Well and Foard County to Observe Birthday

Foard County was created on February 21, 1858, but did not become self-governing until December 30, 1884. Hardeman County was attached to Wilbarger for all judicial purposes. In 1886, rumors were flying the railroad was being extended from Harrold to Quanah; became a reality, Quanah experienced a tremendous boom in becoming an important point, so suspicious ranchman Margaret had an effort made to move the county seat to Quanah. Pease River barrier to the residents to the north and many reasoned that the logical place for the county seat was Quanah, so in 1889 the commissioners' court was petitioned to call an election between Quanah and Harrold. Records show that 688 votes were cast for Quanah and 164 for Harrold. The move was made but without ill feeling. Harrold was charged with illegal practices. Margaret did not long remain in Harrold.

J. G. Witherspoon, well-known ranchman of this section, goes the honor of being Foard County's founder. It was his efforts that the land between the two rivers, a strip of miles along the east border of Foard County and the bit of Harrold County which was north of the Pease River was obtained to form the new county on Feb. 12, 1889.

Foard County received its name from a prominent lawyer of Colorado, Texas, Robert J. Foard. The Legislature of Texas, in 1889, appointed J. H. Self, J. A. Sanders and J. C. Sanders to divide the organization of the county which was officially done on Feb. 27, 1891. At that time, this was practically an open well was named the county on the same day of the organization School section No. 446, owned by George T. Crowell and section 445, owned by Well Townsite Co., were divided in half to make up the site selected. Officers of the town were M. F. Crowell, Homer Pack, J. F. Witherspoon and C. A. Andrews. All were members of the Crowell Townsite Co. The town was founded by George T. Crowell.

Contract for the first courthouse was let in 1892 at a cost of $250. It was placed on the line of the two sections which the town was laid. The first courthouse was completed in 1900 and was remodeled after tornado in 1942 which, incidentally, came on the fifty-first birthday of Crowell.

In 1900, the population of the county had reached 1,568, but the rapid growth came shortly after the coming of the Orient in 1908. It was in that year that Crowell became incorporated and city officers were elected. The late J. W. Allison was the first mayor. On Feb. 6, 1909, the council appointed a committee to investigate and prepare the first City Water Works. The first fire engine was purchased for the city on Nov. 15, 1911. The first county officials were elected: J. C. Roberts, county clerk; G. W. Thompson, county assessor of taxes; J. W. Crowell, county treasurer; Harry Crowell, county surveyor; T. J. Benson, animal and hide inspector, and commissioners, pre-ferred numbers 1 to 4, respectively: John Wesley, John B. Stegarr, J. Moore and W. T. McDaniel.

Former Crowell Resident Died in Fort Worth Apr. 18

Funeral Services For Jim Weaver Held Friday

Jim W. Weaver, 82, resident of Foard County from 1921 until 1960, died at his home in Fort Worth Thursday afternoon of last week. Mr. Weaver had been in declining health for the past three years.

Funeral services were held Friday morning at a Fort Worth funeral home chapel with interment in a Fort Worth cemetery.

He had been a resident of Fort Worth for the past three years.

Survivors include one son, Ernest Weaver of Crowell; three daughters, Mrs. Ruby Sellers of Fort Worth, Mrs. Juanita Lewis of Lubbock and Mrs. Yvonne Ward of Odessa; two brothers, Ira Weaver of Lubbock and Joe Weaver of Garland; two sisters, Mrs. Ida Myers of Garland and Mrs. Lillie Bozeman of Dallas; seven grandchildren and a number of great grandchildren.

Ernest Weaver of Crowell and his son, Jimmy Weaver, of Vernon, attended the funeral services.

Social Security Payments Are $23,951 Monthly

Monthly old-age, survivors and disability insurance benefits in Foard County now top $23,951, Erton F. Tate, district manager of social security in Wichita Falls, said Monday on releasing his annual county benefits data report.

The new monthly figure represents an increase of 5 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

"This increase can be attributed to the changes in the law in recent years, as well as to the growth of our aged population," Mr. Tate said. "This money stimulates county business; most of it is spent for food, clothing, and shelter."

Monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940, and they have continued without interruption for 23 years, accompanied by a steady growth in the number of beneficiaries. Tate noted that as of December 31, 1962, some 428 Foard Counties were collecting about $285,000 annually by social security.

More people in Foard County, he said, could draw social security benefits if they knew more about the law, and for that reason they are urged to visit or call the local social security office whenever they have a question concerning their benefits or responsibilities.

As of January, 1963, in the nation at large, more than 18 million beneficiaries were receiving payments at the rate of $1.18 billion per month. The average monthly old-age retirement benefit in January was $76.19 for all states, while in the State of Texas the average was $68.49.

4-H'ers to Enter District Contests

Twelve Foard County 4-H'ers will attend the District 4-H Elimination Contest at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls on Saturday, April 27, at 9:30 a. m.

At this time, 4-H'ers from over the twenty-two counties in the district will compete in the various demonstration and judging contests.

The following Foard County 4-H members will compete in the following contests:

The two top winners in each senior event at district will give their demonstration at 4-H Round-up at A&M on June 4-6.

Ray Shirley, adult leader, is coaching the electric team. Mrs. L. H. Wall and Mrs. Clarence Garrett will serve as judges for the district contest.

County Still Dry But Northern Monday Brings Cooler Weather

A variety of weather—ranging from very hot to cool—but all of it dry—has been the weather picture over Foard County this past week. Sunday was hot and windy with the mercury climbing to 96 degrees. A cool front Monday brought more pleasant temperatures with the low Monday night of 55 degrees.

High and low temperature readings for the past week follow:

April 18: high 86, low 68.
April 19: high 82, low 53.
April 20: high 92, low 49.
April 21: high 96, low 58.
April 22: high 90, low 71.
April 23: high 73, low 55.
April 24: low 56.

A cloud which came up from the south Wednesday afternoon of last week brought a bare trace of rain to Crowell.

Skies were cloudy here early Wednesday morning with the weather forecast predicting showers.

Tax Collections is Foard County Reported "Good"

In spite of the short crops in Foard County last year, tax collections were reported as "good" by the three taxing agencies in the county.

Crowell Consolidated Independent School District Secretary L. A. Andrews reported tax collections were about average with 94.72 per cent of the 1962 taxes being collected.

The total tax levy for 1962 school taxes was $122,671.50, and the amount collected to February 1, 1963, was $116,189.10.

Deputy R. R. Magee of the county and state tax assessor-collector's office reported that a total of $126,602.41 was on the tax roll and that $119,850.57 had been collected through last Friday. This is a 94.7 per cent collection.

