FIFTY-NINTH YEAR

NUMBER 16

CROWELL, FOARD COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1959

EIGHT PAGES

175,000 RECEIVED HERE EARLY IN S. S. BENEFITS of February 1959, old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits were being paid in Foard County at the rate of $175,000 a year, according to Ernie Tate, manager of the Wichita Falls social security district.

"This is an increase of about 10 per cent over last year," Tate stressed that while the benefits are intended primarily for the economic security of the retired, the payment of social security benefits at the rate of $175,000 a year in Foard County helps in the community generally because most of the money is immediately on food, clothing and other necessities. "In February, social security benefits were paid nationally at a rate of $10 billion dollars annually."

Payments to a retired worker with no dependents receiving benefits averaged $67.50 a month nationally in February, and to a retired couple $119.40 a month," Tate said. The average for a widow with two young children was $145.00. The maximum payment for a family is $254.

"There were several reasons for the increase in beneficiaries over last year," Tate said. The long-term growth of the aged population and of the proportion of the aged population eligible for benefits are important factors in the continuing increase in the number of beneficiaries. Other reasons for the increase of beneficiaries are found in the provisions of the 1958 Amendments to the Social Security Act which now make it possible for the wife, dependent husband, and children of a disabled worker beneficiary to receive monthly payments. These amendments also provide for benefits to aged dependent parents of a deceased worker even though other survivors are entitled to payments.

However, Tate pointed out, it is now easier for a disabled worker to qualify for benefit payments. He no longer needs social security credit for 1 1/2 years of work in the last three years before he became disabled. If he worked under social security for at least five years out of the ten before he became disabled, he may be eligible for disability benefits.

"Increases in average benefit payments reflect the seven per cent raise in benefit amounts which became effective with the checks for January 1959," Tate said. Average disability benefit payments also reflect the elimination of the so-called "offset" provision in the old law. Disability benefits under social security are now payable in full even though benefits are also payable under state workers' compensation or under some other Federal government program.

There are 162 retired workers in Foard County receiving total monthly payments of $9,701; 74 wives or husbands received monthly payments of $2,205; 20 widows or widowers receiving a total of $906; 7 mothers with children received total monthly payments of $260; and 29 children receiving $840 in total monthly payments.

For the North Texas District of eleven counties, social security payments at the end of February, 1959, were being paid to 14,019 beneficiaries at the rate of $764,265 per month. This was an increase of over 2,000 beneficiaries in the number being paid monthly benefits during 1958.

District Governor Speaks to Lions

District 2E-2 Governor Ben Keith Lawson of Chillicothe was the speaker for the Lions Club meeting on Tuesday. Five members of the Vernon Lions Club were visitors at this meeting. The twenty local Lions who were present set their final plans and announced booth directors for the annual Lions Club carnival which will be held on the south side of the court house square on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 5, 6 and 7.

Carnival director Jack Spikes announced today that this year's carnival will be the most spectacular in the history of the Lions Club event. There will be two more rides than were available last year. Four new booths will be operated this year. There will be a doll rack, knife board, miniature bowling, and a new idea in concessions. Director Spikes also stated that the largest array of colorful prizes and gifts ever offered by the club will be available this year to those who visit the carnival.

Every dollar of money that is taken in at the carnival as profit will be used in sponsoring local community service projects. The Crowell club is one of the many Lions Clubs in the area which use the carnival idea to raise money for their many local community service projects, such as the purchase of eye glasses for needy children and the sponsoring of playgrounds and play areas for children and youth.

WILDCATS WIN 24 TO 0 OVER PADUCAH FRIDAY

The Crowell High School football team won its seventh consecutive victory of the season last Friday night at Paducah when the Wildcats took a conference game from the Dragons by the score of 24 to 0. The victory was not as easy for the Crowell boys as the score might indicate. The two teams were tied in first downs 13 to 13 and there was only 31 yards difference in total offense. However, the more experienced Cats made their yards where they counted. Each team lost the ball once that probably cost them a touchdown. Paducah fumbled on Crowell's one yard line and Crowell fumbled on Paducah's five yard line.

