SCS Supervisor Election to Be Held in Thalia October 7

An election will be held Tuesday, October 7, at 10 a. m. at the Farmers Co-Op Station in Thalia to elect a Soil Conservation District Supervisor for Subdivision No. 5 of the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, Subdivision No. 5 includes all the land lying east of Highway 283 in Foard County.

Roy Ayers is presently serving as supervisor in Subdivision No. 5 and has served in this capacity for the past ten years.

To be eligible to vote or hold office as a soil conservation district supervisor, a person must own agricultural land within the subdivision where the election is being held. He (or she) must live in a county all or any part of which is in the soil conservation district. The voter must have attained the age of 21 years. No poll tax is required.

Under the community property laws of Texas, the wife of a landowner also owns land and is entitled to vote and hold office.

This is an important election and every landowner in this subdivision should vote for the person of his choice.

Pioneer Resident of Foard County Died Sept. 25th

Charles Earle Cole, 80, uncle of Grover Cole of Crowell, died Thursday afternoon, Sept. 25, in Breckenridge, following a lingering illness.

Funeral services for Mr. Cole were held in Breckenridge Saturday at 3 p. m. Burial was in Wayland Cemetery.

Earle Cole, as he was known here in the 90's, attended the old Crowell College when the late B. R. Blankinship was superintendent. He taught his first school at Jameson School House and also taught other rural schools in Foard County. He taught a school at Thalia when he was 16 years of age.

Only a few years ago, before he moved to Breckenridge, Mr. Cole operated a wholesale drug supply route out of Vernon. When he retired from this business, he moved to Breckenridge. He was the brother of the late Robert Cole, former district judge of this district.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cole of Crowell attended the funeral services in Breckenridge Saturday.

Survivors include three half-sisters, Mrs. Minnie Roberts of Portales, N. M., Mrs. Ben Haney of Albuquerque, N. M., and Mrs. Oscar Haney of Wichita Falls, and a large number of nieces and nephews.

Senator Moffett Speaks at Lions Club Meeting

Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe was the principal speaker at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Crowell Lions Club. Senator Moffett, who represents the 23rd District in the Texas Senate, explained the nine proposed amendments to the State Constitution which are to be voted on in November. Of the nine, Senator Moffett thinks the one most likely to be approved is the one to pay doctor and medicine bills for those Texas residents drawing social security. Three which Senator Moffett opposes are: granting the legislature an unlimited amount of money to advertise the state of Texas in national magazines, granting an $80 per month pension to all who have served as Texas Rangers for as long as two years prior to 1947, and the proposed amendment which would give Texas legislators $7500 per year salary plus an unlimited expense account.

Senator Moffett, who was introduced by Rev. Carl Hudson, says that the state will be extremely short of funds for at least two years, and he is not in favor of more spending programs at this time.

There were 18 present, including two visitors.

Rain Is Spotted

Rain measuring up to 2 inches fell over Foard County last Thursday afternoon and night. 1.25 inches were recorded at the government gauge in Crowell. From 1 to 1.9 inches was reported in the Thalia area; 3 of an inch in the Good Creek community; 1 to 2 inches in the Margaret vicinity; and small amounts registered at Foard City and the west portion of the county. Truscott reported one-half inch.

The rains, in addition to the benefit to wheat farmers, brought relief from the unusually hot weather of last week. A norther blew into this area Saturday and dropped the temperature to 57 degrees early Saturday morning.

Norther Tuesday
A norther blew into this section early Tuesday and lowered temperatures to a low of 57 Tuesday morning, with a season low recorded Wednesday morning when the mercury dropped to 51.

High and low readings for the past week follow:
Thursday: high 91, low 72.
Friday: high 85, low 70.
Saturday: high 80, low 68.
Sunday: high 78, low 57.
Monday: high 80, low 65.
Tuesday: high 60, low 55.
Wednesday: high 65, low 51.

Cemetery Association Rummage Sale to Be Held Here Saturday

Mrs. N. J. Roberts announces the following donations were received for upkeep of the Crowell cemetery during September:

Tom Russell, Gladewater, $5.00; Mr. and Mrs. Alton H. Cavin, Wichita Falls, $10.00; Raymond Ross, Lubbock, $10.00; S. W. Gentry, $5.00; Mrs. O. B. Davis, $10.00; Mrs. Effie Nichols, $5.00; Roy M. Fox, $10.00; T. R. Cates, $5.00; John E. Long, $10.00; Mrs. John M. Taboy, Dallas, $12.00; Mrs. Mattie Schlagal, $5.00; Henry Greening, $5.00; Mrs. W. S. J. Russell, $10.00; J. C. Jones, $10.00; Mrs. Jack Roberts Jr., in memory of M. O'Connell.

Mrs. Roberts stated that "There has been a lot of extra work done at the cemetery during September. T. J. Eubanks voluntarily mowed all the north side which added much to the general appearance. We used extra help for about two weeks so that Earl could get over the entire grounds before the fall rains set in. Expense of operating the power mower, water bill, and this help will make it necessary for us to hold our rummage sale again this fall."

"We have secured the building next door to Kenner's Dry Cleaners, and will be there Friday afternoon to receive used clothing and get ready for our sale on Saturday. Children's clothes are especially acceptable. Any good clothing, costume jewelry, etc., can be sold. We are going to need some volunteer help. Most every family in the county has an interest in this cemetery and should want a part in its upkeep."

330 Working Days Required to Build Wichita River Bridge

A contract for 1.231 miles of construction on State Highway 283 in Foard and Knox Counties has been awarded to a San Angelo firm, it was announced in Austin last week by the State Highway Commission.

Strain Brothers, Inc., submitted the low bid of $192,489.81 on the project. Construction of North Wichita River bridge and approaches located between Crowell and Benjamin, is expected to take 330 working days, according to Palmer Massey, District Highway Engineer at Childress.

H. T. Cunningham, Resident Engineer at Munday, will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

Increasing Number of Youths Registering Late at Draft Boards

Some state draft boards are complaining that an increasing number of youths are registering late under provisions of the Selective Service law.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, reminded draft-liable men this week that it is their duty under the law to inform themselves as to the proper time to register.

Several misconceptions about the legally required time to register caused most of the late-comers, Col. Schwartz thinks. There is some belief among young men that they can wait until they are 18½ years old to register.

As a matter of fact, the law requires that a man register on his 18th birthday, or within five days thereafter. Col. Schwartz pointed out that all males born since August 30, 1922, are legally obligated to be registered under existing law, except those not yet 18.

Some young men think that membership in the National Guard or Reserves excuses them from registration, but it does not.

If a young man joins the regular services for full-time duty before he is 18, he does not have to register when he is 18 if he is still in service.

But when he gets out, the law requires that he go to a draft board and register within 30 days. For example, if he joins the Army at 17 and stays in 10 years, he must register for the draft at age 27. The law would not obligate him for further service currently, but it obligates him to register.

Draft registration in Texas is expected to reach about 66,000 in 1958.

Organizational Meeting of Cub Scouts Tonight

An organizational meeting will be held Thursday night, Oct. 2, at the Crowell Methodist Church, beginning at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of enrolling boys in the Cub Scout program. Boys and their parents are to be enrolled in the Cubs, and the prospective Cub must be accompanied by one or both of his parents when he is enrolled.

Bob Joe Tillerson, district Scout executive, will be present at the meeting tonight and will have enrollment cards. Cub Scouting is sponsored here by the Crowell Lions Club.

Bro. Carl Hudson stated Tuesday that a survey made here recently indicates that more than 40 boys are interested in joining the Cub Scouts. Cub Scouting is open to all boys ages 8 through 10.

Important Changes Made in Social Security Amendments of 1958

The Social Security Amendments of 1958 made some important changes in social security disability benefits. An important change enacted by Congress in the session just ended is the removal of one of the work requirements for disability insurance benefits and for the "disability freeze." Under the freeze provision a worker can protect his social security rights during the time he is unable to work because of a severe disability.

Until now a disabled worker had to meet two requirements to qualify for the freeze or for disability insurance benefits. He needed to have social security credit for at least five out of the ten years before he became disabled, and also for at least 1½ years out of the 3 years just before his disability began. Under the new law, social security credit for 1½ years out of the last 3 is no longer required.

Disabled workers who because of the previous requirement have not been able to qualify under the social security disability provisions will need to file new applications with their social security offices.

The Wichita Falls social security district office is at 432 Post Office building. It is open from Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. The time and place that the social security representative will be in Crowell may be learned by inquiring at the post office.

