Fable of the Animal School

Once upon a time, the animals decided they must do something heroic to meet the problems of a "new world"; so they organized a school. They adopted an activity curriculum consisting of running, climbing, swimming and flying, and to make it easier to administer, all the animals took all the subjects.

 The duck was excellent in swimming, better in fact than his instructor, and made passing grades in flying, but he was very poor in running. Since he was slow in running, he had to stay after school and also drop swimming to practice running. This was kept up until his web feet were badly worn, and he was only average in swimming. But average was acceptable in school, so nobody worried too much about it except the duck.

The rabbit started at the top of the class in running, but he had a nervous breakdown because of so much make-up work in swimming.

The squirrel was excellent in climbing until he developed frustration in the flying class where his teacher made him start from the ground-up instead of from the tree-top-down. He also developed Charlie horses from over-exertion and then got C in climbing and D in running.

The eagle was a problem child and was disciplined severely. In the climbing class he beat all the others to the top of the tree, but insisted on using his own way to get there.

At the end of the year, an abnormal eel that could swim exceedingly well, and also run, climb, and fly a little had the highest average and was valedictorian.

The prairie dogs stayed out of school and fought the tax levy because the administration would not add digging and burrowing to the curriculum. They apprenticed their children to a badger and later joined the ground hogs and gophers to start a successful private school.

Does this fable have a moral?
 —Copied, Cincinnati, O.

Thanks, Bill Taylor

Throughout the year, it has been the custom for us to pause for a few minutes in serious thought as some student gives over the "inter-com" system a devotional followed by a prayer. We feel that these brief periods of meditation are beneficial in starting a day off right.

It's been largely through the efforts of Bill Taylor that this practice has been carried out; therefore, we wish to thank Bill and all the other students who have had a part in this worthy cause.

Stage Band Wins Honors at Enid

The Crowell High School Stage Band placed sixth among twenty high school stage bands from different states at the Enid, Okla., Tri-State Band Festival, April 29-May 1. This is the third largest band festival in the U. S. Crowell was the only class A school entered and was beaten by only 4A schools. They received a second division rating and an outstanding vote of confidence for being the only small school to enter.

Many students in the band won awards for solo competition. Wendell Callaway, Gary Griffith, Gordon Fish and Linda Caddell were awarded second place medals for their solos. Sue Sanders and Faunne Fairchild both received 2nd place medals for twirling solos.

The following students made the trip: Charlotte Sledge, Linda Caddell, Jerry Fairchild, Mary Ann Brown, Bettie Knox, Janie Bowers, Sue Sanders, Faunne Fairchild, Alta Nell Cates, Gena Adcock, Alta Nell Callaway, Gordon Fish, Robert Fish, Ivan Cates.

These students were accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fairchild, Mrs. W. W. Sledge, Mrs. James Bowers, and Earl Hesse, band director.

Junior Students Take Merit Tests

Ten junior students took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test on Tuesday, April 28. This is the first step in competition for the Merit Scholarship provided by some 90 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals as well as by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself.

The test is a three-hour measure of educational development and college aptitudes. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills and on understanding and ability to use what has been learned, rather than on sheer knowledge of facts.

Next fall, some 10,000 will be announced as semi-finalists, and they will take a second examination. Seven hundred winners will be announced in the spring of 1960. The names of these will be sent to colleges and universities throughout the country. The minimum award will be $100, with the maximum $1,500, and the average being $700. Those competing in this test are Ivan Cates, Monty Churchill, Tom Crowell, Bill Graves, Judy Johnson, Judy Borchardt, Jo Frances Long, Arlo Moore, Don Tole and Lois Ann Painter.

Highlights of Denton Trip

The last issue carried an account of the regional meet, but the following facts concerning some of the group were not mentioned.

On Friday, April 24, a group composed of Bill Taylor, Bill Graves, Monte Churchill and Tom Crowell left for Denton with the tennis coach, Clark Hitt, to compete in the Regional Interscholastic League meet at Denton. Upon arriving at Denton, Taylor and Graves were taken to the buildings at NTSC where Graves was to compete in poetry reading and Taylor in extemporaneous speaking. Then Crowell and Churchill went to the tennis courts to play White Oak. The Crowell team was victorious by a very narrow margin. The group then went to Fort Worth by way of Lancaster and Dallas, where they spent the night.

The following morning the tennis team met Clyde on the NTSC courts, and was defeated by this team that won second place in state last year. Our team received a second place red ribbon. The group returned home, reporting a very enjoyable trip.

Library News

Helen Vessel created a wonderful thought—"Reading for the Season"—when she put up this attractive bulletin. Thanks a lot, Helen.

We would like for everyone to know that all books checked out of the library will be due May 8. If you have a book checked out, please try to get it in by then.

The yearbook committee chairman, Lou Ann Summers, wishes to take this time to announce that the 1959-60 yearbooks are complete and have been filed away. Lou Ann would like to congratulate all those who have helped in constructing an attractive, interesting yearbook. She wishes to thank Helen Vessel, Vera Porter, Roberta Hough, Dorothy Webba, Rachel Rodriguez and Mrs. King for their many hours of typing, and for their instructions, hints, and guidance. But for them, the finished product would not have been what it is.

An announcement of interest to the faculty, future freshmen, and library club members is that a tea will be held on Tuesday, May 12, at 2:30 p. m. in Mrs. King's room.

Some new things are happening around the library office. First of all, all the magazines are being sorted and separated as to years and half-years. This will make prompt location much easier for the librarians. Second, the library office has acquired a new typewriter, thanks to Mr. Black. This one is very pretty and has covered keys; a key chart has been set up for those who don't know the keys.

