Editorial

"All God's Chillun"

Integration is a major problem in the United States today. We've read about the problems facing Arkansas, Georgia and other Southern states; the reluctance to integrate has now hit Texas schools, too. What causes racial prejudice against any particular group?

CHS students are of these opinions:
 Cecelia Drabek: The first opinion we form about the difference in the coloring of the people of the world is usually formed for us by our parents, teachers, and others in our environment. They speak of themselves and their children as if they were made different in the eyes of God. Our Constitution clearly states that all men are created equal.

Some of the brilliant leaders in science, education, and entertainment are of different color. If we would give the people of all colors an equal chance, more could accomplish great things to help the world. Are we afraid of the fact that they might accomplish more than we can?

Jim Mack Gafford: I am not racially prejudiced, and I don't know what causes other people to feel prejudiced of different races of people. Color makes no difference to me. I would be just as happy going to school with one race as another.

Band News and Views

Last Wednesday, the Crowell stage band was the guest of the Lions Club. This was a treat for both groups as the band really enjoyed the meal and the club enjoyed the music.

The band has been busy rehearsing for the Dance Band Festival at Quannah Feb. 12. The girls have planned their costumes to match with the boys' suits and continental ties.
 The concert band is still rehearsing for concert season. Sight reading is the main attraction right now.

Attention, Readers!

If you are among those who are observant, you will have already noticed that new books are being processed and placed on the shelves of the Crowell High School Library every day. If you have much time for reading, it is certain that you will find the "perfect" book because the new books are every size, shape, and color. They are both fiction and non-fiction and are written about every subject that you've ever heard of.

If you feel that you don't have time to take advantage of these good books, you should think twice. Do you realize that it is the reading of many different subjects that builds up your vocabulary, your character, your knowledge? So, do yourself a favor, and the next time you are in the library, check over the books, both new and old, and we guarantee that you will find just the book you are looking for.

Club News

The Sub-Junior Columbian Club met in the home of Lynda Harris on Wednesday, Jan. 20. Officers for 1960-61 were elected. Tentative plans for a dance were made. The meeting was closed and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Importance of Clothes

Don't laugh! Yes, I know clothes are necessary, and because of that they are important. First impressions are very lasting ones and in some cases, make or break you. For instance, if you were applying for a job, your appearance would play a big part in your getting it. It's not how many different dresses or shirts that you have, or how much they cost, but it's the way that you wear them. When I say this, I don't mean you need a good physique or a great figure. (It does help, though!) It's simply keeping clothes neat and clean that counts. It's not such a big job either, because a little care goes a long, long way.

F. H. A. News

On Thursday, Jan. 21, the FHA met in the auditorium for an informative talk from Merl Kincaid, president of the Crowell State Bank. Mr. Kincaid told the girls the importance of a job, and of the steps to obtain a job, and of the ways to hold a job.
 The girls enjoyed the meeting, and they wish to thank Mr. Kincaid for his kindness.

If peace were sold in stores we'd all be regular customers!

No kidding—it's true, isn't it? If peace could be bought from a store, we'd all order a lifetime supply! But since it's not that simple, millions of us cross our fingers and hope that peace will work itself out. But wishing won't make it so, either. Peace takes planning. And peace costs money.

THIS WEEK

—In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

Nothing in years has so upset farmers and alarmed the public as the scare over use of chemicals in the production, preserving and coloring of food.

Is the scare justified? Is there actual danger to health from use of the chemicals? What are the facts?

To get the best answers available, we've talked with doctors, chemists, Food & Drug Administration and U. S. Department of Agriculture officials. All agree on one thing:

There are, so far as diligent search can determine, no foods on the market which contain chemicals in quantities injurious to human health.

There are, on the other hand, a number of agricultural chemicals used as insecticides, pesticides, weed killers and growth stimulants which contain poisons. The question is: How much, if any, of those poisons are in the foods when they reach consumers?

Fleming's Answer
Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Arthur Flemming says there is no positive answer to that question, but that "while the argument is going on the consumer should not, in effect, be asked to serve as a guinea pig."

The Food & Drug Administration, which is in Fleming's department, says it is continuing "extensive and exhaustive tests" to discover whether there are harmful residues in any food.

