TWO FARM HOMES ARE BURGLARIZED

Burglar Entered When Families Away; Goods Stolen Approximates $275 in Value

Last Friday afternoon between 2 and 4 o'clock when J. W. Carroll and his family were at the Vivian school house attending a program being put on by the school, the Carroll home was entered by a burglar who took from it articles amounting to about $275 in value. Eight dresses belonging to Mr. Carroll's daughter, Miss Addie, who is a teacher at the Vivian school, were taken from a wardrobe. The thief went upstairs and took from a pair of pants belonging to Albert Carroll $9.00 in cash, a sweater and four shirts. All the clothing was good stuff and most of it comparatively new. Besides the clothing, two guns were taken and a razor from the Carroll home.

The home of Egbert Fish was also entered the same day and a suit of clothes, a shot gun and a pair of slippers were taken. The Fish residence is 3 miles west of Carroll's home.

The sheriff was notified of the burglary and has been at work on the case since. A man is said to have been seen passing through the country going east with a trunk on his car. A stranger stopped at the home of Mr. Everson in the Vivian community the same day the burglary was committed, but upon approaching the house he found that some one was at home, and he made excuse that he wanted some water for the radiator of his car.

Davidson Suggests Orient Road Plan

Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson of Houston spent Friday in Dallas while en route to his home from St. Louis where he has been in conference with officials of the Orient Railroad regarding plans to save that line which traverses a great section of West Texas and is now in the hands of receivers.

As a result of a careful study of the situation now confronting the road and a survey of all the problems encountered, it is probable that in the forthcoming Legislature, which convenes in Austin in January, there may be some action looking toward the matter of creating a State board or agency to take over and operate the Texas Orient Line in the event it is not acquired by some larger railway system in the meantime. Mr. Davidson says its purchase by some other line might mean a quicker solution of the problem.

"While in St. Louis I discussed the Orient situation with William T. Kemper, president and receiver, and C. Histed, the vice president and general solicitor," the Lieutenant Governor said.

In Magnificent Territory

"It is unbelievable to think that Texas will permit, through neglect or inaction, the abandonment of this line which extends through such an important and magnificent part of Texas and which for hundreds of miles in that section is the only railroad affording traffic north and south.

"It is my firm belief, in fact I am convinced, that if we could put the State Railroad in East Texas on a paying basis, which has been possible by virtue of it being State property and exempt and immune from burdensome railway regulatory laws, the people of Texas and the State of Texas can certainly save the Orient and its magnificent territory from ruin by similar methods.

"The rest of Texas certainly owes it to West Texas to give every assistance possible in bringing about such a desired thing and I feel that it will be done within a comparatively short time if everything is taken into consideration.

"A plan that I have in mind, and it is endorsed by many financiers and citizens in all sections, is to create by legislation, a State agency or board that will take over the Texas Orient and operate it under exemptions from present regulations and laws that in its case have proven too great a handicap.

"Federal legislation would also have to be secured to aid in bringing the road up to the high standard of pub-

Farmers Should Build a Co-Operative Gin

There has been considerable talk and some interest manifested in the building of a farmers' co-operative gin at Crowell.

The plans which have been discussed for building the gin are the same as were used by the Farmers' Co-operative Society at Chillicothe and Quanah. There were about four of us who were sufficiently interested to go to Quanah and Chillicothe and inspect their plants, and also find the plans for completing the organization, and financing the proposition.

We found that these gins were doing a good business and have been a success from a financial standpoint, and every other way. This gin will not be built by stock subscription, as the old Farmers' Union gins were built, but this is accomplished, by first organizing a Co-operative Society, which every member who wishes to join, $1.00 and he then loans from $5.00 to any amount that he wishes to the working capital of the society at 10 per cent interest per annum until paid. The member receives a note, or a receipt from the directors of the society showing the amount he has furnished to the working fund, and this money which is not to be paid back until it is earned by the gin.

The member who loans the money in this way does not receive any dividend on the amount loaned, from the earnings of the gin, but he receives a dividend on the amount of cotton ginned by him, after every member has been paid back the amount he has loaned, and the gin is completely paid out.

If we can get as many as 125 farmers to help put this proposition over we can own our gin in this town.

It is up to the farmers to build a gin, pay for it and own it themselves, or let someone else build it and the farmers pay for it.

For the benefit of those who might think that if they should join this co-operative society that it would make them personally responsible for the debts of the society in building the gin: This organization is chartered and incorporated under the State law and no member is responsible for an amount greater than that which he contributes to the building of the gin.

Every member is allowed only one vote regardless of how much he has loaned to the society. Everyone engaged in any way in agricultural pursuits can become a member, however, the membership and loan receipts are non transferable.

I believe that the farmers need a good gin at Crowell, and I believe now is the time to start it. We will have to get busy and push this in every community if we get it started right. Talk it over with the neighbors, and if this appeals to you we will be glad to meet at any of schoolhouses and discuss the plans. This is to everyone who realizes we need a good gin at Crowell.

