Hen Raising 5 Kittens

Mesquite, Texas—A hen has kicked out Blackie, the cat, and taken over raising Blackie's kittens. Blackie had her five kittens in the henhouse and a white leghorn promptly kicked her out.

When the kittens opened their eyes, their first look was at the mother hen. They've learned to answer the leghorn's clucking.

When they leave the nest for a minute, other hens peck at them, and the leghorn flies into the offending chickens in a fit of rage. Blackie takes advantage of things like that to dash in and feed her youngsters.

Miss Alton Terry, owner of the confused group, feels Blackie shouldn't be surprised by such antics. She was one of the litter of five kittens the goofy leghorn raised last year.

THIS WEEK

-In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

Barring something entirely unexpected now, this Congress will adjourn in a couple of months without having taken any positive action toward solving our most critical domestic problem.

It will leave the problem of an out-worn, costly and ineffective farm program almost untouched. It will have appropriated almost $7 billion to continue a program almost no one thinks is working or workable.

Taxpayers are grumbling and farmers are not happy. Food prices have been rising for some time while, at the same time, farmers' prices and income have been going down. No one is getting his "money's worth" out of the tax dollars being spent.

What happened, and why? In the first place farm production has been increasing for several years more rapidly than demand for those products. Result: Almost $10 billion worth of excess supplies, mostly owned by the government.

Who's to Blame?
The failure to make a substantial revision in farm laws this year leaves both taxpayers and farmers holding the bag. No one benefits from the failure to act.

President Eisenhower sent Congress a message in January outlining, in general, the kind of farm legislation he would accept and what he would veto. The essence of the message was: Get the government out of price supports and production controls.

Congress refused even to consider such a course. To do so, it insisted, would bankrupt farmers and plunge the country into a farm-led and farm-fed depression.

Congress blames Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson on two counts. First, his insistence that it accept the President's suggestions or face a veto. Second, his unwillingness to cooperate in working out compromise legislation.

Benson, on the other hand, charges that Congress is derelict in its duty in not sending a "workable program" to the White House. Probably, there is some justification for both the opposing views.

What Next?
No one here expects any improvement in the farm situation during the next 12 months. Rather, the expectation is that surpluses will increase, farm prices will continue to go down, and farm program costs will go higher.

From 1933 to 1952 Agriculture Department expenditures totaled $25.2 billion. From 1953 to date Congress has appropriated $35 billion for USDA operations. Even that failed to prevent a one-third decline in farm income.

The inevitable result of inaction will be a continued drift toward lower farm income and higher government costs. Millions of people in both small towns where farmers trade and in big city factories that sell to farmers will feel the pinch of reduced farm buying power.

Action must be taken soon to meet the crisis on the farm if we are to avoid a continuation of the present deplorable situation. The need is for more farm statesmanship, both in Congress and the Administration.

Go to the Dog
Caoford, England—The romance of Brenda Stimpson and Geoffrey Fryer has gone to the dogs. Brenda told Geoffrey that she was fed up with his pet greyhound, and told him he must choose between her and the animal. The day before the date of their wedding, she received a note from Geoffrey. He said he had decided to choose the dog.

Drouth Strikes Canada's Duck Nesting Area

A continued drouth in Canada may seriously affect waterfowl shooting on the Texas coast this year, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

As a member of the Central Flyways Council he has received information indicating the nesting areas have been disastrously affected by the prolonged drouth.

Workers of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service who have been in Canada studying the conditions say this "can be our worst year on record."

The report says the first dust storms since 1949 with winds of 25-30 miles an hour have been experienced in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

At this time the 1959 season on the Alberta prairie shows every indication of a substantially lower waterfowl index than previous years," the report says. The report says general over-all duck populations are one-third to one-half.

These studies continue through the summer. This year, Harold Game and Fish Commission has been assigned to assist in the ducks in Canada. There will be a meeting of the Central Flyways committee in Montana in August. Following that, the season will be set in Washington.

Austin, Tex.—Much more than just taxes is being written now at the State Capitol.

Political careers are being shaped—or broken. Climate is being determined for business development—or freeze. Cost of living for every Texan is involved.

That's what the edginess, temperament, fussing and name-calling is all about right now.

Seldom, if ever before, have lawmakers been so sensitive to criticism—from governor, from press, from public.

