HOW TO CARE FOR AND FEED YOUR TURKEYS

By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College of Texas

ARTICLE NUMBER SIX

Some people are under the impression that young turkeys may be fed and brooded similar to baby chicks. Experience soon will indicate the mistake. Young turkeys, because of their close relationship to wild birds, must be fed and brooded entirely different than chicks.

Artificially brooding turkeys we have never found very satisfactory. We found we had to put them to bed every night. Young turkeys require more exercise, green food and opportunity to pick up bugs and insects than chicks.

The turkey hen is much to be preferred for brooding of young turkeys. She knows best how to handle the poults. The common hen as a rule has a disposition to wean them when too young.

Do not give one turkey hen too many poults. We have found it best to give her not more than 25 and 20 will do better. It is true that some times she will raise and take care of as many as 35.

At Hatching Time

When the young turkeys begin to hatch, be sure to fasten the nest down so they cannot get out of the nest, which they are sure to do if not prevented. It takes 28 days to hatch turkey eggs, but often they hatch as early as the 27th day. Remove any shells that may be in the nests the night of the 27th day. When all are hatched the hen and poults are moved to a quiet place prepared for her.

A good turkey brooding coop may be made as follows: Build a coop, with wooden floors, and north and south sides. The east and west ends may be covered with wire netting. Shutters hinged at the top to swing out may be fitted over these ends. The coop is 4 feet high in back—5 feet high in front and four feet square with a good roof. These coops may be located in the orchard or woodlot, but must be moved onto fresh ground once a week, and oftener is still better. Board roosts are put in this coop for them to roost on when they get old enough to use them. Remember, turkeys must have plenty of fresh air and positively will not do well unless they get it. Remember the ends of these coops are practically open, except for the wire netting. The shutters should under no circumstances be used or let down, excepting in rainy and stormy weather. Some times we think the shutters ought not to be added because many people keep them down too much. Turkeys will die if confined in closed coops lacking in fresh air. When the turkeys are good sized, they will do best roosting in trees.

Feed for Young Turkeys

In feeding turkeys, remember you are not feeding baby chicks. Feeding turkeys as heavily as most people feed baby chicks will surely kill the poults. Most people feed the poults too much. Give the young turkeys a chance to exercise, chase down an insect, eat a blade of grass and maybe some clabber sprinkled with a little black pepper, and you will find that the poults will do much better. Don't feed the poults until they are 36 hours old.

Let the poults run on a grass covered yard. They want an abundance of tender, green shoots. Milk curd with onion tops and seasoned with black pepper, is a very good starting food. Give this three times a day. Milk heated, but not boiled, is also an excellent drink for young turkeys. We have found that occasionally giving them a raw egg mixed with their food, is better than hard boiled eggs. Grit should be kept before them at all times.

We have found good cracked wheat and later whole wheat an excellent grain food for turkeys. When they get older, they may be fed corn. The idea of stuffing poults to make them grow faster, is a sure way of killing them. Really the best way, is to let the hen take the poults out in the morning, and not feed them anything until evening, excepting maybe some good clabber.

When turkeys are about ten weeks old, they generally will pick up the biggest part of their living. On cotton farms this may not be true, and

CITY ALDERMEN AND SECRETARY ELECTED

Death of Former Crowell Girl

Week before last Frank Moore and wife were called to Farwell on account of the death of Frank's sister, Mrs. Marie Moore Edgerton, which occurred March 21. Harry Moore, her brother also, of Dallas, attended the funeral and returned with Frank and his wife to Crowell for a few days' visit with them.

Following is the account of Mrs. Edgerton's death as published by the State Line Tribune at Farwell:

Marie Moore Edgerton, daughter of C. M. Moore, departed this life Tuesday, March 21, 1922, of pneumonia. Marie was born in Crowell, Foard County, 18 years ago. She came with her father and family to live on a farm three miles west of town, five years ago. She attended the Farwell school and was on the basketball team until her marriage not quite a year ago to C. A. Edgerton.

