WILL HOLD FIRST POLAND CHINA SALE

Aug. 7 Is Date—Blevins & Ferguson Bros. Will Auction 40 Bred Sows and Gilts

Among the foremost of the pioneers of the thorough-bred swine breeding business in Foard County are Blevins & Ferguson Bros. The ranch is at the east of Margaret, and C. E. Blevins is the man who is giving the business his personal attention, and he is said to his credit, no man in the country is more interested in the business and perhaps few, if any, have made a closer study of it than Mr. Blevins. He is mastering it, but truthfully remarked to a News representative the other day that there is always more to learn and more efforts to be made to reach and then maintain the highest degree of success. Mr. Blevins said when he first won his prizes they were sufficient to make one feel that he had done something worth while, but wisely said to himself, "This is not all of it. I can not sit down now and expect to succeed." So he and Ferguson Bros. have continued to go into the markets and search out the best and most popular types of the Poland China breeds for the foundation for their fine herd, which shows for itself today.

Captain Orange, son of the famous Long Orange, a $7,000 boar which for a long time was one of the big winners at the Dallas State Fair, has been with the herd for two years, and something like 30 of the sows and gilts to be sold have been bred to this boar. The pride of the owners is to be transferred, however, to the younger one, Ranger 2nd, son of the Ranger, a $20,000 boar, which is already coming into service. In these two fine specimens are some of the best Poland China stock of the Southwest.

In the sale, August 7, as stated above, there will be sold at auction about 40 tried sows and gilts bred to these boars. The entire lot to be auctioned, taken as a whole, is as pretty a herd of hogs as one will find in the country. They average up so well and are so uniform in size, shape and color that the ordinary person can hardly distinguish one from another. From this herd many Foard County people are going to have the opportunity of getting the foundation for thoroughbred herds of Poland Chinas that will be hard to beat in the State. Some people from a distance, having learned of this herd and the date of sale, will be here to buy. Mr. Blevins hopes that many of the home people will avail themselves of this opportunity to keep much of this stock at home, as no doubt they will.

It would not be out of place, we suppose, to say that Mr. Blevins is planning to make the day a real pleasant one for everybody who may go to the sale. He has a very fine place. The auction platform will be at the north end of the dense grove of mulberry trees surrounding the house, and the table on which will be served a free dinner will run lengthwise of the grove perhaps 200 feet towards the south. It might further be said, we suppose, that a wagonload of Tom Watson melons, the real Georgia kind that would tempt even a negro preacher to swipe, are now ripening for the occasion. They will be ready. They are as big as a water bucket now. Of course, we are not going to impose on Mr. Blevins' good nature, on the other hand his good nature is going to help bring buyers to his sale. He expects to sell those fine hogs and you are going to feel mean if you eat melons and do not buy his hogs.

The News is glad to see these sales. They mean more than we can understand now for the future of the thoroughbred swine business.

BUILDING SIDEWALKS AROUND M. E. CHURCH

The Junior League of the Methodist church undertook the task of financing the cost of putting down concrete walks on the North and West sides of the Methodist church some time ago but not until recently did they have enough money to start the work. Last week they had the work started, which will be finished by the last of this week. The length of the walks will be about 300 feet.

Twelve persons were injured in a wreck on the T. & P. near Grand Saline Saturday. No one was killed.

FT. WORTH MAN MADE MADE OFFICER OF F. F. F.

East Las Vegas, N. M., July 6.—The F. F. F. Highway convention, which has been in session in Las Vegas for two days, closed Wednesday noon after electing the officers for the association for the next fiscal year, and selecting Plainview as the next meeting place of the convention. The officers elected for the ensuing year are, J. E. Owens, of Fort Sumner, president; E. H. Perry of Plainview and E. S. Shannon of Ft. Worth, vice presidents; Maury Hopkins of Floydada, secretary-treasurer; J. J. Boswell of Plainview and W. B. Estes of New Mexico, publicity directors; R. M. Dee Oliver of Santa Rosa, New Mexico, R. E. Fry of Floydada, C. D. Wilson of Mineral Wells, J. M. Davidson of Weatherford, W. P. Reynolds of Olney, Fred Schrier of Olton and Donald Stewart of Las Vegas, were retained as directors of the organization.

Thanks Voted Shook
The retiring president of the association, Ford Shook of Fort Worth, who could not be present at the closing of the convention, was tendered a vote of thanks for the work he has done for the F. F. F.

The Board of City Development of Plainview and the Floydada Chamber of Commerce of Floydada, were voted an appreciation from the convention for the expenditures they have been out in behalf of the F. F. F. association. Plans for the more efficient marking of the highway were referred to the board of directors who will meet in August.

A membership campaign will be started for the raising of funds to carry on the work of the association.

No Finances Raised
To date there have been no finances raised for the association's work, as a whole all of the work being financed by the various communities through which the highway goes.

