To Our Customers

You are due an explanation for some interruptions of the electric service lately and here it is. The gyp water we have had to use in our engine for some time past has caused considerable wear on some parts of the engine and then we were shipped a car of fuel oil not fit to use at all but which was unloaded before it showed how bad it really was. It has caused all the shut downs, as it was full of sulphur and dirt and choked up pipes, strainers and valves and cut out parts in one day that should have run six months. It has been a very expensive matter for us but we have wired for new cylinder and will have the engine as good as new as soon as the parts can get here. The worn cylinder makes the engine very hard to start which explains that part of it.

We want to assure every one that we are vitally interested in giving good service and we spare neither expense nor labor to do so.

We thank you for past patronage and trust the future has better things in store for all of us.

73rd Birthday Celebrated

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Tarver south of Thalia last Thursday all the children of J. B. R. Fox gave a dinner in honor of his 73rd birthday. All brought dinners and spread together. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. R. Fox of Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Cato and three children of Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Fox and five children of near Rayland, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Cato and four children of Thalia, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wheeler and one child of near Rayland, Mr. and Mrs. Tarver and three children of near Thalia. All Mr. Fox's children were present except Claud and family of Truscott and one grandchild who is in school at Denton, Miss Jewell Cato. His brother, Tom Fox, and wife, of Davidson, Okla., were present. Also his sister, Mrs. Josie Chenworth and brother, R. L. Fox, of Clovis, N. M., Bart Fox, his brother of Crowell, his nephew, Clarence Fox, wife and four children of Davidson, Okla. Others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Tate of near Crowell.

This 3rd of May was the first time Mr. Fox and his brothers and sisters had been together since the year of 1883. This was indeed a happy event and all went away wishing Mr. Fox many more happy birthdays.—Contributed.

A romance of a fightin' man. Filled with the thrill of stirring adventure. Where a pistol acts in lieu of a Pullman ticket. Explains how even life on a ranch may become too tame. In which a laugh at the wrong time makes a lasting friendship. How outdoor men play the game of life and love. Where love finds a way to defeat plotters and bandits. A story of action which is packed with excitement. Wherein a jealous woman saves another woman's sweetheart. Proving that men of the big outdoors laugh at limits. How a race with death is won by love.

It Looks Good

Watch the bond market and you will get a fair indication of what the near future will bring us.

For some time past the market has been strong. Buying has been heavy and prices have been kept well up.

This means but one thing.

People who have money are regaining confidence and are seeking means of investing it. The fellow with a few hundreds or thousands is taking it from its hiding place and is buying bonds. He is no longer pessimistic of the future. He sees increased commercial activity and consequent prosperity ahead, and he is right.

Every bond issue that is floated means more work for idle people. It means an expansion in business, an increased volume of trade, more money in circulation, and that money passing from hand to hand. Prosperity is the natural result.

If you have any savings stowed away you are quite safe in bringing them out and putting them to work. The time for action is here.

Those who are interested in poultry in Foard County will find much good information and advice in the Kazmeier articles now appearing in the News from week to week. They are crowded with valuable truths which every one ought to know. And those who are not interested in the poultry business will do well to read them. The one this week on the "Importance of Producing Infertile Eggs" is good for the consumer of eggs to read, as well as for the one who markets eggs. Mr. Kazmeier tells us that fertile eggs are not fit to use as food. If that is true the consumer of eggs should get the habit of calling for and using no others except infertile ones. This will create a demand for that kind and will result in the marketing of no others. That means better prices, as well as more wholesome food.

Don't abuse the long-eared kickers. They are not so bad, after all. Patrick Henry kicked, so did Benjamin Franklin. They kicked against unjust taxation. Some others helped them and the result was that a new nation came into existence. Innumerable instances are on record where the kickers have brought reforms for the good of the folks. Whatever criticism may be passed against the kicker, it can be said that as long as you stay in front of him you are not in danger of going away with the imprint of his heels on your person. Another thing is that the kicker is not a sucker. You may lead him with a halter but not by the snout.

Dallas News Snap Shot says personally he does not crave great wealth, but that he would like to be rich enough to be pointed out as a menace. We differ from Snap Shot in that we would like to be wealthy enough that we might not become a menace.

"An idle brain is the devil's work shop," and an active, slandering, gossiping tongue is his finished product.

Another thing, what is going to be done with all those masks when the klan is dead?

MOTHERS' DAY

(By Phebe K. Warner)

A few years ago, Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, conceived the idea of Mother's Day. She wanted to commemorate the memory of our mothers. Although only a few years ago, all was different than now. Up to that time "Mother" was scarcely known outside of her own door. She had few rights, except to give her life to her home and family. She had no voice in the Government she supported and obeyed. She had no control of her own property after she became a mother in many of the States. In some of the States she did not even hold the right to her own children if the father saw fit to put her or the children away. Up until her time she had not had a place in very many of our colleges and consequently had had little of what the world calls education. Her mother had not even been allowed to speak out loud in the church.

