WILDCATS WIN 14-6 OVER STRONG QUANAH TEAM

The Crowell High School football team won a hard-fought contest from the Quannah Indians 14-6 at Quannah last Friday night. It was Crowell's defense that really spelled the difference in the game. About the middle of the first quarter, Crowell left tackle, Gary Carpenter, blocked an Indian punt back ten yard line. It took fullback Jim Henry just two carries to make some good Crowell line blocking to push over the first yard in the game. Henry also blocked the extra two points to make the count 8 to 0. The second quarter was a stalemate with neither team scoring. However, Quannah did drive down Crowell's ten yard line in this period to have the Wildcats stiffen and hold to leave the half-time count 8 to 0. The third quarter was about Quannah's. The Indians made the first downs to Crowell's one this period. They scored their only touchdown of the game about the middle of this quarter. Quarterback Corky Smith broke loose for a 45-yard run to set the score at 14-0. Blackie Wade made the final yards to make the count 8-14 in Crowell's favor. The fourth quarter found Crowell looking better with the Wildcats leading in first downs. However, another defensive play set up the last score. Alert quarterback Ivan Cates picked off a Quannah pass about the middle of the field and rammed back deep into Indian territory. It took Jim Henry three carries this time to pick up the needed ten yards and Crowell's last touchdown. The score came just twenty seconds before the final whistle. This made the final count 14 to 6.

George Moss did some splendid punting in the game with a 48-yard average. Quannah was able to average only 32 yards, not counting the one that was blocked by Carpenter. Crowell was penalized six times for 70 yards. Quannah drew four penalties for 20 yards. Crowell led in rushing yards 172 to 162. However, Quannah led in the passing department with five completions out of ten tries, for 72 yards. Crowell completed two out of eight for 24 yards.

The following fifteen boys were used in this contest for Crowell: Tom Crowell, center; Taylor Johnson, Joe Barry and Bryant Thompson, guards; Bobby Powers, Duane Nichols and Gary Carpenter, tackles; Bill Graves and George Moss, ends; Ivan Cates, Jim Henry, Wesley Cummings, Bobby Barker, Guy Todd and Don Welch in the backfield.

There was a large number of Crowell fans at the game which practically filled the bleachers on the east side of the stadium. The total gate receipts were $1,681. This is the largest crowd ever to attend a Crowell-Quannah game. Crowell's share was $784.00.

Statistics for the game:

Members of Girl Scout Troop Receive Uniforms last Week

Those who were near the school grounds last Friday saw members of Troop I of the Crowell Girl Scouts in their complete uniforms, which they were wearing for the first time to their meeting that afternoon. Each of the ten girls made the money for her uniform by baking and selling ten cakes last summer. The uniforms consist of the dress, scarf, belt, beret and socks and cost over ten dollars.

The troop was organized last April 2 and has ten registered members and two leaders. Before being registered, the girls had to complete the Tenderfoot requirements. All the members finished their Second Class rank badge within the last month and will receive it at the Court of Awards for both Boy and Girl Scouts on October 1.

The registered troop members are Ella Hollenbaugh, Sharon Mapp, Rosa Lee Latimer, Shirley Mike Rasberry, Gayle Russell, Karen Shelby, Merida Taylor, Dena Todd, Paula Vecera and Linda Whitley. The leader and her assistant are Mrs. Ray Shirley and Mrs. Mike Rasberry. Troop committee members are Carl Hudson, Mrs. Hubert Brown and Mrs. Frank Gribble.

Annual Acreage Survey Conducted This Month by U. S. D. A.

This month the United States Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Post Office Department, is conducting an annual acreage survey. Rural mail carriers are delivering 30,000 cards to Texas farmers and ranchers. The cards list questions on crop acreages and livestock. Carriers pick up the completed cards and forward them to Cary Palmer, Agricultural Statistician for Texas in Austin.

Mr. Palmer urges farmers to answer and return cards to mail carriers. "This survey," he points out, "serves as a basis for estimating the state's farm production. Every report helps to make accurate estimates."

SAC Stratofortresses to Make Practice Runs Over This Area

Starting this month, residents of Crowell and Thalia will have an opportunity to see Strategic Air Command eight-jet B-52 Stratofortresses flying low level practice bombing missions, according to an announcement by General Thomas S. Power, SAC Commander in Chief. A map of the proposed route of the bombers shows that they will pass between Crowell and Thalia headed either north or south.

