Dallas Firm Chosen as Greenbelt Fiscal Agent

The board of directors awarded the contract to Underwood after hearing proposals from two other firms, First Southwest Company and First of Texas Inc.

Bob Underwood, president of the firm, said his staff would begin immediately to determine a feasible and constructive plan of financing for the Greenbelt project.

A detailed study of water rates in each of the Greenbelt cities will be made by Underwood, and, upon request, will advise the governing bodies of individual needs in raising or lowering water rates, as the case may be.

The contract with Underwood, signed Friday night of last week, runs for 12 months after the bonds are delivered.

Underwood said it would take about one week in each city to make preparations for the election. He indicated that it would be sometime around the first of September before the election could be held.

"The Underwood firm not only gave us the best price, but promised much quicker action," stated Dr. S. H. Townsend, president of the Authority.

Little League All- Stars Defeated by Munday Team

In an explosive contest that appeared could have gone either way, Munday's All-Stars defeated Crowell's All-Stars by a 5-2 score last Thursday night in area-tournament play in Seymour.

Munday hopped out to a one-run lead by scoring in the first inning. Crowell came back in the third to load the bases with only one man out, but pitcher Wayne Zeissel caused Pete Matthews to ground out, Jimmy Hammonds to pop out, and Crowell's threat of a big inning was over.

In their half of the fourth, the locals tied the score, with Gary Cates' single driving Paul Stapp across the plate. Munday, however, came back with four runs in their half-inning.

Rudy Magee wound up the scoring for the night as he, in the sixth inning, blasted a one-run homer over the centerfield fence. Magee did a good job also with his pitching, allowing six hits, striking out six and walking three.

This game wound up the 1963 season for Foard County Little League.

District Governor Speaks at Rotary Club Meeting

Addressing the local Rotary Club Wednesday, Dr. J. Harold Farmer, Rotary governor of this area, linked Crowell Rotarians with more than a half million other business and professional men who belong to Rotary clubs in communities around the world.

"Rotary clubs are functioning in more than 11,500 communities in 129 countries," he said, "and despite the diversity of their languages, customs, and political, and religious beliefs, they are working toward such mutually desired goals as community betterment, the promotion of high standards in business, and the advancement of world understanding."

Dr. Farmer of North Texas State University of Denton, was in Crowell making his official visit to the local Rotary club, one of the 41 clubs in his district.

Referring to the program of Carl P. Miller, president of Rotary International for 1963-64, Dr. Farmer said, "This district has been 'matched' with district 417 located in Mexico as a means of furthering better understanding and friendlier relations between Rotarians of the two countries. All Rotary districts have been similarly matched. Our contacts with our 'sister' district are taking shape."

In the field of youth, Dr. Farmer spoke of the new club for boys that is now a part of the Rotary program. Called INTERACT, it is for boys in the upper three years of high school. "It is a club for international action," he said, "and is designed to turn the attention of young men to service and international understanding."

Hot, Dry Weather Continues to Plague Foard County

On Saturday night, June 8, a rain totaling .8 inch fell in Crowell and with the exception of two very light showers—one on June 17 and the other only a trace on July 13, that was the last rain Crowell has had. Scattered sections over the county have received some rain that missed Crowell, and now the entire county is needing rain.

With pumping facilities taxed to their maximum for the past number of weeks, the City employees have done an excellent job of keeping water in the city reservoirs, but rain is needed desperately to relieve the heavy demand for water.

High and low temperatures recorded during the past week follow:

- July 18: high 100, low 79.
- July 19: high 101, low 76.
- July 20: high 102, low 78.
- July 21: high 105, low 79.
- July 22: high 104, low 77.
- July 23: high 104, low 76.
- July 24: low 79.

Some Want to Make Government Bigger

Representative Thomas B. Curtis of Missouri says: "Regardless of the fact that our federal government is the biggest spender, the biggest employer, the biggest property owner, the biggest tenant, the biggest insurer, the biggest lender and the biggest borrower in all the world—we find a growing impatience on the part of many holding high office in our land to make government even bigger."

