Producers Urged to Study Feed Grain Program Provisions

Grain producers should carefully weigh the advantages and disadvantages of the recently announced feed grain program and apply them to their own situations before making a decision whether or not to participate. According to Joe Burkett, county agent, there is only one best way to make the determinations—take a pencil and paper and do some figuring. Figure the gains and losses that might be expected to result from participation or non-participation in the program.

The agent points out that the effect of the program on net farm income may depend on several factors. The farmer who participates may earn extra income from some or all of the following sources: payments for diverting grain sorghum acreages into conservation uses; higher support prices for grain sold under the program and earnings from labor saved and put to other uses. In addition, there may be savings in out-of-pocket costs which would have been spent for producing and harvesting grain sorghum from the diverted acres.

On the other hand, he says, farmers going into the program should take into account such losses as the costs of maintaining acres diverted to conservation uses; costs of extra livestock feed which might have to be purchased to replace production from diversion. C. R. Seale also made a point of the reduced income from grain sorghum as a result of the reduced acreage.

The agent suggests that every grain farmer do some checking on the items listed and others which should be taken into account to see how his earnings might be affected. The expected gains from participating in the program should be totaled along with losses in income that might occur. Simple subtraction will show the net gain or loss that can be expected. The agent points out that only cost and return items affected by the feed grain program should be considered and these may involve other items of the farm business besides the grain sorghum enterprise.

Another advantage which should be seriously considered, says the agent, is the insurance phase of the program. Participation in the program will insure income even though the grain sorghum crop is a failure. There may also be savings in production credit needed because of the advance cash payments allowed under the program and future crop yields may be improved as a result of conservation practices carried out on the diverted acres.

It was emphasized that no grain sorghum grower should pass up an opportunity to get the facts on the program, and in turn, urge that the information gained be used in making a thorough analysis of their own situation.

Information on the feed grain program may be obtained from county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office or the local county agricultural agent.

Subsidized by Government

"TVA, according to its creators, was designed to become a yardstick to take the measure of electric current—to determine its cost and a fair price for it.

"TVA was subsidized by the Government, having no stockholders it need not produce a profit, a political pet it is not forced to pay any taxes. How can such a crooked yardstick take the fair measure of electric current produced by privately owned companies that must be financed under the good old free enterprise system, and must show a profit over and above a heavy tax burden to stay in business?"—Gulfport, Miss., Guide.

Oil production from Canyon sand and Strawn has been indicated at Kewanee Oil Company's No. 1 Sandifer, section 369, block A, H&TC survey, Foard County wildcat, 1 1/2 miles east of Crowell and six miles west, southwest of the Thalia pool.

Initial test of the Strawn at 3,234 to 3,218 feet surfaced gas in 59 minutes. Recovery on the two-hour test was 160 feet oil and 20 feet of heavily mud-cut oil.

Four-hour test of the Strawn at 4,260 to 4,320 feet surfaced gas in eight minutes and oil in 24 hours, with the wildcat flowing 11 barrels of oil in one hour and 20 minutes.

Final recovery was 3,750 feet of oil, 167 feet of mud-cut oil, 52 feet of heavily gas and oil-cut mud and 26 feet of salty mud.

Eight-hour test of the Strawn at 4,380 to 4,398 feet returned 670 feet of gas, 65 feet of slightly oil and salt water-cut mud and 50 feet of salt water. One-hour test at 4,455 to 4,530 feet returned 45 feet of oil-cut mud and drilling continued below 4,600 feet.

Foard County Soil Survey Is Completed

Foard County is one of the first counties in this portion of the state to be surveyed under the new standard soil survey set up by the Department of Agriculture.

The Soil Conservation Service, in cooperation with the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station, were assigned the job of completing the soil survey of Foard County. William M. Kooos and Marvin L. Dixon, soil scientists from the Vernon office of the Soil Conservation Service, made the survey.

The purpose of the survey is to give a detailed inventory of the soil. With this information every acre of land can be classified into their capabilities and ultimately treated according to its needs.

