ANNUAL CONFERENCE SENDS NEW PASTOR

Rev. Murrell Goes from Crowell to Chillicothe; Rev. T. C. Willett of Tulia Comes Here

The congregation of the Methodist church did not know that it was hearing Rev. Murrell for the last time when he delivered his sermon Sunday night, Oct. 29, in which he spoke of the freedom of the Christian as being the fullest and most joyous freedom of all men, connecting with that thought that he is rich in his possessions because of the fact that what he has is given him by one who is the giver of all things good. Rev. Murrell himself, of course, did not know whether or not he would return to Crowell. He had stated from the pulpit Sunday morning that should it fall to his lot to come back to Crowell he would find himself very happy to have the privilege of serving the church again, but that he was going willingly wherever he might be sent. He goes to Chillicothe.

Rev. Murrell has made many friends during his year's stay in Crowell, and many people are disappointed that he is not to return. He is one of the strongest preachers the church has ever had and has done a great work during the 12 months of his ministry here. He is intensely earnest in his work and is, we think, above the ordinary thinker, and always presents his thoughts in a clear and impressive manner. Chillicothe is fortunate in procuring the services of Bro. Murrell as pastor. It should be said also of his good wife, whose life is fully in accord with the work of Bro. Murrell, that she numbers her friends here with the circle of her acquaintance, and she will be missed by her associates almost as much as will Bro. Murrell. Their stay in Crowell will be to the people here a period of pleasant recollections and their services have been and will be fruitful of much good.

Rev. T. C. Willett comes from Tulia and is spoken of by those acquainted with him as an excellent preacher and a good man.

Rev. Hankins who has served the church at Margaret for the last year is transferred to Odell, and his place at Margaret is filled by Rev. O. A. Grayden. Rev. L. N. Lipscomb is transferred from Chillicothe to Hereford.

Young Man Is Shot Death at Chillicothe

Saturday evening about nine o'clock at Chillicothe Russell Kennedy, twenty-one years old, was shot to death by W. E. Ramsey, a farmer forty-three years old living north of that town.

Young Kennedy had been talking to his sister, Mrs. Allen Berry, and some friends in the Rexall drug store. He had reached the edge of the sidewalk and started across the street towards Wafford Bros. tailor shop, when Ramsey stepped from next the building where he had been waiting and called to the boy. It is said Kennedy halfway turned and Ramsey opened fire with a 38 revolver. He shot twice, each bullet passing through the body of his victim, and each inflicting a mortal wound. Death was instantaneous.

Russell Kennedy was well known in Quannah and well liked having been reared at Chillicothe, the son of Henry Kennedy, a prominent man, and was a frequent visitor here.

The trouble is alleged to have come up over Ramsey's daughter. After the shooting Ramsey gave himself up to Chas. Stevens, the deputy sheriff, and went to Quannah accompanied by a number of friends. Waiving examination in Judge Matlock's court, he made bond in the sum of $10,000, Ed McHarg, Horace Taylor, Silas Mitchell and Jack Nuckles going on his bond.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

HONOR ROLL OF THE MARGARET SCHOOL

10th Grade—Claude Orr 95; Ada Hysinger 95; Edna Ingle 88.
9th Grade—Ibbie Middlebrook 97.
8th Grade—Mary Frances Middlebrook 90, John Wesley 90, Earl Hyler 91.

Crowell Hi Loses To Chillicothe, 19 to 0

There is very little to say about this game except we were outclassed, owing to the fact that several of our best men were out of the line up and the rest that were in were out of their regular places.

Awbrey who is a source of strength both on offense and defense was out of the game.

All men are expected to be in perfect condition for the next game and another victory is coming to Crowell Hi.

The following is the play by play:

First Quarter

Chillicothe won the toss and received, conveying back through the entire Crowell line for the first touchdown. They failed to kick goal. Crowell received and Carter carried back seventeen yards. Carter made two yards through center. Burrow was called through center, but failed to gain. Norman completed pass from Cook gaining seventeen yards. Cates gained one yard through center. Carter made one yard through center. Cates hit the line for another yard. Cook attempted pass to Crews but it was intercepted. Shults tackle set them back five yards and on the next play he did the same thing. Chillicothe then carried on a long end run. They kicked goal. End of first quarter, score, Chillicothe 13, Crowell 0.

Second Quarter

Cates received and returned ten yards. Burrow failed to gain around right end. Carter through left tackle for five yards. Cook lost three yards around right end. Cook made one half yard through center. Crews completes pass from Cook for twenty yards. An attempted pass, Cook to Cates, failed. Cates failed to gain through center. Cook to backfield, no gain. End of second quarter. Score, Chillicothe 13, Crowell 0.

Third Quarter

Burrow received and carried the ball back ten yards. Cook to Norman failed. Norman failed to gain around left end. Cook's pass to backfield is intercepted. Chillicothe again counts through center. They failed to kick goal. Crews received and returned fifteen yards. Cook to Cates failed to gain. Cook to backfield, no gain. Norman failed to gain through center. Cook lost two yards around right end. Crowell received a five yard penalty for off side. Cates failed to complete a perfect pass from Cook. End of third quarter. Score, Chillicothe 19, Crowell 0.

Fourth Quarter

Chillicothe lost four yards by Crews' tackling. Cook to Smith gains twelve yards. Cook to Cates, no gain. Cates made one yard through center. This play ended the game. Final score, Chillicothe 19, Crowell 0.

Mrs. Robert Cole Inherits Fortune

The friends of Mrs. Robert Cole will be pleased to learn that she has recently become the heir of a fortune.

A bachelor uncle of hers with an estate estimated at one million dollars in Ford County, Illinois, recently died. The estate will be divided among twelve heirs, one of which is Mrs. Cole. If the estimate of the fortune is correct, Mrs. Cole's part will amount to a little more than $80,000.

Use Your Bargain Eye

A merchant doesn't spend money merely for the purpose of seeing his name in print. He is too much of a business man to part with his dollars unless there is a good prospect of securing a legitimate return upon his investment.

He doesn't advertise goods that he can not recommend, because he knows that such an imposition upon the public in a country town would soon put him out of business.

He doesn't gouge his customers, because he knows they would soon go elsewhere and buy for less money—and that would mean an end to him.

It is reasonable to suppose, therefore, that when he does advertise an article that article is worth having and the price is within reason.

When you buy from a local merchant that merchant's reputation for square dealing is behind the goods you buy.

Keep these common sense facts in mind, and use your bargain eye upon the advertising pages of this paper and the merchants who use them.

PIONEER CITIZEN DIED LAST FRIDAY

Dr. W. H. Adams for 32 Years a Resident of Foard Co. Suddenly Passes Away

Despite the rain and threatening weather last Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock a large audience gathered in the auditorium of the Baptist church to pay their respects to one of our aged citizens who had departed this life on the day before, Dr. W. H. Adams.

Dr. Adams had been in feeble health for some months and on Friday morning he arose as usual and ate a hearty breakfast. Mrs. Adams had noticed that his breath came shorter than usual all the while but she was not alarmed about him until when he started to return from the table to the bed at the wife's request, when he began to sink and fell into her arms. Mrs. Adams with other members of the family placed the doctor on the bed where he soon expired.