Game at a glance:

| Crowell | Paducah |
|-------------------------|--------------|
| 13 First downs | 13 |
| 194 Yds. gained rushing | 182 |
| 60 Yds. gained passing | 41 |
| 4 of 5 Passes completed | 4 of 8 |
| 4 for 27 av. Yards | 3 for 32 av. |
| 0 Passes intercepted | 0 |
| 1 Fumbles lost | 5 for 35 |
| 7 for 65 Penalties | 5 for 35 |

Doyle Beauchamp, fullback for Paducah, was the most consistent ground gainer that Crowell has played against this season. He carried for over 100 yards during the game. However, Crowell had two boys—Jim Henry and Wesley Cummings—who did some pretty fancy ball carrying, too. Cummings broke loose for an early touchdown that was nullified due to an off-side penalty. He finally carried over 25 yards out on one that did count just three minutes before the first quarter was over. Henry ran for the extra two points to make the first quarter end 8 to 0.

Paducah opened up the second quarter with four straight first downs to lose the ball on a fumble down on Crowell's one yard line. The Dragons fumbled a couple of more times in the second quarter before Crowell obtained possession on their own 25 yard line. Guy Todd picked up fourteen yards on two carries and Henry carried three straight times to finally go over from the three. Cummings ran the extra two points over to make the halftime count 16 to 0.

Quarterback Ivan Cates had a big hand in Crowell's third touchdown. He passed 17 yards to Cummings, ran for 17 on a keeper, and picked up another 19 yards on a pass to right end George Moss for the pay-off. Cummings ran the extra points over to complete the scoring for the evening. The final count was 24 to 0.

Crowell's line did not play as good on defense as usual. However, fullback Beauchamp for Paducah probably had something to do with this. The blocking in the Wildcat line looked mighty good at times to send Crowell backs on their way. Fullback Jim Henry received an injury later in the contest that will probably keep him out of this week's game with Monday. Right half Bobby Barker and left end Bill Graves missed the game at Paducah on account of injuries. Graves should be back in the line-up next week, but Barker is out for the season. Gary Carpenter was also injured in the Paducah game, and will be out for several weeks.

Iowa Park defeated Holliday last week to leave Crowell the only undefeated team in district 11A. The game here this week with Monday and the one at Henrietta next week should not be as rough as the last two have been.

Brotherhood of Baptist Church Gives Barbecue

Some of the activities sponsored by the group are the Royal Ambassadors, clean-up campaigns and building programs. They also have ladies' night once a year. The state Brotherhood has a meeting once a year, the last one being last month in Austin.

The following names were omitted from the grade school honor rolls last week, Principal Glen Taylor said Monday:

B Honor Roll: Jerry Adkins, Ella Hollenbaugh, Gary Phipps, and Gayle Russell.

Twenty Freshmen Now Taking Driver Education Course

The Harris Ford Sales will furnish a car for the Driver Education course that is being offered at the local High School. The vehicle is a standard shift 4-door, Ford Hesse is teaching twenty freshmen this course for the first time. He will instruct the thirty freshmen in this subject during the second semester. The student is required to take two hours of theory and 6 hours of wheel to qualify for the test that is given by the Highway Department for driver licenses.

CROWELL AND MUNDAY PLAY HERE TONIGHT

The Crowell High School football team will be playing its last game of the season here tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 p. m. The time has been changed to make it possible for the local fans and coaches to see any other game in this area that they wish to see on Friday night.

Crowell is definitely picked to win this game without too much trouble, but the fans will want to show their appreciation for the record that the Wildcats made thus far this season.

Bobby Barker will sit this one out on the sidelines. Some of the other regulars need rest and will see only limited service in the contest. The Crowell players and coaches are not taking the game too lightly as it will count toward the district championship just the same as the Iowa Park game did.

Munday has several young players in its lineup that are unpredictable. The Moguls could scare the crippled Crowell team before the evening is over.

Probable starting lineups for the game follow:

| Crowell Wildcats | | Munday Moguls | |
|------------------|-----|---------------|---------------------|
| Name | Wt. | Name | No. |
| Bill Graves | 160 | L. E. 140 | Roger Bell 15 |

Editorial

Be Thou My Guide

Right or wrong? Should I or should I not? This is an eternal question. Even being an adult with set standards does not assure an answer to the question, "How do I decide what's right and/or wrong for me?"
 We can't decide for you, but perhaps we can give you some ideas to go by. Try these suggestions:

Rev. Carl Hudson: The question of "how do I tell right from wrong?" has been asked many times and in many ways. There is no totally correct answer to this question. Right and wrong are always relative, so any answer to the question will be relative too. It will be correct only within specific limits or in specified situations.