Total 1962 taxes on the City of Crowell rolls amounted to $23,274.15, and Mrs. Fern McKown, City secretary, reported that up to April 15, a total of $20,060.04 had been collected. This is 86.62 per cent collections. Mrs. McKown also reported that since October 1962 a total of $952.45 in delinquent city taxes has been paid.

Cancer Fund Drive Friday Totals $955.00

Foard County residents "bettered their best" in the annual fund raising campaign by the American Cancer Society here last Friday.

Leon Speer, county chairman, reported that a total of $955.00 had been raised up to Monday morning, which was $355.00 over the county goal of $600.00.

Mr. Speer expressed his thanks to all those who gave, and also to the many workers who helped in the drive.

Thalia School Board Organizes

Monday night, April 15, the Thalia School Board met for reorganization. T. R. Cates Jr. and Otto Bachman Jr. replace the outgoing members, Jim Moore and Alton Abston.

Mr. Cates was elected president and Robert Hammonds secretary. The other members of the board are Farris Gatewood and Merle Moore.

All teachers were re-elected for the 1963-64 school term.

Items Omitted in Last Week's Issue

The News regrets that last week it was impossible to include all the news of Easter week end visitors turned in by our correspondents. Space limitations prevented the use of all of them.

Former H. D. Agent Visits Here

Miss Joellene Vannoy, former Foard County Home Demonstration Agent, was here one day last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Bell, and other Crowell and Foard County friends.

Miss Vannoy is a nutritionist with Millers' National Federation (U. S. Flower Millers' Industry), who works in the foreign field. Her home office is in the National Press Building in Washington, D. C. Her work abroad has a two-fold purpose: (1) to improve the health of people in developing countries through upgrading nutritional proteins, and (2) to help build potential foreign markets for the U. S.'s super abundant wheat supply.

The years 1958-1959, Mrs. Vannoy spent in Columbia, South America, developing a nutritional education program using mass communications media (radio, T. V., newspapers, magazines, food demonstrations, teachers meetings and pamphlets). Last year she worked in 16 countries in Asia with CARE in starting school lunch programs using wheat and dry milk. She trains local people in all foreign countries who have had some home economics training.

During the past seven years, she has been working intermittently on her doctor's degree in nutrition education from Columbia University. Miss Vannoy has just recently completed this work and her doctorate will become effective on June 1.

Social Security Man to Be Here May 1

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be in Crowell at the court house on Wednesday, May 1, from 10 a. m. until 12 noon. You are invited to meet with the representative to file your claim or to obtain information or assistance concerning social security.

Is American Education Meeting Russia's Challenge?

Is American education meeting Russia's challenge? This is a loaded question—one that has caused many Americans to stop and to evaluate our public school system. Is Russia's education superior to ours?

There are several things to consider when one attempts to answer this question. First, is it more important to educate only the few apt students as the Russians do? Or is our plan of making a high school education available to all better? Of course, if only the exceptional student is educated, more advanced courses can be taught at a rapid speed, giving a superior education—but only to a few. What about the countless number of illiterates?

In America, democracy is our way of life; majority rule, our slogan. How can our country exist and progress unless the masses are educated; for in ignorance, Communism thrives.

provements in her school system. First, exceptional students are given the opportunity to learn as much as they can as quickly as they can by the use of accelerated courses. These accelerated courses teach higher mathematics, nuclear sciences, and other advanced courses. This provides the apt American student with an education equal to the exceptional Russian student. It also allows the slower student to receive an education—something that Russia does not do.

Also, America has stepped up some of the science and math courses. Keeping all information up to date is important in this atomic world.

Third, some courses like geometry and trigonometry are being taught experimentally in the lower grades. It is surprising, but the young children seem to be eager to learn and are grasping a knowledge of these maths. Also, the knowledge seems to be retained longer and is of much use to the youngsters in studying maths throughout their education.

Is American education meeting Russia's challenge? Yes, it is! This can be proved when one considers that America makes as many contributions to world progress as do the Russians. Also, our high standard of living is such that exists only in well-educated countries. We have always met Russia's challenges; we are meeting them today; we shall continue to meet them in the future.

Honor Students Announced

This week the 1963 honor graduates were announced. Even though this year's class is small—only 27 graduating seniors—there are eleven honor students, a pretty high percentage, we think.

The names and grade averages of the honor students are as follows: Judy Traweck 95.11, Carolyn Eubanks 94.88, Bob Borchardt 94.40, Pat Brown, 94.30, Gena Adeock 94.30, Marolyn Denton 93.40, Bill Fitzgerrel 92.42, Linda McClain 91.62, Lynda Mechell 91.03, Judy Sandlin 90.39, Joe Drabek 90.35.

Four of these students plan to enroll in college for the summer semester, and the other seven will enroll in the regular fall semester. Can you top this record?

Assembly Monday Morning

Gene and Bobbie Moore presented a short assembly program on Monday at 9 a. m. to invite the students to attend the Youth Revival being held this week at the Crowell Methodist Church. They sang several beautiful hymns which everyone enjoyed. Mr. Moore is the evangelist for the services which will continue through Friday night. Everyone is invited to attend.

These accomplished musicians can be heard each Sunday morning at 8 o'clock over KGNC radio in Amarillo.

Senior Personality

Featured senior of this week is Kenneth Hough. Kenney's day at school sounds like this: study hall, bookkeeping, office, VA IV, P. E., English IV. He has been a member of the FFA 3 years.

Kenney's favorite items seem to be these: actress, Bridget Bardot; actor, Robert Stack; subject, biology; pastimes, work; sport, swimming. An ideal meal for Kenney consists of chicken fried steak, gravy, and potatoes.

Throughout his life, Kenneth feels that his parents have been his greatest influence. After graduation, Kenney plans to begin his military service in the Marines.

Spanish Club is Guest of Fred Gray Family

The Crowell Spanish Club enjoyed another fine fiesta on Monday, April 15, at the newly completed home of the Fred Gray family in the Thalia community. The delicious Spanish meal, which consisted of spaghetti, ensalada de legumbres, pan tostada, frijoles, te, duclies, and hot peppers was prepared and served by Mrs. Betty Gray, Mrs. Karl ten Brink, Mrs. Merle Wright and Mrs. Willie Garrett. The Spanish atmosphere was prevalent with appropriate music played during the meal and Spanish decorations placed everywhere. The Spanish Club is grateful to everyone responsible for making the fiesta so enjoyable.