Yours for a farmers' gin at Crowell.
J. B. RASBERRY.

Boss Ingle came in Wednesday of last week from Texhoma to bring his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Ingle, of Sampsell, who will spend the winter here with their daughter, Mrs. Sim Gamble. The Ingle family was among the early settlers of this county and are remembered by all the old-timers. Boss returned to his home Saturday.

lic service and good earning power which it deserves.

Would Guarantee Indebtedness

"To my mind the first thing to do, as a step in the right direction and as showing good faith and intentions to the Federal Government, is for the State to get control of the road and guarantee to pay off the Federal indebtedness.

"The Orient has not yet been saved, but it can be saved in this way by vesting title in a State board or agency and securing relief from present regulations. That would mean a reduction of about 35 per cent in operating expenses, establish reasonable rates and at the same time have a satisfactory standard of wages for its employees and permit the realization of a good earning power.

"Possibly within the next few weeks such plans, now tentative, will crystallize into something more definite. I am optimistic as to the prospects of saving the Orient and know that if given a new lease on life, under proper conditions, it will develop into a magnificent road."—Dallas News.

SAYS INDIFFERENCE AIDS OPPOSITION

Text of Sermon Sunday Night; "He That Is Not With Me Is Against Me"

The pastor of the Methodist church delivered a short but practical sermon Sunday night, based on the scripture quoted above and emphasized the thought that there is an affinity existing between the Christian and his Savior which does not exist between the unsaved man and God. It is a relationship unknown to those who have not been redeemed, and that relationship grows sweeter as the years go by if the saved man is faithful to his duty. Otherwise, of course, there is an estrangement for which the unsaved man is responsible, and the former relationship is restored only after the erring child of God has been chastised.

The speaker made it plain that one can not occupy neutral ground in this matter, he is either for God and his cause or else he is against them. There is no middle ground. By numerous examples he illustrated how it is impossible to be on either side of a proposition in which good and evil are in battle against each other. There is a line that separates the two, and every man is on one side or the other. The statement that a neutral position means that the cause of evil is strengthened thereby is one of vital interest to every one. The promotion of right requires effort. It is an uphill movement and can not succeed if it must depend on the indifferent attitude, but indifference will make the success of evil possible, therefore indifference, or neutrality lends aid to evil.

An application of this to all important questions of life should be made by our people. Two things we need are deep convictions and the courage to stand by them. Opposition is aroused by such policy but right will suffer if it is not.

Great Football Game for Thanksgiving Day

Crowell Hi and Local Legion to Battle in Second Contest This Year; Big Gate Expected to Put Team Out of Debt

On Thanksgiving Day at 3 o'clock P. M., the referees whistle will start one of the most hilarious gridiron events yet staged in Crowell. The local Legion team is seeking vengeance upon the high school squad that took them to a 22 to 0 cleaning a week ago today.

The Legion team has been tendered the use of the husky Knox City team's suits, this team having disbanded some two weeks ago, and Jack Brian, manager of the Legion eleven, is whipping a fast, husky bunch into condition.

But can he put his squad in such shape in two weeks as to enable them to match the speed, pluck and superior organization of the little high school organization? That is the question and will be till these two organizations face each other on good old Turkey Day.

Many tickets have already been sold in advance and it is confidently expected that the gate receipts will put the football team out of debt for the first time since its organization last year.

This team has pledged a hundred dollars to the support of this year's school and it is hoped that everybody will see that a ticket on this great day will be really a contribution to the support of our school. The boys deserve your support and the school merits it. Let's go!

Will Have Rabbit Drive On Thanksgiving Day

A rabbit drive is scheduled for Thanksgiving day. A number of farmers, Henry Gribble, John Coffey, W. L. Ricks, and others are interested in cleaning up a scope of country including their farms, so that it is planned to make a drive Thursday of next week. The plan is to meet at the cemetery at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, Nov. 30, and there definitely plan the drive for the day. Every one who would enjoy the sport is invited to join the crowd and help exterminate these pests.

YOUNG MAN KILLED ONCE LIVED HERE

Son of L. A. Skipworth, for Several Years Engaged in Carpenter Work at Crowell

Grady Skipworth who was murdered by a negro near Waco Tuesday night was the son of L. A. Skipworth who is well known by some of our people here. Mr. Skipworth resided in Crowell and was engaged in the carpenter work for a number of years. Only a few months ago Grady was in Crowell and will be remembered by some here.

The murdered boy was a nephew of Joe Skipworth of Vernon and Perry Skipworth of Thalia. Perry was in Crowell Wednesday afternoon and stated that he had received a message from his brother informing him of the tragedy and said that he was going to Waco.

