Oscar Gentry Retires After Nineteen Years as Maintainer Operator

Oscar M. Gentry, shown above, retired on April 8 following more than 19 years continuous service as maintainer operator on the roads of Foard County.

time, Mr. Gentry has kept up the roads in Precinct No. 2, which comprises the northern part of the county. He says, "If there is a mile of public road in Foard County that I haven't worked, I don't know where it is."

During the past 19 years, Mr. Gentry has worked under a total of 20 commissioners. He says he completely wore out one machine and had operated its replacement for 3 years.

Mr. Gentry never had an accident during his years of work, and has not lost a day of work due to illness in the past 10 years.

He says that he enjoyed his work, and that his association with his co-workers of the county during that time made it a very pleasant job. "If I hadn't gotten along with those other fellows, it would have been my fault, not theirs, because they are a congenial group," he added.

An arthritic condition in his hands brought about his retirement.

Mr. Gentry is a member of the Crowell Methodist Church and the Crowell Masonic Lodge, and is a veteran of World War I. He and Mrs. Gentry have one son, Marion, of Crowell.

On Guard, Seniors!

Yes, seniors, let's be on guard. Because we are seniors, everyone—parents, friends, neighbors, little brothers, girl friends—is watching us. We are "on parade" and will be for the next few weeks. More than ever before, we should behave ourselves. We should use our best manners. Under classroom look up to us because they are dreaming of the day when they will be seniors. For once, let's set a good example for them to follow. Parents and relatives want to be proud of us. For once, we should mind them. Teachers may want to "get rid" of us. Let's behave in class, and surprise them, and perhaps, make them change their minds. Yes, for once, let's act grown up. Let's make our last days in CHS ones really to remember in future years. Let's forget that we think, "Because we're seniors, we're better than and know more than anyone else!" (Even though it's true!)

 Maybe we do know more than that little brother or that little friend, but there are still other people around who know some things too! And even though we may be criticized and accused unjustly, let's show them that we're "big enough" to forget it.
 Let's be on guard, seniors!

Junior-Senior Banquet

On Friday, April 28, the Crowell High School cafeteria was the scene of the Junior-Senior Banquet and prom. The motif, "Stairway to the Stars," with a color scheme of gold gilt, silver gilt, snow white, and a dash of pink, like the immortal melodies that made up its background music, will live in the memory of us forever.

The setting was an out-of-this-world rendezvous, far, far beyond our blue horizons, a celestial garden hide-away, somewhere in the land of moonbeams and stardust. From the heavens were floating pink fleecy clouds, between gold gilt, white streamers, and twinkling stars. The point of interest was a golden stairway, leading from the floor to the ceiling. The celestial garden had a rose-entwined picket fence around the walls, which was connected at the bottom to a mat of green grass. The windows were covered with wispy, white nylon curtains. This type curtain also separated the banquet room from the kitchen. The banquet tables were covered with specially printed, silver gilt on white tablecloths; the napkins, dessert plates, program folders, and place cards were of the same print. Pink angel hair and tall pink and white tapers composed the centerpiece. Ceramic figurines—a boy and a girl sitting on a star—were used as favors.

The delectable menu consisted of the following: celestial filet mignon, rockets, dreamboat, comet salad, crescents and moon-glow, starlight fluff, heavenly dew, lucky stars.

A harmonious blend of seriousness and philosophy spiced with comedy accented the program. Incidental music was furnished by Misses Gena Adcock and Patricia Brown. Miss Faunceine Fairchild gave a twirling routine, accompanied by Miss Brown. Miss Linda McClain sang the theme song,

"Stairway to the Stars," with Miss Adcock at the piano. In addition, Jerry Setliff, president of the Junior Class, acted as master of ceremonies and gave the welcome; Miss Lynda Harris, reporter for the junior class, gave the invocation; Jackie Hickman, president of the senior class, gave the response; Wendell Callaway, vice president of the junior class, read the Junior Prophecy; and Miss Carole Sue Fisch read the Senior Will.

Senior Will

by Carole Fisch

For the next few minutes, I want all of you to forget this beautiful banquet and turn your thoughts forward to the night of May 19, 1961. This is a very important day for the seniors not only because this is the day they graduate but also because this is the day that they will be sent to the moon! We all know that the Russians were the first to get a man into space. But today, the seniors—those wonderful, beautiful, sweet, kind, generous, modest classmates of yours—will be the first class ever to be sent to the moon. Don't look so worried! Since this is the 19th, the seniors have just returned from the senior trip, and if they can live through that, they can live through anything! So, picture if you will, a huge rocket ship. Standing about it are friends, relatives, parents, sweethearts—all loved ones of the senior class—and the teachers! They have come to bid farewell to these brave young men and women who have already boarded the rocket ship. As the seniors boarded, they left their most prized possessions to the lucky juniors. This is the way that the last will and testament of the Senior Class of 1961 goes.