So far FDA has found small residues of aminotriazole, a weed-killer, in a few lots of cranberries. These were destroyed and the remainder tested and cleared for sale.

Aminotriazole, when fed directly to rats in large quantities, caused cancer. Medical authorities estimated that humans would have to consume 15,000 pounds of the "contaminated" cranberries each day for a year to develop the same reaction found in rats.

Law Supports Fleming
Congress passed a law last year, amending the Pure Food and Drug Act, which says Flemings must condemn any food containing any amount, whether or not believed to be dangerous to human health, of a cancer-causing chemical.

A number of other chemicals are under scrutiny for the possibility that they might produce a variety of human ills. Stilbestrol, a growth promoting hormone, has been found in parts of chickens fed the chemical. The contaminated birds were removed from the market and feeding of the chemical to chickens was stopped.

Traces of penicillin and DDT have been found in some milk. FDA says that research to determine whether the chemicals are used in quantities that would be injurious to health are continuing and that, meanwhile, any milk found to contain residues of the chemicals will be destroyed.

There is one other conclusion on which all authorities agreed. It is that the publicity on both cranberries and poultry caused an unjustified alarm. Neither contained chemicals in quantities which could cause cancer in humans. The scare tactics used were unwarranted and unfortunate.

District Office for 1960 Census Opened in Wichita Falls

Establishment of a district office for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing at 3829 Call Field Road, Wichita Falls, was announced this week by Director James W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's regional office in Dallas.

Herbert S. Gray will be supervisor of the district office. He will direct a force of 20 crew leaders and 325 census takers in the following counties: Archer, Baylor, Clay, Cooke, Denton, Foard, Hardeman, Haskell, Jack, Kent, Knox, Montague, Stonewall, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wilbarger, Wise and Young.

Taking the 1960 census nationally will require the services of 160,000 enumerators, 10,000 crew leaders, and 400 district supervisors, all temporary workers. The district supervisors, working under the general direction of the permanent regional field directors, are responsible for all phases of the census in their districts. Duties of the district supervisor include the recruiting of the crew leaders, obtaining space for crew training, recruiting and training a small office staff, reviewing the completed questionnaires, and direct supervision of the field canvass which begins on April 1.

Prior to the start of the census, all households will receive in the mail an advance census report form, a new census-taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form, which contains the basic population and housing questions, gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit.

Cowboys used to call a sheep camp a "maniac den," believing that anyone who would herd sheep must be "more or less crazy."

Industry Vitally Affected

"Industry will be vitally affected by the decisions Congress makes on a far-flung variety of legislative proposals during this election-year session. Serious threats are presented by a number of anti-business measures which would increase the difficulties of operation—and also of providing the jobs and products essential for the nation's economic growth."—No Comment.

2-Year-Old Is 'Dimes' Poster Girl

Mary Beth Pyron, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Pyron of Florence, Ala., has just been chosen national poster girl for the New March of Dimes 1960 campaign in January. Her picture will appear on millions of posters (above), canisters and coin collectors in every town and village of the country, symbolizing the New March of Dimes attack on crippling birth defects, arthritis and polio, diseases that affect one in every four U. S. families. Mary Beth was born with an open spine and water on the brain. Medical science knows a way of helping her. Hope lies in scientific research supported by the New March of Dimes. Mary Beth is a sunny, affectionate child and loves to ride her new walking horse (left). Her brother Tommy, 4, is a normal child.

Austin, Tex.—With the filing deadline (Feb. 1) drawing near, the political ring is filling with Thalia W. S. C. S.

Wood gave the meditation followed by prayer by Mrs. Claude Lamb. "Rescue the Perishing" was sung, followed by a panel discussion on African missionaries, with Mesdames Chapman, H. W. Gray and Ed Huskey taking part. The closing song was "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning," followed by prayer by Mrs. Wood. Mrs. Matthews served a delicious plate to those present.

4-H Club Meeting
Miss Charlotte Drabek, president, called the meeting to order on January 20 after which the secretary, Hollis Halbert, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. The meeting was then turned over to Miss Jackson, agent, who announced the food show on Feb. 13 at 9 a. m. After the show, there will be a sale to raise money for a party. Miss Jackson demonstrated how to make butterscotch refrigerator cookies.

hats—most of them familiar to Texas voters. Since there's to be no wholesale re-shuffling among top state offices, liveliest interest is focused on legislative campaigns.

