Farmers Speeding Up Application of Great Plains Conservation Practices

Foard County producers who are applying for contracts in the Great Plains Conservation Program are speeding up their application of practices scheduled for 1959, according to Lynn McDaniel, Soil Conservation District Manager for the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District.

The Great Plains Program (Public Law 1021) was intended to help farmers and ranchers speed their application of land use practices, wind erosion control, soil conservation and management practices so as to minimize hazards of weather extremes," McDaniel declared.

McDaniel listed the following as participating conservation programs, as follows:

T. Murphy has completed a plan to control brush and reseeds native grassland. F. Stator has completed a plan of channel terrace, and 1959 time schedule includes construction, diversion construction, spreader dikes, fencing and net wire diversions.

W. L. Pechacek intends to control brush and reseed native grassland. Defer grazing in the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Joe Coufal plans to sod waterway in coastal bermuda grass in 1959.

Grady Halbert intends to control brush by aerial spraying, range chiseling, and range seeding.

Jack Welch has completed diversion terraces and plans to construct net wire diversions.

W. R. Moore and E. M. Burkhardt finished a terrace system and shaped a waterway. Their time schedule includes establishing a dead cover on cropland to convert to grass, vegetating a waterway, and strip cropping.

County Collections

1958 Show Small Increase

Collections for the taxing agency of Foard County proved to be slightly better in 1958, than the preceding year, according to figures released this week.

A. Andrews, secretary of the Consolidated Independent District, reported that of $98,764.80 on the tax roll, office collected $93,112.10 of current taxes. This was 94.28 percent, which was a slightly higher percentage of collections than in 1957. Total valuations for school district are $6,584,320.

R. Magee, office deputy, reported that 94.2 percent of the city and state taxes for 1958 were collected. Of the $131,230.73 tax on the county and state tax $123,508.00 were collected by office. Mr. Magee also reported that this was a small increase over the previous year.

The City of Crowell, according to Mrs. Fern McKown, city secretary, collected 83.88 per cent of taxes. The City in 1958 had $934.50 on the rolls and Mrs. McKown reported that of this amount, $17,563.16 was collected prior to January 31, the last date to pay either city, school, county state taxes without a penalty added for late payment.

Total valuation for the City of Crowell is $1,395,635.00.

Introduces Water Conservation Resolution in State Senate

In a letter to the News, Senator George Moffett said: "Many parts of Texas have water supply that is not useable on account of the general content. If a low-cost process could be devised to desalinate water, many West Texas communities would have ample water supplies, and many acres of land could be profitably irrigated that is not possible under existing conditions. Furthermore, coastal cities are running out of water.

As a consequence of these conditions, the Federal Congress has appropriated ten million dollars to be used in the construction of five water conversion plants; one on the Atlantic Coast, one on the Gulf Coast, one to be located in the areas of the Southwest, and fifth one to be located in the northern Plains. Each plant is to be on a different process of desalinating brackish water. Obviously, West Texas would be benefited by the development of a low-cost method of producing soft water. Consequently, I requested that other West Texas Senators join me in the introduction of a resolution urging the U. S. Department of the Interior establish a plant in Western Texas."

Rev. Aly Resigns as Pastor of First Baptist Church

Rev. C. T. Aly, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Crowell for the past five years and eight months, tendered his resignation last Sunday morning. He has accepted the pastorate of the Central Baptist Church in Wichita Falls, effective immediately.

During his pastorate here the church has shown a great deal of improvement in every department of work. For two years in succession the church has received the Town and Country Church Achievement award presented by the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Rev. Aly expressed the gratitude of him and his family for the many kindnesses shown them by the membership of the church and those of all the other churches of the town, along with the entire citizenship of Crowell and Foard County. "The people of this area will always have a warm place in our hearts," he said.

Rev. Aly and his family will move to 1603 Bennett Street in Wichita Falls March 5.

Bro. Aly has been active in the Rotary Club and is a member of the Crowell Masonic Lodge and Royal Arch Chapter and Council.

March of Dimes Drive Lagging

The amount of money received this year in the March of Dimes program—$204.12—has not come up to the average that is usually raised in Foard County, states Bill Klepper, Foard County program chairman. If anyone has not sent in his donation, he is urged to do so.

The following have recently made contributions in memory of John W. Wright, who was general chairman of the National Foundation in this county: Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Banister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Banister, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Wade Corzine.