Senator A. L. Zinn of Tucumcari, N. M., president, J. H. Wagner of the New Mexico Normal College, at Las Vegas addressed the convention during the Wednesday's session. Senator Zinn's subject was "Competitive Highway Systems" and called particular attention to the growing sentiment of Federal control of highway systems which Senator Zinn contends will eliminate the present systems which operate upon a competitive basis. Wagner used as his subject, "Highways and Education" and pointed out to the association the difference between good roads and literacy and bad roads and illiteracy. Following adjournment, the convention delegates were the guests at a buffet luncheon given in the Y. M. C. A. building by the Chamber of Commerce of Las Vegas.

ABOUT FOODSTUFFS 'ROUND THE WORLD

England Faces Drought

Grave fears are being expressed that the serious drought of 1921 will be repeated this summer, in southern and eastern England. American Commercial Attach Walter S. Tower has informed the Department of Commerce.

American Canned Food Along the Baltic

By the time a 15 cent can of tomatoes reaches Riga it sells for 60 cents, and this is the reason why American canned vegetables are not more widely used throughout the Baltic states, reports Trade Commissioner H. Lawrence Groves.

Canadian Crops Promise Rich Harvest

Nothing but encouragement comes out of the Ontario crop report for May, and the prospects are favorable for fairly good crops throughout the province, according to the Department of Commerce.

Wish They Had Their Orange Groves Again

Cuban orange and grape fruit planters are repenting in leisure. If an orange or a grape fruit tree grew as fast as sugar cane, there would be less remorse. When sugar prices in the United States began to rise and then sky-rocket to the well-remembered thirty cents vast stretches of Cuban orange groves were torn up and planted in sugar cane; other groves were abandoned entirely and have received no care for the past three or four years, says Consul Horace J. Dickinson at Antilla, Cuba.

Exports of Sicilian Lemons

The annual production of lemons in Sicily is about 8,000,000 boxes, each containing 300 or 360 lemons. Approximately 20 per cent of the entire yield is exported to the United States.

STATE AUDITORS PRAISE COLLECTOR

Messrs. Walter Gerron and F. H. Arterberry of the Comptroller's Department at Austin were here this week auditing the books of the tax collector for 1920, and they were frank to say that they found them in the very best condition. There had been an overpayment of $160.36 and an overcharge of 2 cents commission. With these two exceptions the books were correct and among the best and most accurately kept of any in Texas. Sheriff Campbell is glad to divide honors for this excellent record with his very efficient helper, Mrs. Arnold Rucker, who assisted him both during 1920 and 1921. The annual report for 1921 has just been completed and is being sent in this week to the Comptroller's Department for examination.

FEDERAL TRADE REPORT ON SOFT COAL

"Taking a few of the larger districts for specific illustration the Federal Trade Commission finds that the average investment per ton for the mining of coal is $4.26 in the Southwest Pennsylvania District; $3.04 per ton in the Central Pennsylvania district; $3.40 per ton in the Kanawha (West Virginia) district; $2.56 per ton in the Ohio No. 8 district; $2.21 per ton in the Kentucky No. 1 district; $1.94 per ton in the Illinois No. 3 district; $1.44 per ton in the Indiana No. 1 district; $4.79 per ton in the Colorado Domestic district; and $8.32 per ton in the Utah district.

The Commission tells Congress: "In order to use this information on investment properly it is also necessary to have accurate and sufficient comprehensive information regarding current costs of production, selling prices and margins of profit per ton. In the use of such cost and profit data it is equally important to recognize the wide variations not only in the average costs of production prices and profits of different mining districts but also to take due account of the often wide differences in costs and profits for the individual mining operations in a particular district. The nature and extent of the cost variations within each district in 1918 were set forth in elaborate statistical detail in previously published reports of the Commission on the costs of production of bituminous coal."

BUSINESS SHOWS RAPID IMPROVEMENT

Practically every industry for which figures have been received by the Department of Commerce show growing activity. Out of 42 production movements reporting, 38 showed an increase and only 4 declined. Prices have shown the greatest increase in more than two years. Forward orders are increasing and business again presents the picture of prosperity. The Department comments: "In the past it has been the excesses of the prosperity period that have been responsible for the depth of the depression that followed. The present is no time to discard the caution that the recent period of depression has taught." As a further word of caution the statement continues: "Prices on the average have not fallen below about 40 per cent over the pre-war level. They are now nearly 50 per cent above that level. No one knows at what level prices will finally become stabilized, but it is believed that care should be used in placing large forward orders for raw materials at prices much above the present level."

HAS HOGS VACCINATED AS PRECAUTIONARY STEP

In order to take no chances on his hogs becoming infected with cholera J. L. Orr has had his entire herd immunized by vaccination. F. F. Flaherty of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Fort Worth was here last week to do the work for Mr. Orr. He has had no cholera or no symptoms among his herd, and his hogs are too valuable not to give them this protection.

