More Rain Falls in Foard County During Past Week

Rains continued to be the main topic of conversation in Foard County during the past week, as 2.85 inches were recorded here since the last issue of the News. Rain on Wednesday night of last week was recorded as 1.02 inches; Friday night and Saturday morning, 1.80; and Sunday 3 of an inch was received.

Skies were clear the first three days of this week, and a strong south wind has helped to dry things out a bit here. A sand storm formed in the southwest Monday afternoon, and unusual as it may seem, most Foard County residents expressed the desire for a sand storm, rather than more rain.

Opinions vary as to the amount of damage suffered by the wheat crop as a result of the excessive rains of the past two weeks. Some say that the grains are not filling as they should, some say it's still too early to tell how much damage has been inflicted, but most all agree that the county will make more wheat than would have been possible without the rain. Many spots of wheat have drowned out as a result of water standing in the fields, but generally, the wheat crop looks more promising than it has for several years.

The rains have been a boon to row crop farmers, and planting will get underway as soon as possible.

As a result of the rains, the 1957 harvest season will probably be one of the latest of recent years. If the rains cease, it will be some time before combines can get into the fields.

Pearse River continued to rampage most of the week, and washed out the REA power line poles crossing the river Saturday night. REA crews were busy at the river bridge Sunday afternoon stringing a new line across the river.

According to the Government gauge, 4.08 inches of rain have been received here thus far during May. The total rainfall for the year is 17.17 inches, as compared to 10.36 inches which was received during the entire last year.

MR. KING TALKS TO HISTORY CLASS

Last Tuesday week, E. C. King gave an interesting talk to Mrs. Lena Davis' world history class. He told the students of his duty during World War II in the Naval Amphibious Forces and of the many interesting things he learned about each country where he worked. The duty of his force was to establish a beach-head for the Navy to come and take over. His work carried him to France, Australia, Philippines, Borneo and Territan.

Mr. King has many souvenirs which he passed around the class including the wooden shoe of the Dutch people, and a machete, the main weapon of the Philippines.

The class greatly appreciated Mr. King's fine talk.

THE MEXICAN BOUNDING WIRE SENSATION

Leo Gasea brought the last Southern School Assembly for the year Friday morning. His wife, Josephine, was unable to be with him because of an accident.

Leo's performance was action-packed, spectacular and graceful. He presented hand stands on the trapeze, spinning hoops, novelty and precision balancing, and other examples of unique and highly developed artistry.

The audience was kept laughing throughout the entire performance. It was the opinion of many that this assembly was the best of the Southern Assemblies to come to Crowell in the past year.

BAND NEWS AND VIEWS

This week the Wildcat band finished another busy season with the final appearances being by the Dream Weavers. The stage band played for the Rotary Club and for the student body on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Performances by the band this year include: 10 football games, 6 pep rallies, 2 parades, 1 concert, 1 Variety in Review, 1 marching contest and two concert and sight-reading contests, for a total of 23 performances. The stage band has made 8 public appearances this year. A total of 40 solos and 2 ensembles have been performed at various contests. Individual members of the band also played for civic clubs including the Lions, Rotary and Adelphean.

Thus, another busy year has ended for the band. This year, termed as the most successful in the history of the nine-year-old organization, will long be remembered as the first year a Crowell band ever was rated a "Sweepstakes" band at a music contest.

The State of Texas County of Foard

Know all men by these presents: That we, the Senior Class of 1957 of Foard County, Texas, being in poor health and of unsound and despairing mind and memory, having just been released from a 12-year sentence in an institution, do make and publish this, our last will and testament.

We, the Senior Class, leave to Patty McGinnis, Butch Abston, I, Glenn Carroll, leave my cowboy suit to Johnny Odell, who is becoming tired of his black motor cycle jacket, anyway. To Louis Rettig, I leave my spare engagement ring, in the hope that he will use it wisely.

To Larry Love, we the Senior Class, leave one sack of Bull Durham, and we also have for Larry, a manual entitled "How to Roll Your Own While Riding a Horse in a Hurricane Wind with One Hand." We are sure that with a little practice, he will become an expert.

I, Nelda Kay Brooks, leave my red and white convertible and my purple tanager pants to "Twitch" McKown, who will make good use of them.

After much consideration, the Senior Class decided not to will Janet Raspberry anything, for when a girl has a cowboy and oil wells, what more can she want? I, Shoeless Joe Calvin, being richly endowed with all the worthless things in life, leave my ability to go barefoot in class, unnoticed and unsmelled, to Elizabeth "The Toe" Davis. To Sonny Cates, I leave my ability to blow up the chemistry lab in hopes that he will finish the job.

We, the Senior Class, leave Mary Hall to Mrs. Davis, so that Mary can assist her in solving the algebra problems which Mrs. Davis is unable to work.

I, Edward Daniel, just leave.

I, Sandra Choate, leave my dye for flowing red hair and my knack of coming up with an intelligent question for every occasion to Carolyn Monkres who will probably need them to graduate.

I, Aldon Ray "Boogerbear" Garrett, leave my Elvis Presley cyclonic double twister wiggle to Joe Philip Johnson, who has been having to fight off the girls anyway, and I leave my beautiful courting voice to James Choate, the first man to sing, play a trombone, and neck all at the same time.

I, Ruth Hinkle, leave my Grace Kelly silhouette to Larue Diggs.

I, Jimmy Williamson, leave my boxing gloves and my punching bag to "Gorgeous" George Morgan, so that he will be able to defend himself against "Boogerbear."