Starving Quail in North Texas Trapped, Moved

Limited trapping of starving quail in North Texas, so that they can be transplanted into other areas, has been attempted in several places, according to the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

"We don't think this is a solution of the problem, but we are interested in seeing what can be done for the birds," he said. "We had a very unusual situation during the past season. There was an abundance of quail and an abundance of rats in the area. The food supply was insufficient and as a result many quail have died of starvation."

The secretary said that where quail are moved it has been done with the understanding that the birds would be provided with food in their new range.

"What this will mean we are not in a position to say," he pointed out. "There is some danger that the unhealthy birds may infect other birds. For that reason we hesitate to trap and move many of the starving birds. We are doing so, however, on a very limited experimental basis."

In some counties in North Texas as the birds were so poor by mid-December hunters refused to shoot them. As a result, thousands of birds have died of starvation. At the same time rats also are dying off.

Country Club Lake Treated with Fertilizer

The Spring Lake Country Club lake was treated with 2,000 pounds of meal and 1,000 pounds of super phosphate by a group of fishermen members of the club Sunday.

Those who helped with the project were Nelson Oliphant, Howard Ferguson, Fred Collins, Jack Spikes, Ed Roark and Dwight Campbell.

Down Town Bible Class

Mrs. W. W. Lemons and daughter, Lanette, each sang a solo in the opening exercises of the Down Town Bible Class Sunday morning. Mrs. Lemons played piano accompaniment for both solos and also for the group singing, which was led by Sam Mills.

There were 31 present to hear Recie Womack bring the lesson. Dick Todd was in charge of the meeting.

On the Job!

When several thousand U. S. marines and soldiers were sent suddenly to Lebanon last summer, some left with family problems unsolved, and for others, problems arose in their absence. To maintain the vital link with servicemen's families at home and help with pressing problems, six Red Cross field directors were assigned to provide traditional services and help maintain morale. Contributions to the Red Cross fund campaign help support work like this for the armed forces. Join and Serve!

New 200,000-Bushel Grain Elevator Now Under Construction at Thalia

A new grain storage elevator is now under construction in Thalia for the Farmers Co-Operative Elevator Association of Crowell. Total storage capacity of the Thalia elevator will be about 203,000 bushels, Tom Abston, manager, said this week.

The main storage building—the foundation for which was poured this week—will be 80x140 feet, 14 feet high, and will hold 183,000 bushels. Two 10,000-bushel tanks will also be erected. The buildings will be of all-steel construction and are being built by the A. & S. Steel Building Company of Amarillo.

Safety features for the structure will include an aeration system, and a device for locating any hot spots in the stored grain.

In addition to a small office building, the elevator association will have installed at Thalia a 60-foot-long, 50-ton-capacity set of scales.

The buildings, which are expected to be completed by April are being built on a four-acre plot in east Thalia purchased by the association from Fred Main and Mrs. Edna Ray.

You and Your Parents

Students! I would like for you to stop to think seriously for a minute. Do you really appreciate the things that your parents do for you—the sacrifices that they make for your sake? Yes, I know—you gripe about the things they won't let you do. But what if they weren't there to guide you? You would have to make the right decisions without any help. Although you may not agree with their decisions now, they usually prove to be right in the long run.

We as teen-agers often take our parents for granted, even though we know we shouldn't. In this world, anything can happen. Always remember that! Take time out for an inventory, and then tell your parents how much you love and need them, and how much you appreciate all that they have done for you. You may never have another chance if you wait. "Never put off until tomorrow that which you can do today." Remember, "tomorrow never comes," and for some of us, how true that is.

We never realize until it is too late just how much we rely upon and need others. And when they are gone, an unfillable, empty place is left in our hearts, our homes, and our lives. We are left with only our memories. Be sure that your memories won't be filled with regrets of things you didn't do for them or say to them. Parents are the most wonderful people in the world. Believe me, I know.

Janie Wright.

Girls' Basketball Team Wins IA-11 District Championship

The Crowell High School girls' basketball team captured the IA-11 district crown by defeating Holliday last Thursday night 76-54. This was the second game of the series to determine the championship of the district. They had previously beaten Holliday at Crowell with a score of 50-39. The whole team, using very good teamwork, looked good at Holliday. Those girls participating in the games were Gayle Taylor, Pat Prosser, Judy Smith, Roxiann Adkins, D'Lois Shultz, Sandra Simmons, Mary Anne Myers, Ruth Ellen Short, Margaret Fiske, Helen Vessel, Lois Ann Painter and Margie Rasberry. This is the second consecutive year for these girls to keep the district crown for Crowell. Their bi-district game will be played at Archer City on March 3 at 7:30 p. m. against Springtown. Let's all go out and back them.

