People Should Band Together to Stamp Out Deaths on Highways

"We feel there is a need for people to respond and band together to stamp out . . . the mutilations and deaths of highway accidents. There is no fund drive here. There is no humane society for the prevention of these atrocities. Yet, every driver is exposed to these hazards. Why should there be an apathetic attitude against a killer and maimer that is not a germ? Perhaps the apathy is due to the fact that it takes more than money to fight this hazard. It may seem easier to donate to others to fight a cause than to have to dig deeper than the pocketbook."

Country Girl Minnie Pearl to Star in Fort Worth Rodeo

Mrs. Henry R. Cannon of Nashville, Tennessee, will star in the 1963 Fort Worth Stock Show Rodeo, January 25 through February 3.

Minnie Pearl, that's who—the lovable comedienne of "Grand Ole Opry" fame, better known to Henry R. Cannon as Mrs. Cannon.

Born Sara Ophelia Colley, the daughter of a successful lumberman, Minnie Pearl actually is a graduate of fashionable Ward-Belmont College in Nashville and can more than hold her own with society folks.

To millions, though, she'll always be the warm-hearted country gal from Grinders Switch who never gives up trying to land a feller. Her humorous pose has been a rousing hit on radio, TV and the stage, but Minnie Pearl will make her first major rodeo appearance at the 1963 Fort Worth rodeo.

Joining her at all 20 performances will be the precision-riding Side-Saddle Susans, sensational trick riders, The Flying Cimarrons and the leading rodeo comedy act of Ken Boen and the New Gray Mare.

The roughest-bucking broncs and bulls from the strings of three major producers, challenged by approximately 400 cowboys, will supply action in the "rodeo spectacular."

The 1963 Fort Worth rodeo will get under way with an 8 p. m. show Friday, January 25. There will be a 10 a. m. performance Saturday, then performances at 2 and 8 p. m. that day and every day through Sunday, Feb. 3. Tickets may be ordered from the Fort Worth Stock Show, P. O. Box 150, Fort Worth.

Hearings to Be Sought on Two Measures

When Congress meets again, Senator McClellan will seek hearings on two measures he introduced in the last session and which died with it. One would ban strikes in "strategic defense facilities"—these include all steps in producing missiles, munitions, weapons, space vehicles or any part or material essential to make the weapon effective. The second bill would subject labor union activities in the transportation field to the anti-trust laws.

Cemetery Donations

Mrs. N. J. Roberts, president of the Crowell Cemetery Association, stated Monday that "We are pleased that a certain degree of interest prevails in the upkeep of our cemetery and no outside drives have been necessary in '62."

"Most months there has been sufficient funds that we have not been obliged to call on our reserve. Other than caretaker's salary during the year, we have had considerable expense such as house insurance, house repair, some new plumbing, and lawn mower expense. We are badly in need of more street work. The road outside the fence needs cleaning. We need some kind of shed for our tools. By careful scrimping our money, we are able to maintain a better than average kept cemetery and its your dollars that make it possible."

"Our old section where there is no one left to pay for the upkeep is as well kept as the rest. You don't find that in many cemeteries."

"These have subscribed to the upkeep of the cemetery in December: William E. Wells, $5.00; Mrs. Nannie McDaniel, $2.00; Hadley Thomson, Altus, $10.00; Mrs. Ida O'Hara, Moravia, Calif., $15.00; L. A. Andrews, $10.00; Mrs. Ethel Ryder, Bellflower, Calif., $10.00; Hartley Easley, $100.00. We had a number of memorials and each family received appropriate cards."

Protest Oversight

"Surveying the calendar for local and national events that might be of significance, we find that hundreds of organizations have days or weeks set aside for special observance. Yet, no matter how long and searchingly we looked, we could see nothing in the way of a salute to the American taxpayer. Not too seriously, we protest the oversight."—Coatesville, Pa., Record.

By Congress and we can't even pay for what had already been appropriated? We are deceiving ourselves if we believe we can reduce taxes and spend more. This is an inflationary measure and we are still in an inflationary spiral. If you doubt this last statement, talk to any merchant you may meet. Retail prices on many articles may be going up only a few pennies on some items, but the merchants are having to absorb an increase in wholesale costs from the manufacturers. —Beville, Tex., Bee-Picayune.