Dr. Adams was born in Henderson County, Tenn., near Wildersville, Dec. 10, 1842. He grew up in the rural community and procured a common school education. At the age of 18 he enlisted as a volunteer in the Federal army and served for two years under Col. Hawkins of Huntington, Tenn., and served until the close of the war when he was given an honorable discharge. He then studied medicine under Dr. G. L. Laws, a local physician, and later entered a medical college in Nashville where he graduated.

He began the practice of his profession in his native state. He was married three times, his first two wives having gone on before him. To the first union there was one child born, which died in early childhood. To the second there were two children who are both living, Mrs. Mary Barnett of Hollis, Okla., and Mrs. E. C. Gillum of Wichita, Falls. He was married the third time to Miss Emma Caroline Byrd on October 8, 1885. To this union were born eight children, five of whom survive, Harry, Ed and Miss Robbie, all of Crowell; Roger of Midland, and Mrs. W. O. Fish of Vivian. All the children attended the funeral services.

Dr. Adams came from Tennessee to Ellis County, Texas, in the year 1887, where he and his family resided until 1888, when they removed to what was then Hardeman County, locating at Margaret, where they remained until after the town of Crowell was established, when in 1891 they came to Crowell where they have resided ever since.

During the 34 years of Dr. Adams' residence in Foard County he practiced his profession until four years ago when his enfeebled condition made it necessary for him to retire from active service.

Dr. Adams was one of the outstanding characters of this country. It is doubtful if there has ever lived another man whose active life has covered a more lengthy period of real needful service to this country. During the pioneer days he was ever ready to answer every call when it was at all possible to minister to the wants of the scattered inhabitants of Foard County. He was one of the most useful local men of his day. He was a Christian, having identified himself with the Christian church 40 years ago and was ready to answer the death summons when it came. He was a Mason, that fraternity having charge of the funeral services.

MAKES 105 BALES ON 150 ACRES

The Vernon Record stated in its issue of the 3rd that Will Parrish of Rayland has made 105 bales of cotton off of 150 acres, and that Mr. Parrish had marketed his cotton and left last week for Florida where he will spend the winter.

Mr. Parrish is not the only farmer in that community who has made a good cotton crop, several others reported half a bale to the acre.

Mrs. Leo L. Winters died Sunday morning at her home in Margaret and was buried in the Old Margaret cemetery Monday. Death came after a lingering illness. She was a sister of Walter Taylor and is survived by a number of relatives in the Margaret community.

CROWELL PEOPLE GO TO CONFERENCE

Have Privilege of Hearing Bishop Dickey in An Inspiring Sermon at 11 O'Clock

Those who attended the Northwest Texas Conference of the M. E. Church South which convened in Quannah Nov. 1 to 5, inclusive, were privileged to hear inspiring and uplifting messages. It is said by many of the attending preachers to have been one of the best sessions ever held in this conference. Bishop James E. Dickey presided over the conference and his earnestness and sincerity were felt by all. Always putting self in the background, he impressed his audiences with the truths of his messages. On Sunday morning, the annual love feast was held and to one who had never attended such a meeting, it was indeed a treat. Both veterans and those young in the work, were anxious to testify for the Lord they are trying to serve. At 11 o'clock, Bishop Dickey preached to a capacity crowd. Following are a few thoughts from his most able discourse on "Christian Growth." His text was taken from John 21:17 where Jesus said to Peter, "Feed my sheep."

"For any kind of growth it is necessary to have nourishment," the speaker declared. We feed our cattle for market, we give our hogs one kind of food if we want to make a specialty of the bacon, another kind if it is hard we desire. We are very careful about the proper nourishment for our children, to insure their growth, physically and mentally, but what about our spiritual food? Are we nourishing ourselves and those entrusted to our care with the proper food for Christian growth? One of the most essential things to spiritual growth is good literature. Just as the body is easily poisoned with tainted food, so is the mind and heart easily poisoned with tainted literature. There is so much of good to be read, that we can ill-afford to spend time on much of the present-day output in magazines and books. We must choose our literature and train our minds to want only the best, the uplifting.

Next to the importance of good literature, is that of art. More teaching is done by means of pictures than by any other means. A more lasting impression is made by the illustrated page than by the printed page or word of mouth. The Bishop told a story of a mother who had six sons, five of whom had chosen the sea-faring life. Upon the decision of the sixth and last son to be a sailor, the mother was heart-broken and in talking to her minister said, "I cannot understand it. Their father cared not for the sea, none of their relatives have, why should all my boys sail the dangerous waters?" Answering, the old minister pointed to a painting hanging over the mantel, a picture of a ship setting sail from the harbor. He said, "There's the ship that has carried all your boys to sea." Let us choose our pictures with a thought of responsibility concerning the impressions they may make upon young minds.

Next in importance in nourishment for spiritual growth is music. Good music uplifts, bad music degrades. Anything can be expressed in music. "It was a sad day when rag-time music was allowed to enter churches," said the speaker.

To grow physically, we must exercise our bodies, to grow mentally, we must exercise our minds. Just so, to grow spiritually we must have exercise. A religion that is not worth living by every day and putting into practice is not worth anything. We must exercise our religion, put it into our every-day lives.

Last, but very essential to growth, is the proper atmosphere. To grow, a plant must be in the right atmosphere. To do his best work, the Christian must have the right atmosphere. To obtain this, he must choose the proper associates, retain the good, discard the bad.

This was a sermon, not flowery, not effusive but sincere and direct, one full of practical help to the person trying to live the Christian life. Much feeling was manifest and a general hand-shake closed the morning service.

At 3 o'clock, a memorial meeting

Crowell Girls Win At Chillicothe

The basketball girls played their first game last Friday at Chillicothe, with a victory for Crowell. The score was 10 to 3.

The centers did excellent work. Zeffa Campsey, jumping center, knocked the ball over the Chillicothe center every time the ball went up in the center. Mary Billington, side center, received the ball and passed it to the forwards. Vera Camp and Winnie Thomson showed their capability as forwards in the game Friday. Kittie Belle Smith and Bess Lefevre did some snappy playing as guards.

Our team has not been organized very long, but we have had some excellent practice with Miss Hopkins as coach and Mary Billington, captain.

After the game Crowell football boys and basket ball girls enjoyed supper given by Chillicothe boys and girls at the school house. All of us enjoyed the trip home very much.—Reporter.

Weather Forecasts By Radiophone

The U. S. Department of Agriculture Weather Bureau announces that official weather forecasts and other information of the U. S. Weather Bureau will be disseminated daily, except Sunday, by radio-telephone, for East Texas, West Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

The Houston, Texas, office of the Weather Bureau will be pleased to receive reports from owners of receiving plants as to the clearness and regularity with which they pick up the information, the broadcasting stations they hear, and such comments as will be helpful in maintaining the standard or in improving the service. Franked cards for making reports on this service may be obtained by applying to Weather Bureau Office, Houston, Texas.

Thalia Man Returns from Missouri

W. M. Wisdom returned the first of the week from a long visit in Missouri and Oklahoma. He was away about four months, and reports one of the finest visits of his life.

Mr. Wisdom says when he first arrived in Missouri he was wondering how the people up there made a living without growing cotton, but before he left he got to wondering how in the world the people of Texas made it with cotton.