These Stratofortresses, sister aircraft to those flown by the famed 11th Bombardment Wing of Altus Air Force Base, Okla., will be flying routes approved and coordinated by the Federal Aviation Agency. The route for this area will be from Seymour to Wichita Falls to Quannah through Sayre and Seiling, Okla., to Hastings, Neb. Previously flown only by SAC's B-17 "Stratojets" these routes will be utilized by B-52 heavy bombers flying at altitudes of at least 1,000 feet above the highest point on their low level flight plans. Residents of Crowell and towns along the above route will be able to see both bomber types as SAC's "Deterrent Posture" passing overhead sometime this month and during the months to come. As neither bomber is supersonic there will be no resulting sonic booms.

No bombs of any kind will be carried on these missions, General Powers stressed.

Rummage Sale Continues

The cemetery rummage sale will continue for several Saturdays, and Mrs. N. J. Roberts hopes that women will continue to bring useful articles for the sale.

Mrs. Roberts added "It is the season of the year that we are inventorying our clothes closets and find items that we no longer need, but will prove useful to someone else. Again we request bed covering and children's clothes, anything that's useful."

Quannah Lions Visit with Crowell Club at Tuesday Meeting

The Crowell Lions Club met Tuesday noon with 22 members and 10 visitors present. The program highlight was a new idea of inter-club visitation. Bert Jenkins, Roland Walden, Hayden Jenkins, Carl Olson, Horace Brooks, Sam Russell, C. C. Rosamone, Wayne Mickey and Charlie Boynton, who are members of the Quannah Lions Club, participated in the visitation fellowship and Rev. Horace Brooks presented the program.

Dr. Bob Stinebaugh was the other guest. Program chairman Carl Hudson listed a full slate of programs throughout October and inter-club visitation dates for members of the Crowell club will be listed next week.

Rotary Club Meeting

Visitors at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Rotary Club last week were Jack Williams of Quannah, Joe Burkett, county agent, and Dr. W. O. Boaz of Fort Worth, educational director with the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission.

The program consisted of a short talk by President Grady Halbert regarding the Rotary Institute held in Graham Tuesday of last week which was attended by Mr. Halbert, Herbert Edwards and Luke Archer. Joe Burkett also made a short talk.

Fire last Friday night heavily damaged the D & T Foodway and the Shook Frozen Food Lockers, adjoining businesses on East Commerce Street one block from the square.

The blaze was discovered about 10 p. m., when most of the members of the Fire Department were in Quannah for the football game. However, one or two of the members and several non-members connected the fire hoses and battled the fire until other members of the department joined them on returning from Quannah. A truck from the Vernon Fire Department also came to the assistance of the local firemen, and greatly assisted in extinguishing the flames. One local resident fell from the building while holding a fire hose, but was not seriously injured.

The blaze was extinguished about 2 a. m. Saturday. The fire, which apparently caught in the rear of the food lockers, was confined mainly to the roof of the building.

Most of the damage to the grocery store, other than to the building, was smoke and water damage of the merchandise. A large number of people who had frozen food lockers were able to get their food out Saturday morning, before it was ruined by thawing. The heavy insulation around the lockers prevented the heat from thawing most of the food.

Both businesses were partially covered by insurance.

Glenn Shook, owner of the food lockers, does not plan to rebuild the lockers. Walter Thomson and Cecil Driver, owners of the grocery store, are in the process now of taking inventory of their merchandise loss, and plan to build a new building in their present location.

Cotton House at Farmers Gin Burned Monday

A cotton house at the Farmers Cop-Op. Gin in Crowell caught fire about six o'clock Monday afternoon and burned to the ground in a short time. The 40x72-ft. building contained about 5,000 pounds of unginned cotton. H. C. Duncan, gin manager, said. The building was covered by insurance.

The fire, which sent up huge clouds of billowing smoke, looked for a time like it would set the main gin on fire, but did not, due to the metal construction of the gin building.

The Crowell Volunteer Fire Department fought the blaze, but was unable to bring it under control.