The account of the tragedy as given in the dailies is briefly as follows:

Grady Skipworth and Miss Naomi Boucher were out driving after dark Tuesday night when they were halted by a negro at Lovers' Leap about 3 miles north of Waco in the northern portion of Cameron Park. Skipworth was commanded to get out of the coupe, when the negro went through his pockets and robbed him of $10.00 money he had and took a watch and two rings from his fingers. When he was released by the negro he started back to the car when the negro told him stop and turn around, when the negro emptied the contents of a shotgun into Skipworth's neck, the young man falling to the ground. The negro dragged his victim to a high bluff where he pitched him over a steep embankment about 200 feet high. He then returned to the coupe and drove away with the girl, and after mistreating her pitched her over a high bluff also, but the branches of the trees caught the young lady's clothes and checked the fall so that she was probably saved from fatal consequences. After several hours of wandering the young lady finally made her way to where she could get into communication with the police station and reported the tragedy.

The report of the affair when it became known enraged the people of Waco and it became necessary for State rangers to be sent by the Governor to handle the situation to prevent mob violence. It is reported, however, that they have the situation well in hand. A negro was arrested but later released when the officers became convinced of his innocence. They are working on a slender clew.

Turkeys Bring 32 Cents Per Pound

Some farmers from the Black community brought turkeys to town last week and sold them for 32 cents per pound, which they consider as the result of co-operative marketing. They got together and held out for that price and got it, although they were offered at first only 30 cents.

Those who sold were Claude Nichols, Felix Jonas and W. D. Stubblefield. In all there were some 60 odd head sold which brought them more than $200.

The only difficulty those people experienced in raising turkeys this year was the fact that the wolves preyed on the flocks, destroying in some instances more than half of them. But even with that to face there is good money in turkeys, for they are no trouble after the first two or three weeks.

KNOX COUNTY COUPLE WED

Mr. G. C. Parris and Miss Enon Meyers of Truscott were married here at the Methodist church last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the pastor of that church performing the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Callaway of Wylie, Collin County, were here this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McMillan of Crowell, and Mr. Callaway's brothers, Claude and Tom Callaway, in the Foard City community. Mr. Callaway is at present managing a gin and buying cotton seed at Paducah.

Mrs. J. M. McKown and son, Ralph, of Portales, N. M., and Mrs. J. A. Gafford of Clovis, N. M., are here on account of the serious illness of Mr. and Mrs. Clint White's baby, which is not expected to live.

Bishop Lynch Dedicates Catholic Church

On Tuesday, Nov. 21st, Bishop Lynch of the Dallas Diocese, accompanied by Vicar General Diamond of Dallas, Father Cyril Bodish of Amarillo and Father Paul Mosler of Bonmarton, was in Crowell for the purpose of dedicating St. Joseph's Catholic Church and confirming a class of communicants.

Early mass was said by Father Bodish at 7:30, and bishop's mass at 8. The dedication services took place at 10, with Fathers Bodish and Mosler assisting the bishop as deacons.

Immediately after the dedicatory services high mass in honor of the Presentation of the Holy Virgin was sung by Father Diamond.

At the conclusion of the mass Bishop Lynch preached the sermon using for his text Matthew 23:18-20. After the sermon a class of twelve was confirmed.

Big Crowd at Ford Clinic at Self Motor

As an evidence of the effectiveness of advertising, a crowd of more than 300 attended the Ford Clinic at the Ford Motor Garage Tuesday.

The forenoon was devoted to instruction as to how to operate the Fordson. In the afternoon several reels of moving pictures were given showing the Fordson in operation, and the Fordson, all of which was very interesting and instructive.

Messrs. Jones and Atwood, Fordson men of Dallas, were present to assist in the clinic.

Manager George Self of the Self Motor Company is highly elated over the splendid success of the clinic and the interest manifested by such a large attendance, and he feels that the event will prove mutually profitable to the farmers and to the Fordson agency here.

PUBLIC ROADS AN INVESTMENT

When there was no money put into public roads it mattered little whether they were maintained or not. The fact is when we had no roads we had nothing to maintain. Things are different now. We have put thousands of dollars into our highways and this has become an investment. That the investment is a wise and good one, few, if any, will deny. Again, that they should be maintained everyone will agree, and yet our wishes and our practice may not be the same.

Many of our people share the opinion that it is dangerous to allow the roads to become neglected. Foard County has put not less than $175,000 into road construction in the last three or four years, and our highways have been worth much to the people of the county and have been a big advertisement for us, but in some places they have not received the attention lately that they ought to have.

Where is the automobile money we are paying into the treasury for the purpose of road maintenance? This fund will amount to about $4,000 annually. What about the 15 cents tax which is levied for maintenance purposes? The people would like to know why the roads are becoming neglected. They pay their taxes and they understand that they are supposed to be applied to certain uses, one of which is for maintenance.

The News is only one of many whose hard-earned money is going to build our roads, and it wants to know why the roads are neglected. That money has already been spent and if the roads are not maintained we shall be paying for many years to come for roads that were built and worn out because of failure to maintain.

