, in January, President Eisenhower sent Benson's blueprints for farm law revisions to Congress and urged prompt passage. Instead, Congress tossed them into the wastebasket without so much as a second reading.

Congress then set out to keep Benson from doing what it told him two years ago he could do if he wanted to—lower farm price supports to 75 per cent of parity. It passed a price support freeze bill aimed at voiding reductions Benson had made, and which economists estimated would lower farm income by half a billion dollars this year.

President Eisenhower sent the bill back to the hill with a veto message that left no doubt about whose side he was on in the farm law battle. That was Benson's greatest hour of triumph.

The official record of the Cabinet meeting at which the veto was finally decided on may never be made public. But an off-the-record version is being accepted in Congress as having some resemblance to the facts.

Vice President Richard Nixon, credited by some with being a behind-the-scenes leader of "dump Benson" forces, is said to have opened the Cabinet meeting with an appeal to the President to sign the price freeze bill.

The report goes on to relate that Mr. Eisenhower put the question to a sort of informal vote, and that a majority supported Mr. Nixon. A veto, it was argued, would be bad economics and worse politics.

The President is said to have indicated he might agree if Benson would withdraw his recommendation that the bill be vetoed. As Congress gets the story, Benson replied he could not tell the President what to do, but that if the bill were signed he would feel compelled to resign.

 Mr. Eisenhower is reported to have replied to the effect that his mind was made up, he would veto, and to have added "Ezra, you are my Secretary of Agriculture for as long as I am President."
 The story, whether or not accurate, has made a profound impression on many congressmen who formerly were among Benson's most severe critics. It convinced them that it probably is useless to pass a farm bill that does not have the prior approval of Secretary Benson.
 And that is how and why the big farm battle fizzled out like a wet firecracker.

George Slept Here...

He pulled off the highway and asked if he could take a little snooze.
 We pride ourselves that Phillips 66 Stations are first-rate service stations. We're even glad to make them sleeping stations in an emergency. So George took his snooze.
 Good thing he did because, dog-tired and drowsy, he might have fallen asleep at the wheel while driving.
 This little incident suggests, in a small way, the hospitable attitude of Phillips 66 Service men generally. Ask any regular patron of Phillips 66 Stations and he'll tell you that Phillips Dealers go out of their way to treat you and your car right—perform many a service you wouldn't expect to get elsewhere.
 Better yet, drive in and see for yourself what "Hospitality on the Highway" means.

LIFE'S LESSONS AS LEARNED IN HIGH SCHOOL

by Sandra Campbell

How swiftly time flies! From the moment I entered high school, the years have just seemed to vanish. Now I stand on the threshold of the door of life—about to graduate. I ask myself, what have I learned in these four years of high school?

Perhaps the most important factor of my education has been learning how to get along with people. As I have grown older, I have learned that I cannot expect the other person to do all the giving; I must contribute my part, too. How I get along with my friends today is like a mirror—what I do today will reflect my actions for tomorrow. It is up to me, and to me alone, to make these reflections good.

Good results do not come easily! I have learned, through experience, that nothing worthwhile is brought about without effort on my part. Whether it is a good grade in some subject, the winning of a ball game or a first division at a band contest, hard work is required to make it possible. This will be true in whatever field of work that I choose in the future. No matter what I become—a secretary, teacher, model, singer or scientist, I cannot succeed without work.

Now, as I graduate from high school, having learned valuable lessons, I feel that I am ready to meet the problems that will determine whether or not I have grown into a responsible person.

WELL, WE MADE IT!

Made what? Each weekly edition of the Wildcat News. Seriously, there have been times when we could visualize a big blank space right in the middle of the Foard County News. Why? Because we doubted we'd be able to fill up the columns allotted to us. Now, you, our readers—perhaps wonder about this statement for you surely think that it would be an easy task to get together the amount of material that appears each week in our section of the paper.

Again, may we ask you another question: Did you ever try to do anything—no matter how small—when there was no time for it? Well, that's the predicament the high school news staff is in. Because of the varied schedules of staff members, there cannot be a period set aside for planning, writing, checking the material. So, it takes place in the only possible

Each staff member has a specific type job for which he is responsible and without anyone's reminding him—he just gets his job done or it goes undone. Then the checking, typing and rechecking by the sponsor and editor—and sometimes a final check can't be made.