WILDCATS AND MATADOR MEET HERE FRIDAY

The Crowell High School football team will have its first breathers of the season here Friday night against the Matador Bullfighters, before going into district play at Chillicothe next week. The Wildcats will have the advantage in both experience and weight to make them definitely the favorites in this non-conference contest. One should give an opportunity to see some action. However, the Bullfighters have shown Crowell some real competition in the past several years, but they have not been picked to win their district this season.

Responsibility
 What is responsibility? What does "being a responsible person" mean? How can responsibility help me?
 Here are a few answers to these and other questions about responsibility:
 Being responsible is the opportunity to improve yourself. Responsibility and improvement go together. Responsibility also goes with headaches and worries. The more responsibility you assume, the more problems you have to face and the more questions you have to answer. — Glen (Tiny) Taylor.
 A Christian nation is built by Christian people who recognize their responsibilities as well as their rights as citizens. Responsibility is really a means of meeting liabilities. Responsibility naturally gravitates toward a capable person. We should realize that personal responsibility is inescapable. To be a responsible person will help me to feel deeply and truly, to look at the world as it is, to find my own values, to build a philosophy.—Mrs. E. C. King.
 To be responsible is to be reliable. Throughout high school and college you will have to be more and more responsible every day. Often your teachers and college professors will be wanting you to carry out a special duty for them. You must be willing to carry out these responsibilities.
 Even in later life there will be a great deal of responsibility on your shoulders. You must be willing and able to carry out these responsibilities in order to fulfill your life's goal.
 Being reliable is also one way to make and keep friends. Everyone will want to depend upon you for a certain amount of duties.

 Whenever you are given a responsibility, you should never back down; instead, you should do your best to carry it out. — Margaret Faske.
Sports Spots
 Only two minutes of play left: Quannah has the ball on their 20 yard line. Oops! Now, Crowell has the ball on their 10 yard line! And that play is good for a touchdown.
 That's the way it went last Friday night when the Wildcats scalped the Quannah Indians for a final score of 14 to 6.
 Our Wildcats really played good ball even though Barker and Johnson were a little "under the weather." Jim Henry and Wesley Cummings gathered up yardage with loads of help from about nine other guys.
 Just call us MacPherson and say we predict Crowell over Matador. You can pick your own odds.
Southern Assembly
 Last Tuesday, Sept. 15, the Crowell schools enjoyed the first Southern Assembly of this school year.
 Toni Gauer, who was born and reared in Switzerland, presented a unique picture of his country. He appeared in one of the most colorful of Switzerland costumes, the appenzel. Along with his singing and yodeling, he told the story of Switzerland, relating a number of surprising facts about the country. His program was composed of things interesting to the young and old in the audience.
Senior of the Week
 Perhaps one of the most desirable qualities in any person is agreeableness, and it can truthfully be said that agreeableness is one of the outstanding attributes of Charlotte Sledge, our featured senior for this week.
 Charlotte is 17 years old, 5 feet, 3 inches tall, and she has blonde hair and blue eyes.
 Her favorite subject is band. She has been a member of the Wildcat Band for two years, and this year she is a majorette and serves as treasurer for the band. Physics is the subject that gives her the most trouble. She enjoys the color blue, chicken fried steak and football games; her favorite song is "Lonely Street." Her pastimes include twirling, listening to the radio, and lately, studying algebra II and physics.

 To Charlotte, her parents are the most important people in the world because of all they have done for her.
 Charlotte has been a member of FHA during all of her high school years. She has served as an officer for three years and is the recreational leader this year. This year, too, she is vice president of the Sub-Junior Columbian Club of which she has been a member for five years. She also serves on the Wildcat staff. During her sophomore year, she was class favorite.
 Incidentally, she says that the most unusual thing about her is that she doesn't like boys. Do you believe her?
 Charlotte is not certain about her future plans, but she hopes to attend Arlington State College. Whatever she may do, she is certain to succeed, and we wish her all the happiness she deserves.
CHS Style Stoppers
 Everyone has looked so nice at school that I had a hard time picking out a few to write about. I wish I could include each of you. Everybody I saw had on something new and different. I could not keep up with them all, so if I have you wearing something that you didn't, excuse me.
 I remember Helen Vessel wore a very cute yellow and aqua striped dress. Later I saw Cecelia Drake, who had on a pretty pink print dress with a square neckline. Maul Matador!
 Teresa Wright looked very pretty in a green sweater and a grey and green pleated skirt. She wore shoes to match.
 Margie Rasberry and Ann Painter wore checked dresses. Margie's was in black and white. It had a white collar and a black patent belt. Ann's was aqua and white.
 I thought Jo Carol Cooper had a very cute idea. To the ball game she wore a black hat with a raccoon tail on top. She put her name on one side and the Wildcats on the other.
 I would appreciate you telling me what you would like for me to write about. I need some ideas. Beat Matador!