Sandra Choate Studies in New Orleans

We're always glad to know of the activities of former students. We have recently learned that Sandra Choate, a member of the 1957 class, is now enrolled in a three months' training course in psychiatric nursing in New Orleans.

No doubt Sandra will leave her duties long enough to "take in" the Mardi Gras festivities. Lucky girl!

Library News

The library reporter for the past few weeks and for the time being is Lou Ann Summers. If you have anything you would like to have put in the library news, or if you have any comments to make about the news, please tell Lou Ann.

Roberta Hough and Vera Porter put up an eye appealing bulletin in the library this week. Did you see "You Won't Hang Yourself by Reading?" If you didn't, take a trip up to the library and look at it. It would be worth your time.

The librarians have annually given a gift to the library or to the study hall, and this year we plan to buy a clock. We should have it installed within the next few weeks.

As you have probably already observed, the Crowell schools are observing Public School Week March 2-6. Our library is always open to visitors, but we wish to give everyone a special invitation to visit us on March 2, at any time during the day. We will be more than glad to show our guests around.

Please come to see us.

Crowell Basketball Boys Are Western Half Champs!

The Crowell High School boys basketball team, playing at home, defeated the Holliday Eagles on Tuesday night by a thrilling 3 points—62-59. This game was perhaps the most "hustled" game that the team has played this year. Bob Carpenter brought down rebounds for the Crowell Wildcats while Freddie Youree scored 25 points.

Thursday night the Wildcats journeyed to Holliday and there lost a fighting battle by the score of 50-67. Fred Youree scored 20 points for the Wildcat team.

Saturday night at Vernon, the Eagles and Wildcats clashed to play off the tie, and the Eagles took the game with a 44-36 score. Jimmy Rader led the way for Crowell with 10 points.

These boys deserve full credit for winning the western half of the district. Playing their last game for the mighty Crowell Wildcats were David Carpenter and Jimmy Rader. These two boys have made outstanding records for the Wildcats which will not be forgotten.

The Wildcats were thrilled to see so many fans attending the Vernon game; so let's keep up the good spirit and back our team next year.

Band News

Many things have been taking place in the band recently. All the music that will be played at "Variety in Revue" has been selected. The band has chosen by secret ballot, the outstanding student of the year, and this student will be presented the John Philip Sousa award at the band concert, until that time the name of the person selected is to be kept a well guarded secret.

The band students are also selling tickets for the concert. The cost is only 50c. Too, the band is selling tickets for the "Zogi" magic show sponsored by the fire department. Anyone interested in buying tickets can contact any of the band students.

The Ark—A Book Review

We Americans tend to consider ourselves somewhat superior to people in war stricken countries, such as Germany, Japan, China, Russia, etc. Do we ever really stop to think that those people have had to endure? What would we do if soldiers boldly tramped into our homes, took over our belongings, and even separated us from our families and loved ones? In order to experience the feeling of war, we should read the experiences of people such as Mar-gat Benary Isbert, author of The Ark, who spent a portion of her life in Germany with her daughter and husband and tolerated almost unceasing torture.

Beginning her writing career at an early age, she was forced to halt all plans for publication because first the Nazis and eventually the Russians pushed the Isberts out of their home.

Feeling that they could not endure two dictatorships, the family fled to the home of a friend in whose memory The Ark was written. Later, they moved to a one-family apartment which already housed two other families, and there, often by candlelight, Isbert wrote The Ark—her first novel for young people. Margat Isbert is to China; both have pictured the situations of common people in stricken countries in order that other nations might develop an unprejudiced opinion of the true nature of the inhabitants.

The Ark, in a simple, straightforward approach, gives young Americans an honest, realistic picture of the terrible aftermath of war in Germany, a defeated country. Self-sacrifice and courage go hand in hand. The people had the courage to give up what they actually needed because they felt someone else needed it more.

