Fish Killed in Country Club

Following a series of tests made by biologists of the Parks and Wildlife Department which showed the fish population in the Spring Lake Country Club to be stunted and over-populated with undesirable species, the lake was poisoned last Friday morning by the biologists.

The tests were made and the poisoning of the lake were carried out by James Wilcox and Paul Fischer, biologists, and Gene Warren, technician. All three men are from the San Angelo office of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

The tests conducted were the setting of part of the lake with a 100-foot seine, and several hundred feet of gill nets which were left in the lake overnight. Out of some 40 fish taken from the lake by the gill nets, there were two small bass, one crappie, two golden shiner minnows and the rest were bull head catfish (mud cat.) The seining showed the lake to be over-populated with small stunted sunfish.

The rotenone which was placed in the water early Friday morning began to kill the fish by about noon, and a number of local residents were on hand at the lake all day Friday, many of them in boats ready to remove the large fish with dip nets. However, a small number of large bass were recovered. Mostly there were countless numbers of sunfish. The mud catfish were swimming to the top Sunday afternoon. It was estimated that about 35 pounds of edible dressed fish came from the lake.

Mr. Wilcox said that the State will re-stock the lake in the spring and he cautioned local residents and members of the Country Club that no voluntary stocking of the lake should take place. The same size bass and channel catfish are more desirable to stock the lake and the proper number for best growth of the fish can be maintained if only one source is used for stocking. He added that normally, water in this section of Texas will grow from 200 to 300 pounds of fish per surface acre per year.

Mr. Wilcox said that the Country Club at the present time contains 13 acre feet of water, the deepest place in the lake is 7 feet, and the average depth of the lake is 4 feet. To show how the lake was overstocked, he had a 2-inch bass which had to be at least six or eight months old, and had made practically no growth during its lifetime.

Others who assisted the biologists with the fish kill here were Foard County Game Warden Charles Talbert, State Game Warden Vick Lowery of Knox City, and Federal Game Warden Don Kriebel of Lubbock.

Mr. Wilcox said that in the near future, his department will send the Country Club officers some recommendations as to fertilizing the lake to control the moss and feed the fish, and also how they can kill the catfish which surround the lake. The biologists returned to San Angelo early Saturday morning.

EDITORIAL

Courage Is Not a Sometime Thing

To live in this world, we have to possess courage. Many times we face trials—sickness, accidents, disappointments, failures,— and when they come they can destroy us unless we have developed an inner strength.

We are confronted with problems every day. If life seems to be extra hard for us, we should ask ourselves honestly just what the trouble is. We often have a tendency to blame others when trouble arises. The truth is that the problem is not beyond our control; the solution—courage—is within us.

If we feel weak and defeated, the reason may be that we have allowed failure to dominate our thoughts, causing us to believe that we do not have the courage to succeed.

All the strength that we will ever need to handle anything is within us now. It was put there by our Creator, who knows the problems that will confront us in this life. We must first use our courage; then, through this strength, we can control our problems.—Jo Wynn Ekern.

West Texas Utilities to Pass Income Tax Savings to Customers

Savings resulting from the reduction in federal income taxes will be passed on to West Texas Utilities customers according to plans for system-wide rate reductions announced this week. These reductions in rates will save customers about $1 million annually, approximately 2.8 per cent at this time. Savings will be even greater as electric sales grow.
J. C. Randel, WTU district manager, announced that the company plans to pass on the full benefits of the tax reduction it will receive under the new tax law. Under the new law the income tax on corporations will be reduced in two steps of 2 per cent each. The corporate income tax will go from 52 per cent to 50 per cent in 1964 and from 50 per cent to 48 per cent in 1965.
"We are giving customers the benefit of both the tax reduction already established for 1964 and the tax reduction scheduled for 1965," Cal Yung, WTU president said. "Passing this tax saving on to customers in the form of rate reductions will simply leave the

400 Candles

On April 23, 1964, a great light will blaze forth around the world as each country lights 400 candles in celebration of the birth of William Shakespeare. A great many words will be spoken and written in his honor, but more important than all the ceremonies and the speeches will be the performances of his plays. These plays are the only true reflection of Mr. Shakespeare, and it is through them that we have come to know his unusual genius and vast human understanding.

The CHS Library has several volumes of his plays. Hundreds of new books will appear during the anniversary year. His philosophy, his characters, his understanding are still alive today in the action of his plays.
The most popular Shakespeare plays taught in the secondary schools over the nation are Macbeth for twelfth grade and Julius Caesar for tenth grade.

C. H. S. Report

Ex-students home during the week end were Delton and Jo Carol Brown, Jim Mac and Gaye Gafford, Loy Hopkins and Charles ten Brink.