Now we're not apologizing for our publication, and if you have any suggestions whereby next year's edition might be improved under the circumstances in which we work—we'd appreciate them. But anyway, we, the editor, Shirley Fox, and the assistant editors, Elizabeth Davis and Kerry Brown, and the sponsor, Mrs. Earl Manard, would like to say "thank you" to each staff member for his weekly contributions, to the teachers and students for their assistance, and to the readers for their understanding of the situation under which the paper is published, and especially to Mr. Klepper and the Foard County News staff for permitting our "sense and nonsense."

This is the final "general" publication for this term as next week's paper will be the senior edition. That is, unless in our hurry, we fail to get time to get it in!

MRS. N. J. ROBERTS INSTRUCTS BIOLOGY CLASS

A lesson on civic pride was demonstrated to the high school biology class as they visited Mrs. Roberts' in her garden and saw her beautiful and highly prized plants. After meeting the members of the class, Mrs. Roberts told them the way to have a yard was to spend some fifty years working in it. Her iris plants, of which she has some fifty varieties, were in bloom and caused many "ohs" and "ahs" from the members.

The purpose of the visit was to help build attitudes for more successful living, and this was fully accomplished. Mrs. Roberts was invited to visit the biology class room to give them the history of the early days in Foard County, and she graciously consented to do so; so on Monday, May 12, she paid the class a visit. My, who knew there was so much history right here in our own county!

Thank you, Mrs. Roberts, for the time and effort spent in bringing us this information.

FUTURE FRESHMAN GIRLS HONORED WITH TEA

The future freshmen girls were honored at a Japanese Tea held Tuesday afternoon at the home economics cottage. The 6th period homemaking girls met the freshmen at the door and presented them with flowers in the traditional Japanese style. After entering the cottage, the girls were ushered into a colorful decorated room where beautiful (Japanese girls?) dressed in kimonos served them molded salad, open faced sandwiches and tea.

Following the refreshments, mock try-outs were held for a Japanese play. Everyone enjoyed the tea very much.

F. H. A. HAS MOTHER-DAUGHTER TEA

Friday, May 9, the F. H. A. members and their mothers met in the high school auditorium to install the 1958-59 officers and to attend a Mother-Daughter Tea.

Lillie Polk awarded Tanager a charter degree to one member. This year's officers gave the eight purposes of the F.H.A. organization and each newly elected officer gave the duties of her office. After the members repeated the F.H.A. creed and sang the F.H.A. song, they adjourned to the home economics cottage for punch and cookies served by the hostesses, Janet Rasberry and Elizabeth Davis.

A beautiful corsage was presented to the sponsor, Mrs. Doyle Kenner, in behalf of the members and to show their appreciation and respect for her. Each girl also presented a corsage to her mother as a Mother's Day token.

This was the last meeting of the F.H.A. to be held this year. The organization has been very successful because of capable officers, a wonderful sponsor, and a group of helpful members.

During the 15 minute program, on "Selecting, Training, Feeding Show Calves," the boys compared two calves that they took with them. One had been poorly fed, and the other well cared for. They also showed a chart on feeding calves, and demonstrated some training methods. The boys consider it a privilege to be on a TV program and wish to thank Mr. Myers and others who made this program possible.

JUDGING TEAM GOES TO STATE MEET

The boys left Friday, May 2, and along with 82 other teams, judged poultry Saturday. They also visited the college and several farms around that area. The team spent the night in Dallas Saturday and came home Sunday. They were accompanied by Marvin Myers.

SPEECH CLASS PRESENTS SKIT

Friday morning, Mrs. Bursey's sixth period Speech Class presented a skit entitled "Ladies of the Mop." Sally Dixon, one of the ladies of the mop, wanted to become a great actress; Judy Borchardt wanted to bang out a tune on the piano instead of swishing a mop; Rachel Rodriguez wanted to be a famous dancer, and Lou Ann Summers took time out from her mopping to practice her voice lessons.

This was a very hilarious skit, and the whole student body enjoyed it. Doesn't Mrs. Bursey do a wonderful job with her speech students?

SENIOR SPOTLIGHTS

James Grady McDaniel, known as Grady McGoo, is 5' 8" tall, has brown hair and brown eyes. Grady's favorite food is chicken fried steak with gravy, French fries, iced tea, and a dessert of homemade apple pie.