State FHA Meeting

Thursday morning, April 18, Patricia Cates, Judy Howard, Elizabeth Pittillo, Mrs. Bill Cates and Mrs. Ruth Kenner went to Dallas to attend the FHA state meeting.

Patricia sang in the State Chorus composed of 50 members. Ten girls had been previously selected from each of the first five homelike areas in Texas. Judy and Elizabeth were delegates to this meeting because they had earned the most points this year. Thursday was "practice day" for the whole program.

Friday from 9 to 10 a. m., a varied program was enjoyed. State degrees were conferred, scholarships were awarded, and talks were given, but perhaps the highlight of the meeting was the "Musical Holiday" presented Friday night. Exchange students from Norway, South Africa, Republic of Indonesia, Germany and Denmark were featured. The musical was based on the theme "Six Flags Over Texas."

The group returned home Saturday with the feeling that they had had a wonderful trip and had been privileged to see, hear, and meet many talented high school students from all over Texas.

Proper Grassland Use

The Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District consists of approximately two-thirds rangeland, therefore the grass it produces is worthy of attention. Grass is a crop to the livestock men as cotton and wheat are to the cropland farmer. Grazing animals harvest the grass which in turn is converted to beef. The more grass that is produced, the more pounds of beef that is produced per acre.

Grazing the pasture until it looks like it has been sand-papered is not getting the most from the land. The amount of grass available is tied to beef production. Pounds of beef is what governs profits or deficit in growing livestock. It is important to know the grasses and know how to properly use them. Grass is considered properly used when half the annual growth is harvested. If the pasture is capable of producing 4,000 pounds per acre, 2,000 pounds should be left for humus, organic matter, soil production, water absorption, reduction of evaporation, and strength to the plants. Three-fourths or more of grass production is from above ground, while the other part is from soil minerals. Food is manufactured in the leaves for the plant converting it into different foods. The more leaf surface there is, the more food that can be manufactured. Over-grazing, therefore, can reduce the strength and ability of the plant to manufacture food. The pounds of grass per acre is reduced and that in turn reduces the pounds of beef and profit per acre.

"This is a good time of the year to look over your pasture before the new growth starts and see what part you grazed off and what was left," Jesse Tate, local Soil Conservation Service technician, stated.

Governor Connally
 To Be at Paducah
 Show Friday

Governor John Connally will meet constituents of West Texas at Paducah Friday, April 26, during an informal open house in his honor at the Cottle County courthouse. The governor will be at the courthouse approximately one hour to greet the public before making an address and participating in a western parade. He will be at the court house at about 3:45 p. m. Friday. About 4:45 p. m., the governor will make a short public address, then take his place at the head of the parade. Gov. Connally will go to Paducah to lead the western parade that will officially open the 21st annual Cottle-King Horse and Colt Show and Rodeo. The parade, which will begin at 5 p. m., will consist of a menagerie of white horses ridden by ranch managers in West Texas, bands, floats and riding clubs. The two-day western affair will get underway Friday morning with an old settlers' reunion in honor of Cottle and King counties' senior citizens and former residents. It will begin at 9 a. m. at the veterans' building. Rodeo performances are scheduled both Friday and Saturday nights, beginning at 8 p. m. The horse show, approved by the American Quarter Horse Association, will feature some of the finest show horses in a three-state area. Rounding out festivities, a western dance festival is on the agenda both Friday and Saturday nights at the livestock grounds. It will begin at 9 p. m. in barn No. 3.

As Thomas and Ehret began crawling toward the subject he spotted them and began running in the direction of McBeath, Ray and Kirkpatrick. Seeing these officers, the subject turned and headed toward the road. Then he encountered Rakestraw who had done no running so far. He overtook the moonshiner. Next in line was the destruction of the still which was done with a fireman's axe. The 13 iron barrels were emptied and holes chopped in the bottoms of them, contents were strewn around the small creek near where the still was located, jars broken, the 55-gallon cooker and valves chopped up and the copper condenser pipe destroyed, but not before sufficient evidence was retained by the officers. The man will be charged in Federal court with the manufacturing of illicit liquor. The subject, who stood by and watched his equipment being smashed, was calm and joked with the officers about the size of the holes being chopped in the barrels. Before the destruction began, he posed beside the paraphernalia for photos by the officers. Overturned drums with holes in them, broken jars, bent and twisted copper pipes, the moonshine liquor and its raw materials now mark the spot under blossoming dogwood trees where the still operated. However, the smell of liquor overrode any scent the blossoms might have put out. The officers commented that the still was of a good size for this area. They left the area around noon with their subject and evidence.

What could prove to be a major break through in more efficient cotton production has been demonstrated at the Lubbock substation of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, according to Joe Burkett, County Agent. The new production technique is narrow-row planting and the use of chemicals for weed control. Elmer Hudspeth Jr. of USDA's Agricultural Research Service, stationed at the Lubbock station, planted cotton, under irrigation, in nine-inch rows and applied a pre-emergence herbicide for weed control. He harvested more than two bales from the one-acre plot without a single cultivation. A check planted in the usual 40-inch rows produced from one and a half to one and three-quarter bales an acre. Further tests will determine whether narrow-row planting of irrigated cotton can help farmers cut production cost by increasing yields and eliminating cultivation. Hudspeth said weeds didn't have a chance in the narrow-row plots. The herbicide controlled their early growth and the plant shading took care of later growth. The narrow-row planting was done with a grain drill. Hudspeth grew more than 200,000 plants on the acre compared with about 30,000 in 40-inch rows. Each plant produced only three or four bolls, but the dense planting helped raise the total yield. The closely spaced plants were short with few branches and thin stems, and were more ideally adapted to stripper harvesting than normal spaced plantings. Both the narrow and wide-row plots were sprinkler irrigated three times with three inches of water. The water activated the herbicide and aided seed germination. Both received the same fertilizer treatment—80 pounds of nitrogen and 40 pounds of phosphorus per acre applied before planting. A stripper harvester was used on both plots. Hudspeth said close plantings may not work in humid areas of the cotton belt where boll rot is a problem. Quality tests, he added, are being made on the cotton harvested from the narrow-row planting and will be announced later.

 subjecting the driver to having his driver's license suspended and denied his claim that he should be permitted to continue driving a publicly-owned vehicle.
 "Under this court decision," said Garrison, "the Department of Public Safety will be required to act against all drivers who have accidents if they cannot comply with the provisions of the safety responsibility law, regardless of the ownership of the vehicle."
 The Public Safety Director explained that the law requires ev-everyone involved in an accident to show his ability to pay for damages caused to others. This can be done, he said, by depositing with the department cash in the amount of the damages; by holding a liability insurance policy; or by obtaining written releases from all persons damaged in the accident.