The heart warming story is of the Lochowe—a typical family of five—who lived in two freezing attic rooms. The father, a doctor, was held prisoner in a Russian concentration camp. Despite advertisements, the family was thankful that they had a roof to shelter them. They looked to the future for that one glorious day when the father might return. Margat and Matthias, the older children, moved to the Rowan farm and converted an old railroad car into a home which was ready to receive a reunited family.

The Ark is truly a book of courage, courage of real people, who, caught in adversity that could have shattered their lives, looked to the future with hope and to the past without bitterness. Jo Frances Long.

Do You Recognize Yourself?

Joe Irrelevant, who heard or saw something that by no stretch of the imagination can be related to the work discussed in the classroom, wants to tell all about it anyway and "kill time."

Dick Cold-Eye refuses to be amused, interested, pleased, or even annoyed about anything that goes on in the classroom.

Myra Family always tells about her folks. What they possess, where they go, and what they have done constitute her part of most conversations.

Andy Importance thinks that the assignments are for the other students and that his absence from school completely excuses him from the assignments that he missed or the assignment the day he returns.

Nosey Rosie always listening in on other people's conversations and repeats them. Other people's notebooks attract her as well as an unguarded teacher's desk. Nosey likes to ask embarrassing personal questions, too.

Ben Putting It Off is forever going to do something, but he spends his time blustering and never gets around to doing it until the very last moment, then he squawks about having so much work to do.

Ida Forgot is the student who never brings the right book to class. She never has paper, ink or a pencil for using in class, and feels abused because she isn't permitted to return to her locker for her belongings.—Copied.

Roving Reporter

No outfit can be cute or complete unless the shoes you select to go with it are as neat and well kept as your other clothes. I've been noticing the different types of shoes worn by the CHSites. The majority of the girls wear black suede loafers. If they are well kept, nothing looks any neater. The leather loafers are just as good.

Comfortable flats are a good choice, but just because they're comfortable doesn't mean that they have to be dilapidated and ragged. "T" strap and semi "T" strap flats are very popular in every color. Just plain leather flats in a variety of colors (black is the favorite) suit a lot of people's tastes.

A few years ago someone conceived the idea that shoes could be not only correct for footwear, but good for looks, too. So he created the well known saddle oxfords. They're still very popular. Now someone else with ingenuity has modified the idea and we have the low-cut, soft, and comfortable lace up oxfords. They come in a variety of colors and in hook or the designs; they are usually made of suede or rough side leather, and they are not only comfortable, but if kept well are cute and neat.

The heel-less, shapeless Pixie does seem to be very popular. Since they're fun to wear, but a word to the wise: those heel-less, sole-less shoes are hard on ankles and legs, and oh, how they can ruin the effect of a pretty dress or skirt! Moccasins have the same effect. Shoes like that make fine house slippers or slippers, but just seem out of place in school.

The boys here seem to favor black leather loafer-type shoes. Congratulations on your good taste, boys! They not only look good, but they are good wearing, too. Of course, we can't ignore the cowboys and their boots. I guess to a native West Texan nothing can beat a pair of boots. The boys here really have some pretty ones!

Though it may seem out of place in school news, I just want to remind the girls that nothing "dresses up" an outfit as does a pair of high heels—if you know how to walk in them.

Well, I'd better "walk out" of here now. Be good.

Yours in shoes, The Roving Reporter.

"Power of a Minority"
In an editorial entitled "Power of a Minority," the Portland Oregonian says: "The strike of the 4,400-member deliverers union shut down New York City's nine major newspapers for 19 days. It threw out of work 15,000 non-striking newspaper workers, some of whose unions had accepted wage offers in the same pattern as that rejected by the deliverers. It cost the newspapers an estimated 25 million dollars. It seriously hurt retail trade in New York in the Christmas season and caused great inconvenience to shoppers. It left a numbing void in the people's right to know what is occurring in local, national and world affairs, and was stifling to their cultural and social life."

Club Sponsors Out-Doors Art in San Antonio

"Art in the Out-of-Doors" is the subject of an interesting article in the January issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine. It deals with the work of 83 young artists of Bexar county, who have just completed their first annual art competition sponsored by Wildlife Unlimited. This is a sportsman's group in San Antonio.

Wildlife was the subject of all the art in the exhibit. The art consisted of both black and white and color. Winner of the high school division was Patsy Burk, 15, for her water color painting of a buck and doe at the watering hole. Second place was taken by Marcia Robertson, 17, and third place by Paul Lutonsky, 15.