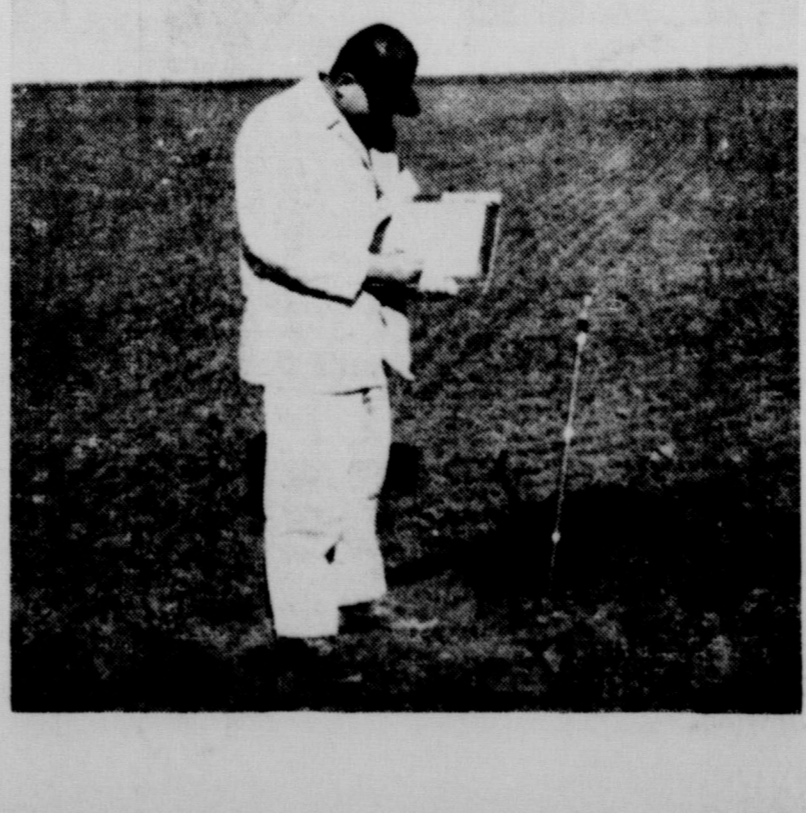

Conservationists of the Soil Conservation Service use this soils information as a part of their technical assistance to cooperators of the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District. They use it to help farmers select cropping systems and practices suitable for each field. Agriculture engineers use it in designing ponds, terraces, drainage systems, irrigation systems and watershed protection structures.

The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads uses the soils information in road construction and maintenance.

Soil survey information is gaining widespread use by land appraisers, real estate dealers, housing developers, tax assessors and others.

The Foard County standard soil survey will be published and made available to individuals and all public users.

Cooperation—The Essence of a Successful
 Fire Department

Why is cooperation the essence of a successful fire department? In a fire department, as in any other organization, cooperation is the basis for success. Each member in this case, each fireman—must do his own individual job. However, he must also cooperate with the other people involved in order to accomplish the goals of the department. The fire department, in fact, is like a machine whose separate parts work together efficiently to secure the necessary result. This "smooth running" department, though, needs help and cooperation not only from within but also from without. External cooperation can only come from the citizens of the community. Although the people may realize the importance of a fire department, they must also learn "their" obligation to it. By supporting the department financially through contributing to its fund raising campaigns, they can fulfill one phase of their duty. This duty, though, goes beyond mere "money matters." Yes, the townspeople must extend their cooperation to time of need—the time when fires threaten lives and property. They must refrain from "chasing the fire truck" and becoming pushing, grawking sight-seers who impair the vital work of the firemen. In doing this, they will become better citizens. Yes, cooperation can build better citizens, and better citizens can build better communities—communities where effective organizations such as fire departments provide protection for all. Thus, to cooperate is to succeed. Cooperation among and between firemen and citizens establishes a safe, secure, and successful future today and tomorrow!

What Does Freedom
 Mean to You?

Have you ever asked yourself, "What does freedom mean to me?" Does freedom mean simply the privilege of not having to worry about living under the dictator's rule?

Freedom, taken apart letter by letter, could well mean the following:

F could stand for franchise or the right of suffrage;

R could be for representation in making today's laws as the people want them;

E could stand for education for all, not just the gifted;

E could stand for economics in our government as well as in our industry;

D could stand for democracy and the democratic way of life;

O could be for opportunity to choose your own occupation, religion, party affiliation, and friends;

M could be for morality and your moral ideals.

Take freedom apart letter by letter and see what freedom is to you. — Copied.

Should Be Removed
 When It Expires

"Will Congress let the 'temporary' gasoline tax—the four cents levied by the federal government? The money help build the interstate highway system. But a matter of principle is involved.