In short until a few years ago the word "Mother" meant little more than domestic slave. But like other slaves, mothers received more consideration than others.

Up until this special time men occupied most of the positions of trust and honor. Men occupied most of the positions of pay. Mother was the one in the family who "suffered long and was kind." Mother was the one who "beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things."

For all these reasons Miss Jarvis felt there should be some way to honor her memory at least, since she received so little consideration in this life. For several years after the idea of Mother's Day became a custom, most of us thought of it as a day to honor our mothers who had finished their course in this world. But the idea was such a happy one and it struck a responsive chord in the heart of the Nation that folks soon began to think of their living mothers with a new appreciation and a new tenderness.

Why wait until mother is dead and gone to love her, to honor her? Why not send her flowers while she is living instead of saving them for her grave? She might live longer if she only knew you loved her and was thinking of her on one special day each year. And so the custom grew, it seemed, from heaven back to earth from whence it came. And two carnations came into national demand. A red carnation for our living mothers and a white one for those who are gone. Beautiful thought. Beautiful flower. But the world and all the greenhouses in it could not produce half enough carnations to go round on Mother's Day. But Miss Jarvis was a city woman and she thought in terms of the city.

Nor was her task so easy as it seems in print. It takes work and sacrifice and time to plant a new thought in the mind of a nation and wait for it to take root and grow. This has been demonstrated again the past year in the efforts to plant the idea of an International Flower Day in the heart of our Nation in honor of our World War soldiers. But we believe that just as sure as Mother's Day has grown into the most beautiful memorial day of the year that the International Flower Day will grow in the hearts of all the people when they all understand its meaning and its spirit as they do the meaning of Mother's Day.

Miss Jarvis gave both time and money freely to put her idea of Mother's Day before the people. Time after time she appeared before the Governors of the different States, the Legislatures, and many other of fiscal bodies, always addressing them on the one subject closest to her heart, until at last the President of the United States and Congress as well as many individual States officially indorsed Mother's Day. You know the rest. This was scarcely fifteen years ago. But on Sunday, May 14, of this year almost every little church in the land will think of Mother. And the custom will never be forgotten. It has come to stay. There will always be a Mother's Day.

There is but one little flaw in the plan. And it is not a real flaw. It is perfectly alright to have a certain flower for Mother's Day providing we do not neglect to send other flowers when the carnations are all gone. Who could produce enough carnations to supply the whole Nation on a single day? And what difference will it mean to your mother whether you send her a bunch of cut carnations that will soon wither and die, or a beautiful pot plant from your own window or elsewhere? It is your thought and your love that goes with the flower that will brighten her day.—Star-Telegram.

In addition to the six inches of rain in April we have had something like two inches within the last ten days, and the ground is in the finest condition. Wheat will not need any more rain, farmers say, and the ground is too wet to do much with row crops. Some crops that were planted before the heavy rain the first of the week will have to be replanted.

John Deere "KC" Cultivator

A Distinctive Riding Cultivator You Will Like

An Exceptionally Easy Machine to Guide. Slight pressure on the foot levers guides the wheels and shifts the rigs. Crooked rows can be followed easily. Shovels remain in ground—no skips—no jumps.

Cultivator Shovels Face Work Squarely. Under all conditions, the shovels on the "KC" Cultivator cut their full width—no ground is left uncultivated.

Cultivator Instantly Adjusted from the Seat of the Machine. Levers are provided for changing the distance of cultivation from the rows, for depth of cultivation, and for level cultivation without leaving the seat.

Front and Rear Shovels Penetrate to Same Depth. The front and back shovels of each rig enter the ground level and continue level as they are lowered by the depth lever. The "set" and "suck" of the shovels are always the same regardless of the depth of cultivation. This is an unusual advantage.

Master Lever Raises Both Rigs and Balances Machine. Both rigs are raised and the machines balanced by raising the master lever. Separate adjusting levers are provided for each rig.

Give Coach Sweater

The high school baseball team on last Friday showed its appreciation of efficient coaching by presenting Coach Tate with an athletic sweater.

The Skipper has done much to make high school life agreeable this year and especially has improved the baseball team and it is largely owing ing to his untiring energy that the ball team has become the winner that it has.

Mr. Tate has gained the unending admiration and friendship of his team by good comradeship and ceaseless hard work to improve the team and the gift is only a fitting expression of the confidence and gratitude of the team.

