Program Completed for Annual Meeting of Oklahoma Co-Ops.

A star-studded program has been arranged for the annual meeting of the Oklahoma Association of Electric Cooperatives Jan. 23-24, according to Czar D. Langston Jr., manager.

U. S. Senator A. S. "Mike" Monroney will be the principal speaker. He is backed by an array of outstanding speakers.

Governor Henry Bellmon will open the annual meeting with an official welcome. The governor's farm near Billings is served by rural electric power. The keynote address of the first session will be by Norman Clapp, REA administrator of Washington, D. C. A former newspaperman-publisher, Clapp will discuss operations of REA as he finds them today.

Other speakers programmed for the first day include Douglas Wright, SPA administrator of Tulsa; Charles A. Robinson, N. R. E. C. A. representative from Washington, D. C. and Elbert E. Karns, manager of Western Farmers Electric Cooperative headquarters in Anadarko.

Senator Monroney will address some 800 persons at the Thursday banquet at the Skirvin Hotel.

Dr. Oliver S. Willham, Oklahoma State University president, will speak at the convention Friday, Jan. 24. Harry Oswald, manager of the Arkansas Statewide Association will follow Dr. Willham on the speaker's platform. State champions in a recent Oklahoma Farmers Union speech contest will address the meeting just before it closes at noon Friday.

A special program is planned for women attending the first day of the meeting. Mrs. Paul Hiatt, Bethany, Mo., is the principal speaker at a Thursday noon luncheon.

Let's Keep It That Way

"The United States is a wealthy nation, but even a wealthy man can dissipate his wealth and die a pauper. We have spent billions of dollars to improve the world, but what is happening in our country? . . . While bettering conditions abroad, or attempting to, our morals at home are sharply dropping, with an ever growing crime rate. These range from high levels to petty thievery. There are murders and senseless beatings and maimings, rape of women and even little girls, many of these to be found in the Capitol City, even in the shadows of the Capitol Building. City streets are unsafe by night and often by day . . . Let's consider the United States for awhile. It is a great country—let's keep it that way."—Gillespie, Ill., Area News.

1964 Farmer Tax Guides Available

The 1964 edition of the Farmer's Tax Guide is now available, says Joe Burkett, county agent. This handy, easy-to-read guide to every phase of farm income contains information applicable to tax reporting, Burkett explains. It shows sample returns completely filled out with an explanation of the figures, he says.

Investment credit, one of the newer features of the tax structure, is fully explained in the new guide. It points out that a reduction in taxes paid for 1963 is based on tangible personal property and real property acquired last year. As much as seven per cent of the cost of these items is allowed as a deduction but the percentage varies with the useful life of the assets, says Burkett.

Another feature of the guide is an explanation of how to sell a farm on installments and examples are given to help clarify the procedure for computing taxable gain. Also an explanation of depreciation methods and the additional first year depreciation is given, says Burkett.

Other sections of the guide cover the importance of good records, farm business expenses, farm inventories, casualty losses and thefts, an explanation on completing the return, and many more.

Copies of the Farmer's Tax Guide are available from Burkett.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Austin, Tex.—For the past three months, Texas has led the nation in the number of people taking a newly-developed, 11-lesson course in "Medical Self-Help."

Prepared by the U. S. Public Health Service, the plan is to train at least one member of each family in emergency do-it-yourself doctoring.

Thousands of Texans have been taught what to do until the doctor comes. But state health officials agree with federal officials that still more need to know what to do in case the doctor never gets there. Prime reason of course is in case of a disaster or attack.

Dr. J. E. Peavy, State Commissioner of Health, says more than 4,334 Texans have "graduated" in the pilot program of the Medical Self-Help project and others are studying now. He says that instructions complement rather than duplicate existing programs and has been endorsed by the Texas Medical Association.

Information or assistance in setting up a local program may be obtained from the State Health Department in Austin.

HIRING POLICY STRENGTHENED — State Hospital Board

Mr. and Mrs. Boyce E. Cox announce the arrival of a baby son, Timothy Mathew, born Jan. 14 in the Quannah hospital. The baby is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cox.