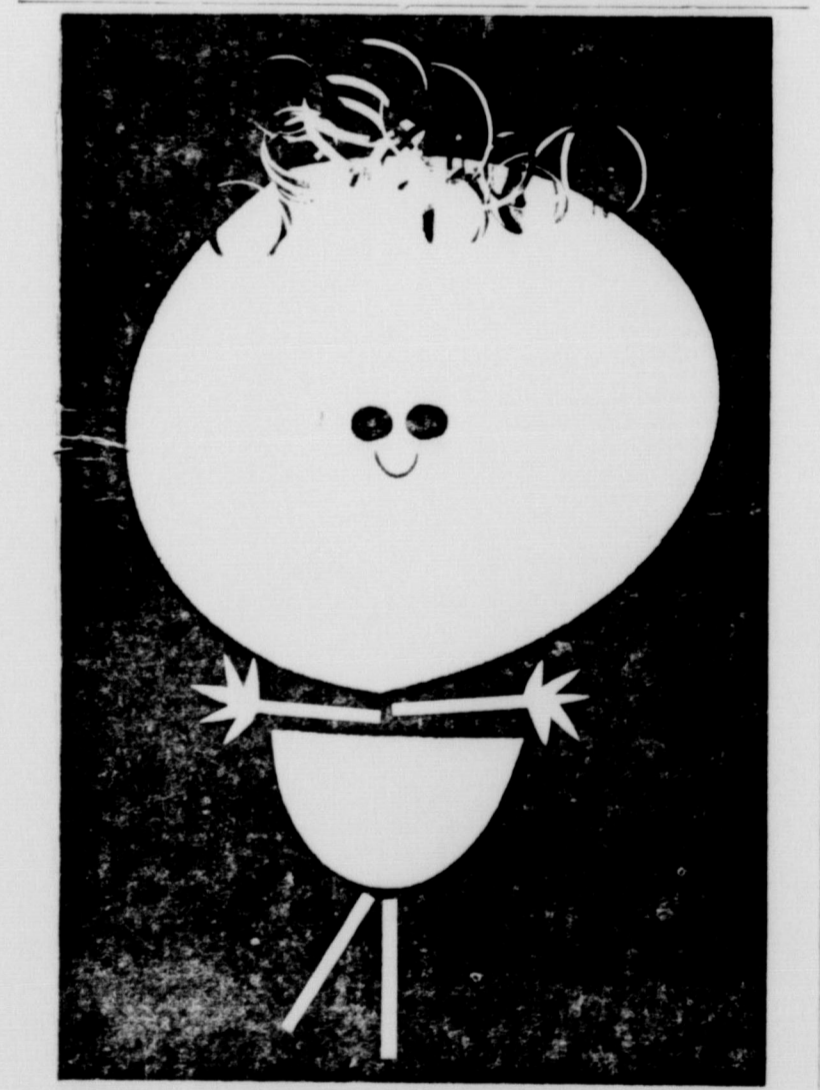

"This principle is an unrealistic belief that a tax levied, is never removed.

"The people would like to see just once, a temporary tax stay when it expires, rather than stay on the books forever."—Riverport, Wyo., Ranger.

"For over thirty years the Texas Cowboy Reunion has provided entertainment through rodeos and western shows whose participants are non-professional cowboys — and the House of Representatives of the 57th Legislature commends these citizens for their part in preservation of a part of Texas history, and for their outstanding rodeos and frontier shows."

ian, reported last week. Dr. Jenkins described the two diseases as being "acute, infectious diseases which are very similar both in symptoms and post-mortem findings." He suggested that carcasses of dead animals be disposed of, preferably by burning.

Blackleg, he said, is principally a disease of young cattle six months to two years old, while malignant edema is encountered in cattle, sheep, hogs, horses and mules of all ages. First symptoms are high fever, loss of appetite, rapid breathing and suspension of rumination," he added. "Affected animals are inclined to stand or lie away from the main herd and usually show lameness if forced to move. Characteristic swellings that pit and crackle on pressure usually develop in the tissues under the skin. As these swellings increase in size, the temperature increases, breathing becomes fast, and the sick animals usually are not able to stand."

A veterinarian's diagnosis of animals sick or dead is necessary to properly diagnose blackleg and malignant edema to institute proper treatment and preventive measures, he said.

Anglers Given Reminder About Fishing Permits

This is the time of the year when many fishermen get caught without licenses, according to Capt. E. M. Spratt, director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

In the arrest report for the month of March there were 111 persons arrested for fishing without first buying the regular $2.15 license required. This license is required for all persons between the ages of 17 and 65, who fish outside their home county, or who fish with any type of winding device, such as rod and reel, regardless of where they fish.

The $2.15 license applies to residents and non-residents alike. It can be bought in practically all sporting goods stores and many other places throughout the state. Game wardens also arrested 27 night hunters during the same period of time. Although several were arrested for netting violations, no arrests were made during the month for "telephoning" fish. In all, there were 245 arrests which netted fines and court costs of $5,929.40.

The law enforcement director warned that with the approaching summer months, all fishermen should be careful to have their required licenses. While persons over 65 years of age are not required to have a license, there is an exemption certificate available for the asking, and it is good to have one of these in possession because it properly establishes the age when the fisherman is checked by a game warden.