CROWELL HI TEAM HAS ATTRACTIVE SCHEDULE

For the coming week the Crowell high school baseball team has a schedule that should be entertainment of a good variety. Starting today and continuing irregularly through the week they play several good teams that are sure to provide a first class week for lovers of the National sport. Games are matched with Munday high school, Knox City high school and a team of town men. The game with the town men will be a benefit one, all proceeds going to the treasury of the Cemetery Association.

This team of town men will be as good as the town will be able to muster but they will have at least a good match in the classy high school team that so far has left a streak of blue behind them. The town men will probably be behind in fielding, owing to their lack of practice, but some of the heaviest hitters will be there and this will, in some measure, offset the handicap. Taken as a whole the spectators may expect a good game worth seeing. This game will be played on Wednesday of next week.

On Friday (today) at four o'clock there will be a game between the high school boys and Munday high. Munday high won over Crowell when the game was played at that place but the result was largely due to luck and the bad condition of the grounds. In fact, the teams are almost evenly matched. Both are excellent high school teams and this game will be worth the money.

On Friday of next week the high school team will play Knox City high. This will probably be a close and good game, as the former victory over Knox City was by a very small margin. These teams are also well matched and should be able to put up a good exhibition of ball playing.

All three of these teams, Crowell, Knox and Munday are well matched and will provide good games. Go see 'em and get young again.

Autofeet oil stove, uses asbestos ring wicks. We guarantee it to be equal to any asbestos ring stove—$42.50.—W. R. Womack.

There will be a music recital and concert at Crowell Theater Monday night, May 29th. Admission 25c and 50c, proceeds to go to piano fund for new Baptist church.

Berean Bible Class Meeting

The home of J. H. Carter was opened to the Berean Class of the Baptist Sunday School on Monday night, May 8, with Miss Cora, hostess.

Oscar Boman is the wide-awake president of this young men's class and the regular monthly business and social meetings are looked forward to with great pleasure by the young men.

Mrs. T. N. Bell, the teacher, is always on hand with something helpful in the way of teaching the lessons, giving the boys work to do, and showing them a good time.

The president led the devotion and all class officers gave reports of a month's work showing an increase along all lines, especially in new members.

Those present were: Mrs. T. N. Bell, teacher; Oscar Boman, president; John Carter, 1st vice president; Alton Nicholson, 3rd vice president; Ted Carter, treasurer; George Self, Edgar Kinsey, Tanner Billington, Ed Thompson, Carroll Billington, class members. The visitors were Adolphus Wright and wife and Buster Gilliam.

The social hour was greatly enjoyed and to all class members not present we urge that you meet with the class at business meetings the same as on Sunday morning. Goodnight was said with a full dish of ice cream and cake.

Meet next month with Tanner and Carroll Billington. We will expect 20 class members.

The reporter was absent. This is written by a new member.

Ladies Admitted Free

In the game with Munday here today at four o'clock all ladies will be admitted free.

The high school base ball team wants the ladies as their guests on this day and want to show them a good time. The good time part is unquestionable to one who loves and knows baseball. The teams are too well matched and too good not to furnish all with a good time who will take the trouble to come and see.

The Crowell high school team is one of the best in this part of the state, having as good an average as any team which they have played. They have played some good teams and have demonstrated their ability more than once.

Ladies, it will pay you to come see this game. The boys invite you.

Dragging the Roads

Community pride has manifested itself to a very commendable degree, the News is informed, in the Gamble community in the matter of road dragging. A number of the citizens out there last week got together and drag the roads with the famous split-log drag, which put them up in fine shape. This speaks well for the citizens of that community and might well be taken as a pattern by the people of other communities.

The building and maintaining of roads will be of no use if no one will fronting our commissioners for the next few years and they will no doubt appreciate whatever work citizens may want to donate from time to time in their upkeep.

As the Editor Sees It

A school board recently expelled a girl student because she used talcum powder on her nose. A judge expressed the opinion that the school board was unjust, and regretted that the law did not allow him to interfere.

Wise judge. Foolish school board. Many men have greasy and unsightly noses, but women do not exclude them from their homes for that reason. They put up with the grease for the sake of the inner man.

Greasy noses are not pleasant to see, and women do not care to have them.

If talcum powder helps, why deprive them of its use?

Dollars for fiction, but not a cent for truth!

That is the mental attitude of some people. They spend their time and their money in devouring blood and thunder novels, but never read a line in the Bible.

Judges and jailers can tell you a lot about some of these birds.

A doctor held in his hand a glass containing bichloride of mercury, a slow but deadly poison. He sat it down and filled another glass with water to drink.

Just then his phone rang and he deposited the water glass by the side of the one containing the mercury.

Upon returning from the phone he took a drink—from the wrong glass. Six feet of ground.

When doctors become so thoughtless they kill themselves with their own poison, why complain of the carelessness of the common herd?