I, Janis Crowell, leave my ability to court in the hall under the all-seeing eye of Aunt Lena to Janna Black in hopes that she can escape the wrath of her Uncle Henry.

I, DeAnna Ferguson, better known as Baby Doll, do hereby leave my great dramatic talent to Eugene Davis, who will need quite a bit of acting ability to keep all his girl friends happy.

We, the Senior boys, donate to Melvin Washburn our most precious possession, our athlete's feet.

I, Johnny Kajs, leave my ability to sleep through hell, high water and Miss Lena's first period algebra class to Jimmy Weaver, who will probably be making many late trips to Vernon.

I, Henry Pruitt, do leave my ability never to get run out of the country club to Billy Everson, who is in dire need of it.

I, J. C. McCoy, leave the headaches of the senior class presidency to the next poor sucker. My wardrobe of holy silk tee shirts and the Marlon Brando ways that Thaxton left me last year, along with my policy of love 'em and leave 'em, I bequeath to Kerry Brown.

I, Anna Marie Fiske, deed my section of Foard City to Shirley Hough, hoping that she will find a boy friend there as I did. To Louise Gordon, I leave all the skill that I have gained in home-ec, knowing that Bud really likes that home cooking.

I, Billy Short, also known as Sing Sing Short, will by wardrobe of striped suits to the Goree Farm Kid, JoAnne Shultz.

I, Edward Howard, leave my talent for telling Texas tall tales which I inherited from Gerald Denton last year, to James Grady McDaniel with the firm knowledge that he will carry on the tradition.

I, LaVoy Rummel, leave my $50,000 share in LaVoy's Luscious Lushshop to my able assistant, Thelma Henry, in hopes that her candy empire will spread and spread (in the right places, of course).

Short, Shultz and Kajs, the Alcatraz Crew of Crowell, leave Henry Black and Grady Graves one year of peace and quiet.

I, Marketta Painter, leave my position as manager-in-chief of Crowell High School to "Queenie" Raspberry.

We, the Senior Class of 1957, being extremely generous and tender hearted, do will 2,000 reams of clean white paper, not scratch paper, to our beloved English teacher, Mrs. Vera Manard, so that she can "jot things down" in style and ease.

I, John Wehba, bequeath my book on "How to Grow Sideburns and Pop in Ten Easy Lessons" to Noel Wilkins, who I believe has the makings of a real cool cat.

To Sandra "Prunty" Campbell, we will a new nickname. Henceforth, she will be known as "Shorty."

I, Lowell Page, leave my presidency of Crowell Distilling Co. and my formula for white lightning, which I developed in chemistry class, to my protegee and able assistant, Ray Thomson. We have a special gift for Ray, the package of Kools from Mr. Black. Your smoking jacket will arrive later, Ray.

We, the Senior boys, being both kind hearted and athletic, never breaking training or smoking, drinking, or going out with wild women, return to the junior boys the numerous football jackets which we have won in various "crap games." Tow Printess Gidney, Harvey Smith, Larry Sledge, Jerry Pittillo and Roy Don Payne will be forced to wear tee shirts to school. They can give their little sisters and brothers back their coats and once again walk proudly down the halls of CHS attired in their hero jackets.

I, Marilyn Stone, who never misplaces even a teeny-weensy little punctuation mark, do hereby bequeath my great skill to punctuating "Spider" Bell.

To Sandra Sanders, the Senior Class leaves an automatic white Cadillac detector in the sincere hope that it will protect her from future collisions.

I, Karen Hall, leave my position as librarian, to "Speedy" Rettig, knowing that he can use some time studying in the library if he intends to keep up his straight A report card.

I, Roma Jan Spikes, give my spare pony tail to Shirley Fox, in the hope that she, too, can ride in a T-Bird.

I, Jack Wishon, do hereby leave talent to make the girls happy, my art for driving like a bat out of Hades, my good looks, and my loud mufflers to Jerry Bob Sellers, whom I hope appreciates them because they are, in my opinion, the four most precious gifts that any boy could receive.

Signed, declared, and published by the Senior Class of 1957 as our last will and testament.

JUNIOR PROPHECY

Have you ever thought of what will happen in the future? Suppose we skip—say 20 years—to the year 1977. What has happened? Here is the Juniors' version of the lives of the Seniors of 56-57 in 1977. They have gone their various ways over the last 2 decades. Some are all over the world, others are still in Crowell. Let's drop in and look into their individual lives.

First, we run into Butch Abston. After serving as an officer in the last war, World War 25, Five Star General Abston has settled down, married, and bought half interest in a combination beauty parlor and chicken farm. His wife, Patty, has assisted Nelson quite a lot, since she obtained her degree in chicken picking from Vassar.

Who do we run upon next? No one but the heiress, Nelda Brooks. Her fortune is made; she being next in line to inherit the fabulous Brooks-Hilton Hotels and Motels along with a major interest in Pikes Peak. She has not yet found herself a loving husband but at last notice, Rubrisosa was taking great interest in her.

There's Joe Calvin. As president of General Motors, Calvin has finally settled down and had a family of midget Chevrolets. In his 29 31/65 room mansion with a 12 car garage, Joe and his wife have a simple life, using only the necessities allowed them on Joe's $2,000,100.99 salary.

After the mad whirl of the lives of the first three, let's take a rest, even go to a psychoanalyst. We walk into the office of one of the most renowned head shrinkers of her day, Sandra Choate. We immediately leave, fearing she would probe into our innermost secrets and lives, even send us to the pacho ward of Sing Sing where our good friend Aldon Garrett serves as warden. His life has taken some complicated twists and turns in the last 20 years. First, while digging a bypass to the Suez Canal single handed, he suffered an attack of purple jaundice. They sent him home to Sing Sing where he recuperated and rose from keeper of the hot-seat to warden.

