ADVISE FARMERS TO HOLD COTTON

ADVANTAGES OF STORING CROP IS POINTED OUT BY LOCAL EXCHANGE MEMBERS

In order to broaden the demand for cotton from the consuming centers and insure a fair price to the growers, it will be necessary for the farmers of Texas to hold their cotton off the market until conditions have improved.

This is the advice given by the members of the Dallas Cotton Exchange, who held a meeting Monday and gave out the following statement:

"The Texas farmers, merchants and bankers are entitled to know the facts concerning the cotton trade and the present price of cotton. For some weeks cotton in Texas has been selling about two cents per pound lower than in any other State in the South. This condition has been brought about by Texas farmers dumping large stocks of cotton on the market in the face of practically no demand from any quarter of the globe.

"It must be remembered that about 90 per cent of the Texas crop goes export to the many countries around the world, and the present situation in these foreign nations creates problems unknown in past history.

"The Texas exporters and shippers have done everything possible to absorb the offerings and find a market, but have been unable to do so in the face of the heavy sales by farmers, merchants and others.

"The remedy, as we see it, is for the farmers to stop selling cotton until there comes a demand that will absorb the offerings at fair prices. The way to stop this wild selling is for the farmers and merchants to place the cotton in warehouses so the local banks can secure loans from the Federal Reserve Banks in accordance with the law. Where no warehouses are available, the farmers and others would securely protect the cotton from the weather and other damage in such a way as the local banks may be able to secure credit elsewhere to finance the crop. We feel sure in following the above suggestion that confidence will be created in the ultimate value of cotton, which will result in the broadening of the demand from the consuming centers and fair prices will be realized for the present crop."—Dallas News.

SHIPPED HOGS YESTERDAY

J. L. Orr was in town Monday and stated that he was going to ship his fine Poland Chinas to Dallas Thursday, which was yesterday. Mr. Orr is confident that he will carry some premiums off, although he can not make a prediction as to just how valuable the premiums will be. However, he does not intend to be disappointed any way it goes, for he is making his first entry at a fair as big as the state fair, yet he will have to be shown that somebody else has him "skinned" on hogs before he will believe.

He promises to wire the News from Dallas in time for next week's issue that we may announce to our readers what success he has had. We shall look forward to that time with the expectation of telling our readers that Orr has won some prizes worth while. And if we do not get the report in it will be because he fails to get it to us.

COTTON GINS ARE UNDER CONTROL OF OIL MILL OWNERS

Austin, Oct. 3.—Seventy-five per cent of the cotton gins of Texas are owned or controlled by some oil mill interest, according to R. V. Nichols, special agent of the attorney general's department, who has made an investigation of oil mills, gins and packing concerns, and made a report to the attorney general. Although he was unable to give the per cent of gins owned by packers, he stated in his report that one packing company controls a large number of gins in North and West Texas.

One oil mill company in West Texas was reported to have operated fifteen gins under its own name and to have leased five gins last year. A Fort Worth company, according to the report, controls forty gins. This company, the report continued, agreed several years ago to dispose of its cotton gins when suit was brought for alleged violation of anti-trust laws, but now operates more gins than at that time.

Figures were given to show that huge profits were being made on seed milled.

The condition as outlined in the report was responsible for the preparation by the attorney general's office and presentation to the legislature of three bills designed to bring about a divorce of cotton seed oil mills, gins and packing houses. The bills were drawn up at the request of the governor.

The first bill would make it unlawful for any corporation engaged in milling cotton seed or operating packing house to own, directly or indirectly, a public gin, and would give such corporations until Aug. 1, 1921, to dispose of any interest they hold in cotton gins in Texas. The bill would provide penalties for violation, of from $50 to $500 a day in fines, and for criminal penalties against officers, agents or employees who aid in violating the law.

The second bill would provide penitentiary sentences for individuals who own and operate oil mills or packing houses, and also own or control one or more cotton gins. It further would prohibit any cotton gin from acting as agent for a cotton seed oil mill in the purchase of cotton seed.