The speed mania continues to pull off his periodical executions. Often the victim is a little child.

The reckless driver who kills a person is but little better than the gunman who blows off another's head.

If we prescribe the death penalty for the gunman, we should at least punish the speeder with a long term in prison.

When a person becomes a menace to a community the community should be rid of him.

Look at the people around you and size them up according to their deeds.

How many of them have a ghost of a chance of getting to heaven unless they make a radical change in their mode of living?

Very few, you think.

Now look in a mirror and study

the one you see?

What better chance has he?

Don't consider yourself a Mut. There are a few people who know less than you do.

Self-confidence is half the battle of life. The man who believes in himself finds little difficulty in inducing others to think as he does.

Take a firm grip on yourself. It will aid you in gripping the confidence of others.

And you will go far.

Think back over the past year. What have you done to improve conditions in the home community?

Now think back again, and catalogue the numerous opportunities you have allowed to slide by because you "didn't feel like doing it."

Other years are yet to come.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Yoder and small daughter were here from Snyder last week-end visiting the family of his brother, C. J. Yoder. Mr. Yoder was also looking after his business interests here.

DISTRICT FARM BUREAU MEETING HELD MAY 5TH

Delegates of the 19th District of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, comprising the counties of Hardeman, Knox, Wilbarger, Baylor and Foard, met at the district court room Friday, May 5th, for the purpose of nominating a district director.

T. M. Haney, who has served in that capacity for the last year, was re-elected by a unanimous vote, all delegates stating that their County Farm Bureau had instructed for Mr. Haney.

Resolutions were adopted asking for a speedier bookkeeping system, also a resolution was adopted asking a slight change in the system of grading.

Every delegate seemed enthusiastic over the outcome of the Cotton Association, and were in favor of putting on a strong campaign in every county to increase the membership in the association.

It was stated that the Cotton Growers Exchange will be established in Dallas with nine cotton states marketing cotton through this one agency, as Texas and Oklahoma has done the past year. Carl Williams of Oklahoma will be president of the Exchange.

The success of the Cotton Association depends on each individual member. A member may be a booster or a knocker. Constructive criticism is necessary to the association. There are some changes that need to be made, and we need every member's friendly suggestion as to how to improve the system of handling and marketing the cotton.

The wheat growers' pool has gone over with a 3,000,000 bushel sign up, and has established headquarters at Amarillo at least for the present year.

Co-operative marketing has come to stay. It may take some time to perfect it to all we have hoped for, but it will eventually be done.

J. B. RASBERRY,
County President.

Blacksmith Notice

I have bought the Garlinghouse blacksmith shop and my father, J. C. Spears, and myself are running same, and have been in the blacksmith business all our lives. So come and see us and get our prices. We will appreciate your trade.—T. A. Spears, 50p

Charley Lloyd was called to Fort Worth last week on account of the serious illness of his father who died on Friday.

Agricultural Clubs

The boys and girls' agricultural club membership in Foard County numbers 94 members at the present time, with 116 agricultural and livestock projects divided as follows: Grain sorghums 27; cotton 12; peanuts 1; corn 1; tomatoes 2; pigs 25; baby beef 5; poultry 41; sheep 1; goats 1.

There is more than unusual interest among the club members of the county in buying the very best livestock and poultry to be found.

There are more in the poultry club than any other one club, grain sorghums second, and pig club third.

The banks of Crowell have made it possible for the club members to buy good registered pigs and standard bred chickens, by making them loans until fall.

Every club member will have an opportunity to compete for club prizes this fall, and we are certain that there will be some prizes worth trying to get. Membership in the clubs will be taken until the first of June and there should be several more members on the roll by that time.

Each year there are four million farmers that retire. Some of the boys that are growing up now will have to take the retiring farmers' places. Would it not be well to start him off with some of the best pure-bred animals, and let him study and learn how to feed for the best results?

Some one has said, "If you wish to do something for a man, you should do it before he becomes a man." This is just as true of agricultural work as any other line. The boy should be started right. That is the purpose of the club work.

Loans were made to club members to the amount of $49,000 for buying livestock, feed, seeds, etc., and less than one percent of this amount remained unpaid December 1, 1921.

Farewell Speech to School

An interesting situation was developed last Wednesday morning at the regular weekly meeting of the public school student body. The meeting proceeded in its usual manner until near the last of the session. A student of the senior class rose and in a short speech asked that the student body give a rising vote to Superintendent Cook and adopt resolutions to the effect that all should do all possible to keep good order during the last days of the term, that are usually the most riotous of the year, as a special mark of respect to the superintendent, who is serving his last year with the institution. The vote was given with one of the greatest shows of enthusiasm that the year has produced among the students.