Rotary Club

Merl Kincaid entertained members of the Rotary Club of Crowell with an interesting account of a trip he and his wife made to Minnesota at the meeting of the club last Wednesday.

The tremendous acreage planted to corn in some of the states he visited impressed Mr. Kincaid, and he remarked that a large number of cattle would have to eat a lot of corn just to consume what he saw growing.

Senator Moffett Presented Plaque to Cotton Council

Senator George Moffett returned to his home in Chillicothe Saturday of last week from a three-day visit in Dallas where he attended a meeting of the National Cotton Council. The latter organization seeks to stimulate the consumption of American grown cotton both in the U. S. and abroad.

During the Dallas session of the Cotton Council, its management presented a plaque to Sen. Moffett, which designated him as the outstanding man of the year for the promotion of new and expanded uses of cotton seed, through scientific research.

Senator Moffett has long advocated scientific research to discover new uses for cotton. It was through his efforts that a cotton research laboratory was established in Texas, the largest cotton producing state. Some three years ago, this laboratory through cooperative efforts with Federal officials brought about the establishment of the new grade of cotton known as "light spot," of which Texas produces more than any other state. Previously, all cotton with any spot, either light or heavy, was lumped into a single classification of "spotted cotton," and took a heavy discount in price from the buyers. The new light spotted grade sells for about $13.00 per bale more than heavy spot, and the farmer benefits thereby.

PURCELL VISITS U. S. NAVAL BASE IN CUBA

by Congressman Graham Purcell

Located on the southeastern corner of the island of Cuba is the site of one of the most important strongholds of freedom in the world, the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay.

On July 13 and 14, I visited this vital U. S. base which is surrounded on three sides by Castro's communist troops and on the other side by the waters of the Caribbean. The troops serve two purposes for Castro. One is to keep watch on the U. S. troops at Guantanamo. The important function they appear to serve, however, is to keep disgruntled, poor, and hungry Cubans from escaping communist domination in Cuba for freedom in Guantanamo. To make the job of the guards easier, Castro has cleared all the trees and brush from a one hundred yard strip around the base, enabling sentries to more easily spot would-be exiles.

The job of maintaining this isolated spot of freedom is a difficult one. Close watch must be kept at all times on the boundary of the base. It's a relatively small piece of real estate, 28,000 acres, stretching for about nine miles east and west along the southern coast of Cuba, and going inland for about five miles.

Everywhere the U. S. Marines maintain a sentry post, the Cubans have set one up just across the fence. The result is that our sentries and their exchange stares and glares around the clock.

There is only one gate to the base. This is located on the northeast corner. Through this gate pass the 2,500 Cuban citizens still employed on the base. Actually, there are two gates at this location, one Cuban and one American, on opposite sides of the line. The "line" at this point, is a white painted line on the paved walkway between the U. S. and Cuban gates. This line joins a cyclone type fence topped with barbed wire which forms the boundary for the rest of the base.

I feel it is good that we have this substantial number of Cubans still working on the base and returning at night to their homes in nearby Guantanamo City. For the people of Cuba, this is the only direct contact left with freedom. The people who work on the base are carefully screened, and we know they are selling the story of freedom to their families and friends who live in poverty under the domination of a communist dictatorship across the fence.

We know also that the only substantial meals the employees get are while they are working on the base. The Cubans will not let the Cuban employees take any food, clothing, medicine or merchandise off the base. When their frequent searches turn up medicine, or food being taken to a sick or hungry child, it is confiscated.

Our troops at Guantanamo lead a confining life in a constantly tense situation. Almost without exception, however, they manage to maintain a remarkable morale level. The families who live on the base are an amazingly happy group. The mothers and children all seem to like their life at "Gitmo," as they call it.