 Garrison noted that the penalty for failure to comply with the safety responsibility law in such cases is suspension of the driver's license.

Arthur City—Members of the State Liquor Control Board and three federal officers arrested a 53-year-old Grant, Okla., Negro Saturday morning and netted a 13-barrel still southwest of Arthur City. Liquor Board members were Sherman McBeath, supervisor; and Ed Thomas and Bill Rakestraw, investigators. Charles Ehret, Jack Ray and Archie Kirkpatrick were the federal officers on the case. The officers said they found the still earlier and kept it under surveillance. They checked the mash and suspected the operator of the still would return either Saturday or Sunday morning to cook the illegal liquor. They arrived at the location Saturday around 6 a. m. and hid near the still. Five officers were located around it and Rakestraw remained near the road. About 8:20 a. m., the subject arrived and began his work. The officers watched him for about 40 minutes while he lit his fire and loaded the pot.

Florida Turkeys Released by Texas Game Department
 On January 26, Biologist Dave Austin and Pilot Forrest Neujahr, of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, flew into Huntsville with 16 adult Eastern Wild Turkeys. The birds then were taken by Texas Game and Fish Commission biologists Bill Wright and Bill Hudgins to an area about 12 miles north of Huntsville and released.
 One of the 13 hens died before release and one of the three gobblers had grown very weak. The remaining turkeys flew into the tall pines immediately and appeared to be making themselves at home when last seen. Given two or three successful breeding seasons, this seed stock could develop into a huntable population of wild turkeys for the northern part of Walker County.
 Regulations governing wild turkey transplanting require that a large tract of land in a single block, sufficient and suitable for turkeys, be brought under agreements to protect the turkeys from hunting for five years. Several sportsmen and landowners in Huntsville have worked very hard to get the release area under these agreements.
 Numerous transplants of the Rio Grande turkey in eastern Texas in the past had limited success for a year or two after release, then gradually disappeared. Such experiences caused biologists to recommend only wild-trapped, adult Eastern turkeys for stocking in East Texas. The birds for the Huntsville transplant were trapped from the Fishing Creek Refuge, just west of Lake Okechobee in south central Florida.

Scout Council President Stresses Worth of a Boy

As the Boy Scout organization in this area prepares for its annual sustaining membership drive, Phil Bolin, president of the Northwest Texas Council, Boy Scouts of America, calls attention to the importance of guiding this nation's youth.

Bolin heads the 13-county Boy Scout council which serves approximately 4,500 Cubs, Scouts and Explorers, and which is locally organized, managed and financed, but fully cooperating with the national Scout organization.

A Wichita Falls oil man, Bolin himself was a Boy Scout in Troop I in Wichita Falls. He now has two sons of his own who are Boy Scouts. Bolin served four years in the Navy. He has served as finance chairman at First Methodist Church, Wichita Falls.

"Then he is taught to respect the oath he has taken, and to live by it. In the process, he learns the meaning of honor, reverence, concern for others, and civic and moral responsibility.

"From this training will emerge a man whose hands can safely hold the future. What is a boy worth? He is worth whatever it takes to make him a man, in every sense of the word."

"To his scoutmaster, he is worth whatever it takes to make him a man, because he is all God gave us for that purpose. Herbert Hoover expressed it aptly when he said, 'A boy has two jobs. One is just to be a boy. The other is growing up to be a man.'

"Helping boys to become men is the one and only purpose of the Boy Scouts of America. Those who haven't had the good fortune to be associated with the Boy Scouts may find it difficult to understand how it is done.

"One seasoned scoutmaster put it this way: 'We show him how to tie a square knot in order to get him to stand still while we teach him to do a good turn, and thus live a better life. The example is oversimplified, but it gets the point across.

"Boy Scouting is successful in its character-building efforts because it combines fun and fellowship with useful learning. It is a game, and boys like games. But, it is a game with a purpose—the purpose of training them to become useful, responsible men—men who will govern us, run our business world, and father our grandchildren.

"Each boy, through the give-and-take of group activity and doing things that appeal to him, has a chance to develop himself into a man who is strong in character, healthy in body, keen of mind and skillful with his hands—ready to be of help to other people.

"When a boy becomes a Scout, he takes the Boy Scout Oath: 'On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.'

"Then he is taught to respect the oath he has taken, and to live by it. In the process, he learns the meaning of honor, reverence, concern for others, and civic and moral responsibility.

"From this training will emerge a man whose hands can safely hold the future. What is a boy worth? He is worth whatever it takes to make him a man, in every sense of the word."

It Couldn't Be Done-

"Congress couldn't do it. The President of the United States couldn't do it. Even the courts can't do it. Only a striking union abetted by other unions can close down the newspapers in the nation's largest city, not to mention the newspapers in the nation's eighth largest city, Cleveland." —Melrose, Mass., Free Press.

Large Area of Texas Now Under S. C. S. Agreements

More than half the agricultural land of Texas is now under cooperative agreement with soil conservation districts, says H. N. Smith, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service of Temple. More than 150,000 farm and ranch operators have completed conservation plans for more than 80,000,000 acres. An additional 47,000 operators are in the process of completing their plan on another 20,000,000 acres, according to reports from soil conservation districts over the state.

During 1962, 14,000 operators completed their plans for more than 7,500,000 acres, continued Smith. In addition, more than 8,100 farmers and ranchers revised their conservation plans during the year to bring them up to date to include changes in land use and treatments.

The state head of the Soil Conservation Service said that a conservation plan is like a blueprint for a house to be built. It charts a sound and practical course of action for the operator and the agencies assisting the landowner to apply a conservation program on his land.

Landowners and operators are assisted in developing complete conservation plans for their units with technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service provided through their local soil conservation district. There are now 182 such districts in Texas which include 98.7 per cent of the land area of Texas.

Some of the soil conservation districts have equipment, seed, and other materials that may be made available for the conservation job. In the Great Plains area of 95 counties in the northwestern part of the state, cost-sharing assistance may be available for certain permanent-type practices through a contract arrangement with the Soil Conservation Service.

A conservation plan encompasses many things. It considers increasing agricultural income and efficiency through proper land use and treatment; protecting land against all forms of soil deterioration; rebuilding eroded and depleted soils, building up soil fertility; stabilizing critical runoff and sediment-producing areas; improving grasslands, woodlands, or wildlife lands; developing recreational areas; conserving water; proper agricultural drainage and irrigation where these are needed; and reducing floodwater and sediment damage.