Whose Zoo?

If you were all the things a copybook recommends, you'd be: "Wise as an owl," "busy as a bee," "quiet as a mouse," "provident as an ant," "Our personal preference is to be "crazy as a loon," "blind as a bat," "mad as a hornet," "proud as a peacock."

You see, an owl isn't wise; he just looks that way, disguising his slow wit and dullness. Bees spend a lot of time "leaning on their shovels;" a bee actually works only a very small fraction of the time. Mice are notorious racketeers; they will spend hours rolling acorns or nuts along a floor just to hear the racket. The ant hardly ever puts away enough food for more than one rainy day; the fabled cricket was fortunate it didn't need to learn from the ant how to hoard food.

On the other hand, the loon is one of the smartest of wild birds; only his call sounds crazy. Bats have remarkable vision, but because they are night feeders, their eyes have become unaccustomed to sunlight. A hornet has an exemplary temper, and never gets angry; but when alarmed, it will sting in self-defense. And if I had no more excessive pride than a peacock, I certainly would be recognized as a very modest man. The peacock's plumage display is merely a mating habit.—Copied.

V. A. Classes Tour Stockyards

Last Thursday, Feb. 27, Mr. Myers' VA II, III and IV classes took a trip to the stock yards in Vernon to find out how it is operated. They left at 12:30 and returned late in the afternoon. The first and most interesting phase of the tour was the hog division. Bob Jacobs showed this division and explained the process by which the pigs are raised till time for market.
Next on the agenda was a look at the feeding division. An interesting explanation of how the feed is stored, ground, and made into various formulas by the machinery was given.
Last on the tour, Doug Stevenson showed the feeding lots in which the fat stock are kept. There were almost 5,000 animals there Thursday; the capacity is about 10,000. The animals are placed in pens according to size and form, and then fattened out for market. The FFA boys would like to thank Bert Ekern and all the rest of the men who helped make the trip both interesting and informative.

You see, an owl isn't wise; he just looks that way, disguising his slow wit and dullness. Bees spend a lot of time "leaning on their shovels;" a bee actually works only a very small fraction of the time. Mice are notorious racketeers; they will spend hours rolling acorns or nuts along a floor just to hear the racket. The ant hardly ever puts away enough food for more than one rainy day; the fabled cricket was fortunate it didn't need to learn from the ant how to hoard food.

On the other hand, the loon is one of the smartest of wild birds; only his call sounds crazy. Bats have remarkable vision, but because they are night feeders, their eyes have become unaccustomed to sunlight. A hornet has an exemplary temper, and never gets angry; but when alarmed, it will sting in self-defense. And if I had no more excessive pride than a peacock, I certainly would be recognized as a very modest man. The peacock's plumage display is merely a mating habit.—Copied.

V. A. Classes Tour Stockyards

Last Thursday, Feb. 27, Mr. Myers' VA II, III and IV classes took a trip to the stock yards in Vernon to find out how it is operated. They left at 12:30 and returned late in the afternoon. The first and most interesting phase of the tour was the hog division. Bob Jacobs showed this division and explained the process by which the pigs are raised till time for market.
Next on the agenda was a look at the feeding division. An interesting explanation of how the feed is stored, ground, and made into various formulas by the machinery was given.
Last on the tour, Doug Stevenson showed the feeding lots in which the fat stock are kept. There were almost 5,000 animals there Thursday; the capacity is about 10,000. The animals are placed in pens according to size and form, and then fattened out for market. The FFA boys would like to thank Bert Ekern and all the rest of the men who helped make the trip both interesting and informative.

Christ and Politics

Astronaut John Glenn in politics—running for the U. S. Senate! It seems odd to think of him in a political race, but evidently he feels he can serve his country best in politics.

But did you ever think of Christ's relation to politics? He came into this world, remember, as a King. The very opening words of the New Testament are: "Jesus Christ, the Son of David . . ." (Matt. 1:1). This emphasizes the fact that He came from the royal line. John the Baptist had gone forth as the King's herald, to prepare His way, and the twelve apostles proclaimed His royal rights as they preached "the gospel of the kingdom." This was all in fulfillment of Isaiah's prophecy: "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon His shoulder; and His name shall be called, Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. Of the increase of His government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David . . ." (Isa. 9:6,7).

Instead of crowning Him King at His first coming, however, they nailed Him to a cross and wrote over His head His accusation: "This is Jesus, the King of the Jews."