The third bill would require every cotton seed oil mill and cotton gin doing business in the state to obtain a permit from the marketing and warehouse department, and would provide that oil mills and gins supply the department with affidavits showing that they do not own any interest in an oil mill or cotton gin, as the case might be.

SELLS PIG FOR $100

Evidences are abundant that good hogs are a paying proposition. It is also a fact that there are good hogs in the county that the public knows little about. In some of the distant rural portions of the county are some of the very best of thoroughbred stuff. Here is an example:

At a little county exhibit by the club members a few weeks ago R. L. Walling exhibited a 6-months old Poland China and won a prize on the pig. This was a pig which he had bought from Allen Fish at weaning time, paying Mr. Fish $12 for it. Walling sold the pig the other day to D. K. Reagan for $100. At 6 months the pig weighed 197 pounds.

There are two points in this item which we call attention to. One is that Mr. Fish sold the pig at a price little if any above that which an ordinary pig would bring, perhaps because he did not realize that he had a breed that was worth more. The second point is that by advertising the pig it brought its value. Walling might not have sold the pig for half the amount if it had not been put on exhibition at the pig club show.

The point we want to emphasize is that you first of all see that you have good stuff, know you have it, and then let the world know you have it.

Mr. Reagan will ship this pig to the Plains country where he will use it with a herd for breeding purposes.

HERE FROM GAINESVILLE

W. H. Dougherty was here last Friday from Gainesville visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Henry and looking after his land interests here. He was en route from Floydada, where he also has land holdings, to his home. Mr. Dougherty went from here to Thalia where he visited his old Cooke County friend, W. M. Wisdom.

Mrs. G. W. Walthall returned yesterday from Kansas City.

Rev. J. E. Billington left yesterday for a business trip to Waco.

FORMAL OPENING NEW METHODIST CHURCH SUNDAY

Preparations are being made to take care of an unusually large audience expected at the new Methodist church next Sunday at the opening service.

As was announced a few weeks ago, Bishop W. F. McMurry of St. Louis will be here to preach at the 11 o'clock hour. So it goes without question that the audience will have the opportunity of hearing a very fine sermon on that occasion. Arrangements are being made to seat the many who are expected to attend. After the Sunday School hour the other denominations will go, some of them in a body, to the new church, so that it is expected that an unusually large crowd will be present.

HELP FOR THE ORIENT ROAD

The announcement of the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission of a government loan to the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Railroad Company is good news to Kansas City and all the Southwest. The railroad serves a large territory tributary to this city. It has a great possibility for development once the missing link that will connect Kansas City with the Pacific Coast is completed.

The project of the short line to the coast by way of Mexico was born in the imagination of Arthur E. Stilwell, who conceived the Kansas City Southern Railway to the Gulf. It was an enterprise that was bound to take time to develop, for it had to depend to a considerable extent on the development of new territory. The consequence was that it was not completed when the evil days of railroads came. It was impossible to finance extensions and the Orient was left in the air between terminals. It was dependent upon charity of other lines for business and naturally did not flourish.

But the possibilities of that vast Southwestern empire are still at its command. A period of rapid development for the territory it traverses is just ahead. It will put Kansas City and the Central Valley five hundred miles closer to Pacific tide water than any other line and its coast terminal may become peculiarly a Kansas City port.

In the last decade the country has been starving for railroads. It grew up to its railroad facilities and outgrew them. An era of railroad development is inevitable. It will be a great thing for the Southwestern country that the Orient road has received Government recognition. That ought to give an impetus that will make this road one of the first to be extended to meet the requirements of advancing trade.—Kansas City Star.

SHIPS CAR OF HOGS

R. B. Edwards loaded out a car of hogs for the Fort Worth market Tuesday. These were of his own raising and would weigh around 250 pounds each. Mr. Edwards will have another car ready for shipment within a few weeks. He will round them up with a little feed before shipping. Mr. Edwards has found the hog business to be a good one and raises a few cars every year. Of course the prices are not so good now as they were a year ago, but even at present prices they are not a losing proposition.