Mr. Wisdom visited the old home place and many of his old friends and relatives whom he had not seen for some time. He gained 11 pounds in weight while away and shows in his face that he has been well fed.

Vernon Man Dies At Age of 77 Years

C. A. Richie of Vernon died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. A. Walker, Wednesday of last week. He was 77 years of age at the time of his death and had been clerk of Willbarger County for 12 years. A number of Crowell people are acquainted with Mr. Richie's son, Howard, who has made a number of visits to Crowell. Only about two months ago the wife of the deceased passed away.

RATHER AN UNUSUAL REQUEST

Tom Jamison of Foard County was in the T. C. office Thursday wanting a copy of our paper in which his marriage to Miss Hettie Doolen of this city was mentioned. The editor asked him when this happened, and was told August 11, 1892. This seemed a long time off, and the average newspaper office would have been stumped by such a request. However, the Tribune-Chief is equal to most demands made on it, and Mr. Jamison was handed the paper he wanted within three minutes from the time he asked for it. He marveled at such service, and a few visitors in the office at the time marveled also.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

Mr. Jamison is not a resident of Foard County now but lives in Floyd County, however, many people in this county remember Mr. Jamison and his wife.

was held and at 7 the conference was brought to its closing service, at which time the appointments for the following year were read.

REVIVAL CLOSED MONDAY NIGHT

Evangelist Huckleberry of Childress Conducted Services 2 Weeks; Several Confessions

The last of the two week's services at the Christian church were held Monday night after the baptismal services Monday afternoon. Really the meeting came to a close with Sunday night's services.

Rev. Huckleberry is a splendid preacher. He is not an orator in the true sense, but he is a splendid speaker. He presents his thoughts in a clear and distinct manner. There is no guessing at the meaning he intends to convey. He has some physical ailments that handicapped him very much in his work here and which made it difficult for him to conduct the series of services, but his intense earnestness enabled him to overcome these to a great extent, and all through the meeting he had good attendance and splendid interest. There were several confessions and additions to the church.

The work of the church is hindered by the absence of a pastor at present. Steps are now being made looking to that end.

MAYFIELD CARRIES FOARD COUNTY

Majority Is 86; Not Half the Voting Strength of County Voted

There should be at least 1300 votes polled in the county, but at Tuesday's election less than 600 votes were cast. Mr. Mayfield carried the county by 86 votes. By precincts the results were as follows:

	Crowell	Peddy 132
Mayfield 182	Rayland	Peddy 12
Mayfield 12	Thalia	Peddy 18
Mayfield 41	Margaret	Peddy 11
Mayfield 40	Good Creek	Peddy 10
Mayfield 0	Black	Peddy 10
Mayfield 4	Vivian	Peddy 10
Mayfield 14	Foard City	Peddy 5
Mayfield 14		Peddy 22
Total—Mayfield 307		Peddy 221

The total vote for Governor Neff was 472 while Atwell, Republican candidate, received 42 votes.

GRAND JURY REPORT

Crowell, Foard County, Texas, November 6, 1922.
To the Honorable J. A. Nabers, Judge of the District Court, of Foard County, Texas.

We, the grand jury, impaneled at the October term of the district court, A. D. 1922, submit the following report:

We have heretofore returned three misdemeanor indictments.

We desire to call to the attention of all the citizens the law in regard to the selling of mortgaged property. It is a felony to sell property that is mortgaged with the intent to deprive the holder of the mortgage of the value of the same and we feel like that some persons have violated this law. At any rate there is too much carelessness on the part of persons giving mortgages in not seeing that the terms of the mortgage are fairly complied with.

We desire to thank the sheriff of this county and the bailiffs of this grand jury for their efficient service in performing the duties of their offices and the courtesies shown us during our deliberation.

We have finished our labors and ask that we be discharged.

Respectfully submitted,
J. R. COFFMAN, Foreman.

Decker Magee and C. A. Adams returned Sunday night from Devil's River where they had been for several days with a hunting party from Crowell. They report a splendid good time and plenty of venison. They started home with a half of a deer but owing to the warm weather it failed to keep.

As the Editor Sees It

Idle rumors are busy little things. In time they are often accepted as stupendous facts. Any person can suggest something that is utterly absurd, and there will be hundreds of people ready to believe it, especially if it is at the expense of some other person.

Because a man has a reputation for telling the truth is no indication that his truthfulness is in all cases commendable.

Some people with even the best of intentions do not know how to curb their tongues. They blurt out the truth upon all occasions, and particularly at the wrong time.

There are times when the cause of justice and humanity requires the suppression of the truth until the psychological moment for divulging it. Any other course would result in disaster or a miscarriage of justice.

A wise tongue knows when not to wag.

When a man begins to get gray hairs his wife begins to let it be known that she is considerably his junior.

And that is as it should be.

Knowledge comes from experience, and experience comes with age, it is true, but we can never afford to admit that the feminine member of the matrimonial firm is "getting along in years."

Our wives must never grow old.

mean disposition on the part of the one who says them, anyway.

And since we are judged as much by what we say as by what we do, it would seem the essence of wisdom to say something good—or forget to say anything at all.

The New International Speed Truck

WITH the addition of the new Model S speed truck the great International line includes a size and a style for every hauling purpose. Sizes now range from the 1,500-pound truck, with a speed of 35 miles, to the 10,000-pound truck for heavy-duty service.

The new model is a successful combination of strength and speed. In every detail, it is designed and built to measure up to the quality standard so firmly established by International Motor Trucks. The same combination of skill and experience gained through 90 successful years of high-grade manufacture stands back of every International Motor Truck.

The four-cylinder engine has the necessary margin of power, sturdiness, and durability to cope with all road, weather, and traffic conditions.

The internal gear drive rear axle and all other units measure up to the standard of quality set by International engineers. The Model S is regularly equipped with 34x5 pneumatic cord truck tires, electric lighting and starting equipment, and power tire pump.

Back of this dependable line of trucks stands the International free inspection service, which fully assures low-cost operation for all Internationals.

It will pay you to know more about International trucks and service. Come in at your convenience and let us explain just what low-cost haulage really means.

JOINT MEETING OF DORCAS CLASS AND W. A.

Mrs. Jim Long very graciously opened the doors of her home to her class and auxiliary on Thursday Nov. 2. The Sunday school class had charge the first hour. Mrs. Edwards, the president, presiding. Good reports were heard and this class has voted to tithe, and they are evidently doing it, judging by the jingling of dollars that afternoon, and as a result the spiritual side of the work is very manifest.

The last hour was given to the members of the auxiliary and a splendid Hallowe'en party was enjoyed by all. The house was suitably decorated for the occasion and Mesdames McGonagle and Adams led in Hallowe'en stunts until the black cats that greeted us upon arrival carried us to the door and pointed to the sun almost out of sight in the west. "A jolly good time with plenty to eat," were the last words as we started for home, happy because of Christian homes and good fellowship.—Reporter.

