Crop Outlook Not So Good As Week Ago, Say Farmers

While cotton is holding up well under the effects of the drouth, farmers are beginning to fear that before the rains come serious damage may result to it. Feed has already suffered, they say, and cotton can not stand many days longer without injury.

One can not foretell what will be the outcome of cotton. As proof of that one only has to look back to last year. In the latter portion of the summer prospects were the poorest kind and one would have thought he was making a long guess that Foard County would produce 5,000 bales. The rains came in August, following a long drouth, and the county made more than 18,000 bales.

One thing that looks pretty good is the fact that the worms or weevil are not playing havoc with the crops this year, and where the land was in good shape to start with the cotton is standing up well. Feed is suffering.

Summer-Plowed Land Is Thing for Wheat

For several years the News has been giving the experience of farmers in this county as to what it means to plow land in the summer for wheat. It has been tested out sufficiently to prove beyond any doubt that it is best in the long run to summer fallow land. That means, of course, a decrease in the acreage, but it also means an increase in the aggregate of wheat yield. Once in ten years, perhaps, it would be all right to sow all the land available without special previous preparation, but it is the nine years that must be looked after, and according to our information those nine years are made profitable by special attention, whereas they are lost without it.

In this connection we noticed a paragraph in the Wichita Daily Stockman which says:

"At the Manhattan station wheat ground plowed three inches deep in July has averaged 16.77 bushels to the acre in comparison to land disced at seeding time with an average yield of 6.86 bushels an acre."

If it happens to rain at seeding time and for several months afterwards in all probability the land disced at seeding time will make a yield is less than half what it would yield is less than half what it would be otherwise.

TOO HOT NEAR EARTH. SO AVIATORS CLIMB UP INTO HAIL STORM

San Antonio, July 6.—Seeking refuge from the sweltering heat of the lower levels, Lieutenant John I. Moore and Sergeant Leonard of Kelly field climbed up 16,000 feet and ran into a hail storm over Sugarland as they went to Houston Saturday afternoon for a week-end flight.

The storm continued for 15 or 20 minutes, according to the fliers although they "played around" at dizzy heights without attempting to go straight through it. Hailstorms at that altitude are not unusual in the coast country, it is said.

FALL FROM TWO-STORY WINDOW FATAL TO BOY

Tulia, Swisher County, Texas, July 6.—The 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jennings fell from the second-story window of the First National Bank Building here to the pavement Sunday. The child died five hours after the accident. While playing in the dental office of Dr. Hawkins, the child, unobserved, climbed into the window and opened the screen.

Jennings is a farmer residing 9 miles northwest of Tulia.

WICHITA MOUNTAIN LAKES CLAIM TWO

Lawton, Okla., July 6.—(AP) Holiday outings cost two lives at points in the Wichita mountains late yesterday, when Frank E. Ewing, 19, of California, and Norma Leach, three-year-old daughter of Mrs. S. M. Leach of Cement were drowned.

Ewing was drowned in the swimming pool at Craterville park, while the Leach child lost its life in Medicine creek, near Fort Hill.

It doesn't pay to quarrel with the telephone girl because you'll be outnumbered.

Drilling on Hughston Property Going Well

The first of the week the drillers had reached a depth of about 500 feet, according to reports, on the well being drilled on the Marion Hughston property east of town. Good progress is being made and if nothing happens to hinder the work it will go forward with rapidity.

It is reported that several pockets of gas have been struck already and some think oil or gas is likely to be struck at a shallow depth.

Since interest is now being manifested in the development of oil or gas in this country some of the timers call to mind some experience once had in trying to get water in the locality of the well on this property. It was about 20 years ago and there was a severe drouth over West Texas and everybody who owned cattle was trying to get water. There was an idea that deep water might be found and so a rig was procured and a hole drilled to a depth of something like 600 feet. This was on the property just about where the present rig is located. J. W. Bell and J. J. Brown are authority for the statement that gas was encountered while drilling was being done for water. That was very noticeable but at that time there was no thought of ever drilling for oil or gas and the idea that either was present under the surface of the earth in Foard County had never entered the mind of any one, possibly. So nothing was thought of the matter. At that time, however, no water was found even at a depth of 600 feet, but the drillers for oil have had to ease off the water.