Upon the conclusion of the vote, Mr. Cook rose and in a brief farewell speech bespoke his appreciation of the support that he has received during his years in the high school. He thanked those who had so well supported him and asked that the students do all in their power to make the superintendent of next year feel that he could find no better co-operative student body anywhere. He closed his address with an expression of appreciation for the vote of confidence.

All day long on the dusty road that seemed never to end, from early morning until the dead, flat heat of later afternoon, found Bud McGraw and the horse he rode in the border of Jericho, dog-tired, hot and wanting to be let alone. But Jericho let no one alone. A man on a porch opposite where Bud's horse lay down by the hitching post, laughed loud and long at the sight—long enough certainly to make Bud Fightin' mad. "You can laugh at me," he said "but you can't laugh at my horse." Whereupon the mirth broke forth again, and the answer came, "I'm laughin' at both of you." Bud helped the man's friends apply the restoratives, the courtplaster and the poultice for two mouse-colored eyes. This sample of Jericho was enough for Bud. It looked like a good town, where there was action, thrills. And that was what he had gone in quest of. This first fight was only that—his first. He had others, as hard and harder—and if you like men like Bud—scrapping, clear-eyed, straight-talking men—you'll like Bud's story, "Fightin' Mad." At Crowell Theater May 17-18, runs two nights—super special western.

Adelphian Club

The Adelphian Club met Wednesday May 3rd at the home of Mrs. M. S. Henry with Mrs. Jeff Bruce as hostess.

During the business session an announcement was given by the calendar committee that Modern Drama had been selected for the study next year and that this study will follow outline prepared by Professor Morlock of the English department of the West Texas State Normal College at Canyon.

This being the Federation meeting, the remainder of the afternoon's session was given over to Federation reports.

A report of the meeting of the First District at Haskell was given by Mrs. Henry, State Chairman of Thrift, who attended as a State visitor. This meeting was a very successful one and its success was largely due to the lively interest and support which the citizenship of Haskell manifested. One interesting feature was that a number of the sessions, social and business, were held in the building which was built by the citizens and clubs of the town to be used for the Public Library and also for club rooms. This is a very attractive building and is completely furnished for and adapted to purposes for which it was built. A town much larger than Haskell might well be proud of such an institution.

Mrs. L. A. Andrews, delegate to the meeting of the Seventh district at Plainview had as her assistants in giving the report, Mrs. W. F. Kirkpatrick, who told of Plainview, the town; Mrs. S. S. Bell, who gave a detailed account of the social affairs, and Mrs. C. P. Sandifer, who reported on the state visitors present.

Mrs. Andrews gave an account of the general and business meeting. The significant idea in these reports was that although the Seventh District is the "baby" District of the state, it is by no means infantile in its manner of doing worthwhile things. One remarkable feature of this meeting was that it was entertained by not only the clubs of the town of Plainview, but by the Hale County Federation, which includes the clubs of Abernathy, Hale Center and other towns of the county. This was an example of splendid co-operation on the part of both individual members and also of the various organizations embraced in the county unit.

All the sessions whether business or social showed the careful and detailed planning.

All the reports were very interesting and will act as a stimulus for more efficient work in the future.

THE IMPORTANCE OF PRODUCING INFERTILE EGGS

By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College of Texas

At this time of the year many people are persistently following the path of least resistance, and are continuing the production of fertile eggs. Fertile eggs in Texas are responsible for the low price. Farmers and farm wives selling eggs today, are paying the penalty for producing fertile eggs.

It is a regrettable fact, that our people do not appear to be more interested in the production of infertile eggs. On every side we hear the complaint—"eggs are not worth anything." Some people actually become discouraged and sell many of their hens.

Many people think they are not getting a fair price for the eggs. It is true that the few producing infertile eggs are not getting a fair price, because, ordinarily, the egg buyer does not get sufficient eggs to ship infertile eggs, without mixing them with fertile eggs. For this reason the buyer can only pay the price of fertile eggs. As soon as more infertile eggs are produced, egg buyers will find it to their interest to pay more for them.

Fertile eggs, spoil very rapidly in a temperature of 68 degrees or above. In warm weather it is of course impossible to keep the eggs in a cool place, hence many spoil long before they reach the consumer. The production of fertile eggs in Texas alone is responsible for a monetary loss of one million dollars. Just think of this great unnecessary waste.

A few people still believe that the males are necessary in a flock to insure good egg-production. It ought not be necessary to use much space to disprove this assertion. Let it be sufficient to say that laying hens will actually produce more eggs without male birds, and most certainly the egg that will keep much longer and better.

Eggs remain fertile from ten to fourteen days after the males are removed. As a rule it is safe to guarantee infertile eggs two weeks after the males have been removed.