Strangely, though, He had come especially, this first time, to be rejected and crucified for the sins of men. Psalm 22, Isaiah 53 and other Old Testament passages had predicted that at His first coming He would be despised and rejected. As Matt. 20:28 says of this coming: "The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give His life a ransom for many."

Our Lord did not die an untimely death; the cross was not a useless sacrifice. He knew that man's greatest need was moral and spiritual—that his sins must be paid for if he is not to be condemned forever before the court of eternal Justice. So in love He came to be rejected and suffer and die "the Just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God" (1 Pet. 3:18).

He will come again to judge and reign but for the present He deals with mankind in grace. Eph. 1:6 says that "in Him we have redemption, through His blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace" and Rom. 3:24 says that believers are "justified freely by God's grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus."

Government Must Persuade or Appeal
 to Private Capital

Ralph T. Moore writes in the Oregon Voter: "The President has set a goal of 75 million jobs to meet the growing demand for employment and this figure seems very reasonable in view of the approximately 70 million now employed and the persistent 5 million who are not employed but are presumably actively seeking jobs. The magnitude of this added 5 million jobs, however, assumes a much different proportion when translated into the required investment capital that must be spent before these jobs can be created. At the figure of $20,000 per job, a modest estimate in the light of present costs, the sum required will be $100 billion or the approximate amount of the present annual national budget. So if these jobs are to be created at once, the taxes would have to be doubled if government was to do the job. But government lacks creative power and works mostly by taking from one source to give to another without adding to the whole. In this job-creating business, government can obviously only persuade or appeal to private capital."

Scheduled Airlines
 Carried 70 Million
 Passengers in 1963

"In January, 1914, just 10 years and a few weeks after the Wrights flew at Kitty Hawk, pilot Tony Jannus took off in a Benoist Airboat with one passenger from St. Petersburg, Fla., and flew across the bay to Tampa . . . In 1963, reports the Air Transport Association of America, the nation's scheduled airlines carried almost 70 million passengers."—Great Falls, Mont., Leader.

Most Prominent Fraudulent Activity

Former Postmaster General Day says: "The peddling of fake medical cures is the most prominent fraudulent activity conducted through the United States mails today. CHEVELLE! by CHEVROLET—a great highway performer

Chevelle balanced performance is best!

Passing, cornering, threading through traffic, sudden stops—Chevelle excels all around! Chevrolet's new surprise package has what it takes to meet any driving challenge: Six or V8 engines, hefty brakes, Full Coil suspension—and a trim size that makes the most of them!

Chevelle means performance aplenty—standard 120-hp Six or 195-hp V8—and optional at extra cost, a 155-hp Six, a 220-hp V8, a new 327-cu.-in. V8! But Chevelle's performance means more. Chevelle's a foot shorter than the big cars. And the space Chevelle saves in size comes off the ends, not the middle. So it rides like you want a car to ride.

Chevelle lets you choose Power-glide*, 4-speed manual* or 3-speed manual transmission. Knowing how people like the custom touch, we wrote out a long list of extra-cost options. Knowing all this, what's keeping you from a test drive? Certainly not your Chevrolet dealer!

Bride Honored with Shower at Henry Borchardt Home

Mrs. Larry Andrews, the former Alta Nell Bartley, was named honoree of a bridal shower Saturday, Feb. 29, at the home of Mrs. Henry Borchardt.

As the guests arrived, they were greeted by Mrs. W. J. Garrett and presented to the honoree, and the mothers of the couple, Mrs. C. S. Bartley and Rex Andrews. The honoree was attractively attired in a beige suit with a corsage of apricot carnations, a gift of the hostesses.

Balancing the punch bowl was an arrangement of apricot carnations surrounded by candles. White napkins were inscribed in gold with "Alta and Larry." Completing the table decor were appointments of crystal. Assisting with serving were Misses Carolee Olyphant and Elly Wehba.

2. Texas today has 1,421 school districts; in 1949, it had 4,474. Consolidation has caused this decrease.
3. Texas now needs 7,600 teachers as replacements for those now employed who do not meet the minimum requirements for certification.
4. Forty-nine Texas colleges and universities now offer approved programs for preparation of teachers.
5. More than 9,000 teachers now employed in Texas public schools could retire now on full benefits.
6. More than 97 per cent of Texas teachers hold bachelor's degrees; 38 per cent hold master's degrees.
7. Texas ranks 26th among the 50 states in average salary paid teachers; the beginning minimum salary for a teacher with a bachelor's degree in Texas is $4,014.
8. Texas spent $879 per child in 1962-63 and ranked 33rd among the 50 states; the national average was $432.
9. Requirements for graduation from high school include 16 units, in addition to health and physical education; a student must complete 3 units in English, 2 1/2 units of social studies, 2 units of mathematics, and 2 units of laboratory, and an additional 6 1/2 elective units.
10. Major items of income in support of the public schools are derived from the property tax, crude oil tax, natural gas tax, cigarette tax, insurance tax, occupation tax, liquor tax, motor fuel tax, motor vehicle tax, limited sales tax, and interest on investments of the permanent fund.
11. The cost of the minimum foundation program is divided on an 80 per cent - 20 per cent basis, with the state paying the larger share.