For the first time in years, the House met on a Saturday (June 20) to work on the long overdue tax bill. Knuckling down had come reluctantly—but surely—after governor and press had chided lawmakers for long Thursday-to-Monday recesses during the short 30-day special sessions. Lawmakers fussed back earlier in that week—but they stayed late.

For the most part, the fussing was all bark and little bite. House members who threatened to evict Capitol news reporters from their Capitol quarters and House floor press table in reprisal weren't taken seriously. Reporting of legislative affairs is fundamental to day afternoon.

It would allow the colleges to make mandatory a student fee of $30 a semester. This would pay for such campus services as hospital and medical care, book rentals, student publications and tickets to athletic and cultural events.

College presidents are supporting the bill. Those from smaller schools, particularly, say they need the extra revenue to stay in the black on these activities.

Spokesmen for student groups opposed. They said poorer students would rather do without these services than pay the fees.

Senate Finance committee leaned toward the presidents' view, voted the bill out by a 2-to-1 majority.

NEW BEACH BILL — Senate has a simplified substitute for Rep. Robert Eckhardt's bill to protect public beaches.

New bill says that no one shall get in the way of the public's right to go to and from public beaches.
It leaves to the courts the job of defining where the line is between public and private ownership along the coast.

It would not, according to its Senate sponsors, cloud the title of privately owned land next to the beaches. Sponsors are Sens.
Jep Fuller of Port Arthur, Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, Culp Kreuger of El Campo and Robert Baker of Houston.

At the House committee hearing on the Eckhardt bill, many came to testify for and against.
Supporters of the bill said the only opposition was from "selfish land owners." Opponents called it an effort to "take land without just compensation.

Strongly Against Lobbying

"Some people are strongly against lobbying in the General Assembly or Congress. Special pleading to influence lawmakers impresses them as being somewhat like a person involved in a lawsuit attempting to cultivate the favor of members of the trial jury. But is hard to figure a way to prohibit lobbying . . ."

"That is to say, to realize any action on a new piece of legislation, somebody has got to lobby for it—or against it—enough to arouse a working quorum of the assembly into either passing or rejecting the thing . . ."—Wadsworth, N. C., Messenger and Intelligencer.

Slowdown Toward High Compression Engines

A slowdown in the advance towards higher compression engines and higher octane oils was forecast by scientists at the Fifth World Petroleum Congress. Further improvements are likely, they said, but the pace of the past is presumed to be the future.

Some orators don't seem to understand the difference between eloquence and endurance.

Television News

"Ethel," said Hubert Blevins, his wife last Monday night. "is the T. V. acting up."

"No," replied Ethel, "it's my good . . . a little snowy, haps."

"Well," informed Blevins, "there's your TV antenna out there in our back yard."

And it was, too . . . looked a mighty hand had just pulled ward on his brand new, steel tower, twisted it like it might be tin foil, then wrapped around Hubert and Ethel's tiful new garage, with the suspended, front end straight toward the ground, about ten toward old mother earth.

Yes, the winds were howling north Crowell last Monday. Jack Seale's steel tower went and over the electric service alley. Mrs. Vera Robbins' antenna went down without a tenna being broken, and set of her trees were wrecked by obviously twisting wind.

Carroll's antenna made a nice pretzel, and half a tree out in the street at Mrs. G. Davis' home. Other antenna ualties included Claude Carr, Travis Vecera's and Harvey delott's.

Your writer was luckier the rest. On Sunday night antenna turned due south. I couldn't get it turned any on Monday . . . it at all. Monday night's wind . . . next ing my antenna was turned due east . . . like a good Foard county antenna should. Yes, they say it's an ill wind blows nobody good!

Foard County Little League News

by Marion Crowell, President

A behind the scenes story: The Rotary Braves were accused of firing up their coke burners (rain-makers) last Sunday night to bring on the rains of Sunday night and Monday night. (Barry Berg, Rotary pitching ace, had been ordered by his doctor NOT to pitch on Tuesday night due to a partially-healed finger.) Rotary manager Raymond Halenack was jubilant as he viewed the water-covered infield Tuesday afternoon.

The rains also fouled up our minor league plans. Brother Carl Hudson had worked with the minor leaguers all week the previous week and had about 14 youngsters out. Nelson Oliphant and Jack Spikes worked with the peewees last week, and—after the fields were dry—only a few showed up. But don't give up, kids... It's very important to us that the minor leaguers be trained, and there'll be lots of dry weather up ahead!