Foard Savings Bonds Sales During 1958 Total $104,233

"Savings Bonds sales for the first eight months of 1958 totaled $104,233," George Self, chairman of Foard County bond committee reported this week. "Our county has now reached 89.1 per cent of its 1958 goal of $117,000. August sales were $1,896."

Texas sales through August 1958 were $118,503,413 which was 5 per cent greater than the same period in 1957.

Farm Machinery Industry Seeing Better Times

U. S. News & World Report says that the farm-machinery industry sees better times ahead. The reasons: large 1958 harvests, and the improved financial position of farmers in general.

News About Our Men in Service

Army Pvt. Larry L. Sledge, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Sledge of Truscott, recently was graduated from the 82nd Airborne Division Jump School at Fort Bragg, N. C. Sledge received his parachutist wings after having completed a course which included five training jumps. He entered the Army last January and received basic combat training at Fort Carson, Colo. The 18-year-old soldier attended Crowell High School before entering the Army.

Airman First Class Kenneth R. Adams, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Adams of Crowell, is taking part in the Air Force program of mating nuclear and thermodynamic weapons with delivery systems at Kirtland Air Force Base, Albuquerque, N. M. Airman Adams has been assigned to the 4925th Test Group (Atomic) as an aircraft mechanic.

The Air Force Special Weapons Center at Kirtland conducts research, development and testing to provide nuclear-carrying capability for USAF's bombers, fighters, rockets and missiles in defending the U. S. against aggression.

Before joining the Air Force in 1954, Airman Adams attended Crowell High School. He and Mrs. Adams, the former Miss Renee Millet of France, have two sons.

Bert Kirk Resigns as Cicero Manager

Bert Kirk, manager of Cicero Smith Lumber Co. in Crowell for the past three years, has resigned his position here effective October 15.

Mr. Kirk has accepted a job with the Celotex Corporation in Wichita, Kansas, and will travel for the firm.

He expects to move his family to Wichita about November 1.

During the time he has been in Crowell, Mr. Kirk has been very active in civic affairs of the town, and is at present president of the Crowell Lions Club.

Cicero Smith has not yet named a successor to Mr. Kirk in the local yard.

Charles Branch New Red Cross Home Service Chairman

Charles Branch has been appointed chairman of the Home Service of the Foard County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Clinton McLean, county chairman, announced last week.

Mr. Branch replaces Bert Kirk, who had held the position for the past two years.

The home service chairman is in charge of aiding Foard County residents in Red Cross matters.

Several Children in Crowell Schools Unable to Pay for Meals at Cafeteria

Grady Graves, Superintendent of the Crowell Public Schools, states that there are several children attending school this year that have to go without their noon meal due to lack of funds to purchase a meal ticket. The school cafeteria has been taking care of most of these children in the past, but due to the fact that the cafeteria had a deficit last year, and the cost of food has continually gone up for the past several years, the school officials have been forced to discontinue this practice.

Any social club, church organization, or individual that is looking for a worthy project, can contact Clark Hitt, Grade School Principal. These meals cost 32 cents each for the children in the first four grades, and 37 cents for those children in the grades above the fourth. The extra milk can be purchased for 2 cents per glass.

The Crowell School cafeteria meets the State requirement of a type "A" meal: two-ounce portion or more of meat, 3/4 cup of fruits and vegetables, 1/2 pint of milk, 2 teaspoons butter, and enriched bread. Desserts are served almost every day. Yellow and green vegetables and citrus fruits are served to meet the vitamin and mineral needs of the child. Fish is served once a week.

Some children come to school without any breakfast. The meal at the school cafeteria is balanced to the extent that it will meet one-third to one-half of the daily requirements for growing boys and girls.

Three Negroes Charged Following Fight Friday Night

Three Foard County Negroes were charged with assault with intent to murder as the result of an altercation in the local Colored section last Friday night.

They are Eulasee Coleman of Thalia and Mrs. Pauline Booker and Junior Booker, both of Crowell. Coleman was treated at the Foard County Hospital for a severe cut on the head, and Booker was kept in the hospital overnight, after receiving shotgun wounds.

All three are out on bond pending action of the next term of grand jury.

To Take Vacation

Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Kralieck will leave Friday for a vacation trip to Chicago, Ill. Dr. Kralieck's home town. They will be joined in Wichita Falls by Dr. Owen C. Berg and wife for the trip to Chicago. The doctors will attend the annual meeting of the American College of Surgeons which is to convene in that city. Dr. and Mrs. Kralieck will be home by Oct. 13.

Dr. John Adams of Wichita Falls will take care of Dr. Kralieck's patients while he is away.

First Conference Game Friday at Iowa Park

Crowell Wildcats Defeat Matador 20 to 6 in Last Non-Conference Game Friday

The Crowell High School football team defeated the Matador Matadors 20 to 6 at Matador last Friday night. Jim Henry, stellar fullback for the Wildcats, played the best game of his career in this contest. He carried the pigskin nineteen times for a total of 180 yards gained on the ground. This is better than nine yards per carry. He also made two touchdowns and two extra points. Of course, this would have been impossible without the aid of some good blocking by Crowell's line. Boys up front for the Crowell team were: David Carpenter and Bill Graves, ends, Gary Carpenter, Joe Barry and Duane Nichols, tackles; Bobby Powers and Taylor Johnson, guards; and Tom Crowell, center. Crowell's two halfbacks, Bobby Barker and Gerald Bradford, were both crippled, but played fairly well. Quarterback Ivan Cates played his usual good game on both offense and defense.

George Moss, Don Welch and Jerry Eubanks were used quite a bit on defense.

Crowell scored all three touchdowns in the second quarter. Jim Henry carried over two on runs of 29 and 2 yards. Ivan Cates passed to David Carpenter for 19 yards and a touchdown. Henry carried over for the two extra points after the third touchdown. The Wildcats drove to Matador's two-yard line on a beautiful 50-yard run by Jim Henry in the final quarter, but lost the ball on an intercepted pass.

Matador scored late in the game when quarterback Gerald Pipkin passed to halfback Bill Crenshaw for nine yards and a score. The Matadors gave Crowell a good battle for three of the four quarters in the contest. Their 221-pound tackle held Crowell's running plays down to some extent.

Their little, fast backs scattered through Crowell's line time after time for good gains. However, the Wildcats won the game by about the margin that they should.

Game at a glance:

Crowell	Matador
15	First downs 13
290	Yds. gained rushing 138
110	Yds. gained passing 89
6 of 18	Passes completed 6 of 16
1	Passes intercepted 2
6 for 27	Punt av. 6 for 28
4	Fumbles recovered 1
6 for 60	Penalties 1 for 5

The Wildcats open conference play at Iowa Park this Friday night. The Hawks started off slow again this season, but have been coming along fast with a new coach. They gained an 8 to 6 victory over the strong Haskell team last week. Haskell had won three straight games before meeting the Iowa Park team. Coach Amnett considers this opponent to be one of the strongest in the district.

Mike's Toyland to Have Formal Opening Saturday

Mike's Toyland, the first complete toy store ever to be in Crowell, will have its formal opening on Saturday, October 4. Mike Bird, owner, announced this week. The business is located next door to Bird Dry Goods Co., in the building formerly occupied by Dixon's Jewelry.

In addition to free gifts for the children on opening day, an electric blanket will be given away free. All who register in the store Saturday have an opportunity to win. There is nothing to buy, and you do not have to be present to win.

The store will handle a complete line of toys, wagons, tricycles and trains. It will be operated as "self-service," with Mrs. G. H. Kincheol acting as cashier.

A. S. C. Office Moves to West Side of Square

The Foard County A. S. C. office was moved to the Kincaid building on the west side of the square last week following the fire in the Speer building on East Commerce Tuesday night of last week. The Kincaid building is the former location of Davis Hdw. & Furn. Co.

This building will be used as a temporary location until a permanent location is secured, Mrs. Jean Reeder, office manager, said Tuesday.

Displays Huge Pear

T. J. Golightly Saturday was displaying a huge pear raised at his home in the east part of Crowell. The pear weighed 1 pound. Mr. Golightly says the tree did not have many pears this year, but those on the tree were exceptionally large.

Calling All Students!
 Near the beginning of every school year, there are many wasted words of advice on how to think and act like a young man or woman.
 There really shouldn't be any need for such advice this year. You are high school students. Several of you are in your first year of high school, but many of you are already beyond the first year and are now considered "old pros." Anyway, it seems a great waste of time to try to tell people of your age and educational background how to conduct themselves at sports events, in the classroom, in assemblies, in the halls, and with other people in general.