Next, we journey to the peaceful abode of Marilyn Stone Jefferson. Her nice little country home on top of the caboose of the Quannah, Acme and Pacific is both-ered by the roar of diesels, click clack of wheels and the tat-tat of her husband, Butch, working his telegraph. We leave her peacefully tending her home.

Touring down the highway, we come to 5 oil wells right in the middle of the road. Naturally they are Glenn Carroll's. He and the Governor of Texas, Jimmy Williamson, have gone into partnership, both in oil wells and building. Williamson has given a wing of the capitol to multimillionaire Carroll and his wife, Peggy. As for himself, Williamson has taken over two other wings of the capitol, one for his cars, and one he has converted as a stable for his race horses, which were sired by Nashua.

Going further down the highway of life, who do we stumble into? None other than Roma Spikes Cummings. Her small town, Roma's Roadside Restaurant, has been doing a major business since she merged with Dutch's of Quannah and moved her location to the metropolis of Crowell at the site of the old Ferguson Drug Store. She has also brought in quite an income from her last two pictures, "Shane" and "Black Board Jungle," where she acted the beautiful siren of the pictures.

Feeling need for refreshment, we venture down to the darker side of town. There, Rocky Wehba and Baby Face Washburn do a little shady business, purchase a fifth of bootleg Cola off the two and go to town. We learn there that legging is only a side hobby. In real life, Wehba is fascinating the younger generation with his fast moving and Wishon leads a respectable life as a marriage counselor in New York City.

As our trip continues, we see Anna Marie Fiske teaching English to her students. We inquire as to her life in earlier years, but she refuses to divulge anything, that her husband, Bill, succeeded in becoming preceptor of the college, and that she received 14 doctor's degrees and children.

J. C. McCoy came out of years military service as a buck private and with a burning in his eyes. He went to accept a position as district in-between Slobovia, but he killed himself when he turned hi-fi set up too loud. He was a member in our country of hi-jenks in the Moulton Branch while he was serving army. There he busted Rand's red gear.

Another we pass is Ruth E. Her five husbands in five years had set her up as a record and celebrity back in 1945. Does she do now? Well, (Continued on Page 7)

Home Demonstration Notes

By MRS. MARY D. BROWN

You know, Duane Johnson, Morgan, Kay Johnson and Raspberry were on the TV program last week. They were all able to see it. I'll be attending a District meeting in Wichita Falls Thursday of this week and meet with the Thalia Club on Friday of this week. The meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m. in my office. We will have a meeting to elect delegates to the State THDA meeting in Houston July 30-August 1.

Our recipe this week is: Fudge Cake with Fluffy Frosting
3 squares unsweetened chocolate (3 oz.), 2 and 1/4 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1 and 1/4 cups sugar, 2 eggs, separated, 1 and 1/2 cups milk, 2 teaspoons vanilla extract, 3/4 cup finely chopped nuts, 1/4 cup sugar, fluffy frosting, chocolate shot (if desired).

Melt chocolate over hot water. Cool. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream together butter or margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat egg yolks. Add to creamed mixture, beating thoroughly. Blend in chocolate. Combine milk and vanilla extract. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with milk mixture. Stir in nuts with last addition of flour. Beat egg whites until foamy. Add sugar gradually and continue beating until stiff peaks are formed. Fold into batter. Turn into 2 paper-lined greased 9-inch round pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 35 minutes. Cool about 10 minutes before removing from pans. Cool layers completely. Frost with Fluffy Frosting. If desired, decorate cake with chocolate shot.

Fluffy Frosting
1 and 1/2 cups sugar, dash salt, 1/2 cup water, 1 tablespoon white corn syrup, 2 egg whites, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract.
Combine sugar, salt, water, corn syrup and egg whites in top of double broiler. Mix to blend. Set over hot water on moderate heat. Beat with rotary beater until frosting is fluffy and holds its shape. Fold in vanilla extract. Makes two 9-inch layers.

The Mason-Dixon Line is now the boundary line between Maryland and Pennsylvania.

February has five Sundays about three times in every century.

HOW MANY AUTO ACCESSORIES?

Nine out of every ten buyers of 1956 cars in the low-priced field felt the need for heaters. Seven out of every ten bought V-8 engines. Six bought automatic transmissions and radios. Five purchased white-wall tires. Three in ten added to the bill with back-up lights, two looked at the world through tinted windshields, and one buyer in ten wanted power steering.—Changing Times.

FEDERAL PAY ROLL

The Federal pay roll hit an all-time high of a billion dollars a month in January, according to U. S. Senator Harry F. Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. Byrd said the total civilian employees on the U. S. Government pay roll reached 2,390,507 in February.

Austin, Tex.—In a final burst of energy, homesick Legislators broke the bottle-necks and started passing bills with machine-gun rapidity.

After days of delay, the Senate swept through most of the major bills still pending, in two days. It set a record for action this session and cleared the way for winding up money matters this week.

Report by the joint conference committee on the general appropriations bill was laid out for study. Approval of this bill plus two others designed to raise funds for teacher pay raises will be the signal for a fast finish.

Most observers feel certain that enough money will be found to give teachers a $400 across-the-board increase.

TEXAS-SIZE MESS — Relief workers face multiplying problems as they wade into the multi-million-dollar mess spread over water-glutted Texas.