NEW GROCERY COMPANY

The Industrial Transportation Company have bought Smith Bros. Grocery store and will open up for business under a plan entirely new to the trade on October 16th.

A string of these stores is being established over the country the nearest to us being at Rule. The distribution point will be Stamford.

We know comparatively little about this system of operating grocery stores, but we understand it to be one of a stock company, the goods being sold at a uniform per cent profit, that is the same per cent profit being charged in all the stores of this system.

The company will open for business under this plan as stated above on October 16th, announcement of which will be made later through the paper. Lee Smith of Smith Bros. will have the management of the business.

Three men were killed at Breckenridge on the night of the 5th by an explosion, which was followed by a fire destroying two brick buildings. The explosion is thought to have been started by a spark from a truck driver's engine setting a gas well on fire.

WILL EDUCATE YOUNG LADY FOR MISSIONARY FIELD

Miss Christine Allen will prepare herself for the foreign field in missionary work. She will go to Scarrott Bible Training school in Kansas City for a two-year course preparatory to that end. Mrs. Doctor Dodson of Vernon has presented Miss Allen with a year's scholarship and the Crowell Methodist church, of which Miss Allen is a member, will bear the remaining expenses. At least at Sunday's services this matter was taken up with the membership and $275 was raised, which will be ample funds to meet her expenses for one term of school.

It is understood that Miss Allen wants to go to China as a missionary. She has longed for some years to take up this work and only a few months ago publicly announced her decision definitely. She has been employed in the public schools of this county for a number of years and is known by many of our people as a very fine teacher and a conscientious Christian worker.

The part the church will have in her preparation will be a source of pleasure to the membership.

CECIL & COMPANY TAKES PRIZE AT COUNTY FAIR

It will be a matter of interest to our readers at Crowell to know that Cecil & Company took the prize at the Plainview County Fair for the finest display of merchandise a few weeks ago in that city.

This speaks well for Mr. Auld, who is manager of the store in Plainview and who was here for several years. Mr. Auld had the strongest kind of competition, too, since one of his competitors employs a man who does nothing but look after the display of goods in the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Auld and son, Orin, were here Sunday and Monday, returning Tuesday. He says they are getting along well at Plainview.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

The Adelphean Club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. W. Boyd at the home of Mrs. T. E. Womack.

The study of art was taken up under the efficient leadership of Miss Lottie Woods. The lesson was on Egyptian and Grecian art and the characteristics, purposes, effects and contrast between the two were very forcibly brought out.

The current events were unusually good, most of them showing that they had required some time and thought in preparation.

After the club, a two-course luncheon was served by the hostess.

ON WITH THE FIGHT

Press dispatches tell us that for months a bitter fight has been waged by the retailer and the consumer against the manufacturer and the wholesaler.

The bone of contention is the lowering of prices.

The consumer is tired of paying profiteering prices for everything he buys. He is calling a halt by curtailing his expenditures.

The retailer realizes this and feels the loss of trade through the determination of the consumer to buy absolute necessities until such time as prices return to normal.

The retailer is as desirous of a reduction in prices as is the consumer, and is fighting the manufacturer and the wholesaler to this end.

The latter, however, appears to be loath to surrender his excessive profits, and is holding out to the end.

That end, when it comes, may possibly be a federal grand jury indictment for profiteering.

The government, the retailer and the consumer, when working together, are decidedly more powerful than the manufacturer and the middleman. Stubbornness and greed may succeed for a time, but it gets a jolt in the end.

A reader wants to know the difference between a politician and a statesman. Well, we don't exactly know, but we imagine that the present day politician is a descendant of the old time statesman, now extinct. We might go a little further and elucidate a little more clearly, and state that the slimy green worm that devours our cabbages is the offspring of one of the most beautiful of all winged creatures—the multi-colored butterfly.

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Bell visited relatives in Paducah Sunday.