 The average high school freshman is 14 or 15 years old and has 8 years of school behind him. Entering high school, he finds a different world, a world with more self-reliance and dependability. He should be able to shoulder responsibility as well as anyone.
 People with high school diplomas are respected because of their education. As a rule, they are better adjusted to life than those who have never been to high school. This is due to the nature of high school life and work. People are much more on their own than in grade school and have to rely on themselves to a much greater extent. The work is harder and there is more of it.
 You have a choice! Let people know you are a high school student by the way you talk and act, or let them think you are still in grade school. You are the only one who will benefit or be hurt. It's up to you and to no one else.

Wildcats Trample Matadors; Wildcat Slays Toreador
 Queer title, eh? Well, read further! It was on last Friday night that our Wildcat team did itself proud against the Matador Matadors, and a large number of Crowell fans loyally followed the team there. (Thanks for your support.)
 Also doing itself justice was our Wildcat Band. At the half performance they staged a fight between a Crowell Wildcat and a Matador Toreador. The band formed a huge arena; four picadores (majorettes) stepped forward dressed in black shirts and toreador trousers with flashy sashes. They waved their brightly colored scarves before the enraged Wildcat (couldn't get a bull so they used Melvin Johnson.) Finally, the Wildcat made a plunge at the toreador (Jeanie Johnson, dressed in brilliant red). After a spectacular battle, the toreador fell before the furious onslaught of the Wildcat. As the picadores gathered around in the silent awe of death, the stillness of the night was broken as a Wildcat (Wendell Callaway) blew "Taps." All very effective. We are enjoying the originality of the performance this year!

The band is now practicing on the show for the Iowa Park game to be played tomorrow night. After the game, the band journeys to Dallas to attend the fair. Next week we'll tell you who won what, and who lost what, trying to win which.

Janie Wright and Kirk Walters—Senior Personalities
 We are indeed fortunate to have Mr. Xenof Zerklecomb, the famed mind reader, visit the Municipal Auditorium here in Crowell last week. He chose two of the seniors (who looked like they had open minds) out of the audience, and proceeded to do his job.
 Janie Wright, from Thalia, is 5' 9" tall, has brown hair, blue eyes, and is sixteen.
 Whenever there's a movie starring Debbie Reynolds or Pat Boone, you can find Janie there, because they are her favorite stars.
 Extra minutes in Janie's busy days are few and far between, but occasionally there is time to read a good book and eat a piece of her favorite cake, German chocolate. She also enjoys watching American bandstand, riding around and swimming (in the summer, of course).
 Although Janie is exceptionally good in her studies, chemistry is her most difficult subject.
 When she graduates, she plans to attend ACC and like most every senior, she has no idea what her major is going to be.
 During the past three years in high school, Janie has achieved much. She is a member of the Student Council, Spanish Club, Band, and she is a Spanish Club officer.
 Good luck, Janie!

Dale Henry Honored by Surprise Party
 Cries of "happy birthday, happy birthday" echoed through the rooms of the Jim Henry home on the evening of Sept. 23 as a group of Dale's classmates arrived to surprise him on his birthday.
 Dale, flat of his back since preschool football practice brought him down with a broken leg, was really "flabbergasted."

 The group played games and had fun in general for some time; and then they were served delicious refreshments by Mrs. Henry and Thelma.
 Those present were Carolee Oliphant, Alta Bartley, Sue Sanders, Wilma Denton, Genell Wheeler, James Borchardt, John Stone, Jerry Setliff, Jim Mack Gafford, Gerald Howard, Buteh Walters, Claude Sellers and Tommy Davis.
 We are glad to report that Dale was able to enter school on Sept. 23. It is good to see you.

It Happens Like This
 Act I. Scene I. (Just any Monday morning—Hall of CHS.)
 Gayle Taylor, editor of Wildcat, meeting Mrs. Manard: I bet this is one time we'll not have a Wildcat section in the Foard County News. Nothing has come in.
 Mrs. Manard (sponser): Oh, don't be discouraged. It will come in all right, and some way we'll get it checked and ready for you to take to the news office by 3:30. At least, we always have made it.
 Scene II. (Second period, Mrs. Manard's off-period.)
 Bettie Linda (working on scandal column): Oh, my, Jerry and I couldn't seem to get this worded right. It's so monotonous. Listen, (reads) Roxie and Jimmy went to the Plaza Friday night.
 Seen at the dance Friday night were David and D'Lois.
 Making the rounds Friday night were Patsy and Louis.
 Mrs. Manard: Let me see. Maybe it would sound more interesting if you combined this into one paragraph.
 Bettie Linda (writes): How's this—boy—what a night! Every place I went I saw somebody hurrying along. As I started to the dance, I nearly got run over by Jimmy as he made a mad dash up to Roxie's house, stuck her into the car, and rushed off to Vernon. You'd think the Plaza wouldn't open until they got there. Finally, I got to the dance. David and D'Lois seemed to have the most fun of anyone. I started back home and ran upon two car-loads of kids. They seemed to be playing "Follow the Leader."
 They would make the block, stop, chat, and take off for another block. You guessed it. Those I could identify were Dale-Carol, Don-Wanda.
 Mrs. Manard: Fine, that sounds much better. Anyone can record facts, but it takes one with originality to turn facts into an interesting account.
 Patsy (entering): Here I am. Anything ready to type?
 Mrs. Manard: Yes, start on this on a desert in Scotland. Judging from their "screwy" appearance, they perhaps have just been awarded first, second, and third places in the "Edinburg Hag Contest."

 They talk of a fist fight going on between the forces of Duncan, King of Scotland, and some traitor or nobleman helped by the Irish. At the moment all is looking good for Duncan's forces led by General Macbeth.
 Shortly afterward, Macbeth and Banquo, a fellow general, appear on their way to inform the "Old Man" that they have defeated the rebels. The witches stop them to say that Macbeth will soon be king. Then they take off on another spree leaving Macbeth and Banquo all "shook up."
 Macbeth invites Duncan to spend the night with him in order to save the price of a motel. That's when Lady Macbeth decides she would like to get the feel of being "Madam Queen" and together the two plot to kill Duncan as he sleeps.
 Being successful, they are made the rulers and invite the "high ups" to their castle for a banquet. To work up their appetite, Banquo and his son go on a swift ride, but poor fellows, Macbeth has another plan for them so he hires a couple of thugs to dispose of them as they journey to the feast.
 As the banquet progresses, one of the murderers appears to tell Macbeth that Banquo is "done for." Then the ghost of Banquo appears to frighten Macbeth. His loving wife rebukes him, saying "Take care, my lord, thou art about to spill the beans."
 Macbeth later has Macduff's family killed, and Macduff assisted Malcolm and came with an army to attack Macbeth. Meanwhile, poor Lady Macbeth has done gone to the "good place." Macduff fights with Macbeth—cuts his head off, and in great style presents it to Malcolm with a speech such as, "Sir, a rare specimen for your trophy case."
 As the curtain falls, Malcolm extends a cordial welcome to all to attend his coronation at Scene—of course—he's not talking to those in the audience. They are too nearly exhausted, anyway.
 Lesson: Beware — Head hunters are on the loose!

Macbeth "All Shook Up"
 (Dedicated to all ex-students of English IV.)
 Yes, it's "Macbeth" time again. To the many who ask "Why study stuff that deals with time long past—1047?" Mrs. Manard always replies, "Because it has a lesson as applicable today as it was then."
 Well—here's one modern version. Wonder if this is what she means? (We doubt it).
 Three witches, extremely wierd sisters, are having a picnic amidst booming thunder and flashing lightning—oh, yes—they are

this so hurriedly! How I wish Gayle had a study hall during off-period, so we could plan the paper together, but guess we'll have to do the best we can for she needs that bookkeeping class period.
 Act II. (Thursday at school.)
 1st student (reading Wildcat news): Say, where's the scandal column? Wonder why they left it out?
 2nd student: Why, it's in there.
 1st student: I don't find it, ma.

Factory list prices on the 1959 Oldsmobiles, which will offer more revolutionary styling and engineering improvements than ever before incorporated in a model, change were announced this week by Jack Wolfgram, general manager of Oldsmobile Division and vice president of General Motors.