C. H. S. Loses to Childress Hi 14-0

Childress Hi defeated C. H. S. Saturday afternoon at Childress. Everybody thought Childress would be easy 30-0 winner but the pep and fight of our little bunch made it one of the most interesting games ever seen on the Childress gridiron. It was the best played and cleanest game of the entire season. The courtesy and sportsmanship of Childress, team and town, was manifest on every hand, and "the cleanest bunch we have met," passed between the two teams and coaches, leaving that splendid afterglow that follows the true spirit and sportsmanship of the Inter-Scholastic League athletics.

ONE BIG TURKEY SELLS FOR $10.24

Farmer Sells Twelve Head Turkeys Realizing for Entire Number $59.52

Thanksgiving season is being reflected in the price at which gobblers are now selling on the Crowell market. Several lots were brought to town last week and sold for as much as 32 cents per pound, but we have heard of no one but Ed Rettig realizing as much as $10.24 for a single turkey. The fowl weighed 32 pounds and brought 32 cents per pound. Mr. Rettig sold 12 head, which netted him $59.52.

Turkeys he says are good paying things to raise on the farm if you can get rid of the wolves, and he thinks if the people all over the rural districts would trap for them that they could be kept thinned out until they would not be a very great nuisance. Then turkey raising would be a paying proposition.

Crowell Hi Meets Paducah Hi Today

The Crowell football squad meets Paducah Hi here at 4:15 today. This will be the last high school team to visit Paducah this season, as the local bunch closes its schedule here next Thanksgiving with its second fling at the local Legion team. Paducah has defeated some of the best elevens in West Texas, and was beaten by the fast Floydada bunch by the close score of 26 to 25.

This Paducah bunch ran away with the second Crowell-Paducah game last year 45 to 0, but it is confidently expected that the plucky home squad that evened up on Knox City, was the first team to carry the pliskin over Graham's goal line and held the splendid Childress organization to two touchdowns, will make a much better showing against her old rival this year.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

The pastors of Crowell have arranged for a Thanksgiving service at 10 A. M., Thursday, Nov. 30, at the Presbyterian church. Pastor Willett of the Methodist church will preach the Thanksgiving sermon, and the other pastors will take part in the service. We desire and urge that the singers of the different churches cooperate in arranging music for this service. We expect to make the service only about an hour in length, so that those who may be busy about dinner or otherwise, may be at liberty to go at eleven.

We Americans have much for which to be grateful this year, as well as some that should provoke to humiliation. Let us therefore as far as possible turn aside from our ordinary affairs and pleasures and spend this hour in humble thanksgiving and worship.

CHALMERS KILBOURN.

When the Clock Stopped

The eight-day clock at the Crowell Dry Goods Co. which was wound and started to running at 9:00 A. M. Friday, Nov. 10, continued to measure time until 1:57 1/2 A. M. Monday the 20th, when the pendulum became silent. There were 199 names registered in a book on the cash counter, opposite each of which was a guess as to the time when the clock would stop. The one nearest was that of J. W. McCaskill, with the guess placed at 10:00 P. M. on the 19th; the next was that of Mrs. U. C. Williams, 9:15 P. M. on the 19th; the third was that of Mrs. W. A. Cogdell, 8:45 P. M. on the 19th. These won first, second and third cash prizes of $10, $5 and $2.50.

The guessing contest was conducted during the big sale of a week at the Crowell Dry Goods Company, each purchaser being given a chance.

Sylvan Haney is seriously ill at the home of Mrs. Shults in the west part of town, having took very suddenly Tuesday night. He has been in a critical condition since, but at this time is thought to be much better.

Hugh McLain, one of Foard City's merchants, was in Crowell Monday attending to some business. Mr. McLain left a nice order for printing with the News force.

A City Is Judged By Its Homes

The difference in cost between an ordinary house and a really attractive modern home is so slight as to be unimportant. You owe it to the community in which you live to make your home attractive and beautiful.

When you build a home it will stand there for a lifetime as a monument to your care or your carelessness. If the home is correctly planned, and is distinctive in design, attractive and comfortable, it will stand forever as the center of your affections and around it will cluster a host of happy memories of which misfortune and adversity can never rob you and which time can never dim nor tarnish.

THE HOME IS THE GREATEST SAVINGS BANK IN THE WORLD

But even leaving this out of consideration, every man ought to own his own home because there are no dividends to compare with comfort and contentment, no returns equal to the personal pride felt by the man who owns the home that shelters his little family circle, the most priceless of all possessions.

Club Women Honor President of 7th Dist'ct

Honoring Mrs. Goodman, president of the Seventh District, T. F. W. C., who was the guest of the club women of Crowell on Friday, Nov. 17, the Adelpian and Columbian Clubs entertained with an informal reception at the home of Mrs. A. Y. Beverly.

