Just a Few More Days!

Baccalaureate is past, senior trip is nearly here, graduation is quickly approaching. As I realize that my senior year and my high school years are nearly over, many thoughts come to my mind. In an instant I can see my classmates and myself four years ago as timid freshmen, so unsure of ourselves, and now as graduating seniors, clad in caps and gowns, and still so unsure of ourselves.

High school is not merely an ivy-covered brick structure where knowledge is stored and taught. Indeed, it is much more than that. High school is a mixture of themes, parties, tests, clubs, classes, assemblies, and book reports. It is a place where friendships bud and flourish; where teachers work to train young—though sometimes not too willing—minds; where boys and girls enter, and young men and women depart. During the four years of high school, students learn much more than what is taught them from books; they learn how to meet and to get along with all types of people, how to study, how to take notes over class material. A high school student becomes aware of his obligation to society, his need for social etiquettes, and his acceptance of responsibility. It is during the high school years that a student makes plans for his entire life—sometimes choosing his life's vocation; sometime, his life's mate.

Yes, high school is an important time of life, but high school is drawing to a close for us, the seniors. We have come a long way since our eighth grade graduation; we have made mistakes, but we have learned from our mistakes; we have had a lot of fun with our classmates, fellow students, teachers, but we will make new friends and have other fun after we graduate. Our high school years will never be forgotten, but they will be put up in moth balls, to be enjoyed again.

To Judy Traweck, Our Editor

We, the Wildcat staff and sponsor, want to express to Judy Traweck a special "thank you" for being such a dependable editor of the high school news. We have enjoyed working with you and appreciate your untiring efforts. It's really not an easy job to see that the material for the paper is written, typed, checked, and at the News office by 3:30 each Monday afternoon.

We remember that this is not the first experience that you have had as news editor because when you were in the 7th grade, you were editor of the grammar school paper. We recently found a copy with the following article that you wrote while you were taking Texas history in 1958. You may want to "shoot" us for publishing this—but it will be too late then—we think it's clever.

The "Modern" Cowboy
 The "modern" cowboy is really a he-man. Instead of riding a horse he does his traveling in a V-8 pick-up, or a jeep and sometimes a helicopter, and to show his strength at branding, he pushes a button and lets a machine do it for him, and he calls it hard work.

The old cowboy took such pains and pride in his clothes, or so we heard; the "modern" cowboy is a wreck. His levis stay about two inches below his waist, also his shirt is always half-way unbuttoned. He doesn't wear a neckerchief; his boots come above his knees, and his hat is two sizes too big for him. His chaps have so much fringe that he's afraid he will tangle it if he wears them; his spurs are made to jingle and are too heavy to wear, and why does a cowboy with a pickup need a bridle and saddle?

The old cowboy was very romantic, serenading his girl with a guitar in the moonlight; however, the modern one doesn't know there is such a thing until his television breaks down.

As you can see, things change, some for the better and some for the worse. Which way has the cowboy changed? Is it for the better or for the worse? Only time will tell.

Junior-Senior Banquet

A red carpet was literally spread for the 1963 seniors as they entered the school cafeteria Friday night for the big yearly event, the Junior-Senior Banquet. Sophomores Otis Smith and Ken Ferguson, dressed in tails, served as doormen and welcomed the guests. There were cries of delight when the guests stepped into the gay and enchanted garden created by the Junior Class in honor of the Seniors. The garden was a "glamorama" of festive tables under a riot of glorious color—pink, green, yellow. The gay and picturesque Colonial period served as the setting for this year's banquet and prom.

The chosen colors were used on the ceiling, lights, walls, windows, and screen doors. The four posts were transformed into white columns with English ivy and pink carnations entwined around them.

The tables, covered with white, were centered with mounds of greenery and candles. The head table arrangement consisted of a cascade of pink carnations and candles. The place cards, menu and program covers, and napkins carried identical designs. Ceramic southern belles and beans were used for favors.

The focal point of interest included a white love seat and chair under the branches of a pink "carnation" tree. A color wheel played on this scene during the evening's activities.