"Included in our 1959 factory list prices," said Wolfgram, "are custom salon metallic paints. In addition there are many other added value items built into the 1959 lines, such as electric windshield wipers, increased glass area for greater visibility, greater ventilation capacity, more passenger room, up to 64 per cent more trunk space, Air-Scoop brakes on all four wheels for greater safety, a new split choke for improved fuel economy and many other engineering advancements.

"Our new cars will be on display in dealers' showrooms across the country early in October," Wolfgram said. "But I can say now that the 1959 Oldsmobile is the most outstanding product in Oldsmobile's history—in styling, quality and value."

Factory list prices range from $2,814 to $3,915, excluding federal, state and local taxes, destination and dealer delivery and handling charges.

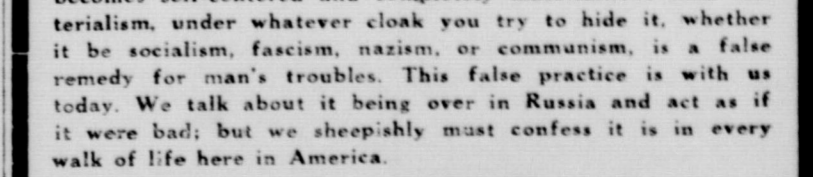

The 6th grade 4-H Club had its first meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 23. They elected Rocky Trawick president, Ken Ferguson county counselor, Mike Cates secretary, Freddie Wehba reporter, Otis Johnson, vice president, and hoped they will have a good 6th grade 4H.

"FOR GOD AND COUNTRY"

This is my final article covering disunity between God and our Country. The elderly people should know a few things about what has been written, and should realize that citizenship and Christianity can not be in name only. You have learned that the solution to the ills confronting us can only be found in the principles of morality and according to the dictates of religion. Education means more than just filling the mind with knowledge. That is merely instruction. True education consists of developing all of man's faculties. It is not confined to the intellect alone. Religion is the basis of our whole theory of government and the foundation of all our liberties. It is inconceivable that anyone can understand the background and the tenets of our way of life if he does not have understanding or knowledge of a Creator. A Christian with an adult knowledge of material things and a child's knowledge of religion has a split personality. Many of the more subtle attacks on morality and religion come from so-called liberals. I say "so-called" because there are true liberals and false liberals. A true liberal is always searching for better ways of approaching the truth and for doing good. A false liberal tends to be liberal with what is right and good. He feels free to separate right and truth from the unchanging nature of his Creator and establish them instead in the changing concepts and ideas of man. The error of the false liberal is his refusal to accept any dogma or truth that cannot be explained by human reason. His false pride in his own superior knowledge leads him to believe that he can un-make man and re-make history. His life becomes self-centered and completely materialistic. And materialism, under whatever cloak you try to hide it, whether it be socialism, fascism, nazism, or communism, is a false remedy for man's troubles. This false practice is with us today. We talk about it being over in Russia and act as if it were bad; but we sheepishly must confess it is in every walk of life here in America.

Austin, Tex. — Through the summer campaigns "economy in government" were words that rustled about as harmlessly as an evening breeze.

But with the approach of winter and down-to-the-lick-log budget-making time, the same words have the cutting edge of a blue norther.

Gov. Price Daniel stuck a pin in any last rosy hopes that "things might not be too bad." He sent back the money requests made by heads of state departments for 1959-61, saying they were "wholly unrealistic."

Governor Daniel had been the last major hold-out against predictions of a major money crisis. Other state officials had been crying doom and foreseeing a shortage of up to $140,000,000 for months.

Governor Daniel took note of these predictions in asking department heads to re-examine their budgets, eliminating any non-essential items. A deadline of Oct. 8 was set for the new requests.

As originally submitted, the requests would require a $272,000,000 increase in spending.

"I think and hope this decline in state revenues is a temporary condition," said the governor, "but a realistic approach requires that 1960-61 requests should not exceed the 1958-59 level unless absolutely essential."

DEFICIT SOON — A further gloom note was the state comptroller's forecast that the general revenue fund would run dry in October.

And it probably won't be a temporary thing, according to Comptroller Robert S. Calvert. Almost every spring the state has a seasonal shortage just before the April deadline for franchise tax paying.

Calvert said this deficit may continue until September, 1959, and bring a return of some of the squeezes of the 1930's. During those years state employees had to pay a discount of from one to five per cent to cash their pay checks since the banks that cashed them had to hold them for some time waiting for the state to get the money to make them good.

Calvert said the general revenue fund began the new state fiscal year in September with a $13,000,000 balance. This is not a very big kitty for the government's billion-dollar-a-year operation.

HARD DECISION — Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar is the man in the middle of the controversy over accepting federal aid for Texas schools.

Dr. Edgar has until the end of this week to decide whether to recommend to the State Board of Education that Texas participate in a new federal school aid plan. This program, prompted by national defense concerns, is designed to help step up training of mathematicians, scientists and teachers.

Edgar's decision must be made in the light of the recent recommendation by the Hale-Aikin Committee, a group of influential citizens and lawmakers, that the state stop taking some federal funds it is already getting—for school lunches and vocational training.

On the other hand, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, a Congressional sponsor of the new aid plan, is strongly urging that Texas take advantage of it. Others who agree declare that to stay would mean Texas schools would lose millions—some of it paid in by Texas taxpayers.

ADVERTISING 'MAJOR STEP' — Proposal to use tax money to advertise Texas got a boost from one of the state's best-known economists, the director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Dr. John R. Stockton called the advertising plan a "major step" in a program to promote the continued growth of the state. "Continued industrial expansion is essential," said Dr. Stockton, "since Texas no longer enjoys its position of world leadership in oil production."

STATE SUES OIL COMPANIES — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has filed anti-trust suits against three oil companies engaged in refining and selling gasoline to retailers in the El Paso area.

Standard of Texas, the Texas Company and El Paso Natural Gas Products Co. are charged with illegally agreeing to fix prices. Wilson said a court of inquiry confirmed reports that gasoline prices were artificially high in El Paso. He said major brands had been selling for 34 cents a gallon in El Paso compared to 21 cents for the same product in Juarez, across the border.

PRISON SYSTEM PRAISED — Texas Department of Corrections has been getting applause from all sides.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness, whose official reports frequently jab at flaws in state agencies, acclaimed the system for having progressed from "one of the worst in the nation to its present and recognized position as one of the nation's best." He paid tribute to the general manager and board for having achieved this without "an appreciable increase in the cost per inmate per day."

Calling All Students!

Near the beginning of every school year, there are many wasted words of advice on how to think and act like a young man or woman.

There really shouldn't be any need for such advice this year. You are high school students. Several of you are in your first year of high school, but many of you are already beyond the first year and are now considered "old pros." Anyway, it seems a great waste of time to try to tell people of your age and educational background how to conduct themselves at sports events, in the classroom, in assemblies, in the halls, and with other people in general.

The average high school freshman is 14 or 15 years old and has 8 years of school behind him. Entering high school, he finds a different world, a world with more self-reliance and dependability. He should be able to shoulder responsibility as well as anyone.

People with high school diplomas are respected because of their education. As a rule, they are better adjusted to life than those who have never been to high school. This is due to the nature of high school life and work. People are much more on their own than in grade school and have to rely on themselves to a much greater extent. The work is harder and there is more of it.

You have a choice! Let people know you are a high school student by the way you talk and act, or let them think you are still in grade school. You are the only one who will benefit or be hurt. It's up to you and to no one else.

Pet Peeve

Students who throw paper napkins, candy wrappers, etc., on our campus. Wonder if there couldn't be a trash can placed at some convenient spot to help prevent "litter bugging"?

Wildcats Trample Matadors; Wildcat Slays Toreador

Queer title, eh? Well, read further! It was on last Friday night that our Wildcat team did itself proud against the Matador Matadors, and a large number of Crowell fans loyally followed the team there. (Thanks for your support.)

Also doing itself justice was our Wildcat Band. At the half performance they staged a fight between a Crowell Wildcat and a Matador Toreador. The band formed a huge arena; four picadores (majorettes) stepped forward dressed in black shirts and toreador trousers with flashy sashes. They waved their brightly colored scarves before the enraged Wildcat (couldn't get a bull so they used Melvin Johnson.) Finally, the Wildcat made a plunge at the toreador (Jeannie Johnson, dressed in brilliant red). After a spectacular battle, the toreador fell before the furious onslaught of the Wildcat. As the picadores gathered around in the silent awe of death, the stillness of the night was broken as a Wildcat (Wendell Callaway) blew "Taps." All very effective. We are enjoying the originality of the performances this year!