We Better Hope They Don't Devalue the Dollar

"Economists serving the Senate-House Economic Committee have issued a report in which they recommend that the dollar be devalued. It isn't too likely to happen, because the present Administration like the Eisenhower Administration, has vowed not to devalue. Citizens had better hope that our Government keeps this pledge, because devaluation would mean an instantaneous loss of the purchasing power of all savings—including billions of dollars in Government bonds bought because of faith in the Government's fiscal honesty."—Miles City, Mont., Daily Star.

Freedom Is a Gift of God and Not a Political Grant

"We subscribe to the belief that freedom is a gift of God and not a political grant. We believe that freedom is consistent only with Christianity. We believe that our welfare shall depend on our own initiative and ability, we believe in maintaining a society in which the citizen has fullest individual freedom and the government's primary and paramount role is the protection of that freedom." —Pecos, Texas, Independent.

Two Minutes With the Bible

"The One True Church"

Religious people—even sincere Christian people—may divide themselves into various denominations or churches, but there is no indication in the Bible that God recognizes these divisions. Indeed, God makes it abundantly clear that in His sight there is but one Church, composed of all who truly trust in the Lord Jesus Christ as their Savior. In I Cor. 12:12,13 the Apostle Paul declares by divine inspiration:

"For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ:

"For by one spirit are we all baptized into one body . . . .
Again, in Rom. 12:5, he says: "So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another."

Indeed, it is on the basis of the fact that there is but "one body" in God's sight that He exhorts us to seek to "keep the unity of the Spirit."

"Endeavoring to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body . . . (Eph. 4:3,4).

How can we become members of that "one body" the true Church? Ephesians 2 explains how Christ died for all, Jew and Gentile alike, "That He might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross . . ." (ver. 16). Indeed, the Epistles of St. Paul show how God "hath concluded all in unbelief that He might have mercy upon all" and offer to them reconciliation and salvation by grace through faith in Christ who died for our sins.

The question, then, is not "What church do you belong to?" But "Do you belong to The Church, the Body of Christ," composed of all who have acknowledged themselves to be sinners in the sight of God and have trusted in Christ and His finished work for salvation.

Cereal Product Makes Stronger Paper and Insulation Board

A derivative of cereal grain has been found to make stronger insulation board and paper, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Zinc xanthate, an insoluble cereal product, was used in tests by USDA's Agricultural Research Service. The best experimental boards containing 10 per cent of the derivative were lighter but 1½ to 2½ times stronger than commercial insulation boards of similar density.

The process for making cereal-zinc xanthate involves two steps. First, starch, flour, ground wheat or some other grain product is reacted with carbon disulfide and an alkali such as lye to produce the cereal xanthate, which is insoluble.

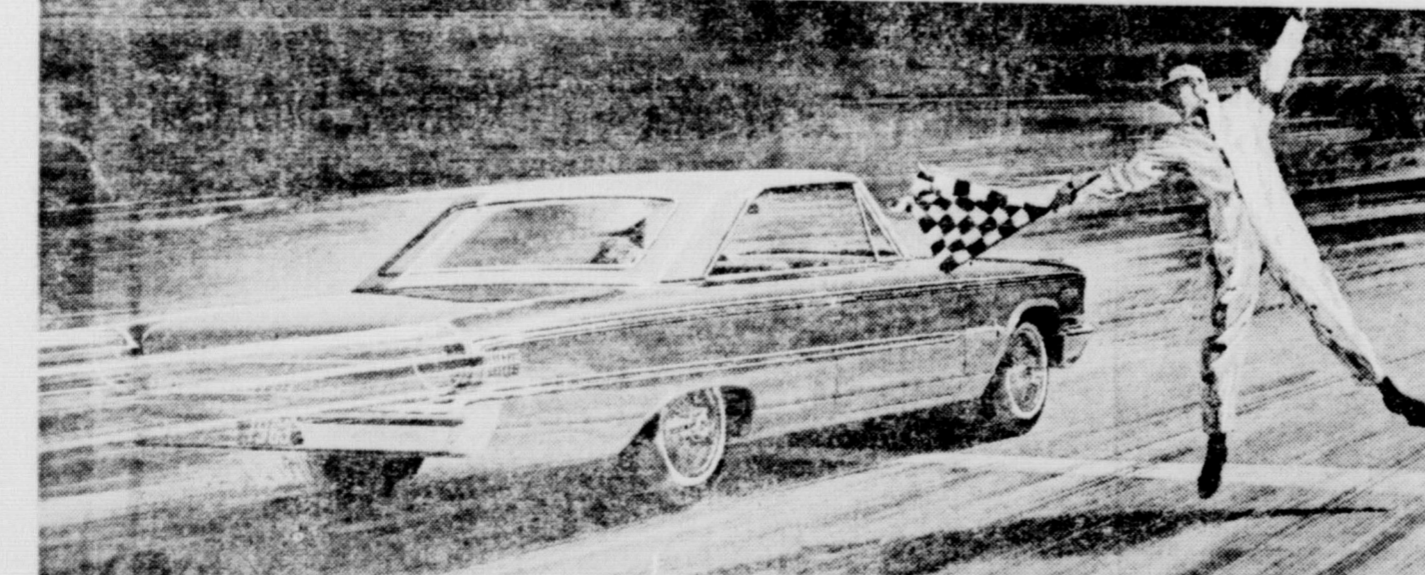

Then xanthate is reacted with zinc salts to form cereal-zinc xanthate, which is insoluble.

Another cereal derivative, cereal-zinc xanthide, has shown promise for use in making paper. Research conducted a year ago with this derivative using a pulp mixture containing 44 per cent of the substance, increased paper strength considerably.

First Statewide 4-H Horse and Pony Show Scheduled

Texas 4-H Club members are taking to the horse club program like "ducks to water." Currently, reports Roy Snyder, extension animal husbandman, 4-H horse clubs are active in at least half of the state's counties. A remarkable growth is Snyder's description of the very popular 4-H educational program. Participation more than doubled last year. Because of this upsurge of interest in riding horses and a growing number of requests for subject matter information, Snyder and other members of the animal husbandry and other departments of Texas A&M College are busy trying to serve these needs. In addition to subject matter, the first statewide 4-H horse and pony show is scheduled for August 22 and 23 at Texas A&M College. Snyder says all county agricultural agents in Texas now have the rules and general information covering the operation of the show. Ten classes have been set up under the halter division of the show and six under the performance division. Ribbons will be awarded for the top 10 placings in each class and trophies will go to the first place class winners, he adds. In addition, a trophy will be presented to the owner of the high point horse of the show. Points will be accumulated in both halter and performance classes and a trophy will also be awarded the champion showman. Snyder emphasizes that the 4-H horse program is educational and is primarily aimed at the development of the boy or girl along with a care, maintenance and training program for the animal owned by the 4-H member. Both boys and girls are eligible for membership. Snyder suggests to members who are interested in participating in the upcoming show, that they immediately get in touch with their local 4-H leaders and county agents and begin training their animals for the show. He especially urges them to become familiar with the rules and regulations which will govern the show.