Some people raise the question, "What shall we do with the roosters?" The average rooster found on our Texas farms is such a poor individual that selling them is the best thing to do. Get rid of them. One male bird eats as much feed out of breeding season as a laying hen in an entire year. Catch up the cockerels, and either confine them in a roomy pen or better sell them in the market. A mongrel cockerel is a very poor investment at any time.

The fertile eggs are the best for storage and preservation. We have found that infertile eggs will keep in the very hottest weather. They will of course evaporate, but they will not spoil or rot.

The Farmer

The farmer should produce nothing but infertile eggs. If he produces fertile eggs, they should be consumed at home. Remember you are lowering the price of eggs, and increasing the already bad reputation of Texas eggs by selling or placing fertile eggs on the market in warm weather. We must make a united effort to build up a better reputation of Texas eggs. The best way of doing it is by producing and selling only infertile eggs in warm weather. Remember the infertile egg will keep, and the fertile egg will not. Get your neighbors interested in producing infertile eggs.

The Egg Buyer

To encourage the production of infertile eggs, egg-buyers should be willing to pay a premium for them. Nobody can deny the superiority of an infertile egg. It is better and should therefore bring more money. We have found that from a business standpoint egg-buyers can well afford to pay a premium of five cents per dozen for infertile eggs. Display a sign something like this: "We Pay a Premium for Infertile Eggs." Unless egg buyers and merchants are willing to pay a premium for infertile eggs it will always be uphill work to interest the farmer in the production of infertile eggs.

Consumers

Consumers can increase the demand for infertile eggs, by insisting that their grocer handle them. Truly, it is remarkable, how hard it is to break an old habit. Habit alone, is responsible for people eating fertile eggs in warm weather. A fertile egg is a very poor egg to try to eat. You are taking many chances, for in warm weather they are seldom fit to eat. Most people prefer to buy their chickens and eggs in separate packages, but too many are willing to take a chance of getting both in the same package, or they could not think of buying fertile eggs in warm weather. We have observed eggs in 30 dozen cases, out on a warm railroad platform to hatch out full developed chicks. We have seen cooks in restaurants throw many dozens away as unfit to use, and, sorry to say that many more they should have discarded. An egg is either all good or all bad, as food. A fertile egg in warm weather is always all bad, while an infertile egg in warm weather is always good. Call for infertile eggs. You can really afford to pay ten cents per dozen more for infertile eggs than for fertile eggs. When you buy a dozen infertile eggs for thirty cents you get 12 eggs fit for food. When you buy a dozen fertile eggs, you may find you may not get six or eight good eggs and the rest are doubtful, and who likes to eat a doubtful egg.

Swat the Rooster

After May the first or earlier, put on a community, "Swat the Rooster Day." Gather up all the old male birds and market them. Set a certain day for all the farmers to bring in the surplus males. In this way as many as a carload may be shipped at one time. Some communities make a regular thing of this once a year. These male birds will bring more on the market now than later, not to say anything of the great amount of feed they would consume in the meantime. (Copyright by F. W. Kazmeier 1922)

INVENTS FLOATING SAFE.

The Dutch Indian mail steamers have just been equipped with floating safes large enough to contain all of the ships' valuables and registered mail. They look something like a cross between a floating buoy and a submarine, and are equipped to ring bells, shoot off skyrockets, flash lights and blow horns.

The safe, the invention of a Dutchman, is claimed to be absolutely unsinkable, and, if cast overboard in event its ship went down, would go floating about the sea attracting attention to itself until its clockwork machinery ran down. It would carry a number of rockets, to be set off at regular intervals, and its machinery, it is claimed, would operate it for more than a month.

NOT OUT, BUT IN.

Nancy visited her mother, who was ill, at the hospital. In passing down a corridor Nancy looked into the open doors of the rooms on either side and saw the patients lying in their beds. After the visit was over and we were back home I asked her how she liked the big house where mother was. Her answer was: "Well, it's a funny place. Every one was at home, but they were all in bed."—Chicago Tribune.

FURNITURE BUILT TO LAST

Constructed of Concrete, It Can Defy Even the Abnormally Destructive Small Boy.

Furniture manufacturers say that it is hard for them to get enough of the various woods needed in their business. They have been reduced to veneers about as thin as a coat of varnish for some of the old favorites. The solid stuff is rare. In the search for substitutes they took to pouring concrete ships in place of wood and steel vessels. Now that they are pouring blocks of concrete homes for tenements and concrete cottages for our toilers they may as well pour concrete furniture at the same time. A stone dining-room table surrounded by a group of immovable and nonbustable concrete chairs would be possible and comparatively cheap. Nowadays a mahogany davenport may cost $1,000 or less, but when a contractor is putting in a fireplace he might as well pour a concrete davenport to face it. It would be durable and could be made quite comfortable with a stack of leather beds. If a house were fairly stocked up with this concrete furniture there would be no danger of burglars backing in with a moving van and carting the stuff off in the absence of the owner.

small boys scouting around in the alley north of the Gentry Grocery, found a dead man in a small shed in the rear of that place of business.