The reception suite was tastefully decorated with baskets and vases of cut flowers. The shades were drawn and the lights softened with pink.

A program of readings and music preceded the address of Mrs. Goodman, as follows:

Piano solo, Mrs. S. T. Crews; reading, Miss Wishon, vocal solo, Miss Una Self, and reading, Mrs. Baxter Johnson.

Mrs. Goodman's address was a very graphic and pleasing report of the State meeting of women's clubs just closed at Houston.

She closed her address with plans for the seventh district for 1922-23, and admonished the women to distinguish between ambition and discontent—and to be ambitious.

A tempting refreshment plate was tendered, and as the shades of evening gathered we returned to our homes strengthened and encouraged by the social intercourse and broadened vision.—Contributed

CALOMEL SALIVATES EVEN WHEN CAREFUL

Treachorous Drug Can Not Be Trusted and Next Dose May Start Trouble

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue, and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury; quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to the druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

A rejected lover can always punish the girl by refusing to ask her again.

Advance-Rumely Tractor School

Dallas, Texas
Dec. 18th to 22nd

Learn How a Limited Number of Men Can Attend Absolutely Free

After five years of tremendous success, the Advance-Rumely Tractor School has become almost a national institution. We are urging you to attend, because "knowing your tractor" means more profitable operation, fewer delays, and work done on time.

The school course is divided into two parts—classroom and laboratory. In the classroom, experts explain the principles back of OilPull Tractors, Rumely Ideal Threshers, Rumely Trucks, etc. In the laboratory, you tear down and assemble motors and transmissions; learn to time valves, locate and correct trouble, etc. You learn operation and mechanism—by working on each part yourself. You get, in one short week, a broad, intensive training such as you could get in no other way.

By means of a co-operative arrangement between our firm and the Advance-Rumely Company, we are permitted to send absolutely free, a limited number of men to attend the school free from expense. Transportation expenses, equipment, instruction, entertainment, board, room and every legitimate expense is paid.

Entrance requirements are extremely simple. Ask us to explain them. But quick action is necessary. Call, telephone or write us for details.

Crowell High Defeats Legion 22 to 0

Before a large crowd last Friday afternoon, the Crowell Legion was defeated by the high school 22-0.

The well trained machine of Coach Tate's proved far superior to the Legion. Although just credit must be given them for their sportsmanship and pep. The high school's eleven men team work proved a great deal better than the untrained Legion team. Hughston, Rasor, Brian and Owens were the bright lights of the Legion.

The News is in possession of a play-by-play report of this game but lack of space prevents its publication in this issue, as is also the case with the Crowell-Childress Hi eight of the next day, played at Childress.

The Legion contest is to be played over on next Thanksgiving and a play-by-play report will be given.

Secret Organizations To Supercede Law Are Dangerous, Says Denby

Washington, Nov. 19.—Nothing "more dangerous to the continued mental and spiritual health of the Republic could well be conceived" than the "recrudescence of certain forms of secret organizations apparently designed to supercede law and enforce their will," Secretary Denby of the Navy Department declared on Saturday night at a Masonic meeting here.

"When any community or body of men or women within a community," Mr. Denby continued, "disregard the orderly processes of the law, a blow is struck at the roots of the Republic. Oppression does not always take the form of enforced labor or any of the acts, security from which we are guaranteed in the first ten amendments to the Constitution, against the so-called Bill of Rights. Religious freedom is the most sacred possession of free peoples. Yet, if we are to believe the tales told with such seeming truth, and so frequently, religious freedom itself is menaced in certain parts of this country."

"It seems that organized attacks are made upon individuals because of their religious faith. It is hard enough to meet the realities of this life and to compose our earthly differences without attempting to make war in the realm of the spirit or to cherish against our neighbor evil thoughts because he may think differently from us about the world to come."

"There is no harm in religious zeal sanely and properly displayed, but in this country neither excessive propaganda nor acts of suppression have any place. The law of the Republic must govern or chaos will ensue."

How to Make Hens Lay

By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College of Texas

In this article we are confronted with the science and art of feeding hens for a profitable egg production. It truly is both a science and an art. The hen is the factory to be supplied the proper raw material with which to make the eggs. It stands to reason that the first thing we want to know is, what the egg is made out of or composed of. An egg is composed of 66 per cent water, 13 protein, 11 fat and 10 per cent lime. Here we have the composition and the parts of an egg. The composition includes the shell. It is true we don't eat the shell, yet the shell is necessary for a complete egg, hence we include it in our composition.

The hen is the factory than transforms the raw material into the finished product known as eggs. Now then, is the hen a real factory? We say yes, indeed, she is a very highly developed machine.