Preliminary estimates placed damage at $85,000,000. This was before the Lower Brazos spread to a width of 13 miles in some places.

Federal Civil Defense Administration has an initial grant of $1,000,000 to help restore community-owned facilities. More is being sought. One of FCDA's more pressing problems is helping rural residents decontaminate flooded wells and spray against insects that breed in standing water.

In all, some half-dozen state and federal agencies are working to salvage public buildings, roads, businesses and farms.

Farmers got a setback, however, when federal officials refused to let them switch flooded acreage for higher land in the soil bank program. It means some will have unusable land they can't cultivate because it was previously allotted to the soil bank and other land, not in the soil bank, they can't plant either, because of flooding.

Even so, encouraging reports continue to come in from rural areas. First, post-drought sales show grass-fattened cattle bringing higher prices. Small town bankers and businessmen report people are daring to spend again in anticipation of good crops.

NAACP PROGRAM LIMITED — NAACP can continue to operate in Texas, but with clipped wings. Unless a higher court reverses a Tyler district judge's ruling, NAACP will henceforth be permanently barred from all but "educational and charitable activities."

Suit to outlaw the organization in Texas was begun last year by former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepherd. It has been carried on by the present staff under Atty. Gen. Will Wilson.

A temporary injunction issued by the Tyler court last fall halted all NAACP activity in the state. Present permanent injunction bans solicitation of lawsuits, and lobbying, in violation of state law. Court also ordered payment of back franchise taxes plus interest. NAACP attorneys filed immediate notice of appeal.

WATER BILL FILIBUSTERED — A water storage buying proposal was down, and maybe out, after a 13-hour "discussion" by Sen. Otis Lock of Lufkin.

Lock's determined opposition meant several days delay on the measure at a time when delay often means death. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, sponsor, was so disgruntled he threatened to junk the whole water conservation program.

Proposal, if approved by the voters, would allow the state to issue bonds to purchase water storage space in federal reservoirs. Lock contended the plan would be so unpopular with voters it would sink the whole water program at the polls. He objected on grounds it would be non-self-liquidating and would bring in federal controls.

ENOUGH SAID — Senate apparently wants no more long talks on the segregation bills.

First such bill to come up brought on a record-breaking 36-hour filibuster. But the second one was shoved through in minutes after a vote to shut off debate.

Passed was a bill to require local elections before schools can be integrated.

Last apparent hope of the segregation opponents now is that the bills will be referred to the attorney general and ruled unconstitutional. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said he has made preparations to handle the bills promptly, if asked. Governor Daniel said he plans a thorough staff study of each bill before deciding whether to seek a ruling.

BETTER PAY APPROVED — If voters consent, future legislators may avoid some of the financial pinch many complain of now.

Senate approved a House constitutional amendment providing for annual sessions and more pay. But it upped the House-suggested salary of $4,800 to $7,500 a year.

Present arrangement is $25 a day for 120 days. It totals $3,000 for two years unless a special session crops up. Since May 7, when

ALL-WOMEN RESCUE group, known as the "Calamity Janes," from El Reno, Okla., have lived up to their name by doing civil defense rescue work during two Oklahoma tornadoes and four major fires in El Reno. ### News from the Congress

by Congressman Frank Ikard

On the eight appropriation bills for the fiscal year 1958 debated and voted on in the House this far this session are shown cuts totaling over a billion, one hundred million dollars. The President's request in these bills total $14,968,542,403 and as finally approved by the House, they represented the 120 days ran out, lawmakers have been on their own, money-wise.

Legislators' wives have been heard to speak bitterly of "going more in the hole every session." They cite cost of campaigns, two moves, high expenses in Austin, plus payments on house back home and "constant" telephone calls and trips to Austin between sessions to handle constituents' requests.

Concluded one wife from an extreme north Texas district: "I've put my foot down. This is our last term."

SCHOOL LAW STUDY — A searching examination of Texas school problems, such as preceded the Gilmer-Aikin laws, has been proposed.

Resolutions introduced in both House and Senate said many districts are unable to provide teachers and buildings to keep up with the rapid increase in pupils. A 24-member committee to study needs and report to the 1959 session was recommended.

Committee would be made up of six appointees of the governor, six by the Board of Education and six each by the lieutenant governor and speaker of the House.

SHORT SNOOTERS — Texas will have 205 new lawyers after the Supreme Court holds swearing-in ceremonies May 18 for those who passed the spring bar examination. Fishing may cost more as a result of a House-passed bill raising the fishing license from $1.65 to $2.15. Senate finally passed a controversial House bill which will enable cities to obtain federal aid for slum clearance and urban redevelopment. As finally passed by both houses, the REA bill will allow co-ops to serve:

- (1) persons in rural areas where private power is not available,
- (2) city residents where there is no private power company and
- (3) all former patrons in a rural area annexed by a city plus other patrons to whom private power is unavailable. Included in the general appropriations bill, now in process of legislative approval, is an allocation of over $26,500,000 for salary increases for state employees for the next two years.

sent $13,827,366,654, which is a reduction of about 9 per cent. Yet to be considered by the House are the largest appropriation bills such as defense and foreign aid. None of the bills that have passed the House have yet reached the floor of the Senate, but are all at this time being studied by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Recently, Congressman Oren Harris, chairman of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee, introduced a bill the effect of which was to bring some order to the marketing and sale of natural gas and in many respects softened the control by the Federal government. Hearings on this bill began May 7. The first witness who is the counsel for the Office of Defense Mobilization and spokesman for the Administration proposed amendments to the Harris bill which will make it impossible for the legislation to accomplish the purposes for which it was designed. This refusal on the part of the administration to approve this proposal means that it will be impossible to pass any sort of gas bill during this session of Congress.