More Difficult Each Week to Defend the Free Press

"Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester frankly admitted that the Kennedy Administration engaged in an almost total management of the news during the Cuban crisis. Actually, instead of telling nothing they gave out misinformation and many newspapers over the nation published these deliberate falsehoods. We who publish newspapers in the nation today are going to find it increasingly more difficult with each passing week to defend the free press. Publishers must summon up all their wisdom, watchfulness and courage for an all-out battle. We need the help of all Americans for it is they, more than the publishers and their newspapers, who will suffer as the free press disappears." —Toll City, Ind., News.

Camp Fire Girls Organized in Crowell

At recent meetings of the girls, mothers and other interested individuals, the Senior Girl Scouts disbanded and the Brownies did not re-register. It was decided by all parties concerned that Crowell girls could participate in a program that was basically the same, but that camping opportunities were more adequate and that monies and control could be retained locally, if they went into the Camp Fire Girl organization as lone groups. "In Girl Scouting, Crowell has to be in a Council which, at the present time, covers a twelve-county area; but by the end of 1963, if national council rulings are enforced, this area would be in a council that would cover thirty counties or over 25,000 square miles. Other factors considered were: (1) According to the by-laws of NorCenTex Girl Scout Council, title to all property, with the exception of troop equipment, must be held in the name of the council; (2) Crowell Girl Scouts were told that if they wanted day camping, they could only get it at Paducah. (Had Crowell been consulted, it would have preferred the shorter distance at Quanah). (3) Since the formation of the council, Crowell has submitted over $190 to the council, yet its leaders have received no official visits though requests have been made to the council office; (4) Crowell Scouts sold 50 cases of cookies, and its 22¢ per box sent to council did not apply to Crowell's share in the budget. The Girl Scout council states Crowell still owes $224 for 1962, and has been asked to submit $431 for 1963; (5) Crowell was allowed only 8 girls for the established camp at Ardmore, Okla., despite the fact that 10 had attended for 3 previous years," according to Mrs. Ray Shirley.

A Horizon Club was organized by the former Senior Scout troop, and its main emphasis will be on service, with camping secondary. In January, Mrs. Bill Gafford will conduct a training program as hospital aides for these girls, and they will serve at the local hospital as well as at the state hospital in Vernon. They have named themselves the "Blue Angels," and will wear blue and white striped pinafores with white blouses. They have already been hostesses at a ward Christmas party at the state hospital in conjunction with the Horizon Club in Vernon. All the girls will have an opportunity to go to the Camp Fire Girl Camp Latoli near St. Joseph next summer.

The fourth grade girls have gone into Camp Fire Girls, and they are starting on their Trail Seeker Rank. They will have the privilege of attending Camp Latoli next summer, too.

The Crowell Camp Fire Girl program is receiving a helping hand from the Wilbarger Camp Fire Girl Council. The Horizon Clubs have already coordinated their programs, and leadership aids have been given to both Crowell groups.

Could Not Be Made More Clear

"When signing an executive order prohibiting discrimination in housing built or bought with government assistance, President Kennedy . . . declared: 'It is neither proper nor equitable that Americans should be denied the benefits of housing owned by the Federal government or financed through the Federal assistance in the basis of their race, color, creed or national origin.' That Federal aid means Federal control could not be made more clear." — Spring Valley, N. Y., Leader.

Miss Gaye Ramsey Bride of Jimmie Mack Gafford

The Crowell Methodist Church was the setting for a Thursday evening double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Martha Gaye Ramsey and Jimmie Mack Gafford.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Ramsey of Thalia are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Gafford of Crowell.

Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald, former pastor of the Thalia Baptist Church, was the officiant for the nuptials before the candlelighted chancel setting. Decorated cathedral candelabra holding tall white tapers, and palms of greenery formed an improvised altar in the background. Emerald foliage and white tapers decorated the chancel railing. Greenery, entwined pyramid candelabra flanked by baskets of white gladioli completed the nuptial setting. White satin bows marked the pews.