All of us know that an old and worn out factory can not put out the work in the most efficient manner. The same applies to the hen. The old hen is a back number as an egg producer. It is also true that the interior equipment influences the total output of the factory. So it is with the hen. A hen that is not bred to lay is a factory with a poor interior equipment and the results must and will be accordingly. A hen is bred-to-lay. You breed the eggs into a chicken and feed them out. The trouble with many of our people is that they have been trying to feed eggs into a chicken. You breed speed into a horse, and you breed eggs into a chicken. Some hens you can feed on a hard boiled egg ration and they will still refuse to produce eggs. That shows it takes something besides speed to make a hen breed-to-lay strain. Then remember what we said about the old factory. The old hen is always a poor layer. Early hatched pullets make the best winter layers. Late hatched pullets are too late for fall and winter egg-production. In this article we shall not say much about the hen or the factory but we could not help but say something because it is a losing game to feed old hens, culls, sickly hens, late pullets or stock that has not been bred-to-lay. Breeding is half the battle. It is a pleasure to feed hens that have been bred-to-lay. It seems that bred-to-lay stock comes off the roosts early in the morning ready to go, just like an active horse.

Eggs cannot be produced unless the material fed contains the materials from which the eggs are made. Remember, out of every five to six pounds of feed that a hen eats four pounds are used to maintain her body, and the balance is turned into eggs. This little story shows at once that the maintenance cost is the greatest, hence successful poultry keepers cull closely, weeding out all poor layers to reduce the maintenance cost. That is indeed a wise practice. It is poor economy to skimp on feed, or to fail to provide all the essentials necessary for profitable egg production. Hens fed on grain alone will not give a profitable egg yield, especially in the fall and winter. To balance such a ration if you can do no better add milk or meat food of some kind.

We have found that almost any kind of a hen with any kind of breeding behind her can produce at least 144 eggs in a year. The 144 eggs weigh about 18 pounds and it will take from 70 to 90 pounds of feed exclusive of water and green food as well as grit and oyster shell to make these eggs. Here is about what such a hen will eat: Dry mash, 45 pounds; whole grain, 27 pounds; 15 gallons of milk or 8 pounds of meat scraps, 15 gallons of water; 15 pounds of green food; 3 pounds of oyster shell and 2 of grit.

Prepared Feeds the Best

Because most farmers and poultry keepers are not in position to mix their feeds properly, we have concluded that it is best for the majority of people to buy the commercial or ready mixed feeds. It is true that their increased production more than makes up for the increased cost. This feed is expertly balanced and machine mixed. It contains nothing but what is needed to make eggs. There is no waste. It contains necessary ingredients that the individual will find difficult to get. In buying prepared feeds, remember that there are many inferior brands on the market. In fact the country is flooded with commercial feeds that are made to sell, and not to make hens lay. We find that some concerns put out feed when it is nothing but grain elevator waste and sweepings sacked in fancy named and colored sacks. Such feed is not worth the money. Our advice is do not buy that kind of feed. Remember, there are feed manufacturers that make it a business to make poultry feeds. It is not a side line with them. It is their sole business and as a result, they put out a first class feed. We will be glad to give further confidential information along these lines upon request.

Milk or Meat Food Necessary

In studying the composition of the egg previously given, it will be noticed that 13 per cent of protein is required to complete the egg. We wish to say right there is the stumbling block. Right there is the secret of feeding for eggs if there is such a thing as poultry secrets or feeding for eggs secrets. First, let us see what happens if the hen does not get the 13 per cent protein. Does she lay the egg minus the protein? Does a hen lay half an egg? The answer to both questions is, she becomes a waiting hen instead of a laying hen. The hen cannot lay half an egg. All she can do is to wait until she gets the 13 per cent protein. If some of your hens are not laying they may be waiting hens. They may be waiting for you to provide the 13 per cent protein, either in the shape of milk or some form of animal food. In the commercial feeds of the best grades they use both dried butter milk and meat scraps to provide the necessary protein to complete the egg. In West Texas, rabbits, jack rabbits, are sometimes fed to provide the protein so important. It is absolutely necessary. Further, remember that there is no substitute and nothing that will take its place. The 13 per cent protein must be provided or there will be no eggs until spring when the hen can balance her own ration to some extent by catching bugs and insects and worms.

Fat, Active Hen Is the Layer

It takes a fat hen to be a laying hen. Feed liberally to get them fat. A hen may be too old to lay and then get fat and still not be a laying hen. In that case it is because she is too old rather than too fat. Exercise is necessary to keep the hens healthy and laying. Exercise aids and increases digestion, just what laying hens need. Make your hens exercise. Keep them busy all day working in deep, loose, dry litter. The more they exercise, the better.

Dry Mash Mixture

It has been properly stated that it is the dry mash mixture that makes the hens lay. In the dry mash mixture are found all the ingredients that are necessary for egg production. The hens should eat twice as much dry mash as grains. This is true if you are laying them for heavy production. If you wish only a normal egg production, then the hens should be fed to consume equal parts of grain feed and dry mash. The dry mash is composed of ground grains and meat scraps. We recommend the commercial dry mash mixtures, and have found the "Superior" laying mash as the very best available in Texas. If, on the other hand, you wish to feed your own mixture then we recommend the following:

Dry Mash—2 parts corn meal, 1 part wheat bran, 1 part wheat middlings, 1 part beef scraps, 1/2 part of dried butter milk and 1 part corn meal.