Yet, I think that we can make some general answers that will serve as basic criteria for designing an answer in any given situation. First, I think that we must consider the effect of our response to the "problem" upon our social status. If we were identified by this "response," would our social status increase or decrease?

Second, I feel that we must consider the effect of our response upon the community. As our response to the "problem" exerts its influence upon the community through us or through our action, will the social and political structure of the community be strengthened or weakened? By "community," we mean family, school, church or other unit of fellowship.

Third, I am obligated to consider the effect of the response that I make to the "problem" upon me as an individual. How will this response affect my physical and psychological being? Will my person and personality be injured or enhanced by the direct or indirect effects of my response?

Fourth, since I am a social creature and the most meaningful experiences that I enjoy in life are derived from my attitude toward and my relationships with my fellows, then I cannot avoid considering how my response will affect my fellowman. Will my response to the "problem" antagonize, endanger, or encumber the life of my fellowman or will it contribute to friendship, creativeness, or mutual sharing?

Fifth, I am forced to consider the fact that any action or thought may become the custom or the acceptable manner of life by its constant repetition by me and others after I have introduced it. Now, I am face to face with the question, "Would my response to the 'problem,' if it became a custom or traditional way of thought and action, offer a higher or lower social, political and moral design for life than we now have?"

Sixth, I am under the human compulsion to live by the best and highest moral ideal that I know—be it secular or religious—by the commands of my "conscience" or my guiding moral impulse or instinct. Then I am obliged to ask, "Does this violate or confirm the highest moral ideal that is available to me at the present time?"

In any given situation there may very readily be a seventh, eighth, ninth, etc., to be considered, but if we take these six and total up the negatives and the positives, I feel that we can make many intelligent decisions. A majority in the plus column could indicate the "right" and a larger number in the minus column could very well indicate the "wrong." One final word of warning, never make a "right or wrong" decision on the basis of only one criterion. Think of several criteria, several possible effects before deciding.

Judy Johnson: Some people say that a person should let his conscience be his guide when he is determining what is right or wrong, but I disagree with this. A person may be taught that a certain act is permissible when it actually is not; therefore, it would not bother his conscience when he performed the act. I think there is only one safe course to follow. We should ask ourselves two questions: If Christ were here today, would he do this? Would I want Him to see me do this? If these questions may be answered "yes," then we can be certain that we are on the right course.

CHS Library

Located on the west end on the second floor of the high school building, the CHS Library consists of over 2,000 books, pamphlets, articles, and career leaflets. In addition to these are collections of the Foard County News and special editions of the Dallas Times-Herald and Wichita Falls Record News.

The library subscribes to three regional newspapers and more than twenty magazines. Students who make a habit of browsing in the library for books other than those they use for classwork find their time well spent.

The library opens each morning at 8 a. m. and closes at 3:30 p. m. Books may be checked out for two week periods, and if they are returned on the due date, they may be re-checked out. The penalty for overdue books is two cents per school day.

Each semester reserve books are placed in the library by teachers for their classes' use. These books must be used in the library during the day, but may be checked out for use overnight and week ends thirty minutes before the library is to close. If they are not returned before 9 a. m. the following day, a fine of two cents per hour is charged.

Librarians are on duty each period of the day to assist you with your library problems.

Junior Class Party

On Tuesday night, Oct. 20, the junior class started the class functions for the coming year with a "hobo stew" at north pocket park. About 40 hungry juniors enjoyed the delicious stew.

Our many thanks go to Mr. and Mrs. Welch, our sponsors, for taking time out of their busy and hectic schedule, in order that we might have an evening of fun. And to our class mothers, we extend our thanks and hope that they had as much fun as we did.

Juniors Sell Magazines

The juniors, eager to make money, met in the study hall Wednesday morning where James Hobbs spoke to the class about selling magazine subscriptions as a means of raising money for the annual Junior-Senior banquet.

To create enthusiasm and to promote sales, the class was divided into two teams which are to compete against each other in magazine sales. Elected to serve as captains of the two teams were Jo Ann Schwarz and Jackie Hickman. A drawing for ten dollars is held each morning. But—to win, you have to have sold at least eight subscriptions.