WEST TEXAS C. C. PERFECTS PLAN FOR COTTON DISPOSAL

Stamford, Oct. 2.—The directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in session here today, took decisive action looking to the relief of the cotton situation in this section. The president appointed a committee of three to study the present condition of the market and the low grade cotton situation and formulate a plan whereby the low grade cotton may be concentrated and shipped to Germany and other European countries and there be disposed of at a profit, so as to relieve the situation brought about by the new crop movement.

George Finburg, prominent Abilene cotton farmer, explained the plan for the concentration and disposal of the cotton. The organization went on record as favoring better ginning and wrapping and cleaning of gin stands after turning out low grade bales. Reports of the various department heads were heard, showing the organization as having accomplished great work during the last twelve months and the financial condition to be in good shape.

A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the convention at Ranger when 2,000 persons are expected to attend.

The delegates today were guests of the Stamford Chamber of Commerce at a noon day luncheon and in the evening enjoyed a repast at Penick Lake farm.

The committee which will evolve a plan for the movement of West Texas cotton of the low grade variety, as named by President Brelsford, is composed of Clifford B. Jones of Spur, Chairman; O. P. Harlan, Stamford, and Henry James, Abilene.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

Mrs. George Allison proved a most pleasing hostess when she entertained the Columbian Club on last Wednesday afternoon.

The club colors found reflection in the profusion of gold and white cosmos that were tastefully used in decorating the rooms.

In the continuation of the study of Maeterlinck's "Blue Bird" much interest was evinced. The lesson embracing Acts III and IV.

A profitable round table discussion of "thrift" was led by Mrs. M. O'Connell. Many helpful ways of overcoming the "H. C. L." were presented.

Little Misses Frances Allison and Elizabeth O'Connell handed a delicious plate at the close of the lesson.

The club guests for the afternoon were Mesdames Leo Spencer and W. H. McGonigal.

Misses Buna Stovall, Jode Brian and Lora Thacker have recently added their names to the list of club members.

Mrs. Allen Sanders is hostess for the next meeting on October 13.

A PLAN TO FINANCE THE SOUTH'S COTTON CROP

Corpus Christi, Texas, Oct. 5.—Fred Roberts, president of the United Cotton Growers' Association, said here today that he would offer a resolution at the cotton conference in Washington, Oct. 12 and 13, adoption of which would insure financing of the cotton crop by the growers. It would call for formation of pools, he said, which would be consolidated on a national basis.

Each Southern State, under the resolution, would appoint committeemen to be members of a national body which, in turn, would send representatives to Europe to inspect textile mills and ascertain their needs in cotton. Mr. Roberts said under his plan cotton could be shipped direct to the mills, being handled by American bankers who would receive manufactured goods overseas for the staple. After selling the goods the national committee, he declared, could pay for the cotton and after deducting operating expenses turn the remainder of the fund back to the mills.

This would solve the cotton problem, not alone at home, but also abroad, Mr. Roberts said.

Gin operators have been receiving notice by anonymous writers in various portions of the South advising suspension of ginning until cotton goes to 40 cents per pound. Some gins in Texas have been burned, supposedly by this element. Gins in Georgia and South Carolina are being heavily guarded.

H. M. Ferrin and wife have arrived home from a long tour of many states covering a period of 14 months. They came directly from Iowa. Mr. Ferrin says they had comparatively no trouble with their car on the drive home until they got within a few miles of home and then had to be pulled in.

HELD LAST SERVICE IN OLD CHURCH

LARGE CROWD PRESENT; DINNER SERVED PICNIC STYLE IN CHURCH

Last Sunday marked the closing service to be held at the old Methodist church. It was a very enjoyable one to those who were present, and the house was full and dinner was spread after the service.