Texas Legislative Service's compilation on legislative races indicates about six of the senators running for re-election have opposition or prospects of opposition. Usually the opponents include a representative from the senator's district.

New faces have entered the races in more than 50 of the House districts. In 19 of these the present representative is not a candidate for re-election.

Besides the usual preponderance of lawyers, there are a number of school teachers and former school teachers among the newcomers.

Campaign platforms rest mainly on these issues:

- (1) Betterment of schools and improvement of teachers' salaries.
- (2) Revamping or doing away with the new merit plan auto insurance rates.
- (3) Providing medical payments for persons on the welfare rolls and raising old age pensions.
- (4) Enacting stiffer highway safety laws.
- (5) Developing a comprehensive statewide water program.
- (6) Solving the state's fiscal problems. This is generally covered in some broad, fairly vague statement, such as "modernizing the state tax system," "eliminating unnecessary expenditures" or "finding an equitable method of taxation."

ENOUGH'S ENOUGH — Presidents of Texas' tax-supported colleges and universities have come out against adding any more schools to the state's higher education system.

Their reasons: (1) we've got enough already and (2) there isn't enough state money to go around.

University of Houston is seeking admission. Its case will be heard by the Commission on Higher Education in April. Commission will report to the Legislature, which makes final decision, in 1961.

Del Mare College of Corpus Christi, a municipally-supported junior college, would like to follow the course of Arlington College and become a state-supported four-year college.

Council of State College Presidents joined unanimously in a statement that to add more schools to the state system now or in the future would be "a grave mistake."

Texas, said the Council, supports more colleges and universities, and contributes to the support of more junior colleges (32) than any state except California.

Ninety-five per cent of our people live within 100 miles of a state college now, the Council advises.

CHILDREN'S AID REFORM URGED — Texas' aid to dependent children program seems to be creating more of the same social ills it was supposed to alleviate.

This is the verdict of the Texas Research League after a two-year study made at the request of the State Welfare Department.

It seems that these abandoned children—those whom the parents refuse to support, or can't—often grow up to have children they too won't or can't support.

Welfare workers are seeing more and more second and third generation cases, said the League.

League recommends re-shaping the whole program to put the emphasis on rehabilitation. At present, says the League, the program does little or nothing to help families help themselves or to get at the problems that caused them to be in need in the first place.

ADC payments go to about 105,000 persons in Texas—80,000 children and 25,000 parents. Cost: $21,000,000 a year, of which 80 per cent is federal money.

LEGISLATIVE EXPENSE RULING — Legislators who carry out between-sessions committee assignments are entitled to $8 a day and 8 cents a mile for travel, according to an attorney general's ruling.

A special law covers the expenses of members of the Legislative Council and Legislative Budget Board. They may be reimbursed for the actual cost of meals, rooms and other expenses incidental to this work.

Regular pay for state employees traveling on state business is $9 per day and 8 cents a mile.

BIG BUSINESS — Texas General Land Office, sometimes described as "the biggest real estate agency in Texas," did a land office business during 1959.

Land Office, which is the management and collection agency for the state's public lands, took in $60,583,603 in the past year. This came from oil and gas royalties, bonuses, grazing rentals, etc.

Main beneficiaries were the public school permanent fund and the University permanent fund. In addition, 18 other funds received

Boy Scouts Have Demonstration on Pack Making Thursday

The Boy Scouts in Troop 49 shared in another interesting Scoutcraft demonstration Thursday evening at their regular meeting. Senior Patrol Leader M. L. Speer and Wolf Patrol Leader Philip Welch presented an overnight pack demonstration. The yucca and bear paw packs were shown and packed. The demonstration included a listing of everything that a boy needs for an overnight camp and the method of packing these items in a Scout pack.

The do-it-yourself project for the week was demonstrated by Patrol Leader Welch. It was a one-man tent stove. The stove was made from a one-gallon food can and No. 8 wire. When the stove was completed, it was explained that a boy may cook his meals safely on this charcoal stove in his tent and that the stove may be safely used as a tent heater in winter weather.