Marie was a lovely character and was loved by her school mates who expressed their affection with lovely carnations for the casket. The funeral was conducted by Rev. H. W. Carter at the Methodist church Wednesday at 4:00 o'clock. Interment was in Farwell cemetery.

The family, especially the young husband, has the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

Six brothers and three sisters are left in this family—Walter, Harry, J. R. and Caddie came from Dallas, Marvin and wife from Mexia, Texas, Frank and wife from Crowell, Bob and wife and Margie and Jewel live here with the father.

The report comes from Paducah that the wheat crop will be a failure and that the cotton acreage will be increased 10 per cent.

A bond election has been ordered for the city of Anson of $80,000 for waterworks.

It may be necessary to feed them at night. In West Texas where all kinds of grains are grown—especially sorghum grains—no doubt turkeys need not be fed, until fattening time.

Turkeys do not do nearly as much harm to crops, as most people think. They destroy many insects that are really beneficial.

Turkeys, when turned loose in a cabbage and potato patch, will not injure the crop, but will keep the plants free from bugs. One kind of potato bug is very injurious to turkeys, but they do not often eat them. Turkeys eat and like the cabbage worm. Turkeys will also eat all kinds of cotton insects. In some sections, turkeys pay from the standpoint of insect destroyers in the cotton patch.

Do not try to raise chicks and turkeys in the same pen, because the chicks will run over the turkeys and injure them.

Keep the poults shut up in their coops when small on wet, rainy and cold days. If they ever get wet and chilled they will never recover.

Do not locate turkey coops near ant holes. Cut the large wing and tail feathers of young turkeys, because it takes too much energy to carry them.

Watch the turkeys closely the first ten weeks, but do not pamper them. Most turkeys are killed by too much attention.

Do not let poults get chilled. When droopy poults are noticed, locate the cause and remove it, to prevent other poults from getting sick. It is seldom possible to cure a droopy poul.

Vermín

The turkeys and poults must be kept free from lice. Dust the hen, with sodium fluoride when the eggs are put under her, and again when she has been setting two weeks. Do not use strong lice powder on her at hatching time.

Disinfect the roosting coops and nest boxes.

A little pure lard, on the head, wings and around the vent is excellent on poults. Do not use too much. Too much lard or grease on poults is fatal.

The "chigger" may also be killed by using grease, but remember too much grease will kill the poul.

COUNTY AGENT WORKING PLAN FOR BETTER POULTRY

Proposition for Club Members to Purchase Purebred Chicks Will Be Financed by Bank

For some time the county agent has had in mind the idea of stimulating greater interest in the poultry business in the county but the plan has not been worked out until recently. That plan is to get as many of the members of the agricultural clubs as possible to agree to buy 25 chicks of standard breed, the best that can be found, of whatever choice they may prefer, raise them and at the fall exhibit sell from the flock three hens and one rooster and apply this money on the notes the boys and girls will have made at the bank for the purchase money.

That is the plan briefly stated. The members of the clubs that will be eligible to enter this field are those between the ages of ten and eighteen. With the backing of the boys and girls by parents this arrangement can be made and the money procured. The 25 chicks will cost from 15 to 30 cents each. The county agent favors buying the best, and on that basis the cost is estimated, and the 25 chicks at 30 cents each will cost $7.50.

The county agent thinks there ought to be at least 100 boys and girls in the county who would be glad to enter into this, which would mean the purchase of 2500 standard bred chicks, the total cost being $750. It is estimated that with fair care and treatment 20 out of the 25 should be raised to maturity. If that is near correct the full grown fowls would represent a sum amounting to $2,000, or only an average market price, but surely standard bred stuff will be worth more.

The plan is without doubt a fine one. It will be a great thing for the boys and girls. They start out in a business for themselves. It is a small one, to be sure, but its possibilities of growth are almost unlimited. It will give the boys and girls something of their own in which to be interested. If it were to result in complete failure the loss would be negligible. But they will not fail. The result of such a plan will put into our county thousands of standard bred chickens of various breeds that would tell many years to come without further effort along this line.