Don't let yourself feel sorry for Managers Bell's and Fish's Foard County Mill team. They'll be in there before long... and, with just a little help before the second half of the season gets underway, every game they play will be a toss-up. (I imagine Player Agent Glen Goodwin is working late nights right now figuring out a way to equalize all teams at halftime.)

We've never had a player hit in the head by a ball—and I hope we never do—but I can't help but feel that our type protective helmet is better than the type used by some leagues. Over at Paducah, I understand, two youngsters have been hit squarely on top of the head by pitches wherein they ducked into the ball. Their type protective helmet is completely open on top... it's a kind of a football helmet affair, giving protection to the ears and temples, but NONE to the top of the head. One thing we DO need to stress continually, however, is for all you Little Leaguers to stay INSIDE the screened-in dugout unless

Cost of Firing on Enemy Greatly Increased

Back in the 50-caliber machine-gun era, a fighter plane could fire on an enemy at small cost. Now, says Newsweek, the missiles with which our new fighters are equipped cost $7,000 each—and with an atomic warhead, $243,000.

On June 29, 1871, the Navy Department announced the appointment of Dr. William Maxwell Wood to serve as the Chief of Medicine and Surgery, the Navy's first surgeon general.

Card of Thanks

With grateful hearts, we thank all those who did so much to comfort us in our recent sorrow. The kindness and thoughtfulness shown us was indeed helpful and greatly appreciated.

And now it comes my time to say "thank you" for the many kindnesses I received during my stay in the hospital. Dr. Kralieck and the wonderful nurses left nothing undone for my comfort. Thank you all.

EFFECTIVE JULY 1, OUR SHOP WILL Close at 12:00 Noon Saturday!

CALVIN WELDING SHOP

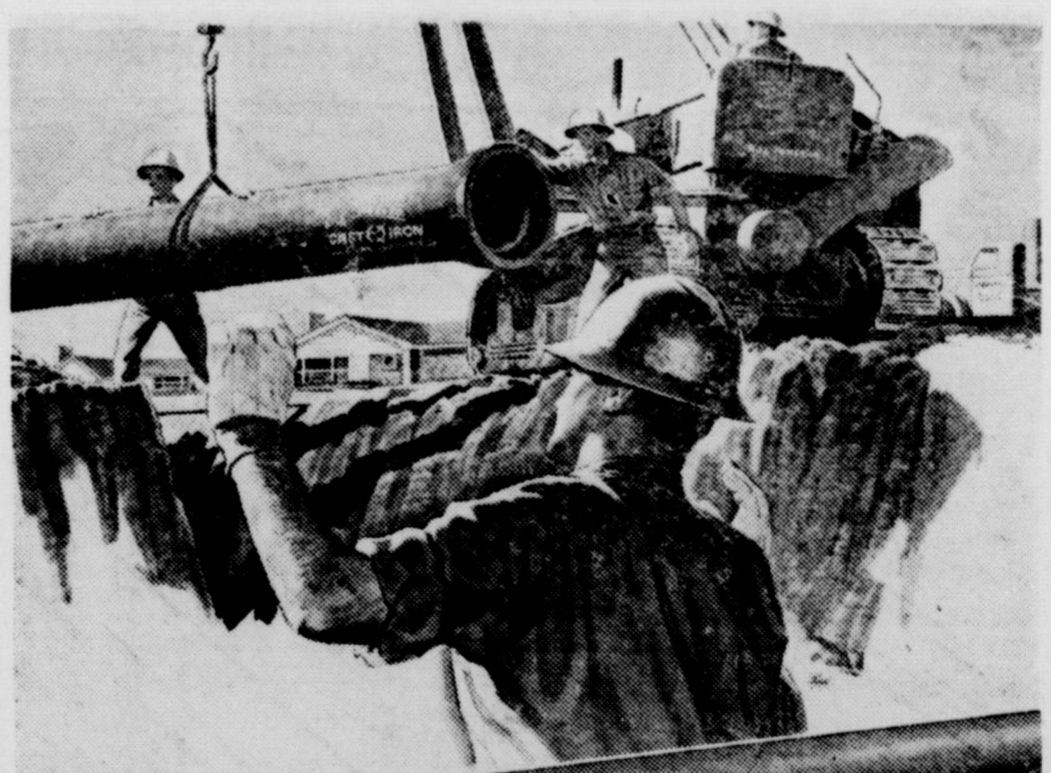

Mr. Tax-payer:

Which of these pipes will your city use?