The morale of the troops is a heart-warming thing. One Marine lieutenant, who took me on a tour of the fence line, has been quickly sent to Gitmo during the Cuban crisis, just as many of our men in Texas were called to duty during the Berlin crisis. This lieutenant had been home with his wife just seven hours last fall from an eleven month overseas tour. He received a call to report for duty and was rushed to Guantanamo when the crisis broke on October 22. He has been there ever since. Was he bitter? On the contrary, he told me he would like to be back with his wife and family, of course. But, he said, he felt like his job at Gitmo is a useful and important one, and that he was willing to stay as long as he is needed.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if more Americans had this kind of dedication to the preservation of freedom and our way of life, the same kind of dedication displayed by Texas men during the Berlin call-up?

Why is it so important for us to retain the Naval base at Guantanamo? For one thing, we are determined to show Castro that we will not back down on the treaty which gives us the right to this base. We will, most certainly, use any method necessary to keep possession of the base.

In addition to the psychological importance in the cold war of the U. S. staying there, there is an over-riding need for the Navy to retain the base. Its fine natural bay, its outstanding year-round weather conditions, and its vital strategic location in the Caribbean, make Guantanamo the most logical and most important training base for our Atlantic fleet. Complete training operations continue as always at Guantanamo, and will not be interrupted.

The water supply at the base comes from a river pumping station about five miles inside Cuban territory. Castro has never shut off the water, even during the crisis. It looks like he is convinced, as I am, that we mean to stay there at all costs. He has never made a move to remove us from the base or force us to leave by any means.

It is a strange feeling to look across a fence and see a communist soldier staring back. It serves to renew your determination to do all you can to see that Cuba and other imprisoned nations are eventually returned to the people. It is an experience I will never forget. Nor will I forget the wonderful people who man this strategic outpost, defending it for you and me, around the clock, around the calendar. But, most important, I will never forget the Cubans I saw returning to their homes from the base in the evening, and their families I did not see. The memory of these people will always serve to strengthen my conviction that freedom must prevail for all people of all nations.

Let us all hope and pray that the day is not far off when there will be no need for barbed wire fences or walls to separate free people from imprisoned people, the day when the world will truly find a way to live together in peace and good will.

Frost Initiative Secures new Industry

A population of less than one thousand proved no handicap to Frost, Texas, when its aggressive citizens set out to secure new industry.

Today, Frost Manufacturing Co. of Texas, makers of women's fashions, is a thriving industry employing 40 people and with an expansion program planned for the near future. It is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns. These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

ustin, Tex.—Gov. John Connally said Texas is making a lot of progress on civil rights with demonstrations and disturbances. He urged Texans to avoid trouble which is plaguing other states.

Evans, secretary of Texas State AFL-CIO, indicated mass demonstrations are needed in the Lower Rio Grande Valley to improve working conditions of Mexican workers. Connally commented that such statements are irresponsible and inflammatory.

Governor also rejected labor's appeal for a special session of the Legislature to abolish right-to-work law and enact state minimum wage, saying he saw "no need, emergency or desirability" for such a session.

Evans said labor's traditional role is to try to inflame people against injustice, and he intends to keep on trying to do that.

QUICK CHANGE — From one of the unpaid boss jobs to a $16,500-a-year assistantship is the story of Dr. J. B. Copeland of San Antonio.

When the Legislature created the new job of deputy commissioner of the Health Department, Dr. Copeland resigned as chairman of the State Board of Health to accept the job of deputy commissioner. He had been Board Chairman for the past ten years.

Governor Connally named Dr. N. L. Barker of Paris to replace Dr. Copeland. He reappointed Dr. Elmer Baum of Austin and named Dr. John M. Smith of San Antonio and I. D. Flores of Floresville, a pharmacist, to the Board of Health.

APPOINTMENTS — Connally made other appointments. Among them:

S. A. Kerr of Huntsville and Dr. Joe A. Nelson of Weatherford, reappointments, and David A. Kimbell, Wichita Falls, to the board of regents of North Texas

State University.

Ed Minor of Austin and W. R. Whitten, Fort Worth, to State Board of Pharmacy.