Eleven sophomore girls—Saunna Martin, Sharon Glover, Sandra Ellis, Elaine Crowell, Sandra Weathered, Jean Burkett, Dolores Eubanks, Sherry Sandlin, Jill Cooper, Mary Sue Speer and Scherry Goodwin—dressed in white with red checked aprons and kerchiefs waited tables.

Philip Welch, president, acted as toastmaster and called on Carolyn, treasurer, for the invocation. After a sumptuous meal of mint tulip, Southern fried chicken, cotton bolls, banjo strings, tossed magnolia buds, short'nin' bread, pollen, Dixie delight, planters' punch, and watermelon seeds, Philip gave the juniors' toast of welcome. The seniors' response of "thank you" was given by M. L. Speer, senior president. Ella Ann Cates played a saxophone solo, "Beautiful Dreamer"—with Betty Ann Welch as accompanist. A duet composed of Mary Ann Ramsey and Betty Ann Welch, sang "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," with Ella Ann at the piano. These three sophomore girls furnished background music throughout the banquet. Woody Lemons, vice president, read the prophecy. The Senior Class will be given by Judy Traweck, valedictorian of the class.

Mr. Hesse's popular combo provided appropriate music for the prom following the banquet.

The junior class extends sincere thanks to everyone who helped make the banquet and prom an outstanding school event. Special thank you goes to the class mothers—Mrs. Jack Hickman, Mrs. H. N. Ekern, Mrs. M. M. Welch, Mrs. Elton Carroll, Mrs. Clarence Garrett, Mrs. Bill Bell, Mrs. H. B. Sanders—for their hard work. The following class fathers—H. N. In addition to the help given by the class mothers and fathers, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. King gave much of their time in order to make the banquet a success. They gave untiringly of their energy while preparing for this affair. Thank you, Mr. and Mrs. King, for being such "perfect" sponsors. The class presented a caddy beverage set to Mrs. King Monday in appreciation of her sponsorship of their class for the 1962-63 school year.

Seniors Entertained at Craterville

Saturday afternoon, May 11, 20 seniors left from Thalia on their way to Craterville for a barbecue and a time full of fun, blistered faces and legs, skinned knees, and aching muscles. The group rode to the appointed campsite in the back of two pickups. When they arrived, they found Mr. Nickel had set up camp and was already busy barbecuing what seemed to be a mountain of chickens. During the time from arrival until time for supper, the seniors climbed mountains, rode the paddle boats, went to the dam, hiked, and some "lazy bones" took naps in the sun. After the meal which consisted of barbecued chicken, potato salad, beans, pickles, chocolate cake and tea, the group went to Craterville park to ride some rides and to skate. At 9 o'clock, a sore, weary, but happy group of seniors arrived home.

The group wishes to thank Mr. and Mrs. Nickel, Mrs. John W. Wright, Mrs. Cecil Carpenter, Mrs. Thad Hopkins and Oliver Holland who made this function possible.

Seniors Honored by Henry Borchardts

After baccalaureate services Sunday, May 12, the seniors, parents and faculty attended a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Borchardt. Mrs. Carol Henry and Miss Linda Harris served punch, cookies, and assorted nuts at two separate tables. The seniors were then presented with gifts from the Borchardt family. The class expresses its appreciation to the Borchardts for this reception.

FHA Mothers Tea

Thursday, May 9, at 2:30 p.m. the FHA girls honored their mothers with a Mother's Day tea in the homemaking cottage. As the mothers arrived, corsages of red or white carnations were pinned on them. They were directed to the serving table where refreshments of punch, cookies, nuts and mints were served. The serving table was covered with a white cloth and featured an arrangement of red carnations and white stock.

After refreshments were served, a short program carrying the Mother's Day theme was given in the auditorium. Judy Sandlin gave the welcome, and Pat Brown introduced Mary Ann Ramsey, Faunice Fairchild and Marolyn Denton who sang "Faith of Our Mothers," accompanied by Gayle Smith. Pat then gave a short talk about how much our mothers mean to us.