Hay Ride
 On Tuesday, Sept. 15, the 33 members of the sophomore class had a combination hayride and picnic. Everybody had a wonderful time and each wants to thank the sponsor and room mothers for helping to make the event much fun.
Texas Colleges
 As it is so essential that each student further his education by attending a college or university, the staff has decided to pass on to you—from time to time—information about some of the schools of our state. Some of these schools you are familiar with, but perhaps some are very good, yet you know practically nothing about their standards and what they have to offer. This week we present to you Sam Houston State College located in Huntsville.
 This is a state supported school. It has an approximate enrollment of 1,100 men and 700 women. (That is something for the girls to think about!) The tuition is free for city residents and $300 for non-residents. Room and board is $335 per year. Mid-year admissions are permissible, and there is no set date for applications. The school has an army ROTC unit.
 The historical background, found not only in the name "Sam Houston," but in the charm of the historical city of Huntsville which is located in South Texas, halfway between Dallas and Houston, adds to its charm.
Homemaking II Officers
 The Homemaking II class has elected the following officers for this year: president, Jo Frances Long; vice president, Margaret Faske; secretary, Earlyn Hammonds; treasurer, Dorothy Nell Denton; reporter, Vicky Farrar.
Behind Closed Doors?
 Have you students of Crowell High School ever wondered what lay behind the closed doors of the lockers? Well, our investigation committee, the FBI (Federal Bureau of Idiots) has set its men to work. Here are some reports returned to us by the investigators:
 Locker 1: Very neat inside with 2 books and 1 spiral notebook in order; the door was covered with names and writings of all descriptions.
 Locker 2: Very messy, one overnight bag, one typing book, one paper bag with unknown contents (scared to look), and one pencil on the shelf.
 Locker 3: Messy, one library book, one physics book, a baton, one suit case, a very large head scarf, but the locker has a clean door.
 Locker 4: Nothing?
 Locker 5: Very neat, three school books, two library books, typing book and tablet, notebook, and one white sweater.
 Locker 6: This one looks like a tornado had just hit. Paper was scattered throughout the locker. Algebra II book had paper hanging out the pages, there was one spiral notebook, half torn; the door was fairly clean.
 Perhaps one of these descriptions sound like yours. Well, the following is the list of suspects: 1 Fred Youree, 2 Jo Frances Long, 3 Charlotte Sledge, 4 Miles Welch, 5 Judy Borchardt, 6 Slim Nichols.

Card of Thanks
 We would like to express thanks to the non-members of Fire Department who helped fight the fire last Friday night, to Vernon Fire Department, who came over and helped us, and those who brought coffee to the fire fighters.
 We would also like to thank motorists who did not run on the hose during and after the fire. Members of the Crowell Volunteer Fire Dept.

Why we built two cars for 1960 . . . as different as night and day

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. ■ One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. ■ The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. ■ We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.
 And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.
 In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years.
 Thus, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional car.
 That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars. One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any other car we have ever made.

 The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance . . . a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.
 The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long . . . and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.
 Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies it great structural strength . . . it's a welded unit that is virtually rattle-free.

 The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: no other U.S. compact car will ride so comfortably, hold the road so firmly and handle so beautifully.
 Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.
 If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's . . . take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.

authority simply because Congress has not said it doesn't have it. It is conceded that Congress never has specifically granted the Secretary of Labor authority to set minimum wages for farm workers. But, it is argued by those backing the order, neither has it ever said that he cannot issue such an order. So, it is contended, issuance of the order would not be a violation of any law. This, we think, is not valid reasoning. The order, if put into effect and not reversed, could become a precedent that would open the way for other agencies to, in effect, make laws by interpretation.