Sister Mary Brian Sherry of San Antonio and Mrs. Martha McClellan Davis, Beaumont, to Board of Nurse Examiners.

Dr. Richard T. Weber of Austin and Dr. James E. Makins, Lubbock, to Board of Dental Examiners.

Judge Otis Dunagan of Tyler, former Atty. Gen. Grover Sellers of Sulphur Springs and Judge James H. Moore, Nacogdoches, to the new 12th Court of Civil Appeals at Tyler.

Judge Stephen F. Preslar, McCombe, to the 8th Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso, replacing Justice Jim Langdon, whom he had named to the Railroad Commission.

Charles Sherrill, Fort Stockton, to replace Preslar as district judge.

Judge Howard P. Green of Cuero, Paul Nye of Corpus Christi and T. Gilbert Sharpe, Brownsville, to the new 13th Court of Civil Appeals in Corpus Christi.

Mayor Joe E. Kelly, Victoria, to replace Green as district judge.

Eugene R. Hoyt of Orange, Jack Pierce of Nacogdoches, Warren P. Cunningham Jr. of Houston, Arthur C. Leshar Jr., Houston, as district judges.

Ward R. Burke of Lufkin, Dr. George Andrew Constant of Victoria and C. E. (Sonny) Bentley, Abilene, to Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools.

George Christian of Austin, who was administrative assistant to former Gov. Price Daniel, as Governor's press secretary, replacing Wilbur Evans, who went back to sports press relations.

Clay Cotten, longtime attorney for State Insurance Department, as State Liquidator to succeed C. H. Langdeau, who is retiring due to ill health.

LOANS—Frank Miskell of Austin, who headed up the Texas Legislature's studies on the loan shark problem, will be the administrator of the new law which regulates licensed lenders.

Miskell was chosen by the State Finance Commission to be the first Regulatory Loan Commissioner. He will assume his new duties on August 23.

DRY AND WET—Texas is spotted with drought and flood points.

Texas Water Commission found that reservoirs declined a little in June. They wound up the month 76 per cent full, so there's room to store more floods when and if they come.

In general, Northeast Texas reservoirs are full, while those in South Texas are shrinking.

ROADS—Highway construction is one thing that dry weather helps.

State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer reported that contractors on state-federal projects completed $24,073,319 worth of work during June.

But there's plenty yet to do. They hold contracts which total $382,872,803 and another $25,000,000 worth of contracts will be issued this week.

DO FENCE THEM IN—Texas Highway Department has endorsed the idea of building "median rails" on busy urban expressways.

Rails—heavy-duty fences which keep traffic from careening into opposite lanes—have been or will be installed on expressways around Houston, Fort Worth and Austin.

Also under development by highway engineers is a woven-wire mesh fence—similar to backyard chain-link jobs—to reduce headlight glare and to prevent pedestrians from crossing the freeways.

OIL HOLDS UP—Despite recommendations by several major oil buying firms that Texas production be cut in August, the Railroad Commission held the line.

Production will continue at the July rate of 28.5 per cent of capability of the wells. Independents praised the action.

HIGHER EDUCATION—Texas Committee on Education Beyond the High School has selected one of its members as paid executive director.

He is Dr. A. B. Martin, president of Amarillo Junior College. He will co-ordinate all staff work for the big study.

Committee has one year to finish its study and report to the Governor and Legislature.

SADLER ACTIVE — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler continues to be much in the news.

Sadler disagreed with Governor Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr on seriousness of a state-federal dispute on reclaimed lands in the tidelands; swapped hot wires with ex-Sen. Bob Baker after Baker accused him of impeding Padre Island Seashore project; and insisted that Carr get Supreme Court concurrence on Carr's ruling that a new law reorganizing the School Land Board is valid.

POLLUTION QUESTION — Texas Water Pollution Control Board granted a permit to discharge thousands of gallons of "treated effluent" into the waters of Copano and Aransas Bays in connection with plans for a big new resort motel and marina at Lamar Townsite, Aransas County.