The O'Neal case at Vernon, in which Deputy Sheriff O'Neal was charged with having whiskey in his possession, when Federal officers found a barrel of the liquid in O'Neal's barn which he said had been placed there by order of the sheriff who with O'Neal had taken a still and some whiskey, was dismissed for want of evidence.

18 FROM FOARD AT N. TEXAS NORMAL

Foard County's representation at the North Texas State Normal at Denton is perhaps about the largest it has ever been. There are now 18 from this county taking normal work in that institution.

The school has just closed the first month of the summer normal. The enrollment of 2440 students puts this school in a class with the best summer schools of the country. In addition to that enrollment in the different departments, more than 200 children are enrolled in the Training School maintained by the college. The faculty and administrative force for the summer consists of one hundred and fifteen teachers and officers.

The following are students from Foard County:
Crowell—Misses Inez Sloan, Lena B. Rasor, Susie Eunice Dodd, Otis Benham, Doris Bailey, Mattie Russell, Inda Mapp, Nora Lefevre, and Mr. Hubert Roberts.
Foard City—Miss Loma Campbell, Margaret—Miss Rose Hlavaty.
Thalia—Misses Jewell Elizabeth Cato, Myrtle Huntley, Opal Dewella Cato, and Messrs. J. C. Matthews, Travis Davis, T. L. Johnson, C. A. Davis.

All Over Texas

Lightning recently struck the hen house of Mrs. Tom I. Bounds, residing ten miles east of Plainview, and killed 212 purebred chickens.

A 60-gallon capacity still was taken by the sheriff near Harrold last week. It is said to be one of the largest and best stills ever found in Wilbarger county.

According to official statistics Texas has to its discredit 1,100 murders and 400 suicides annually, one for every 3,000 persons. The predominant cause of death is firearms.

The first bale of cotton was marketed at Robstown the other day and brought 31 cents per pound. It is predicted that the crop this year will begin to move early.

Texas has 1,017,413 families and 946,629 dwellings to house them, according to statistics. In 1920 there was an average of 4.6 to the family compared with 4.9 in 1910.

At a mass meeting at Floydada recently such strong sentiment was expressed against Sunday baseball that the team has prepared a program for the summer leaving out Sunday playing.

A mass meeting of the citizens of Red River County met recently to consider the proposition of a $1,000,000 road bond issue for that county. A campaign to that effect seems to have met general approval.

At a meeting of the board of stewards of the Methodist church of Georgetown a resolution was passed to the effect that no donations would be accepted by the church from "secret societies wearing masks or disguised."

A still was found at the club house at Spring Lake in the Doans community a few days ago. The still was taken by the sheriff but the operator had made his escape when the officers approached.

A meeting of the Valley Chamber of Commerce was recently held at Harlingen looking to the adoption of measures for the prevention of flood disasters, such as the valley suffered recently. Government aid will be secured. More than 1,000 families were reported in need of relief.

An unknown youth 15 years of age was brought in from a farm near Chillicothe to the sanitarium at that place and underwent an operation from which he died shortly afterwards. Where he came from or who his parents are is information not in the possession of people at Chillicothe.

The dead body of Edward Sanders was found near the grave of Miss Lottie Anthony Saturday morning at Graham. The girl was one of four to have been drowned in the Brazos on the 4th of July, and Sanders feeling himself partly responsible for the drowning because he had promised to meet the party at the river and then could not be there, is supposed to have committed suicide by drinking a poisonous liquid.

RULING GIVEN ON CITY POLL TAX PAYMENTS

Austin, Texas, July 7.—Shortly after the adoption of the woman suffrage amendments to the State and Federal Constitutions, the Attorney General held that the payment of a city poll tax could not be required of either men or women as a prerequisite to their right to vote. This ruling pertained to the general election in November, 1922.

Since that opinion was rendered, questions have been raised as to whether the same rule applies to primary elections and to cities of 5,000 inhabitants or more. These questions are answered in the affirmative in a ruling rendered by the Attorney General to County Attorney Marvin Scurland of Jefferson County. In this ruling the Attorney General said:

"It is our opinion that the rule here announced applies to primary elections as well as other elections, and that it also applies to cities and towns of more than 5,000 inhabitants as well as to smaller towns. We find nothing in Sec. 5 of Art. 11 of our State Constitution, nor in Chapter 447, General Laws, regular session Thirty-Third Legislature, and amendments thereto which indicates a different rule should be applied in cities of more than 5,000 inhabitants."

CATTLE DIE ON THE HERRING-JOHNSON RANCH

L. K. Johnson of Vernon, one of the owners of the Herring-Johnson ranch, was here this week on his return from the ranch west of Crowell, and he made known to County Agent Fred Rennels the fact that some of his cattle had died from an unknown disease. Mr. Renneis wired to the Live Stock Sanitary Commission at Fort Worth for a man to come and investigate the cause of the disease, but at that time no one was available.