There is another thing that makes this even a better proposition than it would ordinarily be. You remember the News is running articles by F. W. Kazmeier, the greatest chicken crank in the Southwest today, touching every phase of the poultry business. These will run all the year. Not a single subject will be untouched, and they will be discussed at the time when you are interested in them and when they will be of the greatest value to you. This will supplement your knowledge of the business and make it not only a success but a real pleasure.

It is doubtful if ever there was a more opportune time to make the start as above outlined than now. Good rains have fallen and row crops are nearly certain to be good this summer. Besides there will be some small grain made and likely plenty of feed. Conditions bid fair to be good, and that helps. We are not so likely to get "down in the mouth." We can have a great fair this fall by getting started in time, and what would be finer than to see exhibits of fine chickens by one hundred boys and girls this fall? The News feels like right now it wants to offer a nice prize for the best pen, and it would be tickled to see some ten year old boy or girl win. What a far-reaching effect this effort may have can not be even imagined.

The Adelpian Club

The Adelpian Club met in regular session at the home of Mrs. Joe Johnson on Wednesday, April 5th, with full attendance.

Mrs. Archie Williams conducted the lesson which was on English painting and sculpture. Mrs. A. D. Campbell gave a short talk on the methods of etching and England's greatest etcher.

The hostess served two courses of delicious refreshments.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jeff Bruce.—Reporter.

Crowell Hi vs. Paducah Hi

Last week we made some remarks as to the fickleness of Lady Luck. These remarks, coupled with the old saw, "Vengeance is sweet," probably accounts for Paducah's 10 to 8 victory of last Friday.

Anyhow the heartless jade was once more on the side of our opponents, snatching our victory from us and bestowing it on the visitors. The weather was ideal baseball weather and the players seemed in good condition. At the end of Crowell's last bat the score was eight to five in Crowell's favor. At the end of their last bat the score stood ten to eight with Paducah reposing on the large end.

Three home runs were hit, two by Biddy of Paducah and one by Beverly of Crowell. The lineup follows:

Hen Trying for State Record

In size of egg laid, Dr. Schindler owns a Buff Wyandotte that approaches the state record, to say the least of it, according to reports. The egg laid by this hen is on display in the show window at Ferguson Bros. It looks to be as large as a goose egg. It is 4 5/8 inches in length, 7 3/4 inches in circumference the small way, and 9 3/8 inches the long way. The weight of the egg is 6 1/2 ounces.

By comparison we find that this egg is equal in weight to more than 8 ordinary eggs. This can be figured out for yourself. An ordinary egg weighs 3/4 of an ounce.

According to the Star-Telegram this is not the record, but it is very close, there being only a small fraction of difference between this and the one claimed to hold the record. Without any doubt this is the second largest chicken egg in Texas.

Runs for Commissioner

In the announcement column appears this week the name of Dave Sallis, who offers himself as a candidate for commissioner of precinct No. 2, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

With the knowledge of the importance with which Foard County roads must be regarded for the next few years, and with the experience Mr. Sallis has had in road construction and maintenance in Oklahoma for four years, he feels himself in a measure qualified for the duties of this office. He regards road and highway maintenance the biggest thing before the commissioners, and in that we think he is right. Mr. Sallis might be too modest to claim special qualifications for all the arduous duties that must confront our commissioners from time to time, but it is only just to say for him that he is alive to the various public interests and is a man of judgment and consideration for the common good.

UNDERGO OPERATIONS AT THE SANITARIUM

On Friday Miss Lena Ford underwent an operation at the sanitarium for appendicitis. On Sunday morning Mrs. Locke and on Wednesday Mrs. J. T. King were operated on. All the patients are reported to be improving.