The House Rules Committee is now considering the highly controversial "civil rights" bill. Indications are now that this measure will be on the floor of the House sometime late this month or in early June. This is one of the most controversial measures of our time. If the measure should be approved by Congress, it would abolish many of the concepts that we have had in this country concerning personal freedom. For instance, it would abolish the jury trials in some types of cases. Even though this measure is being pressed under the guise of protecting so-called "civil rights," actually it would destroy them.

Members of the white race have an average of 50,000 hairs on their heads.

THIS WEEK

-In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

A Washington official doesn't have to be a contortionist to put his foot in his mouth, although it helps. Several in recent years have become quite adept at it.

But something happened recently that you'll seldom see, or hear about: The President of the United States with a farmer's foot in his mouth. It proved to be both uncomfortable and embarrassing.

Mr. Eisenhower was talking with newsmen at his press conference when he let go with the off-hand remark that farmers are getting government subsidies at the rate of more than $1,000 each per year.

What the President didn't foresee was that his remark would stir up a hornets' nest and bring down on the White House a swarm of angry congressmen and farmers. The word "subsidy" still is resented by many farmers.

It may have been Agriculture Secretary Benson's most embarrassing moment in Washington when he had to publicly tell Mr. Eisenhower he didn't know what he was talking about, and make him admit it. But that is what happened.

The assumption around Washington was that Mr. Eisenhower had been reading too many big city newspaper editorials. The inside story of how the honor really happened hasn't, up until now, been told. The President failed to check his source of information, something he frequently charges newsmen fail to do.

The fact is a Presidential advisor, who might as well remain anonymous, added two and two and came to the conclusion that the total was four. And, as everybody who has been around Washington very long knows, that isn't always the correct answer.

This mathematical neophyte took Census Bureau figures showing there are 5 million farmers. Then he divided that number into the USDA's 1958 fiscal year budget of $5.3 billion. The result, on the face of it, seemed to Mr. Eisenhower to be logical.

The facts, as farmers learned long ago, frequently don't jibe with Washington bureaucratic deductions. It was the loose use of that nasty word "subsidy" that was like a red flag to farmers. It sounded almost as if he had said "charity."

Secretary Benson rushed to the White House, through the back door, to tell the President some of the facts of life on the farm. He said, in effect: "I hate to tell you this, but you shouldn't have said that. The word we use down at the Department is 'incentives'."

And besides, Benson added, the statement was not factually accurate. Congress, despite his opposition, Benson explained, had ordered supports at specified percentages of a fair price.

Furthermore, Benson may have added, it was Mr. Eisenhower who urged Congress in 1956 to pass the $1.2 billion a year Soil Bank. He probably didn't remind the President that he, Benson, thought at the time that it was unwise.

Mr. Benson may have had some difficulty himself in explaining just which items in the budget are subsidy, and which are not. Probably he couldn't improve on Mr. Webster's definition of subsidy as "a government grant to assist a private enterprise deemed advantageous to the public."

Anyway, Mr. Benson insisted, farmers would never see $4 out of every $5 in the USDA budget. Most of it would go for such non-farm uses as salaries for Department employes, research and regulatory work, losses on cut-rate sales to foreign consumers, loans to REA and FHA, and various other USDA activities ordered by Congress and approved by the President.

Mr. Eisenhower said he was sorry and that he hoped farmers would forgive him and that he'd never, never use that naughty word again.

Soil Conservation News of District

Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, Lower Pease River District Board: W. C. Howard, Grady Halbert, O. T. Holmes, O. H. Brandon, H. L. Ayers.

Guar and Cowpeas

Guar and cowpeas are both drought resistant legumes which are adapted to most soils in this area. They are both excellent soil builders and provide fair cover for the land.

Guar should be planted at the rate of 5 to 6 pounds per acre in rows. The seed bed should be prepared in about the same manner as for cotton or feed. The planter used should be tight and in good condition. If the plates do not fit tight enough to prevent seed from getting under them, the seed will be cracked and the gum they contain will lock the planter. The holes in the plate should not be counter sunk, as with other legumes. Guar seed should be properly inoculated before planting.

Cowpeas should be planted at the rate of 25 to 35 pounds per acre when drilled and 10 to 12 pounds per acre when planted in rows. Cowpeas should also be inoculated before planting. The most common varieties of peas grown in this area are: blackeyes, crowder, whippoorwill and Chinese red.

Why Not Have a Farmstead Windbreak?

Every farm needs a good windbreak planting that will afford protection from the cold winter winds, prevent snow from piling up around the buildings and lots, and generally make a more pleasant and comfortable place in which to live and work.

During the summer months nothing can add more to the beauty of the home than the background of varying shades of green afforded by a well planned windbreak. Yard beautification with shrubs, roses, and annual flowers is more easily obtained and much more effective with this kind of background. Furthermore, the protection from blowing soil in the farm yard makes these beautification plantings possible. It also keeps a lot of dust off the window sills, furniture, and floors.

Why not have a farmstead windbreak? Is it drought? Work? Cost? None of these should prohibit any farm family enjoying the many benefits and comforts of this valuable improvement to the farm home. Yet in your SCD, only about 10 per cent of the farmsteads have good windbreaks.