Know all men by these presents: that we, the Senior Class of 1961 of Crowell High School, Foard County, Texas, being in poor health and of unsound mind and despairing memory, having just been released from a twelve-year sentence in an institution, do make and publish this, our last will and testament.

I, Don Ingle, leave to Dannie McKee, Jerome Matys and Thomas Hopkins, my undying ability to sleep thru hell, high water, and Mrs. Todd's algebra class.

We, Taylor "Ta-Ta" Johnson and Harold Andrew "Joe" Barry, leave to James Borchardt, Jim Mac Gafford and Danny Rader, our most precious possession—our athletes' feet.

I, Martha Fish, leave myself to Wendell "Josh" Callaway with the hopes that now Wendell won't be lonely next year.

We, the seniors, leave to Jesse Brown, Mickey Chapman, Carroll Chowning, Mark Harris, Marion Payne and Donald Whitlock, the Phantoms—or at least the Phantoms' hoods and magic markers with the hopes that you will carry on in the fine tradition of our Phantoms.

We, Barbara Goodwin Griffith and Janice Morris Pritchard, leave to Vickie Farrar and Gaye Ramsey our formula for a happy marriage—our rolling pin. Use it!

I, Delton "Brownie" Brown, leave my slow Texas drawl to Roger "Colorado" Hoffman with the hopes that someday Roger will be a real Texan.

I, Bill Smith, leave to David Powers my unending ability to drive with one arm and this advice, "Watch the car behind!"

I, Carol "Bunny" Bell, leave my rabbit hunting ability and other habits to Evelyn Hammonds.

I, Gary Allen "Boob" Carpenter, leave my box of English vocabulary word cards to Gerald Howard with the hopes that during football season next year, Gerald, if you can't outrun the opponent—at least you can out-talk him!

I, Dorothy Wehba, leave my chemistry grade to Marcia Carroll. Take it and just be happy I didn't leave you my English grade!

I, Mike Whitten, leave my dishwasher hands and my book, "How to Boil Water in Ten Easy Lessons" to Claude Sellers.

We, Dorothy Denton and Sandra Hollenbaugh, will our place at the soda fountain to Dale Henry. We know that he will make an excellent jerk—soda jerk that is!

I, Bernice Derryberry Jr., alias George B. Ashley III, alias M. M. Welch, leave my Derryberry driver's license, my Geo. B. Ashley charm, my M. M. Welch looks and intelligence along with my road map to Nuevo Laredo to Ronnie Bradford, Jerry Setliff and Edward Kajs. These treasures are to be divided evenly among you boys. Remember—handle with care!

I, Kay Johnson, leave my ability for talking in Spanish class and getting caught to Sue Sanders with this word of caution—just don't do it when Mr. Black is around.

I, Margaret Faske, gladly will to Genell Wheeler my brother, Henry.

I, Don "Wooly" Welch, leave to Ina Joy Statzer my sheep.

I, Cecelia Drabek, leave my prize winning long spurred rooster to Bonnie Little.

I, Gay Todd Jr., will my title of "Casanova of the Chemistry Class" to Don Ray Polk.

I, Jerry Eubanks, reluctantly leave my Saturday night parties on the square, but gladly leave my Sunday morning headaches to my buddy, John Stone.

 I, Margie Rasberry, leave my title of "Queen" to Carolee Olinphant. I also bequeath a small can of oil and a big shovel to her with the hopes that Carolee will be rich until she strikes oil and becomes rich. Then she can buy CHS and run it to her own satisfaction.

I, Bryant Walford Thompson, leave to Jo Carol Cooper my title of "Safest Driver in Foard County," my book, "Safe Driving Tips" or "64 Ways to Out Run the H.P.'s," all my speeding tickets, and last but not least, Buck and Rich.

I, Wanda Moore, leave to Clumsey Alta Bartley and Wilma Denton my talent for shipping in past midnight.

I, Jack Hickman, bequeath my book, "How to Win Friends and to Influence Mrs. Manard" to Arthur Aranda and Tim Mason. Not that they need it, but Jack's motto is "Always be prepared." Jack's a Cub Scout, you know.

Single Gidney, bequeath my single mindedness to Jerry Toie with the hopes that some of Jerry's intelligence will rub off on me.

We, Virginia Hudgens and Jo Ann Schwarz, will our notorious reputation to Kay Ann Taylor, Carria Driver and Lynda Harris, in order that there may still be outlaws in CHS even after we're gone. "The reason we will it to three individuals," they explained, "is because we don't believe that two could do all the work by themselves."