Mr. Johnson thinks whatever the disease is that is killing his cattle is the same as that which took from the herd last summer about 70 head. Already this season about 20 have died. Mr. Johnson has had a veterinary with the herd but he has failed to locate the cause of the death of the cattle.

Death of Mrs. Collins

Mrs. Martha Jane Collins, wife of D. J. Collins of this city, died at the Collins home Tuesday shortly after 1 o'clock P. M. She had complained with her head several hours during the night before finally becoming unconscious, death being the final result.

Mrs. Martha Jane Collins, whose maiden name was Puckett, was born Feb. 7, 1842, in Choctaw County, Ala., coming with her people to Texas early in life, and settled in Cass County, Texas, where she and D. J. Collins were married in the year 1867. To this union were born two children, a son and a daughter, the son dying in infancy. Mr. and Mrs. Collins came to Foard County in the year 1885 and took up land near the town of Crowell, some time before the town was started, and they have held this property ever since.

Mrs. Collins was converted and joined the Baptist church at the age of 14 and has lived a devoted Christian life ever since.

The deceased is survived by her husband, D. J. Collins, one daughter, Mrs. R. E. Zeibig, four grandchildren, Carl, Homer and Paul Zeibig and Mrs. Harry Schlagal, all residing at Crowell, and by seven great grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Collins reared Mrs. Harrold from childhood, and the ties of love existing between them was as great as if they had been parents and child.

Mrs. Collins lived out her life, being more than 80 years of age, and like all great Christian characters, left an influence to live for good after she is gone.

Makes Trip to St. Louis

T. D. Roberts returned Monday from a trip to St. Louis, going there to attend the $100,000 Club Convention of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co., which was held in the home office building in that city July 6th and 7th. This trip, including all expenses, was given by the company to all their agents who had written $100,000 worth of life insurance from July, 1921, to July, 1922. Mr. Roberts reports a fine trip and a good time while in St. Louis.

Mrs. J. C. Montgomery of Glen Rose, Texas, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Hill.

CANDIDATES WILL SPEAK SAT. NIGHT

Courthouse Lawn Will Be Used—Grove to Be Electrically Lighted

Saturday night likely will be the last opportunity the candidates will have of meeting the voters and speaking to them in a body. This opportunity will be offered each and every candidate in Foard County Saturday night. That means tomorrow night. Don't get the date confused. The fine meeting which was had at Thalia last Saturday night may be somewhat responsible for this one to be had at Crowell. And while we are now referring to the one at Thalia we might say that all the candidates in the county were present except three, and all spoke. Next Saturday night every candidate must be present or else give a good excuse why he or she was not present. The man or woman who is running for public office and can not go to a public speaking and make a talk to the people may be counted as unsuitable for public office. If somebody thinks that way about you your name might get scratched on the 22nd.

Everything is going to be made ready for a big time Saturday night and nearly everybody in the county is going to be present. Those who can not come out will be furnished conveyance to and from the speaking grounds. Foard county proposes to be thoroughly Democratic and in order to show that she will be every candidate is going to be given an opportunity to address the voters and every voter is going to be urged to come out and hear. Then they can make up their minds and vote for the best man or woman, as their judgment leads them to conclude, to fill the offices of the county and district.

On this occasion there will be some other entertaining features besides the speaking, music of some kind, the nature of which has not yet been fully determined.

Again the News insists on your attending this meeting. It will be pleasant if the weather is fair. You can't afford not to come.

Fed'l. Reserve Board Optimistic

The wholesale price index number of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics showing an increase of five points for May. Prices in Great Britain also show an increase, the index number compiled by the Federal Reserve Board for international comparison advancing four points, as compared with an increase of nine points in the similarly constructed number for the United States.

An increase of production is noted in highly finished lines of manufacture as well as in basic industries. The advance has been especially marked in iron and steel, and industries which are large consumers of iron and steel products, such as automobiles, foundries, machine shops, etc. May copper production was 266 per cent of that of May 1921, and showed a very large advance over the preceding month. Zinc output also increased, while stocks were less than half those at the close of May, 1921. Building activity has continued practically unabated. The value of contracts let during May was $323,000,000, which was about 50 per cent larger than for May, 1921. This was substantially the same as the April figure.

Decided improvement in tanning and moderate improvement in the output of boots and shoes are noted. Wholesale groceries and hardware show a very pronounced advance over April, and compare favorably with the sales of a year ago. In dry goods and shoes a seasonal recession is noted, but the business in most districts does not vary greatly from that of last year. The retail trade for the first time in many months is in excess of that of a year ago.

Germany Needs American Sugar

A decree has been issued by the German government discontinuing the necessity of import licenses for foreign sugar and providing for its free admission, American Consul Donigan, Konigsberg, has informed the Department of Commerce. A great scarcity of sugar exists at present throughout East Prussia, and local wholesale dealers believe that an excellent chance exists for American exporters to sell sugar if they can compete with English prices.