GENERAL RAINS OVER COUNTY WILL MAKE WHEAT CROP

Although There Is Little Bottom Season Frequent Rains Are Supplying Present Needs

Several things combine to make wheat crops somewhat promising. First, the frequent rains we have been having. That of Sunday night and Monday morning, amounting to more than an inch, was the best we have had since last summer, but it comes following several light showers which have brought the wheat up to a promising stage. Then, the continued cool weather is very helpful to the wheat. The ground does not dry out rapidly and the young and growing crops get the full benefit of the moisture. These two conditions, together with the reasonable prospects of continued showers through the spring season, makes a fair wheat crop look reasonably certain. Indeed we think it can be said that only continued dry weather can prevent some wheat in the county from maturing and making a fair yield.

With the present prospects for small grain, which are much better than was expected only a few weeks ago, and the outlook for row crops, new inspiration and strengthened confidence have seized most of our people and old man Pessimism has for the time been hanged.

All Over Texas

The widow of Congressman Parrish, who died last week, has been urged to run for Congress to fill the unexpired term of her husband. She has consented to do so provided she has no opposition.

Three solid carloads of eggs are reported to have been shipped from Plainview to Cuba. Orders are also being filled from California. West Texas only has to make use of its opportunities to become one of the great poultry sections of the Southwest.

The heaviest man in the world is a Texan, Sam Harris, whose home is Farmersville. He was for a long time city marshal of Farmersville, but moved to a farm to reduce his weight. He is now with a circus, but spends his winters at home. Harris' weight is 661 pounds.

The F. F. F. Highway has been marked from Fort Worth to Las Vegas, the only one in the state marked from that city to the Plains. It is reported that traffic is starting up early all along the line.

Rats gnawed off one leg each of four chicks at Clarendon while they were tiny creatures in the nest with the mother hen. They are all said to be growing and getting along about as well as chicks do with two legs. They may develop a new breed of chicks, but the one-legged variety will never be popular with the Methodist circuit rider nor the Baptist Association missionary.

Lee Satterwhite, representative from Amarillo, has given out the statement that he will be a candidate for the speakership of the lower house. Satterwhite is a man of some ability and the News would like to see him get the position.

A toll bridge is to be erected across Red River near Odell. It is expected that this will be done some time this summer.

Miss Annie Webb Blanton, State School Commissioner, is advocating an amendment to the State Constitution providing for a 50 cent school tax to supplement the present 35 cents. Without this she thinks the public schools of Texas will face the greatest crisis in their history.

Methodist Meeting Closed

The revival at the Methodist church closed last Sunday night, as was previously announced. At the morning service there were eight additions to the church, and the church has been greatly revived.

Also at the morning hour a liberal offering was taken for Bro. Lipscomb as an appreciation of his earnest efforts during the two weeks. It amounted to more than $250. He returned to his home in Chillicothe Monday morning.

HIGHWAY MEETING CALLED AT CROWELL

Plainview, Texas, April 4.—A convention of the F. F. F. highway will be held at Crowell Monday, April 17. The main purpose of the meeting will be to plan methods of better caring for the heavy tourist travel expected over the highway this Summer. Every county on the route between Fort Worth and Las Vegas is expected to be represented. Ford Shook of Fort Worth, president of the F. F. F. highway, will preside.

The annual Summer convention of the F. F. F. Highway Association will be held in Las Vegas in July.

RESULT OF SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTION

There were 187 votes cast in the election Saturday for school trustees. Three were to be elected and H. E. Ferguson, S. T. Crews and Dr. J. M. Hill were the ones elected. The vote stood as follows:

H. E. Ferguson 171
S. T. Crews 125
Dr. J. M. Hill 139
J. G. Coffey 70

Death of Aged Lady

Mrs. Mary P. Brown, mother of Mrs. Flem Hays, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hays April 3.

The maiden name of the deceased was Mary P. Hammack and she was born in Alabama in 1840, and was married to Thomas Lyons in 1861. To this union was born one daughter. She was married a second time to Silas Brown.

The deceased came to Texas in 1885, and to Foard County in 1899. She resided with her only child, Mrs. Flem Hays, until death. Funeral services and interment took place Tuesday of this week.