Dr. Walter Stapp spent Saturday in Austin attending the Texas Medical Association's legislative seminar and conference for county medical society officers. His mother, Mrs. J. H. Stapp, returned to her home in Burnet with him after a visit here.

has announced tough new hiring rules. Board has drawn fire due to hiring of a former mental patient as a doctor in its Wichita Falls hospital and a one-time convict as a medical assistant at San Antonio hospital.

Close checks will be made by a special five-member screening committee into backgrounds of all future applicants.

Board tentatively approved an in-service psychiatric training program at four facilities. Also okayed was a contract for a 10-bed psychiatric unit at Beaumont to care for some patients unable to get in the crowded Rusk Hospital.

PATIENT PAYMENTS UP

Patients in seven state schools for the mentally retarded, four state tuberculosis hospitals, eight state hospitals for the mentally ill (including senile persons) and the Houston State Psychiatric Institute paid a bigger share for their care and treatment in December than ever before.

A report by the state hospitals system shows that patient collections for that month totaled $124,931, bringing the total paid under the patient part-pay program during the past five and a fourth years to more than $20,000,000.

COURTS SPEAK

In upholding the conviction and eight-year prison sentence assessed Billie Sol Estes, the Court of Criminal Appeals announced conclusions of importance to news media, as well as to attorneys and those facing felony trial.

Estes' attorney had complained of television coverage of the trial and contended that widespread newspaper stories on the case kept jurors from being open minded.

Wrote Judge W. A. Morrison: "The wheels of justice must not stop merely because an accused is of such prominence that he and his alleged misdeeds have been publicized throughout the state. . . It is apparent that nothing beneficial to appellant (Estes) could be accomplished by changing venue countless times."

As to the controlled TV coverage, Judge Morrison wrote: "Under the facts certified, we fail to perceive any injury to the appellant as a result of the telecasting of the proceedings. . . Of the many cases coming to this court, we know of no case where the accused received better or more efficient representation than appellant in the present case."

Same Court declared "constitutional" the Sunday "Blue Law," passed by the 57th Legislature. Court's ruling was in the case of a Houston auto salesman charged with violation of the Sabbath sales statute.

Under the 1961 law, a retail merchant may observe either Saturday or Sunday as the Sabbath, but cannot make sales on both. Ruling is considered a setback for Spartan discount stores which is appealing a San Antonio court order curtailing its week end sales in several Texas cities.

Texas Supreme Court threw out the effort of East Texas oilmen to have 35 civil penalty suits resulting from slant hole oil investigations tried in their home counties rather than Austin.

CIGARETTE TAX REVENUES HOLDING

A federal study committee's report linking cigarette smoking to lung cancer and other serious ailments is slowing state tobacco tax revenues little so far, according to Comptroller Robert S. Calvert. Calvert recalls that an earlier warning caused smoking and revenues to decline for about a month. An increase followed. Last year's cigarette tax take hit an all-time high . . . $90,300,000.

WATER HEARING SET

On February 12, the Texas Water Commission will hear the Green Belt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority's proposal to move its dam seven miles upstream on the Red River salt fork. Also another plan for the Water Development Board to acquire $2,100,000 in conservation storage at the reservoir.

Newspaperman from Wichita Falls Speaks at Lions Club Meeting

Bill Lambert, state editor of the Times Publishing Co. of Wichita Falls, spoke at the Lions Club luncheon Tuesday. He spoke on "The Newspaper," and stressed its importance in maintaining a democracy. The newspaper's "life blood" is advertising and it is competing now with television, radio, and magazines. Though the Times Publishing Co. prints the only newspaper in Wichita Falls, its circulation area covers a territory where there are 17 daily newspapers, twelve radio stations, and at least three TV stations. Lambert said time is becoming a great factor in circulation; that people just do not have the time to read newspapers as they once did.

The primary purpose of a newspaper is public service. He described how it has been newspapermen who have brought corruption and misuse of public funds to the public eye in many instances. One reason of this that apathy has been growing and that the philosophy of "what you don't know won't hurt you" is on the increase with public officials toward the ones they serve. "Newspapers have and will keep this in check, for freedom of speech . . . and of the press, which means the right to criticize within the libel and slander laws, must be preserved in order to maintain a democracy," Lambert continued.