The band is now practicing on the show for the Iowa Park game to be played tomorrow night. After the game, the band journeys to Dallas to attend the fair. Next week we'll tell you who won what, and who lost what, trying to win which.

Janie Wright and Kirk Walters—Senior Personalities

We are indeed fortunate to have Dr. Xenof Zerkecomb, the famed mind reader, visit the Municipal Auditorium here in Crowell last week. He chose two of the seniors (who looked like they had open minds) out of the audience, and proceeded to do his job.

Janie Wright, from Thalia, is 5' 9" tall, has brown hair, blue eyes, and is sixteen.

Whenever there's a movie starring Debbie Reynolds or Pat Boone, you can find Janie there, because they are her favorite stars.

Extra minutes in Janie's busy days are few and far between, but occasionally there is time to read a good book and eat a piece of her favorite cake, German chocolate. She also enjoys watching American handstand, riding around and swimming (in the summer, of course).

Although Janie is exceptionally good in her studies, chemistry is her most difficult subject.

When the graduates, she plans to attend ACC and like most every senior, she has no idea what her major is going to be.

During the past three years in high school, Janie has achieved much. She is a member of the Student Council, Spanish Club, Band, and she is a Spanish Club officer.

Good luck, Janie! Kirk Walters has quite a background. He has lived in Lockney and Paducah, but naturally he likes Crowell the best. Kirk is 6' tall, has blond hair, blue eyes, and is eighteen.

This boy enjoys any movie that stars Jayne Mansfield or Jack Lemmon. He enjoys TV when there's time, but his favorite pastime is listening to good records and eating German chocolate cake.

Wonder of all wonders, chemistry is Kirk's favorite subject; biology is his most disliked.

He began his freshman year in Lockney where he was a member of the basketball team, a representative of the Student Council, an officer of the Choral Club and a freshman winner of a personality contest. He then moved to Paducah, and in his sophomore year he served on the staff of the yearbook.

He came to Crowell in his junior year and has kept up his record. His most exciting experience came last year when he was runner-up for Student Council President. Incidentally he was named the outstanding student in business, and he was a member of the Roundup Staff. This year he is editor of the Wildcat, plus being general "flunky" to anyone who wants a job done quickly and efficiently. After graduation, Kirk will move on to Texas Tech in Lubbock as a math major. Best of luck, Kirk!

Macbeth "All Shook Up"

(Dedicated to all ex-students of English IV.)

Yes, it's "Macbeth" time again. To the many who ask "Why study stuff that deals with time long past—1047?" Mrs. Manard always replies, "Because it has a lesson as applicable today as it was then." Well — here's one modern version. Wonder if this is what she means? (We doubt it).

Three witches, extremely weird sisters, are having a picnic amidst booming thunder and flashing lightning — oh, yes — they are on a desert in Scotland. Judging from their "screwy" appearance, they perhaps have just been awarded first, second, and third places in the "Edinburg Hag Contest."

They talk of a fist fight going on between the forces of Duncan, King of Scotland, and some traitor or nobleman helped by the Irish. At the moment all is looking good for Duncan's forces led by General Macbeth.

Shortly afterward, Macbeth and Banquo, a fellow general, appear on their way to inform the "Old Man" that they have defeated the rebels. The witches stop them to say that Macbeth will soon be king. Then they take off on another spree leaving Macbeth and Banquo all "shook up."

Macbeth invites Duncan to spend the night with him in order to save the price of a motel. That's when Lady Macbeth decides she would like to get the feel of being "Madam Queen" and together the two plot to kill Duncan as he sleeps.

Being successful, they are made the rulers and invite the "high ups" to their castle for a banquet. To work up their appetite, Banquo and his son go on a swift ride, but poor fellows, Macbeth has another plan for them so he hires a couple of thugs to dispose of them as they journey to the feast.

As the banquet progresses, one of the murderers appears to tell Macbeth that Banquo is "done for." Then the ghost of Banquo appears to frighten Macbeth. His loving wife rebukes him, saying "Take care, my lord, thou art about to spill the beans."

Macbeth later has Macduff's family killed, and Macduff assisted Malcolm and came with an army to attack Macbeth. Meanwhile, poor Lady Macbeth has done gone to the "good" place. Macduff cuts his head off, and in great style presents it to Malcolm with a speech such as, "Sir, a rare specimen for your trophy case."

As the curtain falls, Malcolm extends a cordial welcome to all to attend his coronation at Stone — of course — he's not talking to those in the audience. They are too nearly exhausted, anyway.

Lesson: Beware — Head hunters are on the loose!

Dale Henry Honored by Surprise Party

Cries of "happy birthday, happy birthday" echoed through the rooms of the Jim Henry home on the evening of Sept. 23 as a group of Dale's classmates arrived to surprise him on his birthday.

Dale, flat of his back since pre-school football practice brought him down with a broken leg, was really "flabbergasted." The group played games and had fun in general for some time; and then they were served delicious refreshments by Mrs. Henry and Thelma.

Those present were Carolee Olliphant, Alta Bartley, Sue Sanders, Wilma Denton, Genell Wheeler, James Borchardt, John Stone, Jerry Setliff, Jim Mack Gafford, Gerald Howard, Butech Walters, Claude Sellers and Tommy Davis. We are glad to report that Dale was able to enter school on Sept. 29. It is good to see you.

It Happens Like This

Act I Scene I. (Just any Monday morning—Hall of CHS.)

Gayle Taylor, editor of Wildcat, meeting Mrs. Manard: I bet this is one time we'll not have a Wildcat section in the Foard County News. Nothing has come in.

Mrs. Manard (sponsor): Oh, don't be discouraged. It will come in all right, and some way we'll get it checked and ready for you to take to the news office by 3:30. At least, we always have made it.

Scene II. (Second period, Mrs. Manard's off-period.)

Bettie Linda (working on scandal column): Oh, my, Jerry and I couldn't seem to get this worded right. It's so monotonous. Listen, (reads) Roxie and Jimmy went to the Plaza Friday night.

Seen at the dance Friday night were David and D'Lois. Making the rounds Friday night were Patsy and Louis. Mrs. Manard: Let me see. Maybe it would sound more interesting if you combined this into one paragraph.

Bettie Linda (writes): How's this—boy—what a night! Every place I went I saw somebody hurrying along. As I started to the dance, I nearly got run over by Jimmy as he made a mad dash up to Roxie's house, stuck her into the car, and rushed off to Vernon. You'd think the Plaza wouldn't open until they got there. Finally, I got to the dance. David and D'Lois seemed to have the most fun of anyone. I started back home and ran upon two car-loads of kids. They seemed to be playing "Follow the Leader" — They would make the block, stop, chat, and take off for another block. You guessed it. Those I could identify were Dale-Carol, Don-Wanda.

Mrs. Manard: Fine, that sounds much better. Anyone can record facts, but it takes one with originality to turn facts into an interesting account.

Patsy (entering): Here I am. Anything ready to type?

Mrs. Manard: Yes, start on this first page of the scandal. I'll get the rest of it checked as soon as Bettie finishes that last item.

Kirk Walters (with paper in hand): Whew! That's done. I thought I'd never get this written the way I wanted it. Wonder if the kids take time to read the editorials anyway. I hope so. Jeanie and I are trying to impress on the students that their school days are nearly gone—and there are so many things that are yet unlearned. If you'll check this, I'll type it.

Mrs. Manard: Yes, I'll read it in just a second.

Joyce: Here's the assembly write up. While you check these, I'll go to the cafeteria to get the menu.

Mrs. Manard: Please stop by the office to see if Mr. Graves or Mr. Black have any announcements for the paper. Oh yes, are those Pat's "Senior Personalities"?

I must look over them. Dianne (breathless): Oh, Mrs. Manard, could you help me a minute. Is this the way I should end my column?

Mrs. Manard: Yes, Dianne. I like that. My, I must hurry, the period is almost gone and I must help with this article on the ball game. Bettie Linda, what were the names of those pieces the band played at the half?

Martha Fish (band reporter, enters): (Mrs. Manard glances at write-up): Thank goodness, that is just what I need! You have the whole half-time performance written up. I'll put it in this ball game write-up right after this paragraph about the game itself.

Patsy (with typewritten sheets): Mrs. Manard, here are these. You'd better check to see if I made any errors.