NEXT DOSE CALOMEL MAY SALIVATE YOU

It Is Mercury. Quicksilver, Shocks Liver and Attacks Your Bones

Calomel salivation is horrible. It swells the tongue, loosens the teeth and starts rheumatism. There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel. It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Calomel is a dangerous drug, besides it may make you feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than treacherous calomel your money is waiting for you.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes

are a taste thrill at meals or any time

That's because Kellogg's Corn Flakes are so deliciously flavored—the Kellogg flavor that is known all over the civilized world! You, as well as the little folks, can eat great bowlfuls of Kellogg's Corn Flakes day after day—and each sunny-brown, crispy, crunchy spoonful thrills the taste as though it was the first!

Put Kellogg's in comparison with imitation corn flakes! Kellogg's Corn Flakes are never tough or leathery or hard to eat! They are all-the-time crisp, all-the-time good! Don't miss such enjoyment!

Insist upon Kellogg's in the RED and GREEN package that bears the signature of W. K. Kellogg, originator of Corn Flakes! NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT IT!

THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS

KIMSEY & KLEPPER, Owners and Publishers

Crowell, Texas, November 10, 1922

TELLS WHAT WE ARE

Our friend, Editor Kimsey of the Foard County News, has much to say why Democrats should vote for Peddy. If they vote the republication ticket regularly like Kimsey we suppose they can stomach Peddy.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

We have always been a sort of mystery, hard to locate ourselves—you know how it is—sort of a stray dog among the bunch of howlers. Some call 'em black sheep (not goats), and now after four decades of meandering down the rocky road of time, our friend and neighbor, Harry Koch, has discovered that one of the strange things about us is that we have been voting the "republication" ticket. But just when it seems the light of truth has almost dawned the whole thing is again shrouded with mystery. What does it mean to vote the "republication" ticket? Maybe we have been doing it—Harry says so. We can not answer until we know what that means. It may be clear to Harry, but not to us. Maybe we can draw him out a little by stating some things we have not been doing. We find printed on the ballots a column under the caption "Republican." That is the nearest thing to what he says we have been voting "regularly" that we are able to find on the ballots we have just printed. We did not vote that ticket in the last election. Neither have we been voting it either "regularly" or irregularly. Not only does Harry have our word for it, which is good enough, but he will find no record in the State of Texas to show that we have voted the Republican ticket. So now, we want to know what the "republication" ticket is. We may have been going to the polls and voting 'er straight. Harry says we have. Maybe our friend has an informant at Crowell who has by stating that we vote the Republican ticket misinformed our brother. If that be the case and Mr. Koch either now or in the future surmises that he has been made the goat in this matter he might do well the next time he sees his informant buttonhole the gentleman, draw him aside and under a bed sheet where no outside eyes can see and no other ears can hear, gently say to him, "See here old top, you jest knobbed the wrong Duroc by the tail this time, and I don't want you to do it again." Are we too presumptuous in making the suggestion? If so, we beg pardon. Generosity suggests this assistance in order that we may all arrive at the truth.

Our friend Koch is not as consistent as he might be. Not long ago he said he was accused of being a klanman, some one was going around telling it on him but he strongly denounced the report as a falsehood. But now here comes our friend and makes a statement about us which we are afraid is not true—certainly it is not if he means that we have been voting the Republican ticket. And if he makes the statement without outside authority then he is placing himself in the position of a malefactor no less obnoxious than the one whom Mr. Koch denounces in his case. If he is talking after a certain fellow who does nothing but hunt up old bones on which to gnaw, then he is deceiving himself if he expects to find wholesome nourishment in feasting on the same bones that have been slobbered over already.

No Badge of Dishonor

A city paper lays stress upon the fact that a great many of the criminals of this country are of foreign birth.

The editor of that sheet might also have stated, with justice, that hundreds of thousands of our best citizens are also of foreign birth.

There are two vital causes which contribute to the present state of lawlessness on the part of certain foreigners now resident in this country.

First, our immigration laws are entirely too lax. Foreigners are admitted without proper investigation of their characters in their own lands.

Second, upon arrival in this country the foreigner, unable to speak our language, is practically turned into a dumb brute. He is unable to become a good citizen or a curse to us—as his inclinations and past training may lead him.

What we need is a system whereby a foreigner can be taken in hand on arrival and converted into a good citizen.

If we are lax in our methods of treating him when he first comes to us, we should not be surprised if the criminal element of our population gains an ascendancy over him before he has familiarized himself with the benefits to be derived from good citizenship.

The possession of a foreign name either in this or in any other country, is by no means a badge of dishonor.

Make Them Make Good

In many parts of the country the American people have spoken again at the polls, and a new grist of public officials are coming into office.

If they keep only a small proportion of their campaign promises they will make history as no other officials have ever done before.

Making promises comes easy to a candidate. It is part of the game.

Forgetting them comes quite as easy to the elected official. That, also, is part of the game.

But now that the elections are entering upon their careers, the public should be as prompt in reminding them of their promises as they were prolific in making them.

Put the boot on the other and see how long it can be worn.

We might, of course, describe a successful politician as "one who gets away with the goods."

Card of Thanks

A Million Tax Dodgers

Washington—The government revenue agents and auditors, just now catching up with thier after-the-war work, have made the startling discovery that more than 1 million persons liable for taxes on incomes above $5,000 have dodged payment, either through not making returns or concealing assets.

Revenue experts estimate that the treasury can be enriched to the extent of 500 million dollars in collection from individuals who have failed to make any returns for four years. A campaign to collect the back tax and penalties has begun. It is said also that many have made false returns under $5,000 by charging up fictitious losses.

FITTING FOWLS FOR THE SHOW ROOM

By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College of Texas

In nearly every case the bird that has received the proper care and training has a much better chance of winning the "blues" than one picked haphazard from the pens. Selections should be made at least six or eight weeks before showing. In selecting the fowl, first see that it has no disqualifications, such as feathered shanks, feet or toes in the clean-legged varieties; lopped combs in the straight-comb varieties; wry tails, crooked backs, side sprigs on all single comb varieties, deformed beaks, incorrect number of toes on four and five toed varieties of fowls, and as the American Standard of Perfection has it, "any positive white in the face of Mediterranean cockerels and pullets" except White Faced Black Spanish. Every poultryman who desires to exhibit some of his best specimens can make no better investment than buying a copy of the latest American Standard of Perfection to be had from most all agricultural papers and poultry journals, or by addressing the American Association of Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

To show to advantage the birds must be in perfect condition, and must have been so handled that they are not "coop shy" and are not disturbed by the inspection of visitors or the handling of the judges, but will pose and show themselves to the best advantage. This can most easily be done by constructing an exhibition coop, being careful to make it large enough, and high enough so the tail feathers will not be injured. Build it of slats or poultry netting with the front so arranged as to facilitate the easy and quick removal of the bird without injuring the plumage. Then make it a rule to handle the bird often and in time the wildest will become tame and docile and will actually pose to the best advantage when the judge comes around.

Remember all show specimens should be reasonably fat. Therefore about two weeks before the show, examine all birds and fatten those below standard weight. Lean raw beef and hard corn, with scalded milk to drink will add between a half pound and a pound rapidly to a chicken. If some of your best individuals are too fat and as a result would be cut for overweight in the show room, this can easily be remedied by putting them on a fish, bran and oats diet, with cabbage for green food and make them exercise.

One of the first things to do is to go over the plumage of the bird and pluck out all broken, stained and foul feathers, so that new ones may grow in time for the show. This is not faking, but simply preparing the bird so that it will show to the best advantage.