To the Voters of Foard County:

Owing to the fact that I have not time to get out letters to all the people, I am taking this as a means to reach the voters, who read the News. It is not my intention to leave any one out.

I am in the race for County and District Clerk. I am asking you for this place, because I believe I am competent to hold the office. I want it that I may render more and efficient service to my fellow countrymen.

Some may seek an office for the honor that there is in it, but if I am elected I mean to do honor to the office, and not take all the honor to myself.

I can devote all my time to the work, for I have no other duties that will hinder. Should I be elected, I will try to make you one of the best clerks you have ever had.

My aim is at the top of a high ladder. In this ladder there are about 2,000 steps, and each step is a voter of this county. As I climb the ladder I am depending on you to hold your step firm, and not let me fall. I realize I am a very small factor in obtaining this aim. I am dependent on you. I trust you will not fail me.

Yours to serve,

SCHOOL RELIEF PROMISED BY NEFF

Austin, July 10.—Relief for the rural schools of the State, was the subject of a conference held Monday by about 30 county school superintendents and principals of the country schools with Governor Neff. After the conference those who attended expressed themselves as being in sympathetic and active co-operation with the ideas expressed by the Governor as to the best method for giving final relief to the schools situation, for the coming school year.

Governor Neff assured the delegation that when the Legislature convenes next January he will ask the law makers to appropriate at once a sufficient sum of money to run the schools the coming school year, the usual length of term, such as has been maintained in the State for the last several years. It was made plain by the Governor that there was really no occasion for a called session of the Legislature, as the Legislature that convenes next January in regular session can provide all necessary relief for the maintenance of the public

This is a special arrangement that will hold good only as long as our present stock lasts. Why not come in and look this outfit over? Or ask us to come out to your farm for a demonstration. We are always glad to let the Titan "prove up" right where it is going to work after you buy it schools for the coming year.

In addition to this, the Governor assured the delegation that he was in favor of the next Legislature writing into the life of Texas a sure-enough, progressive, constructive educational program, such a program, as outlined by the Governor, not only as to the coming year but for the future, was heartily concurred in by the delegation. Governor Neff explained that it would cost approximately $100,000 to have a special session of the Legislature and that there was no money at this time in the State treasury to be appropriated for any purpose, and that there would be no money in the treasury to be appropriated for any purpose before January of next year, and that the Legislature that convenes at that time can take care of the school situation.

Germ-Killing Walls.

The investigations of one hygienist show that paper and tapestry wall coverings in houses are favorable to the preservation of disease germs. On the other hand, walls covered with stucco or good varnish cannot only be readily freed from germs by washing, but they possess the property of cleansing themselves spontaneously from bacteria lodged upon them. It has been found that the germs of typhoid, of cholera and of pneumonia, when placed on such walls, perish within 24 hours, while on walls covered with dried size they survive for weeks and even months. Dampness increases and prolongs the danger.—Washington Star.

Crowell, Texas, July 14, 1922

Las Vegas, it seems failed to do the big thing by the delegates to the highway convention on July 3, 4, and 5. It does not look good when gasoline and oil are raised the day the delegates arrived in the town and then reduced the day they left. Lack of a hearty welcome was evident on every hand. Instead of doing the big thing Las Vegas did the little thing and will be remembered for it, but what town would envy her the reputation she has made for herself? The convention comes back to Texas, where it ought to stay and where it will stay, unless there are some other towns in New Mexico this side of Las Vegas that knows how to do the square thing. Texas towns will be glad to take care of the annual conventions in the future, and they will do it with a bigness of heart characteristic of the people of this country. It is to be regretted that Las Vegas will have to redeem herself.

Mr. Neff has doubtless seen fit to make some promises as to the public schools of Texas, whether prompted to do so because of public demand for aid from some source as a matter of necessity to benefit the cause of education in the State, or whether from expediency from a political standpoint. He has stated that he will urge an appropriation by the Legislature for this purpose when that body meets again. But it seems that at best such action can not have the desired effect on the schools of the state. Mr. Neff says it is too expensive to convene that body for consideration of a matter like this and that January will be early enough. But how can the schools outline and expect to build to a program based on uncertainties? Many of the schools are going to suffer, even after the voting of the tax limit of $1.00, and under the conditions for some the next year's school prospects are certain to be anything but encouraging.

Confidence is a great thing and when you act in such way as to justify its loss in another, you have committed a crime against that person, because the injury is permanent. It can never be repaired. Time will not erase the scar left in the heart of that person. An older person may fairly well outlive the effect of such influence, but it is not rue with the young. Ideals are formed in early life and they build high ideals upon confidence in others. Destroy that confidence and the life is blighted and the prospects ruined.