I, Sharon Wharton, leave all the sweaters that I have outgrown—willed to me last year by Jo Frances Long—to Jeanette Moody.

I, Carolee Fisch, leave the keys to my new car to Mr. Black. You see, he's going to be so lonesome next year. Just think—he won't have to write any more passes for Wesley or chase Boob into the typing class or Miles out of the office when Miles is supposed to be talking to "Bunny" Bell.

I, Wesley Cummings, bequeath to Denny Todd, who needs them, my title of "Wildhorse" and my book, "How I Skipped 10,000 Classes in Just Four Years."

I, Roy Washburn, just leave!

We, the seniors, also leave a year's passes to Mrs. Todd's algebra class so if the cows get out and you're late to class, you won't have to go to the office to get a pass.

We also bequeath our giant stack of comic books so our juniors can give book reports next year for Mrs. Manard.

We include the latest football statistics so you won't fail American History.

In addition, we leave a book, "How to Fail Chemistry Without Even Trying" and its companion volume, "Ten Ways to Cheat in Chemistry," including six easy ways to swipe chemistry exams and four easier ways to get caught doing it.

We also add another book for all you poor Republicans who just happen to get in one of Mr. Black's classes. It's called "What Not to Say in Mr. Black's Classes" or "How to Pass Spanish Even Though You're a Republican."

Finally, we the seniors of 1961, leave to the juniors all the fun, excitement, joy, and happiness that we have had. We only hope that your senior year may be as wonderful as ours has been and that the juniors next year give you a beautiful banquet such as this one tonight.

And now, as I look out upon the moon, I see the earth slowly rising in the east, and I hear our leader—Charlie Brown—calling and saying "Fisch! Oh, Miss Fisch!" "That doesn't sound like Charlie Brown. It sounds like Jamie Welch, but it couldn't be. We left Jamie Welch on earth. Well! What do you know? It is Jamie Welch!" "It seems that there has been a malfunction somewhere. I have just checked below, and I find that the booster tanks are empty, the rocket is securely anchored to the launching pad, and besides that, the gearshift is still in neutral. I don't know who your rocketeer is, but it seems that he has goofed. I believe all the good you have done is to shoot off a lot of hot air!"

My goodness. Well, folks, you know all those things I told you that we were going to give you? Well, it seems that we're still here on earth and that we're not even going to the moon at all. So, if we're staying, I guess we'll need all those gifts ourselves. So—I know that this will break your hearts—but I'm going to have to take everything back! If they'd only listened to me, this never would have happened. But, no. They never listen to me and... Editor's note: The Senior Prophecy will be found in the issue of May 18.

Thanks

The Junior Class would like to express its sincere thanks to the mothers who helped decorate for the banquet. Thanks to Messdames Sanders, Bartley, Driver, Borchardt, Harris, Carroll, Cooper and Setliff.

We would also like to thank everyone else who cooperated to the fullest extent to make this occasion possible, especially Mrs. King. Without her, there would have been no banquet. Thanks again.

Thanks, Juniors

The seniors wish to express their sincere appreciation to the members of the junior class, to Mrs. King, sponsor, and to the junior class mothers, for the wonderful banquet.

 The decorations were beautiful, the program was good, the food was swell. Too, the music for the prom—was "just right." It was furnished by Mr. Hesse and some of his friends.

So truly a big "thank you" from the seniors to the juniors is appropriate.

We Counted 77

Saturday was a busy day for the bright-eyed seniors; they washed 77 cars. Adkins' Station was filled with enthusiastic seniors who would not let a person leave the station without a clean car, a tank full of gas, and a sparkling windshield. In this undertaking, the seniors were capably assisted by Jack Carroll, Henry Black, and James Welch.

The seniors want to thank Houston Adkins and the Phillips 66 Company for making this money-making project possible.

For Hire!

The Crowell High cheerleaders are working their way to cheerleader camp. They need money, and they are willing to work for it.

They will wash windows, baby sit, mow grass, and bake. If one of these girls calls you and asks if you would like to buy a cake, say "yes" and tell her your favorite flavor.

If you would like to order something or ask them to do something, please phone Alta Bartley at 684-3681 or Carria Driver at 684-2103. Thanks!

Sponsors Movie

As a culmination of their study of Charles Dickens' novel, Great Expectations, the English classes obtained the movie made from the novel to show to all the high school English classes and the eighth grade.

Almost two hours long, the movie covered the high points of the life of the young English boy, Pip, from his helping a convict in a church yard to his being the recipient of legacies from an anonymous benefactor. Adding to the intrigue of the story were Pip's falling in love with the beautiful, mysterious Estella and the revealing of Estella's mother and father.