"Washing the Birds"

Most all colored varieties look much better when washed properly but for white varieties, it surely is necessary. If washing is done improperly it would be better not done at all. A poorly washed specimen does not show up as well as does one not washed at all.

In washing the birds have three tubs. In the first tub, the real washing is done and a large amount of soap should be used in this water. The second tub is filled with clean, luke-warm water, and deep enough so the fowl can be submerged. The third tub is filled with cool water, which has been blueed as women blue the water for their white linen wash water. In washing, thoroughly soap and lather to the skin and have it on long enough to cut out all dirt in the plumage. Then remove to the second tub and by gently rubbing the plumage with a large sponge, remove every particle of soap. If the plumage is left at all soapy, the feathers will not web out to their normal condition, and will catch dirt and will cause the bird to look worse than if not washed at all. Always wash with and rub with the feathers, never against them.

Finally, plunge the bird three times into the third tub of bluing water. The fowl should then be allowed to drain and shake itself. With a towel press out as much water as possible. Next the bird is rolled up in a wooden blanket and placed near a coal fire in a very warm room. If the feathers show a little creamy, after being dry, rub these parts with pure peroxide of hydrogen. If considerably creamy, take the bird as soon as dry and wash all over again in a tub of equal parts of peroxide of hydrogen and luke-warm water. It is surprising how peroxide of hydrogen will color or bleach a creamy fowl.

The color of a white feathered fowl can be improved considerably by sprinkling some corn starch over the feathers and working it well down into the plumage. Do this as soon as thoroughly dry being careful not to use too much.

The legs should be cleaned thoroughly and all dirt removed from underneath the scales, using a common toothpick (wood) and a stiff brush. Use a little vaseline to brighten them up, by rubbing a little of it with a soft rag upon them.

The comb, wattles and earlobes should receive a thorough washing, and then an application of glycerine to brighten them up and bring out that rich, bright red color. Rub and wipe off all surplus glycerine.

Feed well, handle carefully and often to get them tame and make them show up more naturally when the judge comes around.

A female fowl is in its best show condition when it is ready to lay its first egg. A male bird is in its best condition just about the time it is maturing. Sunflower seed give an elegant lustre to the plumage. Feed a little of it the last three weeks before the exhibition.

Do not feed very much yellow corn to your white show birds because fat has a tendency to give the plumage a creamy appearance.

Minor defects, such as slight flecking of a white fowl, I believe, should be removed, and you can do it without hurting your conscience. Some say they do not do it, but I have been in the business long enough to know that all white plumage fowl exhibitors, if they find any flecked feathers, they say nothing, but simply jerk that insulting spot out. It is a lot better to do it than to bring inferior specimens to the show room.

Patsy Ruth Miller

As a rule it takes long hard work to get to the top in pictures. But it was easy for Patsy Ruth Miller, a beautiful seventeen-year-old "movie" star, who recently won a contract. She was visiting her parents in California when a director saw her at the beach and told her he wanted her in a photoplay. She worked in that picture, then went to another studio, handed in her photograph and promptly got another engagement. She was born in St. Louis, has dark brown hair, brown eyes and is 5 feet 2 1/2 inches tall. She has a vivacious manner and keen mind that give her decided personality.

CORNELIA

FORTUNATE is she who bears the name of Cornelia, which through the centuries has been symbolic of all that is beautiful and reverent in motherhood. Not only has Cornelia a heritage worthy of an empress, coming as she does from the distinguished old Roman gens of Corneliis, but her memory is immortalized by Latin legend, which makes her the mother of the Gracchi and the heroine of one of the most beautiful tributes to motherhood.

Some etymologists endeavor to trace Cornelia back to the two words cornu bell, meaning "a war horn," but the consensus of opinion is that she had no existence previous to the first woman so called, who was the daughter of Publius Cornelius Scipio Africanus I, and the mother of the Gracchi. She seems to have inherited from her gallant warrior father a spirit of pure, lofty dignity which made her the highest type of Roman motherhood.

When, according to the legend, the matrons of the most fashionable circle of Roman society were gossiping over the ancient Roman equivalent for tea and exhibiting their gem collections for the edification and envy of each other, Cornelia alone had no glittering display. But, summoning a slave, she had her 12 beautiful children brought to her, and, laying her hands on the shoulders of the Gracchi, proudly said: "These are my jewels."

The great historians of ancient Rome have carefully recorded the incident making Cornelia superior to all the noble Roman ladies of her time. Cornelia's popularity as a feminine name throughout Europe is due to the martyred Pope Cornelius whose relics were brought to Compeigne by Charles the Bald. In the Low Countries, Cornelius became Kettle or sometimes Kee. Nelson is a Dutch rendition of Cornelius.

But though Cornelia's jewels may have been her children, she had a talismanic stone, the turquoise. It is said to protect its wearer from the danger attendant upon travelers and to bring them good fortune when they see the new moon reflected on its surface. Saturday is her lucky day and one her lucky number. Holly, signifying foresight, is her flower.

GOT VERIFICATION FROM DAD

Small Boy Satisfied That Malachy Was Right About the Steering Gear of Bulldogs.

An eminent college professor is the father of a small boy who is very observant and inquisitive, and is the employer of a man who has much Irish wit and humor.

One day Alfred, the small boy, was playing with a cat in the stable while Malachy cleaned the harness.

"Say, Malachy," the child asked, "why do cats always land on their feet?"

"They steer thimselves wid their tail."

"Well, how do rabbits steer themselves? They haven't long tails, only a stub."

"Wid their ears; that's phwent they have their long ears for."

"How does a bulldog steer himself? He doesn't have long ears or a long tail."

"Wid his bark."

At this the boy looked doubtful. Presently he ran to his father's study, and in a few minutes came back to the stable.

"Malachy!"

"That's true what you told me about bulldogs. I asked papa, and he read something to mother out of a book about 'barks that steer against the wind.'"—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Unexpected Candor.

My most embarrassing moment occurred one day last winter. I was attending a church bazaar with a friend of whom I was very fond. All went well until we came to the pillow booth, where I made my horrible blunk. Quite confidentially I told her: "Now, some of those pillows aren't so bad looking, and some of them are really quite good looking, but did you ever in your life see one in as poor taste as that?"

My friend looked at me queerly for a moment and then said: "I'll admit it is in poor taste, but, then, you see, I was just looking for my lack of taste, and I made that."

I made a hasty exit, and have not since had the courage to face her, though she insists on considering it a joke.—Chicago Tribune.

A Special Offer

We are happy to announce a reduction this week on yearly News subscriptions of 50 cents, making the price $1.50. This offer will be extended for an indefinite period and may be withdrawn at any time. It will apply on new subscriptions and renewals. This will be the best proposition we expect to offer on subscriptions to the News alone. Later we shall announce some attractive combination offers with the Star Telegram and possibly some other dailies.

The News is very much pleased with the way its readers have stood by it through the periods of extremely high prices of news print when it could have scarcely survived at a subscription rate less than $2.00, and now we are going to give them the benefit of a reduction that will mean a small saving to them and we trust that each and every one will take advantage of this offer. We expect also to receive many new subscriptions at this rate.