A Legal Ruling

Months ago Secretary Mitchell, an able and conscientious administrator, asked Attorney General William P. Rogers for an official ruling on whether he had the authority to issue the proposed order. After long study, Mr. Rogers ruled (1) that the authority was "implied" in the 30-year old Wagner-Peyser Act which established the U. S. Employment Service in the Labor Department, and (2) that there is nothing in any law specifically prohibiting him from issuing such an order.

The order, if made effective, would delegate to the U. S. Employment Service authority to require that farm employers who obtain out-of-state workers through USES pay at least the prevailing wage in their area. The farm employer also would have to agree to meet housing standards acceptable to the USES, and to pay transportation of the workers from their home and return when the USES determines that to be a "common practice."

The question isn't whether these regulations are fair and reasonable, but rather the fundamental issue of the authority of an administrative agency to make rules and regulations not clearly authorized by Congress. This seems to us to be a serious threat to our constitutional division of authority between the legislative and administrative branches of government.

Illegal Kills Keep West Texas Game Wardens Busy

Law enforcement duties in the West Texas area have picked up considerably since the first of September, according to the director of law enforcement of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. Within a week's time, 42 cases were made against hunters in the West Texas area, who killed curlew, plover, and quail out of season. The shooting of curlew and plover is a Federal offense, as well as a state offense.

Home Builders Circle

The Homebuilders Circle met in the basement of the Methodist Church Sept. 15. The singing of hymns in unison opened the meeting, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Fred Collins. Business was discussed by the president, with Mrs. Glen Shook and Mrs. Baylor Weathered to present the first two chapters on the study of Africa to begin next Monday, Sept. 28 at the church.

"Have Faith in God" was a very heart warming devotional given by Mrs. Clyde James, followed by the interesting program, "Methodist Women and Their Status," given by Mrs. Travis Vecera. A prayer by Mrs. Howard Ferguson closed the meeting.

The following members were present: Mesdames Fred Collins, Clyde James, Frank Cooper, Travis Vecera, Jack Welch, Glen Shook, Howard Ferguson, Clyde Eddy, Jess Whitfield, J. T. Hughton, DuWayne Elliott, and Baylor Weathered.

Unlimited Corruption

Dr. Sylvester Petro, law professor at New York University, has published a book entitled "Power Unlimited: The Corruption of Union Leadership." Excerpt: "Unions have taken great advantage of their special privilege to defy the laws, precepts and principles of good society. Working men have been beaten and robbed. Business men have been the victims of extortion. Consumers have been exploited. Political figures and government officers and agencies have been corrupted. Few significant areas of society have been left uncontaminated. Out of unlimited power, unlimited corruption is breeding."

THIS WEEK -In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

The basic philosophy underlying our democratic system of a division of responsibility between the legislative, judicial and administrative branches of government is being tested in Washington this week.

The public has been invited to hear and participate in debate over whether an administrative agency should issue an order having the effect of law without the specifically stated content of Congress.

Secretary of Labor James Mitchell, will decide, on the basis of the arguments, whether to make permanent a tentative order that would delegate to his subordinates the power to establish minimum wages and working conditions for more than one million hired farm workers.

The question, however, is much deeper and broader than that of applying minimum wages to farm workers. It involves the whole concept of the function of an administrative agency, of which there are literally hundreds in Washington.

Law by Interpretation Is a law just what Congress says, or is it what the lawyers in an administrative agency interpret it to be?

Some interpretation frequently is necessary, but that interpretation should not go beyond the clear intent of Congress. No agency should ever assume it has any

MR. COTTON FARMER:

Why pay forty to fifty dollars per bale for picking when you can get it all, at one time with a NEW JOHN DEERE NO. 16 COTTON STRIPPER for about $2.00 a bale put in the trailer. No weighing, no green boles, less dirt, trash and dust—a better sample.

The new 1959 Stripper is much easier to mount, and take off. It strips cotton 35 per cent faster than our older models—does a much better job.

John Deere is the oldest builder of cotton strippers and there is more of them than all other makes put together—they do a better job.

The best terms ever—only 35 per cent down, 35 per cent in 1960 and 30 per cent in 1961. This gives you two cotton crops to pay for it. Most cotton farmers save enough the first year to pay for the machine.