Although the movie did not adhere strictly to the events of the novel, it covered the significant points of the Dickens' classic. For this reason, viewing the film was time well spent for all English students.

Barbecue

The FFA boys sponsored their yearly barbecue Saturday night at the VA building. Each boy brought his dad instead of his date as his guest. Approximately 60 were present for the occasion. The boys would especially like to thank Cecil Carroll and Marvin Myers for this successful affair. A film was enjoyed after the meal. It was entitled "An Arctic Adventure."

Students See Film

On April 25, the students of Crowell High School saw a very interesting film on communism. This film showed an investigation of communistic actions on the West Coast and portrayed the ability of the leaders in organizing student groups into rioting mobs. The film was furnished through the courtesy of the Lions Club.

Hits and Misses

Hi-dee! This week has brought many interesting and "different" experiences to everyone. The scandal bug has really been busy trying to keep up with everything! Well, we shall see what we shall see. Right?

Couples at the Plaza Saturday night were Carria - Ronnie, Gaye-Jimmy Mack, "Chunk"-Faunceine, Claude-Vickey, Jo Fran-Wesley, Carolyn-Bryant, Lynda-Bob.

Riding around in Crowell-Sunday afternoon were Ronnie-Carria, "Chunk"-Faunceine, Gaye-Jim Mack.

Making the square in Crowell Saturday night were "Boob" and Elly. They were tired out after the big event Friday night.

Enjoying the show Saturday noon were Sharon and Billy Doyle. By the way, the boys want to know why everyone sounds interesting.

We hear most of the girls had a real ball Friday night. What was the main topic of the est, girls? Paducah is a good town, isn't it?

Let's make this next little less exciting and try to ourselves out of trouble!

Truscott Trap Shoot

A good crowd turned out for the Truscott Gun Club trap shoot Sunday afternoon at the grounds. The shoot was sponsored by members, Edgar Jones, my Cash, Homer Black, Laquey and Vernon Jones. The 2-foot tall bronze trophy was won by Malcolm Bette, stockman-postman of Quindlan, hit 24 out of 25 clay pigeons. Other prizes included several boxes of shells and several hams. Merle Moore of Thalia was double shoot with 10 straight. Trap shooters entering in residence from Fort Worth Floydada.

Hospital-Community Partnership

gaged in providing high standard health care for our community, and

Whereas, our hospitals are community service institutions, and are ever responsive to changing community health needs; and

Whereas, our hospitals look to their partnership with the community to provide the best possible program of health care for the public,

Be it resolved that this community, in recognition of National Hospital Week, May 7-13, salutes its hospital for its provision of a vital community service and further accepts its responsibility as a partner in providing the health care services which answer the community need.

Now, therefore, I as Mayor of Crowell, do hereby designate the week of May 7-13, 1961, as Hospital Week in Crowell, and urged all citizens to visit their hospitals to learn of the dedicated men and women whose hands and skills contribute so much to the good health we enjoy.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 1st day of May, 1961.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Friday, May 1, 1931, issue of The Foard County News:

The greatest crowd in the history of Foard County assembled in Crowell Monday for the 40th birthday celebration of both Crowell and Foard County which came on the same day. The vast crowd exceeded all expectations and it is estimated that over 5,000 people were present for the all-day event.

Gordon Bell has purchased the residence, formerly occupied by Glenn Shults on North Main Street, from Leo Spencer.

The Foard County commission court accepted the new jail this week, the construction of which has been completed.

Thalia promises to have another strong baseball team again this year and has already won 2 victories in 2 games.

Coy Ward of Crowell spent Friday night and Saturday with Roy Mullins at Black.

The Vivian school closed last Friday, April 24. A three-act play, "Winnings of Joy," was presented in connection with the closing exercises.

Robert Oswald of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Oswald, has made an impressive showing in spring football training at Texas Tech and is listed among eight freshmen of that institution who are regarded as prospects that will give varsity men a fight for positions on the Matador eleven next fall.

Mrs. T. S. Haney was hostess to members of the Adelphian Club Wednesday, April 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bursey and son, Charles Howard Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bursey, all of Wichita Falls, visited in the Bursey home at Black Sunday.

Employment was given last Friday to about fifteen local men by the Santa Fe Railway to assist in the work of raising the railroad's grade about a mile and a half southwest of Crowell.

An exhibit of food products, sponsored by the home demonstration clubs of Foard County, will be held in Crowell on Wednesday, May 6, at the Russell building, if the post office has been moved from it by that time.

A big wheat crop for Foard County is practically assured as the result of heavy rains that fell over Foard County Wednesday and Thursday. The rain at Crowell measured 1.7 inches.