Advertising Man
In the view of Vice President Robert R. Gros of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, the advertising man is not a "flashy, tricky, huckster intent on bamboozling the public." In a recent speech, as reported by Stanford Review, he declared that the advertising man has taught "us how to lead a better life and contributed enormously to our tastes, high standards, and general social improvement." Also, he added, "advertising is practiced out in the open for all to see and that shady or misleading advertising destroys its perpetrators."

Crude Production Up
Chairman L. F. McCollum of American Petroleum Institute says, "Annual crude oil production this year is expected to exceed 7.3 million barrels daily for the first time, and shows an increase of about 2 per cent over 1961. Outside the United States," he adds, "substantially greater increases in production and consumption are assured in both 1962 and 1963."

Relationship of Prices Paid and Received by Farmers Is Steady

The relationship of prices paid by farmers to prices received by them has been practically steady for seven years. And very little change is expected in the next year or two.

Some farmers may question this statement, quoting specific examples which indicate that prices paid have risen, while prices received have declined. However, such examples appear to be exceptions to the general trend. According to official price indexes compiled by the USDA, the averages of both prices received by farmers and prices paid by them, have gone up 9 per cent in the past seven years.

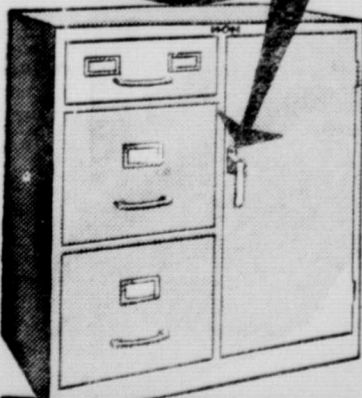

Similar periods of price stability have been recorded only twice before. One was from 1910 to 1915; the other from 1923 to 1929. These periods, like the past seven years, were relatively free from great economic disturbances such as a war or major depression. The past seven years have differed in at least one respect though. There has been an inflationary creep of more than one per cent per year, while in the two earlier periods, prices showed no upward trend.

Economists some time call the relationship between prices received, and paid, by farmers "the terms of trade." The terms of trade improved temporarily in 1958, but otherwise have not changed much since 1955. But even under these conditions, farm people have improved their incomes considerably. Increased production has improved farm income. Eighteen leading field crops have increased 30 per cent in the past seven years on an average per acre yield basis. Total agricultural output has increased 10 per cent during this time. A reduction of 38 per cent in total labor requirements, in man-hours of farm work, was seen from 1955 to 1962. The number of persons employed in farming was reduced 20 per cent. This reduction in the number of people being supported by farm income has allowed for many of those who remained in farming.

Farm people have turned more to off-farm employment to add to family incomes, as labor needs have decreased. From 1955 to 1962 the average income per farm person received from non-farm sources increased by more than one half. In 1962 the farm population received 35 per cent of its income from non-farm sources, up from 31 per cent in 1955. Government payments, exclusive of price supports, to farmers have increased substantially since 1955, from an amount equal to one per cent of cash receipts from farm marketing in 1955, to five per cent in 1962. Most trends and conditions of recent years seem likely to continue, at least for a year or two.

Cotton Plant Extracts Repel and Attract Boll Weevils

Scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have extracted from the cotton plant a substance that repels boll weevils. It is the third substance extracted from the cotton plant with potential value for controlling the most destructive of all cotton insects, the boll weevil, says Joe Burkett, county agent.

The first substances were an attractant that draws weevils to cotton plants and a feeding stimulant which makes the plants appetizing to the insects. The three substances were found by scientists of USDA's Agricultural Research Service working in cooperation with the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station at the Boll Weevil Research Laboratory, State College, Miss.

The repellent was discovered in connection with work with the attractant. When the attractant was warmed to room temperature part of it vaporized or degraded. The part remaining proved repellent to boll weevils. A procedure was then developed for extracting the repellent from cotton squares and seedlings, the same parts of the plant containing the attractant.

The scientists listed these possibilities for the substances. Plant breeders could conceivably develop cotton varieties either with a high content of the repellent so plants would repel weevils or with such a low content of the attractant that the plants would not attract weevils. The discovery also introduces the prospect of starving boll weevils by driving them away from the kind of food they need. Other possible uses for the attractant include the luring of weevils to a trap or simply to an area away from the cotton plants. The feeding stimulant does not attract weevils from a distance, but offers the possibility of forcing them to starve on the wrong kind of diet.

Mrs. James Bowers and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Owens of Pontiac, Mich., visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Baker of Quanah Monday.

Miss Henderson and Mr. Bell Wed in Wichita Falls

An impressive ceremony Friday evening in Floral Heights Methodist Church in Wichita Falls united Miss Carol Louise Henderson and Gordon Wood Bell in matrimony. Dr. T. Leo Miller, pastor of the church, officiated at the exchange of vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaGrande Henderson, 1613 Easy Street, Wichita Falls, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bell of Crowell.

Thomas Shaw was vocalist and Mrs. E. M. Friend Jr. was organist for the 7 o'clock nuptials.

The church entrance was marked with hurricane yard lamps decorated with white ribbons and greenery. Tall fan shaped arrangements of white gladioli, white stock and greenery formed the setting for the ceremony. Tall spiral candelabra and votive candle trees held greenery, white stock and gladioli. A white satin covered prie dieu was in the nuptial space.

Mr. Henderson presented his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of candlelight bouquet faille taffeta designed with a scooped neckline and cap sleeves. The fitted bodice was accented with a wide obi sash finished at the back with a rose of the fabric centered with a single seed pearl. Hand-appliqued, imported Alencon lace with crystal bead and seed pearl embroidery trimmed the dress. The bride's fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a seed pearl tiara. Her necklace was a tiny gold bell with a diamond clapper, gift of the bridegroom.

The white Bible on which she carried her bouquet of a white orchid, lilies of the valley, and orange blossoms in tulle was a gift of her grandmother, the late Mrs. C. S. Henderson of Bowie.