Texas-made Lone Star cast iron pressure pipe will last over a hundred years!

The use of cheap substitutes, such as foreign made cement-asbestos pipe, is wasteful and means probable replacement in a very few years. (This pipe was taken from a Texas city's water system. Photo is unretouched.)

Officials of most Texas municipalities know that when they buy and install cast iron pipe they are helping to support the American economy and the high standard of living we all enjoy. They are buying products made in America for use by Americans. They are not fooled by the slightly lower initial cost of foreign goods because they realize that this "paper savings" will be more than offset by the cost of excessive maintenance.

Domestic cast iron pressure pipe is time-honored, centuries-proved, and is backed by strong, resourceful American companies that will be in business for years on end to guarantee their product.

Really, who backs foreign-made pipe? Who answers for it when it fails? To whom will the few all-advised pipe-buyers look for the answers to these questions when trouble develops? Were they penny wise and pound foolish?

Take a look at some of these important factors back of the initial price tag, then pick up the telephone and call the first city official you think of and tell him you appreciate his good judgment in buying American-made cast iron pipe with your tax dollars. If he has been buying Lone Star pipe, tell him that we, too, appreciate the business!

Cast iron pipe, such as Lone Star's dependable pressure pipe, will last for over a hundred years. It saves millions in tax dollars by eliminating repeated repairs that are inherent in cheap, foreign-made substitutes. Our Weekly Sermon

Demands of Discipleship
 Young Daniel Webster had opportunity to become clerk of a New Hampshire court. The job was attractive because of salary and fees. He decided to accept the position and live in comfort.
 But a lawyer friend warned, "If you take that job you will stand still. Your mission is to make opinions for other men to record, not be a clerk who records the opinions of others."
 Webster reconsidered, refused the clerk's position, and rented an office for $15 a year. For many months he could not pay his rent. But in time he became one of America's most famous lawyers and orators.
 Each new morning challenges us with similar decisions. How much more alluring to walk the pleasant paths to nowhere than to climb the hill of success. What a temptation to follow the crowd rather than strike out on one's own.
 So it is in spiritual matters. Millions are satisfied with a creed, a ritual, a time-honored ordinance. But the demands of Christian discipleship require much more.
 Jesus said, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me" (Luke 9:23). "Remember . . . the servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you . . . If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you" (John 15:20, 18).
 Is it worthwhile to bear the reproach of Christ? "To him who conquers I will grant to eat of the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God . . . To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne" (Revelation 2:7; 3:21).
 "Wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: straight is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it" (Matthew 7:13, 14).
Thrill-Seeker Jailed
 Kalamazoo, Mich.—To stir up some excitement, Larry Standish, 17, called the fire department, an ambulance, a taxi, an undertaker, and a wrecker. He was sentenced to 10 days in jail. The judge said Standish could "wash the police cars for excitement."

Housewife Handles 85 Per Cent of Family Bills
 "For whom the belle toils" proves to be her family, say the nation's bankers. According to a recent survey on family money management, it's the housewife who handles the payment of 85 per cent of the family bills today; and she pays 80 per cent of these bills by check. One explanation for the popularity of the family checkbook is that it provides a "built-in" bookkeeping system and the cancelled checks give proof of payment recognized in any law court.
Trip to Moon Expensive
 How much will it cost to send men into outer space? U. S. News & World Report places the price of a round trip ticket to the moon at $60 million, or $100 a mile. By way of comparison, flying around the world by airliner costs 7c a mile at tourist rates.

Man Spends First 65 Years Preparing for Last 15

An Omaha physician, speaking during a symposium on the aging at the American Medical Association's 108th annual meeting, said that a man spends his first 65 years preparing for the last 15. He suggested a positive health program for older persons. Some of its items: A balanced diet including more protein, vitamins and fluids; and less fats and calories; adequate rest of mind and body; pursuit of interesting and specific recreational activities; a sense of humor; participation in community affairs; continued expansion of knowledge, wisdom and experience.