Plus Factors Listed in the Economy

The Portland Oregonian reports on some plus factors in the economy: "The vertically-integrated economy index, that over 1960 recorded an all-time high. The total national product, for example, went over $180,000,000,000 for the first time, at a total of $181,200,000,000. A per cent higher than 1959 industrial production, too, was at a record high, an index of 180 based on a 1957 base level of 100. Total personal income was $100,000,000,000, a high of $92,000,000,000, and a high of $100,000,000,000 was registered in 1960, nearly $100,000,000,000 more than the American people ever had to spend before in a single year."

(and that's the car more people are buying!)
There's nothing like one of these Jet-smooth Chevrolets to fit into your summer travel plans. They're built to take long trips in stride—from the special brand of "git" they've got under the hood (choose from 26 engine-transmission hookups designed to please the most persnickety driving foot) to the cave-sized totin' area in the rear (the tailgate opening so that wagon measures nearly 5 feet across). And every gentle riding Jet-smooth model brings you Body by Fisher features you won't find in any other car in Chevrolet's field—wide stroke parallel action windshield wipers, convenient crank-operated ventpanes, one key that fits all locks. No wonder more people are buying Chevrolets than any other make! And right now—with things brightening up all over the land—you couldn't pick a better time to drop in and check the beautiful buys that are blossoming out at your dealer's.

Riverside H. D. Club

The Riverside H. D. Club met at 3 p. m. April 18 at the club room with nine members present.

After the opening exercises, roll call was answered by "my most embarrassing experience."

Some of the experiences were very amusing.

Mrs. Roy Ayers, leader, brought one of the most instructive and interesting programs held this year with the subject being "Table Etiquette."

She began her discussion by reading from Amy Vanderbilt's book, "The Complete Book of Etiquette" and then gave a most interesting comparison of the change in customs which come with the changes in time.

She pointed out that in this rapidly-changing world, courtesy is more necessary than ever but it is not nearly so formal as in preceding generations.

After the program, Mrs. Ayers served fruit punch and cookies and a social hour was enjoyed.

The club planned a family basket dinner in the club room on Sunday, April 30, to start National H. D. week by honoring the charter members and new members.

Gambleville H. D. Club

Mrs. Maggie Gentry was hostess to the members of the Gambleville H. D. Club Friday, April 21. Mrs. Bernice Carroll, chairman, presided during the business session.

In the absence of the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Gertrude Morgan read and recorded minutes, each member answering roll call with "my most embarrassing moment."

Mrs. Grethel Cobb gave a report of the civil defense program. For the opening exercise, Mrs. Gentry read an article entitled "Faults."

For the program, Mrs. Jo Haynes gave a very good discussion on table etiquette. The hostess gift was presented to Mrs. Myrtle Mills.

Refreshments were served to 11 members and two guests, Mrs. Mills and Miss Lesley Prosser.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Thelma Jo Prosser May 5.

Adelphian Club

The Adelphian Club met in regular session at the club house on April 19.

The meeting was opened by singing "Blest Be the Tie." Mrs. W. B. Johnson gave the devotion.

Mrs. Johnson gave a report on the Santa Rosa district convention which was held in Wichita Falls April 12 and 13. Mrs. Ray Shirley read the resolutions which were accepted at the district convention.

Mrs. Glyndon Johnson accepted membership into the club.

Mrs. Jack Turner was leader for the afternoon program on "Harmony in Family Living," and was assisted by Mrs. Earl Hesse.

A delicious refreshment plate was served by Mrs. Shirley. The next meeting will be in Mrs. Walter Stapp's home.

Cheerleaders For Sale

In order for the Crowell High Wildcat cheerleaders to have a bigger and better squad next year, we are selling out our abilities for work.

We would like to experience a new movement during the summer and attend Summer Cheerleading School. The school is held during the latter part of July.

We will mow grass, accept baking orders, baby sit, and at a later date, we will hold a car wash.

We would truly like to attend this school. At the school we will be under control Herkmer, who is "Mr. Cheerleader of the United States," and we will learn how to plan a pep rally, do skits, new yells, and help us to learn new tricks. This will help us a great deal as we enter the next season. We will be the ones to represent our school to other pep squads. Please help us to be ready for the challenge.

If you ask us to do anything, we promise that it will be done with justice because attending this school will help us to be better leaders.

If you would like to call in an order for a pastry order, or anything else you need done, please phone 684-3681.

Should Reflect Reduction Federal Spending

"There has been a great deal of talk that the new administration may well be advised to make some temporary tax cuts as one means of getting the economy 'moving' again. . . . The dissident 'thought' occurs: Is this what taxes are for? Are they meant to provide the necessary costs of government, or are they intended to be a magic wand that will change or cure, speed or retard our economic and social enterprises? A tax cut, even though temporary, settlement of disputes; to insure the adequacy of our armaments for an end to the arms race; to insure the adequacy of our diplomacy and defense against longer distinct alternatives; to be used where the other alternatives must complement each other."