Mrs. Manard: Okay, just as soon as I see if all these articles are here. (Thumbing through papers) Let's see, here are the editorials, the personalities, the assembly report, the library report, scandal, etc. Yes, I believe everything is in. Hope our readers will overlook any mistake I let get by. I've done this so hurriedly! How I wish Gayle had a study hall during off-period, so we could plan the paper together, but guess we can't have to do the best we can for she needs that bookkeeping time.

Act II. (Thursday at school.)
 1st student (reading Wildcat news): Say, where's the scandal column? Wonder why they left it out?

2nd student: Why, it's in there.
 1st student: I don't find it, (Continued on page 7)

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex. — Through the summer campaigns "economy in government" were words that rustled about as harmlessly as an evening breeze.

But with the approach of winter and down-to-the-lick-log budget-making time, the same words have the cutting edge of a blue norther. Gov. Price Daniel stuck a pin in any last rosy hopes that "things might not be too bad." He sent back the money requests made by heads of state departments for 1959-61, saying they were "wholly unrealistic."

Governor Daniel had been the last major hold-out against predictions of a major money crisis. Other state officials had been crying doom and foreseeing a shortage of up to $140,000,000 for months.

Governor Daniel took note of these predictions in asking department heads to re-examine their budgets, eliminating any non-essential items. A deadline of Oct. 8 was set for the new requests.

As originally submitted, the requests would require a $272,000,000 increase in spending.

"I think and hope this decline in state revenues is a temporary condition," said the governor, "but a realistic approach . . . requires that 1960-61 requests should not exceed the 1958-59 level unless absolutely essential."

DEFICIT SOON — A further glum note was the state comptroller's forecast that the general revenue fund would run dry in October.

And it probably won't be a temporary thing, according to Comptroller Robert S. Calvert. Almost every spring the state has a seasonal shortage just before the April deadline for franchise tax paying.

Calvert said this deficit may continue until September, 1959, and bring a return of some of the squeezes of the 1930's. During those years state employees had to pay a discount of from one to five per cent to cash their pay checks since the banks that cashed them had to hold them for some time waiting for the state to get the money to make them good.

Calvert said the general revenue fund began the new state fiscal year in September with a $13,000,000 balance. This is not a very big kitty for the government's billion-dollar-a-year operation.

HARD DECISION — Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar is the man in the middle on the controversy over accepting federal aid for Texas schools.

Dr. Edgar has until the end of this week to decide whether to recommend to the State Board of Education that Texas participate in a new federal school aid plan. This program, prompted by national defense concerns, is designed to help step up training of mathematicians, scientists and teachers.

Edgar's decision must be made in the light of the recent recommendation by the Hale-Aikin Committee, a group of influential citizens and lawmakers, that the state stop taking some federal funds it is already getting—for school lunches and vocational training.

On the other hand, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, a Congressional sponsor of the new aid plan, is strongly urging that Texas take advantage of it. Others who agree declare that to stay would mean Texas schools would lose millions—some of it paid in by Texas taxpayers.

ADVERTISING 'MAJOR STEP' — Proposal to use tax money to advertise Texas got a boost from one of the state's best-known economists, the director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Dr. John R. Stockton called the advertising plan a "major step" in a program to promote the continued growth of the state. "Continued industrial expansion is essential," said Dr. Stockton, "since Texas no longer enjoys its position of world leadership in oil production."

STATE SUES OIL COMPANIES — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has filed anti-trust suits against three oil companies engaged in refining and selling gasoline to retailers in the El Paso area.

Standard of Texas, the Texas Company and El Paso Natural Gas Products Co. are charged with illegally agreeing to fix prices. Wilson said a court of inquiry confirmed reports that gasoline prices were artificially high in El Paso. He said major brands had been selling for 34 cents a gallon in El Paso compared to 21 cents for the same product in Juarez, across the border.

PRISON SYSTEM PRAISED — Texas Department of Corrections has been getting applause from all sides.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness, whose official reports frequently jab at flaws in state agencies, acclaimed the system for having progressed from "one of the worst in the nation to its present and recognized position as one of the nation's best." He paid tribute to the general manager and board

Oldsmobile Announces Prices for 1959 Models

Factory list prices on the 1959 Oldsmobiles, which will offer more revolutionary styling and engineering improvements than ever before incorporated in a model change, were announced this week by Jack Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile Division and vice president of General Motors.

"Included in our 1959 factory list prices," said Wolfram, "are custom salon metallic paints. In addition there are many other added value items built into the 1959 lines, such as electric windshield wipers, increased glass area for greater visibility, greater ventilation capacity, more passenger room, up to 64 per cent more trunk space, Air-Scoop brakes on all four wheels for greater safety, a new split choke for improved fuel economy and many other engineering advancements.

"Our new cars will be on display in dealers' showrooms across the country early in October," Wolfram said. "But I can say now that the 1959 Oldsmobile is the most outstanding product in Oldsmobile's history—in styling, quality and value." Factory list prices range from $2,514 to $3,915, excluding federal, state and local taxes, destination and dealer delivery and handling charges.

"FOR GOD AND COUNTRY"

This is my final article covering disunity between God and our Country. The elderly people should know a few things about what has been written, and should realize that citizenship and Christianity can not be in name only. You have learned that the solution to the ills confronting us can only be found in the principles of morality and according to the dictates of religion. Education means more than just filling the mind with knowledge. That is merely instruction. True education consists of developing all of man's faculties. It is not confined to the intellect alone. Religion is the basis of our whole theory of government and the foundation of all our liberties. It is inconceivable that anyone can understand the background and the tenets of our way of life if he does not have understanding or knowledge of a Creator. A Christian with an adult knowledge of material things and a child's knowledge of religion has a split personality. Many of the more subtle attacks on morality and religion come from so-called liberals. I say "so-called" because there are true liberals and false liberals. A true liberal is always searching for better ways of approaching the truth and for doing good. A false liberal tends to be liberal with what is right and good. He feels free to separate right and truth from the unchanging nature of his Creator and establish them instead in the changing concepts and ideas of man. The error of the false liberal is his refusal to accept any dogma or truth that cannot be explained by human reason. His false pride in his own superior knowledge leads him to believe that he can un-make man and re-make history. His life becomes self-centered and completely materialistic. And materialism, under whatever cloak you try to hide it, whether it be socialism, fascism, nazism, or communism, is a false remedy for man's troubles. This false practice is with us today. We talk about it being over in Russia and act as if it were bad; but we sheepishly must confess it is in every walk of life here in America.

Foard Farmers Reminded of Windbreak Benefits

by JAMES H. HERRING

Many farmers north of Thalia still remember the drought during the 1930's that brought slim crops, weakened range forage, gaunt livestock, moving soils, dust storms and terrific financial distress to hundreds of farmers and ranch owners. They still recall that it also brought Government programs designed to relieve, in some measure, the drastic effects of drought. The planting of shelterbelts (windbreak) was one of these programs. Nearly all windbreaks were planted on private land in cooperation with individual land owners in this area. The Federal Government furnished the trees and planted them—often with assistance from the owner. The farmer agreed to cultivate and protect them.

It is now recognized by Soil Conservation Service technicians and farmers alike that some of the early plantings were much wider than necessary to perform their function as windbreaks. This encouraged many farmers to eliminate their windbreaks. Other farmers recognized the benefits derived from windbreaks on their farms and only eliminated surplus rows from the field side.

Besides being too wide, there are other common objections expressed by farmers, such as the following:

(1) Windbreaks occupy land that could be in crop production. This is true but the available evidence, including the experience of farmers who have an adequate windbreak pattern, is that production is greater on the remaining protected acreage without wind protection.

(2) Windbreaks complicate farming operations by breaking up large fields into smaller units. This seems a minor point since the units rarely need to be less than 20 acres.

(3) Windbreaks require additional fencing. This may be true in some instances, particularly with farmstead windbreaks, but is not an appreciable item on the average.

(4) Trees sap moisture from adjacent fields. This is true but roots can be curtailed by growing alfalfa, rye, wheat, barley, oats and grass for seed production in 50-foot bands on sapped areas adjacent to windbreaks.

If you have a windbreak on your farm and you are thinking about destroying it, consider the advantages that can be derived from one and the effects of the drought during the 1930's.

Joe Coufal of the Thalia community remembers the 1930 drought and the benefits derived from the windbreak established on his farm. Some of the benefits that Mr. Coufal has recognized from windbreaks on his farm are:

They provide food and cover for wildlife (such as quail), protection and food for bees, protection to crops conducive to wind erosion, shelter for livestock, cut down on fuel bill of household, and are attractive assets to his farm.