Rodeos are Grady's favorite sport, and he also enjoys playing the game of tennis. His hobby is hunting in the winter and fishing in the "good ole summertime."

Anything pertaining to math is Grady's favorite subject, and "you know what" is the hardest which he is taking. Yes, it's English.

His favorite type of music is western, and all movie stars, except a very few, are his favorite ones. After he graduates, Grady plans to go to business college in Wichita Falls. (This isn't all he's going to do either). We wish you and yours the best of everything, Grady!

Shirley Hough has brown hair, green eyes and is 5' 3" tall. Her favorite subjects are math and typing; English IV is her most difficult. Fried chicken is Shirley's favorite food.

Shirley has no favorite movie actor nor does she prefer any special type of music.

After she graduates, Shirley plans to go to college and major in business. We wish you luck, Shirley.

Roy Don Payne is an average American boy. In describing Roy, we had quite a bit of trouble. He refused to cooperate. At first he said he was 5 feet tall, blue eyed, read headed, and preferred Lassie as a movie star. We finally wheedled the truth from him. He stands 5' 9 1/2" tall, has green eyes and likes Sugarfoot as an actor. His face is quite familiar around the high school. He has lettered four years in football and played basketball and competed in track at intervals.

Roy says that classes don't bother him too much; English is his favorite class, and Texas History is his hardest. Roy has odd likes and dislikes. His pet peeves are cats and dogs; his favorite sport is swimming (he said he couldn't swim). He also likes Italian foods, spaghetti and meatballs, and Italian actresses, Gina Lollobrigida.

Roy plans to become a beauty operator (barber) after graduation. We wish Roy the best of luck in his future life. (May he find a beautiful girl in the beauty parlor).

Wanda Akers Ray is 5' 3" tall, has green eyes and beautiful long dark hair. Wanda's main interest right now is her 10 month old son.

Wanda's favorite meal consists of enchiladas and the trimmings. Rock Hudson and Elizabeth Taylor are her favorite movie stars. When Wanda was asked her favorite subject, we got a surprise—it is plane geometry. Her hardest subject is (as usual) English IV.

Last year Wanda won the Betty Crocker homemaker award. She is a member of the F.H.A. and enjoys taking part in their activities. Her pet peeve is conceited people.

After graduation, Wanda hopes to become a registered nurse. Whether she accomplishes her goal will depend largely upon her son. Good luck to you, Wanda.

Ray Thomson is 5' 11" tall, has brown hair and darling? blue eyes. Ray's favorite subject is anything that pertains to chemistry. His hardest subject to understand is girls. Ray's favorite food is enchiladas and a glass of tequila. His favorite movie stars are Burt Lancaster and Rin Tin Tin.

Ray is president of the CHS Student Council. He was also captain of the CHS football team his junior and senior years. He served as class president for 3 years.

Ray's favorite sport is swimming; football ranks high on his list of sports. Like most of us, his pet peeve is working. (Ain't it the truth?)

After he graduates, Ray plans to major in electrical engineering at Texas Tech. Good luck to you, Ray.

LESS INCOME FOR RAILROAD

In 1929, the railroads had net income of $897 million. The 1956 figure was close to that—$876 million. But, due to inflation, the 1956 income had a buying power of only $476 million when measured in terms of 1929 dollars.

THIS WEEK -In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

All of the evidence in Washington this week adds up to the conclusion that the big farm battle between Congress and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson is, for all practical purposes, over for this year.

Washington rates the battle as a draw. Both sides have shown themselves to be strong on defense and weak on offense. It is unlikely that there will be another major clash before Congress adjourns.

Obviously, neither Benson nor Congress is satisfied with the outcome of efforts to enact new farm legislation. Each, quite naturally, blames the other for the failure. There are bitter men in Congress, and Benson is unhappy.

Both the Farm Bloc and Benson began the battle with a sort of gentlemen's agreement on one thing: Unless substantial changes in present farm laws were made the 5-year farm depression would continue and deepen.

Then, in January, President Eisenhower sent Benson's blueprints for farm law revisions to Congress and urged prompt passage. Instead, Congress tossed them into the wastebasket without so much as a second reading.

Congress then set out to keep Benson from doing what it told him two years ago he could do if he wanted to—lower farm price supports to 75 per cent of parity. It passed a price support freeze bill aimed at voiding reductions Benson had made, and which economists estimated would lower farm income by half a billion dollars this year.