Lambert expressed the opinion that all meetings that involve public expenditure, such as school boards, county commissioners, and city councils, should be announced prior to the meeting and that interested citizens should be able to attend all such meetings. That such meetings should be covered by the press in order to keep the community informed of what is going on. A newspaper is a chronicle of history, locally, statewide and nationally, and must sustain a proper balance of all in order to keep its circulation up.

Guests were Joe Calvin and E. H. Shrode. Next week, Highway Patrolman Bob Stinnett of Vernon will bring the program.

Junior Adelpian Club

The Sub-Junior Adelpians met Wednesday, Jan. 15, in the newly redecorated club house. President Jo Wynn Ekern called the meeting to order and Ella Ann Cates read the minutes of the previous meeting and called the roll. Mary Sue Speer gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Ray Ilseng presented an interesting program on the "art of being a hostess." Kathy James was the leader and Judy and Joy Little served refreshments.

Biologists Study "Toxic" Species

More and more hunters and explorers in the field are seeing animals new to Texas. These "Toxotics" are animals introduced into the Lone Star State by various means.

The Wildlife Restoration Division of the Parks and Wildlife Department is conducting a survey of these animals to determine which foreign species are present and in what numbers, according to Al Springs, coordinator for the division.

Eventually, the study will determine the value and significance of these animals, including their effect on native game.

So far, 17 species have been found in varying numbers of 1 to 4,334. Listed in descending order according to numbers thus

Crippled Boy Wins Sports Letters With Assist from March of Dimes

A boy who can scarcely walk because of arthritis wins a letter in athletics. Impossible, you say. Not if the lad has the grit of Tim Ewald.

Even though this 17-year-old from Minneapolis can barely "inch" along with the help of a cane, he wears the monogram of Golden Valley High School in both football and track.

How come? How is all this athletic activity possible when it takes this likable youngster as much as 15 minutes merely to tie his shoelaces?

You must look back seven years to find the answer. As the second-oldest of five sons, Tim at the age of 10 could outrun all his brothers and even his parents, Graydon and Diane Ewald.

At touch football, no one could lay a hand on him. Tim dreamed of a high school and college career in football and track.

Then, at the age of 10, came disaster. One night the boy was struck by the indescribably severe pains of rheumatoid arthritis throughout his body. His temperature soared. For long months he had to be hospitalized in body casts and treated with cortisone.

Aided by March of Dimes

Now, after seven years of the disease, Tim is slowly regaining some mobility—thanks in great part to physical therapy given him at the March of Dimes Arthritis Treatment Center in the University of Minnesota Medical School. This treatment is conscientiously repeated at home.

Many years ago yearned to play, such strenuous sports as football and track were not for him. It was all he could do just to hobble from class to class. But in his freshman year at high school he resolved to be as close to sports as his crippled condition permitted.

Tim made a private vow that he would become a team manager.

He made it in his freshman year as manager of the football squad. He made it again in his sophomore year. Last year, his third, he managed the track team. He won his letters in two sports.

To continue working in the field of sports, even though he can't join actively because of crippling rheumatoid arthritis, Tim Ewald, 17, hopes to become a sports cartoonist. Here he outlines caricature of a sports personality. His doctors at March of Dimes Arthritis Center say this is good therapy for his hands and wrists.

Tim won't talk much about what his duties are. He's an excessively modest youngster but, even if it does embarrass the boy, his father says: "I looked into this with some care because it would be dangerous for Tim to overdo. I found out that these manager-ships aren't snap jobs given by the players to a classmate they feel sorry for. The work is tough—Tim goes along in the team bus to games all around the state, he checks equipment and keeps the players' records, he's a timekeeper, and so on. But he thrives on it—and it's far better therapy than gnawing his nails because of no contact with sports."

Even with his heavy schedule of classes, homework, team management, home exercises and weekly visits to the March of Dimes Arthritis Treatment Center, Tim finds time to draw,

THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, Jan. 25, 1934, issue of The Foard County News:

The biggest gathering of people ever assembled under one roof in Crowell is expected Monday night for the dedication of the Crowell High School gymnasium which will precede a basketball game between the Wichita Falls Coyotes and the Crowell High School Wildcats.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Homer M. McBeath, Crowell, Jan. 18, a boy, James Robert.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Daniel, Foard City, Jan. 25, a boy, Roy C.