Objections voiced at public hearings led to the Commission's action in instructing backers of the project—American Liberty Oil Company—to extend the point of discharge 500 feet farther out into the bay area.

STATE SCHOOL — Dr. James Turman, Director of the Texas Youth Council, defended his council's action in either firing—or retiring—Superintendent O. F. Perry of Gatesville State School.

Perry and his supporters claim too much interference from Austin, too little discipline of boys.

Youth Council denies this, contends policy differences caused the dismissal.

M. B. Kendrick was named to replace Perry.

SHORT SNORTS — Texas Game and Fish Commission, Department of Public Welfare, Board of Plumbing Examiners, Board of Professional Engineers, Board of Pardons and Paroles, Department of Agriculture, Department of Banking, and Building Commission are moving into the new John H. Reagan State Office Building.

Dr. Dorman Winfrey, Director of the Texas State Library, announced that the Val Verde County Library, recognized in December as one of the "Ten Best Small Libraries in the U. S.," also has been cited for its "top-flight public relations program."

Rep. Robert H. Hughes of Dallas will resign from the Legislature on September 1 to accept appointment as domestic relations court judge in Dallas.

LINCOLN WAS RIGHT. And rural electrification is a living example of his wisdom. When rural people could get electricity no other way, Congress created the Rural Electrification Administration to help them finance their own non-profit power systems. Today this combination of local ownership and REA financing brings electric power to 20 million rural people.

Following Lincoln's concept of helping people to help themselves, the rural electrification program is strengthening the nation's economy and fostering democracy in rural America. Based on the finest principles of the American private enterprise system, rural electric cooperatives are owned, operated, and controlled by the local people they serve. Although they serve the sparsely-settled, country areas, rural electricians manage carefully to make ends meet. Already they've repaid more than $1½ billion in principal and interest on their REA loans.

Few programs in our nation's history have accomplished so much for so many Americans. Rural electrification does, indeed, prove the truth of Lincoln's idea.

The words from the song, Oh What A Beautiful Morning, from the musical "Oklahoma," inspired this picture taken at Six Flags Over Texas. At Fort St. Louis in the French section of the famous family fun land midway between Fort Worth and Dallas, corn and vegetables are grown just as we were cultivated in the early days to feed the inhabitants. Now the corn — not the stalks — is as high as an elephant's eye, but baby elephant Sis Flagg and Hostess Mona Freeman are somewhat skeptical as to whether the Texas corn will "climb clear up to the sky," as it does in the famous song from the popular Rodgers and Hammerstein show, "Oklahoma."

Value of Farm and Ranch Products Second in State

The value of Texas' farm and ranch production is exceeded by only one other major material, oil. The value of the state's total yearly agricultural production exceeds the payroll for manufacturing, or the total of construction awards, or the payroll for retail trades, points out John McHaney, extension economist.

Farm and ranch production each year has a total value of just under 2.5 billion dollars, but, explains McHaney, agriculture adds much more to our total economy than just income from the sale of products. Business firms which assemble, process, distribute, transport wholesale and retail the products of Texas' farms and ranches employ about 20 per cent of the labor force of the state and about 3.9 billion dollars to the agribusiness economy. Their primary concern is to get the agricultural products to the final consumer in the desired form and at the right place and time.

Simple addition, says McHaney, shows that the sale of agricultural products plus the costs of processing and distributing them annually adds to the state's economy about $6.3 billion. The economic destiny of most Texas counties, the economist adds, hinges primarily on the agri-business economy.

And commenting upon the future of the Texas agricultural industry, McHaney emphasizes the future will belong to those people and states which work to keep their agricultural economy competitive with other areas of the nation and world. Agriculture, he adds, is no longer a way of life but rather a big competitive business. He's strong for keeping the industry in Texas in a strong competitive position.