Miss Claudia Frances Henderson was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Jane Mercer of Dallas and Miss Haila Harvey.

They wore gowns of camellia pink silk chiffon over taffeta made with scooped necklines and elbow length sleeves. The fitted bodices tapered to soft bows at the waistline. Unpressed pleats accepted the A shaped skirts. Their headpieces were circlet hats trimmed with matching bows and French illusion.

Miss Janece Barker was junior bridesmaid and Miss Karen Henderson of Bowie was flower girl for her cousin. They were dressed in gowns similar to those of the bridesmaids and maid of honor but with Eton jackets over the bodices.

A teardrop arrangement of white gardenias, lilies of the valley, and English ivy foliage was carried by each of the bride's attendants.

The bridegroom's brother, Charles Bell of Crowell, was best man. Larry Lee Thomas of Fort Worth, John Sanders of San Antonio, Don M. Estes and Marion C. Barker were ushers. Groomsmen were Jack C. Smith of Burk Burnett and J. T. Cates Jr. Richard Charles Koonce of Bowie was junior groomsmen.

The bride's parents were hosts for the reception in the fellowship hall of the church. Large fan-shaped arrangements of white flowers and greenery were the background for the receiving line.

An imported linen cutwork cloth over pink covered the bride's table. Silver banquet candelabra holding tall pink tapers and pink snapdragons, carnations and stock with streamers of English ivy decorated the table at which Mrs. Weldon L. Thomas of Fort Worth, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. A. T. Allison Jr., assisted by Misses Carol Holcomb, Lou Ann Griffin and Linda Thompson, served the five-tiered cake.

The bridegroom's table was laid with a white lace cloth over pink and decorated with white cherub candelabra which held white candles with white flowers and English ivy. Mrs. William V. Scott of Tulsa and Mrs. Burton W. Karstetter of Bowie served cake and coffee.

Mrs. Marion C. Barker registered guests at an all white table accented with a single candle in a crystal candle holder. A small white Bible on an antique gold stand was marked with white satin streamers tipped with orange blossoms. The cloth was of Italian cut work.

Little Janet and Paula Henderson of Bowie, Susan Wyatt,

Becky Hall, Nelma and Emily Allison distributed pink tulle bags holding pink rice.

After a short wedding trip, the newly married couple will be at home in Crowell, where the groom teaches in the local school system. Both will attend summer school at Baylor University in Waco.

Sunday Afternoon Tea Honors Miss Linda McClain, Future Bride

Miss Linda McClain, bride-elect of Bill Graves, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McClain, was honored Sunday afternoon with a tea in the home of Mrs. Hubert Brown, 1013 North Main Street. Co-hostesses were Mrs. C. R. Seale and Mrs. W. B. Johnson.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Seale and presented to the receiving line composed of Mrs. Bill McClain, mother of the honoree; Miss McClain, and Mrs. Grady Graves, mother of the prospective groom. Miss Judy Trawek invited the guests to the refreshment table. The theme of hearts and flowers using the bride's chosen colors of aqua and white were used in decorating the party rooms.

The refreshment table, covered with an imported white lace maidera cloth, featured an arrangement of white gladioli, white roses and lace vine in a three-tiered crystal epergne with all crystal appointments. The petits fours and mints in the shape of hearts and flowers were aqua and white. Dainty sandwiches in the shape of spring hats were also served. Mrs. Johnson presided over the punch bowl.

Miss Gena Adcock ushered the guests to the den where they visited with Mrs. Brown and signed the registry which was attended by Misses Judy Sandlin and Ella Ann Cates. Other assistant hostesses were Mrs. Ray Brown and Misses Billye McClain and Schery Goodwin.

The wedding of Miss McClain and Mr. Graves will be an event of May 31 at the First Baptist Church.

Bridal Shower at Margaret Honors Gerald Bradfords

The home of Mrs. A. B. Owens of Margaret was the scene of a lovely miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bradford Saturday evening. Mrs. Bradford was the former Miss Patsy Braziel of Quannah.

Mrs. Owens greeted guests and presented them to the receiving line composed of Mrs. Gerald Bradford; her mother, Mrs. E. A. Braziel of Quannah; Mrs. W. F. Bradford, mother of the groom; Mrs. Ed Adams of Crowell, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. S. J. Boman of Vernon and Mrs. C. F. Bradford of Margaret, grandmothers of the groom. The honoree was attired in a pink nylon crepe shift suit with pink accessories. Her corsage was pink and white carnations, a gift of the hostesses.

Mrs. Jim Braziel and Mrs. Johnny Young of Quannah assisted with serving fruit punch, dainty cookies nuts and mints from a lovely table laid with a Maderia cut work cloth over pink satin. A silver epergne holding an arrangement of pink and white roses accented with fern. Four pink cathedral tapers adorned the serving table. Crystal appointments and dainty pink and white napkins were used.

Miss Jo Nell Bradford, sister of the groom, presided at the desk where guests registered in the bride's book. The desk held a crystal compote holding a memory candle filled with pink and white rosebuds. Piano music was furnished throughout the evening by Miss Gayle Smith.

Mrs. Sanders' Piano Pupils Presented in Musicales Sunday

The piano pupils of Mrs. Allen Sanders were presented in a musicale on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the auditorium of the Methodist Church. Solos and duets were presented for the enjoyment of relatives and friends.

The pupils playing were Jan Carroll, Ann Russell, Hollis Halbert, Harriet Halbert, Renee Cooper, Janie Hughton and Jo Driver. The beginners who played were Debbie Johnson, Rhonda Vercera and Carolyn Jones.

On Friday, April 11, Billy Hord played an organ program for his guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hord. Refreshments of frosted punch, cookies and nuts were served.

Sidewalk Art Show to Be Held in Vernon on Thursday, May 9

Foard City H. D. Club

Mrs. Virgil Johnson gave a very inspiring discussion on "Stop, Look and Listen" as the opening exercise when the Foard City Home Demonstration Club met in her home on April 16. Eight members answered the roll with "my favorite tooth paste or mouth wash." Report of council was given by Mrs. Glenn Jones.

Mrs. Tom Callaway brought the afternoon's program on "Gums and Teeth." She told that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." She also stated that 50 per cent of two year old children have one or more decayed teeth and that at the age of 16, the average youth has 7 decayed, missing or filled teeth. Mrs. Jones gave a discussion on mouth wash from a dentist's viewpoint.

Mrs. Johnson served a delicious refreshment plate. The next club meeting has been moved back to April 30 because of the conflicting date with the district THDA meeting. The club will meet with Mrs. Fred Trawek as hostess.