There has been an increase of 72 pupils in the Crowell schools since the first of the year, making the total enrollment at the present time close to 600, the largest in several years.

The directors of the Crowell Production Credit Association will meet here Friday morning at 10 o'clock at which time the charter for this association will be delivered by a representative of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston, a branch of the government's Farm Credit Administration.

A. E. (Cotton) Barker is now assisting his brother, R. N. Barker, in the operation of the local wholesale agency of the Phillips Petroleum Co.

Brudger Andrews of Crowell assisted with the invoicing of one of the stores in Trusecott last week.

Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, states that slightly more than eleven Texans die each day from tuberculosis.

The News is authorized to announce the name of George Mofett of Chillicothe as a candidate in the coming Democratic primary for the office of State Representative from the 114th District.

Bailey Rennels, accompanied by Emmett Powell of Vivian, went to Matador Saturday to attend the basketball tournament.

In building a gymnasium valued at more than $10,000.00 at a cost of approximately $4,400.00, N. J. Roberts, L. A. Andrews and L. I. Saunders have led Crowell and Foard County in a truly remarkable cooperative project that is an example for other communities to follow.

The 1934 and 1935 cotton sign-up with the government for the reduction of acreage is well underway, according to reports from the county agent's office, where contracts are being signed.

The hog growers of Foard County met in mass meeting in the district court room in Crowell last Tuesday and organized a local hog reduction association.

Only a few more days remain for the payment of 1933 taxes without penalty.

Claude Callaway gave an interesting account of a highway meeting at Hamlin last week, which he attended as the representative from Foard County, at the luncheon of the Rotary Club Wednesday.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

About 200,000 young Texans attending high schools and colleges will learn how to prepare their income tax return through Internal Revenue Service's "Teaching Taxes" course during the next few weeks.

Schools and colleges throughout Texas teach this simple course to help our young taxpayers avoid the mistakes that no older taxpayers have been guilty of over the years. Dad, you may want Junior to give you a little help.

Card of Thanks

I am truly grateful to Dr. Kralick and Dr. Stapp and all the nurses for their excellent care during my stay in the hospital; also to my friends for their visits, cards, calls and prayers.

A. B. Owens.

Cattle Lice Create Problem in Winter

Cattle lice may not create much of a problem in the warm months but it's a different story during the winter season, explains County Agent Joe Burdett. Closer confinement aids the spread of lice from infested to clean animals. By the time the lice are easily seen, much of the damage has been done. The time to treat for lice is now while the infestations are light, says Burdett.

Sprays which are recommended and have Food and Drug Administration approval for use on dairy cattle are pyrethrins, rotenone and cloverin. The county agent advised that the manufacturer's directions on the labels of these insecticides be followed very closely.

Malathion, Lindane, co-ral, ronnel, toxaphene, ciodrin, methoxychlor, ruclene, sevin and delvan are materials which may be used for lice control on beef animals. They are usually applied as dips or sprays. The county agent added that a second application, usually two or three weeks after the first, may be needed to get new lice and eggs hatch.

You can't be too careful in carrying out the manufacturer's directions, cautions the agent. Treating milk cows with the wrong insecticide, treating them while they are in milk production or treating beef animals too near slaughter time can get you in trouble with the Food and Drug Administration.

May Go Along with a Compromise

Frank Rogers of the West Oil and Gas Association reports that proponents of wilderness legislation, which has been a controversial matter in the Congress several years, apparently have changed their position drastically and may now go along with a compromise bill largely acceptable the natural resource industry which operate on the public land.

The dairy industry involves people other than those who milk the cows. Figures show that 292,000 people are employed in manufacturing dairy products in this country.

...What would happen to you ... if all the Rural Electric Co-ops in the state ceased to operate?

"Nothing," you say? You live in town. Think again!

Rural electricity, as supplied by the Rural Electric Cooperatives has done more than any other thing to raise the buying power of farmers. Thanks to low cost rural electricity he can operate his farm more efficiently, can produce more and better crops, can make more money. And this money that he makes he spends in the towns and cities of this state. Take away rural electricity and you take away the farmer's power to buy . . . and much of your own prosperity.

Farmers originally built their rural cooperatives for one purpose only . . . to get the power they could not buy elsewhere! Out of their cooperation has grown a force powerful enough to keep our prosperity growing.