An occasion like that calls to mind memories of the past that make the site of the old church a hallowed one to many of our citizens, especially to those who have been identified with the progress of the church since it was built some thirty years ago, and even the new and modern building, with all its conveniences and attractiveness, can never be to the old timers what the old one has been because of those memories that cluster around it. But the new one will be for the service of the younger people who are to take the places of fathers and mothers and should and will mark the beginning of greater things in church work with them. The old structure has simply been outgrown and new quarters must be provided in order to keep up with the demands of the day. That is what the new church is for. But besides being a building designed for service it is one of beauty and will stand as a reflection of the religious ardor of the Methodists of Crowell and will be an ornament to the town and an object of pride to every citizen.

THE CHAUTAUQUA WILL NOT RETURN NEXT YEAR

The Radcliffe Chautauqua people closed their three days program Monday night.

Upon the whole we think the chautauqua was very good, but it did not meet expectations altogether. Portions of the program were very fine, others were not so good. However, splendid crowds attended, especially at night.

A contract was submitted to our citizens for their signatures to have the chautauqua return next year, but at the closing exercise Monday night not enough names had been secured to guarantee its return.

We are frank to say that we believe the principal objection to the coming of chautauqua is the fact that their contracts impose obligations and burdens too heavy on the local people. Perhaps they are not too heavy, but they are heavier than they like to bear. The committee must bear the entire burden, and if help can not be secured to put up the tent and provide seats the business men who are on the committee must quit their business and go out and do these things. The 50 cents admission or the $2.00 for a season ticket is a small thing in comparison with the burdens and responsibilities we have enumerated. And for these reasons we do not expect the chautauqua spirit to be hard to control in Crowell hereafter. Besides, we must take all risks of bad weather, etc. We doubt if the benefits of a chautauqua are great enough to justify the outlay and the risks.

For the benefit of those who were directly interested in the chautauqua this year, we wish to say that from a financial standpoint the committee just about broke even. So there is nothing left for the school, but they feel themselves fortunate in having done so well. Last year it did not do that well.

In the ticket selling contest Miss Oberia Hamblen won the $4.00 box of candy which was offered as a prize for the largest amount turned in from the sale of season tickets, the amount being $53.00.

The committee feels very grateful to all the girls who sold tickets and to the women who helped decorate the stage and punch tickets and take the fare at the door. A number of good women can always be found in Crowell willing to help out in these matters, and without their assistance the men would have a hard row. On behalf of the committee we say that your services were appreciated.

HAS HOME REMODELED

The work of remodeling the home of Sam Scales is completed and it is so completely changed that it appears to be a new house altogether. A modern roof has been put on and the house freshly painted. We are glad to see homes in Crowell being improved and we are anxious to see new ones built.

Wall Paper

We want to Talk Wall Paper This week

Every one knows or has heard how print paper is scarce. Large newspapers are hard pressed to secure enough paper at all at any price to supply their wants--their actual needs--and many of the largest papers have already reduced the size of their papers in order to make their available supply last them. You may not know, but it is a fact that wall paper stock is similar to newspaper stock, only heavier and therefore just as scarce or even more so.

So you see reason for highest prices ever known in wall paper next spring.

By borrowing money and buying now paying cash, we can sell our paper one-fourth to one-third less than if we waited. Our price is higher than last year, but will be cheaper than next.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

Ten cents worth of oil will often prevent ten dollars worth of rust. Yet many excellent people fail to give this fact even a passing thought.

Take a tour over the town. You will find garden tools that have been discarded for the summer standing around in corners exposed to the weather. Lawn mowers will be resting on the grass in the morning dew or after a rain. Hatchets, hammers—even saws—may be found out of doors. Wheelbarros, carts and other articles are the same.

Use ten cents worth of oil on them and put them under cover and they will be in prime condition for use when required. But leave them to the mercy of rust and the elements and soon they will become junk instead of tools.

Drive out onto the farms, and in many cases the same conditions will confront you.

Wagons, buggies, farm machinery—much of it delicate in mechanism and expensive in cost—is standing out in the yards or fields while sheds are empty.

Every day the parts are becoming weaker by the rapid accumulation of rust—going to decay through thoughtlessness and neglect.

Only a little oil and a little care. But—!