Miss Eden Mosley of Quannah provided wedding selections and Miss Gayle Smith accompanied Miss Patricia Cates as she sang "Because." At the close of the vows, Miss Cates and Miss Mary Ann Ramsey, sister of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Ramsey presented his daughter in marriage. She chose a formal length dress of white peau de soie and chantly lace with a fitted bodice with a lace yoke, fashioned with a scalloped portrait neckline encrusted with seed pearls, and long petal point sleeves. The front of the skirt was complemented by an inset lace panel re-embroidered with seed pearls. The back featured a full bloom fabric rose at the waist with fanned-out knife pleats extending to a chapel train. Her tiered finger tip veil of imported silk illusion cascaded from a pearl and crystal tiara. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid with white satin streamers tied in love knots. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Mary Ann Ramsey, Bridesmaids were Misses Carol Bell and Alta Bartley of Crowell, Pat Masley of Oklaunion and Patricia Cates of Thalia.

They wore identical dresses fashioned in American beauty red satin designed with fitted bodices and elbow-length sleeves and street length bell shaped skirts. Their circular nose tip veils of illusion were attached to a matching satin, seed pearl trimmed crown, and they carried colonial bouquets of happiness roses.

Candlelighters were Mike Gamble of Thalia and Jimmy Collins of Vernon, cousins of the bride.

Attending his brother as best man was Charles L. Gafford of Bryan. Ushers and groomsmen were Dick Todd, Jon Lee Black, Ronnie Bradford and Charles Carroll, all of Crowell.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ramsey chose a champagne satin sleeveless dress with a matching full-length coat, champagne accessories and long white gloves. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a royal blue knit suit with gray and black trim and gray accessories. They both wore gardenia corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey, parents of the bride, were hosts for the reception in the Community Center. The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth and featured a six branch candelabra holding lighted white tapers and an arrangement of happiness roses and white stock. The three-tiered white wedding cake, topped with wedding bells, and crystal appointments, completed the decor.

Mrs. Charles Gafford of Bryan registered guests in a hand-made white satin wedding book.

Serving as reception assistants were Miss Carria Driver, Miss Lynda Harris, Mrs. Claude Dean Sellers and Mrs. Hartley Easley of Crowell, Mrs. Sid Collins of Vernon, Mrs. John Ed Stepp of Quannah, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Con McAdams of Quannah, the groom's aunt.

After January 2, the couple will be at home at 2415 Auburn St., Lubbock, 35, where they will continue their education at Texas Tech.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Gafford chose a lemon yellow silk sheath dress with matching wool coat, white gloves and hat, and wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Crowell High School and attended Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Crowell High School where he lettered three years in football and four years in basketball. He was awarded the "Denny Todd Memorial Trophy," outstanding player award, his senior year. Mr. and Mrs. Gafford and Mrs. Con McAdams, parents and aunt of the bridegroom, were hosts for the rehearsal dinner Wednesday night at Dutch's Cafe in Quannah. Arrangements of flowers, in the bride's chosen colors, were used on the tables. The bride and bridegroom exchanged gifts and presented their attendants with gifts.

Johnny Wehba and Miss Carolyn Lance Wed in Quannah

Miss Carolyn Lance of San Antonio became the wife of John Paul Wehba, in a ceremony performed in Quannah at St. Luke's Methodist Church at 8 p. m. on December 29. Rev. S. M. Beam, pastor, officiated at the ceremony which was held in the church parsonage.

The bride is the foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Harlan of San Antonio and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wehba of Crowell.

Both the bride and groom acquired degrees at North Texas State University in Denton. The bride is presently employed in the San Antonio Public Schools.

At present, the couple has established residence in San Antonio.

"Chicken Farmer" Meets "Poultry Producer"

The "chicken farmer" of the past would not recognize the modern "poultry producer" of today as his younger contemporary. According to C. B. Ryan, Department of Poultry Science, Texas A&M College, there has indeed been a great change in the industry since the days when raising the chickens and gathering the eggs was the extent of the poultryman's job.

Today's poultry producer is often a college graduate or at least has received some scientific training in poultry science, says Ryan. In the future more and more education will be necessary for the poultryman who is to compete economically in the business, he adds.

The future college graduate in poultry science will have a better knowledge of the anatomy and physiology of the chicken and turkey which will enable him to understand and cope with the problems of poultry production. And yet, he must have more than just technical knowledge to compete in the industry in the future, Ryan says. He will need to know about the business world around him and be able to discuss any phase of his job intelligently. Thus, graduates in the field will need more training in English, mathematics, the humanities, science, business administration and a strengthened agricultural curriculum.