Tells of Diplomatic Service

Retired Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs, speaking from 37 years of experience in the diplomatic service, says: "Many of our diplomatic missions could perform twice as effectively with half the personnel now infesting the premises." He tells of the Greek embassy to which 70 military personnel were attached when he had the post, and adds: "Had I been able to deploy them for three hours every morning in full-dress uniform, playing leapfrog across the Acropolis, that would have made as much sense as most of the attaché duties they solemnly declared they were engaged in."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Morris of Corpus Christi, and Rev. Marrs, pastor of the Truscott Methodist Church and the Fourth City Church, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Marrs of Waco.

The bride was attired in a floor length gown of silk organza with long sculptured bodice fashioned with a portrait decolletage trimmed with lace scallops and long fitted sleeves that ended in calla points. The full skirt was bordered in Chantilly lace and flowed into a chapel train. Her headpiece was a queen's crown, seed pearls with shoulder length veil of English silk illusion. Musicians were Abraham Morales, singer, and Mrs. Abraham Morales, organist.

Assembly of God WMC

The W. M. C. of Assembly of God Church met Monday evening, July 15, at the church. During the business session, plans were discussed for getting the Christmas package off to Starlene, the WMC's adopted missionary's child. Also, they discussed the serving dinners for the Lions and Rotary Clubs while Mrs. Clyde James is on vacation.

Rev. Kenneth Bingham, pastor, brought the worship message on "Loosed Not to Be Bound," scripture lesson from Luke 19:30. "When we are born from above, we are loosed from the darkness of this present world. Every time a child of God also needs to be loosed from pride and self-centeredness by the complete fullness of His spirit. The scripture says, 'He Jesus is with you but shall be in you.' A well of living water springs up within. Loosed and emptied to be filled with the Holy Ghost baptism." A special prayer was for the sick to be loosed and the lost to be freed. The next meeting will be Aug. 5 at 8 o'clock at the church.

$28 MILLION

has been spent recently for industrial construction in our service area.

Even today, $28,000,000 is a lot of money. But a survey shows that this vast amount has been spent recently for construction of new industrial plants in our service area, and for expansion of existing ones.

The figure is evidence of two things. One is that our service area is becoming more and more industrialized. The other is that when we say "The Center of the Southwest" is one of the Nation's fastest growing regions, we have the facts to back it up.

This industrial figure is one fact. The commercial and civic improvement figures are others. Day by day we become more than ever convinced that this region faces growth unlimited.

... more proof that the Center of the Southwest is one of the Nation's fastest growing regions.

Hang Up the Crying Towel, F. F. A. Told

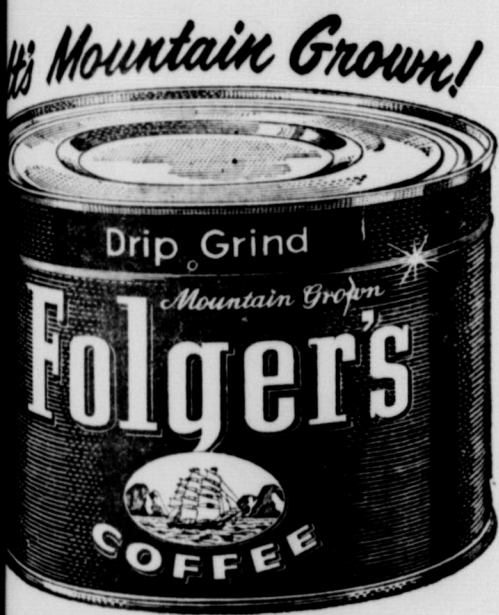

"Hang up the crying towel" was the advice to Wisconsin beginning farmers given by Pro. Walter Bjoraker of the state college of agriculture to Wisconsin Future Farmers meeting in convention recently. Agriculture, he reminded them, is changing rapidly but it is not moving off the map. Opportunities still are present, but young farmers must be ready to cope with the changes as they arise. Agriculture is broader than production. It also includes selling, marketing, research, administration and other professional fields. Brains (are) much more important than brawn in today's farming."—Antigo, Wis., Journal.