A Business Change

A deal was consummated last week whereby the stock owned by S. C. Auld, C. W. Cecil and Robt. Ramsell in the Cecil & Company store of this city became the property of Henry Burress, W. S. J. Russell and Gordon Gribble, and the firm name of the establishment is now changed to that of the Crowell Dry Goods Company.

The officers of the corporation are: W. S. J. Russell, president; Henry Burress, vice president and general manager; Gordon Gribble, secretary-treasurer.

There will be no changes in the management of the business. Mr. Burress will continue as manager and all the employees will remain with the firm, with the addition of Gordon Gribble, who besides being a stockholder, will be actively associated with the business.

Cecil & Company has grown up with Crowell and has been identified with the development of the town and county. This firm has been a factor in contributing to their growth, and the prediction can be made that the business with the above changes will continue to be all that the old firm has been, and more. We shall think now of the Crowell Dry Goods Co., instead of Cecil & Co.

Grand Jury Report

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Foard. In the District Court of Foard County, April Term, A. D., 1922. To the Hon. J. A. Nabers, Judge of said court:

We, the grand jury, impaneled at this term of this court submit the following report:

We herewith present two felony indictments and two misdemeanor indictments.

Our labors have been exceedingly light, and we feel that this has in a large measure been due to the efficient work of our sheriff and other county officers. We wish to commend them upon their splendid efforts in enforcing the law in our county.

We have finished our labors and ask that we be finally discharged.

Respectfully submitted,
E. M. KEY,
Foreman Grand Jury.
Dated April 4th, 1922.

Mr. and Mrs. James K. Mason came in Sunday from Waco to visit Mrs. Mason's parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Billington. They were accompanied by Mrs. Mason's brother, J. Tanner Billington, who had been visiting in Waco. Mr. and Mrs. Mason will be here for another week.

John Brown of Truscott was in Crowell yesterday.

GROCERIES

That Are Best and Cheapest
Are Worth Buying

It may be a true saying that when price takes the wheel quality tumbles out and the machine goes into the ditch, but this store has come as nearly as any you will find in effecting a compromise between the two, and when you have made an investigation of prices and quality at this store you will find them both steering, each with a hand on the wheel. The result is a safe journey for every one who gets on our band wagon. There is no ditching. Price and quality are both paramount. This is the happy medium which makes grocery buying a safe proposition at this store. You are protected both in point of price and quality.

CULBERSON IN LETTER SAYS STATE SHOULD CURE KU KLUX

Washington, April 1.—Suggesting that the Legislature of Texas "may be called in extra session" to enact legislation to pass laws regarding the Ku Klux Klan, Senator Charles A. Culberson, a candidate for re-election, in a letter he made public Saturday night, declares that the "Klan will indeed overthrow our Anglo-Saxon civilization in its relation to government."

The letter is addressed to Maj. Harry Fisher of Houston, a former member of the Texas Legislature. The statement comes as a surprise to friends of Senator Culberson in Washington.

The letter, furnished to newspaper correspondents Saturday night by Chester W. Jurney, his private secretary, follows:

Dear major:—Your recent letter asking my position with reference to the order known as the Ku Klux Klan which now is in operation in our State was duly received and I answer at the earliest opportunity. I have no affiliation directly or indirectly with this organization and I am unqualifiedly opposed to its operations. If not curbed, it will usurp the functions of the State and be destructive of government itself. It will indeed overthrow our Anglo-Saxon civilization in its relation to government. Steps should be taken, therefore, at once to arrest its progress and finally to destroy it.

Appeal cannot be made to the Federal Government for this purpose, for it is without jurisdiction unless application is made by Texas to the United States in the manner provided by the Constitution for protection against domestic violence, and this is unthinkable. Fortunately, however, the power of the State is ample, and if no law now exists adequate to the occasion, the Legislature may be called in extra session to supply this deficiency.