The News, as every reader knows, is better than it has ever been, not only from the standpoint of a local newspaper, but it also carries some excellent features the cost of which aggregates quite a sum. These are for the readers. One of them is the magazine section, issued monthly. That itself is worth the subscription price of the News. In addition to this we are carrying a series of articles on poultry prepared by the best poultry man in the South. These are of value to every farmer and farmer's wife. Then, the advertising news of our business men means a saving of hundreds of dollars to every reader in the run of the year. This is a feature of the News that makes it valuable to the reader.

Come along and give the News boys $1.50 for another year and see how they will appreciate it by giving you the best paper next year ever issued from this office.

The Friendly Path

By WALTER I. ROBINSON

OTHER FELLOW'S JOB

DON'T covet the other fellow's job. One of the weaknesses of humanity frequently seems to be dissatisfaction with the work men and women are called upon to perform. Time and again we hear complaints concerning the duties devolving upon individuals. From the wall that goes up one would imagine that the world would be a happy, contented place if nearly everyone could swap his job with someone else.

Every job seems attractive to some person who is engaged in some other job. No matter how poor or rich men and women may be, they frequently are dissatisfied and covet the privilege of treading the pathways which others walk.

This is pure folly and not only causes continuous unhappiness and discontent, but keeps men and women from winning material success in the important work to which they devote their time.

Unfortunately men often imagine women have easy tasks and women covet the jobs of men. This is one of the chief causes of domestic discord and often leads to the divorce courts.

In this connection we recently heard an interesting yarn. A woman orator, who was decrying the hard life of the fair sex, demanded what her audience knew of women's work. She asked if there was a man present who had "day after day gone quietly downstairs, made the fire, cooked his own breakfast, sewed missing buttons on children's clothes, cleaned the pots and kettles and swept the kitchen." In the rear of the hall a timid, spectacled man arose bashfully and yet with a twinkle in his eye. He was the husband of the orator and had never before had a chance to assert himself.

This parable—for such we suppose it is—drives home two valuable lessons. First, it teaches that very often those who complain the loudest often are little hurt; second, that no one can judge the desirability of others' jobs.

One's tasks are pleasant or distasteful to the extent he would make them such.

CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Precipitate Individual Foresaw Hard Task in Squaring Himself With His Fellow Citizens.

Clad in knickers and driving home from college two girls stopped at Noblesville. While there they went into the library.

When they came out into the street, most of the town was out to see them.

Deciding that knickers must not be the thing in Noblesville, they hurried to get under the shelter of their car.

A man came up to them and invited them to stay longer as guests of the town. They refused, saying that they were in a hurry to get to Warsaw.

"Warsaw?" he stammered. "Why, aren't you the two girls who are bumbling your way from New York to Indianapolis, and whose picture was in the paper this afternoon? We have been expecting two girls all day and as soon as I saw you go into the library I thought you were the ones, and had gone in to see what the Noblesville press had to say about you, and I hurried around and told everybody you were here. What'll I do?" Indianapolis News.

Imperfection at a Premium.

It was not so long ago that brick "seconds" sold cheaply and were used only in foundations and low-grade work which the eye never found. They were the misshapen, distorted part of each baking and the manufacturers were glad to dispose of them. But finally a builder with an eye for the artistic noticed their colors, which ran from the natural red to odd browns and blues. He experimented and found they had an ancient appearance even when newly laid and, when capped by a rough roof of off-colored slate, carried a distinct atmosphere of antiquity. As a result, strange, queerly attractive houses are appearing all through the country and brick "seconds" are quoted far above their perfect mates.—Wall Street Journal.

He Had Help.

An alumna of Radcliff was helping in the recent drive to raise money for the Radcliff endowment fund by selling soap, says the Indianapolis News. She employed two small boys to take the soap to the houses of some of her friends. Little Johnnie, with the boxes under each arm, marched up to one door and knocked.

"Why are you selling the soap," inquired the lady of the house.

"To raise $3,000,000 for Radcliff."

"Three million dollars! And are you trying to raise it all by yourself?"

"No," came the quick response. "there's another little boy helping me."

Hard Fisted Fielder.

An outfielder of the Los Angeles team in a recent game with San Francisco collided with the fence in making a wonderful catch and was knocked unconscious, and when he was carried to the clubhouse the ball was in his hand in a viselike grip. Most managers would be satisfied if their players would clutch the ball like that when they are conscious.

WHEN SNOW AND STORK ARE FLYING TOGETHER

THE layette of his babyship is not varied a great deal to suit the seasons, but some differences are made for the little one that arrives in winter time. He is entitled to his share of fresh air and therefore must be clothed to take his airings and outings in warm comfort; but wraps and coverings are his main defense against the cold. There are not many differences between the layettes of the winter and the summer babies.

The list of the baby's belongings starts with shirts and good nurses recommend the mixed silk and wool or cotton and wool shirts, because they do not shrink with washing. Three of these are necessary to begin with. Straight flannel bands—all wool and pinked at the edges—are to be provided for either the summer or winter baby and four of these are needed. When the baby is three months old they are discarded and replaced by silk and wool or cotton and wool shoulder bands. For the winter baby three pairs of wool stockings are needed and a small wood form to dry them over. They should be washed in cold water. Knee-length booties usually form a part of every layette and three pairs of them are needed by the winter baby to wear when he goes for a promenade. On his arrival the baby will be put in a gown of some kind and will spend much of his time in the same comfortable garment for a month or two. Knit gowns come in light and heavy weight and four of the heavy ones are required when the stork and snow fly together, or he may have four flannelette gowns. He needs three flannel skirts and about four underskirts. It is usual to provide four slips and three dresses to start with, adding to these afterward. One coat and one elderdown hunting are necessities in the layette of the winter baby and close-fitting knitted caps and saques of wool yarn will do him a lot of good.

CHANGES IN "OLD FAITHFUL"

Yellowstone's Famous Geyser Has Slightly Lengthened the Periods Between Its Eruptions.

Old Faithful, Yellowstone's most famous geyser, has slightly changed the period of its eruptions.

According to the observations of the park naturalist and the rangers, the geyser now spouts on an average every 64.6 minutes. Last year the average period was 60 minutes.

The alteration in Old Faithful's "tempo" does not indicate any lessening of its vigor or "faithfulness." On the contrary, Naturalist M. P. Skinner's observations show the mighty fountain to be increasing in volume. The change is believed to be due to an alteration in the subterranean tube of the geyser.

For the last year or so Old Faithful has acquired a habit of occasionally throwing out small rocks. The passage of the rocks through the tube is believed to have enlarged its dimensions slightly, this in turn being responsible for the lengthened period between eruptions and the increased volume of water.

A number of other interesting changes, lending a constantly varying interest to the mysterious manifestations of the park's performing natural wonders, also are reported by official observers.

Walking to Learn the World.

President Masaryk of Czechoslovakia has lately given another example of his practical idealism and wise foresight. He is furnishing the funds for a walking tour of the world this summer by students of Prague university. In the group are two Czechs, a Serb, a Bulgarian and a Russian. After walking through Yugoslavia and Bulgaria the students will go to Constantinople and then to China and Japan. Thence passage will be taken to San Francisco and the leading cities of the United States will be visited on foot. Prague university will publish a report of the expedition. President Masaryk knows the folly of national isolation and the value of learning something about other nations besides his own.—Christian Science Monitor.