The Name Is a Program in Itself

"When the new Pope announced he would be called Paul, an American Jesuit in Rome said, 'The name is a program in itself. The very name will sit with both the Protestants and the Orthodox.' He expressed a hope lit by the late Pope John XXIII for all Christian churches—that they may be reunited and so multiply the influence of their faith beyond Christendom, as Paul the Apostle first launched its influences beyond Palestine."

New Grain Cars

Good news for grain shippers is coming from Cleburne, Texas, where Santa Fe Railway crews are producing three specially-equipped cars a day on an assembly line. Nearly 450 are being built, featuring a double-plug door with a leak-proof gasket, instead of old-style doors that must be backed with a removable grain door or liner to keep loss to a minimum. The small upper portion of the door is used for loading and provides access for sampling by grain inspectors, while the bottom remains tightly sealed until unloading. The new door expedites loading and virtually eliminates loss in transit, the railroad reports.

Disciples and Apostles

"And when it was day, He called to Him His disciples; and of them He chose twelve, whom also He named apostles" (Luke 6:13).

Many people fail to distinguish between our Lord's disciples and His apostles. They suppose they are the same. This is incorrect, however, for our Lord had a multitude of disciples while He had only a few apostles. His apostles were chosen from among His disciples, as we learn from the above passage from Luke's gospel.

A disciple is a follower; an apostle is a "sent one." A disciple is a learner; an apostle is a teacher. There is a great lesson here for us all to learn.

We must come before we can go. We must follow before we can be sent. We must learn before we can teach. We must listen to the Lord before we can speak for the Lord.

"Thus saith the Lord," was the familiar phrase with which the Old Testament prophets began their messages. But at the head of the long list of Old Testament prophets we find Samuel, a young lad, saying: "Speak Lord, for Thy servant heareth" (1 Sam. 3:9).

Before we can do or say anything for God, then, we must listen to God. This explains why the reading and study of the Word of God is so important.

First, salvation itself comes by hearing and believing God's Word, especially about Christ, and His death for our sins. Rom. 10:17 says: "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God," and 1 Pet. 1:23: "Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God, which liveth and abideth forever." Then, having been saved, we can serve God acceptably only by diligent study of His Word. Perhaps the most important passage in the Bible on this subject is II Tim. 2:15:

"Study to show thyself approved unto God; a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth."

USDA Lists Foods for Texas

Careful grocery shoppers look to five plentiful foods they plan summer-perfect this August, reports the Agricultural Extension Service. Summer vegetables and tuna are featured on the August list of plentiful foods, terminated by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in cooperation with growers and the food trade.

Also expected to be plentiful are watermelons, peaches, and cooking oils. Supplies of specific vegetables will vary at different markets of the state. Although, look for an abundance of tomatoes, sweet corn, green beans, cabbage and lettuce buys' also will prevail on a number of in-season local crops.

Canned tuna joins the cause heavy inventories held concern among folks tuna industry. They're eyeing a nation-wide promotion that means economical prices for consumers.

Watermelon supplies expected to be at least as plentiful as last year. Peanut foods, like peanut butter, are plentiful, as are other snack items. Stocks of cooking oils are also plentiful, as are other million pounds larger than last year.

Wise shoppers can take advantage of the abundance of plentiful foods by serving often and generously. Low and wider choice of quality usually accompany abundance.

Two-Billion-to-One Shot

Adriano F. DiBenedetto is one in a million—of about two thousand million. Here he receives the $25 U. S. Bond bearing the serial number 2,000,000,000 from Mrs. Wyn O'Hay Granahan, Treasurer of the United States.

Domenico, who lives with his wife and 13-year-old Camden, N. J., bought the bond through the Radio City of America's Payroll Savings Plan. It turned up as one of 10,000 bonds RCA obtains monthly for its Camden savers. In presenting the bond, the Treasurer called it a "rare find" and said the bond with the magic number two billion was issued during the 1963 Freedom Bond Drive, and was bought through the Payroll Savings Plan, which is for about half of all bond purchases.