Senior of the Week

Our featured senior this week is 17 years old, 5' 3" tall, and has hazel eyes and brown hair. She lives in Truscott and is none other than Lou Ann Summers.

Her favorite subject and her hardest subject are the same one—English IV. Fried chicken, the color pink, the song "True Love," Jane Wyman and Tony Curtis are tops on her lists of favorites. Singing, collecting music, listening to the radio, typing, sewing, and cooking are her pastimes.

Now that some of her favorites have been revealed, let's talk about her pet peeves. The first is a person who is conceited. Someone who thinks he can sing, but can't, is her second peeve.

In Lou Ann's opinion, her parents and the school teachers are the most important people in the world because it is they who help us get good training so that we may get a good start in life.

For two years, Lou Ann has been library club reporter and a member of the Wildcat staff. She has been a member of the Library Club for 3 years, and during her junior year, she was co-editor of the Dewey Gang. Also, she has been a member of FHA for three of her high school years.

Next year, Lou Ann will attend a business college in Abilene. We certainly wish her much success in her future secretarial work.

Fashions in Russia

I was looking through a magazine and found an interesting story titled "What the Russians Think of Glamour."

A young college girl, named Deborah Korr of Arlington, Va., went to Russia this year. She took along typical American clothes and cosmetics. The Russian people really reacted to this. Everyone in Moscow seemed to love the bright colors. Many of the Russian women wear gaudy prints. A solid red skirt and top of Deborah's really set their heads spinning.

The Russians loved the shirt-waist dresses Deborah wore. They were made of plain cotton, but there was something special and beautiful about them.

The Russian women have no choice when it comes to buying clothes. The manufacture and distribution of ready-to-wear is all handled by one state agency. At one department store in Moscow you can't even try on a dress before you buy it. Imagine that!

Deborah's shoes fascinated the Soviets, too. "My American leather shoes were worth at least a ten minute stare," she states.

All the colors of American lipsticks intrigued the Russians since they have only two shades: orange and dark red.

Russian beauty shops date back to the American thirties. Metal curlers are used. They don't have rollers or even bobby pins.

We don't really realize how lucky we are, do we?

Club Comments

The Sub-Junior Adelpian Club held a regular meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 21, at the Adelpian Club house. The hostess, Barbara Goodwin, served a delicious refreshment plate to the 25 girls present.

Helen Vessel, leader of the program, introduced first Teresa Wright who gave a poem entitled "If I Have a Book." Helen next introduced Lois Ann Painter who gave an excellent book review on the great classics by Charles Dickens.

Carolyn Aydelott, president, was in charge of a brief business meeting.

Sports Spots

Well, they did it again! Those Wildcats of the CHS football team met and passed Paducah last Friday night with a 24 to 0 score. As usual, Wes and Jim were the biggest heroes, but some of the other players got a go at this one. Guy Jr. held up his end of the play, and Coach kept Jim Mack on a constant run between the field and the bench. A few of our Wildcats are still on the disability list and a few got a little roughed up in the game, but most of them will be in tip-top shape for the upcoming Monday and Holiday games.

Thanks, team, for a job well done thus far. Let's keep up the good record when we tackle Munday tonight!

George, the scandal would know whom you were on Saturday night at the Plaza. We think Helen and Bill would make a darling couple.

Taking in the drive-in Saturday night were Barbara G., Jimmy and Dorothy W. Robert F., and Dorothy W. Robert F.

See you at the dance Saturday night, News and Nonsense. Remember the scandal lounge?

What Is It?

What would you do if you saw an "atopop"?

Jo Carol: Sit and wonder what it was.
 Carolyn A.: I'd die!
 Tootie: Go hide!
 Denny T.: There ain't much telling!

Roy Lee W.: I don't know—run, I guess.
 Donnie B.: I'd run.
 Miles: I'd run.
 Don: I don't know.
 Jerry Don: I'd step on it; then I'd pick it up and throw it at someone.

Joe B.: I'd kiss it.
 Turk: Run, probably.
 Kay J.: Run, I guess.
 Janey: Hit it with an ugly stick.
 An "atopop" is a mixed up spelling of the word "potato."