1963-1964 Freshmen Honored

Tuesday, May 2, the Home Economics I classes welcomed the incoming freshmen with an amateur hour program in the auditorium with each of the incoming freshman participating in the program. A piano duet by Sandra Chowning and Virginia Stapp won first place, and a song by Francis Cates, Jon Ann Carter and Janelle Gray tied with a skit for second. Delicious refreshments were served.

Attendance Record

An outstanding school attendance record is held by Kenneth Carroll, a junior in Crowell High School. Kenneth had an unblemished attendance record during the sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth and eleven grades until last Wednesday at which time he had to be absent on account of the death of his grandfather, Charlie Carroll. Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Carroll.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500XL SPORTS HARDTOP

IF YOU KNEW WHAT TINY LUND KNOWS ABOUT FORD DURABILITY... YOU'D BE OUT ENJOYING A '63 FORD

Ask Tiny Lund about Ford durability: He'll tell you how it helped him win America's toughest stock-car competition, the Daytona 500. Lund placed first in a Ford, with four other Fords right behind him for an unprecedented sweep of the first five places. Only the Fords were tough enough to stand the pace.

Greater durability is the reason Ford is able to offer a total-car warranty. Only a true total-performance car could offer as complete a warranty as this—with no strings attached:

"Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers, in turn, warrant to owners as follows: That for 24 months or for 24,000 miles*, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of parts, such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades, brake or clutch linings, and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items."

You can't put a long-term warranty like ours on a short-term car. The '63 Fords have a better warranty because they're built better than any Fords in history. You see evidence of this extra toughness in Ford's outstanding competitive wins this year. '63 Fords won the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and Atlanta 500's, and the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only cars with total performance could roll up so many big wins. Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Remember: If it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

Wheat—the "Guinea Pig"

The May 21 wheat referendum is not just another vote on another one-year wheat program. Wheat has been chosen as the "guinea pig"—testing whether or not the American farmer will submit himself to a totally-planned economy in which his individual farming operation and personal income are determined by those who would regulate and govern him.

Although the referendum pertains directly to wheat, it is only natural that if the certificate and control plan is approved, feed grains, then livestock and eventually all other major commodities would have to be controlled by planners. If supply management is to work as it was conceived, all commodities necessarily will have to be involved.

A lot of people with short memories forget that supply management over practically all agriculture has been the objective of the planners' farm proposals over the last couple of years. The Farm Bureau and a few other commodity groups were all that saved agriculture from that fate. The Food and Agriculture Act of 1962 was a watered-down version of the original bill, but wheat stayed in despite all that Farm Bureau could do.

So, when wheat farmers go to the polls May 21, they should keep in mind that they hold the key to whether or not wheat will be the "foot in the door" for the supply management concept. Only wheat growers can vote, but other farmers will be watching anxiously. The outcome could determine the future course of American agriculture—for now and all time.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500 XL SPORTS HARDTOP

IF YOU KNEW WHAT
TINY LUND KNOWS ABOUT FORD DURABILITY... YOU'D BE OUT ENJOYING A '63 FORD

Ask Tiny Lund about Ford durability: He'll tell you how it helped him win America's toughest stock-car competition, the Daytona 500. Lund placed first in a Ford, with four other Fords right behind him for an unprecedented sweep of the first five places. Only the Fords were tough enough to stand the pace.

Greater durability is the reason Ford is able to offer a total-car warranty. Only a true total-performance car could offer as complete a warranty as this—with no strings attached:

"Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers, in turn, warrant to owners as follows: That for 24 months or for 24,000 miles*, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of parts, such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades, brake or clutch linings, and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items."