About Your HEALTH
 A weekly public service feature from HENRY A. HOLLE, R. D., Commissioner of Health, The Texas State Department of Health.

Call them red bugs. Call them harvest mites. Call them chiggers. By whatever name, they mean sleepless nights and ceaseless spasms of itching misery. This is their season. It will last from now until cold weather cuts in to their ranks. A few people have an apparent immunity to chigger attacks, but the vast majority of us are oh-so-susceptible.
 They—the chiggers—have a special affinity for low, damp places covered with vegetation. Bermuda grass harbors them well, but for some unexplainable reason they are not usually found in carpet grass.
 Just for the record, it's the larvae which do the damage, attaching themselves with their mouthparts and sucking blood until they become engorged and fall off. The fiery itching is caused by an anticoagulant material they inject into their host.
 Although adult chiggers—large, red and velvety—are probably harmless to humans, their wayward offspring can be serious as well as annoying. Not that they spread any specific disease—at least not in this country—but their bites demand scratching frequently which causes secondary infections in the form of sores and boils.
 To learn where chiggers are harboring, stand a piece of black cardboard on end where you suspect their presence. If after a few moments you see tiny yellowish or pinkish mites accumulating on the upper edge, you know it's time to check your supply of insecticide.

 Chiggers attack lizards, snakes, birds, and rodents with the same vigor and resourcefulness they display in attacking humans. No distinction is drawn between man and lesser animal species, which is hardly complimentary to us Homosapiens.
 Light applications of sulphur dust on lawns and low branches of shrubs have been used successfully for years to control chiggers. Nowadays, the new insecticides such as chlordane and lindane give better results. Just follow the directions on the label.
 A quick word of caution: Be sure to avoid unnecessary exposure to the insecticide. If you spill the concentrated material on your skin, wash it off immediately. And be sure to keep children and pets out of the yard until the spray dries. (A weekly feature from the Health Education Division, State Health Department).
 FOR ATHLETE'S FOOT, use Keratolytic action because it sloughs off the infected skin. Then watch fresh, healthy skin replace it. Get instant-drying T-4-L, a keratolytic, at any drug store. If not delighted in 3 days, your 48c back. Today at Fergeson Rexall Drug. 50-4tc

NEW SMALL CAR?—No, this is not one of the much discussed new lighter cars being measured by a 20-foot giant. It is, however, one of the sleek entries in the 1959 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition being "sized-up" by one of the judges in Detroit. Judging of hundreds of such miniature "dream cars" is now underway to determine teen-age winners of $115,000 in cash awards and university scholarships.

Church Wedding Unites Miss Long and Don Hatfield

The First Methodist Church in Crowell was the scene of a wedding ceremony Saturday evening uniting in marriage Miss Peggy Sharon Long and Don Eugene Hatfield, both of Wichita Falls.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Riley Gafford and the late Robert J. Long. The groom is the son of Mrs. Mabel L. Hatfield of Wichita Falls, and the late H. H. Hatfield.

Officiant for the 8 o'clock nuptials was Rev. Carl Hudson, church pastor. Vows were repeated before an arch of greenery interspersed with flowers of white gladioli flanked by spiral candelabra trimmed with jade foliage, holding white tapers, and baskets of white gladioli. The couple knelt on a white satin prie dieu.

Presenting a program of nuptial music were Noel Wilkins, organist, and Thurman D. Davis of Wichita Falls, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. Gafford, the bride was attired in a chapel gown fashioned of diamond white pure silk taffeta combined with hand-clipped imported French chantilly lace. The gown was designed with a basque bodice featuring a lace yoke and Sabrina neckline, which tapered to a point at the center front. Lace scalloped edged the neckline and the yoke was enhanced with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Long lace sleeves tapered to petal points over the hands. Small French covered buttons extended down the back. The bouffant skirt of taffeta featured motifs of lace on the sides which were highlighted with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Folds of the taffeta were fashioned to form a back pouf from which fell the sweeping chapel-length train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a pearl crown. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and cascading stephanotis.

Miss Jo Frances Long was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Wanda Heard and Miss Dianne Moncrief, both of Wichita Falls, and junior bridesmaid was Miss Mary Bob Long, sister of the bride. The attendants were attired in identical aqua silk organza dresses over taffeta fashioned with bouffant harem skirts shirred at the hemlines accented with small satin bows. The fitted bodices with pointed waistlines featured rounded necklines draped at the front. They wore aqua horsehair picture hats enhanced by back streamers and matching organza mitts. Cascade bouquets of white daisies were carried by the attendants.