Due to a demand for researchers a greater number of graduates will be taking advanced degrees in the future and they will learn to become team men, Ryan believes.

"Don't take poultry science in the future if you are looking for an easy course. The intensified training will make it more difficult, not easier," is Ryan's advice to future poultrymen.

Teen Talk Translators Needed For Events in March of Dimes

What's a gym jam? A Salk hop? A sock shuffle? Do you give up? Want a translation?

All three are names of dances that will be held by teenagers across the country this January in honor of the 25th Anniversary March of Dimes.

The authority for this information is a blonde, hazel-eyed beauty who is national chairman for the Teen Age Program (TAP) of The National Foundation-March of Dimes.

She's Suzie Willett, 18, Wilmington, Del., a freshman at Russell Sage College, Troy, N.Y., where she is studying nursing. She became a March of Dimes volunteer several years ago because she "wanted to help people."

An enthusiastic worker, she traveled the state of Delaware and showed high school students how they could help carry out the March of Dimes programs to fight birth defects, arthritis and polio—a trio of cripples of concern to young people as well as to older age groups.

Is Top Tap

This fall and winter, as the top TAP, she's been corresponding and talking with teens all over the country, advising them how they can make themselves useful in March of Dimes activities in their home towns.

"Just about all the teens I've met in my travels for the March of Dimes really want to do something constructive," Suzie says. "Most of them join TAP groups because this gives them an opportunity to contribute to the life of their community."

"There have been several national surveys which show that Dr. Jonas Salk, who developed the killed-virus polio vaccine solely with March of Dimes support, is a hero to teens. It's easy to see why. Dr. Salk is a dedicated man, absorbed in his humanitarian work. Teens are very idealistic and they gladly give their respect to anyone who earns it. "I'm going to be a nurse because I want a career that in-popular benefits for the 1963 March of Dimes:

- Dances head the list, ranging from informal sock hops to Silver Anniversary Balls, glittering events which call for formal gowns and gardenias.
- Street sales—there seems to be an endless supply of items which TAPs plan to sell. These include tiny plastic Rainbow Crutches, balloons, lollipops, peanuts, donuts and carnations, among dozens of other products.
- Auctions—club members auction off their services to the highest bidder for a day or an afternoon, working as secretaries, baby sitters, shoe shiners and the like.
- "I'm thrilled that TAPs are so willing to pitch in and work for the March of Dimes," Suzie says. "This just proves one thing I've felt for some time—most of today's teens are idealistic, and they are searching for ways to express their idealism."

Popular Events Planned

From telephone and letter surveys among TAPs all over the country, Suzie reports that the following TAP activities are shaping up as the most

From the News

THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Friday, January 6, 1933, issue of The Foard County News:

Grant L. Slagle of Wellston, Okla., assumed his duties as pastor of the First Christian Church Sunday.

The attractiveness of the court house lawn in Crowell has been greatly increased as the result of cutting down of all trees on the lawn.

After nearly a month's effort to stop the heavy gas flow in the Texas Co.-Johnson oil test, 20 miles west of Crowell, the desired result was accomplished last week through the use of water pressure; however, the gas broke loose again Wednesday when 8-inch casing was being pulled in order to cement the 10-inch casing. A crew is now attempting to again control the heavy gas pressure.

One hundred and thirty-two births and 29 deaths were registered with the justice of the peace here during 1932.

Miss Cassie Dockins of Knox City visited here during the holidays.

Ragsdale and Granville Lanier returned Saturday from Rochester, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shirley and daughter visited in Abilene and Breckenridge last week.

Herman Kincheloe of Pritchett, Colo., spent the holidays here visiting relatives. Mr. Kincheloe is an automobile mechanic and has been living in Colorado for several years. The section in which he now lives is a newly-developed country and he says a bumper crop has been harvested this year.

Construction on the brick residence of Mr. and Mrs. Clint White has been completed and the family is now occupying the new structure.

A shower was given at the A. F. Cannon home Thursday evening honoring Mrs. George Davis, who was Miss Mary Gafford before her recent marriage.

Marriage licenses issued: Foy McRae and Miss Jewel Broadus, Margaret, Dec. 24; Raymond Grimm and Miss Opal Edens, Thalia, Dec. 21.