They will fit all tricycle John Deere tractors, most I. H. C. tractors and with a small amount of machine shop work and a John Deere Bundle, they can be fitted to most any tricycle type tractor.

Come by and see one mounted today.

We are thankful to all others who in any way assisted in extinguishing the blaze which destroyed our grocery stock and did great damage to the building.

And to those who have expressed sympathy in our great loss, we say thank you.

To our many loyal customers who have patronized us through the years, we wish to express our deep appreciation, and we will try to be open for business in another location within a few days, while our building is being re-built.

We have established a temporary office in the Crowell Flower Shop on the west side for the purpose of collecting accounts and paying bills.

Inmate contestants, plus a host of the nation's topflight television and recording stars will be the bill of fare for the 28th annual Texas Prison Rodeo in Huntsville in the prison's $1,000,000 stadium each Sunday in October.

Coy Nelson Payne and Miss Culver Wed in Grand Prairie

Grand Prairie's First Methodist Church was the scene Saturday afternoon, August 29, of the wedding of Miss Anita Fay Culver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Culver of Grand Prairie, and Coy Nelson Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Lee Payne of Crowell. Reading the ceremony was Rev. Tom Graves.

Preceding the pledging of the vows, Bryan Dunn sang "Wonderful One" and "I'll Walk Beside You," accompanied by Miss Joanne Moore of Grand Prairie, at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white cotton embroidered satin. The square neckline in front ended in a slightly scooped neckline in back. The princess bodice ended at the hip line in a crushed cummerbund which featured a large bow in the back. The waist-length veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls.

Her only ornament was a small gold locket, a gift of the groom, and small gold earrings. Her bouquet was a White orchid surrounded by red roses, atop a Bible.

The bride chose as her maid of honor, Miss Patsy Parmer, of Grand Prairie, who wore a forest green cotton satin sheath dress accented by a ruffle at the bottom of the skirt.

Miss Lucy Wilmet of Fort Stockton was bridesmaid. She wore a red lace sheath accented with a flare at the bottom.

Serving as best man was Raymond Halenack of Crowell. The groomsmen were DuWayne Elliott of Crowell, and ushers included H. L. Ayers Jr. and A. L. McGinnis Jr., both of Crowell, and W. D. Culver, brother of the bride, of Grand Prairie.

A small reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's colors of red and white were carried out in the decorative scheme. The table was covered with a lace cloth over red satin and centered with a tiered wedding cake. Other table appointments were in crystal.

Registering the guests was Miss Barbara Smith and assisting was Mrs. Bill Stout, both of Grand Prairie.

"To be really becoming, your clothes must have lines to flatter your figure," stated Mrs. James Sandlin to members of the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club on Sept. 18. She said further that "whatever your type, there are lines becoming to you." Booklets entitled "Good Grooming," and "Your Best Lines" were passed to the 11 members present. Mrs. Marlin Thompson was hostess to the group in her home.

To open the meeting, the group sang "The Old Rugged Cross." Roll call was answered with "My New Fall Hat." Mrs. Sandlin, president, led the business discussion.

An all-day craft meeting is scheduled for Oct. 2 at the Adelphian Club house. Each member is asked to bring a covered dish for the luncheon and her own dishes and silver. Plaster molds and copper pictures will be made.

Mrs. C. S. Bartley drew the hostess gift. Members were reminded that federation meets

The president, Mrs. John S. Ray, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Grover Moore brought the opening exercises. A short business meeting was held. Delicious punch and banana nut loaf were served by Mrs. Ray to 7 members.

The ladies were told that out of the seven district awards won by Foard County 4-H Clubbers, five are from the Riverside community. Next meeting will be Oct. 6 at the school house.

Hints Offered on Cotton Defoliation

The success or failure of mechanical harvesting of cotton is dependent upon the defoliation job. Joe Burkett, county agent, says a good job of defoliation in favorable weather enables a producer to harvest just as high quality cotton as by hand pulling.

Arsenic acid and penta are the commonly used defoliant and both have their advantages and limitations. Arsenic acid is applied at the rate of 1 1/2 to 2 quarts per acre mixed in about 8 gallons of water. This material is toxic to man and animals and is very corrosive. For these reasons, precautions must be taken to protect the applicators and the equipment. Cost of this material runs about $1.75 per acre.