Grain Mixture—3 parts of cracked corn, 2 parts heavy oats, 1 part wheat and 2 parts of milo or kaffir.

A hen will eat from 2 to 4 ounces daily.

One hundred hens on range with plenty of green feed will need daily from 5 to 10 pounds of grain and from 10 to 15 pounds of dry mash.

Cotton seed meal is not properly digested by hens and therefore not highly recommended for a poultry food.

Hens cannot handle roughage like alfalfa meal in great quantities, hence we do not feed alfalfa to our layers.

It has been repeatedly proven that where no meat or animal protein is fed to laying hens, seldom any great profit is made. Animal protein appears to be absolutely necessary for good and profitable egg yields. (Copyright, F. W. Kazmeier, 1922)

MR. AND MRS. FERRIN TRAVEL IN "AUTO HOUSE"

The following item is taken from the Columbia Evening Missourian, and gives an account of Mr. and Mrs. Ferrin's traveling through that country visiting relatives. Mr. Ferrin sold his farm in this county some time ago and went to his former home in Iowa. He and Mrs. Ferrin have again turned towards the South and expect to finally reach Foard County. The item follows:

Among the many tourist parties which have passed through Columbia, probably the most completely and naively equipped is that of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Ferrin. Mr. Ferrin is a brother of Mrs. A. E. Fewsmith who lives at Hitt and Paquin streets, and his "auto-house," as he calls it, is parked back of Mrs. Fewsmith's residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferrin started from their farm in Northern Iowa October 30, arriving in Columbia, a distance of 600 miles, Thursday. Although Mr. Ferrin is 74 and Mrs. Ferrin is 68, neither is tired from the long trip. "I got my health by living an out-of-door life," said Mr. Ferrin, "and I am going to keep it by living that way."

This auto-house was built from Mr. Ferrin's original plan. It is built on a high-speed Ford truck chassis. The house, which is constructed of beaver board covered with canvas and painted, measures six feet in height and width and is twelve feet long. It weighs only 1,200 pounds which is increased to one ton by the load carried.

The equipment consists of a full-size bed, which may be folded up during the daytime, and an air mattress that has been used on several long cross-country trips. It has a two-burner oil stove with a place for utensils below and a nice clothes closet. "The latter was my inducement to Mrs. Ferrin to make the trip," confessed Mr. Ferrin.

Every detail has been worked out to make the little house complete and compact. It has three windows and two doors and is furnished with an electric light.

In telling of his interesting experiences during the trip Mr. Ferrin said, "Hallowe'en night we were parked on a vacant lot near the home of friends at Shaller, Iowa, and of course, were sleeping in our car as we always prefer to do. A crowd of boys gathered around and we heard them plotting to roll the car away. They did not know we were inside. As their plans progressed my wife could keep still no longer and upon her exclamation the boys were so startled that the band disbursed in confusion."

"We have not been in a garage since we started," continued Mr. Ferrin. "The only trouble we had was too free a feed at one time. This was caused by a little dirt on the carburetor float, which I remedied very easily."

The only bad road was from Des Moines to Queen City, Mo. At Queen City they took the Glacier Trail, which was fine as far as Moberly.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferrin took their first cross-country trip in 1907, at which time they were living on a ranch in Iowa. He said, "We were out two years, during which time we traveled 10,450 miles. We then had a mule team and a covered wagon about the size of our auto-house. We crossed the Rockies six times, were in California, went through the Yosemite Valley and several national parks.

"In 1916 we started in the spring with the same team and a lighter rig. This time we traveled 3,700 miles." Mr. Ferrin was on the board of education of Foard County, Texas, and has continued to take a deep interest in school work. He visited University classes Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferrin will leave Columbia Monday for Hot Springs, Ark., where their stay will be indefinite. Their final destination is Foard County, Texas.

1892 R.B. Edwards Co. 1922
Oldest and Largest Busiest and Best

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, an efficiency of 94.39 miles was maintained. This means that out of every 100 trips 94.39 were finished on schedule time. The records show that two-thirds of the trips were made in clear weather and one-third made in foggy, cloudy or stormy weather.

September 16 marked the completion of 10 consecutive weeks of flying the entire transcontinental route with 100 per cent efficiency; that is to say, during those consecutive weeks each of the scheduled trips was started and finished exactly on schedule time. The daily route includes the crossing of three mountain ranges—the Alleghenies, the Rockies and the Sierras.