A picnic was given Wednesday evening on the banks of the Wichita River honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McCormick of Snyder, former Crowell residents, who are here for a visit with friends. A bountiful and palatable lunch was served, consisting of fried chicken and other good things. Those present were, Dr. and Mrs. H. Schindler, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Henry, B. W. Self, L. G. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Beverly, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Klepper, Miss May Klepper, Mrs. J. C. Montgomery of Glen Rose, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Bell and son, Arthur, Tom Reeder Jr. and the guests of honor.

Jean P. Montgomery and wife came in Wednesday from Wichita Falls to visit his parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Montgomery, for a few days. Mr. Montgomery is manager of the men's clothing department of the P. B. M. Co. department store in Wichita Falls.

L. Noland and family have moved from Quanah to Knox City. Mr. Noland's work has been finished at Quanah and he has a lot of engineering work in Knox and Haskell counties for some time to come. Mr. Noland was here Monday.

Mrs. E. A. Dunagan brought the News three large cucumbers from her garden Monday. These were very fine samples of this class of vegetables. She says she has raised a large crop this year and has canned quite a lot of them. This is the first year, however, that she has had decided success with them on account of the fact that the bugs have usually been so bad to injure the vines.

Henry Fergeson and family returned the first of the week from a visit to Las Vegas, N. M., where they attended the big rodeo and road convention. They had a very delightful trip, not only at Las Vegas, but at places where they visited along the way. The cool nights were something very remarkable in that altitude. Two quilts would be comfortable under which to sleep.

E. Swain and family and C. D. Stephenson returned this week from the highway convention and rodeo in Las Vegas, N. M.

He intended to remember the News with a melon but had to surrender to the mob.

R. B. Edwards and son, Herbert, returned the first of the week from the F. F. F. Highway convention in Las Vegas, N. M.

*Faster work—
Lower costs than teams*

Cletrac "F" pulls a two-disc plow in any soil at 3 miles per hour, turning 6 to 8 acres per day—cultivates 15 to 20—handles all other farm jobs, doing better and faster work at lower cost than teams.

Cletrac "F" was designed and built to absolutely motorize row crop farming—to make more money for farmers by doing all of their work better and cheaper than it has ever been done before.

After years of actual farm tests, Cletrac "F" is today the most-talked-of tractor in the world. Farmers who have watched and waited for a practical row crop tractor are receiving Cletrac "F" with the indorsement of "that's the tractor for me."

Weights only 1860 pounds; chrome steel construction; entire tractor automatically lubricated—one place to oil; compact design; travels between rows when cultivating; has powerful kerosene-burning motor.

Write us for "F" literature or better still let us demonstrate this complete power farming unit right on your own farm.

CALOMEL USERS TAKE AWFUL RISK

Very Next Dose of Treacherous Drug May Start Terrible Salivation

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. 67

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theford's. E. 58

World Relies on United States for Its Cotton

The National City Bank of New York says that despite the efforts made in the past 50 years to develop cotton production in other parts of the world, the United States has so increased its share of the world's cotton crop that we were in 1920 supplying 62 per cent of the world's raw cotton output as against less than 20 per cent a century earlier; though with our abnormally small crop last year our share of the world's 1921 output was about 53 per cent.

THE PROBE OF RISING OIL PRICES

The first step taken under the United States Senate resolution authorizing the investigation was to send questionnaires to more than 300 oil companies calling for information on prices, organization and business and financial condition. The aim is to set forth as a basis of investigation the condition of the crude oil and gasoline markets in 1920, 1921 and the first six months of 1922 and the reason for the changes in prices of crude oil, gasoline and other products.

TRULY SEAT OF THE MIGHTY

Woolsack in British House of Lords Dates Back to the Reign of King Edward III.

In a place of honor in the British house of lords is a large red cushion right in front of the throne. It is about five feet long and two feet square at the ends, and is known as the woolsack or historic seat of the lord chancellor of the realm. This is one of the sacred British institutions. Its installation as a seat of honor for the head of the judiciary department of the government dates back to the time of Edward III, when wool was the chief staple of England.

It was not, however, until the time of Henry VIII that the woolsack was dignified and thoroughly established as an institution by the following enactment: "The lord chancellor, lord treasurer and all other officers who shall be under the degree of a baron of a parliament shall sit and be placed at the uppermost part of the sakes in the midst of the parliament chamber, either there to sit upon one form or upon the uppermost sack."

Another curious circumstance is the fact that the woolsack is regarded as extra-territorial so far as the house is concerned. Technically, it is outside the jurisdiction of the house, so if the lord chancellor wishes to speak in debate he must leave the woolsack and advance to his place as a peer.

CALLS FROGS FROM HIDING

Rainstorm Brings Them Out, but Idea That They Fall With It is a Mistaken One.