Columbian Club

The Columbian Club met at the home of Mrs. Jack Roberts on Wednesday, April 17. The club met for study and business. The pledge was led by Mrs. Kenner. Devotional was given by Mrs. J. M. Chowning reading the 103rd Psalm. Reading the minutes and roll call was by Mrs. John Ray, and she also welcomed the new member, Mrs. A. L. Daniels.

Mrs. Howard Bell was leader for the study. Her subject was mental health, and how many kinds there are and how to be treated. Also Mrs. Marion Crowell gave a part on how the patient should be treated after leaving the hospital.

The hostess served refreshments to 14 members and one visitor, Miss Sara Bell. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Decker Magee on May 1 and will be the last meeting of the year. Dues will be paid for the coming year, and all members are requested to be there.

6,002 Inmates Taken into Texas Dept. of Corrections in 1962

A total of 6,002 inmates were received in the Texas Department of Corrections during 1962, according to a report released this week by J. C. Roberts, Chief of Records for the Department of Corrections.

Roberts' report pointed out that 5,508 of the inmates received in 1962 had "new" prison numbers, while 494 were returned to prison as parole violators. During the same period of time, Roberts' office processed discharge releases for 2,842 inmates and issued paroles to 2,357 inmates, for a total release figure of 5,119 for 1962.

On New Year's Day 1963 there was a total of 12,165 inmates in the Department of Corrections. This figure tops by 275 the high-est previous total for any new year's day, and is 853 higher than the new year's day figure for 1961.

Dr. George J. Beto, Director of the Texas Department of Corrections, is faced with the responsibility of providing housing for the continually increasing prison population. He said, "Construction of the new Ellis Unit will offer some relief, however, we won't be able to use the entire unit until the latter part of 1963."

When completed, the Ellis Unit will offer housing for more than 1500 inmates in maximum security setting.

While construction continues on the Ellis Unit, other units of the Texas Department of Corrections are over-crowded. In the Huntsville Walls Unit, inmates are sleeping in the auditorium and in buildings originally designed for industrial use.

Dr. Beto said, "The population of the Huntsville unit should not exceed 1500, but the average inmate population for the unit is nearly 2500."

The 1963 Texas Legislature will be faced with the proposal of providing additional funds for building cell blocks on two units of the Department of Corrections.

The Wynne Unit, located near Huntsville, is over-crowded and inmates are sleeping on double bunk dormitories designed for single bed use only.

The Darrington Unit, located in Brazoria County, has no facilities other than open dormitories which are over-crowded with young second offenders. Dr. Beto said he is hopeful of acquiring funds to build cell blocks on both the Wynne and Darrington Units.

Roberts, Chief of Records for the Department of Corrections for 20 years, says that the prison population has been on the increase since 1948. According to his projected figures, the prison population will increase to 14,000 inmates by 1965.

Game Officers Get Careful Selection, Thorough Training

Today's game and fish law enforcement officer is a versatile man, whose duties include many activities besides writing citations, according to J. B. Phillips, law enforcement coordinator for the Game and Fish Commission. "To perform his myriad conservation duties, the officer must be well trained in facts and methods," explains Phillips in his article, "Game Guardians," in the February issue of Texas Game and Fish.

"The Commission carefully selects each candidate and trains him thoroughly before he goes into the field as a qualified law enforcement officer," said Phillips. "The first step in selecting a trainee for the enforcement function is taken by each prospective officer," he continued. "An application form, which may be obtained from the office of the Personnel Director in Austin, must be completed and returned to the personnel office. A photograph must be attached to the application."

The Commission is now accepting requests for applications, at its Austin office. Applications should be filled out and turned in by May 1. Following this, exams will be given in various cities across the state. A list of the dates and locations where exams will be given will be provided at a later date.

Covered Dish Dinner and Singing Sunday

An old fashioned covered dish dinner and singing has been set for Sunday, April 28, at the Truscott Church of Christ. Everyone in Truscott and neighboring towns who likes to sing or listen to singing is invited, as well as the children. Sunday morning Bible classes will be held at 10 a. m. followed by the regular preaching service and Lord's Supper at 11 a. m. A. B. Martin of Red Springs will speak.

Following the morning service the congregation and guests will meet for a covered dish dinner at the E. J. Jones home one mile northwest of town. Those who are unable to attend the congregation's morning service are invited to join at the covered dish dinner. At 3 p. m. the group will return to the church for the singing led by Mr. Martin.

Truscott Girls Meet

Eight prospective members attended an organizational meeting of Truscott Blue Bird and Camp Fire Girl groups Thursday, April 18, in the home of Mrs. Jack W. Brown. The group decided to hold meetings each Thursday during the school year immediately after the bus runs. The next meeting will be Thursday, April 27, in the home of Mrs. Brown. A permanent meeting room is being sought.

No dues or fees are being charged at the present time, therefore, the Blue Bird and Camp Fire girls group have planned a bake sale for Saturday, April 27, at 7-30 a. m. in downtown Truscott to raise money for the national registration fee and official handbooks.

No girl in these groups will be registered with the national headquarters until she has participated in a money raising project.

Girls attending the meeting were Betty Sue Barry, Nancy Looney, Shirley Robinson, Elvera Palacio, Pauline Quintana and Rosalinda Quintana, Camp Fire Girls; Ruth Brown and Helen Quintana, Blue Birds. Guardian for the girls will be Mrs. Jack W. Brown and she will be assisted by Mrs. Newell Looney and Mrs. Harold Barry. Mrs. J. R. Brown and Mrs. E. J. Jones are acting as sponsors for the groups.

Riverside H. D. Club

The Riverside Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, April 16, at the home of Mrs. John S. Ray. Mrs. Billy Cleveland called the house to order. Minutes were read and approved. Nine members answered roll call. Mrs. Sam Kuehn read an article entitled "Old Tales May Hold Clue to World Troubles" as an opening exercise. Mrs.

Felix Taylor gave the care of gums and teeth, a journey, refreshments served and a social hour. The next meeting will be the home of Mrs. Felix Taylor at 2 p. m.

GENERAL TELEPHONE TOWNS ON THE MOVE

Bonham Initiative Saves mill Payroll

When the Bonham Cotton Mill announced it would close its doors finally in early 1962, that North Texas city stood to lose a 61-year old industry with a $14,000 weekly payroll.

Bonham's vigorous enterprise in the face of crisis is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

Aggressive citizens of the 7357 population community arose to the emergency. Today, little more than a year later, Red River Textile Mill, Inc., is not only continuing the operation of its predecessor, but is talking plans for an eventual major expansion.