It takes work, lots of work, to successfully grow a good windbreak, but by present day methods it is more a matter of time than hard labor. For successful results, ground preparation for tree planting should usually start a year before planting. The heavier soils should be summer fallowed for a season to give the best results. The proper location of a windbreak sometimes requires the changing of fences and relocation of lots and field lanes. Advance planning can help to lessen the work needed and greatly increase the chances of success. Obtaining the trees and planting them can be accomplished easily and without more effort than it takes to contact the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District office.

Cultivation of the trees is the major item of labor involved in growing a good windbreak. Trees must be cultivated the same as any other crop if a high yield of benefits is to be reaped. Unlike the annual crops, trees cannot be "laid by" in three or four months but be worked for five or six years until their growth has produced sufficient cover to shade out feed growth. Modern equipment makes this job chiefly a matter of time to get it done. Such tools as the spring toothed harrow, tandem disc, and various subsurface tillers do an excellent job of cultivation between the rows of trees. For cultivation of the trees in the row, hand hoeing is the old fashioned, back-breaking method. There now are several machines, easily attached to a farm tractor, that will do this job in much less time and with no more effort than it takes to drive the tractor.

After carefully looking at the factors involved in growing trees, it is apparent that a good windbreak is easily within the reach of every farm family. Were the cost in money, labor, and land ten times as great, a good windbreak would still be a sound and profitable investment and return annual dividends in comfort and beauty that cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

Why not have a windbreak? Call at your Soil Conservation District office right away and start the plan for planting a windbreak in 1958.

DID ROCK 'N ROLL DO SQUARE DANCING IN?

It was easy to line up a half dozen fiddle bands and numerous variety acts for the free entertainment at the Pioneer Days Celebration at the old North Side Coliseum next door to the stockyards, but finding square dancers was another thing! The special events committee for the big show found that many of the famous dancing groups have disbanded in the past few years, while only a half dozen years ago the old fashioned dancers were the rage. What happened?

Did Elvis and the rockers, or the hoppers, kill the old time dance fad? The committee found that this was not the case. The break-up of many of the famous sets resulted from raising families. Baby sitters were hard to find and

Time for Someone To Make a Move: Will Lawmakers Act, Asks Writer

By--FREDERICK HODGSON

SAN DIEGO, Tex.—I'm not sure whose move it is in Duval County, but I get the feeling it's time for somebody to play his hole card.

I have just returned to deep south Texas after several months in New York and Hollywood. In New York negotiating with Random House about a book on Duval County and in Hollywood writing a motion picture with my collaborator, Franz Rosenwald, on the same fascinating subject.

Now that I'm back, I'm wondering about three things. First, what the Texas Legislature will do with the opportunity it has to plug up the loopholes in the law that made this political jungle possible—this place where the strong have lived off the weak and shouted their defiance to the world. I'll come back to this.

Second, I'm wondering about the man Parr himself and a couple of his old friends, one of whom says he is Parr's enemy while the other says he hardly knows the man at all.

Parr is different nowadays. "Plumb crazy" according to several people in this sun-baked county that slithers in oil. A few months ago Parr paid a big fine for waving a carbine and threatening to kill Thomas Molina in the dim halls of the Duval court house. He was put under a $7,500 peace bond.

But a few weeks ago he again pulled a pistol out of the glove compartment of his car and stuck it under the nose of Eloy Ramirez. Another conviction for gun-throwing could cost him that $7,500. The only reason anybody can figure out for his brassness is that Eloy refused to shake hands with him in Angelina's cafe.

The Duke has always been a gun-waver, but now they say he waves it with a more deadly vehemence. Parr doesn't look good, either. He has gone bankrupt, and he is intermittently on trial in Houston on a charge of using the mails to defraud. The trial has started three times. The first ended with one man hanging the jury, and since then two juries have been spoiled by the discovery of an unqualified juror in the bunch.

drawn on the Duval County general fund, all made out in Parr's own handwriting, and all made out either to Thomas Y. Pickett and Co. or to Thomas Y. Pickett personally.

Most of the checks are in the amount of $1,000 and the endorsements on these are correct, each check stamped on the back Thomas Y. Pickett and Co. and each deposited in the company's account.

Two of the checks, however, stand real scrutiny. They're not piddling little $1,000 items. They are for big money. And they don't bear the Pickett company rubber stamp, indicating that they didn't go through the company account.

One of these checks, dated simply June, 1951, and not signed by the County Judge as required by Texas law, is for $5,500. This check is number 544.

The other check, number 17, is dated July, 1952. It is for a whopping $8,500. And this one wasn't signed by the County Judge as required by law.

The harder up the county gets financially, the more they dig around in the old records. And the more they dig around in the old records, the more odd-looking checks they turn up with funny endorsements.

As I said, Dan Tobin and Thomas Y. Pickett have been running around the state trying to tap the oil companies for a little financial assistance to the county. Tobin split with the Duke some time back, and Pickett says he hardly knows the man. Maybe they're both smart. A lot of the Duke's old friends have found themselves in trouble.

The Duke of Corruption in Texas. Which brings me to the third thing I've been wondering about. What is the Texas Legislature going to do about plugging the gaps in the law which John Ben Shepperd said make situations like Duval County possible?

I've read several articles in national magazines about the corruption in Texas on the state level. I've been in and out of Texas, studying Texas laws and lawbreakers and writing a book and a movie script, for about 10 months now. In my humble opinion, the corruption in Texas starts right down at the grass roots, in the counties and the little towns. And it starts with the out-moded Texas Constitution and the lack of adequate statutes to enable people at the county level to keep things clean. Your primary trouble, Texan, is not in Austin.