You can't put a long-term warranty like ours on a short-term car. The '63 Fords have a better warranty because they're built better than any Fords in history. You see evidence of this extra toughness in Ford's outstanding competitive wins this year. '63 Fords won the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and Atlanta 500's, and the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only cars with total performance could roll up so many big wins. Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Remember: If it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

*36 days or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, for the 427 C.I.D. 4V or 6V and 289 C.I.D. 4V engines and related power train components

Wheat--the "Guinea Pig"

The May 21 wheat referendum is not just another vote on another one-year wheat program. Wheat has been chosen as the "guinea pig"—testing whether or not the American farmer will submit himself to a totally-planned economy in which his individual farming operation and personal income are determined by those who would regulate and govern him.

Although the referendum pertains directly to wheat, it is only natural that if the certificate and control plan is approved, feed grains, then livestock and eventually all other major commodities would have to be controlled by planners. If supply management is to work as it was conceived, all commodities necessarily will have to be involved.

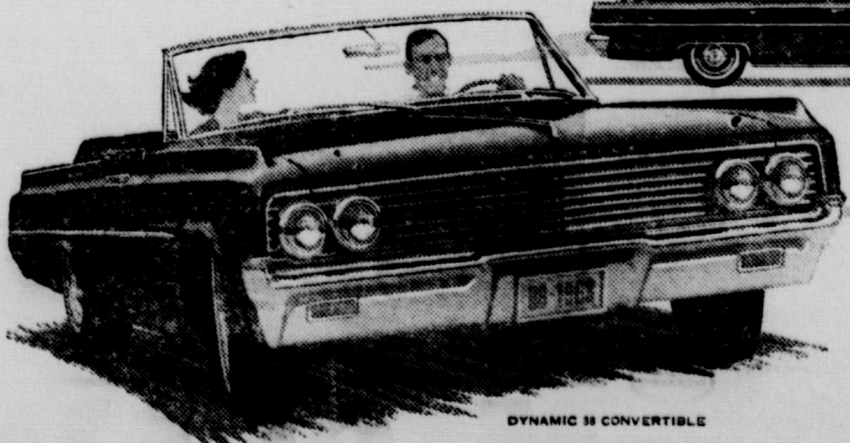

A lot of people with short memories forget that supply management over practically all agriculture has been the objective of the planners' farm proposals over the last couple of years. The Farm Bureau and a few other commodity groups were all that saved agriculture from that fate. The Food and Agriculture Act of 1962 was a watered-down version of the original bill, but wheat stayed in despite all that Farm Bureau could do.

So, when wheat farmers go to the polls May 21, they should keep in mind that they hold the key to whether or not wheat will be the "foot in the door" for the supply management concept. Only wheat growers can vote, but other farmers will be watching anxiously. The outcome could determine the future course of American agriculture—for now and all time.

Yachtsmen Ride Ship-Canal Range

Bellevue, Wash. — Seagoing prairie schooners and steely-eyed marshals riding the ship-canal range ushered in the yachting season in western style. It was the 50th straight year that boats, large, small and smaller, and decorated from bow to stern, had turned surrounding waters into a colorful spectacle. And, for a change, the weather was good!

For weeks there have been frantic, sometimes darkly secret preparations for the parade which this year has the theme, "Cruising, Western Style."

Typical is the Edwin Zak family. The Zaks own a 37 1/2-foot yacht, Elinor V. They are members of the Meydenbauer Bay Yacht Club, Bellevue, which is host for a party for yachters in the parade. With help from their neighbors, the Donald R. Reightleys, the Zaks set out to create a Western theme that: 1. Could withstand heavy wind, because displays tend to act like sails. 2. Would permit integrating the small fry's mandatory life jackets into costumes. 3. Wouldn't scuff the varnish. The latter was most important. And through the days and nights of planning and working, the cry, "Don't scuff the varnish," repeatedly rang out at Newport Yacht Basin, temporary mooring spot for the Elinor V.

The Zaks and Reightleys chose a horse-drawn stage coach as their theme. It was a sudden inspiration. Mrs. Zak was putting her son to bed one night and she noticed the nice stagecoach design on his pajamas. She made him undress and put on other pajamas, while she rushed down to the boat with the "stagecoach pajamas" under her arm.