Last, but certainly not least, has everyone noticed the added "sparkle" in the library. Don't be inquisitive or excited, it's only Vera Porter's new engagement ring. If you haven't seen it, take time to look at it. We take this time to say, "Best of luck, Vera. Congratulations, and may you have a very happy married life."

Research Themes Are Completed

If you heard one loud continuous sigh of relief coming from the English IV room last Friday, it was nothing to cause alarm. The seniors were just getting a deep breath after handing in their term themes.

These research themes are written from material ordered from the library at the University of Texas, in addition to any other material available. The requirements are for the use of ten references with notes taken in "college fashion" on note cards. The themes—1500 to 2000 words long—require an outline, a bibliography sheet, and numerous footnotes.

Students who take college English find that such experience in writing a research paper in high school furnishes much valuable help. As one college student put it, "At least I didn't feel so green when a similar report was assigned."

School

Sunshine and laughter and talking in the hall
 Humming and gossip and a friend's happy call
 New dress, new smile, today's another day.
 Come on! It's spring time; let's all go and play.
 Tests to pass and games to play and growing all the while.
 It's a hectic now—but someday we'll look back and smile.

Stage Band Gives Program for Students

On Tuesday, April 28, the stage band performed for the student body. They played the numbers which they took to Enid, Okla. They also played several numbers which they would have played if they had been able to get in the finals. There were several different types of numbers required, such as "Boom Chick," "South of the Border," etc.

Everyone enjoyed the program very much, and we all hope that maybe they'll give us another one before school is out.

Roaming Reporter's Report

The groom attended U. C. L. A. in Los Angeles, Calif., and at present is employed by the American Building Maintenance Co. of Hermoso Beach.

After the reception, the couple left for Hermoso Beach where they will establish their home.

Christian with whom she made her home, and Billy Ray Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dunn, exchanged wedding vows at the Free Will Baptist Church on Friday, April 17, at 4 p. m., with the pastor, Rev. Bob Gill, officiating.

Miss Linda Teague served as maid of honor and Boyce Cox was best man.

The bride is a member of the 1959 graduating class of Crowell High School. The groom has recently served with the U. S. Army in Germany and is now employed in Ernest Weaver's Garage.

Mrs. H. M. Black, president, was in charge of the business session when the Truscott Home Demonstration Club met April 23 in the club room. The resignation of Mrs. Jack Hickman was accepted with regret. Mrs. W. O. Corder was elected treasurer, and Mrs. W. R. Owens was appointed recreational chairman as replacement. The finance committee read the menu for the Crowell Lions Club luncheon May 5 and assigned foods for ladies to bring.

The homemaker's most important job of feeding her family a balanced diet was the subject discussed by Miss S. C. Kinsey, agent. The ladies were asked to answer four questions on paper and then these were read. The first was given name of a recipe using a common food that the family has learned to eat within the last year. The second was list a new food the family has learned to like. The third was name a recipe they like from the new club cookbook. And the fourth was give a food problem they would like to study next year. Miss Kinsey read a balanced menu for a day and prepared a fruit salad which was served with other refreshments.

Mrs. Carlton Browder, hostess, served ice cream and angel food cake to 8 members and the agent.

West Side H. D. Club

The West Side Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Tom King April 28. Opening exercise was "prayer" in unison. Roll call was answered by a suggestion for craft in June.

The program, entitled "Buying Clothes for Your Family," was given by Mrs. L. G. Simmons. She explained that one should consider the following points when buying any clothing: what you need in color, style and fabric, what you can pay for it, what kind of care it will require, which styles are most becoming to you, and what accessories you will wear with them. Mrs. Simmons received the hostess gift.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mesdames Walter Thomson, Oscar Gentry, Bert Mathews, Henry Ross, Herman Kinchele, Dayton Everson, Albert Dunagan, L. G. Simmons, Roy Cooper, Sam Tate, Tom King and 2 visitors, Mrs. Bonnie Jones and Mrs. W. B. Griffin.

The next meeting will be May 12 in the home of Mrs. Mathews.

A prayer was offered by Mrs. A. S. Hart. Mrs. Thomas conducted the pledge service before an altar with the open Bible and candles which were lighted at appropriate times. She read from the 6th chapter of Luke. Pledges for the year were placed on the altar. "Pass Me Not O Gentle Savior" was sung and the meeting was brought to a close by a prayer by Mrs. Fred Wehba.

BUD'S MACHINERY NEWS

Irrigation is a greater thing in this county than most of us realize—starting just east of Margaret and northeast of Thalia, and extending on into Wilbarger County. Most of the water is from thirty to fifty feet deep and the sprinkler system is used. We have enjoyed some good engine unit business for these systems. They say the water is a little wetter if it is pumped out with a Case engine.

We hear quite a bit about farm machinery prices being high—and we readily agree. It is unfortunate that the same people who set machinery prices can't set agricultural prices also. The manufacturers say there are only two things that govern prices—labor and steel, and steel is mostly labor—and both are going up all the time.

However, the next best thing they can do is to make that precious steel into the most usable products possible—machines that will do a lot of different jobs, much easier, faster and cheaper. To see them operate, and talk to a new owner will convince us of that.

James Sandlin recently bought a new Case 900 tractor. After scratching his head a long time, and talking to some men who own Case Diesel models, he decided to go the diesel route. After plowing some, he is well pleased with the fuel economy.

J. B. Fairchild said that when they got their first recent rain, it was so dry that it took an inch to soak up enough to run off a tin roof.