JOE WARD IS BACK ON THE JOB AT BORCHARDT-GOODWIN CHEVROLET

after attending a spectacular mass driveaway of new CORVAIRS at Arlington, Texas, sponsored by the Dallas Zone of Chevrolet Motor Division. Mr. Ward is shown accepting the keys to his 1964 Corvair from Mr. W. A. McKee, Dallas Zone Manager.

Along with 157 other Chevrolet dealers, Mr. Ward made an extensive tour of the General Motors assembly plant which recently added Chevrolet passenger car assembly to its responsibilities. The factory inspection trip preceded a business session where the growing opportunities of the expanding youth market, multi-car families and the influence of women in today's marketing were reviewed for visiting dealers. The opportunities for Corvair sales in these markets were stressed since it is the only economical, rear engine, fun-to-drive car made in America!

This is the Time of
Year to Plan on Growing Quail Food

"This is the time of year to begin making plans for producing quail food for the fall season," suggests Joe Davidson, quail specialist for the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Davidson advises that a population of quail will depend in many instances on the careful planning and soil management practices of the landowner.

One method of supplying food is the disking and plowing of pasture land strips near brushy areas and fence rows. By disking now, weed seeds will be turned under for the fall weed crop so vital to wildlife. Good stands of ragweed, croton or goatweed, and partridge pea often will mean a supply of quail for hunters and landowners.

Many 4H and FFA groups are cooperating with the Parks and Wildlife Department in a bob-white quail restoration program. Habitat improvement studies are being conducted on many farms in Texas. Persons connected with these groups may secure additional information by writing the department in Austin.

Changes in Wheat Standards Are Effective May 1

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will tighten official United States standards for grades of wheat effective May 1.

In his announcement, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said the new standards would improve the competitive position of U. S. wheat in world markets; help combat restrictive trade policies in some areas; enable the Commodity Credit Corporation to better guarantee the quality of grain owned by the public; provide substantial taxpayer savings in the export subsidy program; and strengthen the price of wheat for the farmer who grows a quality product.

In general, the new standards—based on smaller ranges of tolerance for grades—will mean less dirt, foreign matter and dockage in American wheat. Quality factors of weight, soundness and cleanliness can be more readily and more precisely measured today than in the past.

Maximum limits are set for "total defects"—damage kernels, foreign material and shrunk kernels. Total defects in grade No. 1 have been set at 3 per cent, in grade No. 2 at 5 per cent. Limits are also set in the other numerical grades.

Limits for shrunken and broken kernels are cut from 5 to 3 per cent for grade No. 1 and 12 per cent for grade No. 4 and 20 per cent for grade No. 5.

Minimum moisture content for wheat graded "tough" is reduced from 14 or 14.5 per cent (depending on the class) to 13.5 per cent for all classes. The change also eliminates moisture as a factor in determining sample grade.

"Dockage" is recorded in half per cent with other fractions reduced to the nearest whole or half. Dockage is material other than wheat which may be readily removed by cleaning. It is not a grade determining factor but recorded on inspection certificate. These changes, explains Tom Aaron, grain marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, are intended to better reflect the quality of the wheat in the price received by the producer. During a transition period after May 1, grain inspectors will, on request, show the grade of wheat under both standards.

Avoids Realities

"Taxwise the nation (federal government) avoids realities, demands its heavy income tax from the people at large, supports many tax exempt projects will, on request, show the grade of wheat under both standards."

It is interesting to note that the importation of U. S.-made goods to Japan has been on the upsurge. U. S. News & World Record said that U. This Is Doubtful

"Of the present $6 billion worth of U. S. farm exports, $4.2 billion are sold for hard currency, the remaining $1.8 billion being given away as part of the 'food for peace' program. This largesse goes, in varying quantities, to 91 different countries. The theory is that, once having become more developed, these countries then will be cash customers. This is doubtful. . . Giving things away too often creates only resentment on the part of the recipient because he is forced to accept charity. Nations are but individuals in the mass."—Harrisonburg, Va. News-Record.

Wrong Idea

"Too many Congressmen have the idea that everything is accomplished when they appropriate money."—Cuero, Texas, Record.