Summer's coming, get going!

If this isn't a great time to get yourself a new Chevrolet—well, we just don't know when is. Why, you'd almost have to be anti-summer not to let one of these four convertibles get to you. Or any of Chevrolet's sedans, wagons, sport coupes and sport sedans, for that matter.

And there are a lot of other buy-now reasons besides the season. Like the care-free feeling you get on a long vacation trip in a brand-new car. And it's a smart time to trade, what with your Chevrolet dealer all stocked up for a busy summer. Chances are, he has just the model and color you want—be it Chevrolet, Chevy II, Corvair or Corvette—ready to go right now.

So maybe now you're all wound up? Then spring into summer at your Chevrolet dealer's.

The buffet table was covered with a red calico cloth and featured a large colonial bouquet of honeysuckle, snapdragons, red carnations, larkspur and daisies arranged in a New Orleans sugar scoop. The table accessories were of black wrought iron, old blue ironstone and a pewter coffee service.

Truscott Farmer Voices Opinion on Wheat Referendum

Dear Editor:

The Department of Agriculture has been filling wheat growers mail boxes and column after column in county and state newspapers with "Educational" information on the May 21 wheat referendum.

I don't have access to the taxpayers hard earned dough to promote my opinions, like Orville Freeman does.

Why, I can't even hire a staff of slick writers to make up fancy press releases for the papers and letters for the farmers. I sure enough can't hire psychologists to study reports to be sure they imply one thing but can be proved, if pressed, to have been saying something else.

Secretary Freeman has his promoters to avoid any mention of penalties but the '64 wheat program provides for penalties of up to $10,000.00 and up to ten years in prison for wheat allotment violation. Ask an ASCS man if these penalties would be applied after a trial by jury.

The pencil pushers say wheat and grain stocks will be reduced by 150 million bushels under the proposed program. Maybe, but I wonder if a right smart bunch of these 15 acre wheat farmers wouldn't find some other crop more profitable if this program fails to pass. Is it the farming farmer who is helped most by these programs or the "moonlight" farmer?

One other thing, the 1964 wheat acreage will be cut 10 per cent from 1963 whether or not the referendum passes. Department of Agriculture press releases imply a bigger cut will be made if the vote is "NO." But read the release carefully; it sure is slick writing.

Famed Science Show Appears Here

Previews of Progress—General Motors' world-famed science show—was presented before Crowell High students on May 8 at 1:30 p. m.

A non-commercial show, Previews has been seen by nearly 30-million students and adults in the United States, Canada and 22 foreign countries.

"We seek through Previews to inspire more young people to make science and engineering their career and provide the trained talent America must have to keep pace with the promise of the future," John F. Gordon, president of General Motors, declares.

The latest version of the 45-minute stage presentation includes nine different sequences. Designed to show some of the many contributions of research and technology to modern living, the exciting demonstrations are narrated in non-technical language by a specially-trained two-man team. Seven teams take the show to all sections of the country.

A model car powered by sunlight, a roaring jet engine and the Ground Effect Machine, a vehicle that skims over land or water, were a few of the features in the fast-moving show.

In the true tradition of show business, Previews has been staged under a variety of conditions. It has been presented on platforms of stake trucks in rural areas and on the Starlight Roof of the Waldorf Astoria. Audiences have ranged from groups of fifty to crowds of six thousand.

Previews of Progress has received wide acclaim from educators and civic and fraternal organizations for its success in awakening students and adults to the importance of science and engineering in America's technological progress.

Olney Creates Home-grown Industry

When an aeronautical engineer and the business leaders of Olney, Texas, got together, a new home-grown industry was born. The product: an agricultural aircraft especially designed for crop dusting and spraying.

Now, 4 1/2 years later, Snow Aeronautical Company employs 57 skilled workers in this West Texas community of 3872, and has sold aircraft in many agricultural states of the Union and in seven foreign countries.

Success of this thriving local enterprise is evidenced by a plant expansion program which will double the factory size when construction is completed this Fall. It is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.