The recommended rate for penta is 2 quarts in 7 to 8 gallons of diesel or kerosene per acre. It is non-poisonous and has no corrosive action. However, Burkett adds, it is caustic and may cause burning around the nose, ears and lips of the operator. Since it is mixed with diesel or kerosene, the cost goes up to about $3.00 per acre.

The addition of 2-4-D to the defoliate aids in the control of regrowth, in the event of rain between defoliation and harvest. The addition of one pint of 2-4-D per acre costs about 75c. It is good only to control regrowth, and should not be used where the seed will be saved for planting purposes. Those who do use 2-4-D should do so only if they are thoroughly familiar with the material. Once 2-4-D is used in a machine, cautions Burkett, it cannot be washed out. Amino triazole will also check regrowth and is recommended in the defoliation leaflet L-145, "Cotton Defoliation Guide," which is available at the county agent's office.

Cattle in Shaded Feedlots Do Best

Cattle in shaded feedlots gained faster than animals fed in unshaded lots, and those exposed to cooling breezes did better than unshaded cattle, according to experiments conducted by the USDA and the California Agricultural Experiment Station in California's Imperial Valley. Joe Burkett said the Hereford steers on the shaded lots gained an average of 2.28 pounds daily.

To test the value of good wind exposure on a feedlot, Burkett said the scientists raised another group of steers on a lot equipped with fans and they gained an average of 1.85 pounds daily. In contrast, steers in wire corrals with neither fans or shade gained only 1.63 pounds daily. Where the steers had shade plus fans, the result was gains averaging 2.28 pounds daily.

For each pound of gain, the unshaded cattle consumed 9.2 pounds of feed, Burkett added, while unshaded animals exposed to the breeze of fans consumed 8.72 pounds. For each pound of gain the shaded animals had the best average, 7.90 pounds, while the animals under shade and exposed to fans consumed 7.65 pounds of feed.

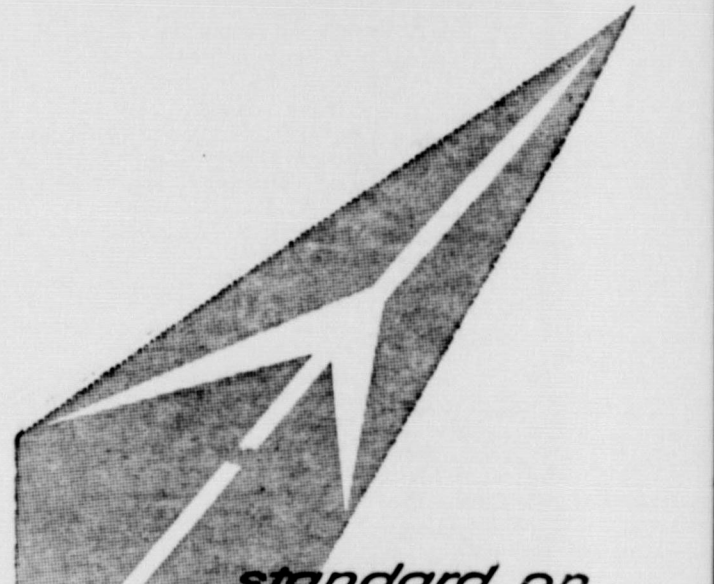

Feeders interested in shade for their feedlot cattle can get copies of plans for building shade at the agent's office.

Farmers Cautioned About White Grub Infestations in Land

Farmers should be on the lookout for white grub infestations in their wheat land, and if found, they should apply control measures, says Joe Burkett, county agent.

White grubs can be controlled by treating the wheat seed prior to seeding with lindane, BHC, aldrin or deildrin. This treatment should be done in the field just prior to seeding. Treating seed ahead of time is not recommended.

Anyone using BHC should use 3/4 pound of 12 per cent gamma isomer BHC to each 2 bushels of wheat seed.

For lindane, aldrin or deildrin, use 1/2 pound of the 25 per cent wettable powder to each 2 bushels of wheat.

It is possible for BHC to lower the germination of the wheat seed, but this can be partly overcome by first treating the wheat with Ceresan, Burkett says. BHC should not be used on seed that have not been previously treated with Ceresan.