It is obvious that to get all from the air that it may offer in the shape of postal service it will be necessary to fly at night. With this thought in mind, there has, for the last four months been conducted an extensive series of experiments and study on this subject. These experiments and study have reached the stage where it is reasonably safe to conclude that it is entirely possible to fly at night. It is expected that within a few weeks to light, as an experiment, the Chicago field, and it is predicted within six or eight months it will be possible to fly from Chicago to Cheyenne at night.

If these tests are successful, it means that it will be possible to make a transcontinental flight from New York to San Francisco in one continuous movement, flying from New York to Chicago in the daytime, Chicago to Cheyenne at night, and from Cheyenne to San Francisco during the early part of the second day. It should therefore be possible to establish and maintain a schedule of from 28 to 30 hours between New York and San Francisco if this night flying experiment proves out.

The next State Baptist convention will be held in Galveston, Texas. The convention, Rev. J. A. ### Our Air Mail Service Across Continent

It is not every one that knows about our air mail service, and through the kindness of Mr. Spencer, the postmaster, we are in position to give our readers a few facts that are of interest to them on this. The matter here printed is taken from the United States official Postal Guide.

The mail service is limited by law to one transcontinental route from New York to San Francisco, a distance of 2,680 miles, making the round trip 5,360 miles. This round trip is covered each day except Sundays and holidays. This necessitates an annual flying schedule of approximately 1,800,000 miles.

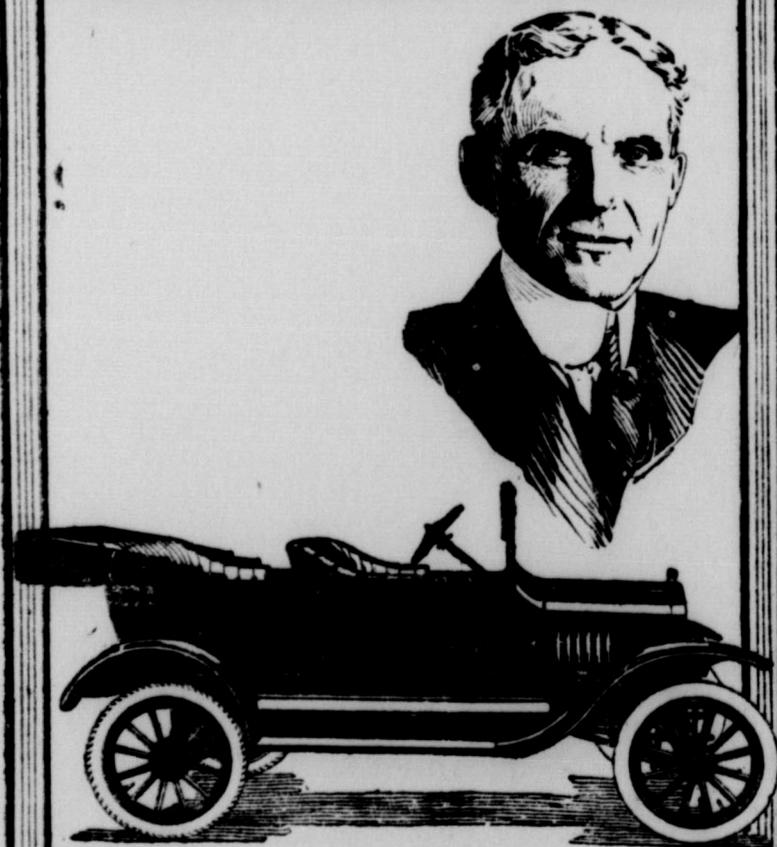

The Air Mail Service at present consists of a relay advance of mail from New York across the continent, and vice versa. That is to say, no particular mail is taken for a complete trip across the continent. Certain mail which misses the late trains out of New York is advanced into Cleveland. Other mail which ordinarily would go into Chicago on a train too late for delivery in the afternoon is taken from Cleveland into Chicago. This process is repeated in relays across the continent, with the net result that approximately 12,000 pounds of first-class letter mail is advanced each day a matter of some 3 or 4 hours. It should be noted that this 3 or 4 hours advance may in certain instances mean a real advance of 15 to 18 hours, inasmuch as it may mean the delivery of the mail to consignee late in the evening, which might otherwise have not been delivered until the following morning.

The planes being used are the De Havilland models, which were procured free of charge from the army. There are 70 of these now in flying condition. Twenty are in the air each day and about 24 are in process of being overhauled and rebuilt. The engineers have found it necessary to make some 200 changes in the design of the ship in order to make it suitable for the job of mail carrying.

Liberty motors are used, these too, being procured from the army free of charge. Experience has shown that at the end of 100 hours flying it is necessary to overhaul each Liberty motor, which is done at an average cost of $25 per motor. At the end of 300 or 400 hours flying service the ships themselves are overhauled, most of which is done in the shops in Chicago.

From July 16, 1921, to July 7, 1922, air pilots flew approximately 2,000,000 miles without a fatal accident.