Each one in this town should have an intimate acquaintance with the requirements and possibilities of this community.

It is only through such means that we are enabled to take proper advantage of the opportunities that present themselves for community betterment.

Such an interest on the part of the populace does not end with community improvement. There is a personal equasion which is of vast importance.

It deflects our minds from our private business affairs, gives them food for thought and development, affords us a broader perspective of life and its conditions, and strengthens us for the battles of the years that are before us.

It is a good thing in all ways. Hop to it!

How many of you have children in school?

How many of you can tell off hand what grades your children are in?

How many of you know the books your children are studying, the size of the lessons the teacher assigns, or the progress the little ones are making?

How many of you take time occasionally to run over the lessons with your children?

How many of you think to commend them for the interest they are taking and for the advancement they have made?

There was a time when you were young—when you worried your juvenile brain over problems which seemed mountainous then, but are so simple now.

Commendation and encouragement were sweet to you then.

They are just as precious to your children now.

Do they receive them?

If you ever see the careworn editor of this sheet skipping down the street like a kid with its first toy, don't become alarmed over his mental condition. Such a phenomenon may occur some time within the next half century. We are living in yearly anticipation of a decline in the price of print paper, and hope some day to see it come sliding down through the deep blue sky. In the meantime you are getting this paper for about one-half the price we have every legitimate right to charge.

Crowell, Texas, October 8, 1920

Go-to-church day last Sunday brought out the largest number in Dallas on record, the total being about 35,000. The First Baptist church led with more than 1900 and the East Dallas Christian church was second with more than 1300.

According to the census report Texas now has a little more than five and a half million people, which shows an increase of nearly 700,000, or 19 per cent. Texas is expected to retain fifth place among the states.

A German airman has announced his intention of trying to fly across the Atlantic about the middle of this month. He will use an aluminum monoplane and expects to make the flight within 36 hours.

Dallas expects a million to a million and a half people to attend the fair this fall, and with that expectation has been making preparations to take care of the increased numbers.

October 5th marks the beginning of a new service for the Dallas Morning News in West Texas, this section especially. We now get the News the day it is published.

At the better-baby contest held at Memphis, Hall County, recently, 41 were entered. Those winning prizes graded from 96 to 99.

The old time leg show is rapidly becoming a thing of the past. It doesn't stop there.

Our latest operatic stars are a twinkling success. You can't tell whether they are singing or having a fit of hysterics.

One of our excellent citizens is sorely puzzled these days. He wants to scare up a laugh and has forgotten how to go about it.

No matter how the election goes in November, there will still be a hundred million people left who are willing to work or be worked. We'll get along.

The public doesn't seem to be able to work up any tearful sympathy for the gamblers who got stung in the baseball scandal, but at the same time it would like to see crooked players placed where they belong—behind straight bars. The national game is in a fair way to be regarded with suspicion by every honest person.

With the advent of suffrage the henpecked husband should breathe a profound sigh of relief. Women will be too busy settling the intricate problems of state to waste time on the minor affairs of life.

Washington dispatches tell us that the coal situation is becoming serious. Our own commonsense tells us that the lack of coal is becoming more than serious—it will soon be a freezing calamity.

Time was when most any kind of a foreign nobleman could pick up an American heiress merely by indicating his willingness to accept her along with her "dough." Now, however, handsome chauffeurs are much more popular than ordinary dukes, princes and counts.

TOO MUCH RUT

The fellow who wears a path from his work to his home will soon wear himself out.

These are not the times of a hundred years ago, when life was more simple and people had time to think. Today we are going the pace that kills in our chase for wealth, a pace that taxes nature to the limit.

We need more recreation, more relaxation, more enjoyment free from the cares of business, for without these the pep of life will become sapped to the marrow.

In our haste to accumulate wealth we have acquired to habit of leaving community affairs almost entirely to our elective officials, contenting ourselves with a perfunctory kick when things do not go to suit us.