President Eisenhower sent the bill back to the hill with a veto message that left no doubt about whose side he was on in the farm law battle. That was Benson's greatest hour of triumph.

The official record of the Cabinet meeting at which the veto was finally decided on may never be made public. But an off-the-record version is being accepted in Congress as having some resemblance to the facts.

Vice President Richard Nixon, credited by some with being a behind-the-scenes leader of "dump Benson" forces, is said to have opened the Cabinet meeting with an appeal to the President to sign the price freeze bill.

The report goes on to relate that Mr. Eisenhower put the question to a sort of informal vote, and that a majority supported Mr. Nixon. A veto, it was argued, would be bad economics and worse politics.

The President is said to have indicated he might agree if Benson would withdraw his recommendation that the bill be vetoed. As Congress gets the story, Benson replied he could not tell the President what to do, but that if the bill were signed he would feel

He pulled off the highway and asked if he could take a little snooze.

We pride ourselves that Phillips 66 Stations are first-rate service stations. We're even glad to make them sleeping stations in an emergency. So George took his snooze.

Good thing he did because, dog-tired and drowsy, he might have fallen asleep at the wheel while driving.

This little incident suggests, in a small way, the hospitable attitude of Phillips 66 Service men generally. Ask any regular patron of Phillips 66 Stations and he'll tell you that Phillips Dealers go out of their way to treat you and your car right — perform many a service you wouldn't expect to get elsewhere.

Better yet, drive in and see for yourself what "Hospitality on the Highway" means.

WOULD CREATE MORE JOBS RAISE LIVING STANDARD

"Congressman Sadlak, a Republican, and Congressman Herlong, Democrat, have introduced a bill which would remove the blocks to the industrial expansion and research needed to create more jobs and raise living standards. Their bill would give relief to both individual and corporate Federal taxpayers, and 42 per cent top for both individuals and corporations. The bill would be made gradually over a five-year period and because of normal economic growth would expand Federal revenue. The Treasury would not suffer." — Clifford

THANKS FOR YOUR HELP

By now you are making summer vacation plans. Why not vacation in Texas?

Texas has much to offer—on the coast, on its fine lakes, and in its mountains.

Last year travel in America broke all records, so says the National Park Service, which has figures on some 180 areas.

Visitors to these national installations totaled 59,300,000, in 1957. This was an eight per cent increase over the previous year.

An interesting fact was that camp facilities of the park areas were used more last year than any previous year. Camper days jumped to a total of 3,189,000.

The reawakened interest in camping in these places, far removed from the tensions of modern urban life, reflects the appreciation of our people for their national parks, says Director Conrad L. Wirth.

It might be interesting to note that the greatest number of visitors to a national park was the 2,843,732 who were clocked at the Great Smoky Mountains in North Carolina and Tennessee. Smallest was to Isle Royale in Michigan.

In Texas the only national park installation is the Big Bend National Park in Brewster County. Last year 74,960 persons visited the park.

Right now figures are not available on those who went to the various lakes in Texas. However, the Corps of Engineers say more persons visited Lake Texoma in 1957 than visited any other similar national installation.

FACING PERIOD OF CRUCIAL DECISIONS

Damon Stetson of the New York Times reports that "The automobile industry is facing a period of crucial decisions."

There are three main reasons why: the growing popularity of the small economy car, a trend which may force the Big Three to enter this field; lagging new-car sales; the wage and other demands which Walter Reuther's UAW will make on the companies during new contract negotiations.

HIGHWAY PROGRAM TO COST MORE THAN EXPECTED

The most recent government estimate says that the federal highway program will cost $37,622,000,000. This is $10 billion above the figure given at the time Congress voted the program.

GOVERNMENT ASSUMING INDIVIDUAL'S POWERS

"For almost 30 years, since a great depression started eroding the minds of panic-stricken men, governments have assumed more and more of the powers normally associated with the individual."

SUPPLY AND DEMAND STILL HAS SOME "SAY-SO"

"Supply and demand still has a certain amount of 'say-so' in our every day living, despite so-called controlled economy. An economy that withstands the onslaught of 'depression talk' is desirable. We are optimistic enough to think there will be an upturn in the economy before the end of this year."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights By Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—Leaders of the Texas cotton farming industry, long plagued by regional feuding, have joined hands. Object: to try to stave off a drastic cut in the 1959 acreage allotments.