It has never been known of frogs falling with the rain in a rainstorm. This is an old superstition which probably arose from the fact that frogs were seen moving about in large numbers after a storm. It is possible that a cyclone (that can lift houses and whirl them about like straws) may at some time or other have gathered up a quantity of frogs and landed them somewhere else, not much the worse for wear. On the whole, however, we should say that it is impossible for the sky to rain frogs in spite of the expression "raining cats and dogs," and "raining pitchforks." Frogs are amphibious creatures, spending half their lives in water and half on land, but they have a strong preference for the water, and for moisture generally. When the earth is hot and dry, frogs hide themselves away in cool, moist places, and when, after a rain, there has been a big enough storm to drive worms and other varieties of insects (frogs' natural food) to the earth's surface, frogs also make their appearance in great quantities, causing people to wonder where they came from.

Rose to the Occasion.

The doctor had left his instructions sufficient to carry on during his absence through the afternoon. All went well till the phone rang and a sweet feminine voice inquired: "Is the doctor in? May I speak to him?" The assistant, per instructions, explained the doctor's absence and inquired if he would be of any use. The lady caller's voice was worried as she went on. "Oh, I am so sorry. I am phoning for Mrs. Blank, and it is very important. Tell the doctor immediately on his return that Mrs. Blank is having a gynecium coming on, and she wonders if he could do anything for it." The assistant made a hurried note and reassured the caller. "I'll tell the doctor as soon as he returns. And meanwhile tell her to put a mustard poultice on it and renew it every two hours."

Typographical Error Cost Life.

A typographical error once cost a woman her life. Shortly after the invention of printing, a German printer working on an edition of the Bible entrusted to his wife the setting up of the type for a portion of the Book of Genesis. There is a sentence in Genesis, describing Eve's duty to Adam which runs "He shall be thy Lord." The German word for Lord is "Herr" and that for fool is "Narr." The printer's wife changed the "e" to "a" and, in the crude type of that period, the capital "H" looked exactly like an "N." The sentence consequently read, "He shall be thy fool."

Many copies of the book got into circulation before the error was discovered. The ecclesiastical authorities were so engaged at what they considered the woman's impiety that they condemned her to the stake.

Lacking in Consideration.

As long as the grass in a Chicago public park is healthy and green the citizens seem to look upon it as some sort of garden and keep off of it, as the signs command them. When it begins to die out, however, their respect for it instantly vanishes.

A man in a hurry started one day to cut across a yellow patch in the upper park, but was stopped by a policeman.

"What difference does it make?" demanded the citizen. "The grass is half dead already."

"Sure," said the indignant officer. "If ye had a sick friend, would ye be walkin' on his stomach?"—Harper's Magazine.

In the Hands of Friends.

"When you leave yourself in the hands of your friends are you sure you can trust them?"

"No," replied Senator Sorghum. "Some of them are liable at any moment to go out behind my back and dig up all kinds of needful campaign funds in a manner that I should highly disapprove of if I knew about it."

Management of the Summer Flock

By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College of Texas

Keep the house scrupulously clean, and regularly disinfected even tho, it may require extra work on your part these hot days.

On many farms the hens stop laying in the summer time, largely from the lack of pure fresh drinking water. An abundant supply of cool and clean drinking water for the poultry flock is essential these hot days. Remember an egg is about two-thirds water. Keep up your warfare against the lice, mites and blue bugs.

Gather the eggs three times a day and market them just as often per week. Keep them in a very cool place.

Tolerate no broody hens. Do not sell eggs of a doubtful quality. When the dry weather and hot sun has dried up most of the grasses make some other provision for green food in the form of vegetables. Some-time it is advisable to sow a little wild oats, wheat or rye for the purpose.

Select those individuals that, on account of their age, constitution, or other characteristic, you are planning to sell in the fall; and as soon as they stop laying, confine them in a small clean as well as cool pen. Here feed them well of a good fattening ration, made as follows: 3 lbs milo kafir or corn meal, 1 lb wheat middlings, 1 lb of ground oats with hulls removed, 9 lbs of butter milk or sour milk. If milk is not available add 15 per cent of beef scrap to the ration and moisten with water. Milk is much to be preferred however, in the fattening of poultry.

Feed the above mixture twice a day and all they will eat up clean but no more. Provide charcoal, fresh water and a little green food.

The first few days feed very sparingly, but towards the end of the second week feed all they will eat up clean; but no more. It seldom pays to fatten poultry for a longer period than two weeks, after that they lose weight instead of gaining.

Never sell any poultry until it has been well fattened. Remember that if it does not pay to fatten poultry, it does not pay to grow it in the first place. Well fattened poultry not only weighs more but it brings more per pound on the market, on account of the improved quality.

Do not sell your poultry at so much per dozen. This is a very loose way of doing business, seldom satisfactory to the producer or seller. In the marketing of broilers, the above may prove an exception. Market all of your poultry at so much per pound and study the market. If your local dealer will not give a fair price, club together with a few of your neighbors or ship yourself to some reliable commission house in any of the larger cities.