Mrs. Carl Molsbee of Nocona is spending the week with Mrs. Maude Rasberry.

Mrs. E. E. Asher of Paducah, county treasurer of Cottle County, is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ramon Rasberry, and family.

Mrs. Lee Crews of East Columbia and Miss Mary Sam Crews of Houston are here visiting in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Crews.

THIS WEEK

—In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

We Americans have become distressingly biased about the rate at which the Federal government is spending our money and sinking us deeper and deeper into debt.

A statement by the Bureau of the Budget that Federal spending this year will exceed income by more than a billion dollars a month caused no more than a mild ripple of public interest.

Maurice H. Stans, Director of the Budget, tells us that Uncle Sam is spending at a peacetime record rate and that by the end of this fiscal year the public debt will reach a new all-time record of $283 billion.

For each $350 the average American—man, woman and child—pays in Federal taxes, either directly or indirectly, Washington will spend $420.40 during the fiscal year ends next June 30.

You Owe $1,645
Your share of the Federal debt, by next June 30, will amount to a record total of $1,645. That will be the per capita national debt, and it will be an increase of $70.45 from last June 30.

You may never pay on that debt, but you can't escape paying your share of the interest on it, amounting to $42.50 a year. It costs the Treasury Department $7.3 billion a year to pay the interest on the debt.

Congress either appropriated or authorized $79.2 billion to be spent this fiscal year by federal agencies. That is $12.2 billion more than estimated tax collections of $67 billion.

The record peacetime deficit is in sharp contrast with the official estimate last January that the government would end this fiscal year with a "net surplus" of $500 million in income over outgo.

Mr. Stans explains this "mistaken estimate" by pointing out that (1) Congress okayed spending of $5.3 billion more than was budgeted, and (2) tax collections now are expected to fall $7.4 billion below the earlier estimate.

Where Your Money Goes
The biggest slice of your tax dollar, as well as the increase in debt, goes for items under the general heading of national defense. Defense spending will set a peacetime record of $40.8 billion.

Interest on the national debt at $7.3 billion is second, farm aid is third and foreign aid is fourth. The largest increase over the January budget was an added $1.6 billion for the Department of Agriculture.

The Post Office Department despite increased mail rates, expects to spend $735 million more than it collects in stamp sales. That is due to the increase in wages voted postal employees by Congress, Mr. Stans explains.

Other increases over last year include $225 million for Health, Education and Welfare Department public assistance grants and research; $199 million more for the Export-Import Bank, $225 million for surplus sales of farm products, and $92 million for the newly authorized Small Business Administration loan program.

We asked both the Republican and Democratic national headquarters for a list of what they consider the major political campaign issues. Neither mentioned Federal spending or the public debt.

Sidewalk Art Show to Be Held in Wichita Falls
The annual Sidewalk Art Show of the Wichita Falls Art Association of the Woman's Forum will be held on Saturday, Oct. 11, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. in downtown Wichita Falls. The shows have been held annually each fall since 1948.

Area artists are invited to participate. Advance registration is not necessary, but artists are asked to register at the desk provided at the site when they arrive for the show.

Ribbons will be awarded winners. Area artists wishing to participate should bring their entries to a desk on the sidewalk at 9th and Scott prior to 10 a. m. although entries for display will be received up to 3 p. m.

Four divisions for young artists, ages 8 to 18, will be added this year. Each picture must be framed or matted with a stiff cardboard frame.

It was announced this week that Louie Huffman, instructor of mathematics at Midwestern University, has been named chairman of an area committee of the nationwide high school mathematics contest for 1958. With this appointment, Mr. Huffman will serve on the Texas Section committee to implement statewide participation in the national contest in high school mathematics. High schools in the following counties have been placed in this area: Archer, Baylor, Clay, Foard, Hardeman, Jack, Knox, Montague, Wichita, Wilbarger, and Young.

4-H Club Meeting
The 7A and 8B boys 4H Club met in Mrs. Hitt's room Sept. 24. They elected officers in the club and studied safety.

Officers are Jake Denton Jr., president; Kenneth Houck, vice president; Barry Curtis Barker, reporter; Jerry Latimer, delegate and council; Bennie Hopkins, song leader; M. M. Welch, Jack Seale and George Self, adult leaders.

Philip Welch and Don Hinkle will attend the recreational school Oct. 6, 7, and 8 from 7 to 9:30 p. m. at the West Texas Utilities Co. club house at Lake Pauline.

Rev. and Mrs. Russell McAnally and children of Olton visited here Monday with Mr. and Mrs. John Rader and family. Rev. McAnally is a former pastor of the Crowell Methodist Church.

THE POWER OF A FOUNTAIN PEN AND A PIECE OF PAPER!

Consider the financial magic of pen and paper when you have a checking account. Whenever you want to pay a bill, secure cash, or make any kind of payment, you simply write out a check. The bank takes care of all the behind-the-scenes details to back up what you've written.

And consider the convenience. You avoid the risks of carrying too much cash; you save time and trips in making payments; check stubs give you a record of all expenditures and cancelled checks provide a bona fide receipt.

If you haven't a checking account now, plan to open one at this bank with your next income check.

THE WILDCAT

(Continued from page 2) I want to see if they put my name in. 2nd student: Well, they're doing it different this year. It's more interesting. It's like a letter telling in an interesting way the events of the week. I like it. Mr. Hesse (reading paper): Hey, Martha! Where's that piece I told you to put in the paper about the band? Martha (band reporter): I gave it to Mrs. Manard. I'll go ask her why it's not in the paper! Mrs. Manard (in reply): Oh, it's in there. It was just the thing we needed to complete the write-up about the Wildcat game. So, please you readers, bear with us. This business of getting the paper ready to go to the news office by Monday afternoon is really a job. There is no time set aside for the students to plan, work, or to check. It is done strictly on the basis of each pupil's do-

Wildcat Gossip

(Dedicated to Lizzy, Sonny, Speedy, Johnny, Bobby and Lowell.) This week we thought we would dedicate our gossip column to all of the students of CHS that are attending North Texas State College to let you in on all that has happened since you have left for college.

The schools' spirit was really beaming after another victorious game Friday night and we hope we can keep it up when we engage in our conference games.

Couples at the ball game Friday night were Jeanie-Joe, Roxie-Jimmy, Gayle-Freddie, Mary Ann-Albert.

Seen together Friday and Saturday nights were Margie and Duane. They have really been taking in all the sights lately. Thomas-Janie Bowers, Dale-Carol, Don-Wanda, Jimmy-Roxie, Wesley-Gayle, and wife and others. Boob-Kay made it to the dance Saturday night.

Gerald, what happened to you Saturday night? The scandal knows.

Carol and Dale were having a little trouble Saturday night. It seems as if one of Dale's old flames showed up everywhere they went. Wonder what her name was?

Wanda Moore and Don Hunter were together Saturday and Sunday. Maybe a new romance is blossoming in our midst.

Jerry Ann spent her week end with relatives in Plainview. We hear she had a wonderful time visiting friends at Lubbock and attending the Tech game Saturday night with Billy.

A cute gal whose initials are W. D. has her eye on Edward Page.

Joyce Latimer and Henry Faske really have got up a case. Is it steady or not? CHS would like to know.

What happened to George and Fauntine? Could this be something new? Together Saturday night and Sunday afternoon were Don-Wanda, Dale-Carol. Could this be a new case, Don and Wanda?

Wesley seems to have his eye on two sophomore girls. Could they be Kay and Margie?

MISS MARY K. CHOWNING Mr. and Mrs. Horace Haynie and her sister, Mrs. Mollie Woodruff, spent Sunday in Stamford visiting the ladies' brother, Clay Markham, and wife and others.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. (Sonny) Eubank and daughter of Meadow spent the week end visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Eubank, and attended church at the First Christian Church where Rev. A. G. Abbott of Electra preached.

Mike Stoker is spending some time in Childress where he is working.

Miss Debbie Johnson of Thalia is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Black.

Mrs. Lottie Whitaker is visiting

Who were the Chillicothe boys riding around with Jo Ann Sunday? One of them couldn't have been Rodney Kennedy, could it? It seems as though there is a new "steady" in CHS. What about this, Carolee and James Riley?

Has Linda Casdell an interest in Bobby Barker? Could this be something?