Truly your friend,

C. A. CULBERSON.

13 YARDS REQUIRED TO MAKE PAIR PANTS

Sam Harris of Farmersville, farmer and the biggest Woodman in the World, was in McKinney one day recently. Mr. Harris for the past few years has been an attraction at the various picnics and county fairs over North Texas and Southern Oklahoma. While here he visited the Texas Cotton Mill and purchased in all about one hundred and fifty yards of cloth with which to make himself some suits suitable for the summer season. Mr. Harris tips the scales at 661 pounds. He purchased fifty yards of pin checks, forty-five yards of palm beach, a tan colored cotton fabric, and forty yards of crash toweling. The boys at the big Texas Cotton Mill had quite a time measuring Mr. Harris. It takes 13 yards of cloth to make Sam a suit. His pants are 79 inches in the waist. His knee measurement is 50 inches. Sam Harris has a number of friends at the Texas Cotton Mill who always enjoy his occasional visits.—The McKinney Examiner.

$6,450,000 TURNED OVER TO PUBLIC SCHOOL FUND

Austin, Texas, April 2.—A transfer of $6,450,000 of available school money was made Saturday which is said to be the largest single apportionment ever made in Texas, being $5 for each of the 1,290,000 school children in Texas. This makes a total of $9,500 for each enumerated child on the current apportionment of $13 for each child within the scholastic age. There is yet a balance of $3.50 per child to be paid on this year's allowance out of the State available school fund.

Announcement of the foregoing effect was made by First Assistant State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs who said that if teachers will present their warrants at the State Treasury they will be cashed immediately.

Within the last few months teachers have not been able to cash their vouchers because of the scarcity of funds but the large apportionment or transfer today will relieve their embarrassment.

State tax money was slow in being received at the State Treasury this year which accounts for the delay in making the transfer, but with tax money now coming additional amounts will be paid in the near future on the apportionment for this scholastic session.

The fellow who goes through life in a hurry is the first to slow up at the other end.

Some people never quite believe it is a secret until they have told it to their best friend.

The optimist never worries over a busted bubble. He blows another while he waits.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 66

Sizing Things Up

In sizing things up, especially those having a bearing upon local conditions, it is well to remember that there is more than one angle from which a question should be viewed. Many people err in judgment purely from haste and over zealousness.

Impressions are often formed at first glance, and unless a person is willing to probe beneath the surface and consider all available facts those first impressions will remain and become fixed convictions, irrespective of whether they be right or wrong.

Then there are those who, having formed a hasty conclusion, refuse to recede from their position even when confronted with indisputable proof of their error of judgment. That is pure stubbornness.

But in this town, as in all other towns, there are many people who are quick to form impressions, but are willing to, and do, analyze the arguments of the opposition. Often their views are completely changed as a result of the additional information they thus acquire.

Sizing up local conditions is an admirable habit, but undue haste in forming conclusions is regrettable.

Best results are obtained by taking a calm survey of the situation from every conceivable viewpoint before taking a definite stand.

Communities prosper and grow when their citizens adopt this plan.

We have no objection to the army and navy being reduced in size, provided congress agrees to do the fighting the next time we get into a scrap.

It's a poor day when America can not make rapid strides in one way or another. Just now we are engaged in making the country safe for crooks.

Methodist Church Notice

Sunday School at 10 o'clock, M. S. Henry, Supt. Please be on time by all means. Let us go over the two hundred mark next Sunday. It will soon be time for Sunday School Day in the Sunday School and we expect to devote the 11 o'clock hour to this great event. So we want especially all the children present from now until this day.

Our Senior League is growing both in numbers and interest, and we extend all the young people an invitation to come and engage in this work that you may be the better prepared for service in coming years.

Preaching Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and in the evening at 7:45, by the pastor. The subject for the morning hour will be, "Re-digging the Wells. At the evening hour the subject will be, "Lost Opportunities."

Come to church. Wear your overalls, your calico or your best bib and tucker. You are as welcome as the flowers in May. Only leave your bed sheets at home.