Twice in as many legislative sessions the Texas Press Association has laid a stack of proposed bills in front of the lawmakers, incorporating a number inspired by Shepperd's findings in Duval County along with others that Shepperd and the TPA have urged "for good government in Texas." These others deal mostly with keeping government meetings open to the public eye, keeping public records public, and requiring the publication of information the people have a right to know.

As John Ben Shepperd put it, "Take any four or five of these proposed new laws and enforce them, and you just can't have a Duval County." There are 15 of them altogether.

"Never Trust the Other Driver!"

"Never trust the other driver!" In these words, a bulletin of the Texas Safety Association warned Texans to be on their driving-guard against the unpredictable behavior of pedestrians and other drivers.

"It isn't enough to obey the law and mind your own business," the bulletin reads. "You have a moral responsibility to prevent an accident if you can—even if the other fellow is at fault."

A few of the other-fellow's more common blunders were listed as being:

Failure to heed a stop sign or sneaking across on the "yellow light."

Making a turn from the wrong traffic lane.

Failure to signal a turn, or giving the wrong signal.

Stopping suddenly (of course, this won't bother you if you're not too close).

HERE'S WHAT MAKES THE COOL

TWO SPEED MOTOR—Controlled Cooling

Full cooling capacity for hot torrid days to a soft caressing whisper for moderate days or late evening in at the user's command with fingertip control of the special two-speed motor on all Electric-built coolers with a "2" following model number. Depending upon temperature conditions, with two-speed motors, the cooling can be varied to suit the personal desires and requirements of the individual user and provides the last word in modern comfort.

The use of two-speed motors will increase the use of cooling equipment as much as 50%, as there are many days when full capacity of the cooler is not required and, unless the cooler is equipped with a two-speed motor, the motor is turned off and the users are deprived of many hours of comfort.

Be sure and ask us to show you the advantages of the two-speed motor.

"GRANDMA'S PANTRY" exhibit in California shows typical amounts and items of food which might make up a meal for families ranging from two to eight. Food in the "Pantry" would be used—just as in bygone days—to provide a reserve in case of emergency. But now, it's a different kind of emergency—instead of impassable roads, it could be radioactive fallout which would force a family to stay in shelter for days without outside help. ## THE WILDCAT plains to us that she is manager of men's underwear in Macy's in New York.

As we ride down the road again, we come upon a movie set. There our old friend, Edward Daniel, is busy enacting Tom Mix in a brand new series for television. His bucking horse and silver spurs look familiar as those which Gene Autry used 20 years ago. Of course, the horse's ribs were showing and so were Ed's, but he still is an idol to millions—and to Marketta. Speaking of Marketta, we saw her en route to the set. She is a home-ec major who graduated with a B. S. degree and was skillfully preparing cavaliar for Ed's horse and daintily opening a can of beans for her ever-loving hubby.

Coming through Thalia, we are terrorized by a gang of masked ruffians coming toward us. As they come closer, we see that they are led by Sing Sing Short, who had led the "Thalia Thugs" in his teen-age days. Since he was a good buddy, he let us go, but states that his gang "Thalia Thugs Jr.," were profiting well from his hijacking space ships in this year, 1977.

Going on, we encounter LaVoy Rummel. After going through art school with high honors, she graduated and became manager of the Louvre Art Museum in Paris. She is currently sketching designs for underwear of some of the prominent men in America.

Again we start out. It isn't long before we come upon Billy Shultz. He says he is manager of the drug strip in Hollywood, Calif., and since becoming winner of the Indianapolis 500, he has become an expert on shifting gears on Ford space ships.

We had heard sometime before that one of our former seniors had come up in the sports world. Now we see him. Henry Pruitt, world champion golfer. His name is now a common household word since he established the record of 18 consecutive holes-in-one.

Karen Hall, the past twenty years have been kind to her. She has taken a responsible position as a houncer-cigarette girl in the Stock Club in New York City. Her name was famous during the 9th World War as she exploded the first cobalt hydrogen atomic bomb of the war.

Down the street, whom do we see but Edward Howard! He is hardly recognizable in his skid-dow costume. As we talk to him about his past, he appears vague. Glancing over his shoulder, he happens to see the cops coming after him. Throwing a good-bye look our way, he gathers up his pencils and begging cup, jumps into his Cadillac and speeds away.

We see that another of our past comrades, Lula Kennedy, has come up in the world in 20 years. In fact she came so far up that she was the first woman to reach the planet of Hadaeol in the galaxy of Cough Syrup. Her mode of travel, a blue Mercury, baffled experts. Their modern equipment had never gotten past the Bayer Aspirin meters, much less to the planet of Hadaeol.

Nearing the end of our small recognition journey, we meet actress Zza Zza Zza Zza Ferguson. She had been discovered in 1963 by Cecil de Clubfoot while she was slinging hash. Since then she has starred in five stage productions and six Broadway shows. She and her husband, Clark Housegables, are blessed with five children and six ex-mates between them.

Now we come to the couple of Crowell High School that had the eyes of all centered upon them. Janis Crowell and Lowell Page. Did they marry? Did they break up? What was the out-come of their life? Let us see. After Page graduated from high school and college, he entered medical school. There he got pickled with formal-

HE PACES OIL TRACES ON THE SEA FLOOR

Two divers recently assisted in a treasure hunt by searching 500 square feet of the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico for sunken derelicts. Far from being treasure troves, any such derelicts would have been obstructions to this treasure hunt. The divers were advance scouts for a huge drilling rig, due to begin operating on a site, 63 miles from shore. A detailed contour map was made from the divers' observations that insured efficient placement of the rig. Unusual occupations of all kinds are commonplace in the highly complex oil industry.