Foard City Man Loses 2 Horses from Poison

Claude Callaway of the Foard City community lost two horses last week from arsenic poisoning. Mr. Callaway had put out some poison bran mash for grasshoppers alongside of his pasture. Shortly afterward a hard shower fell which washed the poison into a small tank near the field. The horses drank from the pond while it was full without any ill effects, but when the water became low the horses were watered there and two died within a short time and two more were slightly poisoned, but are likely to recover.

500,000 DIE IN EARTHQUAKES IN LAST 25 YEARS

Nineteen major earthquakes and eruptions have caused loss of life and property in various parts of the world in the last quarter of a century. Only one of these was in the United States.

The larger disasters of this nature follow:

San Francisco, Cal., April 18, 1906: 452 lives lost; $250,000,000 in property loss; 255,000 persons made homeless.

Japan, near Tokio and Yokohama, Sept. 1, 1923: 192,000 dead and missing; 102,000 injured; 580,000 homes destroyed.

Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 14, 1907: 1,100 lives lost; $25,000,000 in property damage.

Sicily and Calabria, Dec. 28, 1908: 76,483 lives lost; 1,000,000 persons made homeless.

Central Italy, Jan. 13, 1915: 29,978 lives lost; Avezzano destroyed.

China, Dec. 16, 1920: 200,000 lives lost, 10 cities destroyed.—Compiled by the Star-Telegram.

BOARD STILL SHORT OF SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

The school board is still confronted with the proposition of procuring a principal for the Crowell schools. The News announced in last week's paper the election of L. K. Barry to that place, but Mr. Barry did not accept the place and has been elected to another one and has accepted.

The board is trying its best to get the best man possible for the position. It also has the assistance of the superintendent.

LEFT FOR CALIFORNIA

Miss Lela Womack and her nephew, Edwin Greening, left Monday for San Dimas, California, where they will spend a month visiting the family of J. R. Hutchison and friends. They went over the Santa Fe from Amarillo. Fred Kinsey and Tom Greening accompanied them to Quanah where they took the Fort Worth & Denver train.

Pastor Begins a Series of Sermons

The 30th verse of the 25th chapter of Genesis furnished the Scripture for the message delivered by Rev. J. M. Fuller at the evening service at the Methodist church Sunday. The pastor announced that a series of sermons would be delivered, using this as the basis for the sermons. The scripture gives an account of the selling of the birthright of Esau to Jacob.

The preacher pointed out the difference in the character of the two, Esau being a sport and accustomed to outdoor life, while Jacob was interested in the things of the home. Esau counted small things as large and large things as small, while Jacob studied out the proper value and proportion of things. Esau was impulsive and quick to decide, while Jacob weighed matters and arrived at conclusions by cool, logical methods. He was a schemer and a far-seeing person. He laid his plans for the future, while Esau lived in the present and was content to let the future take care of itself. Esau had many noble traits. He was frank and open. He did not try to deceive, but with those good traits he lacked some of the most important. He did not have patience and far-sightedness. He failed to recognize the opportunity that was his as the elder son. Jacob had many serious faults. He was a schemer, a traitor, but in spite of the faults he possessed vision of great things in the future, and God could use him in the accomplishment of his purposes.

But with the assumption of the privileges that went with the birthright Jacob invited many a hardship and many a sad experience. Not all was happiness. He was chased by his brother for a time. Then he encountered difficulties in securing his wife that God's plan might be carried out. Later there came the discomforts of famine and finally his death in a foreign land.