..... Pearl Saunder, the Teacher.
The Scholars:
Harold James Henry Black
Peter Nauler Tom Beverly
Edith Graves Nathalye Dickerson
Marie Jones Beulah Kenner
Hilda Jones Susie Johnson
George Wilson Geo. Cates
Flora Brown May King
Rebia Smith Jewell Kenner
Dorothea Brown Anna Mae Ellis
James Smith Millard McDonald
Jeremiah Atkins Roy Sloan
Hezekiah Rundorison Sam Ivie
Beatrice Brown.....

Beulah Patton, Flora's City Cousin
The scene of the play was in a country schoolroom. The teacher of the school was Pearl Saunders, an old maid school teacher, who performed her duties in a very dignified manner, but had a great deal of trouble with her rather mischievous pupils.

In fact, everyone seemed to enjoy the program for we were given a very hearty encore.

I regret to say that several students were absent Monday and Tuesday on account of the rain.—Junior Reporter.

CALOMEL GOOD BUT AWFUL TREACHEROUS

Next Dose May Salivate, Shock Liver or Attack Your Bones

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. 65

THE AMERICAN LEGION

"If the Legion wants the flag taken down they can hire a couple of steeple jacks and take it down," was the answer the board of commissioners made to the Littleton, Col., American Legion post when it protested the improper care being given the flag on the court house. Nothing loath, a couple of old mast climbers turned the trick.

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis flatly refused to become an honorary member of the American Legion when the honor was offered him following his speech before the Mobile, Ala., post. "No man who has not the title of a World War veteran should be permitted a place on the roll of the Legion," he said. "I would give almost anything I have for that title."

When a carnival pitched its tents on his hotel property and an appeal to the authorities proved of no avail, Charles E. Young, Sr., St. Augustine, Fla., used the old sea method of showing distress and hung the American flag on his hostelry upside down. The American Legion protested the act and Young publicly apologized.

Alexander Lochwitzky, a former Russian count and a Major in the American army during the world war, has sent an appeal to the New York American Legion asking that a job be found for him "doing anything." He speaks eight languages fluently. Everything he had was lost in the San Antonio flood.

Hundreds of ex-gobs who raked mines out of the North Sea during the world war want to re-enlist, but in Prohibition Commissioner Haynes' "hooch Navy." Four submarine chasers are being put in commission at Baltimore, Md., and when completed will form a Navy that will wage war on rum runners.

Because the ex-soldier doesn't speak German and the man he named does, Rep. Edward Voight of the 2nd Wisconsin district refused the request of the American Legion that Clyde Ellis, world war veteran, be appointed postmaster at Elkhart Lake, Wis. Rep. Voight has informed citizens who favored Ellis.

When John A. Isham of Boise, Idaho, discovered that Oscar Weymire, his old bunkmate in the army, had not paid his American Legion dues he decided to visit Weymire. The latter was trapping 300 miles away but Isham made the trip by foot, horse and skates and brought in the dues.

When the Paris "Figaro" published a cartoon against the payment of the expenses of the United States Army of Occupation, the American Legion in France registered a healthy kick. The picture showed a doughboy pushing aside Marianne as the latter is about to take a plate of gold from Germany.

A discovery that Harvard, Neb., didn't have a way of getting the latest news on the weather, crops and current events caused an old Navy radio operator to get busy. Now the American Legion is issuing "hot off the wire" news to the Harvard citizenry.

The strength that won the Argonne and St. Mihiel is being used to guard New York against payroll and bank messenger robberies. The American Legion is furnishing ex-soldiers who go heavily armed with the men and women who carry huge sums through the business sections.

The American Legion rifle team of Golden, Col., composed entirely of men whose rifles played a part in the World War battles, has issued a challenge to any rifle team in the United States, the scores to be telegraphed to each team at the end of each range.

When a tornado struck Corinth, Miss., the Mayor called on the American Legion post to furnish an armed patrol to prevent pillaging. For hours after the catastrophe the ex-service men were on the job in the stricken areas.