New Cork — Medical researchers recently announced that sight-giving "windows" for human eyes can be dried and preserved for two years to help some blinded persons. The corneas donated by persons who just died are dehydrated in glycerine, then kept in vacuum-sealed tubes at room temperature. Thin layers of these corneas have been grafted successfully into the eyes of persons whose own corneas were clouded or injured.

Afternoon Tea Honors Junior Columbians and Their Mothers

The spacious home of Mrs. Karl ten Brink was the scene of a delightful social event on Wednesday, May 8, when the Columbian Club entertained with a tea honoring members of the Sub-Junior Columbian Club and their mothers. Huge pots of pink and orchid hydrangeas were used to decorate the hall, study and living room; and bouquets of spring roses added to beauty of the rooms. On the table, laid with a white cut-work Madeira cloth, was a huge basket of pink roses, with tiny rosebuds scattered between the crystal serving dishes containing cookies, mints and nuts. Alternating in serving at the punch bowl were Mrs. D. R. Magee, Mrs. John Ray, Linda Johnson and Beverly Kelly. Incidental piano selections were given by Roxianne Adkins, Jo Frances Long and Charlotte Sledge.

Mrs. N. J. Roberts, Sue Bursey, Bettie Linda Knox and Mrs. Grady Halbert greeted the guests upon their arrival and directed them to the serving table. A pleasant hour of conversation and renewal of old acquaintanceship followed. Streamers of red and white crepe paper covered the tables while graduation caps and diplomas formed centerpieces. Menus and program were rolled into diploma-shaped favors, topped with miniature graduation caps.

A hilarious program of skits and readings was given by the 8th grade students. A committee of 8th grade mothers cooked and served a delicious meal of fried chicken, potato salad, green beans, combination salad, hot rolls, iced

ADELPHIAN CLUB

"Federation Day" was the theme of the Adelpian Club program on Wednesday afternoon, May 8.

Mrs. L. E. Archer, president, presided over the business meeting. Miss Marian Hays brought the afternoon devotional based on Mary Stewart's "Club Collect." The Collect was written in 1904 as a personal prayer for club women. It has found its way about the world wherever English-speaking women work together. Preceding Miss Hays' talk, a recording of Stuart Hamblen's song "It Is No Secret" was played. Mr. Hamblen was a resident of Foard County in his youth while his father pastored the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. E. C. King presented a timely federation report emphasizing the important role the clubwoman plays in the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. W. B. Johnson, club delegate relative to the District VII Convention for Texas Club Women held in Amarillo early in March. The following little girls, dancing pupils of Miss Mary Adkins' Dancing Class of Quanah, presented numbers for the club: Little Misses Pam Carter, Margaret Kralitke, Brenda Raines, Jon Ann Carter, Jan Carroll, Hollis Halbert, Sammie Raines, Margaret Collins and Vicki Spikes.

Highway Hypocrite Defined by Texas Safety Association

The driver who professes his religion in church, but doesn't practice it in traffic is a highway hypocrite.

This indictment of careless drivers was made this week by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, as he discussed the moral responsibility of motorists. Highway morality is emphasized in the spring phase of the Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents campaign.

"Morality cannot be put on or taken off at will like an optional accessory on a late model car," Musick said. "It's basic character equipment. The moral person is just as moral on the highway as he is in his office, his home, or his church."

Musick pointed out that the driver who cheats on traffic law observance or fails to safeguard his own or the other person's life in traffic is revealing poor character.

"If there is need for a moral code anywhere today, that need is in traffic," he said. "The spectacle of 2,611 traffic deaths in Texas during the past year is dramatic proof of this."

"The responsibility for his own safety and the safety of all he meets in traffic rests on the driver. This responsibility includes the obligation to do all in his power to prevent an accident even when danger is occasioned by the wanton carelessness of another," Musick said.

He urged all drivers to be a positive force in the Attack on Traffic Accidents by driving defensively—that is, driving in such a manner as to avoid accidents by anticipating and allowing for hazards created by the unsafe acts of others and by adverse traffic and weather conditions. "In doing so," he said, they will be discharging their responsibility to God and their fellow man.

Texans Continue to Hunt Out of Season

Late winter or spring hunting hasn't been legal in Texas for almost half a century, yet game wardens find sizeable efforts to follow this "sport," according to E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission.

His latest statewide arrest report shows that more than one third of the violations taken into court involved out-of-season shooting at game birds and other animals.

The director suggested one way to avoid this crisis, for those having difficulty in distinguishing one season from another, is to "dig a can of angle worms and get legal with the current fishing craze."

An indication that some already are following this trend is the item in the report showing that twenty-seven persons got tickets for failure to have resident fishing licenses.

On the off-season hunting front, some of the violators ran up expensive overhead for their indiscretions. Two men from Idabel, Okla., were fined $300 plus costs for killing deer in closed season in the Clarksville area.

That citadel of justice—Columbus in Colorado County—again was bracketed with the stern defenders of the law, with three different illegal deer hunters being assessed $200 fines each plus costs. Two were from Wharton and one from Fayetteville. One was charged with hunting at night, one with hunting in closed season and the other with killing a doe deer.

One Brownsville man paid $75 plus costs for buying game birds. The same penalty was exacted of a Houston man for running deer with dogs, an ancient custom outlawed in all but a few Texas communities.

Washington's estate at Non comprised 2700 acres.