The Wildlife Unlimited Club is an organization of San Antonio sportsmen headed by Hal Swiggett, staff photographer of the San Antonio Express.

Too many people who save for a rainy day work on the assumption that it will be a light shower.

All men are created equal—and endowed by their creator with an insatiable urge to become otherwise.

Interest Rate to Private Lenders Increased by FHA

Farmers Home Administration has increased its interest rate to private lenders under the insured farm loan program from 3 1/2 to 4 per cent. Walter T. McKay, the agency's state director, advised that this change was made to encourage more lenders to advance funds for insured loans in order to meet the needs of qualified applicants throughout the nation.

The insured farm loan program encourages the use of private capital in place of direct government loans. Through this program private lenders can advance funds to eligible farmers for the purchase of land, for building and land improvement, and for domestic and irrigation water systems. In addition to the 4 per cent paid the lender, the borrower pays the government 1 per cent for insuring and servicing the loan.

Although the amortization period of the loan may be up to 40 years depending on the purpose for which the loan was advanced, the lender, at his option, may have the note redeemed by the government at any time after five years. The note, held by the lender, is negotiable and may be assigned to another investor at any time.

Two national veterans' organizations, pointing to the responsibilities of the American Red Cross for services to the armed forces and disaster aid, have adopted resolutions of commendation for the organization.

THIS WEEK In the News . . . 30 YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the issue of the Foard County News of Friday, March 1, 1929:

Clinton Davidson
Widely overlooked in President Eisenhower's farm message to Congress last month was a sentence near the end in which he revealed plans for use of a cold war weapon possibly more decisive than all of the ICMBs.

That weapon is food for the hungry people of the world to combat the spread of communism and strengthen the ability of free nations to remain free.

World Food Bank
The idea of using food to help friendly nations remain free from communist domination is not new. Since the end of World War II, we have financed out of the U. S. Treasury the export of more than $10 billion worth of surplus farm products to friendly nations.

As far back as 10 years ago bills were introduced in Congress to create a world food bank. Surplus-producing nations would "deposit" their surpluses in the "bank" and nations in need of extra food could "draw" on that account by putting in their IOUs.

What Worries the Average Minister Most?

What worries the average minister most? In a recent survey conducted by a large company, over 200,000 ministers listed the following as the greatest concern to them:

Eighty per cent are worried because their congregations do not understand the growing complexity of the minister's task. Seventy per cent worry about securing an adequate college education for their children. Sixty per cent worry about the rapidly increasing amount of time that they must spend in administrative work in the church rather than in pastoral work.

According to word from the State Fire Insurance Commission, Crowell will again for the sixth year, receive a 15 per cent credit on the total fire insurance premium, as the result of Crowell's excellent fire record and efficiency of the Crowell Fire Department.

News From the Congress
by Frank Ikard, 13th Dis.
A substantial part of the revenue of our state is derived from taxes levied in one way or another on the oil and gas industry.

Free World is Ahead
Food production is one big advantage which the West has over the communist bloc of nations. Russia and China are having, and very likely will continue to have, difficulties in raising the diet level of their 800 million people.

Vernon Community Concert Begins 15th Drive Monday

The annual Vernon Community Concert begins its 15th drive on Monday evening, Feb. 23, with a "kick-off" dinner for the workers. The dinner will be held in the Forum Room of Wilbarger Auditorium.

One hundred and twenty-five workers in this year's campaign have been busy the past week contacting former members of the association. It is hoped that work on renewals will be completed by Monday night, in order that workers can devote the present week to contacting prospective members.

Present membership of the organization stands at 675 and plans have been underway for a substantial increase in membership this year. Frank Long, area chairman, reports already an increase in area sales which have been underway during the entire month and many towns have not yet reported. Anyone in Crowell desiring a membership should contact Mrs. J. M. Hill Jr. or Mrs. Leon Speer.

The Association has announced "Vienna on Parade," featuring the world famous Deutzmeister Band and Singing Boys and Girls of Vienna Woods (a choral group) as one attraction for next season. At least two more will be presented and will be announced at the close of the campaign on Feb. 28.

Vernon headquarters of the campaign will be at Jimmy's Shoe Box and will be open Monday afternoon from 12 until 5 and Tuesday through Saturday, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

New Airport to Cost Taxpayers $50 Million

Railway Age says: "Same song, next verse: The Civil Aeronautics Administration has acquired 8,000 acres of Virginia farmland for a big new airport near Washington, D. C. . . . Total cost to taxpayers may run to $50 million. Meanwhile, Washington's Union Terminal goes right on paying its tax bills."