We should leave the beaten path and take some of this responsibility upon our own shoulders. It would be good for the community and even better for us.

ORANGES GROWN IN THE LOWER RIO GRANDE VALLEY OF TEXAS

Many Texans do not know that right here in this state we have an irrigated district which produces oranges and lemons equal to those of California, and grapefruit that is superior to those grown anywhere.

These citrus fruits demand certain conditions in order to prosper. They must have rich soil (or fertilized), a climate cool in summer and without frosts in winter, and water when it is needed. Given these conditions the steady year-after-year income produced by an orchard is almost unbelievable. One or two thousand dollars, gross, per year, per acre is not unusual in California where improved places sell for four, five, six thousand dollars and even more per acre.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley Irrigated District of Texas has several small citrus fruit orchards six to twelve years old which are in full bearing and are producing $1,000 to $2,000 gross revenue per year. In addition to these proven orchards thousands of young trees have been set out. In a few years Rio Grande Valley grapefruit and oranges and lemons will take their place on the markets of the world.

That is the big future of the Rio Grande Valley—the Magic Valley as some call it—but those conditions of a rich, made, alluvial soil, a twelve months growing season and all the water for irrigation that is wanted, makes it today the surest straight farming proposition in Texas.

It is not necessary to fertilize down there for in addition to a soil that is as rich as the valley of the Nile, every irrigation with muddy water puts nutriment and plant food into the land.

Three crops a year! 60 to 100 bushels of corn per acre first planting, 40 to 60 bushels second planting. Cotton has averaged better than a bale to the acre this year. Broom corn and sorghums yield two to three cuttings from a planting. Alfalfa makes seven to ten cuttings per year. Rhodes Grass will pasture four head of stock or thirty head of hogs to the acre the year around.

The Magic Valley makes more of these staple crops than is ordinarily made anywhere else on earth. Yet the crop of winter vegetables, grown while everything here is frozen up produces more money than the summer staples. Irish potatoes, tomatoes, beans, cabbage, lettuce, onions and other vegetables come fresh on the market in the middle of winter and command the top price.

Hogs, dairy cows, chickens, pastured the year around, are big money producers.

Irrigation, soil, and climate, the factors that mean sure crops, are what has moved seventy-five thousand people from all over the United States to the Rio Grande Valley. Hidalgo county has increased 177.6 per cent since the last census. They are going where the harvest is sure,

Doctor Cupid

That love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician. Love is not, however, the cure for all women. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is now sold by all druggists in the United States in tablets as well as liquid form.

EVANT, TEXAS.—"I have used Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was run-down and suffered from functional disturbances but 'Favorite Prescription' regulated me. I was so nervous I was miserable and could not sleep at night when I began to use the 'Prescription.' I had not taken a whole bottle until I could sleep well and got as stout as I ever was. I keep a bottle of 'Prescription' on hand and when I work and get tired I take a dose and it strengthens my nerves."—Mrs. GEORGIA DEMERIS BERRY

"The mere fact that the demand for Dodge Brothers motor cars is still greater than the supply, despite the great expansion program at the factory, has absolutely nothing to do with the decision to continue the present prices. In marketing their car Dodge Brothers have never made a point of price and will never sacrifice the quality of their product to enter price competition."

BULL FIGHTS AND BASE BALL

Bull fighting is the national sport in Spain. In the United States it is base ball.

In Spain every one goes to see the matadore vanquish the bull, from the king down to the humblest citizen. It is a gala day, and the matadore is a national hero.

In this country large numbers of people go to the ball games, from the office boy down to the head of the firm. The electric wire flashes the result to the entire nation.

The bull fight is clean, even if it is gory. Graft apparently has not entered into the sport, as the matadore could hardly "throw" the fight in favor of the bull without having his insides tossed all over the arena from the horns of the pain maddened animal.

But base ball, the American national game?

Honest lovers of the sport are sick, nauseated, holding their noses from the stench of the graft that is creeping in.

What will future championship pennants mean?