Plans were completed for the Boy Scout family night to be held in the basement of the Methodist Church on Thursday, Feb. 11 at 7 p. m. The Scout families will bring a basket supper and will share in a regular Scout meeting together following the evening meal.

The Scouts gathered old news-land deposits.

Land Commissioner Bill Alcorn said 384 veterans paid off their land loans, bringing in $2,352,767 that can be used for more veterans' loans.

SEGREGATION SUIT SIDESTEPED — Dallas is in a bind between a federal court order to desegregate its schools and a state law prohibiting desegregation without a local option election.

State Supreme Court has refused to overturn a lower court ruling that Dallas was not entitled to a court order freeing it from the effects of the state's anti-integration law. A law passed in 1957 says that a school district that integrates without a local option election shall lose its state aid. For Dallas this would be some $2,600,000 a year.

A federal court ordered Dallas schools in 1955 to integrate "with all deliberate speed."

papers on Saturday morning as will gather bundles of old newspaper again on Saturday, Feb. 20. Everyone is urged to save the old newspaper for the Scouts (magazines cannot be accepted) and to call for pick-up before Feb. 20. A classified ad pertaining to this can be found on page 8.

Plans are being made for a Boy Scout Week window display in the north window of Bird's during the week of February 7-14. The Scouts will display posters, crafts and other materials that they use on their Scouting adventures.

Bad Risk to Pick Up Hikers

"Seems no matter how convinced you are that it's a bad risk to pick up any hiker, you still feel just a little like a heel when you sail on past . . . This writer would suggest . . . that you just go on feeling like a heel and pass up the hitchhikers because a survey shows that the percentage of thugs is NOT one in a thousand or anything like it. For instance the police department at Globe, Arizona, made a survey of 30 hitchhikers. It showed 84 had criminal records or were wanted by authorities. Criminal records included 24 for burglary, 14 for auto theft, 11 for personal violence."—Liberal, Kansas, Daily Times.

Brigadier General Archibald Henderson, USMC, served as Commandant of the Marine Corps for nearly four decades (1820-1858) the longest on record.

Attends Meeting in Austin

Frank Cooper, manager of the Cicero Smith Lumber Co. here, spent last week in Austin where he attended the fifth Management Workshop conducted by the Lumbermen's Association of Texas.

"A good deal of our time," said Mr. Cooper, "was devoted to a thorough study of the methods used by successful lumber and building material dealers throughout the United States, Canada, England and Australia to give the people in their communities better values and better service. We learned through the study of the experience of leading dealers how we can help more families own homes of their own and how we can help others make the necessary improvements for better, more comfortable living."

Demo Chairman Explains Changes in Election Laws

In regard to some new laws pertaining to elections, Ray Shirley, county Democratic chairman, furnishes the following information to assist Foard County residents:

In those areas where exemption certificates aren't issued (cities of less than 10,000 population,) county tax offices have reported a great deal of confusion among the exempt voters. Many of those over 60 years of age have applied for exemption certificates under the erroneous impression that these would be necessary to prove party affiliation and attend the precinct conventions.

The new party affiliation law specifically takes care of this situation. It directs the primary election judge to furnish such persons with a certificate, which will be stamped "Democrat."

The law says: "The presiding judges of party primary elections shall make available to all persons voting in a primary election who are not required to have an exemption certificate or a poll tax receipt, a certificate signed by the presiding judge . . . that the person has voted in the primary election. This certificate shall serve as evidence that the person whose name appears thereon has participated in the primary election and is therefore eligible to participate in the convention . . ."

This certificate will be a part of the election supplies. Other supplies will include an affidavit of loss which will be stamped "Democrat" and given the voter who has misplaced or lost his poll tax receipt or exemption certificate.

A clearer picture of the party's affiliation law's operation can be had by understanding the role of the election judge. He is the key voter who appears at the primary poll will depart with one of the following:

1. His poll tax receipt, stamped by the election official showing his party affiliation; or

2. A stamped exemption certificate; or

3. A stamped affidavit of loss; or

4. A stamped certificate for all those not required to have a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate.

Whichever category the voter is in, he should take his stamped paper to the precinct convention as evidence and proof of party affiliation. Under the law, a person must have voted in the primary in order to attend his precinct convention.