But he was good material and God used him. He was religiously inclined. Here it was pointed out that it is dangerous for one to drift from religious influences who is not religiously inclined. He is liable to put off his salvation until it is too late. One should master his own life early. Young people should stop and count the cost and get a proper understanding of what life means and come to recognize the fact that God has a purpose and a plan in every human life. They should weigh all sides of a proposition that demands their attention.

Through the birthright Jacob was given a position of great responsibility and power. He stood at the head of the world's human forces through which God was to reveal himself down through the ages and to us he left a spiritual heritage of inestimable value. Finally from among his people was to come and did come the Savior of the world, the greatest of all blessings to mankind.

The characteristics that were present in the life of Esau were pointed out as common today, in that he sold out for a trifle. Men are selling out now for a consideration even less than that of a mess of pottage. It's a drink, or it's a paltry dollar, or it is for a little power and influence.

We strive with our rights and blight our once fair prospects of becoming an effective instrument in the hands of our Maker in the promotion of good. But the worst tragedy in it all is the fact that that kind of life influences others to do likewise and our influence for good is destroyed. We set in motion currents of influence that can not be stopped and we must pass through life, if we are ever awakened, to realize the fact that we can not recall what we have done.

But there is hope for the future if one turns from his wrong doing. There is encouragement in the expression of the Savior to his sleeping followers near the garden when he said, "Sleep on; let us arise and go hence." Forget the past and make the best of the future.

An appeal was made to parents to exercise influence over their children to the extent that they may be enlisted in active service of God.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Wilhelm and daughter, Miss Pauline, of Lubbock were here from Saturday until Tuesday visiting their daughter, Mrs. Jimmie Self. Their small daughter, Emmy Gladys, who had been visiting Mrs. Self for two weeks returned home with them.

Daughter of Former Crowell Teacher Weds

The Prairie, the college paper of Canyon, carried last week an account of the marriage of Miss Grace Cavness to Tom H. Knighton. The young lady is the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Cavness who resided in Crowell some years ago. Mr. Cavness was principal of the Crowell school and moved from here to San Marcos.

The account as given in the Prairie is as follows:

"Miss Grace Cavness and Tom H. Knighton were united in marriage Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents in San Marcos.

"Both of these young people are well known in Canyon, and have a host of friends who extend most hearty congratulations and best wishes.

"The bride has been a teacher in the Spanish department of the College for the past several years, and was very popular with the student body. She has always taken a very active interest in the social and musical events of the College. The groom is joint owner of the Buffalo Grocery and Confectionery, which business has always been one of the most popular in Canyon. Mr. Knighton is a very successful young business man, and is building a very successful business.

"After a wedding trip to Alabama the couple will return to Canyon. They are building a new home on sixth Avenue."

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Williams Lose Infants

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Williams of Fort Worth had the misfortune of losing twin baby girls, born in their home on July 2nd.

In answer to a message that Mrs. Williams was very ill her mother, Mrs. Jones, and her son, Roy, and daughter, Nell, passed through Saturday from Floydada on their way to the Williams home. Mrs. B. F. Ringgold, mother of Mr. Williams, had just returned from a visit to the home of her son.

Last reports were that Mrs. Williams was improving.

IN SPITE OF ACCIDENT MR. SINK RETURNS HERE

D. P. Sink and son, Paul Sink, arrived Friday noon from Los Angeles, making the long trip by automobile in six and one-half days. They are former citizens of Vernon and are here on business and visiting relatives and friends. The elder Mr. Sink, accompanied by his son, Paul, and wife, started to Texas from California last November. Several hundred miles out of Los Angeles, he was badly injured in an automobile accident and returned to his home. After the accident he made the journey in an express car that was loaded with live turkeys for the Thanksgiving market in Los Angeles. There was just room enough for his cot and a place for the train men to walk. He is still a little lame but otherwise seems to be suffering no ill effects from his accident.