To the public they will be decorated with the emblem of the almighty dollar—the dirty dollar of graft—indicating that some Judas of the diamond has sunk his honor in iniquity and thrown the game for a filthy mess of gambler besmirched pottage.

Unless the base ball world can be thoroughly and effectively purged of these grafting traitors, and the honest players protected from suspicion, we might well consign the ball and the bat to oblivion and import a few bulls and matadores from ancient Spain.

The sport would be slippery with the blood of the vanquished, but the public would at least know that the laurels of the victor were honestly won.

FARM RENT FREE IS PLAN OF RANGER

"BACK TO THE COUNTRY" MOVEMENT BEING PUSHED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Ranger, Texas, Oct. 4.—A movement has been started to populate the idle farms around Ranger next year rent free. The Chamber of Commerce has been agitating the "back to the Eastland County farm" movement and in the last few days added impetus has been given its work by several landowners offering to provide farms rent free to bona fide tenants.

The chamber is now tabulating the farms and conferring with all owners, in an effort to reach all agreements with landlords that all idle farms may be tenanted rent free. At the same time it is getting into communication with many farmers who are seeking a place for next year.

The work that has been done thus far shows that around Ranger there are several hundred farms that are lying idle because owners have become independent through oil, and that drilling operations during the feverish rush of the early days of the boom could not be hampered by fences. The majority of these places have comfortable houses upon them and are provided with wells and windmills and other facilities for comfortable living. Before oil was discovered, cotton, peanuts, oats, forage crops, live stock and poultry were produced in the Ranger country, earning for their owners a comfortable livelihood.

With the farms repopulated, several thousand people will have a direct source of income.

Torpid Liver

Black-Draught "has no equal for headache, sour stomach, torpid liver and feverish colds..." declares Mrs. Annie Whitmore, of Gate City, Va. "It is easy to take and does not gripe, as a lot of medicines do," she adds. "It is good to take in a hot tea for colds, or can be taken in a dry powder. I can't say enough for Black-Draught and the sickness it has saved us."

Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

has been found a valuable liver medicine, in thousands of homes. "I do not use any other liver medicine," says Mrs. Mary O. Brown, of Europa, Miss. "It is splendid for sour stomach, a bad taste in the mouth or torpid liver. I keep it all the time, use it with the children and feel it has saved us many dollars in doctor bills and many days in bed."

Insist on the genuine—Theford's.

Our little burg is enjoying beautiful fall weather.
Our M. E. parsonage has been torn down and the next pastor may have a decent house to live in.
For some cause unknown to the writer our electric light plant has winked out several nights.
Houses are in demand. The preacher's family has moved into the church and our school professor occupies the Woodmen hall.
We will have another car of coal this week and we want our customers who got a load last week to give those a chance who are entirely out.

Our gin is running and we hope that it may do better service. They say everything has been put in new, but we recognize the squeal of Jim Gilliam's whistle and that may ruin the whole business.
Cotton picking and wheat planting keeps the people busy. Since cotton has tumbled down so low the farmers cannot get money to gather the crop and a bad storm would do great damage to cotton in the field.

Ed Morris has sold his crop and moved to Vernon.

Marvin Moore has sold his place. We did not learn the buyer's name.
Preparations are being made this week toward moving the Rayland school house.
Mrs. Wayland and family have returned from several weeks visit in Fannin County.
Dr. German and wife of Rayland have been visiting their son, Grant, and family, in Oklahoma.
Miss Addie Coffman left last week for White Deer, Texas, where she will teach in the public school.
Elvy Tuggle and wife who once resided here have returned. We have not learned whether they have come to stay or not.
Cleave Willis and family from Houston County are at the home of Jeff Creagor. We understand they intend farming on Mr. Creagor's place next year.

At the present reckless waste of timber in the United States, it will not be many years until it will practically all be gone. We have never yet learned to plant trees to take the places of those destroyed. Timber is being used four times as fast as it is being grown. In a few minutes a large tree can be destroyed but it takes a hundred years to grow one.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate. Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.