War wounds and nervousness laid to shell shock is believed responsible for the act of Ralph W. Harrison of Maplewood, N. J., who committed suicide by shooting himself with the army revolver he had carried in France.

The Chicago, Ill., board of aldermen has voted to send a delegation of five of its members to Washington to help in the fight for the American Legion's bill for adjusted compensation.

Their own hero's death from old war wounds has caused a Des Moines, Iowa, family to send a request to the American Legion for an ex-service man for adoption.

Every Chamber of Commerce in the State of Washington has voted in favor of the American Legion's plan for adjusted compensation.

"The Right Hat for Real Men"

1892 R.B. Edwards Co. 1922
Oldest and Largest Busiest and Best

The government employs something like 40,000 girls as stenographers and typists. Their average pay is $1,200 a year.

A treasury expert estimates that each one of these girls use up one hour a day in primping during working hours. It pains the expert to think that the government pays them $6,000,000 a year in salaries for which it receives no return.

Should the girls be docked for the time they consume in primping and powdering their noses? Possibly they should. Not even the government should be expected to pay for services that are not rendered.

But let's start right and dock impartially.

Is there a man in the government employ who really works his eight hours each day?

As a matter of fact, don't the majority of them loaf from one to three hours every day? Call it two hours as a fair example. Include among the number the gentlemanly expert who would dock the girls for keeping themselves beautiful for our benefit.

Now do some more brilliant figuring, Mr. Expert, and tell us the result. Save $6,000,000 a year? You bet! By including the male loafers it would be nearer a hundred millions.

Sure thing! Turn the switch and start the official docket to working. But soak the big guns and chief loafers first.

Financial stringency has its effect upon two distinct classes of people.

When it comes one class works a little harder, cuts down expenses, manages to lay by a little each week in preparation for possible emergencies, and gets through in fairly good shape.

The other class does a pile of complaining, doesn't exert any additional energy, forgets to economize while the money lasts, and as a result soon finds itself up against it.

A big sermon in a few words.

It is probably the absence of one brand of justice that causes the agencies of justice to be branded.

The man who advertises his honesty may deceive himself, but never those who know him.

F. J. Fitzgerald, auditor for the Texas Company was here the first of the week.

The Other Way

Somewhere in this community there is someone who is less respected than any other person. His condition is the result of his own acts.

Is such a person all bad? Far from it. He has his good qualities, though they may be stifled by the criticism his defects invite.

Find the good in such a man, encourage and develop it, and in time you may transform him into a reputable and law abiding citizen.

Harsh criticism and perpetual condemnation will not do it.

Your Plain Duty

Every American citizen, native born or naturalized, owes a solemn duty to this country. That duty is to vote for the very best men for public office, without regard to the ties of friendship or other considerations.

It is possible that a conscientious discharge of this duty may require that a person vote against a warm personal friend in order to install in office a man who is better fitted to perform the duties of the position.

This fact, painful though it might be, should not deter any man from following the course which he deems to be right and just, for the ties of country are greater than those of friendship—or at least they should be.

Many otherwise good citizens feel that if they are busy on election day that fact should be sufficient excuse for refraining from voting.

But they are mistaken. They are setting a bad example to the rising generation. They are strong for the inalienable rights of citizenship, yet weak in the discharge of one of the most sacred duties that devolves upon a citizen.

They are good citizens except in the matter of voting.

In that they are not good. Their indifference hurts not only them, but their country as well.

As the Editor Sees It

Some months ago mail robberies came thick and fast. Bandits were making many rich hauls. The public was becoming demoralized.

Then the government put the United States marines to guarding the registered mails. Instead of getting money the bandits got bullets in their carcasses. Some said "good morning" to the devil.

The marines had no future votes to consider, hence they shot, and shot straight, and mail robberies ceased.

All of the rest of the banditry that is disgracing this country could be handled and checked as effectively if officials would consider only the conscientious discharge of their duty and get away from the prevailing custom of pandering to the votes of the criminal element.

Law and order can not expect to accomplish anything by sleeping while criminality works.