Mr. Sink owns property here and was the pioneer photographer of Vernon.—Vernon Record.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Miss Thelma Lawson underwent an operation at the sanitarium here Monday morning for appendicitis.

Miss Lawson is the oldest single daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Lawson and is the Rayland correspondent of the News.

The young lady took sick suddenly Sunday after Mr. Lawson had started to the Rio Grande Valley and he was intercepted at Electra and returned home.

Miss Lawson is improving in a manner entirely satisfactory.

FORMER FOARD COUNTY PEOPLE VISITING HERE

L. D. Hart, wife and three children, Lee A., Chester and Mrs. Hazel Mitchell, are here visiting the Womack families and other old friends. Seymour is the home of the entire family except Lee A who is working in Dallas.

Mr. Hart and his family were residents of this county several years ago but moved away in 1904. Since that time they have resided in different portions of Texas and Oklahoma.

Spider Bite Proves Painful and Dangerous

Oscar Boman became seriously ill Monday night after having been bitten by a spider.

At the time he was bitten he did not know that it was a spider, although he knew that something had bitten or stung him. It happened about 9 o'clock and not thinking it was serious enough to call a doctor nothing was done for a couple of hours but his suffering became so severe that the doctor was called about 11 o'clock and by that time he is said to have become very sick.

It was discovered to have been a spider when a search was made and the spider found.

He is resting well now and it is expected that he will soon recover and be himself again.

Former Crowell Lady Married Pennsylvanian

It is a matter of news to Crowell people that Miss Saphronia Staton was married to Mr. S. E. Griggs of Pittsburgh, Pa., on June 6th. It is understood that the home will be made in that city.

The news did not reach us until Tuesday of this week, although it has been more than a month since the wedding.

For several years Miss Staton was a teacher in the public schools of this county and her friends here extend hearty congratulations and good wishes.

Service Station Has Changed Hands

The Quick Service Station was sold a few days ago by B. F. Ivie to Geo. Hinds. The station was partially built by M. J. Davis before his death and was then finished by Mrs. Davis. It was later sold to M. F. Meadors and Mr. Meadors sold to B. F. Ivie. It is now the property of George Hinds.

The station is well located and is one of the best in Crowell and it is understood that it has increased in value to two or three times its original price.

VERNON PEOPLE RETURN FROM EARTHQUAKE AREA

Mr. and Mrs. Harper Reed returned Friday night from Helena, Mont., where they have been visiting their son, Uriel Reed, and family and their daughter, Mrs. E. L. Johnson of Missoula, Mont. While visiting their son, who makes his home in the mountains above Helena, they were in the earthquake. Four distinct shocks were felt and in Helena several big buildings were damaged. One window dresser in Helena thought spooks were after him when the shoes he was arranging in the window began to dance the latest steps. On emerging from the window he found chimneys off houses and other signs of a tremor. Mr. and Mrs. Reed are glad to get back to Texas.—Vernon Record.

Had Good Shower at Margaret Sunday

Joe L. Orr was in town from Margaret Monday and said they had a good shower the day before in the Margaret country. It was a help to cotton Mr. Orr said but would not benefit feed.

According to reports from over the county, feed is suffering for want of moisture and if it does not come soon the feed crop is sure to be cut short.

Mrs. Geo. Allison entertained Tuesday with a birthday party for her daughter, Frances, celebrating her 11th birthday.

Large Crowds Were Here for the Rodeo Friday and Saturday

If one tells you that people do not like to go to a rodeo you may say that he is mistaken. We have been half-way believing they are tired of them but Friday and Saturday convinced us that people still like to attend the rodeo.

This may be because Crowell has always put on a good rodeo and it may be just because people generally like to go to them. Anyway, a large crowd attended the rodeo both days last week, July 3rd and 4th. The people who took the responsibility of putting on this entertainment were favored both days with splendid weather, not too hot to be comfortable and no threatening weather except late Saturday afternoon when a little dust blew up and was followed by a shower that interfered with the baseball game between Crowell and Truscott. The game was started but was not concluded.