The officers were notified and it was learned that the dead man was H. (Humpy) Mitchell, who lived near Lesley, in this county.

The deceased had been in Memphis Saturday, and was seen to have been intoxicated during the afternoon. He was not located after nightfall, and it is the general supposition that he went back into the shed where his body was found, to hide his condition from the officers. He was not found until the hour named.

He had in his pocket a bottle partly filled with corn whiskey, and it is practically certain his death was from acute alcoholism. The coroner, who made an investigation, rendered this decision at the inquest.

The remains were carried to his home near Lesley and burial took place Monday.

The deceased owned a half-section of land and was a good farmer. He had a wife and several children. He is said to have been a good neighbor and a good citizen, but had the craving for liquor that sometimes got the best of him.

The unfortunate ending of a human life is always regrettable, but in this case it is doubly so, as the family needed his counsel and assistance.—Hall County Herald.

CALOMEL MAY TURN ON YOU NEXT TIME

Next Dose You Take May Salivate and Start World of Trouble

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. 64

How Skaters in China Enjoy Favorite Recreation With Regular Jazz Accompaniment.

Folks who are prone to believe there is no such thing as real wintering in sunny China will be interested in the announcement that the Peking club possesses one of the most up-to-date ice rinks of the day. Thanks to the introduction of the latest American developments in telephone amplification, the skaters who have been making the rink their headquarters this year have been able to perform with a regular jazz accompaniment.

The apparatus was of the same type as that used at President Harding's inauguration. Several amplifying horns were set up about the ceiling of the rink and connected by wires and an amplifying device with a phonograph run by a Celestial youngster in the club basement. The effect is more satisfying than the brassiest of brass bands.

The Peking club has a first-class hockey team. It is made up of the best skaters among the foreign element at the Chinese capital. Its followers maintain that it can hold its own with any average American college sextette.

PROBABLY JOE WAS WISE

Joe's Uncle John has just come to their house to stay, and Joe was very much pleased. He was fond of this particular relative, and rarely passed the store in which he worked without going in to see him. But the other day when Aunt Nellie met Joe down town she found him outside, instead of inside, the store waiting for her.

She started to say something, but noticed the lovely knit tie Joe had on, and instead said: "What a beautiful new tie you have, dear."

"It isn't mine. It's Uncle John's," Joe grinned back. And then after Aunt Nellie had remarked that Uncle John was indeed generous to lend him such an expensive tie, Joe responded: "He didn't loan it. I just borrowed it without asking. That was the reason I waited out here instead of going inside. I thought he needn't ever know about my borrowing his things."—Indianapolis News.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

Special to the News, Rockdale, Texas, May 1.—The world war veterans of this community have completed plans for chartering a local post of the American Legion. Twenty-five charter members have been secured and the necessary application filed looking to the organization of a local post.

Special to the News, Plainview, Texas, May 1st.—Memorial Day, May 30, will be observed by the Ray Blakemore Post, American Legion, by placing decorations on the graves of ex-soldiers and sailors who are buried here. Bronze dies have been ordered, the dies to bear the name of the service man and the outfit to which he belonged, same to be placed on the graves. Fitting ceremonies will be held on that day by the members of the Post, it was decided at a meeting of the local post on Friday night.

Special to the News, Waxahachie, Texas, May 1. A large gathering of American Legion men from this and neighboring communities assisted in the initiatory ceremonies which conferred membership on fourteen new members on Saturday night last. A patriotic address was delivered by Dr. Eugene P. Childers of Trinity University and Arthur J. Reinhart, Department Adjutant of the American Legion discoursed upon the "Purposes and Ideals of the American Legion."

Special to the News, Wichita Falls, Texas, May 1.—The Flying Circus held here during the last four days under the auspices of the American Legion proved a very interesting event. Aero planes from many posts were in competition for the purses hung up, some coming from as far away as Lake Charles, La., Wichita, Kansas, and many from Texas points. The new "Swallow" plane was entered and piloted by its inventor and maker, E. M. Laird of Wichita, Kan.

Special to the News, Rosebud, Texas, May 1.—The 4th of July celebration which Rosebud is planning will have a novel feature in the form of a "Home grown" aeroplane. The machine is under construction by Frank N. Arnold, Post Commander of the American Legion, assisted by Robert H. Summers, an expert mechanic. Both men were formerly in the Air service and experienced aeroplane men. It will be ready for trial flight by June 15, Mr. Arnold states.