Unearth Ancient Roman Barge.

Important archeological discoveries have been made at Castello di Porto near Rome. The hull of an enormous Roman barge has been excavated near a small lake. It is presumably the relic of a mercantile fleet which was used to ship wheat from Sicily to Rome, before Castello di Porto shipped by the Tiber. The hull is like a similar relic of Nero's fleet at lovely Lake Nemi. Excavations are proceeding and other discoveries are expected.

THE RIGHT THING at the RIGHT TIME

By MARY MARSHALL DUFFEE

A MAN'S NAME

A BUSINESS man said the other day that it was a serious error for a would-be business man, especially a salesman, to forget the name of the unimportant little Mr. Nobody-in-Particular from Not-Much-of-Any-where with whom he was trying to do business. No man likes to have you forget his name. If the man is important and is used to receiving attentions then he doesn't notice your oversight so much, but the small man who gets little notices in the world feels especially sensitive about it and is especially gratified when you go out of your way to remember him.

Often, however, when you are introduced to strangers it is physically impossible to get their names. This is partly due to the fact that we Americans are prone to speak indistinctly. Now the best thing to do when you have not heard a man's name distinctly is to make amends for this failure within a short time. Ask some one who knows the man what his name is. Better still go to the man in question and say: "I didn't quite understand your name. Will you set me right?" It is better to do this than to wait until some newcomers and then to have to pause in making your introductions to ask the newcomer what his name is anyway.

A salesman who remembers customers' names is always an asset. And don't believe there is any special knack about it. It simply requires a little attention. Just think about the name the first time you hear it. Think about the name in association with some certain feature of the one to whom it belongs. A celebrated detective who has a phenomenal record for remembering faces and so saying them under different disguises makes a point to remember some one distinctive, unusual characteristic. If you wish to remember names try associating the name with some one strong characteristic of the face. It is a matter of habit more than anything else and you will find that it will make you popular and may eventually lead to striking success.

FASHION STILL PAYS HOMAGE TO CREPE AND SLIM LINES

THAT early rumor, that the silhouette would expand and the waistline move upward, is less than a whisper now, for the displays do not bear it out. All the frocks for afternoon and evening show that women are still devoted to long lines and slimmess and that they insist on wearing soft fabrics that fall into graceful draperies. What they are looking for is apparel that glorifies the human form divine by clothing it with supple draperies that fall and float and betray its grace and beauty. Their mood will have to change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, yells and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloused at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular trimming of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers outside the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is embroidered with graduated, overlapping disks, made of little knots, set close together, in colors. The small hat is a Napoleon shape of hatters' plush with rosettes of metallic leaves at the sides. It is trimmed with a long, fine lace veil which falls over it to the tip of the nose at the front and to the shoulder-blades at the back.

ALWAYS WHITE MAN'S FRIEND

Washakie, chief of the eastern band of Shoshoni Indians, was always friendly with the whites and magnificent fighter against his red enemies. More than 9,000 emigrants over the Oregon trail signed a paper extolling his kindness in helping to recover lost stock, in aiding them over dangerous crossings, in leading back men who had strayed and become lost. This was in the Shoshoni country of Wyoming and during the great migrations of the fifties.

In personal appearance he is described as being tall and powerful of build, of dignified bearing. When a young man he was autoeratic as a chief and refused hospitality to any horse thief or vagabond. He retained his great popularity in his tribe by his victories over the Blackfeet and Crows. He was employed at times by the American Fur company, and more than once saved hunters and trappers from death.

At the age of 70 the average white man begins to think of retiring. Not so with Washakie. Some of the newest generation decided he should be deposed.

Washakie vanished and was missing for two months. The council met to elect his successor. The old chief entered the lodge with dramatic abruptness and threw on the ground six enemy scalps he had taken while away. He continued as chief.

Men of his band served as scouts for the government after the Custer defeat.—Adventure Magazine.

BROUGHT IT ON THEMSELVES

According to Uncle Henry, Men Deliberately Surrendered First Place to the Female Sex.

"I see where they are going to take the words 'obey' and 'serve' out of the marriage service entirely," commented Barney, the cigar-stand man. "Not that they're meant anything for some time," he added sarcastically. "Darned if I know what's got into the women lately. Before long they'll grab the pants, an' we'll be wearin' Mother Hubbards an' swappin' recipes over the back fence. From now on I won't take off anything at night but my hat, and I'm even goin' to lock that up."

"It's all our own fault," Uncle

Henry remarked philosophically. "We started the whole business when we gave up our velvets an' satins an' turned bright clothes over to the female of the species. It was goin' against nature, Barney, an' nature never forgives. Look around yourself an' you'll see that the male bird is always the one with the top-knot, the long tail an' the brilliant plumage. Back in the days when we ordered our business suits from the steel mill an' it took a whole herd of silkworms to turn out a simple walkin' suit for us you didn't hear anything about equal rights, did you? No sirree, women never peeped until we stepped out of our fiery hose an' doubtless an' ostrich plumes an' put on the hard-bolled hat an' pin-check pants of modern civilization."—Collier's.

LEADS IN HOME OWNERSHIP

According to Population, Canada is at the Head of All Nations in That Respect.

Canada has a larger percentage of home owners in its population than any other nation, according to recently compiled figures of the census department.

London, Ontario, leads among Canadian cities with 80 per cent of its inhabitants owning their own homes. Hamilton and Calgary have 60 per cent home owners, Toronto 55 per cent, Halifax 51 per cent, Vancouver 45 per cent, Edmonton 45 per cent, Winnipeg 44 per cent, Ottawa 40 per cent, Montreal 5 per cent.

Montreal, the largest city in Canada, pulls down the general average to 35 per cent for the ten cities. Taking into consideration the country districts, it is believed by the census experts that nearly 50 per cent of the people of Canada own their own homes. Canada is a land of farm owners where the tenant farmer is almost unknown.

The ten cities covered by the figures range in number of residences from 9,000 to 134,000. Of 72 cities in the United States with a population of 100,000 or more, only two, Des Moines and Grand Rapids, is it declared, have a 50 per cent population of home owners. Des Moines tops the list with 51.1 per cent while Grand Rapids has only a shade fewer. Recent government statistics in the United States show that 45.6 per cent of the people of the United States own their own homes and 54.4 per cent live in rented quarters.

The Hupmobile Is "Coming"

Get What That Means, Mr. Dealer

Ten years ago, any dealer could handle any one of possibly 50 cars,—and, on a hit and miss basis, make money.

Today, those 50 cars have narrowed down to 14. The dealer today must have one of those 14 cars—and a real sales method—if he is going to survive. Of these 14, the Hupmobile is in the very forefront. It is in the forefront—but it has not begun to exhaust its sales possibilities.

Increase in Hupmobile Production

The Hupmobile is "coming." It is making more money for the individual dealer today. It will make more next year. It will make still more in 1924. The factory is planning greatly increased production for both years.

We don't know—and we believe that you don't know—where such an opportunity is available today outside the Hupmobile organization.