The managers of the rodeo came out all right financially and put a little clear money into the treasury of the Chamber of Commerce, which was one of the objects in mind in putting the rodeo on.

It paid its way and was a splendid entertainment for a large crowd of people. Personally we are not much interested in a rodeo, but hundreds of people are and they get pleasure out of it. If there is anything objectionable about the ordinary rodeo it is the rough treatment animals are subjected to. If one could only know that they enjoy it he might feel differently towards these events. But even if it is a little rough the animals come out unharmed. One of the things favoring at least an annual rodeo is that it represents conditions existing during the pioneer days when this country was devoted to ranch activities, and looking at it from that viewpoint we can hardly be considered as opposing a rodeo.

Agricultural Program Put on Wed. Night

Representatives of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Col. C. C. French who is with the Stock Yards Commission, Co. of Ft. Worth, and B. L. Whittaker, exhibit manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, spoke at the Crowell Theatre Wednesday night.

The value of the proper seed selection was stressed by the speakers, urging the people of this county to select their own seed in the fields at harvesting time and not depend too much on other people for their planting seeds, which may or may not be good. The speakers advised the culling of poultry and getting rid of the culling of birds which produce no profits. Col. French stated that thousands of dollars left this state each year for food products that could just as easily be grown in West Texas. He gave as example the sending to the corn belt of the United States for choice baby beef for butchering purposes that perhaps had been produced on a Texas ranch but had to be shipped North to be finished on corn that was grown on $300.00 per acre land when it's possible to produce an abundance of cheaper grain sorghums with which those cattle could be finished much cheaper and keep Texas money at home.

Several reels of motion pictures were shown, including one showing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention at Mineral Wells, also one showing the famous Jerseys of the world which were assembled at the last National Dairy Show in Chicago.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is conducting a campaign throughout West Texas in an effort to keep more Texas dollars at home and to produce more food products for ourselves and others instead of sending to other places for it.

J. N. NISLAR DIES

J. N. Nislar died Wednesday night at 10 o'clock at his home in Lubbock one week after he was stricken with paralysis, according to a message received by Mrs. T. B. Klepper Wednesday night. Mr. Nislar was in the hardware business at Lubbock and had been living there only about one year, moving there from Gainesville.

J. W. McCaskill and family make a trip to Lubbock this week.

Sherwin-Williams Paints Makes It Easy to Paint Your Own Furniture or Woodwork.

People by the thousands are doing it—more now than ever, because these Sherwin-Williams ready-mixed paints make success so certain.

Hardly a thing that would be better with paint, but what you can do yourself.

Paperless walls glow with the gayety of spring when "fatone" goes on them; kitchen furniture captures the daintiness of a breakfast room suit after a few skilful dabs of a paint brush; porch chairs brighten as new and live longer—this, that, everything is easy to paint and better off painted.

There's a Sherwin-Williams preparation "just right" for each thing.

Service Is Not Expensive

In late years a great deal has been said about the amounts people can save on their food bills by trading at no service stores.

However, there seems to be something wrong, because we are hearing from people who have been convinced that the saving is very small and if their time is worth anything, there is no saving at all.

All we ask is, compare your bills, price for price, quality for quality, and you will find very little difference in your food expenses. Besides, you have the advantage of telephone and delivery service and charge accounts.

Crowell, Texas, July 10, 1925

There is a striking similarity between some people and a cow. When a cow gets out of the lot she is likely to cut through the back yard. When some people get out with a car they are likely to cut across the corner of your lot to shorten distance when there is a culvert only three feet away. Oh, you just never thought! Neither did the cow.

After it has been tried out it appears that the Sunday Baseball stuff was a complete failure. At first the proposition appeared to be a good one and it looked like all good people should have given it their endorsement and co-operation, but when it was reduced to a matter of playing ball to see who could win the game Sunday school attendance was a matter of no consideration whatever. One did not need to have a record in Sunday school. So it was a failure, as it ought to have been under such circumstances.