Band News and Views

After a week's hard practice, the CHS Band presented, as their half time performance at Paducah, the marching routine which they will use at the Interscholastic League contest at Wichita Falls. This is the most difficult performance the band has attempted this year.

For their performance this Thursday night, the majorettes are to be the feature attractions. They are going to twirl fire batons which makes a very stunning show.

Boy Scout Troop Wins Blue Ribbon at Fall Camporee

Troop 49 of Boy Scouts from Crowell were presented the blue ribbon in the annual Fall Camporee in the central district which was held on the shore of Lake Pauline near Quannah this past week end. To earn the camporee blue ribbon, a troop must score at least 2,000 points out of a possible 2,500. The point system is divided into four scoring areas: campcraft, cookcraft, troopcraft, and field events. Each troop is graded upon the type of camp that it sets up and keeps. Arrangements, beds, personal gear, fires, latrines and general health and comfort standards are considered in the campsite grading.

Each troop is graded as to the type of menu that it prepares, to the type of care of the stored food and of the cooked food, to the quality of food served, and to the disposal of waste and the dish washing procedure. On the troopcraft, the boys are graded upon their boy leadership, individual cooperation, group participation, personal appearance, personal discipline, and troop discipline.

The largest number of points must be earned in the field events. In the field events the boys are entered as 5 to 8 man patrols. The Crowell troop entered three 5-man patrols under the leadership of Barry Barker, Rickey Traweck and Kenneth Carroll. The field events were knot tying, fire by flint and steel, compass craft, height and distance judging, first aid, Morse code signaling, and fire building-water boiling race. Senior patrol leader M. L. Speer directed the patrol activity and, along with the advice and counsel of Scoutmaster DuWayne Elliott, directed the total troop program.

District Scout executive Bob Tillerson and Elliott reported that Troop 49 was the highest scoring troop out of the five troops attending. A total of over 100 boys were there from Vernon, Quannah and Crowell.

Attending the camporee were M. L. Speer, Ken Ferguson, Barry Barker, Rickey Traweck, Kenneth Carroll, Freddie Wehba, Paul Bax Ekern, Mike Shrode, Mike Manard, Steve Kraiker, Woody Lemons, Terry Mason, Stanley Shook, Randy Whitten, Bill Harris and the Scoutmaster, Mr. Elliott.

Visitors at the Scoutcraft demonstration and Scouter's stew Saturday afternoon, Oct. 31, on the site just east of the Methodist Church, will see this Blue Ribbon Troop perform these camping, cooking, troop, and field skills for their instruction and entertainment.

Girl Scout Troop Announces Plans for Finances

Lone Troop I of the Crowell Girl Scouts announced plans for their finances this past week. As Crowell is on a lone troop status—that is, there is no Girl Scout Council for this area—each troop must make its own money. At the present time, there is only one troop, and it is composed of sixth grade girls. It has no sponsoring civic or church organization, and thus meets all expenses itself.

The girls have weekly dues of ten cents a meeting. All group activities have been financed by these dues, except for the uniforms for which each girl sold cakes last summer to buy her own.

With the approval of the parents and the troop committee, the troop members are now selling Christmas items. This is a do-it-yourself project. For every ten items sold, a year's subscription to the Girl Scout magazine, "American Girl," will be awarded. Each girl then will have an opportunity to have this highly recommended magazine as well as to have needed cash in the troop treasury. This is a national Girl Scout-sponsored project, and it is worthy to note that a subscription normally costs three dollars each.

The troop only wants to sell one hundred items, which will give every girl a year's subscription. The troop treasury will receive around a thirty-five dollar profit. The troop's biggest money making project will be held in the spring when Girl Scouts all over the world will be selling Girl Scout cookies during a specified period. It is hoped that sufficient funds will be derived from this annual cookie sale that further financing need only occur once a year. All Girl Scout activity will benefit by the cookie sale, should other troops (including Brownies) be organized.

The two leaders of Troop I are Mrs. Ray Shirley and Mrs. Mike Rashberry. Troop committee members are Carl Hudson, Mrs. H. C. Brown and Mrs. R. G. Gribble.

SOIL CONSERVATION PLANS HERE INCREASE

More than 1,400 farmers and ranchers in the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District have worked out conservation plans with the assistance of SCS technicians, it is reported by James Herring of the Crowell SCS office.