People in your territory now know what a wonderful car the Hupmobile is. Owners are spreading the facts; everyone—especially mechanics—are saying—"The Hupmobile is a mighty good car to own." And, naturally, this sells more Hupmobiles.

Hupmobile Easier to Sell

This all gets back to the fact that the dealer today can sell Hupmobiles with greater ease, and he can sell more of them, than ever before.

And, we know, he can make more net profit on the Hupmobile; profit that compares most favorably with what can be made in any other line of business. The Hupmobile franchise is eagerly sought for today by dealers everywhere.

We want men who understand that selling automobiles does not mean a large investment in pretentious salesrooms, but that it means sound business practice, keeping salesmen on the job, and good bank credit.

If you are such a dealer, you can, unquestionably, make good money in selling Hupmobiles. Hupmobile dealers have demonstrated this to be a fact; let us tell you the full story.

Write to us today. We believe that you will have cause to congratulate yourself, time after time in the future, on having done so.

HIGHWAY CRISIS IS NOT REALIZED

Highway Association President Says Organization Needed to Waken People.

Waco, Tex.—The chief reason Texas is still without adequate highway laws, and is now threatened with a discontinuance of Federal aid unless those laws are modernized, is that the facts have never been properly presented to the people, in the opinion of W. V. Crawford, city president of the Texas Highway Association.

And the chief reason for this is that there has never been the proper organization to perform this task, he declares.

"The people cannot be expected to comprehend the highway situation unless somebody places the facts before them," says President Crawford in a statement just issued. "And placing such a question before the people of a State the size of Texas is a big job. That job can be performed only by means of organization, and organization on a scale in keeping with the size of the job."

The Texas Highway Association has been organized to undertake this work and it has tackled it with no illusions as to its size. We know it is a big job, that it will take work and money to get the information to the people. And we know that it will require the co-operation of everybody who is alive to its importance. We need the co-operation of the newspapers, of chambers of commerce and other civic bodies, and most of all we need the co-operation of individual citizens who want to see Texas go forward and not backward. We want every such citizen to join the association. "It is fashionable to blame the Legislature when there is failure of necessary legislation. We don't think the Legislature should be blamed. The average member of the Legislature wants to do the will of his constituents. But when his constituents have not been informed on a question, when they have false ideas about it, we cannot blame a member of the Legislature for reflecting that condition. We must discuss this matter with the people, and that takes organization. The man who wants to solve our highway problems is a ray to promote the general welfare, therefore, can be in no better way than to join the Texas Highway Association and assist in the work it has undertaken."

Pretty Things that are made at Home

IT IS getting to the place where every ambitious young woman aspires to an assortment of sweaters, and often she knits them for herself. This ability to make them puts the expensive, handmade garment within the reach of even a very limited dress allowance, besides making the exercise of individual taste possible, in colors and other things.

—the good points of the sweater are emphasized by them.

A straight band of net is the foundation of both the collars, but in the set at the left it is rounded at the ends. Three frills of fluted val lace form its decoration. A panel of tucked net down the center of the vestee is bordered by frills of val lace and a very full frill edges the top.

Straight lines and square corners make the set at the right a simple matter to handle. Net, lace and embroidered swiss insertion are set together in strips for the vestee, the net strips covered with frills of val edging. There is a plain fold of net at the top and the collar is plain net, edged with frills of val.

Vestees and collars, to be worn with sweaters or coats, are among the dainty accessories that women make for themselves, elaborating them with handwork. They add just the right note to the sweater and skirt costume and make a separate waist unnecessary. Two collar and vestee sets, as pictured, worn with sweaters and skirts contribute so much of attractiveness that they are real necessities

BAPTISTS REPORT $35,000,000 CASH

CAMPAIGN HAS MADE POSSIBLE
VAST ENLARGEMENT OF EVERY PHASE OF GENERAL WORK

GAIN 500,000 NEW MEMBERS

Effort Will Be Made to Enlist These and All Other Baptists in Share in Forward Movement During November

Total cash collections on the Baptist 75 Million Campaign up to May 1, 1922, had reached the sum of $35,152,211.69, according to the general Campaign headquarters. This represents an advance of nearly $20,000,000 over what Southern Baptists did for their general missionary, educational and benevolent work for the three years preceding the Campaign.

DR. L. R. SCARBOROUGH

The contribution of larger gifts to religious work has been accompanied by larger spiritual results in the local churches, it is pointed out. For instance, Southern Baptists baptized 150,000 new converts during the first three years of the Campaign than they did in the three years before, gained 3,000 new Sunday schools and 400,000 new pupils, enhanced the value of their local church property by $33,000,000, enlarged their contributions to local causes by $22,500,000, and increased their contributions to all causes by $43,480,490.

Baptist Institutions Grow
Some other phases of denominational progress made possible by the Campaign include increasing the number of Baptist hospitals in the South from 12 to 19, with three others under construction and four more definitely planned; strengthening of 17 Baptist orphanages and the establishment of two new ones, lifting $3,000,000 indebtedness on 119 Baptist schools, colleges and seminaries, completion and projection of permanent improvements there in the sum of $4,000,000, and the addition of substantial sums to the endowment funds. Over 2,500 ministerial students are enrolled at Southern Baptist schools.

Church Loan Fund Raised
Among the outstanding accomplishments in the work of the Home Mission Board are the aiding of 1,000 churches in building new houses of worship, the completion of the million-dollar Church Building Loan Fund, strengthening the work among the foreigners and Indians and the 38 Mountain mission schools. The Board has employed an average of 1,495 workers during the Campaign and reports for that period 134,832 baptisms, 218,371 additions to churches, 2,276 Sunday schools and 753 churches organized, and 1,499 houses of worship built or repaired.

In the foreign fields the equipment for mission work has been practically doubled, more than 250 new foreign missionaries have been sent out, more than 400 new native workers have been employed, and the Board has entered the new fields of Spain, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Roumania, Southern Russia, Palestine and Siberia. The Board reports for the period of the Campaign 117 new churches on the foreign fields, 21,723 baptisms, 211 new Sunday schools, gain of 17,576 pupils, native contributions of $1,003,390.68, and 529,642 treatments administered by medical missionaries.

Another result of the Campaign is that the Relief and Annuity Board, which is seeking to care for the aged dependent ministers and their families, has been enabled to double the number of such persons helped and the amount that is given these beneficiaries. Last year the Board was able to dispense $128,965 among needy ministers. It has invested assets of $1,149,088.

Receive 500,000 New Members
More than 500,000 new members have been received into the local Baptist churches of the South since the Campaign began, and in the hope of enlisting all these in the Campaign, as well as reaching the older members of the churches who have not shared in the forward movement heretofore, the month of November 5-December 3 has been designated as Re-enforcement Month by the Campaign Conservation Commission. During this month it is planned that every Baptist church in the South will call upon all its members who are not already participating in the Campaign and secure subscriptions from them covering the two remaining years of the movement, and cash offerings to the Campaign from all the members. Dr. L. R. Scarborough, of Fort Worth, Texas, who was general director of the original Campaign, has been elected to serve in that capacity for the Re-enforcement program, although the details are being worked out in the various states under the leadership of the secretaries of the state mission boards. It is hoped to secure several million dollars in additional subscriptions and several millions in cash as well by December 1.