Serving as best man was Pat Jackson of Wichita Falls. Ushers were Andree Kightlinger, Joe Fischer and Bill Payne, all of Wichita Falls. Howard Morris and Jack Payne, both of Wichita Falls, were groomsmen.

The parents of the bride were hosts for the reception in the Adolphian Club house. The bride's table covered with a white lace cloth was decorated with a greenery drape caught up at intervals with bouquets of daisies. Centering the table was a miniature bride and groom under an archway with streamers inscribed with "Peggy and Don." Crystal appointments completed the table setting. Baskets of white gladioli were used at vantage points.

Assisting in the house party were Mesdames Duane Cates, Louie LeBeau and Dan Reynolds, and Miss Jackie Broderson of Electra. Miss Wanda Hatfield, sister of the groom, presided at the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Crowell High School where she was a member of Future Homemakers of America and Sub-Junior Adolphian Club. She was voted friendliest girl in her junior year in high school. She attended Midwestern University and is presently employed by GAC Finance Corp. in Wichita Falls.

Miss Mary Joan Boyd and Mr. Payne United in Marriage

Miss Mary Joan Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Truman Boyd of Knoxville, Tenn., became the bride of Hollis Coy Payne of Floydada, son of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Payne of Crowell, in a double-ring ceremony conducted June 17 at 8 p. m. in the Arney Baptist Church, at Happy, by Rev. Marshall Penn of Tulsa.

Vows were exchanged before a decorative setting consisting of a center altar which was draped with white satin and held a large urn filled with yellow gladioli and white majestic daisies. A garland of fern accented by white daisies and white bows was used to drape the front and edges of the altar. Two tall seven-bracket candelabra and large floor standards filled with yellow gladioli and white majestic daisies were used to flank the central altar arrangement. A kneeling bench completed the setting for the exchange of vows.

A prelude of pre-nuptial wedding selections was played by Miss Patty McGinnis. Traditional marches were used as the processional and recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of chantilly lace and tulle over candlelight ivory satin. The fitted bodice of chantilly featured a portrait neckline effect applied to a yoke of tulle. The sleeves were long, coming to a point over the wrists. The bouffant tulle skirt was fashioned with a softly draped apron of chantilly caught up in back to form a bustle. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of lace encrusted with seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white stephanotis centered with a white cattaleya orchid on a white Bible. Satin streamers tied with love knots completed the flowing cascade line arrangement. She wore a gold necklace set with pearls.

Mrs. Wade E. McFarland was matron of honor and Mrs. Robert L. Beckett, cousin of the bride, was bridesmatron. The attendants were identically styled cocktail length dresses of embroidered cotton satin with sheer nylon over skirts. The dresses were styled with scooped necklines, short sleeves, full skirts and nylon cummerbunds terminating in large bows and sashes. They wore matching picture hats and carried colonial nosegays of matching carnations edged with white lily of the valley and satin streamers in rainbow hues completed the nosegays. The matron of honor's dress was pink and the bridesmaid's was blue.

The candlelighters were Misses Velma Ruth Edmonds and Rebecca Martinez. Their dresses were of over satin, green and pink respectively. Their wristlets were pink carnations.

The flower girl was Miss Jane Boyd, sister of the bride. Ring bearer and train bearer were Larry and Edgar Boyd, brothers of the bride.

Best man was Verrell D. Leeper and ushers were Harry Edmonds and Dozier Thornton.

A reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel P. Harrison following the ceremony. The bridal table was laid with a pale yellow rayon cloth and was centered with an arrangement of the bride's bouquet and the bouquets of her two attendants and was flanked by white spiral tapers in crystal holders.

After a summer course of study at Southwestern Theological Seminary and a series of revival meetings, the couple will be at home in Floydada in early September.

Mrs. Payne received her B. A. degree from Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, and is a graduate of Los Angeles School of Vocational Nursing, Los Angeles. Mr. Payne received his B. A. degree from Baylor University and is now working toward a B. D. degree at Southwestern Theological Seminary at Fort Worth. He is employed as a teacher in the Floydada public school system, and holds the pastorate at the Arney Baptist Church near Happy.