J. A. Marr of Crowell, who developed a plan with the district in September, 1951, believes that operating without a plan is like the saying "too many cows with too little grass is like too many miles with too little gas."

Mr. Marr put his plan in operation several years ago. First, he controlled most of the cedar by chaining on his 1,411 acre ranch. He stated the desirable grasses came back after the first summer deferment.

In May this year, he decided to change his type of operations to fit changes in markets, prices and other conditions that needed improvement. Since his plan was written and did not have to trust to memory, this change was fairly easy to do.

Since he changed operations from cow-calf to a steer program, it became necessary to revise his original plan. Mr. Marr's ranch is located 19 miles northwest of Crowell in the gyp country where grass is good, but not much chance to provide livestock or carry out a year-round grazing program. With what limited water there was on the ranch, cattle had to travel two miles over rough terrain to reach the outmost part of the range. He said, "Most of it was too rough for a cow to travel very far in a day and cattle would tend to stay around water holes and overgrazed these areas."

Mr. Marr's revised plan of operations includes about 340 rods of cross fencing in 1960 to provide better distribution of livestock and seasonal use of grasses. After the fence is constructed, he plans to construct two ponds in one pasture in 1960 and one in the other in 1961 to provide livestock water in a distance less than a mile.

He says it would be more desirable to have about a half mile between water, but this range on gyp hills was limited for sites. He plans to (1) chemical spray mesquite on about 135 acres in 1961 to reduce competition with native grasses, (2) defer this 135 acres until frost after brush control, (3) properly use all rangeland every year by not grazing more than half of seasonal growth of grasses.

Mr. Marr said he planned to complete his plan of operations in not less than three years with the assistance of the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Goose Season Opened on Monday, October 26th

The Texas waterfowl season will open at sunrise Monday, October 26, on geese only, according to E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

The daily bag limit on geese is five (5); provided such limit shall not contain more than (a) two (2) Canada geese or its subspecies, or (b) (1) Canada goose and one (1) white-fronted goose. Possession limit is one (1) day's kill.

The duck season will officially open November 13, when shooting will begin at 12 o'clock noon. After the first day, shooting will be permitted from sunrise to sunset.

The mourning dove season, which opened in the North Texas zone September 1, closed on October 20. The mourning dove season in South Texas will not close until November 19, except in counties in the Rio Grande Valley, having a three-day white wing hunt, where the season will close on November 16. During this hunt mourning doves could be killed also.

The season closed on rails and gallinules October 20. The woodcock season is from December 7 to January 15, and the snipe season is December 3 to January 1. There has been a heavy movement of both ducks and geese across Texas for several days, according to the director. Some good concentrations are reported in areas both in the Red River Valley and along the Texas coast.

Childress Firm Authorized Agent for FHA Loans

The First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Childress has been appointed an authorized agent of the Federal Housing Administration, permitting the firm to offer area home buyers an improved mortgage service made possible by FHA's Certified Agency program. The new authority enables the First Federal to make insured loans readily available at FHA terms without prior approval of the district FHA office.

This announcement was made by Russell V. Jones, manager. As an authorized agent, his firm may now process the entire loan for FHA, employing qualified local appraisers and building inspectors to set home values and see that new construction meets FHA standards.

The Certified Agency Program is being put into operation in communities of less than 20,000 throughout most of the nation after having been conducted experimentally in selected areas. In the areas where CAP, as the program is known, has been in operation, buyers and sellers have found that processing of applications for FHA's low down payment mortgages was speeded appreciably by FHA's reliance on local people.

Lenders who know their communities approve home buyers' credit instead of submitting loan applications to the FHA office. Trained and experienced persons, privately employed, make the required appraisals and inspections in their own home areas, functions performed in the past by FHA staff employees sent out from the Fort Worth office. Real estate dealers and builders have found appraisals and construction requirements to be more realistic because they reflect local market conditions.

The down payment requirements under FHA's plan for home buyers permit a minimum of 3 per cent of the first $13,500 of a home's appraised value, plus 15 per cent of the value between $13,500 and $16,000, plus 30 per cent of the value in excess of $16,000.