Possibly within the next few months wildcatting in Foard County will have reached a point where one will have some idea as to what we have in the way of oil or gas in this county. We may not know, it depends on developments. It is said that many wells were drilled in Wilbarger County before a producer was brought in. That may happen in Foard County. Whatever oil is found here or whether it is not found, the people of this county will be wise if they profit by the experience of Vernon. Every one remembers the boom it had and its hurtful effects, but now those people seem to be staying on their feet and the consequences are that Vernon is experiencing a steady growth and an oil field is being developed. We should regret to see a hurtful boom come to Crowell and such a thing may not happen if everybody keeps his head in case a well is brought in some of these days.

COMMUNITIES WITH CHARM

American tourists will leave millions of dollars in Europe this summer. They travel across the Atlantic for old world tours largely because the European cities possess the reputation of having a certain romantic or imaginative "charm."

Yet this so-called "charm" lies often in some simple thing that can be developed. Many American cities and towns have such features now, but they are not appreciated because they are so close that they are overlooked.

It has been said that the charm of Paris lies in large measure in the beautiful trees with which the famous city is profusely planted, and which are preserved with the greatest care, even in the business localities.

Any American city or town, no matter how large or how small, can in due time obtain that same charm and attractiveness. If the people have been negligent in this respect, they can plant quick growing varieties that will transform the community in a few years.

Too frequently the hustling American folks will cut down a noble tree merely because it blocks the sidewalk a little, or for some other trifling reason. But by cherishing their trees, planting those fitted to the soil and climate and preserving them against the inroads of pests, the inhabitants of any community can give it a rare beauty.

One does not have to travel across the seas to find charm. It can be found right here in Crowell and we can make more of it by giving proper attention to beautifying the home surroundings.

Crowell has a distinctive charm because its people have developed a home pride. If there are any backsliders, they should recognize that their failure to do their part in beautification shows a lack of interest in their community that can't be easily forgiven.

STATIC MINDS

We owe much to the college professors, aside from the fact that they teach our young men and women, for the bright ideas they offer, particularly in warm weather when wits are dull and need sharpening.

A member of the University of Illinois faculty has found a new use for the automobile—not that the automobile needs a defender, but he evidently was moved by a sense of duty and gave it to a waiting world.

It is this: If you happen to be so unfortunate as to be "static-minded," you should buy an automobile and cultivate "motion-mindedness."

If you are "static-minded," you would dive into the water to rescue a person at the place where the person disappeared. Or, for example, you would not be successful in beating the train to the crossing.

This professor thinks "motion-mindedness," being able to think where the car will be a few minutes later, is a sign of progress. And perhaps he is right.

An automobile driver who isn't able to visualize what will happen if he does certain things, is of few days on earth. He is one of the thousands whose lives are wasted annually because they could not "see ahead."

There are many "static-minded" folks who don't drive automobiles, and others who do. They see things only as they are and not what they are gradually becoming. They are our best known pessimists, who think that the present offers nothing of good, and that only the past is worthy of emulation.

This "motion-mindedness" business may be overdone, however. Even motion is not always progress. It may be largely wasted. Motion that doesn't accomplish something as it goes forward will never do the world's work. What we need is a happy medium.

Poultry Association Meeting

A Poultry Association meeting will be held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the county agent's office in the court house. Plans will be discussed for holding the annual poultry show this fall. Also to decide on the judge that we will secure to judge the show. Talks will be made by members and others on various phases of the poultry business. Everybody come.

Pointed Paragraphs

We are told 92 per cent of the accidents could be avoided. The other eight per cent, then, are not accidents.

Children were once told they were "to be seen and not heard." Nowadays some parents do well to tell them anything.

When we all become perfect, we may then feel perfectly competent to make suggestions to others regarding their conduct.