Special to the News, Cuero, Texas, May 1st.—The American Legion post here has adopted plans for a 4th of July celebration. L. D. Buttery, Commander of the local post is in charge of arrangements and has announced that Wayne B. Davis, Department Commander and other prominent Legion officials will appear on the formal program. Bay City, Gonzales and other posts in this district have been invited to participate and a challenge has been issued for a ball game between teams made up entirely of Legion members.

Special to the News, Robstown, Texas, May 1st.—Elaborate plans are announced by the Cicero Wood Post No. 155 of the American Legion in connection with the District Convention of the 14th and 15th Congressional District Legion Posts scheduled here during the "Community Day" celebration being staged by the Chamber of Commerce. Mayne Davis, Department Commander of the Legion, and Mrs. E. C. Murray of Houston, are on a program for May 3rd. Elaborate entertainment plans and a number of novel events have been arranged for the visiting Legionnaires.

Special to the News, Kingsville, Texas, May 1st.—A new community auditorium and American Legion Club rooms will be dedicated here on Memorial Day, May 30, according to announcement by Legion officials. A $10,000 auditorium and Legion Building will be completed by that date it is expected. The building is the result of efforts made by the Legion to have its own and at the same time supply the community with a much needed social center. A great deal of material and labor have been donated and many a soft skinned business man shed his "store clothes" to don overalls and handle a hammer or saw in assisting in the undertaking.

Special to the News, Brookshire, Texas, May 1.—Organization plans for a local post of the American Legion were completed here on Saturday last. It will be known as McElwee Post in honor of a Waller County boy who was killed in action. A full coterie of officers have been elected to serve for the coming year.

Special to the News, Breckenridge, Texas, May 1.—The Baptist Tabernacle here has been purchased by the American Legion, according to announcement made today by Ben Dean, Vice Commander. The building is to be utilized in the erection of Legion Club rooms and the veterans are volunteering to do the necessary work among their own membership.

Special to the News, Austin, Texas, May 1.—Mother's Day, which falls on May 14, will be observed throughout Texas by all units of the American Legion Auxiliary. Assistance will be given by the 400 local posts of the American Legion in the State. Announcement of the plans for observance were made here today by Miss Ada May Maddox, Department Secretary of the Auxiliary. The plans are in harmony with national observance which will be symbolized by simple ceremony at the grave of the unknown soldier buried at Arlington National Cemetery, where highest tributes will be paid to the Unknown Mother of this soldier who was buried with such distinctive honors last Armistice day. The Auxiliary will also promote the established observances of the day such as church attendance, appropriate sermons and the sending of message to Mother.

Houston, Texas, May 1.—All the funds derived from American Legion Auxiliary sale of poppies on Memorial Day will be used exclusively for hospital relief purposes in the State of Texas, according to Mrs. E. Clinton Murray, President of the American Legion Auxiliary here today. Mrs. Murray denied that any part of the funds which the Auxiliary is raising by Pappy Sales on May 27 would be used for the American-France Children's League for any other purpose except in relief work among war veterans now in the Texas hospitals. She said "Our auxiliary has two distinct funds, one a general fund used for carrying on the work of the Department, and the other a Hospital Fund, which is maintained through gifts and Pappy Day sales late in May. No part of this fund is used for any purpose other than the relief of veterans hospitalized in Texas. Even the administrative expenses in connection with this hospital work are paid out of our General Fund. Mrs. J. Ward McKee is chairman of our hospital committee and each month a budget is made out by the state officers apportioning certain funds to certain hospitals in the state. A rigid accounting is required on all moneys expended and our files are always open to the public. We feel that the relief work for men in the hospitals is too sacred to detract from it by sharing the Pappy sales for any other purpose and we regret very much to see other organizations undertaking to copy the original Legion plan for Pappy Sales Memorial Week. We consider that the sale of the poppy is a fitting opportunity for the rich and poor alike to contribute to this worthy cause. The price goes exclusively to hospital work and the sentiment keeps alive a grateful memory."

D. K. Harrison left the first of the week for Madill, Okla., where he will be located for the summer with his brother, C. D. Harrison. Before he left Mr. Harrison had the News shoved up a year in advance of its expiration, which was already far ahead. He wants to hear from Foard County while he is away and makes sure that it is not his fault that he does not.

It is conservatively estimated that there will be 20,000 acres of wheat to be harvested in Foard County. This, of course, is not a normal acreage for the county. Usually it practically doubles these figures, but much of the late wheat was plowed up and the land made ready for row crops. But these 20,000 acres give promise of 15 to 20 bushels to the acre, which means a crop of 300,000 to 400,000 bushels. The outcome of the wheat has been very remarkable since the rains commenced.