Unless the present farm law is amended by Congress this session, the national cotton acreage allotment would drop automatically from the presently authorized national quota of 17,500,000 acres to approximately 14,200,000 acres in 1959.

Speakers from all the state's cotton producing areas met in Austin to hammer out an alternate proposal. Their plan:

(1) Retain the 17,500,000 national acreage allotment.
(2) Give farmers a choice between planting higher acreage at lower price supports or lower acreage with higher supports.

(3) Abolish the present Soil Bank program.

It was the first time, said leaders, that this Texas industry had been so well unified behind a program. In previous years, East and West Texas growers have been at loggerheads over quotas.

Texas cotton men say that neither they nor the economy as a whole can stand the threatened 20 to 25 per cent slash.

Of the 17,500,000 acres now allotted to cotton over the nation, Texas has 7,474,000, giving the state a hefty stake in the future of the industry.

A STITCH IN TIME — Thrifty farm families who can a good portion of their yearly produce should fall on Texas.

These and other facts bearing on the key role of rural and small town citizens in civil defense were pointed up as Texans participated in the nationwide practice exercise, "Operation Alert."

For two days officials and representatives of agencies making up the State Civil Defense Council sat in the map-lined, bomb-proof Disaster Control Center in the Department of Public Safety building. Pretending five cities had been hit, they practiced coping with the gigantic problems that would arise—maintaining government, re-establishing transportation, communication and power facilities, providing food, shelter and medical attention for victims, escaping radioactive fallout.

Small towns and rural areas would serve as reception centers for evacuees from target cities.

Providing food is regarded as especially crucial. "If all transportation were knocked out, Texas would have only 14 days supply of food," says State Defense Coordinator William L. McGill. Garden plots and crops in the field might be ruined by fallout. Frozen foods might spoil for lack of electricity.

Hence, if worst comes to worst, a well-stocked pantry is seen as an ace in the hole.

LIVING WITHIN MEANS — Texas government should try to make spending fit income rather than vice versa, says a spokesman for the Retail Merchants Assn. of Texas.

Charles J. Lux of Austin, executive vice president of the Retail Merchants, said his organization is opposed to any new tax, whether on sales, income or gross receipts.

He suggested the State Tax Study Commission and Texas Research League concentrate on finding ways to economize rather than hunting a new source of state revenue.

ECONOMY STUDY — Along this line, an interim legislative committee is searching into higher education expenses.

Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, chairman, said the study is directed toward achieving maximum efficiency and possible savings.

Specifics to be considered: (1) how many college classes are below recommended size, (2) how much public money is required to subsidize athletics and health services, and (3) cost of college presidents' homes.

LOST OIL FORESEEN — If Texas continues to limit oil production to market demand, the state may lose permanently some of its underground oil resources.

Railroad Commission Chairman Olin Culberson told a group of some 600 Southwestern oil men that if present trends continue, development of secondary recovery programs will not be justified.

In short, going after the last drop available from a pool is hardly worthwhile when production is stringently limited.

Culberson suggested to the Texas Petroleum Research Committee's Oil Recovery Conference that a new approach might be needed to conserve Texas' prime resource. Alternative, he said, might be the loss of well over half the oil under Texas.

STILL HERE — Texas business reports at the end of the first quarter, '58, show that the recession "is still very much with us."

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said recovery is generally expected during the last quarter (October 1-December 31).

BBR tied Texas' troubles directly to the "massive drop in crude oil production," said recovery of the state's economy hinges on restoring the oil industry to health.

Overall, the March, '58, index was a modest 2 per cent

Bobwhites are available for stocking purposes from the Game Farm at Tyler, East Texas and Southwestern can be had. The Coturnix is being released on certain areas on an experimental basis.

Some 300 Coturnix were released in Bastrop County this week by Game Warden Ben Gaddy.

Persons desiring quail from State Hatchery should write the Game and Fish Commission, Austin. A game warden there will be sent to inspect the property if it is suitable for planting of game birds. If there is sufficient food and cover available he will make recommendations.

Approximately 40,000 of state produced birds were released in Texas last year.