Mrs. T. B. Klepper celebrated the ninth birthday of her son, Billy, with a dinner for a number of his little friends on Thursday, Dec. 28. Those present were Charlie Thompson Jr., Ted Crosnoe, Joe Wallace Beverly, Edwin Edgin, Charles Stuart Clark, Charles Nelson, A. Y. Bell, Ralph Flesher, Glendon Hays.

Jack Gilland of the Y Ranch visited his mother at Claytonville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Wright spent from Sunday until Tuesday with relatives in Wichita Falls.

Crowell High School maintained its undefeated record in basketball with victories over Quitaque and Turkey last Friday and Saturday nights.

Quail Hunters Report Quail Kill in Region 1 Down 20 Per Cent

Quail populations in the 90-county area of Region I are definitely below last year's level, according to Henry Burkett, Region I Director.

Game and Fish Commission District reports from Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland and El Paso report hunting success is 20 per cent below last year. Unfavorable summer weather caused low or sporadic hatching success in the Midland and San Angelo and El Paso areas, while Panhandle and lower plains areas had above average rainfall causing lush growth in the bobwhite quail range. Panhandle hunters report that quail are fairly abundant, but difficult to locate because of heavy cover and an abundance of grass burs that makes life miserable for bird dogs.

AND Sidelights

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex. — House Textbook Investigating Committee ended its work on a sour note.

"This has been a most disagreeable experience," was the "understatement" of Committee Chairman Bill Dungan of McKinney as he brought the gavel down on the committee's final session before the Legislature meets on January 8.

The five-man group is split five ways. As a result, they will file individual reports on the results of the committee's several stormy sessions.

In addition to Representative Dungan, the committee is composed of Representatives John Alaniz of San Antonio, Bob Bass of DeKalb, Nelson Cowles of Hillsboro and Ronald Roberts of Hillsboro. They took months of testimony concerning the contents of textbooks used in public schools.

As the final session ended, members were accusing each other of attending or not attending the now-famous Dallas hearing — at which Ex-General Edwin A. Walker testified — for political campaign reasons.

They did get harmonious long enough to decide to publish five individual reports, in alphabetical order, in one volume, and not to include two petitions presented at the meeting.

However, these are the only points on which the committee arrived at a meeting of the minds.

Roberts and Alaniz both maintained that the present system of textbook selection in Texas is the best in the nation. Alaniz charged that textbook hearings have been "dominated by the ultra right and the John Birchers."

Chairman Dungan and Cowles have not publicized their views yet.

Paul C. Vogler Jr. of Corpus Christi was one of the petitioners at the meeting. He urged continuation of textbook investigations.

Another petitioner, the Rev. William S. Arms of Austin, presented a "redress of grievance." Ten he announced his intention to add 20,000 signatures to it at the upcoming Baptist convention in Fort Worth.

TICKET TAX MAY END — Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy, headed by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, added two more recommendations to the long list of proposals it will submit to the 58th Legislature.

One was to repeal the admissions tax, which brought in an annual $553,000 from movie showings, operas, plays and other amusements before a recent court decision invalidated part of the proceeds.

Parkhouse said, "It seems obvious that the admissions tax is now drafted in a failure."

Also recommended was creation by the Legislature of a permanent tax study commission, to be aided by the Texas Research League, and financed with a maximum annual operation fund of $5,000. The research league is a non-profit organization.

FAREWELL BUDGET — Outgoing Gov. Price Daniel has proposed the largest budget in the state's history, for legislative consideration. He says the budget can be met without new taxes.

Daniel recommends spending $3,100,000,000. This is $347,000,000 more than the present appropriation.

His budget incorporates recommendations for salary increases in Lampasas' city manager, to the Municipal Retirement Board.

Daniel also named to the Lower Concho River Water and Soil Conservation Authority Joe Brosig of Paint Rock, Lambert Abernathy of Millersview and W. R. Lovelless of Eden.

PERSONAL INCOME CLIMBS — Texans entered the final two months of 1962 with their personal income up 4.6 per cent over the first ten months of 1961.

This year, according to figures released in Austin by "Business Week," Texans' total personal income for the first ten months of 1962 was a whopping $16,854,000,000.

Last year during a similar period it totaled $16,105,700,000.

LAW PARTNERS — Leonard Passmore, chief assistant to Attorney General Will Wilson, has joined Wilson in the private practice of law in Austin.