Would Require Disclosure of Gifts Over $100

Proposed Federal legislation, introduced by Senator Case, would require disclosure of gifts and fees amounting to $100 or more received by members of Congress and all Federal employees. Another provision of his bill would make all communications concerning any case pending before a Federal agency matters of record.

Co-Related Factors

"We cannot think of two more important and co-related factors in the American way of life than a growing city and its newspaper."

"This statement was taken from an advertisement in a Virginia, Minnesota newspaper. The ad was unsolicited. It was paid for by a merchant who wished to show his appreciation for the part the newspaper had in building up his business." — Tracy City, Tenn., Grundy County Herald.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—After nearly seven weeks in session, the Legislature has not yet given any clear indication of how it will solve its basic problem—how much to spend and where to get it.

State agencies still insist they need every cent they asked for—and need it bad. But those who would be "fall guys" of money-raising measures proposed thus far show no genial willingness to ante up.

Gov. Price Daniel is still pushing hard for his tax program. He suggested that critics would do better to stop sniping and start snooping—for a better way.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert called the governor's plan to gain $18,000,000 by a change in bookkeeping just "legalizing a false statement." Budget Board Director Vernon McGee termed it "unworkable."

Daniel also contends that his plan for the state to take over unclaimed bank accounts, abandoned property, etc., might help a lot of people, since the state would first advertise for rightful owners. But bankers and spokesmen for other affected industries called it "confiscation," said it would undermine public trust in their institutions.

Corporations continue to blast at a franchise tax raise they say would increase their burdens as much as 500 per cent. A two-thirds vote of each House would be necessary to put this into effect to help with the deficit this year. Many say chances are dim.

A Lubbock legislator, Rep. H. J. Blanchard, made a survey on tax and spending attitudes. About 60 per cent of those replying opposed a sales tax. Roughly the same percentage favored more spending for teacher pay, higher education, old age assistance, state hospitals and prisons.

GOTTA HAVE IT — Strong pleas for more spending are being made by spokesmen for 3

The Social Security Problem

The January 1 hike in your Social Security taxes — from $94.50 to $120 (maximum) — is only a mild sampling of further social tax increases already scheduled over the next ten years, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States points out.

Between now and 1969, the Chamber notes, these taxes will increase 80 per cent—even if no new Social Security benefits are added by Congress. Here is the tax-increase schedule in maximum figures:

For 1960-62, $144; 1963-65, $168; 1966-68, $192; 1969, $216.

Compare these figures with the provisions of the original law calling for a "top" of $30 per year in 1937, rising to a maximum of $90 in 1949, then levelling off. One reason for the higher social taxes can be adduced by simple arithmetic. At present, about five out of ten aged are drawing Social Security benefits, while nine of ten employed persons are paying the necessary taxes. But in the next 15-20 years, nine of ten aged will be, or could be, drawing benefits, while the proportion of employed social taxpayers remains constant.

Another reason for the new schedule of tax increases is the series of additional Social Security benefits which Congress has voted in every election year, starting 1950. These include payments for dependent or surviving children and spouse; a lowering of the age at which women can collect benefits; payments for permanent and total disability. At first, the act provided benefits only to retired persons.

Proposals for still more benefits are certain to be made in the new Congress. "Free" hospital, surgical and nursing home care for the roughly 12 million aged now eligible for Social Security, is an example. This would cost you as much as $24 per year—to start with—and much more if health benefits are increased, the Chamber points out.

All of this is in sharp contrast to the intentions of the original Social Security Act, and, according to the Chamber, raises problems which concern every citizen.

Social Security, the Chamber maintains, cannot, and was never intended to provide a complete retirement program for the individual. It was conceived, and rightly so, as a means of providing a "floor of protection" against want and destitution for the retired person. Beyond this "floor," individuals were expected to build their own retirement plans.

But as new benefits necessitate higher social taxes, which are, of course, in addition to all other taxes, the ability of the individual to provide for himself is diminished.

Further, if Social Security benefits are to be paid, as promised, the financial soundness of the system must be maintained. This will depend on the continued willingness of citizens to pay the necessary taxes. Constant additions to Social Security costs, in the hope that the taxpayers of 1969 and future years will be willing to carry the burden, is risky.