Rachel Rodriguez seems to like to take trips to Corpus Christi. I wonder if Edward has anything to do with this?

What were Freddie-Gayle, Jimmy-Roxie, Joe-Jeanie, doing Sunday?

Gayle and Larry Sledge were seen together Sunday night. Gayle, how did you get the nickname, "Elsie"?

Gerald - Barbara Sangford, Mike-Anita Hawkins went to church in Quanah Sunday night. These Q-town gals must be good influence.

Thanks to the sponsor, Mr. Myers, the freshmen had an enjoyable time at the Vernon Theater on last Saturday night. They were starved after the show and really absorbed the food—yum, yum—each bite tasted like more.

Gener and Bobby were seen down making the drag Sunday afternoon. They looked real companionable.

Guy Todd Jr. has been making eyes at a certain freshman girl. Guy really thinks Carria's cute. Who doesn't?

Bobby Barker has an interest in Paris, Texas, by the name of Nancy. Maybe this is the reason he won't give the girls in Crowell a chance.

George was seen in Quanah Sunday night. Wonder who he has his eyes on. Maybe it's Betty Kay Richards.

Are Bill Graves and Marketta Boynton going steady? The girls in Crowell want to know.

When you college kids come home, don't forget to drop by to say "hi." We hope you enjoy our Wildcat this year.

Home Demonstration Notes MRS. MARY D. BROWN All clubs are to elect new officers in October. These elections may be done from the floor or the club may have a nominating committee which nominates new officers. If you have a nominating committee, remember that it is also necessary to call for other nominations from the floor. The Foard City Club has voted to study the amendments to be voted on in November as their opening exercise each time. Perhaps other clubs might be interested in doing this. Our recipe this week is: Beef Casserole 2 lbs. round steak, cut in 1-inch cubes, 3 tablespoons shortening, 6 potatoes, 6 large carrots, 6 small onions, 1 No. 2 can tomatoes drained (save liquid), 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 cup liquid from tomatoes (if necessary, add water make 1 cup). Brown steak in shortening. Place steak in 3-quart casserole. Arrange potatoes, carrots, onions and tomatoes over meat in casserole. Add flour, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and liquid from tomatoes to shortening. Pour over vegetables and cover. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 1 hour. Serves 6. Mrs. Gaylon Whitman Honored with Shower at Thalia Last Week Fellowship Hall of the Thalia Methodist Church was the scene of a miscellaneous bridal shower Tuesday afternoon of last week complimenting Mrs. Gaylon Whitman, a recent bride. The shower was sponsored by the ladies of the church.

As the guests arrived, they were presented to the receiving line composed of the honoree, Mrs. B. A. Whitman, Mrs. T. R. Cates, Mrs. Lee Whitman and Mrs. Geo. Bouldin.

The honoree was attired in a slate blue frock accented at the bodice with tiny rhinestones and lace trim. She wore a corsage of pink split carnations, a gift of the hostesses.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen Madeira table cloth over pink, centered with an arrangement which featured two large, entwined wedding hands, which were complemented by tiny pink rosebuds and greenery. The central arrangement was flanked by pink candles. Punch and cookies were served from crystal appointments, the punch bowl was encircled with tiny pink and white mums and greenery. Serving assistants included Mrs. Beverly Gray, Mrs. Fred Gray, Mrs. Duane Naylor, Mrs. Bob Cooper and Mrs. Douglas Tucker.

Mrs. Merle Moore secured signatures of guests in a white leather bride's book. The registry table featured a huge ribbon pom pom with long streamers.

An identical ribboned flower decorated the gift table. Attending the gift display were Mrs. Grover Moore, Mrs. Jim Riley Gafford and Mrs. J. F. Matthews.

Background music was furnished during the afternoon by Mrs. Garner Berg who played love melodies on the piano.

There were 72 guests registered during the afternoon. The out of town guests included: the bride's grandmother, Mrs. George Bouldin of Leuders; the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Lee Whitman of Vernon, Mrs. J. S. McKeever and Mrs. Elmer Miller of Stamford, Mrs. Weidon Bouldin and daughters, Priscilla and Nanette, of Rochester, Mrs. Rufus Whitman of Wichita Falls, Mrs. T. M. Haney, Mrs. Jesse Miller, Mrs. Bertha Shultz and Mrs. Jane Williamson, all of Vernon.

Margaret H. D. Club
The Home Demonstration Club of Margaret met in the home of Mrs. Ray Hysinger Friday, Sept. 26, with Mrs. Hugh Shultz, president, presiding. Roll call was answered by "why I like fall best." There were 11 present.

The program was on decorating cakes and pies, and illustrated by Fannie Middlebrook and Blanche Ross, which proved to be very interesting.

Refreshments of tuna fish salad, olives, cake and orange punch were served by the hostess.

Foard H. D. Council Meeting

The Foard County Home Demonstration Council met Saturday, Sept. 27, with 12 members and 2 visitors present, representing 6 H. D. Clubs.

Mrs. H. L. Shultz of the Margaret club gave the opening exercise. Clubs reported on summer work done. Mrs. Clarence Garrett reported a total of $186.12 in the bank.

Pecan orders are to be in by Friday, October 3. Achievement Day will be held Nov. 22, and Mrs. E. A. Dunagan, EEE chairman, reminded all clubs to start planning now for their exhibits.

Yearbook for next year was read and discussed. Mrs. James Bowers, 4H chairman, gave a report of 4H club work done during the summer.

Mrs. Monroe Karcher and Miss Myrtle Fish reported on their trip to the State THDA meeting.

Mrs. Elton Carroll reported on progress made on plans for a county-wide blood typing program for a walking blood bank.

Mrs. E. A. Dunagan, Mrs. A. B. Calvin and Mrs. Ed Huskey were appointed to serve as a nominating committee for 1959 officers.

Mrs. Mary Brown, CHDA, distributed and discussed annual reports for clubs. Council adjourned to meet again October 18.

Thalia Baptist W. M. S.

The Thalia Baptist W. M. S. met Monday afternoon at the church for the regular business meeting and a review of the book, "Soul Winning."

Mrs. Loyd Fox led the group in singing "The Light of the World is Jesus." The devotional was brought by Mrs. Cap Adkins. Messdames Bill Cates, Loyd Fox, Maggie Wheeler, Cap Adkins and O'Neal Johnson each brought a chapter of the book. The president, Mrs. Wheeler, had charge of the business meeting.

The following officers have been elected for the coming year: Mrs. Maggie Wheeler, president; Mrs. Cap Adkins, vice president; Mrs. W. B. Fitzgerald, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Bill Cates, G. A. leader; Mrs. Walter Ramsey, Sunbeam leader. Bill Taylor will lead the intermediate and junior R. A.'s sponsored by the Brotherhood of the Thalia Baptist Church.

Mrs. Mack Gamble dismissed the group with prayer.

T. E. L. Class

The T. E. L. Class of the First Baptist Church met Sept. 25 in the home of Mrs. C. A. Powell for its regular business and social hour. Mrs. Powell was assisted with hostess duties by Mrs. C. C. McLaughlin. Mrs. Doyle Callaway, president of the class, had charge. Mrs. McLaughlin led in prayer. Mrs. Mary Moore brought the devotional using this subject, "My God shall supply all our need," using scripture from Phil. 4 and 19. Mrs. W. R. Womack led in prayer. Mrs. Moore read a very interesting story, "The Open Door." This portion of the meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Callaway.

After a short business meeting, refreshments were served to 13 members of the class and one guest, Mrs. A. P. Carroll of Houston.

V. F. W. Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary to the V. F. W. held a regular meeting Sept. 25 with the president, Mrs. Bertie Tate, in charge.

The District president, Mrs. Jodie Martin, and Mrs. L. H. Whatley, both of Vernon, were present.

Mrs. Tate turned the meeting over to Mrs. Martin who read the awards and requirements that can be obtained throughout this coming year. She also told of the district encampment which will be held in Henrietta on Oct. 11-12 to which each auxiliary in the district will send a basket of food to be sold to make money for the District Auxiliary treasury.

Refreshments were served to the 7 members and 2 guests at the end of the meeting. A gift was given to Mrs. Martin.

Thalia H. D. Club

The Thalia Home Demonstration Club will meet October 2 (today) at 2:30 at the Thalia School cafeteria. All members are urged to be present as a nominating committee will be appointed at this time to select candidates for officers for the coming year. These candidates will be voted on at the next meeting. Mrs. Ed Huskey will be hostess.