HOW UNION VOTE OPERATES "Did you ever hear how a vote in a union meeting is carried on? Usually an international representative is in charge, and when the time to vote comes he says in effect: 'All you loyal members who want to continue the strike sit over on this side of the room, and all you scabs who want to go back to work sit on the other back to work side of the room.' Most of the union members want to go back to work, but they also want to get home to their families without getting beaten up, so the strike is voted."—Knoxville, Iowa, Express.

About Your HEALTH

Five years ago this spring the thought uppermost in people's minds was "If only there was a vaccine for polio."

Today we have that vaccine, one of the most effective ever produced against a major communicable disease. Yet thousands of people—forgetting their anxiety of five years ago—have failed to take advantage of it for themselves or their pre-school children.

In ages between five and 20 response to the vaccine has been good, showing the influence of school-sponsored vaccinations. Among children under five, the response has been fairly good. It has been less than fair among persons between 20 and 40.

Does the vaccine really prevent paralysis in cases of polio? Here is last year's record: There were 734 cases reported—both paralytic and non-paralytic. Of that number, paralysis developed in 62 per cent of those with no vaccination; in 47 per cent of those with only one shot; in 37 per cent of those with two shots; and in only 22 per cent of those who had had all three shots.

In other words, in all cases of polio reported last year, paralysis developed in three out of five cases without any shots, but in only one out of five cases in persons with all three shots.

Highway to Life

The pilot's dream of a highway in the sky is about to come true. The Navy has unveiled what it calls "a major breakthrough in air safety"—a new electronic device that displays a sharply outlined highway on a transparent television screen, set in a plane's windshield.

Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett, chief of naval research, says that for the first time since the beginning of flight a pilot will be able to guide his plane from takeoff to landing "even more safely and surely than when he is driving his car along a superhighway."

Flight data is fed in advance into a computer, and the information is presented electronically on the screen. This tells the pilot where he should be going, warns him when he is too high or low or veering from his path, and indicates his altitude and speed. The highway looks like a real road and even has a black center line.

More important than a highway in the sky is the highway to the Mount. Jesus spoke of two paths men may follow. The first has a wide gate "and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be that go in thereat" (Matthew 7:13). The other has a straight gate "and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it" (Matthew 7:14).

And what is the way that leads to everlasting life? Jesus Christ Himself. He said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me" (John 14:6).

Two highways stretch out before you. Which one are you traveling?

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—Leaders of the Texas cotton farming industry, long plagued by regional feuding, have joined hands. Object: to try to stave off a drastic cut in the 1959 acreage allotments.

Unless the present farm law is amended by Congress this session, the national cotton acreage allotment would drop automatically from the presently authorized national quota of 17,500,000 acres to approximately 14,200,000 acres in 1959.

Spokesmen from all the state's cotton producing areas met in Austin to hammer out an alternate proposal. Their plan:

(1) Retain the 17,500,000 national acreage allotment.

(2) Give farmers a choice between planting higher acreage at lower price supports or lower acreage with higher supports.

(3) Abolish the present Soil Bank program.

It was the first time, said leaders, that this Texas industry had been so well unified behind a program. In previous years, East and West Texas growers have been at loggerheads over quotas.

Texas cotton men say that neither they nor the economy as a whole can stand the threatened 20 to 25 per cent slash.

Of the 17,500,000 acres now allotted to cotton over the nation, Texas has 7,474,000, giving the state a hefty stake in the future of the industry.

A SWITCH IN TIME — Thrifty farm families who can a good portion of their yearly produce will probably have best chances of survival if nuclear bombs ever should fall on Texas.

These and other facts bearing on the key role of rural and small town citizens in civil defense were pointed up as Texans participated in the nationwide practice exercise, "Operation Alert."

For two days officials and representatives of agencies making up the State Civil Defense Council sat in the map-lined, bomb-proof Disaster Control Center in the Department of Public Safety building. Pretending five cities had been hit, they practiced coping with the gigantic problems that would arise—maintaining government, re-establishing transportation, communication and power facilities, providing food, shelter and medical attention for victims, escaping radioactive fallout.

Small towns and rural areas would serve as reception centers for evacuees from target cities. Providing food is regarded as especially crucial. "If all transportation were knocked out, Texas would have only 14 days supply of food," says State Defense Coordinator William L. McGill. Garden plots and crops in the field might be ruined by fallout. Frozen foods might spoil for lack of electricity.

Hence, if worst comes to worst, a well-stocked pantry is seen as an ace in the hole.