The Chamber suggests these are points you may wish to keep in mind when the issue of new Social Security benefits comes before the 86th Congress.

Writing in The Wall Street Journal, William Henry Chamberlin observes: "A few conclusions may be drawn from the experience of the ups and downs of democracy. This system must grow from within; it cannot be artificially implanted by a few young enthusiasts drawing up an admirable paper constitution and shouting a few slogans. Democracy has no reality without widespread education and a diffused ownership of private property. The United States will be well advised to frame its foreign policy not by abstract considerations of whether a foreign country is a 'democracy' or a 'dictatorship,' but by positive evidence that the country is going our way politically and recognizes bonds of common interest."

Gross National Product Expected to Be Up

A panel of 15 nationally-known economists, taking part in an annual forum under the auspices of the National Industrial Conference Board, forecasts that gross national product (the value of all goods and services produced in this country) will be at an annual rate of between $470 billion by the end of this year compared with a rate of $450 billion in 1958 ended.

Our Weekly Sermon

Books That Talk Forty-five thousand of the world's most loyal, devoted "readers" are sightless! Their method of reading - listening to talking book records for the blind. Since 1931 over seven million books have been put on records, making much of the world's great literature available to those who are without vision. Among the most popular of the talking books is the Holy Bible. The reasons are many. "The holy scriptures... are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness" (II Timothy 3: 15, 16). The Bible helps keep us from sin. "Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee" was the testimony and prayer of the psalmist (Psalm 119: 11). The Bible helps us to spiritual maturity: "As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby" (I Peter 2:2). We shall each be judged according to the holy Scriptures. Jesus said, "The word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day" (John 12:48). Whether we read the Bible for ourselves - or hear it read on talking books - wisdom demands that we give it heed. "Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves" (James 1:22). Defense Spending Is Not Half of National Budget "... Many Americans are under the impression that defense is the cause of big spending. But more than half of the record Federal budget is not for defense items at all..." - Nogales, Ariz., Herald.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D. Commissioner of Health

If you have ever been leery of drinking from water systems on interstate trains, planes, buses or ships - forget it. Unsung men who ride rails and highways, air and sea lanes, and yet other men who stay at home make it possible for the traveling public to shrug off those apprehensions. Interstate quarantine regulations say carrier companies can load drinking water only at those points approved by the surgeon general of the Public Health Service. The surgeon general, in turn, bases his approval or disapproval on recommendations made by state health departments. Engineers of the Texas State Department of Health or local health department personnel working cooperatively with them routinely inspect watering point facilities at bus and train depots and air and sea ports within Texas.

Their partners in this venture of guaranteeing water of safe quality to travelers are Public Health Service water specialists who ride the carriers to inspect on-board plumbing. Watering-point inspectors are a curious lot. They want to know the type of hydrants and buckets and hoses used to fill water storage tanks of conveyances. What protective devices are used? How are they handled during loading operations and how are they stored when not in use? They ask questions about and look into facilities for handling ice used to keep drinking water cool during long trips aboard carriers.

What sort of treatment does the water get and where does it come from? Cross connections with other systems could mean contamination and a load of sick passengers. They even get curious about the condition of service platforms, methods by which conveyances dispose of wastes and presence or absence of employee sanitary facilities. Inspectors recommend "favorable" or "prohibitive" certification, depending on whether the system is up to par or erring at the time of inspection. Prohibitive certification can be erased only by correcting defects.

All this effort is spent toward one objective: To get travelers to their destination in distant states - without getting sick on the water they drink on board en route. Railroad, airline, and port officials cooperate in the program by improving drinking water facilities and replacing obsolete equipment with the result that traveling today is more comfortable and convenient than ever before. (A weekly feature from the Health Education Division, State Department of Health.)

Warning Issued Against More and More Government Spending

Raymond Moley writes in Newsweek: "Those who are advocating greater and greater government spending should realize the simple facts of economic life. For every billion appropriated by Congress beyond a reasonable expectation of income from taxation must be supplied by selling Federal securities. If people are doubtful about buying, interest rates on these securities must rise and ultimately add to the burden on the budget. The end result must be that a spending Congress will burn its own household. For when the nation's credit falters, an embittered public will fall upon those who have destroyed public credit."

People don't get weak eyes from looking at the bright side of life.