Donations Listed for Local Cemetery

In October, the following have subscribed to the Crowell Cemetery, Mrs. N. J. Roberts reports: Mrs. D. E. Todd, $10.00; Mrs. L. H. Williams, $15.00; J. L. McBeath, $5.00; Mrs. W. O. McDaniel, $1.00; Mrs. J. C. Hysinger, $5.00; Claud Orr, $5.00; Deulah Bowley, $5.00; Mrs. C. E. Gafford, $5.00; Mrs. Carrie Hart, $5.00; Mrs. Bert Hanks, $1.00; Dave E. Thomson, Quanah, $10.00; Valmer Bond, Sugar City, Colo., $20.00; Elizabeth K. Grimes, Lubbock, $10.00; O. M. Monkes, Long Beach, Calif., $10.00.

Mrs. Roberts states that "we have recently done some repair work on our caretaker's home and put some other improvements on our grounds and to finance this program, three women have opened the doors of the rummage sale room 6 consecutive Saturdays.

"Our response has been meager, considering the magnitude of our project. Our program is unselfish. We ask for the things you don't need. We pass it on to those who do need, for a small stipend, and the proceeds go to the care of our cemetery."

"Recently, a visiting undertaker inquired of our sexton, 'just how is so big a cemetery kept so well without a city tax?'" "The names of those responsible are published in our local paper the first of each month."

"We will not open our rummage sale room Saturday, Oct. 31, or Nov. 7, but will be there Nov. 14, and hope to dispose of the things we have on hand, and more, if our friends will bring them. Especially do we want bedding."

Card of Thanks I wish to express my sincere thanks to the doctors and the hospital staff for the care given me while I was in the hospital. Also, I want to thank each one for the flowers, gifts and visits. Gordon Erwin. 16-tfc

Cooling Waters Cause Turnover in Texas Lakes

The "turnover" of lakes means the mixing of water in lakes, according to Kenneth C. Jurgens, assistant director of Inland Fisheries, Texas Game and Fish Commission. "This mixing is brought about by the cooling of the water in lakes during the late fall of the year."

In the early summer or late spring, three distinct layers of water form in the larger lakes and in some of the smaller lakes of Texas. The upper layer is called the Epilimnion, the middle layer is the Thermocline, and the lower layer is the Hypolimnion. The top layer becomes warmed by the sun and since warm water is light, tends to remain at the surface.

In the middle layer there is a rapid decrease in temperature in a downward direction. The lower layer remains cool and because cold water is heavy, tends to remain at the bottom of the lake. In late spring or early summer, the top layer is relatively thin. As the sun's rays heat the water, this layer becomes thicker and extends itself deeper until, in some of the deeper lakes, it may be as much as 60 feet thick in late summer.

Government in Business

From the Butte, Montana, Standard: "... A Hoover Commission task force discovered three years ago that the U. S. government is among other things, the largest electric power producer in the country, the largest insurer, the largest lender and the largest borrower, the largest landlord and the largest tenant, the largest holder of grazing land, the largest holder of timberland, the largest owner of grain, the largest warehouse operator, the largest shipowner and the largest truck-fleet operator. These conditions still prevail today three years after the Hoover Commission recommended that the government get itself out of business."

STRENGTHEN AMERICA'S PEACE POWER

You'd give him the world if you could—a peaceful world. But the problem is keeping the peace. Peace costs money. Money for strength to keep the peace. Money for science and education to help make peace lasting. Money saved by individuals to keep our economy strong. So every Bond you buy helps strengthen America's Peace Power. Are you buying enough?

Reveal Flaws in Program
"There were troubling echoes of the Stanley Yankus case in the news that some New Mexico and Colorado farmers leased state land at a nominal price and then rented it at a huge profit. Yankus, it will be recalled, is the Michigan poultryman whose battle with the government over penalties for growing too much wheat led him to sell out and head for Australia.
"The two incidents may not seem related, but they are. The relationship springs from the fact that both reveal flaws in the agricultural program..."—Terre Haute, Ind., Tribune.

VOICES SUPPORT
A spokesman for the American Farm Bureau Federation, the nation's largest farm organization, voiced strong support of a five-year extension of the reciprocal trade program before a Senate committee. He said: "It is not unreasonable to contend that the high and increasing standard of living enjoyed in our country during the past 25 years can be attributed in substantial part to the fact that we have had the trade program."