Passmore has been Wilson's chief aide for the past three years.

Both Wilson and Passmore left office on January 1.

PRISON PRODUCE — Texas' Department of Corrections did a whopping big job of farming in 1962.

Asst. Director Byron W. Frierson, who is in charge of the vast farming operation, reports that the Department either "sold for cash or consumed, utilized or stored for use, in lieu of purchased items," $4,583,600 in farm products.

Cotton is the big cash crop on the prison system farms.

"Our 10,000 acres of cotton this year averaged better than a bale per acre for a total value of $2,100,000," says Frierson.

"And our rice crops put $35,000 into the state treasury with $13,650 worth held for consumption."

Edible crops had a total value of $708,287. Total value of cattle slaughtered was $384,660.

More than 11,000 hogs were raised for pork.

Other farm products included eggs, milk, turkeys and chickens.

$1,000,000 SLANT — The Attorney General's office reports that over $1,000,000 monthly oil allowable was cut off in the East Texas and Hawkins fields because of deviated-well discoveries.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Russell and family of Alice spent the holidays here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Marlow visited with Mrs. Inos Taylor of Wellington and Mrs. Herman Hopkins Friday in the Allen Taylor home.

Out of town guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Cooper during the Christmas holidays were Mr. and Mrs. James M. Cooper, Deke and Matthew, of Fort Worth; Rev. and Mrs. R. O. Cooper, Glenn, Gary and Gordon Burns of Kingsville; Capt. and Mrs. B. R. Cooper, Mary Anne and Carolyn, of Arlington, Va.; Paul Cooper of Fort Worth; Mrs. Jim Clifford and Mrs. J. A. Starkey of Childress, Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Powell of Aubrey, Texas, Sewell Roy of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bassett and Clifford of Amarillo.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED—Daniel filled several vacancies on state boards and commissions, but said he would leave appointments on the University of Texas and Texas A&M Boards to his successor, John Connally. These appointments are due to come up early in January.

He named the following to the board of regents of Lamar State College of Technology: Pat Peyton Jr. and Otho Plummer of Beaumont; J. G. Bertman Jr. of Liberty, and A. H. Montagne of Orangefield.

He appointed Sam W. Freas of Livingston as criminal district attorney of Polk County, to fill the vacancy caused by Sidney H. Adams' resignation.

Jake Jacobsen, Austin attorney, who served with Daniel as assistant attorney general and executive assistant in the U. S. Senate and at the governor's office, will succeed Dr. W. R. White of Waco on the Public Safety Commission. Dr. White and Fred Hartman, editor-publisher of the Baytown Sun, were appointed to the State Library and Historical Commission.

He re-appointed Clifford L. Davis, personnel director for the city of Amarillo, and Dan D. Nixon, many state departments. State highway patrolmen would be among those getting raises under Daniel's plan. He suggested a starting salary of $6,000 a year—$1,000 more than they get now. He decried the present policy of paying them on the same scale as city lawmen.

Daniel said, "These men frequently work around the clock and you can't expect such devotion from men who are paid on a 40-hour-a-week basis."

He also asked the 58th Legislature to boost salaries of state-employed physicians; juvenile parole officers; employees of the Texas Water Commission and the Railroad Commission; and teachers in all levels of education, among others.

Basically, except for higher education, the Governor's budget proposes continued operations at present levels for all state agencies and services, plus necessary funds to meet additional demands due to population growth.

COLLEGES UPGRADED — Daniel also urged upgrading of public junior colleges and state-supported universities, and recommended larger library appropriations and 16 per cent teaching salary increases—two things college administrators have cried for for a long time.

He proposed that the 34 public junior colleges be allotted $16,000,000 for the 1964-65 school years. This is $3,000,000 less than administrators requested, but $1,500,000 more than the current appropriation.

Much of this increase would be used to cover $500 annual pay raises for teachers.

Daniel advocated $15,200,000 to cover a 16 per cent increase in teacher's salaries; $2,700,000 additional funds for research in the state's 20 state-supported senior colleges, and $2,300,000 additional for libraries.

He based his proposals on the recommendation of the Commission on Higher Education that tuition be doubled to $200 a school year. But he explained that 4,500 scholarships for $100 a year would be available "to keep young people in college."