Forced Molt

Do not feed your flock for a forced molt, because the same has been found unsatisfactory. Much better practice is to allow your hens to lay when they so wish, and to feed them well at all times. During the moulting time they should be fed exceptionally well. Some people seem to think that chickens do not need anything to eat when they stop laying and start moulting. This is of course not a sane way of reasoning.

How to Keep Poultry House Cool in Summer

Fowls suffer more from excessive heat in summer than from cold in winter.

In the late spring and summer, the greatest problem for the poultryman to solve is to keep the fowls cool and comfortable.

The large mortality in late hatched chicks, and the sudden drop in egg production, during the hot summer days is directly traceable to the fact that it is almost impossible to keep down the temperature and make the fowls comfortable.

One way of overcoming this is by increasing the ventilation. Provide some kind of rear ventilation, as well as at the ends. We like a foot wide door running the entire length of rear end of house, hinged at the top to swing out. This keeps out a driving rain and allows a circulation of air. A door or window should be on both East and West end. Of course all doors and windows should be open. When necessary to confine fowls, use window and door screens.

All muslin curtains or wooden shutters should be hinged at the top on the outside to swing out. This acts as an awning, providing shade and protecting the interior from rain.

If roosts are located in corner of building and are movable move them further out into the middle of the pen, this will permit more of a circulation of air around the birds when they are on the roosts. It is when the fowls are on the roosts during the hot sultry night that they suffer most.

AMARYLLIS

This is a brand new flour manufactured at Amarillo in a new plant, one of the finest in the South, costing $1,000,000, with the most improved machinery for flour making known. No expense has been spared in building a plant that would put out a product without a superior and with few equals. This has been accomplished, and we are today handling the product of that mill. The best proof of the merits of the flour is the favorable report of those who are using it. Not a complaint has reached us.

Every sack of this flour is backed by the strongest guarantee, and the beauty is that it costs no more than any brand of flour of recognized standard.

We want you to try it, because we know it will please you no matter how particular you may be.

In some style of houses, it is desirable to have some form of roof ventilation to permit the escape of hot air, which always settles in the highest part of the house.

During the day the fowls can generally get access to some kind of shade, either under trees or in the shade of buildings. If they, however, cannot have either of these then it is of prime importance that some form of a frame be put up on posts about two feet from the ground covered with straw, brush, or common burlap bags. Most any of these will do, and surely would wonderfully increase the comfort of the fowls.

In the case of movable houses, they should be blocked up from the ground about a foot, so the space underneath can be utilized for shade.

Movable houses, if possible, should be located under a tree or in an orchard.

Late hatched chicks are almost impossible to rear in any other place than in the orchard or woodlot where it is always cooler than out in the open.

Shut Out the Flies

It would be better if all the flies in the world were killed, but since that is practically an impossibility, the next best thing to do is to shut him out of your home. Kill all you can. "Swat the Fly" is a worthy slogan and should be heeded by every person in the country. But after you have swatted all you can there are enough left to plant typhoid germs in every home, which, when these develop into that deadly malady, sometimes take a heavy toll from the ranks of our population.

Come to our yard and buy screen doors, a size for every door. They will save you much annoyance and relieve your mind from the danger of flies. A new shipment just in.

To the Voters of Foard County:

During my campaign for the office of County Judge I have made an effort to see each and every voter but perhaps I have failed to meet some, so I am asking each of you to give me a fair and impartial consideration and assure you that I will appreciate your support if you find me worthy.

It might be of interest to you to know how much money has been received and spent on the highways of your county since December 1918 to July 1922.

The following was taken from the county records and shows the amount received for the construction and maintenance of highways:
State and Federal Aid—$ 57,934.90
Road Warrants 65,000.00
Road Bonds 134,480.57

Total—$257,414.47

The above shows the amount that would have been received if the Road Warrants had been sold at par.

The following shows the expenditure of money for the construction and maintenance:

Amount spent for labor—$161,391.10
Material 30,733.13
Machinery 27,304.36
Oil, gas, repairs, express and freight 21,973.67
Land and road damages 2,381.55
Wichita bridge (by contract) 5,810.88

Total—$267,901.22

With the above amount invested in roads it is very necessary for their maintenance, and I assure you that if I am elected I will put forth the strongest effort within my ability to maintain them. I have had experience in the construction and grade work, and I am capable of maintaining the roads.

Respectfully,
JESSE OWENS.

Copeland Bros. Big Tent Show All Next Week

The Four Copelands, the comedy, harmony quartette, so well liked by everybody, will offer one of their pleasing singing specialties every night. The plays have been carefully selected and are among the best available for this kind of a company. Opening play on Monday night will be that well known Southern comedy, "My Dixie Girl," with one of the greatest black face comedy parts ever written.

The ladies will be admitted free on Monday night when with escort holding a paid adult ticket and the prices have been reduced to the pre-war scale of ten cents for children, twenty-five cents for adults. Advt.