LIVING WITHIN MEANS — Texas government should try to make spending fit income rather than vice versa, says a spokesman for the Retail Merchants Assn. of Texas.

Charles J. Lux of Austin, executive vice president of the Retail Merchants, said his organization is opposed to any new tax, whether on sales, income or gross receipts.

He suggested the State Tax Study Commission and Texas Research League concentrate on finding ways to economize rather than hunting a new source of state revenue.

ECONOMY STUDY — Along this line, an interim legislative committee is searching into higher education expenses.

Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, chairman, said the study is directed toward achieving maximum efficiency and possible savings.

Specifics to be considered: (1) how many college classes are below recommended size, (2) how much public money is required to subsidize athletics and health services, and (3) cost of college presidents' homes.

LOST OIL FORESEEN — If Texas continues to limit oil production to market demand, the state may lose permanently some of its underground oil resources.

Railroad Commission Chairman Olin Culberson told a group of some 600 Southwestern oil men that if present trends continue, development of secondary recovery programs will not be justified. In short, going after the last drop available from a pool is hardly worthwhile when production is stringently limited.

Culberson suggested to the Texas Petroleum Research Committee's Oil Recovery Conference that a new approach might be needed to conserve Texas' prime resource. Alternative, he said, might be the loss of well over half the oil under Texas.

STILL HERE — Texas business reports at the end of the first quarter, '58, show that the recession "is still very much with us."

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said recovery is generally expected during the last quarter (October 1-December 31).

BBR tied Texas' troubles directly to the "massive drop in crude oil production," said recovery of the state's economy hinges on restoring the oil industry to health.

Overall, the March, '58, business index was a modest 2 per cent

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D., Commissioner of Health.

Five years ago this spring the thought uppermost in people's minds was, "If only there was a vaccine for polio..." Today we have that vaccine. Today we have that vaccine, one of the most effective ever produced against a major communicable disease. Yet thousands of people—forgetting their anxiety of five years ago—have failed to take advantage of it for themselves or their pre-school children.

In ages between five and 20 response to the vaccine has been good, showing the influence of school-sponsored vaccinations. Among children under five, the response has been fairly good. It has been less than fair among persons between 20 and 40.

Does the vaccine really prevent paralysis in cases of polio? Here is last year's record: There were 734 cases reported—both paralytic and non-paralytic. Of that number, paralysis developed in 62 per cent of those with no vaccination; in 47 per cent of those with only one shot; in 37 per cent of those with two shots; and in only 22 per cent of those who had had all three shots.

In other words, in all cases of polio reported last year, paralysis developed in three out of five cases without any shots, but in only one out of five cases in persons with all three shots.

Despite a continuing barrage of publicity concerning adult vulnerability to polio, many adults apparently must still be convinced. The truth is that about 16 of every 100 cases of polio in Texas hits at people 15 and over. And when it does hit it hits with greater impact. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis reports that three out of four respirator patients today are 20 or older.

Another misconception is that a child can be too young to be vaccinated. This is a judgment for the individual physician to make. Before the vaccine, children age five to nine years were polio's principal targets. But last year it struck hardest at children age one year.

As far as the picture in Texas is concerned, we need a higher level of protection among persons 20 to 40 years old, and among children under five.

Texas has an estimated population of 6,230,000 persons between 6 months and 40 years of age—the age recommended for polio vaccinations. It would require more than 18 million doses of vaccine to fully protect that number of people. But as of April this year, total vaccine shipments into Texas totalled 10.5 million.

Protection against polio is one of the biggest bargains you can buy today. If you haven't had your shots yet, it's time you started them.

HOW UNION VOTE OPERATES

"Did you ever hear how a vote in a union meeting is carried on? Usually an international representative is in charge, and when the time to vote comes he says in effect: 'All you loyal members who want to continue the strike sit over on this side of the room, and all you scabs who want to go back to work sit on the other side.' Most of the union members want to go back to work, but they also want to get home to their families without getting beaten up, so the strike is voted."—Knoxville, Iowa, Express.

Two highways stretch out before you. Which one are you traveling?

Our Weekly Sermon

Highway to Life

The pilot's dream of a highway in the sky is about to come true. The Navy has unveiled what it calls "a major breakthrough in air safety"—a new electronic device that displays a sharply outlined highway on a transparent television screen, set in a plane's windshield.

Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett, chief of naval research, says that for the first time since the beginning of flight a pilot will be able to guide his plane from takeoff to landing "even more safely and surely than when he is driving his car along a superhighway."

Flight data is fed in advance into a computer, and the information is presented electronically on the screen. This tells the pilot where he should be going, warns him when he is too high or low or veering off his path, and indicates his altitude and speed. The highway looks like a real road and even has a black center line.

More important than a highway in the sky is the highway to the sky. In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus spoke of two paths men may follow. The first has a wide gate "and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat" (Matthew 7:13). The other has a straight gate "and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it" (Matthew 7:14).

And what is the way that leads to everlasting life? Jesus Christ Himself. He said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by

Miss Marcia Kincaid Honored at Various Pre-Nuptial Events

Miss Marcia Kincaid was honored at a bridal shower Saturday afternoon at the Adelphi Club House. Miss Kincaid is bride-elect of Paul Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson. She is the daughter of Meri Kincaid and the late Mrs. Kincaid.

Hostesses were Mrs. Bob Abston, Mrs. Lee Black, Mrs. J. T. Brooks, Mrs. Hubert Brown, Mrs. Henry Borchardt, Mrs. George Davis, Mrs. Frank Gribble, Mrs. T. S. Haney, Mrs. Billy Johnson, Mrs. Edzar Jones, Mrs. Goodloe Meason and Mrs. Jack Seale.

More than 55 guests called. The serving table was laid with a white taffeta cloth, with the long full skirt accented with small yellow ribboned bouquets. The centerpiece featured a tiny bride doll dressed in white lace standing beneath a bright yellow umbrella. Her stand was covered with yellow taffeta and decorated with white daisies. A bouquet of yellow roses at the register and on the piano carried the yellow and white theme throughout the rest of the serving area.

Miss Frances Kincaid, sister of the honoree and a student at the University of Texas, presided at the register. Mrs. Billy Johnson and Mrs. Jim Paul Norman provided incidental music. The house party included Miss Jeanie Johnson, sister of the prospective groom, Miss Judy Borchardt and Mrs. Jack Huebner.

Mrs. Johnson, mother of the groom-elect, and Mrs. D. E. Todd, grandmother of the bride-elect, stood with Miss Kincaid in the receiving line. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Todd wore matching corsages of yellow roses, and Miss Kincaid's corsage was of white daisies.

Misses Judy Borchardt and Jo Frances Long, dressed in old-fashioned attire, pantomimed "Tennessee Waltz" and "Boney Maroney." Miss Janie Bowers sang a solo, "A Very Special Love," accompanied by Miss Borchardt. Several guests told of embarrassing and amusing incidents of their early married life.

In addition to their gifts, the guests presented copies of their favorite recipes to the honoree.

The table, covered with a lace cloth made in a cupid design, was centered with the dressed bottles. Yellow and white, the chosen colors of the bride, were used as the decoration theme. Other table appointments were of silver, and the tea cakes were topped with small silver cupid bows. Sixteen guests attended.

Youth Phase of Texas Extension Service in Fiftieth Year

Fifty years ago an event took place in Jack county which established the youth phase of Agricultural Extension Service work in Texas. The occasion was the organization of the first boys' corn club in the state by a county agent and resulted from the failure of an adult corn show held in 1907.

The late Tom Marks was the county agent and the remark, "You can't teach old dogs new tricks," prompted Marks to come up with the pups. "Then I'll start with the pups"—and that is exactly what happened. He enrolled 25 boys and by demonstrations taught them the latest practices then known in corn production. The corn show held in Jackboro in the fall of 1908 in the caboose of a train proved Marks' point that farm youth could put into practice the better known methods of production.

This method of teaching among the rural youth of Texas is now in its 50th year and is known over the world as 4-H club work. The first of many special observances, honoring the pioneer workers, members and leaders of the early day clubs, will come during the annual 4-H Club Roundup scheduled for June 10-12 at A&M College.

While the major emphasis of activities of the 1958 Roundup will be devoted to determining state winners in 22 different tests, plans are being perfected to carry recognition and attention to the importance of 4-H work. The theme of the Roundup and for the activities to be held in the counties will be "Learn Today—Lead Tomorrow."

Mrs. R. J. Thomas visited week in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bob Thompson, and in Fort Worth. She returned Monday.
